WE HAVE ALWAYS MAINTAINED that if the CAUSE is great enough and the FOLKS with those GREAT big hearts get the news, that anything can happen. With Robert Merrill, telling us he would make a sports outfit for a little boy for our Easter Fashion Show, we are doing for the Independent Church, we got the idea that it might be worth a try to get BRAND new togs for the rest of the little guys in the "HOME." So, thanks to Alexander Bell, who madei t possible to save so many footsteps and at the same time exercise your vocal chords, we are SIMPLY DELIGHTED TO REPORT that the following have rallied and we will have thirteen little and medium sized boys in new things for the Easter Parade and who will be in the Fashion Show representing the different collosal hearts who make it possible. Neighbor GOLD'S — FLEICHMAN'S DEPT. STORE (he aid to send the biggest one over as their sizes start larger) . . . Mr. Rick at "Ricks" who we have always found cooperative to our pet ventures . . . "Martin and Andre." Tailors, who are taking the time to 'whip' up a little something . . . Gerald Price, man-about-town, and another with one of those over-size hearts, is to help fix up one of the kids . . . Eddie and Phil at the "Elbow Bend" promise to help . . . Dynamite and Lulu (he has something on the griddle and will be soon back in the public eyes) . . . Ruth Powell, who just went back to her old profession and has opened the "Powells Tonsorial Parlor," never says "no" when called on for something like this . . . Hotel man Horace Clark . . . Sue and Jack Jones, who have the cleaning shop in the Clark building . . . the wonderful little widow of the "Boss," Mrs. Madelyn arnett, who says her check will Gbe counted on . . . Paul Hickman and Mary Woodyard, who want their "Milomo" in the show and are doing the right thing to get it in by dressing one of these kids . . . Patricia Kelly Peed, our Librarian out to the office who heard us making these calls and wants in the act and has volunteered to supply "mad" socks . . . so you see why we feel that this isn't such a bad world, when we have our business folks who aren't too busy to lend a hand. Won't the kids be pleased with the new htings? And think of the fun WE are going to have as we shop and fit.

CAN'T THINK OF A BETTER thought to close on, and so we will see you at the Special Activities Committee of the NAACP, Sports Dance this Saturday Night at the Masonic Hall on Broadway, after the Negro Ballet.

Dear Mrs. Bass:

Have you by any chance any copies left of the Eagle, February 2, 1951? We have made much use of the supply we had in giving people information about the Soviet Union's plan and work with atomic energy, as told by Wm. Mandel. . . .

And we surely wish some copies of your pamphlet, "Europe As I Saw It." The articles have been most enlightening and we thank you for them. . . .

I hope it is being possible for you to attend the Berlin meeting. We missed you in Warsaw, but Mrs. Clack was a much loved representative.

Yours sincerely,

February Visitors

Vegas, Nev. She is sharing many honors among our February visitors.

Young Prosper Flint and Stanley Canonge of New Orleans and former students of Xavier University motored to L. A. on Feb. 17, to make this their home. They are with Mrs. Myrtle Simon, mother of Jack Simon at 2936 Bronson Ave. Welcome.

Lieut. Col. Wilbur Fisher of Camp Roberts enjoyed a weekend visit with his charming bride Elizabeth Garrott Fisher. Mrs. Fisher is the daughter of retired Lieut. and Mrs. Garrott of the Los Angeles Police Dept. and is at present a teacher of music in the public school system. Mrs. Fisher is a graduate of Juillard School of Music, New York City. Lieut. Col. Fisher is a Los Angeles and Pasadena College. Their recent marriage has united two prominent pioneer families.

Mr. Manola Henderson who is confined to a hospital with pneumonia is improving rapidly and will soon return to his home on S. Gramercy Pl. Mr. Henderson is the maternal uncle of Mr. Barrie Tate of the Los Angeles Funeral Home. Mr. and Mrs. Barrie Tate became the proud parents of a beautiful girl several days ago. Both mother and daughter are "just fine," says proud dad.

Mrs. Emily Portwig is back home from a business convention of the National Medical Auxiliary recently held in Florida. Mrs. Portwig spent several days in New Orleans, as house guest of Prof. and Mrs. Sorrell of Upperline Ave. In spite of the fact the Mardi Gras is over and the Lenten season, Mrs. Portwig reports having had a nice time.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Collins are in New Orleans, having gone for the aCrnival and expects to return very soon to Los Angeles. Mrs. Collins was a prominent photographer in N. O. for many years, while Mr. Collins was in government service. They retired several years ago and moved to Los Angeles. They have bought several properties since coming here.

Free Venezulan Prisoners

HAVANA — The People's Socialist Party of Cuba is developing a campaign for the freedom of political prisoners in Venezuela.

The military junta that rules Venezuela since it overthrew the constitutional regime of President Romulo Gallegos, recently increased the number of political prisoners when hundreds of Communists and Democrats were arrested in police raids and sent to jails and concentration camps.

The Navy's traditional interest in children and their welfare was emphasized last week in the report of the 11th Naval District that its March of Dimes contribution totaled $25,076.46.

Soviet To Settle Account

MOSCOW—The Soviet government is ready to settle the outstanding account of lend-lease with the United States on the same terms Britain received and considers that the responsibility for the delay in winding up the account lies on the United States government, Pravda stated.

All that is human must retrograde if it do not advance.

ILGWU Shows Racial Bias; Negro Members Receive Pay In Low Bracket Jobs Only

A new phase in local labor troubles was brought to the attention of The California Eagle last week. This time it appears to be the color phase.

International Ladies Garment Workers Local No. 97 AFL, not content with the havoc accomplished by the Taft-Hartley Act in destroying so many of the rights of the workers, has placed a color bar within its Union against Negro workers.

Specifically—the case of Homer Saddler and Frank Wallace.

Both Saddler and Wallace have lived up to the requirements of their union: paid dues, taxes, and assessments.

Despite this, the two men today are going from shop to shop seeking employment.

There is work enough in their line to supply Saddler and Wallace with employment every day, in order that they may earn a decent living for themselves and their families.

In fact Mr. Saddler reported to the EAGLE that there were some employers willing to hire him, but his union refused to qualify him for the job, since it is the policy of Local 97 to restrict Negro members to certain types of work, as a rule not done by white workers and in the lower pay departments or brackets.

Mr. Saddler explained that while employed in a shop at Santa Monica, he was forced to kick back four per cent of his weekly salary to his employer, which amounted to about two thousand dollars annually—half the wage of a presser in a Los Angeles city shop, a job denied Negroes.

After listening to the outrageous discriminatory attacks against Negro workers by Local 97 The California Eagle probed further into the history of this particular union, and is convinced that it willingly adopted all the bad features of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act, using it to divide Negro and white workers and destroy racial unity in the ranks of labor.

Local No. 97 AFL has a membership of 7000 workers with one Negro woman office workers and a handful of men—and no Negro organizer.

A group of Negro community leaders are being organized to bring the cases of Homer Stradder and Frank Wallace to the attention of Isadore Stenzer, the president of Local 97.

It's about time both Negro and white workers take action in such cases.

There can be no white unity separate and distinct from Negro unity in Union labor.

Labor as a unit in American Democracy can no more exist separately on the race question than can a nation half slave and half free.

Collect 500 Pints Blood At Roberts

With a quota of 500 pints of blood to be collected at Camp Roberts during a two-day stop last Monday and Tuesday, the Red Cross Blood-mobile unit left the camp Wednesday morning with 511 pints of blood. The above-quota amount had been collected from part of the 1751 volunteers from the officer, enlisted, and civilian personnel at the post.

Blood collected at Camp Robers was slated for shipment by special van directly to the Cutter Laboratories in Berkeley, where it will be converted to blood plasma and shipped to Korea.

All units at Camp Roberts were over-subscribed for the February collection at the post, and it is anticipated that those who were not used this trip will be called on during the March or April stops. The mobile unit will pay a two-day visit to Camp Roberts each month through June.

The blood-mobile unit that made the collections at Camp Roberts operates out of Red Cross headquarters in San Jose, from which point it services Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, San Benito and Monterey counties.

Business soared at Los Angeles International Airport in 1950, setting all-time records for volume of passengers, mail, express and freight, according to year-end figures released today by the Department of Airports.

IPP Vice-Chairman Howard Speaks at Embassy Tonite

Charles P. Howard, prominent attorney and national vice-chairman of the Progressive Party, will be the principal speaker at a mass rally this evening, Thursday, February 22, at 8:15 p.m. in the Embassy auditorium, 9th and Grand avenue.

Howard, long active in Republican party circles, was the keynote speaker at the founding convention of the Progressive party held in Philadelphia in 1948 and earned the distinction of being the first Negro to do so at the national convention of a major political party.

According to an advance wire received recently, Howard has indicated that he will speak on the relationship of the fight for peace to the fight of the Negro people for equality and first class citizenship.

The Des Moines, Iowa, attorney has also indicated that he will deal with the vraious civil rights campaigns being waged by the Negro and other minority groups including a strong protest against the recent indictment of Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, eminent Negro scholar, who was the head of the Peace Information Center in N. Y.

Chairman of the meeting will be William Elconin, chairman of the County Central Committee of the Independent Progressive Party.

WE ARE MANY, THEY ARE FEW

(The cry raised by Shelley, poet of the British working class, who also suffered legal withholding of children because of political views.)

"Goodbye, my children."
The throbbing plane waited beyond,
Waited as Jean Field
And her two young prides
Clung in final goodbye,
Not to be broken easily.

A fat, old man tried to get past.
Looked startled,
A young woman,
Ah, these women today!
A young woman standing in his path
With arms clasped around
A tousle-headed boy and a little girl.
It embarassed him as did all things gentle.
And he picked up pace, the gate beckoned.
Yes, better hurry,
But he glanced back once more,
That's fine, he murmured to himself,
Not knowing exactly why.

"Mother!"
"Yes, Jay?"
Jean looked down at her son.
"What a guy you are, Jay,"
And she rubbed his hair.
"No, Mom, seriously."
"Yes, Jay, I'm serious."
Oklahoma's sudden, strange request to California,
To see the young after years of neglect,
That was serious.
What did he actually want with them,
With growing, healthy-minded Jay
And sweet, wise Mary?
What did he want with my children?

"Yes, Jay."
What comes from my son's heart,
Full of the morning shine,
Not Oklahoma's desperate night,
Desperate Jim Crow,
To which he flies today?
"Do we have to go, Mother? Do we?"
The insistent directness of my son,
The way we three have grown up
And live together in our new home.
No, you don't have to go,,
Yet you must my darling,
And I can't tell you why . . . .
Not now at least . . . .
Oh, no, Mary, you're not joining in,
Encouraged by a last call from the gate.

"Oh, no, not you, too, Mary. It's not fair."
In seconds a link in the chain.
Binding her to her first and second born.
Gave a warning groan.
Never, never have I evaded
With you two.
And she held them tight,
As the great silver carrier lay in Threatening hum on the strip.
The gate officer looking worried, reaching out.
Perhaps . . . . he'd close the gate,
If she remained in her trance,
And that would be that.

Silently she passed them along.
Kissed her own once more,
Joined her flesh to theirs.
And then she whisked them off,
They were gone . . . .
Not gone, for they would be back,
Gone for just now.
Up the portable steps to the plane
And to him.
She walked back into the enclosure,
Watched every movement of the slow take-off.
The children were nowhere to be seen,
It was hard, so hard,
But Mary was jamming the glass with her nose,
She knew that.

She waved at the wheeling plane,
Carrying her offering of innocence
And youth and purpose
To their father she once loved.
No bombs these to rain death
On Korea,
No destruction at all from these bodies,
Rather
They were built to withstand shocks
And breathe peace and press a hand.
Mark that, Oklahoma, a precious cargo
Comes your way,
Treat it well.
Treat it well.
Mark that, you waiting there
With subtle plan,
These children are democracy's children
And mine, not yours!

She stayed there for a long time,
Too long.
But to go back meant . . . .
Going back to work, work of all sorts,
The fight for peace in front,
Going back also to . . . .
She straightened up a bit,
Goddling crossed off the agenda.
With the children out of the way a while,
Luckily out of the way,
That, too, had to be done.

She passed through the seething air station,
Other flights in preparation,
Passed slowly,
The pain deep in her body
Troubling again.
She was working too hard perhaps,
A peace committee no mild persuader,
But that was life and joy,
That was living,
The thing inside of her was dying,
Like the Korean countryside,
Dying,
In her case never to be resurrected,
In her case
A spring bird closed in by autumn frost.

On with the same slowness,
Not born of years,
Just a minute more, a private corner of this,
A minute more.

A minute more was craved before,

Wiley College Receives Gift From City

MARSHALL, Texas—Wiley College was the recipient recently of a gift of property made available by the city of Marshall through the Chamber of Commerce at a cost of $12,500.

This gesture on part of the white citizens was an earnest of their good will for and interest in Wiley College. The school has raised $2,500 on a $3,000 cost for additional adjoining property which will give the institution possession of the entire block facing on Wiley Avenue across the street from the institution's main campus. The citizens are concerned in having Marshall selected as the site for the proposed merger of Wiley and Samuel Huston if and whenever this merger takes place.

The two colleges, Wiley and Bishop, members of the United Negro College Fund, Inc. raised a $5,000 quota for this fund for the 1950 campaign in Marshall. This fund hopes to raise $25,000,000 in the next five years for distribution among the 32 Negro colleges comprising the fund.

The deed to the afore mentioned property was presented to Dr. Scott, president of Wiley, by Mr. August G. Carter, Sr., acting for the Chamber of Commerce and the city of Marshall.

Herman Hover, impressario, announces that he has hired Lili St. Cyr, exhibitionist, to shed clothing at his plush nightclub, Ciro's.

This was done to disprove the contention that 'movies are better than Hover."

In case you didn't know, the Lili in Lili St. Cyr stands for statuesque (adjective) stripteease (noun).

Miss Cyr pooh poohs the inference that her name is short for Ciro's or even Cyrano. You see her nose is not her outstanding anatomic attribute; beaut, that is.

Miss Cyr's phenomena progress from Main St. to Sunset Blvd. proves once again that the shortest distance between two points is a curved line.

In her contract with Mr. Hover, Miss Cyr is insured for $50,000 against catching cold while performing. With her type of costume, how will she hide the spot where the penicillin injection is given?

I'm Cyr ious.

PTA Award Given Mrs. T. Venerable

The highest award the Parent-Teacher Association can bestow upon anyone is an Honorary Life Membership. This award recently was given posthumously to Mrs. Thelma L. Venerable, by the Vermont Avenue P.T.A., for the services she had rendered the association during her lifetime. Although she had three young children to care for, she was always ready to help and gave much to the P.T.A. For two and one half years, she held the office of treasurer of Vermont Avenue P.T.A., prior to her death was historian, head room mother, and music chairman.

Grant D. Venerable and his youngsters, Delbert, Lynda, and Lloyd, were present in the audiences for this award. Miss Lynda Venerable accepted the Life Membership card and pin from Mrs. E. J. Dunphy, parliamentarian, presented in memorium to her mother.

Letter to the Eaglets

Dear Eaglets:

I am very anxious to know how the Eagle's Nest is progressing, and if the little Eagles are increasing. I hope that by now your number has increased, and that you are all soaring higher and higher.

I have been transferred to Rancho Los Amigos, and am feeling much better. This is my 10th year in a wheel chair, and I have sort of forgotten about handicaps.

I'd like to remind you that there is a large number of colored patients out here who would enjoy a visit from some of you.

I rolled down to Ward 207 last week—that is just five wards down from the one where I stay. Dear Mother Atherton is there, sweet as can be and as humble as a little child.

Mrs. Sarah E. Atherton will be remembered by many older people as a past matron at Sojourner Truth Home, and for her service at the Eastside Shelter.

Some of Mrs. Atherton's friends have never forsaken her. And it is so with some of the rest of us. But patients who have no friends or relatives do appreciate having some of our people out here now and then to adopt them and make life less monotonous.

They do not forget their Christian training, because church workers visit here every day and distribute literature, or take patients to the hospital.

I wish I could impress my people to come out here on friendly visits and see that our people are not neglected by their own people. You will be happier by doing so and, being much younger in years, you will really enjoy your experience.

As for nursing care, or medicine, clean clothes, good food, and so on, they lack nothing. But still a piece of homemade cake, or chicken, corn bread, or biscuits seems to be their special craving.

Well, dear Eaglets, I'll leave it up to you. Please mention Mother Sarah E. Atherton, and send out a good word for the rest of the "Shut-Ins" here, and don't forget them at other Rest Homes.

Sincerely yours,
ROSE E. JONES,
Rancho Los Amigos, Ward 202, Hondo, Calif.

He's his mama's lover man now. But soon, let's say 'bout 1960, he'll be the apple of every little gal's eye. His measurements are ase follows: 4 ft. 8in., about 85 lbs., dark brown eyes, and curly, curly hair. Wanna know his age, huh? Too bad, gals, but you'll be ready for the rockin' chair by the time he grows up. He's only eleven years old. His name is Master John C. Fisher, Jr.

Lover Gal

Miss Marlene Wilson her most outstanding attribute is her blinkers (eyes) which have long, beautiful eyelashes. Her flirty, flirty smile and pearl white teeth make a wonderful specimen of beauty. Tough luck, guys. All this belongs to———. Darn it, forgot his name again.

The lover of John Adams Jr. Hi is Donald Simpson. He's got two dimply dimples. I'm tellin' you, they knock ya out.

Hint List

Leroy Williams—Greta Green, "Do somethin' for Me."

Harold Burbank—??? "Besame Mucho."

Eastside gals aren't good enough for Don M. or Louie C. Think their minds went over to the Westside when they took two Westside lovelies to the theatre. . . . Vivian Robinson and Shirley Alexander are doing a real great job in conquering no territories. . . . Miss Gloria Hunnault is not all but twisting Ronnie Powell around her sweet little finger. . . . Walter Johnson now has what it takes to capture all the little ole gals' hearts. That's right. A '51 Buick. . . . Mary Lee Williams has her eye trained on a certain P.B. Shirley, you'd better watch out. . . . Leon Murray, you haev a secret admirer. Ain't sayin' who 'tis, 'chuse I don't know myself.

That's all for this week, gals and guys.

Conservatory of Gossip, CE. 2-9822. (Don't hesitate to call.) P.S. Thanks ever so much, mysterious writer.

The day a fast white star soared low
Over Northern ricefield
Spitting hail of steel
Into the open breasts
Of a small, brown patriot,
Who .... why, she was simply shading her eyes.
She sunk with great surprise.
It was her child who cried out.
As children sometimes will.
His face a crushed fruit
His politics, never too complex
His passions, never too dangerous,
Securely anchored now,
A quiet child more quiet.

A white, young American saw to all this
In the summer of '51
Returning leisurely to his base.
Mother and child were lying together.
Asleep too early in their fresh new world.
Two women were approaching the spot,
A young boy following with rifle.
Running.
And he shot that rifle for the first time
In his war.
Shot twice!
Three times!
A soldier was born.
Though the plane was a speck and far away.

Jean Field walked a little faster now,
Walking wasn't difficult at all.
It was the small defiance
The newsman noticed in her eyes
As she plunked down the pennies,
Hmm, no dame to fool with,
Women these days.
Hmm, he said to himself.
Nor knowing why.

Medical Quiz Kids Upset Favorites

The Medical Pharmacy quintin the AAA League Saturday night by whipping the leagues' leading team, Kelbos Barbeque that previously was unbeaten in six starts.

Taking a four nought lead the Whiz Kids were evidently not to be denied and the fans sensed a battle from the start. The Kelbos being made up of such stars as "Mr. Basketball," Frank Lubin and last year's UCLA greats Seidel and Joeckl.

The play was sensationally led by Rufus Johnson of the Medics, who lead the game with a sensational 31 points tying the league record and leading the league scorers in the triple A. Sensational backboard work by Vernon Melton, formerly of the Chapman College; and Douglas Shaw kept the boards covered and clever ball handling by these two men and Charles Reed formerly of Whittier College, kept the favorites off balance.

J. C. Gipson, All-City center from Jefferson, was a pillar under the basket giving veteran Frank Lubin, 6'6" tall and his alternate 6'9" Ruaras plenty of trouble in spite of their experience, besides accounting for ten points. Harold Garrison was a pillar also continuously covering the boards from one end of the court to the other and breaking up many plays. The reserve quintet of the Hill twins, S. Peters, J. Parker and Garrison put on the pressure as Coach Griffin used to speed to wear down the larger men.

Tonight the Whiz Kids meet the other half of the undefeated and now league leaders, Associated Dairies which they hope to upset. The game will not be televised, but the team would appreciate a good number of rooters. The game will be held at Loyola Gym, Normandie and Venice, at 7:45 p.m. Admission is free.

The boys deserve the support of the community as they are the first Negro team in Los Angeles AAU and if they upset the Associated Dairies it is reported they have a good chance of going to Denver for the National meet. The 26th they play the San Pedro Dolphins at San Pedro and on March 10 they have been invited to play Taft Junior College at Taft, California.

Each of the 659 motor coaches on the Pacific Electric system is driven an average of 3000 miles per month.

Injunction Granted Union

The Federal Court in Chicago Illinois granted a temporary injunction to the Dining Car Employees Union, Local 456 of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders International Union (AF of L).

The injunction required the Western Pacific Railroad to restore the lounge car attendants to their positions on the California Zypher where they have run since the beginning of its operation on March 21 1949, and the Court ordered the removal of the dining car stewards who were assigned to these jobs on February 2, 1951, as a result of a ruling of the National Railroad Adjustment Board.

William E. Pollard, General Chairman for Local 456 stated that the Dining Car Unions will continue their fight for up-graded position, such as bartenders, lounge car attendants, waiters in charge and dining car stewards in spite of the attempt of the BRT to turn back the pages of progress of the Negro Dining Car Employee. "We shall take them to court every time the Adjustment Board renders a decision disposing of our jobs acquired through collective bargaining."

The trial for a permanent injunction is set for April 19, 1951 in Federal Court in Chicago. Mr. Pollard feels confident the Court will grant a permanent order.

Other officers of Local 456 are C. E. Brown, president and T. W. Anderson, secretary - treasurer. The union headquarters are located in Oakland, California.

Watts IPP Condemns Indictment Of Dr. Dubois

The Watts-Woodcrest Club of the Independent Progressive Party at a called meeting last week unanimously adopted a resolution to send a letter to President Truman and Atty. General Howard J. McGrath, condemning the action of the Justice Department in its indictment of Dr. W. E. B. DuBois for refusing to register as the agent of a foreign organization.

The letter spoke of this newest injustice as "a heightening of the brutal Jim Crow policy of frame up of the Negro people," and an "indictment of the Truman administration and its war policy."

The letter follows:

The Watts-Woodcrest Club of the Independent Progressive Party views the shameful action of the Justice Dept. in its indictment of the internationally recognized scholar, historian and militant leader of the Negro people—Dr. W. E. B. DuBois—as a heightening of the brutal Jim Crow policy of frame-up of the Negro people. This is in line with the legal lynching of the seven men in Martinsville, Virginia, the jailing of Mrs. Rosa Lee Ingram and her sons, the court martial of the U.S. Army officer, Lt. Leon Gilbert, the proposed murder of Willie McGee in Mississippi, the Trenton Six in New Jersey, Robert Wesley Wells and Jerry Newsom in California.

Hysteria Product

We feel that this indictment is, in truth, an indictment of the Truman administration and its war policy and is a product of the hysteria deliberately generated in its mad drive toward atomic destruction. This shabby plot does not lessen the stature of this honored citizen, but reflects the weakness of a government that cringes at the very word "peace." Dr. DuBois' crime is that of being a Negro, a consistent fighter for the rights of all oppressed people and a leader of the struggle for world peace.

We demand that this disgraceful indictment be quashed as it is completely contrary to the democratic processes guaranteed every American citizen by the Bill of Rights. We further demand that the Justice Department cease its harrassment of this great servant of the American people and the people of the world.

L. A. Kids Have Poor Eating Habits

Seven out of ten Los Angeles children have poor eating habits. Three out of four are not getting enough green and yellow vegetables. One of two needs more citrus fruit and milk.

These facts appeared today in a report by the city health department's nutrition division to Dr. George M. Uhl, city health officer.

Los Angeles children's diets were in general worse than those of other youngsters in the United States. In the nation 6 of 10 needed dietary improvements, while 7 of 10 were found substandard here.

Parents could improve their family's nutrition habits by using the free booklet published by the city health department, "Your Food Map.", Write the Nutrition Division, 116 Temple St., Los Angeles 12.

ELAJC Closes Season Saturday

The East Los Angeles Junior College Huskies, firmly entrenched in last place in the Metropolitan conference basketball race, close the season this week with a Friday night trip to San Diego and a home stand Saturday evening against Bakersfield.

Coach Dave Taylor's Huskies enter both contests as shortenders, and anything resembling a victory would be an upset. Best chance for an upset seems to be Saturday against the Bakersfield Renegades, who just finished a rough week against the two conference leaders, San Diego and Santa Monica.

A restless Renegade night could contribute to an Elan victory, especially if Larry Lumpkin and El Sherman hit the hoop consistently for the Huskies. Lumpkin, who boasts a 15 point average per tilt, is one of the consistently heavy scorers in the Metro conference.

Bakersfield will present a well balanced club led by Jim Shannon and Bob Reynolds.

Local UPWA Demands Increase

The United Packinghouse Workers of America, CIO, have asked for an increase in wages of 9c to 24c per hour. The Los Angeles local organizations Cudahy Local No. 107, Wilson Local No. 200, Armour Local No. 12, Swift Local No. 67, voted to approve this demand. They have adopted the agreement and state that they are prepared to strike if necessary to obtain the justifiable wage increase.

Arthur E. Morrison is director of District No. 5, which includes Los Angeles.

In asking for this wage increase, they point out the fact that prices were not frozen at low levels, but at the highest levels in history, while the wages for packinghouse workers stand to be frozen at pre-Korean war levels.

The companies and the unions have agreed that wage rates now being paid shall be increased by 9c per hour, but that no wage rate shall be increased by more than 24c per hour. This agreement may be terminated by either party on or before March 25, 1951. The increases became effective February 9, 1951.

Florence Launches FEP Campaign

The launching of a community campaign to bring about the hiring of Negroes, Mexican-Americans and other minority workers by business concerns operating in the Slauson-Florence-Manchester area was announced by the Florence Fair Employment Practices Committee.

The first objectives of the committee are three food markets, Saylor's at Hooper and Florence; the Safeway Store at 77th and Central and the Bi-Rite Market at 1408 E. Florence.

A visiting committee reports it has already met with the owners or managers of these three markets.

The owner of Saylor's, Mr. Greenberg, pledged to the committee that he would hire a Negro checker cashier in the near future. In case no experienced Negro applicant was available he stated he was willing to train a person for the job, according to Mrs. Mabel Porter, co-chairman of the Florence F.E.P. Committee.

Mr. Silverman, the owner of Bi-Rite, who also owns the Big Bear Market in Watts, expressed his belief in fair employment but stated that he did not feel the Florence Committee would accept a Negro cashier or butcher at this time. Mrs. Porter reports that Mr. Silverman indicated the he felt that eventually, maybe in six months or a year, the community would accept a non - discriminatory personnel policy.

The manager at Safeway, Mr Griffiths, so the F.E.P. Committee reports, was personally in favor of having Negroes and Mexican-Americans on his staff but that Safeway hiring policy was controlled entirely by the downtown office.

Next step in the campaign as announced, is a drive for thousands of signers on a "Roll Call for Brotherhood," which urges all employers to "play fair, hire fair" on the basis that "the brotherhood of man begins with fair employment."

The Florence Fair Employment Committee was organized in January. It was initiated by the Florence Avenue Club of the Independent Progressive Party. It is made up of members of all political parties who believe in and support fair employment.

The committee in addition to its own community campaign is supporting the county campaign of the IPP to end discrimination in hiring by downtown department stores and particularly at the May Company.

Mrs. Mabel Porter and Mr James Burford are co-chairmen of the Florence FEP Committee.

The United States Commissioner of Education, Earl McGrath, has appointed Dr. Rosco C. Ingalls, director of East Los Angeles Junior College, to meet with the Commission on Life Adjustment Education for Youth at a meeting in Washington, D. C., on February 23 and 24.

Pacific Electric Railway Co. serves 125 communities in Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties.

How to make good telephone service even better....

Give 'em time to answer

How many times have you answered the telephone just as someone hangs up? You know it's not always possible to get to the telephone the moment it rings. So best way to make sure you get the person you're calling is to give him a full minute to answer.

Good way to stretch your telephone dollar

When you make a Long Distance call, you can get the most for your money if, ahead of time, you make notes of the things you want to talk about. Then, during your call, jot down the things you want to make sure to remember. With the right planning, you can say as much in a three-minute call as in an exchange of letters. And did you know you can make a three-minute station call, clear across the country, for just $2.00, plus tax, after six in the evening.

When you take the kinks out of your telephone cord, you help protect your own service. For too many twists may break some of the tiny wires in the cord, causing you to hear a "frying" noise. Let the receiver unwind by itself ... then keep the curls out by remembering not to put a turn in the cord as you handle the receiver.

Businesses May Deduct Losses From Income Tax

In the preparation of Federal Income tax returns, it is exceedingly important to know all deductions which may properly be taken, because each legitimate deduction reduces the amount on which income tax must be paid.

If an individual is engaged in business, or practices a profession, all ordinary and necessary business expenses may be deducted. If he has income from investments, expenses in connection with the conservation of his income may be deducted. If a person owns rental property, the expenses incident to keeping the property in repair, insurance, agent's fees, and similar expenses may be deducted.

It is in the field of non-business deductions that most errors are made by taxpayers. Robert A. Riddell, Collector of Internal Revenue for Southern California, is authority for the following statements on this subject of non-business deductions.

Contributions may be deducted, to the maximum of 15 per cent of adjusted gross income, when made to an organization operated exclusively for purposes that are charitable, religious, educational, sicentific, literary, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals. The recipient of the gift must be organized in the United States or its possesisons, and none of its earnings can be used to influence legislation or for the benefit of any private stockholder or individual.

Interest paid on non-business indebtedness constitutes a non-business deduction.

Intellectually, as well as politically, the direction of all true progress is toward greater freedom, and along an endless succession of ideas. —Bovee

Attack on Peace Meet Is Answered

Attacks against the Los Angeles Labor Peace Conference by the Daily News because of the exclusion of a reporter from the recent Peace Awards Supper recently have been answered by a letter to Ernest Brashear, the reporter involved, and to the American Newspaper Guild.

Brashear was asked to leave the conference after several people present had noticed his taking of copious notes while awards were being made to trade unionists for their activities in behalf of peace.

Portions of the letter sent by the conference follow:

"This is to make it very clear that the exclusion of the press . . . was not in accord with the policies of the Los Angeles Labor Conference for Peace. . . .

"We wish to apologize to you . . . for the action taken by some individuals . . . in asking you to leave. As an organization of trade unionists ourselves, we look with fraternal regard upon the working members of the press as our union brothers from the American Newspaper Guild.

Groveland Cases to U.S. Supreme Court

WASHINGTON—The stage was set last week for a re-focusing of national attention on one of the most drmatic legal cases ever handled by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, as NAACP attorneys filed a petition asking the United States Supreme Court to reverse the lower court conviction of two Groveland, Florida, youths on a rape charge.

Samuel Shepherd and Walter Irvin were sentenced to death (and Charles Greenlee to life imprisonment) for the alleged crime in September, 1949, after a three-day trial in a county which for days had been the scene of widespread mob terror, night-riding and home burning. Before the trial opened, the leading daily newspaper of the City of Orlando screamed for vengeance in a front-page editorial cartoon. NAACP attorneys who argued the case and who later carried it to the Supreme Court of Florida, which affirmed the convictions, charged from the beginning that the defendants had not been given a fair trial.

Attorneys handling the case for the NAACP are Alex Akerman, Jr., of Winter Park, Florida; Special Counsel Thurgood Marshall and Assistant Special Counsel Robert L. Carter of the national office staff; and Franklin H. Williams, NAACP West Coast regional director, formerly assistant special counsel. Assistant Special oCunsel Constance Baker Motley and Jack Greenberg also participated in the preparation of the briefs.

A VISIST TO SPASTIC CHILDREN'S FOUNDATION

By BESS FREIDEN

Have you ever passed the little white building at 1307 West 105th Street in Los Angeles that bears the sign, "Spastic Children's Foundation"? And have you ever wondered just what might be found beyond that unpretentious front door? We have the invitation to enter, so let us go inside.

Children—spastic victims of cerebral palsy — these are the youngsters we came to visit. The little fellow, laboriously approaching us on unsteady but determined legs—the little girl who cheerily greets us with guttural sounds, since her speech still is unaccomplished — the tiny brave soldier who is at last learning to use those little arms so weakly but happily waves at us. That is what we see—handicapped children whose lives are being adjusted to a promising future by a staff of wonderful people who bless them with the patience and love that bring to them reassurance and physical benefits.

But, above all, we see far beyond the difficulties of affected speech, hearing and sight, and the labored attempts to bring unresponsive muscles into action. We see the exultation on the faces of the therapists with each tiny bit of progress, for that is a promise of future successes. And, more than that, we realize the presence of something within each child that is an inspiration.

There is bright and almost unbelievable happiness in the classrooms, the therapy rooms, on the specially equipped playground, and in the dormitories where tired little bodies are at rest. Pity is not wasted on this courageous bunch of youngsters. There is no room for pity here. They are here to receive help, and to help each other. There is a deep satisfaction in knowing that these handicapped children are not forgotten children. Much can, and is being done for them, and we can well learn a lesson in bravery from the youngsters at the Spastic Children's Foundation.

SUPPORT FUND CAMPAIGN STIRS QUESTIONS ON YM

Workers in the annual Support Fund Campaign find their prospects full of questions about the YMCA, questions that thoughtful men and women are asking before they give support. Most persons are generally impressed that the YMCA is a fine institution and doing a good work. Others want detailed assurance that their contribution will accomplish the purposes they intend.

Twenty-Eighth Street Branch is one of the 23 branches of the Metropolitan YMCA of Los Angeles. Its officers both Lay and professional are named by the Board of Directors of the Metropolitan Association. This Board, however, acts upon nominations from the Branch. At 28th Street Branch the nominations of members of the Branch Board of Managers and of Branch Chairman are made by the governing members of the Branch at an annual meeting in the Spring. Governing members of the Branch include all those who support the Branch by contributions or fees in amounts of ten dollars a year or more or, whose service to the Association justifies such recognition.

A Branch Board of Managers sets up its annual budget subject to the approval of the Metropolitan approval and then the staff organizes and operates as much program as its budget will permit.

All financial operations of the 28th Street Branch or any other Branch are transacted thru the Metropolitan office. All receipts are deposited with the treasurer of the Association. All expenditures are made from his office. The Annual Support Fund, now being solicited, will be deposited with the treasurer of the Association and will be available for Branch expenses at the rate of one-twelfth part during each month of the Association's fiscal year which begins March 1st. Other income is available to cover expenses of the month in which the income is produced.

Twenty-eighth Street Branch YMCA is forunate in having a dormitory which has a capacity of 52 rooms to accomodate 62 men. The income from rentals pays the expenses of the residence services and provides some funds for building maintenance. Deficit financing over many years has made it difficult to use enough residence income to properly maintain the building so that in addition to providing for the cost of youth service, the present Support Fund Campaign if successful will also make some rehabilitation of the building possible.

UCLA History Week Recalls Contributions

The contributions of Negroes to the American way of life was recalled by "A Mid-Century Reflection on the Negro in American Life," the title of a speech made by Dr. Howard Thurman of San Francisco, guest speaker at UCLA's program honoring America's 15,000,000 Negro citizens last Friday night in Royce Hall auditorium.

Vern O. Knudsen, chairman of UCLA's administrative committee presided over the meeting which included such persons as the well-known American soprano, Ellabelle Davis. Miss Davis was accompanied by Dr. Laurence Petran.

Also on the program were: Madie Norman, actress, Sherill Luke, former UCLA student and Eloise Parrish.

As part of the celebration an exhibit devoted to National Negro History week was featured in the main library. Another exhibit of art and literature was on display in the foyer of Royce Hall auditorium.

Wife Loses Suit In Court Battle

"Does a wife still living with her husband have a right to property bought by him and another woman who has been her rival ever since their marriage?" "Can she consider that his wages, spent for the protection of a child polio victim, was her money, as community property?" These, and several other unusually intricate and complicated questions were answered last week by Judge H. Pope, in a law suit by Mrs. Ida Mae Perry, against Gladys Manning, "the other woman"; her husband, Simon Perry, and H. Reeves, a real estate dealer, whom she included as one of the defendants, because he had made the sale. Attorney Afue McDowell, according to the court records, was counsel for all the defendants; Griffith and Hardwick, for the plaintiff.

So important did he consider the domestic drama, and so unprecedented were the angles, that Judge Pope held it under advisement and study ever since November, 1950, before handing down his decision last week. This was in favor of the defendants, his ruling being that the plaintiff, Mrs. Perry, shall "take nothing" of what she made plea for child.

A Polio Victim

Reading like a novel the story of the Perrys, anw Miss Manning, is that shortly after they married some twelve years ago, he and the young Manning woman met and began an intimacy. A child was born, closely resembling him, but during its infancy it was stricken with the dread disease, polio. Now twelve years old, and highly intelligent, the boy is a cripple, hence severely handicapped, and both mother and child edependent upon the aid spared them by Perry.

In his testimony he explained that he and the mother had together paid $200 down on lots 158 and 159 of the Crystal Springs tract, as future security for their son, but that later he turned over full title to her. During the oral and written testimony Atty. McDowell brought to light that actually she had paid cash to him for his share, thus annuling any claim his wife might make against it. Reeves, realtor, verified these statements. "A vital point was scored by the able counsel when he asked if a man were on trial and forced to pay up for non-support, would the court bother to question where the money came from.

Political Prisoners Get Letter From Alabama

The Political Prisoners' Welfare Committee of Los Angeles has received a letter from Joe Brock, who is now at Kilby Prison, Birmingham, Alabama. At the age of eighteen, after being framed and sent to the chain gang, he escaped and came to California.

For eight years he lived here as a respected citizen, an active member of the ILWU, local 26. Then Governor Warren signed extradition papers, and returned him to spend the rest of his life at Kilby Prison. This is the place of unspeakable brutality and degradation which Heywood Patterson, after spending eleven years there, described in his book, "Scotsboro Boy."

Jo Brock writes: "To the Chairman of the Prisoners' Welfare Committee: It would mean an awful lot to me if you could encourage some of my friends to write to me . . . You see, letters of encouragement mean so awfully much to a fellow in a place like this. I do hope you will understand . . . It is from your letters that I find the courage to go on."

If you want to give heart to this man, innocent and trapped, write to him at Kilby Prison. His prison name is Bernard White. Address: Route 3, Box 115, Birmingham, Alabama.

And if you wish to receive news of Jo Brock or of the political prisoners held without trial under the McCarran Act, send your name (with or without a dollar) to the Prisoners' Welfare Committee, 1211 North Berendo Street, Los Angeles.

OUR NEED OF LOVE

The Bible says, "that by love let us serve one another." Does this not make us conscious of our need for love?

The world realizes how sadly in need of love and true fellowship it is. Wars, and more wars. People dissatisfied, and so much hate existing between nations and races of people, certainly emphasizes the great need for understanding and love in our herts.

How large a stock of patience have you. Has it kept sweet down through the years? Have your experiences of the past made you a better citizen, or are you still carrying a grudge, a little hate or a feeling of superiority toward your fellowman? There is no better time than the present to take stock of yourself, and do something about it!

U. K. Dear Prof. Herman: I just want to write you a short note, thanking you for your kindness through the past few months. You know it is very hard to talk to your closest friend about some things. But, you have given me so much confidence in you and your work, that I felt that telling you my trouble would no only relieve my mind, but that the information would not go any further. And then to read your wonderful words of consolation—just made me realize what a wonderful servant of mankind you are. Thanks again for your prayers.

WORRIED. My wife and I are separated, will she come back to me?

ANS. oCncentrating upon your question C., I find that your wife was dissatisfied with various matters there at home, and until these things are corrected, she will not consider returning. I suggest your talking matters over with her, get a better understanding and then try to comply with her wishes. You will both be much happier if you can resume your married life again.

V.E.W. What can I do?

ANS. Your desire to make something of yourself, and to advance in the field of nursing, only means one thing . . . GET STARTED! Write to the various hospitals, get all the information you need regarding requirements, and then get busy. Now, more than ever, there is a great need, and I am sure they would be willing to work out some type of program whereby you could finish your education and get the training needed as well.

Mrs. G.C. Will my luck ever change?

ANS. Your lucky stars, and guiding planet, indicate many changes, why not write for your daily horoscope to help you?

PRISON BRUTALITY IS EXPOSED

This is a story related by pink-cheeked, blue-eyed Howard R. Carwile, an attorney from Richmond, Va., who came to Los Angeles last week in the interest of his client, James A. Zolle, who stood trial in the Superior Court of Los Angeles, February 27, on a charge of assault with intent to commit robbery.

On a plea of insanity by Zollo's counsel, Atty. Howard Carwile, Judge Philip Richards appointed two psychiatrists to study Zollo's mental condition.

The case will be heard June 18, 1951.

James A. Zollo is an escapee from a Virginia State Prison Farm.

The appearance of Attorney Howard H. Carwile on the Zollo case is not his first visit to Los Angeles, nor his first fight to prevent the return of an escapee to a Virginia State prison.

Two years ago when Mr. Lawrence Steinberg, of Beverly Hills, aided and supported by the liberals of Los Angeles, prevented the return of Lester Tate to the type of hell on earth that the Virginia State Prison Farm is—it was the real burning information telling just what Tate's fate would be, if and when returned to Virginia, piled on Governor Warren's desk by this man, Howard H. Carwile, that influenced the California governor's decision, and saved not only the life of Lester Tate, but likewise the honor and reputation for justice under the law for California.

The night before leaving Richmond for California, this speech was delivered over Station WLEE by Atty. Carwile.

My dear friends, Colonel Richard Copeland, Director of the State Department of Welfare and Institutions, said in the News Leader two days ago: "I wish I knew the answer to how long a man should stand in cuffs."

In other words, how long should a prisoner hang up, spread-eagle style, on a rack? I am quite simple-minded, meek and humble—but this profound philosophical question did not bamboozle me two seconds. A human being should not hang on a rack at all. So simple! So simple! My dear Colonel, that even a Richmond newspaper ought to understand it.

I wrote Governor Battle that prisoners in Virginia are hung up ten hours per day for 30 days. The United Press discussed this question with Colonel Copeland. The Colonel denied to the United Press that prisoners are ever hung up at any time for a period longer than five days!

I can prove that Colonel Copeland is wrong, I can prove his error by the record—by Mr. D. P. Edwards, Superintendent of the Road Camps in Virginia. I have in my file a letter written by Mr. D. P. Edwards. This letter was sent to ex-Governor William Tuck when he requested an investigation of a charge by me that Henry Harris, Jr., a Negro prisoner, at that time, had been brutally treated on a road camp.

I quote from Mr. D. P. Edward's letter: "This man was then returned to the camp and placed in cuffs for punishment. He was stood in cuffs for 34 days, ten hours per day. . . ." Mr. Edwards also admitted in his letter that Henry Harris, Jr. had been gassed in the face and hit several times with a blackjack.

I have in my possession a letter written by Mr. Hugh O. Kirkham, of Mollusk, Virginia, who on December 26, 1950, resigned from his job as a guard on Road Camp 21. Mr. Kirkham states that a prisoner on that camp whose infected hand was in the second stage of bloodpoinsoning, on December 14, 1950, was shackled in a big chain and hung on the mule.

Mr. Kirkham pledged the prison officials not to tell me anything about this outrageous atrocity, but when the prison officials brazenly refused to do anything about the medieval horrors on Camp 21, Mr. Kirkham brought all his information to me and said: "Here it is! Here it is! I am sick of state whitewash."

Let the Richmond newspapers go ahead and slavishly wield the whitewash brush. The United

Board Of Education Asked To Resign At Uproarious Meet

Members of the Los Angeles Board of Education, all seven of 'em, were asked to resign at an uproarious meeting of the Board last Monday. There were 225 citizens in the audience, a number which filled the room where the meeting was held practically to overflowing.

They were all angry, too. But in spite of this, Board President Roy J. Becker had resolutions read at the beginning of the meeting praising the members for their "conduct of school affairs," and condemning charges of Mrs. Swan, principal of Wilshire Crest School, against the mismanagement of the cafeterias in the schools.

But after the praise came the fireworks.

Atty. Patrick J. Cooney read a long list of charges against the Board from the committee on "Return the Schools to the People." He charged that Becker and Mrs. Gertrude Rounsavelle had profited from insurance sold to school contractors; that playgrounds in the elementary schools are unsafe; that food provided is "poorer food at higher prices delivered under most unsanitary conditions;" that the board maintains a "reign of terror within the system," and other accusations.

Anyone living on the Eastside can add a few others themselves. People here will remember the racial discrimination at the Fremont High School, at the 28th Street School, and other bad features the Los Angeles citizens resent, perpetrated or condoned by the Board of Education.

Jack Berman, candidate for the Board of Education, attempted to speak. Lawrence Larrabee said, over the loudspeaker system, that "the police ought to be called."

William T. Phillips, former teacher at Trinity Street School, also tried to speak, but while he was talking the microphones were turned off, the recording machine was stopped, and the audience milled about not knowing exactly what to do next.

The newspaper agrees fully that the present members of the Board of Education should be replaced by persons more interested in the welfare of the children of Los Angeles and in the general welfare of the city. The way to replace them is to elect others at the coming election in April.

Anita Shumate Seeks Divorce

Attractive Anita M. Shumate filed suit in Domestic Court last week for a divorce from her husband, Dr. Lincoln W. Shumate. In cross-filing the husband claimed that should his wife's wishes be granted, the suit she filed will leave him nothing.

The couple were married twice, a year apart on the same day of the month. They were first united in Morales, Mexico, Oct. 25, 1949, and again in Los Angeles Oct. 25, 1951, thus to erase all doubt of the legality of the Mexican ceremony.

Among the items specified in by the popular, stylish young socialite are: money on deposit in the name of the plaintiff and defendant in the Security National Bank at Arlington and Jefferson; United States bonds, and life insurance policies on deposit in the Broadway Federal and Loan Association; also the contents of a safety deposit box; office appliances and furniture valued at $5000, the furniture, and household effects valued at over $1000, also their residence at 2124 West 27th Street.

Separation of the widely known pair caused a sensation in the professional and social worlds, and that she is determined to make the break safe from reconciliation, was exemplified in the injunctions she took out against

Seek Earlier Field Custody Court Action

Jean Field, young Compton mother who recently lost custody of her two children because of her political views, will move that her suit to regain custody be advanced from August to an immediate date, it was announced today by the Jean Field Committee.

Motion will be made Monday, March 12, 1:30 p.m., before Superior Judge W. Turney Fox on the eighth floor of the Hall of Records.

Latest step in the dramatic case was announced at a meeting of the Jean Field Committee this week.

A statement announcing the committee's latest move read:

"The case of Jean Field is the first in American jurisprudence in which a mother's fitness was determined on the basis of her political views. Unless this precedent is destroyed, any parent whose views run counter to the general stream may lose custody of his children. We urge everyone who can to attend the March 12 hearing, as well as later pro-

Charles Outpoints Joe Walcott In Slow Go

Detroit — With that peculiar shuffle he has, Joe Walcott gave Ezzard Charles, heavyweight champion a hard way to go Wednesday night but Charles, well ahead on points, took the fight.

Walcott showed his wares in later rounds. In the eleventh round he shook Ezzard with rights and hard lefts to the body.

In round 12, with Joe Louis a spectator, the fellows locked in numerous clinches.

In round 13 Walcott clearly had the edge, but it would take a knockout for him to have lifted the title from the champ. The judges were unnanimous in their decision.

Negro Labor Council Charges CIO, AFL Fall Down on Job Jimcrow

COMMENDED—Pvt. June J. Jackson of Charleston, Miss., was congratulated and commended by Colonel Glen A. Webster, commanding officer of the 354th Engineer Group and Lt. Col. Wilbur Fisher, commanding officer of the 1401st Engineer combat battalion in his ward at Camp Roberts, although he, himself, had been wounded by shrapnel.

The following statement was issued this week by the officers of the Los Angeles Negro Labor Council, in answer to attacks on it by top leadership of the NAACP, the AFL and CIO:

"We, the initial sponsors of the Trade Union Conference for Negro Rights to be held on March 18 at the Elks Hall, 4016 S. Central avenue, to oragnize a Los Angeles Negro Labor Council, wish to clarify the misunderstanding about this conference and organization.

"This misunderstanding has arisen from the erroneous statements that have been issued to the press by organizations and unions, without first consulting with us to find out what our aims and purposes are for forming such an organization.

"It is the opinion of the sponsors that it is the right of Negro workers in the plants, factories and industries in Los Angeles to form an organization in order to seek relief from the problems of discrimination which they face daily.

"We further agree that the Negro workers should seek the aid and support of the white workers who sympathize with them and wish to join with them in breaking down lily-white shops and fighting for upgrading and hiring.

"We are aware of the fact that the policy of the employers in industries is to relegate Negroes to the unskilled and menial jobs and in some industries to maintain lily-white shops.

"We are also aware that in

24 INJURED IN SHELL EXPLOSION AT CAMP ROBERTS RECENTLY

Twenty-four men required hospital treatment, and one remains in critical condition, as the result of a training accident at Camp Roberts Monday morning, when what is believed to have been a 60-millimeter shell was accidentally detonated in a training area. Nine other men are listed as seriously injured from the explosion.

First Lieut. Edward F. Stewart, commanding officer of C Company of the 1401st Engineer Combat Battalion, to which the injured men belong, gave details of the accident as follows:

The company was moving in an extended formation through a training area to the east of the quarters area of the Camp Roberts East Garrison, when one of the men kicked a "dud," or unexploded shell. The shell is thought to have been from a 60-millimeter mortar, but final identification has not yet been made. One of the men picked up the dud, and when told to put it down, either placed it on the ground or threw it away. It went off, injuring 24 men nearby.

Immediate first aid was given the injured by Medical Corpsmen attached to their company, and by corpsmen from nearby units. The injured men were

Tennessee Poll Tax Wiped Out

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — (ATLAS) The passage to full entrance into the activities of our American Way of life for Negroes may be made easier in the South as the out dated poll tax is wiped out. The State of Tennessee threw in its opposition this week to the old measure hat requires voters to pay the poll tax assessed against them for the year 1871, when the Senate passed a bill to erase payment of the poll tax in this state, that was approved by a vote of 29 to 1.

The sponsor said that "no man now living will have to pay the tax" under the bill passed this week. The present law requires to pay the tax assessed against them for the previous year. Observers predict the Governor would sign the bill.

Holdup Victim Beaten with Iron Bar

Roy (Sonny) Howard, owner of the Sonny Billiard Parlor in the 4200 block on Central Ave., was the victim of two thugs in a holdup last Monday night and was brutally beaten around the head and shoulders.

The hold-up men were hiding in bushes near Howard's home at 2953 S. Dalton and attacked Howard with an iron bar as he arrived at home.

One of the thugs dropped a leather glove on the sidewalk as the pair fled in an old car. One dollar in coins was also dropped as they left.

Howard, widely known in Los Angeles, was rushed to the Georgia Street Receiving Hospital for medical attention.

Police have reported no progress in the case.

HOLLYWOOD "UNAMERICAN" PROBE SHOWN PART OF DRIVE FOR WAR

Visit of the "un-American" committee to "investigate" the film industry in Hollywood was tied into the present drive of big business and the administration for war in a call issued by the Arts, Sciences and Professions Council for a meeting Friday, March 16, 8 p.m., at the Hollywood Athletic Club, 6525 Sunset Blvd.

Portions of the call follow:

"Two weeks ago the operating Brotherhoods of Railway Workers were forced to strike after two years of fruitless effort to get a living wage. President Truman called them 'Russians.'

"Last week, labor's representatives on the War Production Council walked off saying that the wage and price freeze was a fraud being put over on the American people by profit-hungry big business.

"A few days ago the House Committee on Un-American Activities came to Hollywood and served a number of subpoenas.

"These are not unrelated items.

"It is clear that the committee is back at the gates of Hollywood to demand that it frighten a reluctant, peace-loving American people into accepting wage-freezes, a lower standard of living, military control of civilian life—and WAR.

"The motion picture artists subpoened to date include actress Gale Sondergaard; actors Howard Da Silva, Will Geer, Victor Kilian, Fred Graff; writers

Arsenic Sent Governor Of Georgia

ATLANTA.—(Atlas) — Governor Herman Talmadge received a letter this week, postmarked "College Station, New York City" at 10 A.M., February 22, loaded with arsenic without the old lace. Of course the Governor blames Negroes in Harlem for trying to snuff out his notorious career as a power politician in the deep South.

The anti-equal rights Governor said that he frequently got threatening letters from "Harlem, Detroit, Philadelphia and Chicago," but none of them contained any lethal agents.

Plunge Described As Suicide; Skull Crushed

In what was listed as a suicide by police, James Morris Jackson, 47, jumped or fell to his death from the second story fire escape of General Hospital last Friday.

Jackson had been taken from his home at 188 W. 43rd Place the day before to General Hospital, on the advice of his doctor, for treatment for pneumonia.

After less than a day's stay at the hospital, Jackson apparently made his way to the window of the osteopathic ward and fell or climbed over a three-foot protective railing.

Cause of death was a fracture of the skull and cerebral hemorhage.

Funeral services were held today in the chapel of Angelus Funeral Home and interment was in Lincoln cemetery.

Jackson had lived 18 years in California. He is survived by his father, J. P. Jackson, of Washington, D. C.

A friend who first reported the death to the California Eagle expressed the opinion that a closer watch should have been kept on Jackson because of possible delirium of high fever. The friend believed that the death could have been prevented had hospital attendants taken proper precautions.

Jackson's doctor said there was no indication of mental disturbance when he had Jackson admitted to the hospital. He said, however that with a high fever, suicidal tendancies are likely to come to the surface.

Savings Highest In 67 Years

The 1949 record of achievement attained by savings and loan associations operated by Negroes was the most impressive in the 67 years of their existence. The combined assets of 25 reporting associations operating in 12 states, amounted to $16,404,918, an increase of 45.27 per cent over the 1948 total. First mortgage loans totaling $14,015,905, constituted 85.42 per cent of all assets and exceeded the previous year's record by a gain of 41.56 per cent.

Since the issuance of the last report, three new associations have been formed and admitted to membership in the Federal

12 Leaders Ask Truman To End Capital Bias

WASHINGTON—A six point program for executive action to abolish discrimination and segregation was presented to President Harry S. Truman by a group of 12 Negro leaders who met with the President at the White House recently.

Speaking for the delegation, A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, AFL, asked the President:

1. To use the power and influence of his office to abolish racial segregation immediately in Washington;

2. To appoint Negroes to administrative and policy making positions in government service;

3. To integrate Negroes into all new agencies established as a result of the national emergency;

4. To appoint Negroes more widely in the foreign and diplomatic service of the country;

5. To issue an executive order setting up an FEPC with enforcement powers; and

She came into court to press her claims that her husband, Atty. Walter L. Gordon Jr., who is suing her for divorce, should support her in her accustomed style during the trial to follow.

Penn Supreme Court Sets Precedent

A recent Pennsylvania Supreme Court decision upholding the right of a local health department to safeguard the public health by regulating the operation of restaurants may have nation-wide implications, the Public Health Service of the Federal Security Agency said.

The decision, handed down on January 2, reversed a decree of the Allegheny County Court of Common Pleas forbidding the Pittsburgh health department from grading local restaurants according to sanitation standards equivalent to those in the Public Health Service's recommended ordinance and code regulating eating and drinking establishments.

The lower court held that the Pittsburgh ordinance, because of grading and other provisions, was in conflict with a statute passed by the State legislature in 1945, and that it was also, in part, unconstitutional.

"The Pennsylvania decision may well encourage municipalities throughout the country to grade restaurants on the basis of compliance with sanitation standards and to post the grade in the establishments where it is visible to customers," C. H. Atkins, chief of the Division of Sanitation of the Public Health Service, stated.

Jim Crow Fought In New York

ALBANY, N.Y. — (ATLAS) — A delegation, headed by Rabbi Daniel L. Davis, called on the legislature this week to urge legislators to protect Thirty-three tenants of housing developments, the Metropolitan Insurance owned Stuyvesant Town, and Peter Cooper Village in New York City, who face evictions because they fought discrimination in these developments. The delegation pleaded for the passage of a bill to end discrimination at Stuyvesant Town and Peter Cooper Village.

The bill sponsored by Assemblyman Francis X. McGowan, New York Democrat, would solve the problem of discrimination in housing developments by providing that all houses completed before Dec. 30, 1950, come under state rent control.

Finding Crippled Children Is Big Job for Society

"Many handicapped or crippled children can be brought from the dark of hopelessness into the light of possible recovery if they can just be located and put in touch with existing facilities," Paul Dietrich, president of the Crippled Children's Society of Los Angeles County, declared this week.

Pointing out that the Society, one of 43 county organizations in the State, each month performed more than 1000 services for handicapped youngsters, Dietrich said that one of the major functions of the society was to find these children.

"The misunderstanding and general lack of understanding about certain types of crippling diseases complicates the problem of case finding more than most people realize," he stated.

1905 at the union's international convention in Kansas City, Missouri, he was elected grand secretary, a position he held for a number of years.

While still active with the labor movement, Mr. Johnson established in 1917 one of the city's first Negro-owned funeral homes, Conner-Johnson, now located at 1400 E. 17th Street. He remained one of its largest stockholders.

Aside from building his own business, Mr. Johnson gave both service and financial assistance to many ventures aimed at advancing Negro progress. During the latter part of 1924 and the early months of 1925 when Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company was being organized he was one of the ardent supporters of William Nickerson Jr., the firm's founder. Upon the company's organization in July 1925 he was made a member of its first board of directors, and was active on this policy-making body until incapacitated by his last illness.

Said George A. Beavers Jr., Chairman of Board of Directors of Golden State of the loss of Mr. Johnson: "We feel a deep, almost inexpressible sense of appreciation, for the contribution he made to the susccess of the Golden State Mutual Life from its inception."

Mr. Johnson was a member of the board of directors of the Broadway Federal Savings and Loan Association. He was one of the founders of the California Morticians' Association, set up to raise and maintain high standards of mortuary operations for Negroes in the state. He held several offices with local and state fraternal organizations, serving at various times as the Grand Master of the Odd Fellows of California, Grand Secretary of the Masonic Grand Lodge, and Grand Patron of the Order of Eastern Star Chapter of California. He also held membership in the Elks Lodge and was a Shriner.

The business executive showed great interest in church affairs. He was a member of the board of managers of Second Baptist Church, a Sunday School Superintendent there for more than 30 years. His church activity extended to the Western Baptist Association for which he served a long term as general secretary. He was also on the 28th Street YMCA board of managers, a member of the NAACP, and of the Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity.

was to have custody of the couple's black fishtail Cadillac sedan and the flashy Chrysler town and country automobile, was settled when the court decided that each retain the car they were driving at the time of filing the suit.

Mrs. Gordon got the Cadillac.

The parties were enjoined by the court of disposing or changing title of all community properties.

Atty. Gordon pleaded near poverty. He said his business had declined almost 50 per cent during the past two years.

Although the estate which he inherited from his two deceased parents was admittedly valued at nearly $150,000, Atty. Richardson also admitted, he had paid bills and prepared the legal case for Atty. Gordon without receiving any pay.

Atty. Richardson said business losses accounted for his clients' inabality to meet his credit obligations.

The few flareups during the brief court encounter involved accustations by Atty. Gordon that his fashionable wife had incurred certain prohibitive debts in purchasing high priced wearing apparel and a race horse.

Mrs. Gordon countered with her spouses' expenditure of $7000 on a house he owns at the rear of his office, in contrast to the $400 she was allowed to fix up and paint the house they occupy on Kenwood avenue.

No date was set for subsequent court appearance, but it was understood that opposing counsel would meet soon to have depositions taken of their respective clients.

Thus far, Mrs. Gordon has not answered her husband's complaint charging cruelty, or filed a cross complaint.

Observers continue to see a settlement out of court reached by the coupe, which would avoid considerable personal scandal.

Negro Labor

many of these industries the AFL and CIO have contracts but still refuse to enforce a fair employment program or to break down discrimination where employers refuse to upgrade or employ Negro men or women.

"The reasons for the criticism of us by unions is that in many instances on the question of discrimination against Negro trade unionists, they are in collaboration wit hthe Jim Crow policy of the employers. They and others who are not doing anything about these problems are attempting to silence us because we are going to do something about them.

"We know that we cannot replace or duplicate the work of the NAACP on the many problems facing the Negro people, but we do intend to carry on a fight around those special problems we face daily in our industries, shops, and unions that at the present time are not adequately dealt with.

"This is the main purpose of our conference and organization.

"We therefore intend to meet with organizations and unions to seek clarification on the erroneous statements that have been issued without first consulting with us."

Jim Crow Breaks Down In Korea

TOKYO. — (ATLAS) — There is good news, not of a strictly military nature, trickling in from the Korean fronts.

Jim Crow walls are falling apart along the battle lines, and it is having an excellent effect on the men at the front. They have been "mixing" white and colored soldiers and officers with striking success. In one "mixed" hospital two top surgeons, one Negro and the other white, both lieutenant colonels, earned equal admiration from their patients, so the story goes.

The Los Angeles Rams football team, Loren Miller, one of the foremost constitutional lawyers in America, Joe Adams, and Mrs. Verna Hickman, public relations director of Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company will be among the large number of persons and organizations to receive the Urban League awards on Friday, March 16, at 8 p.m.

Miss Loretta Young, glamorous motion picture actress, will present the awards on the occasion of the annual meeting. The Rams will receive the coveted E. J. Jones Roving Trophy.

Loren Miller will receive the award for winning a case before the U. S. Supreme Court resulting in a decision of that tribunal negating enforcement of covenants barring Negroes occupancy of homes in any district.

Mrs. Verna Hickman, Public Relations Director, Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company, will be awarded for the competent performance of her duties and pioneering in a realtively new field. Mrs. Hickman is recognized by authorities for the capable manner in which she has handled public relations for the company.

For spectacular achievements and tenacity in the field of radio broadcasting, Joe Adams, popular disc jockey and showman, known as "Mayor of Melody" will receive signal honors after nine years of pioneering in a difficult and highly competitive field.

One of the crusaders for fair employment in sports participation, Bob Kelly, well-known sports announcer and commentator will receive an award from the League in appreciation for his consistent efforts on behalf of Negro athletes.

No citation is more symbolic of the rewards of preparation and discrimination than the selection of Mrs. Vivian Wilson Strange, young Negro policewoman who successfully completed the rigorous obstacles demanded of a policewoman's career and received highest honors in special ability for her work. Mrs. Strange has recently been appointed a Sergeant on the Los Angeles Police Force.

Perhaps the most significant award is the one honoring both management and labor. The U.S. Spring and Bumper Company and Local No. 509 UAW CIO will be cited jointly for outstanding exemplification that people of all races can work together harmoniously and successfully.

SANDERS CHAPRON, left, is seen shaking hands with his counsel, Atty. Curtis C. Taylor, thanking him for his outstanding victory. Chapron had just been awarded judgment of a large sum in a damage suit against Highway Patrolmen McDaniels and Stratton. They beat him brutally, on May 25th of last year. See story.

Mrs. Baskett Wins $11,000 Judgment

In a sweeping decision handed down this week by the Honorable Irvin Taplin, Judge presiding in Department 68 of the Superior Court, Mrs. Margaret Baskett, the widow of the late James Baskett, radio and screen star and academy award winner for his performance in "Song of the South," won a judgment against Myron Thomas for $11,376.13, with interest at 7%.

The action arose out of a complaint filed by Mrs. Baskett against Myron Thomas some months ago, wherein she alleged that Mr. Thomas had bilked her out of her inheritance left by her deceased husband, upon a promise to marry her, which promise, it was alleged, he at no time intended to carry out, but in reliance upon said promise, which she alleged, monies were advanced to Mr. Thomas to build the Jefferson Arcade, located on West Jefferson Blvd., near Arlington, where approximately 12 store rental units were built.

Mrs. Baskett was represented by Attorney Vince Monroe Townsend, Jr., who, in the complaint charged fraud and asked for a lien for the judgment, to be placed upon the property and the rentals therefrom.

Mrs. Anna T. Graham, the mother of Myron Thomas, was also made a defendant in the action, because the title to the property had been previously vested in her name in a deed of conveyance from Mr. Thomas. The court, moreover, agreed with the position of Attorney Townsend and made the judgment a lien upon the property and upon any and all rents therefrom. The court further declared that the title to the said property held by Mrs. Anna T. Graham, the mother of Myron Myron Thomas, was held as a trustee for Mr. Thomas, and she was restrained by the Court from conveying, encumbering, or disposing of said property until the judgment was satisfied.

In addition to the total principal judgment of $11,376.13, the judgment carried with it an interest at 7%, as follows: $3900 from June 3, 1949; $3400 from October 16, 1948; $1500 from August 26, 1948; $1000 from September 21, 1948; $700 from August 11, 1948; $380 from September 2, 1948; $496.13 from November 23, 1948.

Liberian Poultry Production May Catch Up With Demand

Within two years, Liberian poultry production may catch up with the demand, if the hatching program continues at the present rate, says a report issued last week by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The number of poultry in Liberia increased 10 percent last year over 1949. Only about 1000 dozen eggs and 4000 pounds of dressed poultry were imported. This went from the United States to supplement local production.

The increase in the size of the flocks last year, says the report, is due largely to the poultry program of the Liberian Department of Agriculture and Commerce which is being carried out in cooperation with the United States Economic Mission. The agricultural phase of the Mission's work is directed by Frank E. Pinder, formerly of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

In 1949, Liberia imported New Hampshire Reds, Barred Plymouth Rocks and White Leghorns from the United States. From their 1950 hatchings, more than 5000 day-old chicks were sold to farmers at nominal prices.

About a third of these chicks came into egg production before the end of the year. The larger eggs laid some of them, says Pinder, have convinced many farmers of te advantage of the better breeds of birds. This is expected to accelerate the program this year. Native hens lay very small eggs. During the Christmas season, the larger eggs were bringing about the same price in Liberia as in the United States.

Mississippi Man Is Camp Hero

CAMP ROBERTS — In every emergency, some one person appears outstanding for his thoughts and actions. Such a person is Private June J. Jackson, of Charleston, Miss., who showed himself outstanding on Monday, when a training accident at Camp Roberts caused injuries to 24 Army enlisted men.

Jackson, a squad leader in the Third Platoon of C Company, 140lst Engineer Combat Battalion, helped the medical aidmen from his unit give first aid to injured men, and say them loaded aboard ambulances for the short trip to the station hospital, then returned to his barracks. It was then he found he, himself, had been struck by a piece of flying shrapnel, which had lodged in his leg.

Hospitalized for observation, Jackson continued to help the more seriously wounded men of his squad, visiting them, handing things to them, and the like. Nurses commented what a big help he was to all of them in the wards.

The accident happened at 9:20 Monday morning. Jackson's company was moving in an extended formation toward a bivouac area when one of the men kicked an object in the ground. He picked up what is thought to have been a 60 millimeted mortar shell and handed it to another of the men. When told to put it down, the soldier either placed it on the ground or threw it away. It exploded, injuring 24 men. One of them is still listed in a critical condition, with five others seriously wounded.

Jackson, 23, attended schools in Charleston, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Jackson, still live. In high school he played fullback and captained the team. Hhe was president of the Athletic Association. After his graduation in 1948 he was employed by a cleaning and pressing company in Charleston.

In October, 1950, Jackson was inducted into the Army, in Jackson, Mississippi, from which he reported to Camp Chaffee, Arkansas, and was eventually assigned to Camp Roberts.

Fisk Jubilee Singers At Philharmonic Sunday

Two hundred voices of the concert hall, the Broadway stage, and the church choir will blend in a joyous ""Festival of Negro Spirituals" Sunday afternoon, March 11, at 2:30 o'clock in Philharmonic auditorium, featuring the Fisk Jubilee Singers, bass-baritone Joseph James, and the Echoes of Eden of St. Paul Baptist church. Proceeds from this Irwin Parnes presentation have been earmarked for the half million dollar church building fund of St. Paul's.

Ranked among the world's foremost interpreters of the Negro spiritual, the celebrated Jubilee Singers are the third generation of that vocal ensemble which has made Nashville's Fisk University a musical byword since 1871. "The Negro spirituals are a genius of their own," comments the Boston Herald, "and there are none who sing them quite as eloquently as these hereditary singers."

As well as such favorites from America's religious library as "Rock in Jerusalem" and "Little David," the Singers will interpret songs of faith of other peoples, including "Bless This House" and Tschaikowsky's "Pilgrim's Song," operatic selections from Verde, and chorale works of Liszt, Brahms, and the contemporary French composer, Poulenc.

That inquisitorial body launched the most intensive inquiry into legal, civil and criminal transgressions of the law and rights of citizens in its entire history.

The Negro members, Mrs. Ethel Atkinson and Herman Hill, were very much in the thick of every phase of the body's entire inquiry.

Food Feud Ends with Man's Death

Washington Ward, 39 a laborer of 1639½ East 23rd street, was shot and killed Sunday by Guy Nathan Forward, 44, who would have been his brother-in-law but for the failure of his sister and the dead man to marry with benefit of clergy.

The men, it was said, had long feuded over the matter of eating and who footed the bill.

Sunday, the two men got into an argument over a quantity of eggs brought to the house where the deceased Ward lived with the killer's sister, Mrs. Carrie Lee Walton.

The fatal argument is said to have ensued when Ward objected to forward partaking of food from his table, although purchased by the latter.

Mrs. Bessie Miller, a neighbor who resides at 1635 East 23rd street, told police officers sent there to investigate the shooting, that she had heard two shots, followed later by two more emanating from the house in the rear.

cretary of IPP Speaks On Wherry Resolution

The American e have never been honestly told there is a real alternative to the bankrupt Truman foreign policy of unlimited intervention all over the world.

Despite the promises, four years of the Truman Doctrine have brought no peace. They have brought us closer to war. It is now obvious that the American people have lost confidence not only in the administration's bankrupt foreign policy but in its capacity to make any policy.

This is the time for a real re-examination of our foreign policy. The administration propagandists may be able to drown out the Russian "peace offensives"—but they can't drown out the genuine desire for peace of the American people. Each time the administration is faced with a new and rising demand for a change in its foreign policy, it creates a new crisis, unleashes a new scare, starts up a new witch hunt, and asks for additional military appropriations and more youth for the armed services.

Each new step toward war is presented as a step toward peace. As the Wall Street Journal pointed out recently, we have been given one "reassuring statement" after another — and everyone embroils "us in deep commitments which the same administration once solemnly assured us it had 'no intention' of undertaking."

The end is, as we all know, an atomic war of annihilation. On the road to it, we are spending 140 billion dollars in the next two years, wasting our resources, lowering our standard of living, and moving into a garrison state. Instead of continuing on the road to destruction, I propose that we turn completely around.

The policy of containment is an utter failure. Our future policy must be based on co-existence. This fact is recognized throughout the world. With this shift in policy, a conference between the socialist and capitalist nations could reach agreement on all outstanding issues and so remove the danger of war and the burden of armaments. I, therefore, propose that you call upon the President to convene a five-power conference to settle these differences.

A conference which repeats the international conferences in the last few years is, as you well know, of very little value, but a conference based on a new policy is the road to peace—and the way to get that new policy is to let the American people be heard. Mr. Hoover suggested the other day that your Committee hold hearings in Europe before reaching a decision. I respectfully suggest that your Committee hold hearings in every state of the union and let the people of the United States really be heard on the peaceful alternative to the bankrupt foreign policy of this administration.

What Is Happening In Sacramento?

We said last week that citizens should become better acquainted with what goes on in Sacramento during the legislative sessions. And a look-in on Washington for that matter might be enlightening to many who swallow, hook, line and sinker, what they read in the metropolitan press or hear over the radio.

The present session of the State Legislature—using the guise of Civil Defense and anti-Communist hysteria—has introduced many bills which tend to undermine the civil rights of individuals and organizations. The various Tenney bills that have been introduced are much more far-reaching than those that were defeated two years ago by a tremendous people's movement.

The Independent Progressive Party of California urges all its members, and all who are interested in good government, to see their assemblymen and state senators, and ask them where they stand on certain issues. The California Legislature will reconvene on March 12. Some of the members are already in Sacramento. If they are we should write, says the IPP. If they are still at home, see them by all means before they start the trek north.

There are a few questions that we should ask them: What is your stand on the Burns resolution, which would require all licensed professionals to sign a loyalty oath? What is your stand on the Tenney bills—which would permit employers to fire any employee whom he suspects of being a Communist, and which would set up a Committee to investigate any and all persons and organizations which it suspects of being communistic—similar to the Un-American Committee in Washington.

What is your stand on the Hawkins bill which would establish a State FEPC? On the Hawkins bill which would prohibit discrimination in the issuance of auto insurance? What is your stand on the Elliott bill which would liberalize old-age pensions? On the Rosenthal bill which would make the child care system permanent?

These and other questions can and should be fired at our representatives in Sacramento. And in Washington. Those people in the State Legislature in Sacramento and in the Congress in Washington are our servants. They often boast of that. We elected them. We have a right to tell them our views.

The Eagle for 70 years has fought to make America the land of the free where racial and national hatreds are unknown. Strong and fierce in its fight for freedom, justice and peace, the Eagle's wings will not be clipped by its foes. It will sail onward and upward.

THE OTHER AMERICANS

So much of the public's attention has been directed this past year to affairs in Europe and Asia that it is easy to overlook the nations to the south of us and the importance of our relations with them.

With the announcement that there is to be a conference of 20 Latin American nations in Washington, it is well to review briefly the conditions in those lands. Particularly since the obvious purpose of the meeting is to pressure those nations into giving greater support to United States aggression in Asia.

A veteran observer of Latin American affairs, Carlton Beals—who is a Truman supporter—recently asserted: "Except for the more reactionary and feudal circles, anti-American sentiment is greater today than at any time since our marine interventions."

The New York Times complains that the United States has received little help from Latin America in our "Korean campaign." Stanford University's Hispanic American Report affirms that the majority of Mexicans are opposed to sending military aid of any sort to Korea. And the association of Brazil's army officers has strongly criticized U.N. support of North American aggression in Korea.

The New York Post reports that Washington has decided that "Unlike the last war when Latin American troops were not used in combat they will be very necessary for this purpose in the next conflict." And the New York Times discloses that the State Department is "negotiating with Central and South American governments" for the importation of thousands of workers, many of them to be used in labor battalions attached to United States forces throughout the world.

Under the familiar and obscene cry of "fighting communism" the United States has deliberately encouraged the formation of the most reactionary governments in Latin America. Of the 20 nations invited to the conference, 15 have definitely fascist and fascist-like regimes . . . ruling about 110 million people.

S. G. Inman, former United States representative to Inter-American Conferences, has declared that the political liberties of these peoples, our neighbors, have been taken away. Fascism was encouraged by the United States at the last big conference at Bogota in 1948, at the same time the United States betrayed its promises of economic aid to Latin America—which it made at the Mexico City conference in 1945.

United States Intervention

Beneath a smoke screen of talk about "assistance" the United States has followed the traditional policy of encouraging more economic domination of Latin America by United States investors. Of the total private United States investments abroad in 1948, the State Department reports that 36.3% were in Latin America. From 1940-48 there was an increase of $1.5 billion in United States investments there—a greater increase than in any area where United States capital is at work.

The State Department reports further that the income from these investments has been increasing steadily since the war. From 1938 to 1945 it amounted to $400 million a year. In 1949 alone it was $997 million. While the rate of profit on investment abroad is 17.1%, as compared to 11.1% on investments within the United States.

Since the end of World War II our government has been helping reduce the standard of living of Latin America—70% of whom are reported as constantly hungry.

The United Nations Monthly Bulletin found that the cost of living has risen greatly in that area from 1940 on. For example: Comparing the first seven months of 1950 with 1949, living costs rose 7% in Mexico, 12.5% in Chile, 16.3% in Bolivia, 55.6% in Paraguay. In the same period it rose 1.8% in the United States. (And we know what suffering that much of an increase means for us.)

The Inter-American Economic Affairs Journal warns its readers: "The cost of living situation is an ugly one with serious political possibilities." And The Nation Magazine published an interview with a distinguished South American who commented: "The awakening of the Asian masses has been the outstanding development of the first half of the 20th century. The awakening of Latin America may be the historic event of the second half."

"A valuable source of information about Latin America is "Latin American Facts"—from which the above material was taken.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

Your January 29th front page picture of children rolled up into little balls along the hallway walls in their school is appalling! Its caption, "Atomic Age Lesson," is tragically erroneous.

Surely the mothers who permit their children to be so used in the shameful program to scare people into subservience are unaware of vital facts. As for example, that Harrison Salisbury, New York Times Moscow correspondent, reports that the atmosphere of Moscow and extensive territory he has visited "is not one of war nor of preparation for war." Or that the U. S. News & World Report, January 26th, reveals: "Emphasis is being placed on the promise of improved standards of living for the Russian people, not upon further sacrifices to prepare for war." Also that no such civil-defense exercises are under way in Russia: ". . . the first civil-defense exercises since World War II are expected (?) in March. In the U. S. such exercises have already been tried in many areas. Only significance tied to the facts here is that Russia would have had such exercises much earlier if the Kremlin's plans called for war in 1951.".

Does this mean that it is Washington's plans which call for war? If not, why the exercises? And why was Navy Secretary Matthews not fired for advocating "war to compel peace"? Deviation from official policy got Wallace fired in 1946.

It is the fervent hope and prayer of people everywhere that the mothers of America will awake, "unwind" their "balled-up" children, thrust pencils into their hands and help them write and teach their President the REAL Atomic Age Lesson: "The only defense against the atom bomb is PEACE."

Sincerely yours,
MARY PHILLIPS

What Is The Quality Of Justice?

The question — Who are the real Americans?—is often asked. The answer, as a rule, is, the Indians.

It seems that despite the fact the first settlers on the American continent were refugees from Great Britain in search of religious freedom, after getting a foothold in new America their first effort was to ravage, slaughter, and rob the Indians of their lands, and however crude, of their homes as well.

Their next move was to enslave poor white labor which came from the old to the new country, seeking a better life, and the Africans whom they made slaves.

Forgetting the past, we now tell the world that ours is a free country, while we move in on what we choose to call the foreign-born, depriving them of their legal rights and threatening them with deportation.

At present held on Ellis Island with the threat of deportation hanging over his head is Paul Yuditch, labor editor of the Jewish Morning Freiheit, arrested on February 20 and held without bail. He is the father of two American-born sons, one of whom served as first lieutenant in World War II. Twice he applied for American citizenship, but it was denied him. He is 63 years old, and has been living in the United States for 42 years. There are others on Ellis Island also, knowing not what day they shall be forced to leave this country which has been their home for years.

In our own back yard there are four persons held on Terminal Island. They are Miriam Stevenson, Harry Carlisle, David Hyun and Frank Carlson. They, too, have been held without bail for months, accused of no crime. They have tried to become American citizens, but they have been refused. America, in their cases, too, has been their home for years. Yet they are awaiting trial when it shall be decided whether or not they can remain with their families in their American homes. Or be sent to some foreign country, unknown to them, whose manners and customs are totally different from what they have been accustomed to.

Interested persons have written and wired Attorney General Howard McGrath, stating the cases of these foreign-born Americans. But to date nothing has been achieved.

And it causes the average American citizen to ponder the question, "What is the quality of justice?"

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By PENN

As does every thinking person, we believe that the Korean debacle, in which thousands of American lives have been thrown away through our bankrupt foreign policy and MacArthur's stupidity, should be ended before it becomes a world holocaust.

Aside from the moral reasons, the waste of American lives, the laying waste of an entire nation to support the claims of a few industrialists who either had investments there or who have their avaricious eyes on the natural resources of northern Korea, we would like to point out that the money being spent for war could be spent right here in the United States and permanently benefit the workers of the nation.

This year and in coming years, according to Truman and the other warmongers who presently control this nation, we will spend at least $50,000,000,000 on war. Fifty billion dollars. That's a lot of money, no matter how fast you say it. In fact, it's so much money that ordinary people can't even visualize how much money it is.

But in terms of what it could be used for in a peaceful nation, in terms of the benefits it could bring to the American people, fifty million bucks is easier to visualize.

Let's put the $50,000,000,000 in terms of the building of homes, public buildings badly needed, and roads.

Fifty billion dollars would do ALL of the following:

It would build three schools costing $500,000 each in every one of the 3,000 counties of the United States.

One hospital, at a cost of $600,000, could be built in every county in the nation.

We could build one mental institution, costing $2,500,000, in each of the 48 states.

One million homes, at $10,000 each, could be put up to help house the nation's homeless.

A hundred miles of dual highway in each of the 48 states could be built at a cost of $500,000 a mile.

It would allow $10,000 to be spent on every mile of county roads in the United States.

All these could be built for the use and benefit of the people for many years, instead of being poured into war materials that are used not for constructive effort but to destroy other living human beings and the works of their hands and minds.

Every working person in the United States would have a job under such a program of peaceful building of things desperately needed by all of us.

In addition, consider the fact that this $50,000,000,000 planned for war is not a one-time outlay. It is to be spent every year for an indefinite period of years.

Now that you have an idea of how much $50,000,000,000 is, aren't you a little doubtful about our nation being able to survive such an orgy of spending on potential destruction without following in the tracks of Hitler?

Shouldn't you take an interest in getting our government heads to adopt a policy aiming at ultimate disarmament, total world-wide disarmament, with peace enforced by a strengthened and democratic United Nations that functions as those who created it hoped it would function?

In a world of peace, all this money being poured into bombs and planes and guns and other agents of destruction, could be used to build things and to enjoy things we build.

In the present race for armed power, the $50,000,000,000 is being spent on nothing anyone can enjoy or benefit from—and in addition this type of spending is taking us rapidly into a position where the entire world might burst into a flaming war—a war that would not only end all wars (as past wars were supposed to do) but would end civilization and the world.

POTPOURRI

County IPP Meets

The regular meeting of the County Club Council of the Independent Progressive Party was held at Parkview Manor last Monday eevning. The municipal elections were discussed by Jack Berman, county executive vice-chairman, stressing especially those in the 5th, 9th and 12 councilmanic districts. Discussion on the civil rights campaign included the indictment of Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, the campaign to free Willie McGee, the anti-Tenney bills, and the peace campaign, including the peace pilgrimage to Washington, D. C.

The annual birthday ball of the club will be held Friday, March 23.

Repeal Levering Act

Repeal of the Levering Act as first step to check a flood of anti-democratic legislation sweeping though the State Legislature was the subject of a statewide conference of business, professional and labor representatives Saturday, March 3, at Hotel Hughes in Fresno.

The day-long conference, opening at 10:30 a.m., has been called by the Federation for Repeal of the Levering Act, San Francisco. Sponsors included Dr. Eason Monroe, chairman; Rabbi Alvin I. Fine, Professor Alexander Moiklejohn, Rev. Harry C. Meserve, Bishop Edward L. Parsons, Dr. Norman Reider and Professor Lewis M. Torman.

"Saturday's conference was called for the purpose of building a dramatic force of California citizens to defend civil liberty, academic freedom and job security from legislative assassination," declared Monroe in issuing the call to a selected group of 50 representative citizens in business, organized labor and the professions.

'Tain't True, Says Waxman

Al Waxman, editor of the Eastside Journal, says the little article in The Eagle last Thursday concerning Edward R. Roybal is not true!

That article merely gave the qualifications of Councilman Roybal, of his fight for the minority groups in Los Angeles, and expressed the hope that he would be re-elected at the primary election in April. It also said Mr. Roybal was being opposed by a member of the real estate group, "On His Record," although it doesn't say what that record is.

To date we haven't been able to find out anything that is incorrect in our statement. Mr. Waxman didn't say what wasn't true.

Nat'l PP to Meet

National Committee members of the Progressive Party are planning to hold a National Committee meeting in April, possibly Saturday and Sunday, April 14 and 15. And because the last meeting of the committee was held in New York, it was suggested that the meeting this year be held in Chicago.

C. B. Baldwin, national secretary, in issuing the call, points out that the developing war program has met with increasing resistance by the American people, and that the wage-freeze, price-tax squeeze has forced even the labor leaders to rise in arms at the obviously business-dominated war program.

The 1951 local elections are also to be discussed, and "the not too distant elections of 1952."

African Government For African Colony

LONDON — The new government which has been elected in the Gold Coast, British Colony in Africa consists almost entirely of Africans. The Convention People's Party, which won 35 out of the 38 seats in an open election, will hold its first meeting shortly.

Britain's Colonial Secretary, Mr. James Griffiths, emphasizes that Britain's interest in this territory's affairs will not cease now these elections are over. "It is only the first stage in the process of representative Government which has been completed," he said today. "The bigger step is still to come. On the shoulders of Africans themselves will fall the major share of a difficult and complex task of Government. While carrying on day-to-day administration of the country they must at the same time plan for its future development and prosperity.

Press and some fair newspapers in Virginia are trying the people the bleak truth about our loathsome pagan penal system. We will never [illegible] cleaning in the [illegible] of Virginia until [illegible] revelations are [illegible] down the throats of pro-[illegible], spineless newspaper editors. Every time the prison officials of this Commonwealth release a Herculean hunk of sickening whitewash, the Richmond newspapers scoop it up like a blind duck scooping up a spring worm in a wet ash pile.

The prison officials of Virginia and the Richmond newspapers would have us to believe that it is a humane, consoling, and glorious experience to be hung up on a rack ten hours per day for 34 days.

I know of one mother who visited her son on a road camp and found him hanging up with shackles on his legs — the shackles cutting into the flesh and the green flies swarming. I know another mother who visited her son at the State Farm and heard him moaning in cold and gruesome solitary and was not permitted to speak to him.

I myself have visited victims of solitary confinement at the State Farm. I saw their long beards—I saw sores and boils on their anemic faces. These prisoners are crucified in cold solitary for months at a time, on a bread water diet.

Colonel Copeland has the unique temerity to speak of solitary confinement as a "tradition which serves a useful purpose"! My friends it is a dark age and diabolical tradition which shocks the civilized world.

I wrote the Governor the following letter of February 12th: "Dear Governor Battle

I again appeal to you to appoint a committee of impartial citizens to hear publicly my charges against the cruel and corrupt penal system of Virginia. If my witnesses are assured absolute immunity from reprisal, I can produce at least 50 inmates of our prisons and road camps who will startle the public with their testimony concerning the graft, corruption, and unspeakable brutalities in our prison system.

"We can prove that knives, guns, and other deadly weapons are available to prisoners who can afford the price of such luxuries. We can show that dangerous drugs and various alcoholic drinks can be obtained for the price in our prisons. The fact that the most horrifying sex practices are not only tolerated but actually encouraged in our prisons can be proved conclusively.

Every time an inmate of our state prisons and road camps reaches the point at which he cannot endure shameful abuse and inhuman torture any longer and in sheer desperation perpetrates an escape from the pagan system, the prison officials immediately release to the press sensational facts about the criminal record of the escapee, but these same officials brazenly and arbitrarily conceal from the public the fact that quite frequently the escapee has bought guns and other merchandise on the inside of the prison to facilitate his escape. Some of the prison inmates are actually encouraged to escape in order that some guard may have an excuse to shoot to kill.

"Sick men, who need emergency hospitalization, are forced to do the hardest form of labor under a gun until they fall out. They then are hung up on the rack — sometimes ten hours per day for 30 days. They starve in cold solitary confinement on a bread and water diet. They are frequently gassed in the face and beat unmercifully with blackjacks.

Inmates who are carriers of contagious diseases are not properly isolated from other prisoners.

The public will not be duped by [illegible] whitewash much longer — they will eventually know the whole truth about our medieval penal system."

The Governor's reply to me was somewhat terse and brief, but after all, an humble citizen like myself appreciates any kind of a letter from a Governor. The Governor said

"Dear Sir

I acknowledge receipt of your favor of February 12th, which I have referred to the State Board of Welfare and Institutions. This Board has charge of the administration of our penal system."

Very truly yours,
John S. Battle."

We I am always glad to do His Excellency the Governor of Virginia a favor. I correspond with him quite frequently and occasionally dispatch him a telegram so he won't think I am cheap. I deeply appreciate that timely morsel of information — the Governor's declaration that the State Board of Welfare and Institutions has charge of the administration of our penal system. Up until now, I have always thought that the Whitewash Department had charge of our penal system. I wonder who has charge of our Electric Chair! Eight lives were recently sniffed out in 72 hours' time.

Teen-age boys in our road camps are shackled to a bull chain like dogs and made to sleep with dirty old buckets by their beds. If they complain of sickness, they are gassed in the face and their heads are split open with blackjacks. I suppose all this is another old Virginia tradition which serves a useful purpose.

My dear friends, listen to this heart-breaking tragedy. I received this letter from the State Farm two days ago: "I, Napoleon Bell, 58069, came to the penitentiary, January 3, 1950, I was shot in my side, bladder and one of my kidneys the last part of May. My cup went bad. I have asked the doctor to let me buy a cup for my side and he refused me and my side hurts me all the time and the tube is laying in my wounded kidney and I am in pain day and night."

James Zollo, who escaped from the State Farm and made his way to Los Angeles, California, wrote me that he had to escape to save his own life. He said that he was forced to work in the brick yard gang and push a wheelbarrow of mud, brick all day long for eight weeks while he was suffering from a seriously injured back; that he was kept in solitary confinement for 78 days on bread and water and with an injured leg and was not permitted to write to his lawyer; that the officials of State Farm promised to make trouble for him if he did not discharge his lawyer, Howard H. Carwile.

I quote you a paragraph from James Zollo's letter to me: "The living conditions on the Farm are filthy. In one room that should not sleep more than 75 men, it is packed with 200. In this one room are tubercular patients who should be separated from the other men. Epileptics by the score, some who get very ill, and no one will help them.

And prison made degenerates, illiterates, who have been unfortunate enough to be sent to the Farm, to be turned into men, who have no self respect. Almost at any time of day or night you may find them in the act of sex perversion. Yet you won't hear anything being done to stop it. The fact that all the guards talk about it, they don't care, they enjoy it. It's something for hem to laugh about. Well, I couldn't laugh about it. I was worried about myself."

Incidentally, Zollo said he was shot in the back at the time he escaped. My dear friends, Governor Battle, Colonel Copeland, the prison officials, and the Richmond newspapers are all busy whitewashing the most atrocious and nefarious penal system in the world.

I appeal to you to send Governor John Battle a card, letter or telegram tonight. Demand the Governor to abolish shackles, chains, cuffs, mules, racks, starvation in solitary, blackjacking, gassing, and other medieval tortures; demand the Governor to fire every prison official who advocates or condones the use of such hideous, dark-age devices; demand the Governor to appoint an able and impartial committee to hear publicly my charges against the prison system of Virginia.

I am leaving for Los Angeles, California, tomorrow. I shall tell everybody whom I see about the sadistic savagery of our rotten corrupt, graft-infested penal system in Virginia. Goodnight.

Howard H. Carwile.

In less than an hour's interview with the Virginia lawyer, this reporter heard how an inmate in a State penitentiary, died on an operating table after a prison nurse administered a spinal preparation for an operation on a frost-bitten toe.

The victim, Edward Allen, who died as a result of the injection by an inexperienced nurse, was a Negro.

In the case of Edward Allen, son of Mrs. Virgie Allen, of Richmond, when a newspaper reporter asked for a report on the death of Allen, he was given the brush-off by the medical staff in charge with: "He died in the penitentiary of natural causes."

Following Allen's death, a day later, Vincent Hubbard, a white man in the same prison was burned to death in his prison cell. Both incidents took place under questionable circumstances.

On demand by Howard Carwile, attorney for the white victim's mother, a report on Hubbard's death was issued, but no report on Allen's.

These two cases, along with many other infractions of the law in Virginia prisons against all prison inmates, but especially Negro prisoners, were cited by Atty. Carwile to The California Eagle last Friday, March 2.

Vernon Kilpatrick Praised

In the course of this interview with The California Eagle, the Virginia lawyer praised the California lawmaker, Vernon Kilpatrick, who visited his state, Virginia, two years ago, accrediting Kilpatrick's honest report of what he observed in Virginia prisons as having great bearing also on Gov. Warren's decision in the Lester Tate case.

Howard H. Carwile rather amusingly told how, upon his advice, Mr. Kilpatrick visited the then Governor Tuck, of Virginia, expressing a desire to look things over in the prisons and in general in the great southern city, was accorded every courtesy in transportation and otherwise.

What Gov. Tuck did not know was that Mr. Kilpatrick was spending his evenings with Atty. Carwile, getting information as to the things and places he should ask to visit and see. So the report made by Mr. Kilpatrick upon his return to California was accurate and true, declared Mr. Carwile.

Mr. Kilpatrick's report was published in this newspaper some two years ago.

So terrifying but realistic was the story of prison brutality and chain gang pagan methods in Virginia as related by a man Atty. Carwile, so far as the writer could discern, without an axe to grind, that he was asked, "Why are you, a white Southerner, so concerned about prison conditions and the Jimcrow treatment of the Negro people in your state?"

The lawyer's answer to this question seemed to be waiting on the tip of his tongue. His face reddened a bit more, and he said, "You see my father was a tenant farmer. He grew tobacco. In my early childhood, in the country on the farm where we eked out a living, I saw Negroes and whites live, work, chew tobacco, and drink whiskey together. There was no apparent difference between them, except the color of their skins about which no one seemed concerned.

"Imagine my surprise," he continued, "when I came to the big city, saw some of these same whites and Negroes passing each other on the streets, not speaking; riding in separate cars, and Negroes being refused entrance to public halls, theaters, hotels, and cafes.

"I studied law and I propose to use it as a device for the establishment of true democracy and freedom for all Americans."

A Visit to Zion Hill

Being in Los Angeles over Sunday, Mr. Carwile expressed a desire to visit one of the larger churches of the city. This wish was gratified by Rev. Chambers, of the Zion Hill Baptist Church, at Fifty-First and McKinley, on Sunday, at the eleven o'clock service.

Rev. Chambers Speaks

Using as his theme, "Prayer" the famous pastor of Zion Hill held his fifteen hundred parishioners at spell-bound attention, as he described the different schools of thought at work in the world today, emphasizing in his final analysis that the school of prayer was the greatest among them, when it is motivated by love.

"I don't want anybody to try to make me hate," he challenged. "I love America because it is the only nation I have ever lived in, but I want to see my country democratic enough to take in all nations in building God's Kingdom. And I mean all nations, and that includes Russia."

Howard H. Carwile Presented

At the conclusion of the morning sermon, Dr. Chambers presented the Virginia lawyer.

In 20 minutes Howard H. Carwile told the members of Zion Hill that he was not a stranger, that he visits Negro churches all over Virginia.

He mentioned a particular occasion when a noted Negro evangelist came to Richmond. The Mosque, an auditorium used for all important events, was secured for the meeting.

However, on the evening of the evangelist's appearance, the house had been so arranged as to reserve the center of the hall for Negroes, cramming all the whites on the sides.

To this meeting came Carwile and his new bride. He chose a seat in the center with the Negroes. But before anything could get started he was approached by a house representative, who asked him to change to the section on the side reserved for whites.

But he was comfortable where he was, and did not care to move.

Next came a regular usher who requested the lawyer to change his seat to the side for whites. But he continued to refuse to change his position, restating that he was comfortable where he was.

Finally came the captain of the Richmond Police Dept. who yanked him up, and with his bride of few days, hauled them off to the Police Station, and placed them under arrest.

The lawyer was fined $25.00, and ordered to stand trial.

His case came before a judge John Ingraham, of Richmond, and his defense was based on discrimination against white people in the seating arrangement at the Mosque. The judge dismissed the case.

The meeting was held under the auspices, and had been arranged by the Churches of Christ in America, said Atty. Carwile.

The saddest commentary on this episode, as related by the white fighter for the rights of all people, was that three weeks later, the great Negro singer, Marian Anderson, appeared at the same place—the Mosque—in concert and the identical seating arrangements were made. The local NAACP made every effort to prevail upon Miss Anderson not to appear. But she refused. As a result, the center of the auditorium, that portion reserved for the Negroes, was pitifully empty, and she sang to a few whites only.

The Martinsville Executions

The Richmond attorney also told Zion Hill members the truth about the executions of the seven Negroes, known as the "Martinsville Seven." He said, "No facts to substantiate the charges made against the seven men accused and executed were ever produced. Two of the men on the day of execution stepped forward and addressed the small group who were present to witness the assassination, in these words: 'Gentlemen, we are being killed for a crime we did not commit, but we will meet you in Heaven.'"

He also stated that the woman in the case had cracked under the strain and remorse, and wanted to make a confession. But she had been whisked off to an institution for the insane in North Carolina.

Atty. Carwile Back to Richmond

Saturday, March 4, two days before leaving Los Angeles for his home in Richmond, Atty. Carwile received a message from his wife that since the Martinsville scandal, the Ku Klux Klan had burned two crosses near Richmond, and that a Negro laborer whose case of discrimination by the CIO he was handling, had asked that he, Carwile, stop further action.

The message delivered to the people in Los Angeles, especially the Negro pople, said just this: Either they stand up and fight or lie down and die.

Corregidor Park News

Many of the Housing Project Areas in the South District of Los Angeles have adequate recreation facilities including play areas set up mainly for the enjoyment of children and adults of all ages.

Capable and well trained directors in the field, hired through the Los Angeles department of Recreation and Parks, staff these centers. Activity programs are set up to meet the needs of the immediate housing area and the surrounding communities.

Corregidor Park and Annexes Housing Development offers a varied program of seasonal activities. The Recreation staff is headed by Mr. Lawrence A. Palmer, who has faithfully worked with this development for a number of years. He is director in charge of activities for Boys and Men. Recently placed on full-time employment with the Department, Miss Vivian D. Johnson is now in charge of activities for Girls and Women, having previously worked for some time as a part-time assistant. Both directors are now diligently enforcing a varied program of activities that attempts to meet many interests for all age groups.

With a one week Easter vacation coming up for school children, plans are now being formulated for the joys of the season. Among Holiday activities, a mammoth Easter Egg Hunt will be held on March 23rd at 4:00 p.m. March being the official Kite season, Mr. Palmer is now holding classes in Kite-making and Kite-flying. Contests will be held on March 29th and 30th, with a mammoth Kite as Grand Prize for the winner.

Each season it is traditional to present a Spring Festival which is usually held in the month of May. Festival plans are now in the making. Miss Johnson is accepting sign-ups from interested children of all ages. Parents are invited to send their children to the center at any time for participation in these coming events.

Other attractions of the Recreation Program for Girls and Women include Tap Dance Classes for ages 5 to 17 years, on Tuesday and Friday afternoons at 4:00 p.m. Weekly classes in Ballet Techniques and Creative Dance are held on Saturday at 12:30 p.m. Exercise and Charm classes for Women are held every Thursday and Friday at 11:00 a.m.

Parents and adults interested in any of these activities contact Miss Vivian D. Johnson at Corregidor Annex, 2746 Staunton Ave., Ad 19025 on Monday, Wednesday or Friday; or Corregidor Park (main office) 1700 E. 48th Place, CE. 29104, on Tuesday, Thursday or Saturday.

Morris M. Ewing does a fine job as manager in charge of the complete Housing Area, and wholeheartedly supports the recreation program one-hundred per cent in all its endeavors.

Father & Sons At Bowen Mem.

Fathers and Sons night was well attended and well enjoyed at Bowen Memorial Church last Friday night. Atty. James Reese gave an address which will be well remembered by both the boys and the men who were present. The Boy Scouts troupe of the church gave a demonstration and furnished fatherless men with sons for the night.

Attorney Reese advised fathers that the boys of this even more than those of other generations were in real need of fathers who have time to live close enough to them to understand their problems and to steer them over the rocks of danger which are daily besetting the youths of this and other lands.

James Chelsea, an older boy, discussed the subject, "My idea of an Ideal Father." Following this address the sons pointed out what they liked most in a father was interest in the boy's sports and other activities; helpfulness with school work, generosity and truthfulness.

Samuel Bell, a father, rendered a very fitting poem, "My Son," by Mallock. Tousant Jennings, president of the Men of Bowen, who sponsored the program, led the singing, Wilmer Colescott was in charge of the dinner, which was served. Leon W. Steward was in charge of the program.

Who Should Cast The First Stone?

"He That Is Without Sin, cast the first stone."

The basketball 'fix' in New York City has in the opinion of this corner, evoked more headlines than necessary—but maybe there are not enough of headlines about why such talented youngsters as those of CCNY who had not only made the headlines because of their mastery when tested with stiff competition, but the underlying causes that seemed not only an infectious inducement to them, but to many of us—"The Almighty Dollar."

If we label these young college students as crooks, then we must pin the same unwarranted stain on some of our high Government officials, and other men who are trusted with the responsibility of Law and Order who could not defy the urge to partake of the fountain filled with "Dollars."

Let us not get the impression that 'throwing a basketball game' or any other sport of public entertainment for that matter, should not be severly censured. What these young college students did is not right by any standard of moral integrity, but then if we are to judge our society by education, using colleges and universities as a yard stick, certainly we must go far behind the scene of a 'fix' on a college basketball team for the answer. If our moral standards are no more responsive than those which induce young men to be tragically crushed in the avalanche of a national urge for the dollar, then we had better close up college shop.

But then, that would not solve the problem. What America needs is the teaching of self-responsibility and moral leadership—the kind of Christian teaching that is strong enough to rebell ferociously at offers of Dollars. We need a society where the dollar is not 'God' and that you must possess it regardless of how you get it. A very few men will close their eyes to fabulous offers of dollars, but many will cry out loud at those who in their opinion have sinned.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

been framed on rape charges. Representative King stated that a meeting had been asked if the President could do anything about the Virginia men. The lawyers present had replied, "We don't think so. It's a states' rights case."

We, the American people, want to ask two questions:

1. Are Martinsville, Virginia Trenton, New Jersey, and the states of Mississippi and Georgia in America?—and—

2. Is Germany a state of the United States of America?

When the people all over the world were working, fighting and praying to save seven Negroes in Virginia, U.S.A., from being burned in the electric chair, the President and the State Department of the U.S.A. set free the German murders of World War II who mowed down thousands of American unarmed soldiers and millions of men, women and children of the world.

The seven Negroes paid the supreme sacrifice with their lives. Within the next week, Mississippi announced to the world that Willie McGee, a Negro, will die March 20, 1951.

In Germany — not Germany, U.S.A., but Germany more than 6,000 miles away—the President and the State Department of the U.S.A. stayed the execution of the Germans responsible for killing many American mothers' sons.

We, 15,000,000 Negroes together with millions of other Americans, demand that you, President Truman, and your Wall-Street-controlled gang stop framing the Negro people and give us some REAL democracy instead of burning and lynching us.

Sincerely,
Raymond Cox

To the Editor:

Your paper is truly refreshing to read after the constant croaking for more war, deadlier weapons and the repeated criticisms of men like Prime Minister Nehru of India (who advocates peaceful negotiation), which the big newspapers indulge in.

The most sickening reading of all is the financial pages of the big dailies which have gleeful headings of high prices and "good times" when the war is raging, but when there is a lull and the United Nations—especially Sir Benegal Rau of India—seems to be making some progress toward peace, the headings reveal disappointment with such remarks as: "New Peace Efforts Weaken Grain," and "News of UN Peace Efforts Upsets Grain," and other such references to the "bad luck" of "Peace Scares." Now if we expect to gain any respect or friendship in this world, we had better learn to create "good times" out of something besides human blood!

Sincerely yours,
MARY PHILLIPS.

WE ARE MANY, THEY ARE FEW

PART THREE—CONTINUED FROM LAST WEEK

From summer to winter
In 1950, and
The Crocodile's sunglasses
Saw no Korean soldier, aged thirteen,
Saw no Chinese—
Ready to uphold World Peace.
But the Crocodile is a stupid animal, and
His jaws are rapacious,
They obscure his eyes.
His general's braid, so foolish on an animal,
Is smeared with slime and
The blood of Negro GI's,
White farm boys from Iowa, and
The smiling Korean people.
He will be driven back into the sea!

Jay Field had a sense of this.
His mother drew from the history of our land,
Sent the truth
Of quiet handshake and lasting Peace
Running through his veins.
Mary drank her mother's brew with a grin, and Skipped as easily as any small girl.

Jefferson would have been very proud
Of this family.

Yet from summer to winter in 1950
The Crocodile's desperate, small brains
Quickened in his jungle mates
At home,
In judges sitting on bench . . .
Now surely judges are civilized men!
Jefferson doubted once, but That's history, and
Jefferson would have fallen in with Oklahoma's tearing apart of Jean Field and Jay and Mary.
The hell Jefferson would have,
Just ask him!

In Los Angeles Court,
In middle December,
Field vs. Field
Fought out two children.
The children sat there, too,
Stupefied by
"I object, Your Honor."
Children don't get the angle,
At this age
They don't get the angle . . .
Their mother on the stand,
Case played to the finish in California,
The same air though,
The same judicial honey
That justice will be done—
Done to death!
The children don't grasp this well
Or at all,
They expect to go home . . .
In another part of town,
Children were having a better time.
Sam Jones was a leader among Small men and women, and
When his black hands
Opened his car to them,
Going for a ride, ice cream in an hour,
The kids smacked their content,
Bellies talked,
An hour or two off from
The still life.
From the dungeon some kids live in,
Negro offshoots in a world of small sun.
A dog went along on this ride,
A mut knows whom to trust.
Low in his animal world,
He nestled for once—
Without having to dream of a dog's paradise.
He was with Sam Jones,
Who was a great man.

Council Pay Tribute to Judge Pacht

The Los Angeles City Council this week paid special tribute to Isaac Pacht in a resolution congratulating his election, for the third successive year, as president of the Los Angeles Jewish Community Council.

Cited additionally for his unusual "ability and integrity," Pacht, a prominent Los Angeles attorney and former Superior Court judge, heads the organization which represents a majority of the 300,000 Jewish residents in Greater Los Angeles.

Other officers who will serve with Pacht: First Vice-President Mendel B. Silverberg; Treasurer M. F. Berg. Second Vice-President Dr. Nathan Saltzman and Secretary Aaron Riche were also extended "the good will and well wishes of this resolution."

Making mention of the significant role which the Los Angeles Jewish Community Council has assumed in the entire community the resolution commended "that worthy organization for the retention of a leadership in keeping with its high ideals and great accomplishments in the field of human relations and community welfare."

Grand Theft Charges

Calvin C. Jackson, 806 E. 27th street, is scheduled to appear in the courtroom of Superior Court Judge Thomas L. Ambrose next Friday to stand trial on charges of grand theft person.

According to evidence introduced at the preliminary hearing, Mrs. Flora Turner, 5530½ Long Beach avenue, testified that she withdrew $400 from a local bank last April 7 and that on leaving the bank she was approached by Jackson who represented himself to be an automobile insurance salesman. That shortly thereafter he was joined by a confederate and when the two men left they had lifted her purse. She later saw him in a local furniture store and pointed out his picture to police officers who made the arrest.

Atty. Walter L. Gordon, Jr., representing Jackson, indicated that he would base the defense on mistaken identity.

Keelings In Divorce Suit

Mary Ellen Keeling's divorce suit against Sullie Keeling, well-known local sportsman, will be aired in Department 7 of the Superior Court on March 9, according to a statement prepared by the attorneys of the parties. The address for both the Keelings is 1119 E. 123rd street.

Mrs. Keeling, represented by H. Leonard Richardson, is contending for the real property of the parties located at 1119 E. 123rd street, while Atty. Walter L. Gordon, Jr., representing Keeling, contends that the property was Keeling's separate property prior to the marriage.

Keeling figured in several other law actions in 1949 and 1950 brought by Elester Hart Bellinger, who passed suddenly early this year.

According to the complaint on file, the couple married August 6, 1946, and separated about September 20, 1950. The complaint further alleges that there were no children born to the parties.

GEORGIA LASTER DEBUT

Georgia Laster, soprano, sang her soul out before a surprisingly small number of concert goers last Sunday at the Philharmonic Auditorium. Those of us who have watched Miss Laster's growth here in Los Angeles were reconciled with the fact that to fill the Los Angeles Philharmonic for anyone—and particularly a newcomer—is a task even difficult for the Muses. We venture to say—that perhaps Edwin Stone was a little ambitious to attempt a Philharmonic debut for Miss Laster at this time. No, for the sake of the record, the concert was certainly not a musical failure—but musical success is only a part of the whole. Financial success in this business is mandatory if one is to succeed. The Assistance League Playhouse or even one of our larger downtown churches would have been daring enough.

We have seen organizations year after year present an Annual Downtown Concert and it has taken the concerted efforts of strong social conscious members who know that their patrons will be obligated for many reasons to support the effort. AKA, Delta, Kappa, Alpha, the Los Angeles Musicians Association and recently The Zetas (who co-sponsored the presentation of the First Negro Classical Ballet) have demonstrated beyond shadow of a doubt the problems and the absolute necessity of having large memberships literally "work" the community in order to achieve any measure of financial success—and certainly an audience for an artist it tantamount.

Miss Laster seemingly did not warm up to the occasio until well into the third group. There was obviously a sense of hesitancy which existed between the accompanist, Gerhardt Albersheim and Miss Laster. At times the poor synchronization became disconcerting.

From Giordano's opera "Andrea Chenier," the aria "Mi Mamma Morta" seemed to be the vehicle upon which Miss Laster finally achieved the full breath of her musical and dramatic resources. Only here did the voice soar out into the vast hall for before it had seemed almost encased. We did not realize until Sunday that this young woman is the possessor of a small highly refined lyrical instrument. It is not powerful and we question whether it would be strong enough to overcome the difficulties of performance with an orchestra. The lieder was well done.

The Castelnuevo-Tedeso original selections were admirable and Tyson's Sea Moods was well received. Again, in the spirituals arranged by William Grant Still and Hall Johnson, we found a new Miss Laster—a capable artist—certainly potentially eminent. Miss Laster needs New York—and the great metropolitan centers of the East before she will be seasoned. Congratulations to Los Angeles' first and only Negro impressario who almost blindly but successfully tackled a big job. Let's hope that our civic organizations will engage Mr. Stone for their future presentations.

Christian Science

The utilization of Christ as an ever-available means of salvation from evil, disease, and death is urged in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Christ Jesus" in all Christian Science churches.

The Golden Text is from I John (4:9): "In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him."

After Christ Jesus had healed the multitudes, he said to his disciples, "He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father" (John 14:12).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy includes this passage: "Jesus established what he said by demonstration, thus making his acts of higher importance than his words. He proved what he taught. This is the Science of Christianity. Jesus proved the Principle, which heals the sick and casts out error, to be divine" (p. 473).

Alpha Wives Plan Meetings

Alpha Wives Auxiliary members are in the midst of busy plans for both their March and April meetings. On March 16, at 8 p.m., the Auxiliary will entertain the Q'Ettes, Silhouettes and Wives of Sigma at the Alpha House, 2116 So. Western Avenue. Sadie Louise Davidson is in charge of the program.

Official hostesses will be Helen Freeman, Etta Dixon, Mary L. Hill, Yolande Stovall and Paula Giddings, who is chairman.

The social committee, under the chairmanship of Helena House, is planning a novel Alpha Children's Party for Saturday, April 28. Rosemary E. Hampton is president of the Auxiliary.

Young people of the community are invited to the Vocational Guidance Clinic, planned for Sunday, March 11, at the Alpha House, 2116 So. Western Avenue, 4-6 p.m. The Clinic is being sponsored by "Church and Community" Magazine and Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity.

The clinic has been planned in observance of the Los Angeles Urban League's Annual Vocational Opportunity Campaign, which culminates March 16 in the Annual Awards Program. Awards are given each year to persons in the community for outstanding achievements in the various fields, and it is for this reason that the clinic is being held: to acquaint young people with the high standards expected and required for new and better fields, where little guidance has been given in the past.

Miss Katie Mae Hayes, popular journalism student and reporter to the Optimist at Polytechnic High School, will serve as Mistress of Ceremonies. Miss Hayes is also a member of Bethel A. M. E. Church.

The various fields to be covered are: Vocations — Textile Arts, Crafts, Florist, Business Training: Art—Fine Art and Commercial Art; Business—Pest Control, Life Insurance, Real Estate and General Insurance; Professions—Social Service, Education, Chiropractics; Entertainment—Music, Drama and Comedy.

Those appearing will be: Textile Art exhibit from Thrift Art Club; Miss Francine Clifton, Crafts; Calvin Bailey, Art; Thomas Jackson, Pest Control; Daniel V. Sawyer, Life Insurance; Claude D. Jolly, Real Estate and General Insurance; Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson, Social Service; Dr. Charles C. Robinson, Chiropractics; Miss Madie Norman, Drama.

Rosemary E. Hampton, who is Managing Editor of "Church and Community" Magazine, co-ordinated the Vocational Guidance Clinic and invites the public to attend.

IN CONCERT—Marian Anderson will be presented in recital in the Philharmonic Auditorium Sunday afternoon, March 18 at 2:30. America's most beloved vocalist and the world's greatest cello virtuoso is being presented by Mrs. L. E. Behymer.

Garner Conducts Mozart Requiem Palm Sunday

The Palm Sunday Vesper Concert presented annually under the direction of the department of music features the appearance of The Reverend Mr. Garner. For a number of years the internationally famous tenor-conductor presented "The Seven Last Words of Christ" (Dubois) with massed choirs and choruses from all Southern California music centers.

This Lenten season the famed Cathedral Choir of The First Congregational Church, with soloists Merri Fenn, soprano; Betty Christison, contralto; Ralph Hovell, tenor; Merwyn Dant, baritone, will sing the Requiem Mass with the distinguished George Garner conducting.

The public is invited to be present in the sanctuary of First Congregational Church, West Sixth and Commonwealth, on Sunday afternoon, March 18th, promptly at four o'clock.

Y-Teen Dance At Willowbrook

On March 13, the Y-Teens of the Watts-Willowbrook area will present one o ftheir biggest activities of the year. They will sponsor a dance to raise funds for camp and conferences this summer. The admission fee will be 20 cents per person. The dance will be held from 8:11 p.m. at the Wil Rogers Park Community building. Music for the dance has been donated by Sammie Franklin and his orchestra. Don't miss this big affair, March 13.

On Saturday morning, March 17 the Y-Teens of this are also presenting a matinee movie at the Largo Theatre. The movie will include a special feature for children and a movie adults will also enjoy. The show will run from 10:00 to 12:30. The admission will be 16 cents for everyone.

Gold Diggers at "Y"

An earnest, honest all-out effort to raise at least $4,000 in cash for the 1951 Support Fund of 28th Street branch YMCA is being made currently by members of the Support Campaign organization under the leadership of John W. Beane, Jr., and Mrs. Flora Carter. Since the organization has taken the form of gold mining companies the campaign workers have become "gold diggers."

At a rally last Monday evening the workers were told that to carry on the "Y" program at the present restricted level, at least $4,000 in cash would have to be raised. Because the NAACP campaign is scheduled to begin March 15, it is necessary that the YMCA fund be completed before that date. With this daedline in mind the gold diggers are working overtime these days to guarantee continuance of YMCA youth service in this community.

African Art On Display At Scripps College

A handsome collection of African art, probably the finest ever gathered in the United States, is being shown until March 18 in the Lang Gallery, Scripps College, Claremont.

The wood, bronze, and ivory objects reveal a Negro cultural heritage second to none. Brilliantly executed, these fine examples of "Dark" continent art reveal a phase of culture seldom credited to a race known mainly for its musical ryhthms.

Equally important, however, the world of art has been enriched by the items of this collection composed of pieces borrowed by Ralph C. Altman, collector and anthropologist, from private and public collections across the country. Modern art is traced to the works of tribal natives unbound by "schools" or conventions. These black artisans expressed themselves with a freedom occidental artists only talked about until the advent of modernism.

Little wonder, after seeing the exhibit, that African Negro art is used to decorate private homes. The variety of forms and techniques provide a field of selection broad enough to satisfy many tastes. In addition, the quality of the work makes it deserving of the word "art."

Common reaction to the exhibit by the too few viewers was that of pleaseure and amazement. Few realized that Africa had produced artists worthy of the name. Unknown artists, yes but men who could work into wood or ivory the age-old tenderness a mother feels for her nursing child. Artists who could produce expressive masks to be worn during secret rites, and artists who could carve pathetic little figures for the spirit of a dead twin. Amazement also in the manner in which these men could capture the regal bearing of a 16th century king of the East Guinea coast.

The collection includes handsomely carved bowls, cups with human figures for handles, ceremonial knives and hatchets, and neck rests in animal forms, hollowed to hold trinkets. Among the cleverest of all the objects is a 16th century bronze ewer shaped like a standing leopard, tail for a handle, covered entry in the head to receive liquids, and open nostrils out which the liquid poured.

Despite the fact that many of the works were made for utilitarian purposes, they were patiently carved and beautifully decorated. None of the pieces is stylized. Each artist had his own ideas on how to represent the human figure, and, most impressive of all, great attention was given to the features of the subjects. Each face has its own mood relative to the purpose of the figure.

'Can't Happen Here' At Soto Center

"It Can't Happen Here," the late Sinclair Lewis' prophetic play, will be staged at the Soto Michigan Jewish Community Center, Straus auditorium, two successive week-ends, Saturday and Sunday, March 10, 11, and 17 and 18, at 8:30 p.m., under the direction of Paul Gurey.

This great social play was staged in more theaters at one time throughout the United States than any other production in drama history when it first appeared in 1936. Tens of thousands of persons came away wondering whether its theme: that a corporate state could come to America, was really possible. Today 15 years later, "It Can't Happen Here" is as timely as ever.

General admission, 60c incl tax. For reservations, phone AN 13118.

Socializing . . . . . with Wini

PERHAPS THE MOST OUTSTANDING EVENT OF THE PREVIOUS WEEK, was the Testimonial Reception honoring Mrs. Margaret E. Rakestraw, at Wesley Methodist Church, Sunday, the fourth of March.

Sponsored by the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority as a culmination of their thirteenth annual Finer Womanhood Week, Mrs. Rakestraw was showered with heartwarming praises for the efforts she has put forth to benefit her community. A well rounded program, participated in by outstanding citizens in the city and presided over by Soror Lillian Fentress, was indeed something for Mrs. Rakestraw to remember the rest of her life. Humorously the honoree said she had been sitting on the rostrum with her eyes closed and imagining herself dead as all the wonderful things were being said about her.

Soror Lillian Fentress acted as mistress of ceremonies for the Thirteenth annual Finer Womanhood Week's closing event, the Testimonial Reception for Mrs. Rakestraw.

Some of the previously honored women in the community and who have been so honored by Zeta Phi Beta are Bessie Burks, Gertrude Hicks, Charlotta Bass, Mabel Gray and Jessie Grayson.

The well rounded program featured the music of Jules Haywood, the vocal artistry of Miss Marguerite Chapman, and Jay Loft-Lynn; Otto E. Buss gave the heartwarming and human testimonial address; Soror Ferrol B. Connor presented the eZta Phi Beta Plaque, and the Wesley Ensemble (composed of members of the Senior Choir) rendered the closing number.

The guests then adjourned to the recreation room of the church for refreshments.

GEORGIA LASTER'S FIRST APPEARANCE ON THE CONCERT STAGE was one of triumph. Beautifully gowned in a Venson creation of Sunset Pink Nylon Net, Miss Laster gave a very fine account of herself. Her gracious manner and charming smile makes her one of the warmest personalities to invade the concert stage, and we sincerely wish her all the success in the world.

We particularly enjoyed "La Mamma Morta Aria from Andrea Chenier" because we perhaps lean a little toward the warmer Italian numbers than the German. Miss Laster seemed at her best when she was able to really let her clear voice ring out. Not being a music critic, we can only give you our version of what we liked the best.

There was a fair showing of localites at the concert, and we know there should have been a better turnout. Glimpsed in the well dressed audience: Billie Lynthecum, Jay Loft-Lynn, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Griffin, Jessie Mae Beavers with sis Marian Jackson Jeanne Jackson, soloist at the Independent Church; Dr. John and Dr. Vada Somerville, Alonzo Huff, Anna Mae Bruce, Jules Haywood, Cecil Doty (more Independent music makers), and of course EAGLE music critic Albert McNeil, Dr. George Garner, that well of musical knowledge, and the reviewer for the Sentinel placed his stamp on

Makeup Artist, Hair Stylist YWCA Guests

Wray Meltmar, celebrated Hollywood Make-up Expert, and Maurice Trokey, Master Hairstylist, will present a joint demonstrated lecture on grooming, beauty, make-up and hairstyling at the second session of the Charm and Self-Improvement series being presented by the Woodlawn YWCA at 8:00 p.m. on Wednesday, March 7.

Wray Meltmar has earned an international reputation as a make-up authority thru his book "Photographic Make-up" and seventy-odd articles published in national magazines. He has contributed series of feature articles to metropolitan newspapers such as the "Chicago Sun" and "Los Angeles Mirror" on his techniques of Corrective Make-up. For over a year he has conducted the weekly column "New Faces for Old" which appears currently in the Hollywood "Shopping News." He is a featured lecturer at Women's Clubs and has made national lecture tours expounding his theories and methods, often appearing under the auspices of newspapers in their auditoriums, because he has the courage to tell the truth about cosmetics and beauty letting the chips fall where they may.

'During the past 20 years he has worked in every major movie studio in Hollywood and New York. He has the distinction of pioneering in Television Make-up and being the first person ever to telecast a make-up demonstration from Radio City, New York.

Maurice Trokey, Master Hairstylist of Maurice Beauty Salon, 1438 West Jefferson Blvd. needs no introduction, as he has been styling the hair and creating smart, new coiffures for Los Angeles' discriminating women for over ten years, and is well known to most women. The thing that sets him apart from the run-of-the mill hairdresser is his originality and creative ability. He knows facial types and structures and how to create optical illusions to bring out the best points of a face and subdue the not-so good-ones, thus making a plain face appear glamorous. He has studied under some of the best known Hairstylists in the country, and is a former make-up student of Mr. Meltmar.

After Mr. Meltmar has completed the make-up, Mr. Maurice Trokey will explain hair care and how to properly recomb a new coiffure. Then he will give the lucky model a new hair-do to compliment and complete the make-up explaining and demonstrating every step as he dresses the hair.

A "Question and Answer" period will follow the lecture demonstration to help solve individual problems.

Both artists are donating their time, abilities and talents to the YWCA for this series and receive no compensation whatsoever.

No woman interested in her personal appearance can afford to miss this unusual opportunity to learn how to improve her beauty and capitalize on her best features. Please phone ADams 1-4103 for more details and reservations.

Delegation of Three To Visit Jackson

A Northern California delegation of three women left the Bay Area, Monday, March 5th, for Jackson, Mississippi. They will join with a national delegation of white women who will attempt to visit Governor Fielding Wright in a last minute effort to stay the scheduled March 20 execution of Willie McGee.

Willie McGee, a Negro veteran of World War II and father of 4 children, was charged with raping a white woman in Laurel, Mississippi in 1945.

DuBois Pledges Continued Fight for World Peace

NEW YORK—Addressing several hundred people who came to honor him at a Testimonial Dinner on his 83rd birthday, Dr. W.E.B. Du Bois declared that although threatened with prison because the Peace Information Center, which he formerly headed, refused to register under the Foreign Agents Act, he would "continue to maintain that the advocacy of peace is not treason."

"I am the champion of no idea alien to this nation, and I have the right within the law, in the future as in the past, to fight for peace," he said, as the audience burst into loud applause.

Reviewing his long career in the struggle for Negro rights, colonial emancipation and peace, Dr. Du Bois said that since World War II he had come to see the preservation of peace as the all-embracing problem of humanity and had devoted his time and energies to work on behalf of peace. The audience was shocked as he told how he had been finger-printed, frisked for concealed weapons, and handcuffed in a criminal court in the nation's capitol the week previous when he went to face arraignment on the charges, resulting from his work for peace, of being an unregistered foreign agent.

Attorney Belford V. Lawson, Jr., president of Alpha Phi Alpha, oldest Negro collegiate fraternity, and Paul Robeson, chairman of the Council on African Affairs of which Dr. Du Bois is vice-chairman, also addressed the dinner audience. They paid warm tribute to Dr. Du Bois' courageous leadership and contributions to culture and humanity, and warned of the necessity for combatting the war hysteria, imperialist aims and police-state repression out of which came the indictment of Dr. Du Bois.

Dr. E. Franklin Frazier, Chairman of the Sponsors Committee, announced that hundreds who had desired to attend the dinner could not be accommodated. He stated that the great success of the birthday testimonial, despite a "well organized campaign from certain quarters" against it, which led to a downtown hotel breaking its contract for the dinner and the withdrawal of some of the scheduled speakers, was an expression of the American people's great regard for Dr. Du Bois.

We would like to thank the L.A. Mirror for their courtesy extended for the Dorothy Dandridge photos in our last week's issue.

PERCY MAYFIELD . . . Vocalist who skyrocketed to fame practically overnight with his waxing of "Please Send Me Someone To Love" will soon open at New York's Apollo Theatre.

Fly A Safe Kite

"Fly a Safe Kite" is the admonition of the Department of Water and Power now that March is about ready to "blow in" the official kite flying season.

Parents should caution their children that serious danger can result when a kite or string becomes entangled in power lines.

Fly kites in an open field, away from electric power lines and other overhead obstructions.

Use no metal parts on kites.

Never use wire, tinsel or metallic string.

Be certain the kite string is dry.

If the kite catches in a power line, let go of the string immediately. If the location is in the city, phone the Department of Water and Power, MIchigan 4211, and ask for Electric Trouble. A lineman will be sent to retrieve the kite and retufn it to the owner.

ALONG SPORTS ROW

BY CHUCK MOSLEY

Track: Estel Johnson and Joe Barry's charges have to put on plenty of steam if they expect to repeat last year's league and city championships. The squad lacks the depth of 1950's team, but has plenty of spirit and do or die tradition behind it. The real test comes tomorrow afternoon at Jefferson when the Jordan Bulldogs, Jeff's traditional rivals, come over to try and take the measure of the Democrats. Jefferson is sure it can repeat, but Jordan has made the headlines recently with the scoop that they are loaded with talent this year. Democrats Floyd Dennis in the 100 and 220, Jimmie Walker in the mile, Albert Moore in the 440 and a great new crop of hurdlers are the ones to watch. A large crowd is expected to show this Friday afternoon at Jeff for the Jeff-Jordan spikeest. Field events begin at 2:30; track events at 3:00.

Baseball: Ray Wheba's varsity has hardly had an opportunity to get any real game experience under its belt this season what with the rainy weather cancelling some of the practice ballgames. However, the Democrats showed plenty of strength in a practice tilt with Jordan when the Demos socked over five runs in two innings before the rains halted the game. Jerry Drew, Thelton Henderson, Stephen Hill and company were busy plastering the diamond with base knocks when the end came. Jeff is the choice to come up fast on the outside and take the title this year. The tenth grade team shows lots of promise with the most talented squad to turn out for baseball at Jeff in many a year.

Gymnastics: Coach John Childress' lads gave powerful Fremont a scare before losing a well exhibited meet. The patient, long-time building program at Jeff is beginning to pay off with some outstanding young gymnasts now showing the way. Big item on the Jeff schedule is the Washington meet. Jeff and the Generals are about even. This meet will be a good one.

Tennis: No league matches have been played as yet, but a few practice meets are on tap this week and next for the Democrats. Net aces Bill Austin, Danny Broussard and others are getting in shape for another great season.

Here and there: Lang Stanley is doing well scholastically at Colorado A & M. He'll be running Freshman track this spring . . . may even get back to run in the Coliseum relays on All-City Track night. Larry Lumpkin showed what his Jefferson background did for him when he racked up in the Metropolitan JC basketball conference. Coach Mike Marienthal, head football coach at Jeff, is quietly chuckling at himself these days . . . he's thinking of the seven lettermen he'll have back next year to start off Jeff's BIG YEAR in football.

Daily Honors Jordan Long Horse Champ

An issue of this week's daily paper The Daily News, paid honor to Cliff Richards, Jordan High Schools 125-pound long horse champion.

Richards the paper said came in for extra plaudits since he earned most of his athletic fame in track, football and the muscle mowing pastime in gymnastics in his junior year.

"Richards the Royal of Jordan, who joins the cream of the crackajacks in the Daily News Hall of Fame with gallons of talent in his half-pint body of 5 feet 2½ inches and 125 pounds, is a city champion in two sports—on the longhorse and in the Class C broad jump.

In addition, he was all-Eastern Marine league co-winner and city co-runnerup in the Class C high jump and last fall grabbed off a monogram as first string fullback on the Class B football team.

"Richards is first class, whether he's competing Cass A, B or C.

"Moreover there are precioulsy few leapers who venture forth in both vertical and horizontal varieties of jumping and from the standpoint of size few as able as Richards in both.

In the broad jump he captured the town finals at 21 feet 1½ inches for Bill Zazueta's city champions and has covered 21 feet 8 inches in the high jump he has hit 5 feet 8 inches.

And he's only 5 feet 2½ inches from heel to head, remember.

"Graduating in June, King Richards has another semester in which to encore his track (this time moving to Class B) and gymnastic glories.

It's in gymnastics on the extended equine known in some lands including the United States as the long horse that Cliff likes most to dwell.

He started strutting his stuff on the padded steed as a ninth-grader when he wasn't yet even 5 feet small and answered coach Ralph Caldwell's appeal to organize Jordan's first gym team. Richards won his block, which means that this term he's due to add the fourth stripe to his sweater.

As a soph, the semester he went out and nabbed league broadjump laurels, he finished fourth in the circuit longhorse finals. Then, last year, the budding Richards blossomed forth with speed, spring, arm and shoulder strength plus the ingredients of aerial form and balance that made him one of the finest prep long horsemen in the country.

Perhaps his most gratifying and promising accomplishment was rating second in the 1950 National AAU meet, runnerup only to USC's slick Jack Barnes and ahead of collegians from all over the United States, as far away as Michigan and Florida.

"Among those the 18-year-old Tiny Tim defeated was Occidental's William Tom, 1949 national champ who wound up third.

No other prep placed as high in any of the events.

Huskie Track Team Enters L. B. Relays

After being thwarted twice by inclement weather the East Los Angeles Junior College track team will try once again to open its season. Previous duals with U.C.L.A. frosh and Los Angeles City College have been rained out.

On Saturday, March 10 weather permitting, East L. A. will make its annua appearance in the Long Beach relays.

Coach Ray Smith is entering teams in three relays, namely the 440, 880 and the mile. The first of these will be run by Don Pitts, Sandy Howard, Gil McFadden, and Robert Smith.

Two years ago the Huskies placed first in this event, and set the school record at 43.6.

In the 880 relay Larry will relieve Don Pitts. Otherwise the same team will go again, with McFadden changing with 'Sticko' Smith at the anchor position.

McFaddan and Smith will again go to the post in the one-mile relay with Smith anchoring this time. Buddy Brewer will lead off in this one, followed by either Lumpkin or Jim Uranga.

Coming Again, That Sheriff's Annual Show

Announcement comes from the Sheriff's Relief Association of Los Angeles County and its president, Sheriff E. W. Biscailuz, that the seventh annual rodeo sponsored by the organization will be held in the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum on Sunday, August 26.

Each year one of the outstanding western stars headlines the show, and top-ranking cowboy actor Gene Autry has been signed for the 1951 event. He will introduce an entirely new show which will be presented during his forthcoming nation-wide personal appearance tour.

Many new and novel events are slated for this annual affair and it is anticipated that an all-time record for attendance will be established, due largely to the fact that this will be the only large outdoor rodeo to be presented in Southern California during the entire year.

Bulldogs to Meet Seals In Fresno

Fresno State College, Calif. — The Fresno State College Bulldog baseball squad is scheduled to close FSC Baseball Week in Fresno, Saturday with a game against the San Francisco Seals in the college park at 2:30 P.M.

Festivities of the week opened Monday with a proclamation by Mayor Gordon Dunn of Fresno setting aside the week in honor of the Bulldogs, champions of the California Collegiate Athletic Association in 1950.

Tuesday the Bulldogs faced the Camp Pendleton Marines in the opening game which was complete with all ceremonies connected with a season opener. The Mayor pitched the first ball. ROTC and Marine Corps color guards participated in the raising of the national colors, and the FSC Alumni presented the team with a banner hailing the 1950 championship.

Race of Calumets Closes Santa Anita Meet

Capistrano Handicap Closes Anita

Ranking among the top long-distance classics in American Thoroughbred racing, the 12th San Juan Capistrano Handicap with $50,000 added, promises to close down Santa Anita's 1950-51 winter season in a blaze of glory and excitment on Saturday. The prospective starting field was not nominated until after the $100,000-guaranteed Santa Anita Handicap was run and will represent the leading contenders who came out of the gruelling 1¼ mile contest.

There will be a repeat this Saturday by lengthening out the distance to 1¾ miles. Last closing day over this route, a park-full of Santa Anita racing fans witnessed what has been hailed as one of the greatest and most sensational duels in turf history. It took a photo to give the decision to Noor over Citation after they had battled head-and-head for he last half of the race. A new world's record time of 2:52 4/5 was established.

Outstanding winners in other years, such as Miss Grillo, Bricа-Brac, Mialand (twice), Cravat, Indian Broom, Seabiscuit, Whopper and Head play have established the San Juan Capistrano as one of Santa Anita's top-ranking fixtures.

Weights are to be posted on Wednesday and there will be much interest in a possible shifting of the imposts assigned for the Big 'Cap.

Among the riders who will sport silks, Johnny Adams will be in the limelight because he is the only one with two previous winners to his credit. He had Miss Grillo in 1949 and Mioland in 1940. Johnny is expected to continue with the Australian Bernbrook. Only two others on the grounds have a chance for a double. Johnny Longden scored with Noor last season and Jack Westrope was on Cravat in 1939.

A new name among the notable San Juan Capistrano winning owners is expected to be entered as no past victors will have entries to try and catch the late Charles S. Howard's four big ones—Noor, Mioland (twice) and Seabiscuit.

Louis Or Ezzard Is Question?

By JULIUS ADAMS

NEW YORK CITY—There is a lot of bad blood between Joe Louis and Ezzard Charles and if the two should face each other in the ring again, the sports public is in for what might be the fight of the century.

In the first meeting Louis was still cocky enough to believe he could win without too much difficulty, and Charles still held Louis in high esteem. Although Joe was quite a little contemptuous of Ezzard, Charles had a great deal of respect for Louis. Like so many other fighters, Charles, while not idolizing Joe, was deeply emotional about him. Today, things are different and this is not a gag to build up a gate. Both guys are as "mad as wet hens."

"They are tough losers," Charles is reported to have said the other night when Louis and members of his entourage passed him in the Theresa lobby without paying him a champion's respect. It appears to be Charles' feeling that Louis, and his followers still think Ezzard is a tinsel champion and that Louis can beat him.

Called upon to carry on in the footsteps of so colorful a fighter as Louis, Charles as champion has suffered by comparison. He has resented this bitterly. Even though Joe is not the Bomber of old, Charles knows now that his only chance of achieving the popularity commensurate with his championship status, is to knock Louis out. Judging from statements emanating from his camp, he intends to do just that.

"It will be different next time," Charles is quoted as having said. "There will be no question about the next fight. It should have been that way last time."

"Do you mean the fourteenth round?" someone asked him. Charles didn't answer.

Those who saw the fight either in the aren aor on television or heard it on radio, will recall that in the fourteenth round Charles had Louis in serious trouble. The feeling among many sports experts and fans is that Charles eased up when he saw the once mighty Bomber about to go down. He wanted to spare Louis the humiliation.

"It surely will be different next time," a spokesman of the former champion said. "What is more," he added, "Louis feels very keenly about his loss of the title, almost to the point of humiliation. He knows that the only way he can recoup his waning prestige or re-establish his fortune is by beating Charles. He will be a hungry fighter next time. He feels that he will have as much to gain by beating Charles as he did in beating Jimmy Braddock from whom he won the title."

Santa Maria Drubs Medical Whiz Five

Medical Pharmacy basketball team lost a thriller to Cal Polly in Santa Maria last Saturday night. The Whiz Kids meeting one of the leaders in their league, in meeting the Polly team had a battle from the start.

Taking the lead from the start the game was close all the way. The first half was a battle of defenses the half ending 19-18 in favor of Medical Pharmacy. Throughout the last half it was the Whiz Kids by eight points until the last few minutes when the new record holder of the conference, 6 ft. 8 in. Luscar of Cal Polly, hooked in six baskets and that was the game for Cal Polly winning 48-42.

Coach Griffin feels that in a rematch the team will take the measure of the Polly team, due to the fact that a number of the boys had to work a half day the team was unable to leave until late and arrived at Santa Maria at 8 and the game time was 8:30, which told on the boys in the last half allowing the home boys to get away for some set shots. Stellar play was turned in by Rufus Johnson, D. Shaw, V. Melton, C. Reed, S. Peters and H. Garrison and the Hill twins.

The game was carried over the Santa Maria station and the team was so popular that arrangements are being made to play the popular Santa Maria Dukes, an entry into the Denver AAU tourney.

This Saturday the Whiz Kids leave for Taft to play Taft Junior College, and perhaps stay overnight in Santa Maria to meet the Dukes Sunday night.

The ocal fans will soon get a chance to see the team in action as they have been invited to play a benefit game for the local Shriners.

Mrs. Jackie Robinson In March "McCall's"

Although Jackie Robinson is a hero to many people because he is a famous baseball player, he is a hero to his wife because "he has handled one of the most difficult problems in human relations with restraint and dignity." So writes Mrs. Jackie Robinson, as she tels the family story of the rise of the first Negro player in organized baseball, in March McCall's.

In "I Live With a Hero," Mrs. Jackie Robinson writes of baseball, Brookyn and discrimination, and, for the first time, tells the warm, family story of the Jackie Robinson success.

On The Turf

By GEORGE A. RAMSEY

SANTA ANITA: The hundred grander is now history and Moonrush was the winner with jockey Johnny Longden doing one of the finest jobs he ever did. Altho this writer believes that Johnny could have won on Next Move, he outsmarted Eric Guerin who had the mount on Next Move. At the sixteenth pole Moonrush looked like a beaten horse but Johnny had tricked Guerin and had just eough left to push the son of Hunter's Moon forth to a neck victory and grab the $100,000 pot. It was just a two horse race from start to finish. This is the last week at Santa Anita, the horses will move up north to Bay-meadows. The main event for closing day will be the San Juan Capistrano Handicap at one and three-quarter miles and carries an added value of $50,000.

NEW CALIENTE IN OLD MEXICO: Nine-year-old War Allies, the former stake horse and son of imported Alibhai, captured the featured event before over 7000 lovers of the sport of kings. It was his fourth straight victory, this stamped him as one of the best handicap horses at the border course. His other victories were sprint races, but the mile event last Sunday proved that class will tell and he carried his speed all the way and stalled off the challenge of Somoracle and He Kuene, the finish was three noses on the wire with the winner paying $9.20. He ran the distance in 1:37 4/5 on a track that was slightly off. This was the fastest mile run since the blackout at the Caliente oval. Top riding honors went to two apprentice jockeys. Art Anderson and Don Richards scored triples. The lucky holders of the daily-double and Quniela received lush dividends. Changing Times, a long shot, won the wourth race, while the favored Climax scored in the fifth, making the double pay $273.20.

And now for the real payoff, the Quniela, Gala Sue, the favorite won and the longshot Ex Parte was second. The reward for the lucky ticket holders $614.00. Not hard to take eh? This Sunday General Manager Walter C. Marty has two big features to support the twelve race program. The main event will be "The Ides" at a mile and seventy yards. Secondary, "The Facilius" one mile and six furlongs. Starting Saturday, March 17th, Caliente will enjoy two days racing weekly while the big time horses move north. Many new features will be added for

Blessed are the peacemakers, for theirs is the kingdom of love and light.

Blessed are the names of Lincoln and Lenin and Gandhi, of Frederick Douglass, Harriet Tubman and William E. B. Du Bois, of Sacco and Vanzetti and all those who have tried in vain to civilize the Anglo-Saxons, a tribe of men who hate God and humanity and are, despite the beauty of their skin, not to be trusted until they are three days dead.

Blessed are the mothers of the mercenaries bleeding in Korea for the imperialists of Wall Street, for they shall be comforted by other sons and daughters whose clasped hands, spanning the oceans and chasms of ignorance and greed, are fast binding the nations together with chains of undying friendship.

Blessed are they who rebel against priestcraft and sanctified lies in the interest of reason and truth. Let them rejoice and be exceedingly glad, for the adhorred Elect-of-God of today are the adored of tomorrow.

Blessed are those who hunger and thirst after justice, for these are the salt of the earth, the heralds of Heaven and the saviors of the world.

Blessed are the Thoreaus, the Alexanders, the Wagners and Lorraines of the wilderness, the lonely scribes and printers and philosophers of the woods and hills from whose sweat and genius the isles and continents of thought receive their dew and rain. These are they who labor for love and are rewarded with sneers, who send forth shafts of light which serve only to enrage the darkness, who dwell in obscurity and die surrounded only by their ideals.

Blessed are the Robesons, the Communist intellectuals and the writers of Hollywood who have revolted against the tyrants over conscience, against treason in high places, against wrong riveted by court decision and blessed by the Church, against the spokesmen of a false and subsidized patriotism, against fascism and hate and war as instruments of international diplomacy.

Blessed are the poets who sing the song of the shirt, the hoe, the sickle, the hammer and the sea, of the wind's rasp, the wheel's kick and the mist on the face of the brooding deep: who see beauty and dignity and romance in the lives of the despoiled: who see God seeking brotherhood through the windows which are the eyes of the Negro, the Mexican and the Japanese.

Blessed are the aged poor who die in flop-houses and brothels on the seamy sides of the cities, with empty bottles in their hands and tattered papers in their pockets. These are they who have grown aweary of the sun, of the whips and branding-irons in the hands of the respectable. They dream of fragrant nights on the farm, of water spilling endlessly from the old mill wheel, of autumn with its mellow tones, of sunlight slanting on the hills and of leafless solitudes where no bird sings. Spent with living and broken of body, they long for peace beyond the earth's emprise, a sanctuary for their soul's repose. Finding no love or mercy or friendship in capitalist society, where it is decreed that those who own shall not produce, and those who produce shall never own, they turn their tired and dimming eyes to the security of the grave, to that still time when death, like snow, shall steep their dreary world in silence and their hearts in sleep. These are they who shall rest closest to the primal fount of love, which is the Light of the World.

Blessed are the Ingersolls, the Darrows, the Burbanks and all the atheistic servants of beauty and science who toil for the Kingdom and yet are unable to perceive rhyme or reason in a cosmic drama wherein arrogant injustice sits enthroned and truth bleeds on the scaffold. These are they who shall laugh loudest and longest in the bowers of paradise, in the gardens of the gods.

Blessed are the founders of the United Nations, now a prostitute to capitalism but where eventually intelligence and the chivalry of discussion will replace shrapnel and atomic bombs as the attorneys of the nations, where the law of love shall sit as sovereign arbiter over the disputes of social and structural engineers managing the socialized economy of Tennyson's Federation of the World.

Blessed are Josef Stalin and all the gravediggers of capitalism, which is dying in the ghastly shadows of an evil night, a dark tunnel and swamp on evolution's upward-winding way. These are the couriers of the dawn, the suffering minstrels of God, and their names shall be surpassingly great in the historic annals of the earth.

Blessed are the war resistors and other countless thousands of convicts and insane in America who are spending their years behind cold dripping walls of torture chambers known as prisons, state hospitals, and chaingang camps: dungeons and inquisition in which the inmates are guarded, herded and lashed by zookeepers in uniform, and turned out as homosexuals and slinking beasts afraid of the sun.

Surely God hast not hid these terrible wrongs from the wise and prudent, but the wise and prudent members of our predatory society believe it is not wise and prudent to lift a finger for their correction. The priests and Levites behold their robbed and wounded countrymen, but pass by on the other side. The children of Abraham also hold their peace, as do the learned jurists and bishops of the Christian creeds: indeed the wise, the prudent and the scholarly have held their peace until the very stones have cried out against these iniquities, and forced the ignorant and unwise to don the caps and gowns of professors and wield cudgels of the university against the beneficiaries of a social system in which Satan is worshipped as God, and the Church congregates slaves and eunichs seeking salvation from the flames of an eternal Hell that has no existence in fact.

Blessed are Kenneth Leslie, Hewlett Johnson, C. P. Bradley, Hugh Hardyman, Claude Williams, John and Howard Melish, Don West and the other four ministers ordanied of God in the Western world. Preaching to the lowly and the religious, they have risen to pulpits higher than the hierarchies of priestcraft and bigotry can bestow. They are the apostles of the dawn and shall be called the twelve pillars of the Kingdom of God, now slowly rising from the muck and mold in the sepulcher of the human heart. These twelve disciples are rolling away the stone that blocks the tomb in which our saviour has lain in fitful sleep for thirty thousand years.

Blessed are the names of the seven Negroes of Martinsville who marched through the dawn to die in the auto-da-fe at Richmond, in order that jimcrow justice and Christian viciousness should not perish from the social swamps of the South. Some of these boys may have been as black as Solomon and Sheba, but they were comely in the sight of God and in the eyes of certain paleface daughters of America. Their names are written in letters of light on the pathway of the stars, where God walketh at eventide—and their blood must be requited.

German Film At Unitarian Church

"The Affair Blum," powerfully realistic post-war German film, will be shown Friday night, March 16 at 8:00 p.m. in the First Unitarian Church at 2936 West 8th Street, just east of Vermont. Also showing will be "Instruments of the Orchestra," with Malcolm Sargent directing music by Benjamin Britten.

"The Affair Blum" is a marcabre study of legal lynching set in the period of the Weimar Republic, and observes the impact of a famous murder trial that actually occured upon a group of people of different ages, religions, classes and beliefs, with an actutely brilliant style reminiscent of Hitchock at his best.

Annual Missionary At Ward, Sun.

The Missionary Society of Ward A. M. E. Church will hold its first public service and program in the new location of their church at West 25th Street and Magnolia, this Sunday afternoon, Dr. Frederick D. Jordan, minister. A feature of the program will be the reading of recent communications from bishops and missionaries in the foreign field.

Miss Vernethia Wedding, church medical social worker, will deliver an address upon the missionary challenge of the local community. Musical selections and greetings from other missionary groups of the cities will complete the program.

Mrs. Artishia W. Jordan is president of the society which has set a financial goal of $500 for the service.

PASTOR WILL PREACH

A large number of distinguished visitors have graced the pulpit of Ward A. M. E. during recent weeks, buton this Sunday coming, the minister, Dr. Jordan, has promised his congregation that he will bring the message at the 10:45 morning worship. His subject will be "Come, Let Us Worship." At 7:30 Sunday evening the Gospel Choir under the leadership of Mrs. Cecil Buchannan and Mr. Thornton, will render a service of gospel in song.

Dr. Jordan stated that the church was adjusting itself successfully amid the tensions growing out of re-location, and the birth of a new organization out of its membership.

Walker Temple A. M. E. Church, organized two weeks ago, to occupy the property from which Ward has moved, has received more than a hundred members from Ward, including many officers and heads of organizations.

On Thursday evening the persons interested in the athletic program of the church are meeting to plan for the widest community participation in the program using the splendid gymnasium of the church.

Rodeheaver to Lead Easter Service

Homer Rodeheaver, world famous song leader, will lead the song service for the Eastern Sunrise Service in the Rose Bowl on March 25, the sponsoring committee announced this week.

Rodeheaver is noted as a singer and composer of Gospel songs, and is the world's leading publisher of hymns and religious music. Dr. V. Raymond Edman, president of Wheaton College in Illinois, and noted author, historian and former missionary to Ecuador, will be the speaker at the Pasadena service.

Woodlawn YWCA Fashion Review

Highlighting the monthly business meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club this past week was the selecting of committee chairmen for their 19th annual coffee and style show. Rena Marlowe Hughes, prominent newspaper woman and club leader, was named general chairman for the stellar post-Easter show which will take place in the picturesque patio of the Woodlawn Branch YWCA, Sunday, April 1.

Mrs. Hughes, who has been as-

Aguirre will be Coach Ching Duhm's choice on the mound for the Huskies.

In their first league outing the Elans dropped the duke to the powerful San Diego Knights, 9-1.

The Huskies were scheduled to meet El Camino there Tuesday, March 6, and Cal-Tech there Wednesday, March 7.

L.A. Youngsters To San Diego Zoo

Hundreds of boys and girls from Los Angeles municipal playgrounds will have an opportunity to spend a day at the famous San Diego Zoo March 21, when the Los Angeles City Recreation and Park Department sponsors its annual Easter-vacation outing to San Diego.

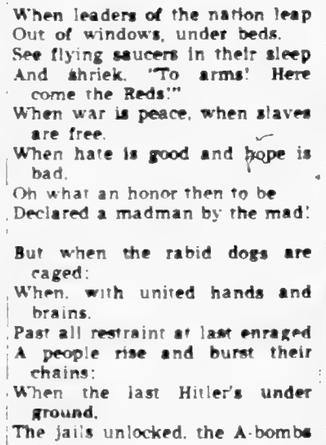
More than 500 youngsters, including members of Associated Boys' Clubs, girls' Lamp Clubs, and other playground groups, made the trip last year, the department said.

A special train will leave Los Angeles' Union Station at 8:30 a.m., March 21. Buses will transport the youngsters from the San Diego station to the zoo. The outing train will arrive back in Los Angeles at 6:55 p.m. However, playground groups must supply their own transportation to and from the Los Angeles station.

What an Honor!

When thieves sit in the halls of state
And Klansmen judge us from on high,
With children taught to emulate
The goon, the renegade, the spy;
When Schact and Ilse Koch go free
While Claudia Jones receives no bail,
Oh what an honor then to be
With those they blacklist, beat or jail.

When leaders of the nation leap
Out of windows, under beds.
See flying saucers in their sleep
And shriek, "To arms! Here come the Reds!"
When war is peace, when slaves are free,
When hate is good and hope is bad,
Oh what an honor then to be
Declared a madman by the mad!



But when the rabid dogs are caged:
When, with united hands and brains,
Past all restraint at last enraged
A people rise and burst their chains:
When the last Hitler's under ground,
The jails unlocked, the A-bombs drowned,
Oh what a triumph then to be
Human, alive, forever free!

Above-normal attendance attests to Herman Hover's astuteness in hiring Lili St. Cyr to strip the light fantastic at Ciro's, plus nitery.

What a team: Hover is Herman; and Lili is his Cyr-o's.

Miss St. Cyr's talents are described as "ecdysiastic," which is not defined. The word is obviously a combination of heck, dizzy and enthusiastic!

Describing Lili as "Ciro Nell that bares her back" (Cyrano de Bergerac) isn't exactly accurate. It isn't her nose that is her outstanding attribute.

In the olden days an actress would put her hands to her chest and exclaim, "The art of acting is in here," meaning in the soul.

Today an actress puts her hand to her chest and exclaims, "The art of acting is in here," meaning in the low-cut dress.

In the forthcoming Academy Awards, like any other awards, one movie star gets the nod and the others get nodding.

Alibis are being prepared for use the day after the Academy Awards are made. Many an actor will be saying, "Why, I could make a bum of Jose Ferrer." The one man in Hollywood who could do that is the make-up artist.

It is easy to understand what is meant by the term "daily press." After you're through reading it you feel as if your head has been squeezed.

The British are miffed because the head of the Atlantic Pact navy is an American. The English just aren't gracefully accepting the fact that British imperialism is now a junior partner to dollar imperialism.

Censorship in the commercial press has spread to girlie art. On Feb. 1 both the L. A. Mirror and L. A. News ran a publicity blurb for the Marine Corps., complete with a luscious lassie in bathing suit. With the retouch method, the News censored off 3 or 4 inches off the lady's bosom.

Observe Arbor Day By Planting Trees

Arbor Day was observed at more than 100 Los Angeles municipal playgrounds and parks yesterday (March 7) with special community programs, including tree-planting festivals, brief talks by civic leaders, and short pageants.

With city councilmen, representatives of the City Recreation and Park Commission, and members of the Board of Education attending, Mayor Fletcher Bowron officially launched Los Angeles' observance of Arbor Day by planting a tree on the First Street side of the City Hall.

At Griffith Park, Arbor Day ceremonies were highlighted by the planting of 500 California Redwood trees, which will eventually form a scenic drive leading in from the Los Feliz Boulevard-Riverside Drive entrance to the park.

Uniform, Membership Card at "Y"

Twenty-eighth Street branch YMCA announces this week that the uniform of men in active military service will be accepted as a membership card and will entitle the wearer to the privileges of the branch at membership rates. This will include the swimming pool at scheduled periods, the game room, residence, gymnasium and lobby.

This policy is in keeping with the traditional interest of the Young Men's Christian Association in the welfare of young men away from home. The YMCA has noted the increasing number of service men in the community and plans a program that will match the need of these young men for wholesome recreation.

HOURS OF TRIAL

In the hours of trial which come to each of us, our hearts will be comforted, our strength renewed, if we will but have Faith.

No matter what our sorrow, suffering or temptation, it should comfort and cheer us to remember that there is one who is ALWAYS willing t help us. There is a personal and intensely individual lesson in humanly beseeching prayer in the quiet hours.

In trial we should be patient and trustful, in times of temptation, we should be strong in our faith and determination to do what is right and good. Man with all his human weaknesses becomes strong when he believes in prayer.

Mrs. E. W. Dear Prof. Herman: It has been quite a long time since I have written you, but I feel that I have a life-long friend in you, and that is why I am turning to you now. What should I ed now?

ANS. It is always nice to hear from you. As to your particular situation, I feel that it will work itself out. Sometimes, all we need to do is be patient and wait, and than to our surprise it is solved for us. In your case, that is my suggestion.

T. T. I have placed my application in several places for work, but to no avail. Do you think I will ever get the type of job I want?

ANS. Things are still a little slow in our case, for they are only employing one at a time . . . to see how it is going to work out. But if you have the necessary requirements, you will be called, eventually. In the meantime I suggest your taking another job, until this materializes.

H. M. Will we go back to Detroit?

ANS. Probing into the matter I find that you are only living here temporarily and are wondering just when you will be able to return home. I feel that circumstances have delayed your returning, but that you will be able to go back within the next couple weeks.

WORRIED. Does he love me?

ANS. According to your lucky Stars and Guilding Planet, you are destined to meet the man of your dreams very soon. This man you are speaking of, is a good friend but he is not your type. If you will write in for a private reply, I may be able to advise you further regarding the matter.

Deltas To Revive Jabberwock Show In Early Summer

After a lapse of two years, the three local chapters of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., Pi, Upsilon, and Nu Sigma, will this year revive their traditional "Jabberwock." It will be presented to the public in all of its mirth and glamour in early summer.

The Jabberwock is primarily "a variety show of a kind that would interest groups and individuals in producing skits, dances, and songs in competition for prizes of varying amounts. Its purpose is to raise funds for chapter scholarships to be given to young women of ability and promise, its unusual appeal is due largely to its broad prospectus. Its presentation offers encouragement and practical help to the development of any talent that groups of individuals may possess. Besides furnishing Delta with a real opportunity for service in the local community, it also adds another delightful and interesting item to the social calendar of our chapters."

Announcing the 1951 Committee Chairmen, the general chairmanship is held by Pauline James. Other committee heads include Ways and Means, Virginia Pillow; Production-Manager, Shirley Williams assisted by Danellen Mabry; Time and Place, Joyce Overr; Prologue and Epilogue, Robbie Tapscott; Costumes, Dorothy Jenkins; Contacts, Shirley Williams assisted by Tanis Fortier; Skit Rehearsals, Joyce Robinson and Joyce Overr; Usher, Joyce Overr; Souvenir Program, Janez Lawson, and Publicity Chairman, Vivian D. Johnson assisted by Harriet Flowers. The committee motto for this year will be "on toward Jabberwock, 1951, bigger and better than ever."

The chosen theme is "Stage Lights." The main idea of this selection is to depict the theatre in all of its pomp and splendor down through the years. Various local social and fraternal organizations will soon be notified of further data and information pertaining to participation.

Vivian Scott Charms Audience In S. C. With Brilliant Piano Artistry

Vivian Scott, the young, talented pianist, has again shown her ability as a true artist. She gained many admirers and friends when she performed for the Lyceum Series at Livingstone College in Salisbury, N.C., on Friday evening, February 23, 1951.

She captivated her audience at once with the charm and delicacy of the opening selection, "Sonata in C Major" by Mozart. Then, in complete contrast, the Busoni transcription of Bach's "Organ Prelude and Fugue in D Major" and its tremendous technical demands, was executed with phenomenal power and ease.

Lecuona's "Malaguena," the "Ballet" of Shostakovitch and Khachaturian's "Toccata" comprised the modern group which was well received.

The second half of the program was devoted entirely to Chopin. His "Etudes, Op. 10, Numbers 11 and 12," a "Nocturne in F Major" and the "Scherzo in B-flat minor" held the audience spellbound. The program closed on a high pitch after the performance of the "Ballade in A-flat Major" and ever popular "Polonaise in A-flat Major."

Miss Scott then graciously performed several encores in response to the overwhelming applause of the appreciative audience.

Socialiting

Miss Laster, with his resounding "bravos"; Thurston Frazier, Bernice Wright, absolutely stunning in gold brocade and the newest little perky touch to her veil, the girl always manages to stand out as being well dressed; Jester Harrison, Dr. and lovely Mrs. McPherson, Bernice Lawson, and we could go on a bit further, but then you should have been there.

Almost forgot to mention that we really got a thrill out of the sprightly rendition of "Ah Got a Home in Dat Rock" particularly when we were reminded that our friend Ruby Goodwin (the Berkeley goes in the middle) wrote the lyrics.

AS THO A CONCERT DEBUT, TESTIMONIAL RECEPTION, with dinner at the "MILOMO" were not enough for one evening, we had the thrill of hearing several sets of the Ellington tunes.

SEEMS AS THO THE MILOMO ATTRACTS SOME of the smartest folks in town with Dorothy Brandon and Margie Stuart's fine cookery. We nodded between bites of our wonderful roast beef to the Arvan Benjamin's who were dining with the newly wed George Price's and Dr. George Robinson with his ever constant Doris Jamieson; priceless Freddy Clark favored us with his wonderful Oxford accent, of which we never seem to hear enough; Tony Hill, the ceramic scion, dining in his solitary; Travis Lott, looking not at all as tho he were one of the top realtors in the city with TWO charming ladies; Ellington ace trumpet man Ray Nance; the Curtis Millers with friends who dropped in to try an after dinner apertif; handsome J. C. Heard who tells us he is soon to open at a Hollywood Club with Dudley Brooks on piano and Oscar Moore and Johnny Miller. Sounds like music in the making.

AFTER A QUICK TURN OR TWO at our favorite "Garnetts" where we sorta Sunday socialed with the Ernie Bendy's; Edward's charming receptionist Eloise Johnson and THAT many more people, we caught the late show at the newly renovated Oasis Club.

JUST DON'T THINK FOR A MINUTE that because Johnny Hodges, Lawrence Brown and Sonny Greer are gone that DUKE is any the less the DUKE. As we ventured to say earlier, we are no music critic, but we do know what we hear and with something like ten consistent years of theory and hard practice in our youth we do know a "Lettie" about good things to the ear. We are happy and proud that Mr. Ellington has chosen several of the local men to fill these well seasoned seats vacated by those we named. Young Britt Woodman is in the Brown chair, and Floyd Turnham is playing saxophone in lieu of Hodges. There is a lot of speculation as to how the band sounds, well let us say it here, they are terrific, and you still hea rthe marvelous Ellington arrangements, interpreted as he wants them done.

Had a little old home week there, too: Daisy and her talented composer, pianist, arranger husband Harvey Brooks; Bobby Short, with Sunday night off from the Wilshire spot the "Haig," no less.

Nellie Brown of the Doll League tells us that the Sunday after Easter to plan to attend their cocktail party. The plans are on he briddle and so far a place hasn't been settled on but to tell all (both of you) of my lovely readers to keep the hours of late sunset open to be spent with the League.

A delegation of 22 members left by plane on Wednesday morning, at 1 o'clock, from the Burbank airport, bound for Washington on the Pilgrimage for Peace. They carried letters, resolutions, petitions, to the members of Congress, the State Department and others, urging each one to do all in his power for world peace.

Rev. James, Negro, and Rev. Crane, white, both of Long Beach, were in the delegation.

Mrs. Jackie Clack headed the arrangements for the Pilgrimage. A group of 86 friends was at the airport to wish them God speed.

Man Shot By Father-in-Law When Protests Dinner Not Ready

Alleged murder, in cold blood, was the result of a slight neglect on the part of a wife who didn't have dinner ready when her husband came home from work.

The murdered man, John Walter Burghardt, aged 28 years, had come home after work to his cottage on East 112th St., to find his wife absent and no dinner ready.

After a short while, however, Mrs. Pauline Burghardt, his wife, with some friends drove up, and John went out to greet them.

"I want my dinner," a neighbor heard John say. Then he caught up Mrs. Burghardt in his arms, and carried her into the house.

The neighbor, surmising there was going to be a fight, called Mrs. Burghard's father, Mr. Evans, of East 77th Street.

Mr. Evans soon appeared on the scene with a gun. John was still sitting in the living room.

"If you don't want my girl," Mr. Evans is reported to have

Mississippi Negro Condemned To Die Tuesday Protests to President

Willie McGee will die next Tuesday, March 20, one minute past midnight. He will be killed by the state of Mississippi for a crime of which he is innocent. He will die unless what is almost a miracle will save him.

Willie McGee is 36 years old, the father of four children, and an honorably discharged veteran of World War II. He was accused of "rape" by a white woman, a Mrs. Hawkins, in November, 1945, in Laurel, Mississippi.

But Mrs. Rosalee McGee, the wife of Willie McGee, now tells how Mrs. Hawkins pursued Willie again and again. How she tried to make dates with him. How he tried to avoid her. How he even came to California one time to get away from her, but that the instant he came back to Mississippi, she began making overtures again.

Finally in a quarrel with her own husband, Mrs. Hawkins accused Willie of "rape." She admits, however, there was a sick child in the bed with her, that her husband and their other children were asleep in the next room. She said she didn't cry out because she was afraid she would awaken them. She did not recognize her assailant. She knew only he had "kinky" hair and that he wore a T-shirt!

And on this flimsy evidence Willie McGee was convicted and sentenced to death!

His case has been appealed. Each time he was turned down. Even the Supreme Court of the United States has refused to intervene. Now the people them-

Cafe Man Beats Income Tax Rap

Alfred Berry, successful operator of low price eating emporiums for a number of years, experienced a narrow escape from a possible jail sentence here last week, all because of the manner in which he reported his 1950 withholding tax returns. It appears the state forgot all about Berry having already paid a penalty in the form of a fine.

Atty. H. Leonard Richardson, who appeared as counsel for Berry at his criminal trial, reminded the court of his clients cooperation in the matter by his paying a civil penalty and successfully obtained his release on the grounds of double jeopardy. Berry's restaurant is the popular Nickle Spot on Central Ave.

The SIDEWALK

By C.A.B.

It was a dusty ride between Los Angeles and Phoenix, Arizona.

I left Los Angeles last Sunday morning at 7:30 for Phoenix to fill a Monday evening speaking engagement for the Civil Rights Congress.

I have read about, seen, and experienced dust storms before, but Sunday morning as my train crept along slowly through that farm region known as the Imperial Valley, it seemed to me I was seeing something I had not seen before.

Along the tracks and as far back into the interior as my eyes—filled all the while with dust that seeped through the crevices—could penetrate, I saw little shacks made of mud, straw, old pieces of tin, and whatever other makeshift material available.

I could see no evidence of sanitation provisions suitable for human habitation. But out of these shacks poured a stream of humanity—women with babies in their arms they tried to shield from the blasts of dust that whipped them mercilessly as they trudged along. Ragged little children with shawls thrown over their heads to beat back the dust-laden wind, followed after. And here and there a community young blade, or a gaily attired Mexican girl with black tresses somewhat colored with white dust, made up the spectacular parade.

Our train stopped at Calexico for ten minutes. The little town on the Mexican border was a hubbub of activity. It being Sunday, the farmers were milling around, meeting and greeting each other.

Straight through from Calexico to the next major stop—Yuma, Arizona—the country is mostly desert, and there is an appalling aspect of poverty and human misery. Grapes of Wrath!

It was past nightfall when I reached Phoenix, where a group of friends awaited my arrival. After many pleasant handshakes and friendly chats, we repaired to the home of Attorney Land for a discussion of the Monday evening meeting.

I had the honor of being the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Land over Sunday night and Monday.

Monday, I spent most of the day visiting a few friends and Eagle subscribers. Among them Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Crump, Mr. and Mrs. Landry, Mr. Wade Hammond, and Mrs. Mary Lewis and her talented little daughter, Mary.

Dr. and Mrs. Crump's dental parlors are the last word in architecture, the handicraft of a promising young Phoenix architect.

It has been 30 years since I first saw Phoenix, so from a rock-ribbed town it is now Arizona's chief city, and a growing metropolis.

I was sorry, however, to observe some things not so

Trenton Six Jurors Carefully Selected

TRENTON — Painstakingly examining each prospective juror, the defense and the prosecution had agreed on only half the jury after three and a half days of careful selection in the retrial of the widely publicized "Trenton Six" which opened here on March 5.

Charged with the murder of an aged white man on the morning of January 27, 1948, six young Negroes—Horace Wilson, John McKenzie, Collis English, Ralph Cooper, McKinley Forrest and James Thorpe — were convicted and sentenced to death. A new trial was ordered by the Supreme Court of New Jersey.

In the re-trial, McKenzie and Wilson are being represented by NAACP attorneys Raymond Pace Alexander of Philadelphia, Clifford R. Moore of Trenton and J. Mercer Burrell of Newark. The remaining four are being represented by other counsel including Arthur Garfield Hayes, Geo. Pellettieri and Frank S. Katzenbach III.

encouraging along the line of freedom and democracy.

Under the Arizona school system, the schools are segregated three ways: Negroes, whites, and Mexican-Americans. There are segregated playgrounds, and Negroes are denied accommodation in cafes, hotels, and all public places of recreation and amusement, except those labeled "For Negroes."

Arizona has two Negro legislators, but from what I was able to observe and learn in a few hours, they are not doing a job for their people, and the advancement of peace and better racial relations.

The Monday night meeting was held at the Church of God in Christ, of which the Rev. J. W. Taylor is the minister. Mrs. Taylor, wife of the pastor, was most cordial and helped to make the meeting a financial success by donating $5 for the work of the CRC, which is fighting to save the life of Willie McGee.

The meeting was a memorial to the Martinsville Seven. There were 250 present. There was great enthusiasm in the attempt to save Willie McGee, but great sadness too, at the legal lynching, that could not be prevented, of the Martinsville Seven. There was a minute's silence in their memory, and heads were bowed and vows made to fight harder than even to wipe this disgrace from the pages of America.

I spoke for world peace, and told how such fearful cases as that of Willie McGee, the Martinsville Seven, and all the other discriminations and segregations that are a disgrace to our country, are a distinct handicap to the coming of real peace.

I talked for one hour. But the audience was so receptive, it seemed like only a few minutes to me. We all enjoyed every minute of that meeting, I'm sure—the audience as well as myself.

There were resolutions unanimously adopted condemning the indictment of Dr. W. E. B. DuBois and of William A. Patterson, executive secretary of the CRC, and asking the government to intervene in the cases of the Trenton Six, Willie McGee, and Mrs. Rosalee Ingram.

I left for Los Angeles immediately after the meeting, and was back on the job again Tuesday morning in the office of The California Eagle.

Mrs. Willie McGee Tells Story Behind 'Rape' Charge

In a sensational statement before a packed press conference today, Mrs. Rosalee McGee, wife of the innocent Willie McGee who is scheduled to die in Mississippi March 20th on "false" rape charges, revealed for the first time why the testimony on which her husband was convicted was a complete perjury.

Disclosing hitherto unrevealed details of the case, Mrs. McGee stated that Mrs. Willimetta Hawkins, the white woman who cried rape and claimed never to have seen her attacker before, in fact had maintained a relationship with McGee which dated back to 1942.

Far from not knowing her attacker, Mrs. Hawkins had deliberately forced McGee into a sexual relationship, Mrs. McGee charged, by holding over his head the threat of crying rape and bringing down a lynch mob upon him. She stymied all his attempts to free himself from this nightmarish trap.

"Some people told me to keep quiet," Mrs. McGee stated, "but if Willie goes, he will be the third man in our family to get killed by lynchers. This kind of things is happening all over the South. How many more innocent colored men got to die before this rotten thing is going to be finished?"

Overpaid Rents Refunded to Tenants

Los Angeles tenants benefitted by $8,758.95 through 15 legal actions successfully completed this week against 15 landlords accused of collecting illegal bonuses and overceling rents prior to decontrol, it was announced by Frank Hirst, Chief Tial Attorney of the Office of the Housing Expeditor here.

The court ordered refunds of $1,180 to Mr. and Mrs. Mack L. Swanson, 410 Lanfair Avenue, and $1,005 to Mr. and Mrs. John J. Daly, 11061 Ophir Drive, former tenants. The Swansons alleged they paid a bonue of $350 and rent up to $100 per month for their unit which had a legal ceiling of only $50. The Dalys alleged payments up to $100 per month when the maximum allowed on their quarters was $60.

Only "clean" charges made in the case was that by the landlady who accused the Swansons of taking three baths, one after another. The Swansons denied the charge, claiming the landlady didn't provide enough hot water for even one bath.

In another case, Mrs. Emma Smith, 2101 South Dalton Street, who collected 500 percent above the legal ceiling, was ordered to refund $1,050 to two tenants who occupied her accommodations at 1845-49 West Adams Boulevard.

● Mississippi Negro

selves are taking the matter in hand. Meetings are being held all across the country. Trade unions are protesting, signing petitions writing letters sending wires. Millions of individuals the world over are writing, wiring protesting.

The AME Bishops' Council, representing over 2,000,000 Negro communicants overwhelmingly adopted a resolution and sent it to Governor Wright of Mississippi, and to President Truman, asking for justice.

Even Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has entered a half hearted appeal in her column because of the fear of what Communists may say.

"Those who want to stir up feeling against the white races in the world make it a point to spread the news abroad when there can be the slightest question of prejudice involved. If democracy is to win against Communism in the world, it must have more supporters than the white peoples of the world. State courts and federal courts must be wary that nothing they do can be interpreted as dividing justice."

"What crime brings Willie McGee into the shadow of the electric chair?" askes William L. Patterson National Executive Secretary of the Civil Rights Congress.

He answers it thus:

He was born black in the USA. That offense is punishable by Jimcrow and segregation, ghetto life, legal and violent lynchings, police brutality, and any degrading and dehumanizing course of action a white man or woman cares to pursue.

That is what is meant by "The American Way of Life," for these are its dominant characteristics.

Formally, Willie McGee is charged with rape—the typical anti-Negro frame-up charge. 'Rapist' is the murderous lie used to intensify the centuries-old reign of terror against the Negro people, used to prevent the unification of white and black Americans in a struggle to safeguard their mutual constitutional interests, national security and democratic heritage against the onslaught of reaction.

'Rapist' is the lie uttered by those who seek to maintain the myth of white superiority behind the terro they thus incite are super-profits—accompanying it, the arrogance, butality, racial hatred that have now become the greatest single menace to the constitutional liberties of all.

White America en masse has accepted the compensations of lynch hodilays, handed it by ruling cliques in our country. Klan parades, the self-gratifying hatred toward black Americans, upon whom it can spit with impunity. But this acceptance is an expression of the growing moral and political degeneracy of white America—and the compensation can only be accepted at the sacrifice of American traditions of justice and fair play, and, in the end, of the last vestige of humanism.

The moral conscience of white America can be awakened again. It can be rejuvenated in the struggle to make our democracy and the constitutional liberties we cherish indivisible. To permit the continued degradation of a whole people by a small clique of evil men in power is itself a crime of such a magnitude as to threaten the security and eternal peace not only of our country, but the world.

We, the people, can and must save the life of Willie McGee.

White, Negro, Mexican-American, Jew, Cathlolic, Labor, and the broad community, face a challenge of tremendous magnitude. The murder of the Martinsville Seven gives some inkling of its nature and its scope. It is a challenge thrown in our faces by those who contro this government.

We, the people of America, are the only ones who can, under God, work that miracle now which will save the life of Willie McGee, which will prevent one more dark blot upon the name of America.

Are we sufficiently aroused? Are we aware of the injustice being done? Then give yourself, your neighbors, no peace until you and they have written, wired Gov. Wright, Jackson, Miss., or President Truman, Key West, Fla. insisting that Willie McGee be set free. Do it NOW.

said, "why don't you send her home to me?"

"But I do want your girl," John protested. "All I want right now, though, is something to eat."

With that Evans is said to have raised his gun, and fired. And John Burghardt was killed instantly.

Mr. Burghardt leaves his wife and four small children, ranging in age from two to ten years. They are Douglass, Manuel, Paul, and John, Jr. He also leaves his father, Albert De Roy Burghardt, of 665 East 52nd St., and scores of friends who are shocked and grieved at his untimely death.

Mr. Burghardt was a veteran of World War II. He was born in Los Angeles, and had lived all his life except the years spent in the U.S. Service. He was a plasterer, and was working at a plastering job the day he was murdered. The plaster was still on his hands when his father-in-law committed the crime.

Funeral services will be held at the Connor-Johnson Funeral Parlors, 1400 East 17th street, on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. Rev. H. Mansfield Collins, pastor of the Neighborhood Community church will officiate. Interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

A special dispensation during the membership drive will enable brokers and salesmen to join for about half of the regular fee and persons wishing to take advantage of this drive may call Adams 8504 for further details. Juanita McGee Speaks At King-dom Baptist, Fri.

Story behind the Willie McGee case will be presented by the Interracial Council of East Hollywood at a free-admission meeting Friday, March 16, 8 p.m., in the Kingdom Baptist Church, 2208 W. Temple St.

Principal speaker, before an audience that is expected to jam-pack the church, will be Mrs. Juanita McGee, sister-in-law of Willie McGee, young Negro who is scheduled to be executed in Laurel, Mississippi, on March 20.

McGee has been in jail since 1945. He was convicted on a charge of raping a white woman who has never identified him. The case has aroused world-wide protest as another example of "Dixie justice." In a similar case, seven Negroes, the famed "Martinsville Seven," were executed a few weeks ago in another southern state.

In a statement on the case, the Interracial Council urged individuals and organizations to send wires and letters of protest to Gov. Fielding Wright, Jackson, Miss., and Pres. Truman, Little White House, Key West, Florida. Secretary of the Council is Phyllis Rapport. Telephone number is NOrmandy 20933.

Civil Rights Fight Linked to Nation's Foreign Policy

NEWARK, N. J.—New Jersey dentists were told March 7 that the domestic program for civil rights and full equality for Negro Americans cannot be separated from the nation's international operations in the present world struggle.

The speaker was Roy Wilkins, administration of the NAACP, who addressed the dinner of the Commonwealth Dental Society of New Jersey at the conclusion of its 9th annual one day clinic. Reviewing the record of courts-martial cases involving Negro soldiers in Korea, the speaker condemned segregation and the other inequalities based upon race, saying they would have to be removed from American life if the nation is to present its full strength in the contest with dictator countries.

Dr. A B Washington is president of the Commonwealth Dental Society.

At Work or School Relaxing Is Healthy

By Roy O. Gilbert, M.D.
L. A. County Health Officer

In a recent issue of Time Magazine (March 5, 1951), the morning coffee break of American workers was amusingly described. Whether one drinks milk or coffee or takes nothing at all, the relaxing morning interruption is one of the most enjoyable of habits and, in addition, contributes to better health—both mental and physical.

Close attention to work connot be sustained for long periods without causing fatigue and a drop in efficiency.

Relief periods, with or without nourishment, proves to be the answer to the problem and no doubt, results in healthier and happier employees.

School authorities have long known the value of a brief recess in the day's work; even college classes last but an hour or two at a time and the customary three hour laboratory sessions are considered a "grind" unless there is great enthusiasm for the subject.

Loyola Initiates Test-Counseling To High Seniors

Loyola University's department of Education this week initiated a senior counseling program for high school seniors in all archdiocesan high schools, according to Rev. Darrell F. X. Finnegan, S.J., Chairman of the education and counseling department.

The seniors are given two tests, the California Test of Mental Maturity, to ability to do college level work and the Occupational Interest Inventory, to determine a young man's future field of employment or professional career, according to Fr. Finnegan. The tests are followed at a week's interval by personal counseling of each individual senior. The counseling is given by professional faculty members of Loyola University.

Other schools which the Counseling and testing group will visit will be St. Monica's Newman, St. Agnes and Notre Dame high schools.

Red Cross Appeals For $85,000,000

From GIs in Korea to President Truman in the United States, Americans are joining forces in endorsing the March 1951 American Red Cross appeal for $85,000,000. Among the signatures to letters of support are names well-known in industrial, interracial, military, labor, and other special interest groups in this country.

Philip Slomovitz, American Association of English-Jewish newspapers, makes this typical statement:

"In the all-out effort for peace, security, and freedom, it is virtually necessary that all Americans should stand ready to back up our Government and at the same time be helpful in humanitarian efforts to alleviate suffering.

"The Red Cross, as one of the chief instruments in serving our armed forces—by providing blood plasma for urgent use, in training first aiders and nurse's aides, as well as by helping in the civil defense program at home—should be given our wholehearted support."

In order to determine the needs of the community, all who are interested in forming a class should notify Mr. Peterson by post card.

The content of this course would include clerical practice, reviews of fundamentals, a brush-up up mathematics, fractions, and decimals, and aptitude questions of a general nature which are frequently found in civil service examinations.

Robt. Jones Not Guilty

Robert Jones beat the rap last week when he appeared in Department 43 of the Superior Court to answer charges of felonious assault. Jones was charged with having inflicted a 8 inch gaping stab wound on the person of Miss Eledia Jackson last December 17 during an altercation at 689 East 49th street.

According to police records, Jones and another man, Albert Jones (no relation)) became embroiled in an argument at the above address, which quickly flared into a fistfight. Then knives were used.

Miss Jackson testified on the stand that Robert Jones then turned to her and said, "you are the cause of this, you started the whole thing." She stated he added "I'm going to cut you. All the time, the witness testified, she was facing the defendant Jones.

Tty. Earl C. Broady appeared as counsel for Robert Jones. The witness produced a dress she said she wore at the time of the cutting which showed a long slash at the right side of the back of the dress. Miss Jackson said she was hospitalized for several days.

Miss Jackson clung to her testimony that she was facing the defendant, Robert Jones at all times. Atty. Broady lost no time convincing the court, that if it wasn't impossible, it was at least highly improbable, that a man armed with a knife in his right hand, could cause the wound in the place charged by Miss Jackson while facing her. Judge Fricke regarded in legal circles as a "tough judge" for defense lawyers, dismissed the action against the defendant.

NAACP Asks Court Ban Kansas School Jim Crow

TOPEKA, Kansas—The Kansas law permitting cities to set up separate schools is challenged in a suit filed in the United States District Court by NAACP Attorney Charles E. Bledsoe on behalf of 20 Negro children and 13 of their parents of this city. Associated with Mr. Bledsoe were Robert L. Carter and Jack Greenberg, assistant NAACP special counsel.

Asking for a declaratory judgment invalidating the state statute as unconstitutional and instructing the school board to admit Negro children to the school in the district in which they live, the suit, filed on February 28, contends that the maintenance of separate schools is a violation of the equal protection clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution.

"The present Board," added Berman, "has established a record filled with discrimination, corruption, incompetancy and a complete disregard for the welfare of the many children who attend our schools. A change is definitely in order."

THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE

Willie McGee And The Government

A barefaced case of rank racial hatred and persecution too sordid for description is that of Willie McGee, 36-year-old truck driver of Laurel, Miss., sentenced to die in a special type movable Mississippi electric chair.

Action by our government in such cases is past due.

The true story of the Willie McGee case is that a Mrs. Troy Hawkins, white, alleged that she was assaulted in the dark one night as she lay in bed by the side of a sick child, while her husband and other children slept in an adjoining room.

Mrs. Hawkins said she submitted quietly to the rape, in order not to awaken her husband and the other children. Her only means of identification of McGee was that he wore a T-shirt and his hair was kinky. There was no sign of a struggle.

On such flimsy evidence, Willie McGee, father of four children, was seized and tortured for 32 days and forced to sign a confession, in order, he says, to save his life.

On two occasions, first in 1945 and again in 1946, McGee was tried by all white juries and sentenced to death.

In 1948 when the attorneys representing McGee were threatened with violence, they fled before the end of the trial.

The Mississippi Supreme Court twice reversed the lower court's decision. However, the execution date was set for July 27, 1950. But the Civil Rights Congress would not give up. It fought on doggedly, and is still fighting to save the life of Willie McGee. The various execution dates were changed from time to time. The last one is now March 20, 1951. To save Willie McGee again, the CRC and all other liberal organizations are fighting as hard as ever.

We feel that it is more important that our government uphold the ends of justice in our country than settle the domestic difficulties in Korea.

At least some of the people in the United States are growing weary with talk, talk, talk about freedom and justice, as our lot in the U.S.A. while seven men in Virginia are legally lynched, the Willie McGees are tortured and wait fearfully under the shadow of the hangman's noose, Mrs. Rosa Ingram is imprisoned for trying to defend her honor, etc., etc.

Yes, it is time for the government to turn its attention on the home front—to the U.S.A. as well as Korea.

Bishop Wright And Morris Brown

The California Eagle is republishing this editorial from The Atlanta Daily World in the belief that it is a forthright, honest digest of a church feud that burst into a flame at the Bishop's Council held in Los Angeles recently.

To the credit of the Atlanta Daily World's editor goes the hearty endorsement of The California Eagle for the clean-cut handling of a situation which as a rule sours on the intellectual stomach of readers.

The AME Bishops' Council at its Mid-Winter session just ended in California, ordered a three-way shift in its organic structure, thus transferring Bishop R. R. Wright from Georgia to the Arkansas-Oklahoma diocese; Bishop William A. Fountain to Alabama and Bishop S. L. Greene to Georgia.

The action was taken, ostensibly, to resolve differences between Bishop Wright, Chancellor of Morris Brown College, and Dr. William A. Fountain, Jr., its president until he was ousted last December by a vote of the Morris Brown Trustee Board over a disagreement in the handling of the school's funds.

The Bishop insisted on an orderly and responsible system of accounting to the Trustees and to the people for their money. With that position, we do not think any honest and reasonable person can disagree. And for that Bishop Wright deserves high commendation of those who support the college with their gifts, with their services and their prayers, and for this he has our commendation. For it is patent in our American system that any agency or institution which derives its support from the public shall be accountable to the people for its conduct.

Morris Brown has become a great symbol of "Self-Help" among Negroes in Georgia and throughout the nation. And to the credit of Bishop Fountain and former President Fountain during the past twenty years the school has been brought to the status of a first-rate college of Liberal Arts of which AME's in particular and Negroes in general may be justly proud.

However, in the light of the documentary charges made against former President Fountain, we feel Bishop Wright and the Morris Brown Board of Trustees are fully justified in replacing him.

As far as we can observe, Bishop Wright, one of the most able of the bishops of the A.M.E. church, has made an outstanding record since coming to Georgia in the middle of 1948, and our best wishes go with him to his new charge.

True education consists in more than mere acquisition of knowledge. Knowledge without sound moral and spiritual grounding can teach little else besides the "tricks of life and of numbers." But the impressionable minds of youth, especially in this age of the atom, demand proper anchorage in the essentials of Christianity and good citizenship.

Let's Clean Up

Yes, it's clean up time. Keeping your section of the city clean and neat is every citizen's job.

There should be neighborhood organizations. Let's plan to lay out a certain area as your neighborhood, and let every family or the head of each family, become a member of such a neighborhood club.

The main object of each club will be to make his area the neatest and most attractive in the city.

First, we start with back yards, and move up front to painting, fence fixing, and every type of improvement that enhances the value and the good looks of our properties.

There must be yard crews, paint crews, and decorators.

A club fund must be raised, so that the club and not the individual members will be responsible for seeds, soil, paints, and whatever is needed for the job of cleaning up and beautifying your community.

Call a meeting right now, while it is Spring. Elect your president and other officers.

Pictures of the president and secretary of the first club organized will be run in The California Eagle, so please telephone in your choice.

Let's get moving.

Why Not Attack The Enemy?

Long before Negroes were integrated into labor unions, and since then, they have been subjected to all sorts of discrimination and job differences by the employers and by many of the unions.

It has been hard for them to combat these evils due to a lack of organization in their own ranks.

A few weeks ago a group of young Negroes and many white workers in the labor movement met and organized what they call a Negro Labor Committee.

The way we understand it, the object of the organization was to create better working conditions for workers, but especially Negro workers, who are meeting with a new type of discrimination by certain CIO and AFL locals in the immediate community.

Such an organization would go a long way to correct the growing menace of racial discrimination, and make for greater unity among all racial segments in labor.

But hardly had the new Negro Labor Committee got started before the dissenters of peace cried "Communist."

The Birth Of The Negro Newspaper

Does Number 5 Varick Street, New York City, have any meaning to you?

It should! It was there that your Negro press was born—one hundred and twenty-four years ago, March 16, 1827. That was a great day in the history of freedom for it was then that the Negro press had its inception as Freedom's Journal.

With our tribute to the Negro press on its anniversary likewise should go our tribute to its founders Freedom's Journal publishers were John B. Russworm, first Negro graduate of an American college and Samuel Cornish, a minister.

The ambitions of these two colored Americans combined with the printer's ink ,the press and paper to create the first Negro newspaper known to our nation. As a consequence, we now observe March 16 as founder's day for the Negro press.

An interesting sidelight on Russworm is the fact that later, in search of an expression which he felt America did not offer, he emigrated to West Africa and settled in Liberia. There he fathered The Liberian Herald first newspaper in the colony.

Like Freedom's Journal, the names of such pre-Civil War organs as Rights of All, Mirror of Liberty, Elevator and Genius were indicative of the purpose to which they lent their devotion. In each case their slogans might have been "Let My People Go."

The Colored American, also of pre-Civil War days, quoted as its aim "the moral, social and political elevation and improvement of the free colored people, and the peaceful emancipation of the enslaved." Only the times have changed this objective of the Negro press.

The contemporary Negro press still possesses the crusading spirit of its early forerunners. Its headlines, its news columns and its editorials are all testimony to a carry-over of this charateristic. They foster everything that the early press championed.

Since the founding of Freedom's Journal, many Negro newspapers have appeared, served their purposes and perished. Of the twenty-four Negro newspapers known to have existed before the Civil War, only one, The Christian Record which begun in 1841, still survives.

Records show that in 1870, there were ten Negro newspapers; in 1880, there were thirty-one; and in 1890, there were one hundred and fifty-four. I do not know exactly how many Negro newspapers there are today, but I would estimate that there are more than one hundred and fifty.

At the turn of the century, the publication of Negro newspapers was more or less a side-line profession or business. At that time the greater portion of our publishers depended for a living upon teaching, preaching, law, medicine, office holding or other endeavors.

As the twentieth century grew, so did Negro newspapers and the

THE VATICAN'S POLITICAL POWER

President Truman found it necessary recently to deny reports that he plans to accredit an American ambassador to the Vatican. In view of Truman's record for honesty, we will not be surprised to learn shortly that such an ambassador has been sent from the USA to Rome.

Be that as it may, it is well to know something of the role of the Vatican in world politics—as illustrated, for example, by the part it played in World War II. For it is with the Vatican's role as a world political power that we will be (and have been) dealing. After the last war the Allies captured numerous documents which revealed the relations between the Pope and other political personages. An outstanding authority on the subject is Avro Manhattan's work THE VATICAN IN WORLD POLITICS—a book well worth reading and re-reading.

After a fully documented expose of the immense contributions made directly by the Vatican and the national hierarchies in Italy, Spain, Germany and elsewhere in helping Mussolini, Franco, Hitler and other powers—the author presents a detailed account of how the Vatican helped Hitler launch World War II and supported the Axis to the day of its downfall.

When Hitler was preparing to invade Poland he asked the Pope "first, not to condemn the invasion, and secondly, not to ask the Catholics in Poland to oppose it, but to rally them to a crusade against the Soviets." The Pope agreed. Not a word of condemnation did he offer when Poland was overrun in 1939. Contrast this with his "lofty moral" condemnation of the USSR when she fought Finland.

When Norway was invaded in 1940 the Pope was asked to condemn the invasion. Again he remained dumb . . . though only a few months before he widely publicized his "five peace propositions" in which he claimed concern for the "rights of small nations." When Belgium, France and Holland were conquered "the Vatican ordered the German hierarchy to say prayers of thanksgiving in all German Catholic Churches for the Fuehrer."

And the Pope opened secret negotiations with Hitler for a new Concordat—an agreement with Hitler in which, in return for a privileged position for the Church in the New Germany and "wherever German armies conquered," the Hierarchy would "make itself indispensible to the nation for the victorious conclusion of the war." In January 1941 the German biships in an official statement expressed the hope that they "shall be allotted a share in the internal reconstruction of the Greater Reich. . . ."

No Help to the Allies

As Nazi armies ravaged vast areas of the USSR, the Vatican advised the national hierarchies throughout the world, even in the Allied countries, "to support the military campaign against the Godless Russians. . . ."

But when the Soviet Union began to counterattack, the Vatican tried desperately to keep the USA and Great Britain from aiding our Ally and to "find a means of preventing Russia from advancing westwards."

Roosevelt advised the Pope that there was no hope of a negotiated peace with Hitler and urged that the Vatican should "come to some understanding" with the USSR. When the Vatican refused, FDR sent Msgr. Spellman to Rome—where the Pope informed him that he could not "accept the request of President Roosevelt to call on the Catholic world to fight Nazi Germany . . . because the Vatican is unable to identify itself with the war aims of any group of belligerents."

However, as the evil Nazi power reached its final days the Vatican called urgently for a "peace without revenge" and "began once more to warn the victorious nations . . . that the Allies had to be generous to Germany and . . . that they had to take measures to prevent the spreading of Communism. . . ."

When the Allies entered Germany, the German cardinals and bishops began to "thunder against wicked Nazism"—but one of their leaders, Archbishop Groeber, published a pastoral letter confessing ". . . in the eyes of God at least we (the hierarchy) bear quite a bit of responsibility." Amen.

Indian Discontent Mounts At United States Arrogance

DELHI, Telepress—The arrogant behaviour adopted by United States policy-makers on questions concerning the Far Eastern countries and the constant flouting by the American government of the views of the Asian countries themselves is causing mounting discontent in Indian parliamentary circles.

Many members of parliament have expressed the strongest indignation at the United States diplomatic record in the Far East since the outbreak of the Korean war. The main points which have been mentioned as causing bitterness are:

First, despite the opposition of the Asian countries, which were most vitally concerned, the United States used their voting machine in the United Nations to push through the resolution condemning China as an "aggressor";

Second, President Truman, ignoring the declaration of Indian Premier Pandit Nehru that it would be dangerous for the "United Nations" forces in Korea to cross the 38th parallel, and without paying the slightest attention to the opinion of other governments on this question, gave MacArthur the right to cross the 38th parallel should it become a "tactical necessity";

Third, despite the fact that many delegates representing Asian countries have openly pointed to the danger of American policy on Korea, the United States government continues the same policy and does not even deign to consult the opinion of Asian delegates at the United Nations who are interested in the speediest and peaceful settlement of the Korean conflict.

The view rapidly extending to broad sections of the Indian parliament is that the United States has revealed itself to be concontinuing the traditions of the old colonial powers in Asia—and is using the United Nations as an instrument to achieve the objects of American policy in the Far East.

The United States flouting of the interests of the Asian nations, it is being said in parliamentary circles, has shown that it is merely pursuing a policy in favour of the great colonial powers.

There is a growing trend of opinion that favours pressure on the Indian government to take a firmer stand in opposition to American policies, in particular against the transforming of the United Nations into a tool of American foreign policy.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mrs. Bass:

I enjoy the EAGLE always, and your Eagle's Nest. To encourage young writers is a wonderful idea.

Inclosed is a little poem, a story dedicated to all women who search for that one special hat for Easter.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Velma P. Latimore

(The poem is in the Eagle's Nest of this issue.)

My dear Mrs. Bass:

I want to demonstrate my deepest gratitude to you by writing you personally.

If it hadn't been for front-page publicity in your newspaper concerning my missing baby, I don't know when I would have found her.

When my husband took her, he left her in the care of complete strangers. I received a message through my lawyer that the baby was in Fresno. I went there, and true enough she was there. Through the neglect of my husband she contracted pneumonia. He left her with a lady several weeks without providing food and money for her care.

And for that great favor—for getting her back home again—my family joins me in expressing our gratitude to you.

Respectfully yours,
Cecelia Dowe Sanders

Mrs. Charlotta Bass, Publisher
California Eagle,
Los Angeles, Calif.

Dear Mrs. Bass:

As a long-time reader of the California Eagle, it behooves me to write and say that I think the paper is making a greater contribution with each issue on behalf of working people, and in particular, that militant section, the Negro people.

As a proud representative of the hard-hitting MCS membership, I feel it necessary to thank the California Eagle for the many articles you've run setting forth the Union's position. We are appreciative of the support you've given us, and know that the Negro communities up and down the Coast will not let the only truly American seafaring union on the Pacific down in its present struggle against some of the cannibals of the labor movement, namely the NMU-CIO and the SUP-AFL.

We say "truly American union" because we put into practice long ago the Constitution and Bill of Rights. We do practice liberty and justice for all. We will continue to do so.

Keep up the good work. Your voice is needed much, and should and will be extended.

Sincerely and fraternally yours,

HUGH BRYSON,
President

Mrs. Charlotta Bass,
c/o California Eagle,
Los Angeles, Calif.

Dear Mrs. Bass:

Your open letter which appeared in your paper on February 15th has been brought to my attention. I am sure you did not intentially misinterpret my remarks and my policies, but nevertheless that is what the letter does.

My speech in the House relative to "phony" Communist peace groups most certainly did not accuse those who oppose the eighteen-year old draft as being Communists. In fact, I myself have not yet been convinced that we must draft eighteen-year olds in order to build up adequate defense forces.

What I did say and what I know to be true is that the Communists, operating through "phony" peace groups, are endeavoring to contact the parents

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By PENN

We have had occasion in the past to comment upon anti-Negro antics of CIO leadership, but we have never been more disgusted than at the most recent meeting of the Los Angeles CIO Council.

Two actions took place at that meeting that should prove to every Negro union member that CIO leadership is not interested in his welfare.

Not only is CIO brass refusing to help in the fight for the rights of Negro workers on the job; but they are so callous in their disregard of the rights of the Negro as a man and an individual that they even use the Ol' Massa-slave language of the South.

Sharply aware of their own failure to give more than lip service to the ideal of equal rights for Negro workers on the job, CIO leaders brought before the Council two resolutions that condemned the Los Angeles Conference for Negro Rights. The conference is set for March 18 at the Elks Auditorium.

"Blackie" Lunceford, secretary and kingpin of the council, led up to the condemnation of the conference with a resolution supporting the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. In this resolution was a slighting reference to the Negro Labor Council, sponsors of the conference. This resolution lauded NAACP to the skies and hinted that the Negro Labor Council was trying to take over the functions of NAACP.

Just incidentally, of course, the CIO resolution patted itself on the back. It congratulated CIO for having backed and supported NAACP for years.

One of the delegates to the CIO council, also a member of the Negro Labor Council, got the floor to explain that NLC was not in any way trying to take over the functions of NAACP. He pointed out that NAACP concerned itself mostly with civil rights of Negroes, at least theoretically—and that the NLC was dedicated to fighting for the rights of Negroes on the job.

He outlined the way Negroes were treated in industry. They are traditionally the last to be hired and the first to be fired. They are given only the heaviest, dirtiest kind of work. Their years of service with a company means nothing when advancements to a better-paying job are available.

He spoke of the formation of the Los Angeles Negro Labor Council, born of the need for an organization to stop discrimination on the job.

Lunceford then introduced the second resolution dealing with the Conference for Negro Rights. This one pulled out all the stops—this one was going to end the whole matter once and for all.

Did the resolution say that the CIO Council was right in there fighting for the rights of Negro workers? Did it say that there was no need for the Conference for Negro Rights because CIO would take care of the problem? Did it promise that its Fair Employment Practices Committee would do something about job discrimination?

No.

The resolution alleged that the Negro Labor Council was a Communist front, that the Conference for Negro Rights was going to be Communist-dominated, and that everybody connected in any way with any part of the action was a Communist.

One delegate who tried to get the floor and speak on the resolution was not recognized by the chairman. After the motion to dopt the resolution passed, the chairman belatedly said, "Excuse me, I didn't see you."

Without knowing who the speakers at the Conference for Negro Rights on March 18 will be, without knowing what the program will be, we urge every Negro union member—wait—we urge every Negro worker, whether a union member or not, to attend the Conference.

Let the workers who attend the meeting decide what the value of the Conference is. Let them decide whether the Conference is going to do more about the rights of workers on the job than the CIO brass with their much talk and no action—with their smell of porkchops ofr all, but nothing for Negro workers to sink their teeth into.

The second incident at the council meeting that was an insult to every Negro delegate (and there are few these days in top CIO bodies) and was an insult to the man involved.

One of the CIO brasshats got up and with great dignity was going to prove that CIO was a democratic organization, that it was going to have Negroes in top positions in the higher bodies, and that anybody who said that CIO was discriminatory was not only a liar, but must be a radical and a trouble-maker.

This CIO bigshot made a mighty flowery speech. We can't quot it exactly, but this is the general idea:

"Here is a BOY that everybody knows.

"This BOY has been active in the UAW for many years.

"This BOY has done outstanding work for Fair Employment Practices. . . .

"I would like to nominate this BOY for vice-president of the Greater Los Angeles CIO Council."

The BOY to whom the CIO brass was referring was E. J. Franklin, chairman of UAW's FEP committee in this area.

Franklin, however, is a mature man. Without knowing when he was born, we'd guess that he's at least 30 years old. However, knowing CIO better than we do Franklin, we'd make another guess and add at least another five or ten years to that.

Even taking the 30-year-old guess, Franklin isn't a BOY for our money. Franklin is a man, and we would be happy if he would prove he's one and decline the nomination for Council vice-president.

Out point, however, is that despite the attempts of CIO brass to prove they stand for equal rights for all, they still use the old slave language—they use the word "Boy" when they speak of a Negro.

French, German Women Appeal To World Against Remilitarizing Germany

On the occasion of the annual Council meeting of the Women's International Democratic Federation, held in Berlin Feb. 1-5, 1951, representatives of the French and German women met and discussed their common campaign against the remilitarisation of Germany. They issued the following appeal:

The signatories of the Atlantic Pact have decided to remilitarise the American, French and British occupied zones of Germany. The recruiting of the German army has already begun. Three times in 75 years, our husbands, our sons, have killed each other; and the remilitarisation of Germany is to lead to a new war.

But we women want no more war.

The memories of the Hitlerite war and the immeasurable suffering that it brought to our families and our people is still fresh in our minds.

DYER— No. ONE

Our homes and our family lives were destroyed. Our husbands, our fathers, our brothers and even our daughters were torn from us.

Every day we had to fear bombardment, we had to tremble for the lives of our children. Homes and towns were reduced to ashes.

A new war would be even more frightful. It would surpass in cruelty all that we have known up to now.

Our countries would become battlefields and be transformed into deserts.

The sufferings of the Korean people, inflicted by the American General MacArthur and his Old Age Conf.

SACRAMENTO — Approximately 50 representative Californians will meet here Thursday to consider organization and content of a statewide conference on the problems of aged persons scheduled to be conducted in Sacramento in June. Adrien J. Falk of San Francisco, appointed by Governor Earl Warren as general conference chairman, made the announcement.

The governor, in summoning the committee to Sacramento for Thursday's meeting, said the coming conference will be similar to earlier "town meetings of the people" which dealt with problems of employment, youth, mental hygiene "and other subjects of vital importance to California."

WE ARE MANY, THEY ARE FEW

By JIM ROGERS

(Based on the Jean Field case of Los Angeles and Oklahoma City)

PART THREE—CONTINUED FROM LAST WEEK

Some miles away,
Prober turned to the witness stand, and
Jean Field fought the Prober,
A woman
Strangely unimpressed with Prober's might.
No bang-up case for
Attacking lawyer or benign judge.
The letters, indeed, the letters
She sent to her son and daughter,
The unfit letters from a fit mother.
Contradiction here,
Better spread the case on
Those two simple letters
Telling of Korea and the Negro people.
No other issue here.

Jean Field fought back.
The gruelling questions,
To burn part of her life away,
Turned back on themselves sometimes,
The lawyer not the happiest man.
"Did you or did you not teach your son:
'The people have nothing in common
With those who direct the policies of
This nation'?"
"I can't answer that yes or no."
"Did you or did you not teach that!"
"I taught him a principle,
A principle that can be applied
To any nation."
"But you said, 'this nation,'
The letter says, 'this nation'!"

Jefferson dipped his pend and wrote:
"Every government degenerates when
Trusted to the rulers of the people
Alone.
The people themselves, therefore,
Art its only safe depositories."
The attacking lawyer tore
Jefferson's pen away.
"Mrs. Field, do you mean this nation,
Do you mean President Truman,
Do you mean,
Do you mean,
Do you mean—
Jefferson scratched on,
This man was a fool and dangerous,
Better call Paine in on the case.
A drumhead was needed to thump on,
As well as a quill to scratch notes.
America, our America,
Must fight like of old.

The rumbling in the court went on,
As Sam Jones packed the kids back home.
He didn't hear the rumbling yet,
He was merely looking after kids.
They had had a glorious day,
A wonderful, sun-drenched California day.
Then he went his way.
Back to where he lived
Near his niece's place.
A subdued man,
Soft in tone to all he knew,
His niece and her family.
They loved him very much.
When you trace this man's life,
This worker's footprints,
There is nothing to say
Except—
You come away stronger
For meeting
Sweetness unashamed in a man.

Jay and Mary Field,
Sitting in Inquisitor's Court,
Missed Sam Jones that day,
They didn't know him, but
They missed him.
They clung to their mother's figure
On the stand beyond,
They heard the Inquisition
Carefully avoid—
Negroes.
Look at the statute books,
No Jim Crow in this state!
Keep the issue down,
Embarrassing,
Observe the law now,
People might get wise, but
Jean Field dragged the issue in,
Defense ripped the curtain
Aside—

Aside—
From Sam Jones.
Nobody in court knew he existed,
In name that he walked the earth,
Worked on it, construction laborer,
Helping to grow, not destroy man's seed plan,
But he was there,
In name
And exposed.

Sam Jones heard the rumbling now,
In L.A. Court some miles away,
Denying him and
His people, and
He smiled, deeply troubled.
A young man, 35 years,
He clenched his fists,
No brawler, Sam, but
He clenched his fists,
For the rumbling was fierce now,
Some people trying to pretend
He wasn't there, and Always wanting him to disappear.

"Jay Field is a boy who regards
Negro playmates as equals."
Defense was talking.
Then—
"Objection, Your Honor."
"Objection sustained."
Your Honor, this is an important
Part of the case.
This boy and girl would suffer
Serious maladjustment in a home where Negroes are denied."
"The objection is sustained," and
The judge sat motionless.

What happened
Happened when Sam and a friend, Nat,
Rode to Wilmington that night
Discrimination in San Pedro feed-places,
Just a point.
So off to Wilmington after a game of cards,
They drove and gabbed
Until . . .
Sam spotted the police car following.
He put on the brakes,
This had happened before,
The stopping, the questioning,
For no reason.
But Sam was still patient,
Shackles prepare a man . . .
To put on the brakes, and Think, and Agonize.

The noose drew tighter
In Field vs. Field, but in Civilized way,
Lynching is such selective genius.
Flames lit up the courtroom as
The words crackled.
It looked,
Ah, yes, it looked
As if
The kids would be placed in
Their proper world,
Back with their father,
Who would force
Poison on blooded children.

The cops came up to Sam's car,
The questioning short this time,
Why expect words from
Demolition experts.
They got Sam from the car,
Sobriety test, of course,
For a man who didn't drink,
And they started
To Fix
Sam.
His friend lay in the car,
In stone,
His turn was next, and he watched
The cops,
Upholders of the People's Peace,
Who ride in the People's Car,
Stop a vibrant nerve
Of that People.

No fuss,
'Operation Killer'
The Crocodile would call it.
There were four cops by now,
They jumped Sam's face,
His head,
Get the exactness here . . .
Jumped his groin,
Jumped with full-meal energy,
Strength through absolute joy,
Beat and stamped out—
A living black man.

Animals invading the Kingdom of Sam Jones,
Imperialism wearing a police badge
In Wilmington, California,
Taking its orders from hyenas on top.
And when they were through . . .
Ah, America, isn't it about time . . .
When they were through,
They had done a thorough job,
Tough and thorough,
Made it tough for the coroner later on,
There were so many marks to list.
Don't forget the hemorrhaging
Through the right ear,
Put that down.

And when they were through,
The rumbling from the court
Some miles away
Had ceased in Sam's ear.
Nathaniel Ray was next,
But they were easier with Nat,
They let him live to crawl . . .
They let him live
To have his night in court.

The flames rose higher, the words
Devoured.
"Children always cry
When separated from their mother,"
The Court intoned and clasped its hands,
As the final decision was handed down.
Jay was full,
A young boy hating and full,
Always to remember.
He was biting the seconds
Mary with buried head.
Then they were ripped right out from
The embrace of the New World and
Jean Field,
Who hurled
Through fighter's tears,
"This is not the end!"

As Nat Ray fingered the Bleeding pieces of his friend's life,
He heard this challenge, and
He looked at these children.
Then drew close to his own,
Especially the youngest,
Who would knock himself to sleep.
It was exciting to watch him.
Yes, the fight would go on,
Nat knew that,
In turning from his first-born.
He knew, too,
His children were slated for cold murder.
But knew on ething more—
Friends were gathering . . . gathering,
The many against the few.

The Crocodile drew back a little
In secret terror,
Things were going badly.
In a number of places.
And the hyenas crouched a little . . .
To consider
Jefferson's shadow lengthening on the wall.

THE GOLD MEDAL AWARD FOR 1950 or a Self-Realization Fellowship Services to Humanity to be presented to Dr. John A. Somerville, Police Commissioner, Sunday, April 8. The cross symbolizes man with his arms outstretched, facing the rising sun. The star of David symbolizes the descending consciousness of God (represented by the downward-pointing triangle) blending with the ascending consciousness of man (represented by the superimposed upward-pointing triangle). The eye in the five-pointed star represents the spiritual eye, or the all-seeing eye of wisdom. The lotus with its roots in the mire and its crown in the sun represents the spiritual development of man, his roots in the mire of ignorance, his head in the clouds, aspiring to the sun of wisdom. The inwardly searching soul-lotus opens the petals of its faculties to the sun of Spirit.

Got The Flu?

Here is what to do if you think you have influenza.

The advice comes from Dr. George M. Uhl, city health officer.

Go to bed. Don't go to work, where you will infect others. Staying home will also prevent the development of complications which kill more victims than influenza itself.

If you are seriously ill, call a doctor. Don't wait until you are too seriously debiliated.

Stay in bed two days after your temperature subsides, and stay home recuperating two days after that.

If you are now well, keep up your resistance with adequate food and rest. Avoid people who are ill.

Artist in Jamaica

NEW YORK—Richmond Barthe, well-known young Negro sculptor, has arrived in Jamaica, B. W. I., where he will make his home on a 2½-acre tract overlooking the Caribbean Sea. Mr. Barthe is giving up sculpture in order to devote his time entirely to painting, which is what he has always wanted to do.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

of eighteen-year old boys in order to spread their vicious propaganda, which is against any preparedness for the United States but strongly in favor of a large military force for Russia. In my speech, I said:

"The Communists are, of course, fully cognizant of the fact that many good citizens are concerned, as we all are, over the necessity of requiring our young men to spend considerable time in the Armed Forces. They are seeking to capitalize upon this concern by using it as a pretense to contact as many citizens as possible in order to spread their propaganda calculated to destroy faith in our Government, weaken our Armed Forces, and our determination to resist the aggression plotted by the imperialists in the Kremlin. We can see the propaganda on the petitions, but we know not what lies the Communists used to obtain the signatures. We can well imagine that those who signed will be indexed and catalogued for future softening up by the Communists."

Your letter referes to Gerald L. K. Smith. You are, of course, aware of the fact that during the entire time that I have been in public life, I have fought all of the hate-mongers, including Gerald L. K. Smith, and they have always fought bitterly against me. I do not share your high regard for the political opinions of Paul Robeson. He is a very fine artist, but has been completely misled by Communist propaganda.

You perhaps noted that after my speech in the House, Mr. Ernest Brashear of the Los Angeles Daily News, a member of the C.I.O. newspaper guild, was ousted from a "peace" meeting in our district for being observed taking notes. The so-called peace group which ousted him gave as its address the same address used by the Southern California Peace Council, which in my opinion is nothing more than a new Communist front orgaization. The Communists are not really interested in peace, except upon their terms, which means our complete surender to them.

I shall appreciate the courtesy if you will print this letter in its entirety, and give it the same prominence given to your open letter to me.

Sincerely,
Sam Yorty

The Birth of the Negro

publishing business among Negroes. Papers appearing in handbill sizes during the early 1900's have developed into large papers of many pages and varied features and services.

No section of the world is too remote or too distant to make the pages of the Negro press. In the last quarter century, these papers had war correspondents in every combat area of the world. They maintain coverage currently from Korea and Japan, as well as from the available world capitals.

After one hundred and twenty-four years, the aims toward which the Negro press strives still remain goals yet to be attained. Today, possibly the only resemblance between this press and its early predecessors is the characteristic of protest.

The early Negro press was born of protest, the modern Negro press must continue in protest. It must chaperon the rights of Negroes and strive to protect the basic freedoms of the democratic way of life. So as it protests, it chaperons and protects the right.

Happy birthday to the Negro press!

FRENCH-GERMAN WOMEN APPEAL TO THE WORLD

troops of aggression, are a foretaste of what would be our fate, too, in such a war.

The division of Korea made possible Truman's abominable aggression. The division of Germany enables the American warmakers to launch a third world war and to submit both our countries to such massacres as are now being committed in Korea.

They will not be successful, because we women and mothers do not want to expose our children to the frightful death of the Korean children. We like the women of Korea, do not want to be hunted and massacred by American bombs. We do not want to see the systematic annihilation of all that we live and hold dear in our fatherlands—out town, our villages and our fields.

We do not want new Goethes, Curies, Beethovens and Hugos to be lost to humanity.

It is to save all this that we women and mothers are immovably opposed to the remilitarization of Germany and that we will do everything possible to prevent it.

We oppose the formulation of an army of mercenaries including Nazi war criminals, under the direction of Eisenhower.

We the French women, will redouble our efforts to assure the success of the national referendum against the rearmament of Germany.

We, the German women, will do everything possible to make Adenauer accept a plebiscite against remilitarization.

We will unite all our efforts to win the signing of a peace treaty in 1951, with a united, democratic, demilitarized Germany—the essential guarantee of peace.

We women have enough strength to halt the warmakers if we join with all men and women who love peace.

We call upon all the women and all the mothers of the countries which have signed the Atlantic Pact:

Demand of your governments and of all your representatives that they apply the decisions of the Second World Peace Congress of Warsaw, aimed at preventing the remilitarization of Germany.

Women of the world, let us unite! Let us unite all our forces to save peace and our children's future!

RC at Roberts

Continued expansion of facilities at the U. S. Army Hospital at Camp Roberts have brought about the re-opening of the Red Cross building there, scheduled for next week. Renovation and operation of the lounge and other facilities are in charge of Miss Dorothy Kaemlein and Miss Margaret Shuhan, who were sent to Camp Roberts from an assignment at Madigan General Hospital at Fort Lewis, Washington.

Attractions at the Red Cross building will include movies, which may also be shown in wards at a later date, ping-pong and pool tables, and music and the like. Facilities will also be on hand for letter-writing, with space available for parties.

In addition to their hospital duties, Miss Kaemlein and Miss Shuhan will also operate as any other Red Cross field unit, giving aid in obtaining service personnel and their families.

Face in the Window

CHICAGO, Ill.—A grim, haunting story of a face with a twisted, mocking smile, plainly etched on a pane of glass in the county courthouse in the sleepy town of Carrolton, Ala. (pop. 620) and the legends that have gown up around it is unfolded in the current issue of EBONY, Negro picture magazine.

Townspeople, according to EBONY, say it is the face of Henry Wells, a Negro who was hidden in the courthouse attic one night in 1878 by a sheriff trying to protect him from a lynch mob. "As the fury of the would-be lynchers reached its angry climax, it is said that a blinding bolt of lightning seemed to cut a path between the mob and the condemned Negro, its brilliant flash stamping his face indelibly on the pane as he stood looking down in terror on the vengeance-bent mob below," says EBONY.

EBONY publishes photographs which bear out the awesome "Face in the Window." Some believe it is a rare phenomen of "lightning photography." But through all the years, despite rain and storm, says EBONY, the "face" has defied every test of removal. "The pane itself has been replaced three different times; it has been scrubbed with soap, acid and gasoline, but Henry's face continues to come back, unchanged in its ghost-like apearance," says the magazine.

As might be expected with such a grisly phenomen as this, almost every one of the 600 persons living in Carrolton has a story of how the "face" mysteriously remains in the window and EBONY recounts most of the versions in its article.

Ethel Waters Life-Story "Book Of Year"

NEW YORK CITY (CNS)—There is nothing quite like "His Eye Is On the Sparrow," the life story of our great Ethel Waters, who, in the past two years has made a magnificent and lucrative comeback to the stage and screen.

So unusual is this story that it has been already suggested to book buyers as truly a "book of the year." For Miss Waters, as one critic puts it, "survived a dozen catastrophes that would have killed off whole armies of the howling and bewildered heroes who march through the cadenced agonies of so many recent novels."

When Miss Waters was born in the slums of Chester, near Philadelphia, unwanted and unloved, her future was not spectacularly bright. And there is nothing in the whole desperate catalog of man's inhumanities that contemporary novelists force their characters (and invite their readers) to share, that she did not face in the years that followed, the years she describes in "His Eye Is On the Sparrow" with Elizabethan candor. But she fought on.

One of her pet stories comes when she was on board the Ile de France. Her fellow passengers ignored her under her married name. But, as soon as she appeared at the ship's concert as Ethel Waters, they began buzzing. "Where have you been, Miss Waters?" they wanted to know.

"Why ladies I haven't been hiding anywhere," she said. "I've been on the deck every day in my chair. But none of you spoke to me. Yet I'm the very same person I was yesterday. I have the same face, same body, and same color."

Minister Lauds 'Boys Mkt.'

In a letter addressed to the Boys Market, Crenshaw Blvd., Ben Shaw, minister, praised the practice of the company in its hiring of Negroes for the performance of all types of duty according to qualification.

Mr. Shaw commended their action because it was done voluntarily and without pressures, nor as a special bid for the vast spending of Negro buyers in marketing, and should merit the considerations of thinking people throughout the community.

According to Mr. Shaw, Mr. Sam Miller, personnel manager of the store, gave every assurance that Negroes or any other nationality would continuously be accepted upon merit without favor nor compromise and that goods, service, and competitive prices would solicit Negro buying.

The letter follows:

The Management
Boys Markets
Crenshaw at Rodeo Road

Sirs:

Allow me to commend the spirit of democracy as manifest in your policy of employment. I was among the first patrons at the opening of your superb new market and I took cognizance with joy that Colored and other racial group members were looking harmoniously in their service to the public.

It goes without saying that job opportunities are very often closed or narrowly open to Colored citizens and members of certain other racial groups. Unfortunately, this and other discriminatory practices is to the shame of our country.

I am sure that you shall always enjoy a most popular patronage from all people as a result of your stellar merchandising and the fair selection of personnel regardless of racial background.

May God bless and prosper you.

Sincerely,
Ben B. Shaw
Minister of The Gospel

Lucky Duchess Black And Gold Formal Striking in Color

The twelve girls who make up the Lucky Duchess Bridge Club gave their Second Black and Gold Formal Saturday evening, the third of March, at the beautiful Elks Ballroom.

The lovely ladies were striking in their gold dresses and black gloves, with the president in bouffant black.

For the first time in a long while there was a receiving line and the Lucky Duchesses personally greeted their thousand guests before going to the beautifully decorated stage to be introduced by Master of Ceremonies Ralph Porter.

It is to Ralph Porter that the ladies owe their unique decor and the positively beautiful corsakes of orchids and yellow roses, twined with a sheer black and gold ribbon.

Sammy Franklin provided an evening of dancable music and this favorite with the social crowd, as usual, pleased with a varied choice of tunes.

Dorothea Burns heads the club as president; Isabel Robertson, vice president; Maurine Moon, recording secretary; Cora Robinson, reporter; Aurelia Martin, treasurer; Alma Callahan, business manager; Lonella Enix, sergeant-at-arms; the members: Louise McCline, Dorothy Crawford, Ida Parker, Anna Bell Johnson, Elizabeth Williams.

The social scene can add one more enjoyable and nique evening to the credit of the Lucky Duchess Bridge Club. With the exception of a very few, all of the women guests wore the requested black and gold formal attire.

mer president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the Hancock Property Owners' Association fought Cole's purchase of the property. The musician moved in after a U. S. Supreme Court decision outlawed race restrictive covenants.

The property was seized under the 100-year-old federal law, which requires that furnishings worth $300, school books and $50 in food may not be seized. Under the law Cole's musical instruments cannot be seized. Cole is currently on tour in Philaadelphia.

Robert A. Riddell, a collector of internal revenue, said that the seizuer was not particularly aimed at Cole, but that it was part of a nation-wide crackdown on tax delinquents who owe large sums to the government.

Unde rthe law Cole may redeem his property within 30 days.

Pandering Charge

LOS ANGELES, (NPB)—Hallie Johnson, 2233 Wellington Road, was ordered held to answer the charge of pandering when she appeared in Division 4 of the Municipal Court here last Friday. Bail was set at $25000 by the court. The defendant was ordered to appear in Department 41 of the Superior Court on March 26 to enter a plea.

Mrs. Johnson, widely known in local underworld circles as Helen Walker, is reputed to be one of the west's most successful Negro women "madames." Her arrest came as an aftermath of a spectacular police raid upon a West Sixth street palace where a lewd show was being exhibited and a 15-year-old girl was captured as one of the participants.

Atty. Walter L. Gordon Jr., who appeared at the preliminary examination for Mrs. Johnson, successfully blocked the prosecution's attempts to link the woman with trafficking in women and men for participation in lewd exhibitions to one single count of pandering and succeeded in having the bail reduced from the $5000 bond sought by the prosecution to $2500.

Canadian Price, Wage Control

OTTAWA — Canada's Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent asked parliament for complete power to institute control of prices, wages and manpower.

Canadian prices are now at an all-time high while wages have lagged far behind, especially in the past year. Under cover of "national emergency," it is expected that Canada will instiute the same type of controls as have recently been put into effect in the United States. —Telepress.

Texas Mason Chips New 'Stone'

AUSTIN, Texas—A British king may yet sit upon an American stone if the gift of a tobacco-chewing Texas monument maker is accepted. The mason, E. B. Adams, is chipping out of sandstone a replacement for Britain's missing Stone of Scone. His chief worry, apparently, is "how the presentation should be made."

Water and Power To Supply South Gate More Water

To meet the ever-increasing demands for water in fast-growing Los Angeles, the Board of Water Commissioners, upon recommendation of General Manager Samuel B. Morris, has awarded a contract to install a new 32,234-foot outlet line from Silver Lake reservoir to the south side, at a cost of $2,164,925.

Successful bidder was P. and J. Artukovich, Inc. Work on the huge line is expected to start in April and be completed in a year.

The line, consisting of 60- and 66-inch diameter welded steel pipe, will extend over six miles from Silver Lake reservoir to 43rd and Figueroa streets. It will have a capacity of 57,000,000 gallons a day, approximately one-seventh of the city's current total water demands, according to Burton S. Grant, chief engineer of waterworks.

The new line will furnish added supplies of water to satisfy increased demands and also will improve pressures in the area served.

Voice of America

Proposed broadcast from the Church of the Whited Sepulchre, Easter morning, 1951.

The Rusians who insist on peace
Are clearly guilty of aggression.
We seek no inch of foreign soil
But Taiwan stays in our possession.

We work to spread democracy
By propping Franco up in Spain.
We hope to stave off World War III
By arming Germany again.

The Chinese whom we burn alive
Do not observe the rules of war.
The gentle rule of Syngham Rhee
To all Korea we shall restore.

Our equal justice frees Herr Krupp
And gives him back his factories.
To Jews who want their homes returned
We give the status of DPs.

The Indians can learn from us
How to be rich instead of poor.
We hoard our surplus food while they Die of starvation at our door.

CARE packages attest to our Unrivalled generosity;
They cost us quite a fraction of
The oil we take from Araby.

The UN Charter is the sure
Foundation of our policy;
China's exclusion rightly keeps
Our merited majority.

Our deep respect for womanhood
We demonstrate at Martinsville,
Where seven Negroes die for rape.
(White men get seven years in jail.)

All nations know America
Would never start another war.
The peace petition is the crime
Dubois has been indicated for.

Beacons to a benighted world
Are our unblemished films and press,
Restrained by modesty alone
From showing our true righteousness.

KENDRIX COMMENTS

ST. LOUIS—If I should write a letter to "Democracy, U.S.A." and mail it to Washington—the nation's capital, it would likely be forwarded to some other American city or be returned to its sender marked, "Address Unknown."

The fact is, the City on the Potomac does not practice "Democracy Unlimited." On the other hand, Washington, with its beacon-position in world affairs, should be the known and advertised capital of practiced democracy.

Most important is the fact that Washington is ready for democracy. This is undeniable. Since I live in Washington, I know it to be a city of contradictions. But its complimentary aspects are in a majority key.

Without a doubt, Washington is ready for democracy, and one does not have to be there long to sense this readiness among the people. After all, it is among the people that true democracy must take its growth.

I can point to many personal experiences that are to me self-evident of the growing acceptance of democracy in the District of Columbia. Fresh in my mind, and contradictory, too, is a recent case involving my wife and me.

We had shopped all morning in a downtown department store. The natural desire for food drew us to the stores' snack counte, where we awaited our turns for seats. Once seated, we learned that our money was good enough.

But if we wanted to be served, we would have to move to another section of the counter, where no seats were provided. We elected to sit it out, and for an hour and a half "white" shoppers rushed in at both sides of us.

No one seemed to be the least bit concerned over our presence, nor did anyone resentfully depart or refuse service because we occupied seats at that eat-counter. People in Washington seem to be too busy to worry over such minor matters.

They eat in the government cafeterias, at the YWCA, the bus terminal, the Union Station, uptown drug stores and dinner clubs without any notice of Negro patrons. They sit where they wish on street cars and buses and share taxicabs.

Thousands of people of the two races work side-by-side in Uncle Sam's employment, and in private and commercial service. Traffi cis directed by Negro policemen, and many "white" homes are saved by colored firefighters.

Some of Washington's first-class hotels serve Negroes in support of their beliefs that color is not a factor in their business. While other such hotels have turned away East Indians, for instance, for fear they might be accommodating American Negroes.

What Washington needs is a tangible program to give implementation to the democracy for which it is ready. President Truman was right, when he said on Christmas eve that "democracy is the harvest of faith."

I believe that Washington has faith in democracy—"faith in one's self, one's neighbors and faith in God." Through this faith, I am positve can come a "brotherhood and dignity of man" that would be expressive in the nation's capital.

Washington needs only to exity" and "courage' 'to bring to that city the reality of a truly democratic Nation's capital. The people of D. C. are ready and it can happen in this year.

As a citizen of Washington, without any ties-of-pressure, I call upon Mr. Truman to use his executive influence to prompt the coming of a fuller democracy to Washington — the city to which all the Free World looks for guidance in this Age of Crisis.

World News

'Why Are We Here?' Asks Soldier

NEW YORK — The American press continues to receive a flood of letters protesting against the continuation of the war in Korea and openly opposing American foreign policy.

The Pittsburgh Sun Telegraph prints a letter from Helen Dave: "My sister wrote my brother who is a soldier in Korea and asked him if there was anything he wanted. He replied: 'As far as wanting anything, there is just one thing you might be able to get for me. Find out why we are fighting over here. No one knows and I would sure like to know in case somebody asks me.'"

Another letter in the Pittsburgh Press says "You can stop a communist with a bullet, but you cannot stop the spread of communism with bullets or bombs. . . . Refugee mothers, wounded and frozen to death. Little children frozen beside them. Who is guilty?"

A Washington newspaper printed the following letter: "I have read stories about our soldiers' high morale, but from letters I had from Korea and conversations with several returned wounded, I have found that this is either a figment of someone's imagination or of someone's censorship. The American soldiers over there want to know three things in particular. When are they coming home? When is the United Nations going to do something? Why are they there in the first place?"

The same paper carried the following letter: "If it be treason and communism to put the welfare of our nation above the wounded pride of our leaders then we already have thought control and are under a dictatorship."

Education for Rich

ROME — Legislation approved by the Italian House of Deputies increasing university tuition fees will mean that only the sons of the rich will be able to obtain higher education in Italy.

The increases were voted by the Christian Democrat - Social Democrat majority despite all efforts of the Communist and Socialist deputies to amend the law in order to make it possible for the children of workers families to afford university education.

Besides the tuition fees being increased five-fold, entrance and examination taxes were also increased and provisions were approved to impose annual "supertaxes" for special examinations, examinations for receiving university degrees and special supertax for post-graduate and specialization study.

Peace Movement

HAVANA — Stalin's statement was welcomed with enthusiasm by the growing peace movement in Cuba, while the reactionary press at the service of imperialism reprinted fragments of the statement sent by American news agencies, none of which sent the whole text.

The progressive daily La Ultima Hora wrote on Sunday that Stalin's words constitute "a new stimulus and impetus to all those who, having a sense of humanity and loving their peoples, are moved by the supreme interest of saving peace." The same newspaper declares in its Tuesday editorial that Stalin's accusation against imperialist domination in the United Nations and particularly against the submission of the delegates of Latin-American governments that follow faithfully Washington's aggressive policy, is absolutely correct.

"The undeniable fact is that the great landowners and businessmen in our countries are doing their best to help unleash a new international war.

War Not Inevitable

Most papers in Canada gave front-page prominence to Stalin's interview and editors for the most part took as headlines Stalin's statement that war is not inevitable. Editorial comment generally held that Stalin's answers to the Pravda questions did not close the door to negotiations, but the big lie of Soviet aggression was given even greated prominence.

The Globe and Mail repeated the lie about Soviet-inspired aggression in the Orient and declared this could also be expected in the Middle East and West. This is the lie being used by the Canadian Government to cover its 5,000 million dollars rearmament program, but it is not being very readily accepted by the Canadian people as indicated in the address in the Province of Saskatchewan Legislature on February 7th by Cooperative Commonwealth Federation (rightwing Social Democrat) Party Premier Douglas.

Douglas declared that he was willing to fight an election on the issue of the Federal Government's war program. He said that the people of Saskatchewan did not want to send their sons to be slaughtered to bolster corrupt regimes in Asia.

Workers Against Japan

PEKING—Over 660,000 Shanghai workers paraded through the streets of the city from dawn until late afternoon Sunday in a demonstration against the United States policy of rearming Japan. The workers from hundreds of industrial enterprises carried charts showing their record production achievements. The charts also recorded the number of gifts sent to the Chinese people's volunteers and the Korean People's Army by the Shanghai citizens.

Truck drivers and medical workers, from whose ranks many volunteers have gone to Korea, were warmly applauded as they marched past.

During short halts the paraders performed skits exposing the Japanese atrocities in China. Other participants carried pictures and models showing the destruction wrought by the Japanese invaders.

The Colombo Plan

A few weeks ago representatives of the British Commonwealth met once again in Colombo to concretize further details of the Commonwealth Economic Plan for South and Southeast Asia, otherwise known as the Colombo Plan.

The gist of the Plan is to provide an outlay of 1,868 pounds over a six-year period in Ceylon, India, Pakistan, Malaya, North Borneo, Brunei and Sarawak, for the economic development of these areas. There is to be a multi-lateral subscription to the capital investment among the governments of Ceylon, India, Pakistan, Canada, New Zealand, Great Britain and the U. S.

The Plan, the London Economist commented, "has appeared at a crucial stage in the affairs of Southeast Asia. . . ." The London Times wrote: "Here in South and Southeast Asia is a quarter of the world's population, living for the most part in conditions of extreme poverty, undernutrition, preventable disease and illiteracy. Here, too, is a major source of food and raw materials consumed in Europe and America. There is no need today to point to the grievous damage that could be done to the material sinews of the free world by serious instability in this great region. . . ."

Never before has the whole of Southeast Asia been a more alluring gold mine, a more necessary thread in the fabric of the tottering empire. A major bulk of the world's output of natural rubber flows from British colonies in that area, added to which are other valuable raw materials. The precise nature of the value of these colonies was gratefully acknowledged by Mr. Anthony Eden in the case of Malaya, as quoted from the New York Herald Tribune of February 28, 1951: "Despite the strain on planters, tin miners, soldiers, police and the population, Malaya had made a signal contribution to the restoration of British economy and baalnce of payments to the United States."

Cancer Crusade

NEW YORK—The rallying cry of the 1951 Cancer Crusade will be launched nation-wide April 1, by the American Cancer Society is a triple slogan that Society officials said should be a "challenge to everyone."

"Guard your family. Strike back! Give to conquer concer," has been adopted as the official appeal to appear on millions of pamplets, posters, in the press and to be heard on the radio from coast to coast.

General William J. Donovan, chairman of the American Cancer Society Board of Directors, said the message was chosen after considering how universal the cancer problem has become. "One out of every five persons will have cancer, if present rates continue," he said. "But half of those who develop cancer could be cured with prompt treatment."

Joliot-Curie Refused Visa

BERLIN—At the instigation of the Western occupation powers, the Bonn Government refused a transit visa to President of the World Peace Council Professor Frederic Joliot-Curie, who intended to cross West Germany to attend the meeting of the World Peace Council in Berlin.

On his return from the Warsaw Peace Congress last year, Joliot-Curie was arrested on the West German frontier by an American police guard and sent back to Prague although he had a valid West German transit visa.

China's Democratic Parties

PEKIN (NCNA) — Generalissimo Stalin's replies to a Pravda correspondent's questions are commented on by China's democratic parties.

A spokesman of the China Democratic League states: "The whole aggressive bloc is now engaged in a racket of armament expansion, of building up a European army and of rearming Japan and West Germany. Warmongers like Acheson, Eisenhower and Dulles are running here and there for these purposes. On the other hand, what we hear about the Soviet Union is of the construction of new grandiose hydro-electric stations on the Volga, Dnieper, Amu-Darya, and reports concerning the reduction of prices on consumer goods. These facts constitute a vigorous answer to the question of who want peace and who wants war."

Li Chi-shen, Chairman of the Revolutionary Committee of the Kuomintang states: "Generalissimo Stalin's statement, apart from pointing out to the peace-loving people throughout the world a correct way to save and consolidate peace, has relentlessly exposed the war plans and machinations of the imperialist aggressors."

SLAVE-FARM IN SO. AFRICA

JOHANNESBURG — Notorious conditions of slavery with all the brutal accompaniments, employed by South African "white supremacists" in their exploitation of the African people, are being exposed in an inquiry into the conditions on the Transvaal farm of Max Mann opened at Delmas, Transvaal.

The inquiry was opened only after African laborers on Mann's farm had laid 78 charges of assault with intent to do grievous bodily harm against the farmer, his foreman, 31-year-old Johannes Pieters, and six subforemen. A whole arsenal of weapons which Mann used against the African workers were exhibited in court. They included leather-thonged whips, truncheons and other devices for inflicting every form of physical torture.

The first day's witness included emaciated, half-starved African youths aged from 15 to 18. They removed their shirts in court to exhibit the open wounds and large welts inflicted on them by the slave-farm overseers.

They testified that every night they were locked up in a room so small they could not lie down to sleep, and that they were daily thrashed with whips and other instruments while working in the fields. Their clothing and money were taken from them, and they were given grain sacks to wear on the farm.

Diplomats Meet

COLOMBO, Ceylon—American diplomats from South and Southeast Asia met in Colombo, the capital of Ceylon, on February 26. This meeting, like similar ones of the West and European and Middle Eastern diplomats held recently, reviewed the progress of American preparations in thearea for launching a Third World War against the socialist sector of the world and the liberation movements of the colonial peoples.

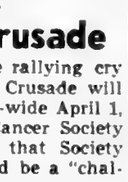
The main fact which American diplomats had to face is the failure so far of their attempts to bring the Asian peoples into their war camp. Their greatest failure has, of course, been their inability to prevent the victory of the people's forces in China or to undermine the stabilization of the People's Republic. This tremendous historical advance in Asia has immensely strengthened liberation forces in all Asian countries.

Prices Down in USSR

MOSCOW—The Soviet people see in their government and Party's latest decree, reducing for the fourth time since 1947 the retail prices of a wide range of essential goods, a clear confirmation that their country is firmly set on a peaceful path.

At a time when the capitalist countries face the perspective of diminishing working-class purchasing power alongside increased arms production, the latest measures have thrown a piercing light on the essential difference between a society whose members are working willingly for peace and being rewarded for their service and one where the workers are being cajoled or tricked into working for war with diminishing rewards.

The price reductions took place as from March 1st, on the following general consumer goods:



Bread, pastry and bakery products by 15 percent; pork, beef, sausages and smoked meat, tinned meat and fowls by 15 percent; fish, sardines, caviar and other fish products by 10 percent; butter by 15 percent; lard, margarine, cheese, milk products and eggs by 10 percent; tea, coffee and cocoa by 10 percent; vodka, liquors and wine by 10 percent; soap by 15 percent; cigarettes and tobacco by 10 percent; all kinds of furniture, hardware and ceramics by 20 percent; safety matches by 20 percent; petrol and crude oil by 22 percent; radio sets, bicycles, motorcycles and spare parts by 10 percent; watches and sewing machines by 10 percent; various building materials, metal and leather goods by 10 to 15 percent.

MARIAN ANDERSON

The most important musical event of the season is the MARIAN ANDERSON concert at the Philharmonic, Sunday afternoon March 18. This great artist has the warmth, depth and simplicity that communicate directly with the hearts of her audiences. She has won the unstinted admiration of eminent composers as well as world applause. However, all these triumphs have not spoiled her. Instead she tries to make her audiences forget Marian Anderson as she devoutly and intelligently interprets the folks songs of her people, the Negro spirituals as well as selections from Bach, Schubert and Brahms. She always seems profoundly moved at the tumultuous applause.

MOZART'S REQUIEM

The magnificent music of Mozart in "The Requiem" will be presented by our friend George Robert Garner in the First Congregational Church also Sunday, the 18th, promptly at 4 o'clock. Mr. Garner will conduct the famed Cathedral Choir of the church. It is interesting to note that Mr. Garner has the distinction of being the first and only Negro to be associated on the staff of this great church. He has pioneered in the field of inter-church relations for many years, and through his efforts many of our fine musical aggregations have benefited by such pioneering. We recall vividly our experience of singing the Mozart "Mass in G"—an opportunity to sing in this cathedral made possible by this musician-minister. The Music Department of the People's Independent Church and these columns extend to Mr. Garner our sincere best wishes in this, his annual Lenten Service.

L'ENFANT PRODIGUE

Palm Sunday evening at 8:30 the Cathedral Choir of the People's Independent Church of Christ will present Debussy's "The Prodigal Son," a one act lyrical opera featuring Bernice Peterson, dramatic soprano, Geo. Priest, tenor and George Comfort, baritone. The principals will be supported by an especially trained opera chorus, ballet, and special staging handled by Wendell James Franklin, with Thommasena Ayers, as the choreographer, and James Brown in charge of lighting. Fannie Evelyn Benjamin will be at one of the Grand pianos. McNeil will conduct from the other.

Men Of Destiny Elect

The Men of Destiny held the election of their new officers at the home of Mr. Douglas Perry, one of their members, Sunday, March 4, 1951. The new officers are: Pres., Mr. Henry Slone; Vice Pres., Mr. Curtis Guice; Financial Secretary, Mr. Toussant Minifee; Treas., Mr. Alvin Jones; Corres. Secretary, Mr. Edward Myricks; Business Mgr., Mr. Mack Johnson and Sgt. of Arms, Mr. Richard Hunter.

After election of officers additional planes were made regarding the old fashioned "Chitterling Strut" they are giving Saturday, March 24, 1951 from 6:00 until 1:00 at Fraternal Hall, 2711 So. San Pedro. There will be dancing, cocktails and of course chitterlings. The tickets for this affair will entitle you to a chitterling dinner, with all the trimmings, or, if you prefer a cocktail and they can be purchased from any one of the Men of Destiny now or at the door of Fraternal Hall the night of the affair.

Palm Sunday Premier

The Palm Sunday premiere performance of Claude Debussy's "L'Enfant Prodigue" will mark a precedent in theatrical and music circles on the Pacific Coast. One of the major controversial issues in recent years has been the Negro and grand opera. Realizing that only a few have been able to sing a performance, Albert John McNeil, brilliant young conductor, has seen fit to present to the concert and theater-going public as well as the church audiences an opera that has a three-fold appeal.

A capacity audience will fill the auditorium of The People Independent Church of Christ Sunday evening to witness this spectacular and unusual production staged and directed by Wendell James Franklin. To add creative originality to the score Fannie Evelyn Benjamin has arranged the music for duo pianos, further enhancement to the production is the ballet choreography designed by Thomasina Ayres who has taken into consideration that the dance came from the church and has played an important part in religious history. The narrative has been written by top radio writer, S. Harry Chodak and narrated by James Scott, radio's newest discovery, and Noel M. Scott, young dramatist of New York. The three principals are well known to the Southern California audiences. Bernice Peterson, winner of the Atwater Kent Awards and acclaimed as one of the top dramatic sopranos on the coast, will sing the role of the mother. Geo. Priest, tenor, one of the oustanding music students of Pepperdine College, is cast in the role of "Azeal" the son. George Comfort, baritone, and whose recent concerts during the past music season, was acclaimed by leading critics, will sing the role of the father.

From a technical point in relationship to professional lighting, James Brown, well known lighting expert, has designed a special rail grid and placed all lighting on rheostat control that will be controlled from a central panel board. Wardrobing the production has been handled by the well known costumer Madam Houda, with makeup by the well known Edward.

Curtain time has been set for 8:30 p.m. and a reception will follow immediately. Another performance will be repeated Thursday evening without subscription to the general public.

BALLET MUSICAL PLANNED

Halevi Chorus In Concert At Wilshire Ebell

A brilliant evening of music and dance has been assembled for the Third Annual Concert of the Halevi Chorus of the Jewish Centers Association scheduled for the Wilshire Ebell Theatre on Sunday evening, April 15. Louis Mandelbaum, chairman of the event, announced today. The Halevi Chorus consists of men and women who are members of the four Centers and who have formed into a cohesive unit of skillfully blended choral music.

Ben Pollock, conductor of the Halevi Chorus, is putting the chorus through its paces to present a stirring vocal poem by A. W. Binder entitled "Israel Reborn." This will mark the west coast premiere of the composition and "Israel Reborn" will undoubtedly impress local audiences as much as it impressed Now York audiences and critics.

Famed Singer Here Sunday

While the annual recital here next Sunday afternoon at the Philharmonic Auditorium by Marian Anderson, famed contralto, is a noteworthy musical event in itself, unusual local interest has been created by the news that in her program Miss Anderson will include a spiritual from the collection of Miss Marion Kerby, a noted singing character actress now living in Los Angeles.

Titled "He's Got de Whole World in His Hands" the tune, when featured on radio's Telephone Hour early in February by Miss Anderson, received such wide acclaim both from the listening public and radio critics that the advertising agency producing the program advised Mills Music, which had just signed Miss Kerby to an exclusive publishing contract, that the number would be repeated on the next Anderson appearance on that program.

"He's Got de Whole World in His Hands" was found on a Planation on the Mississippi delta by Miss Kerby who had gone down to live on a Southern plantation in order to gain the confidence of the simple Negro folk and acquire at first hand her great wealth of folklore and, above all, the religious songs which she so aptly describes as "Negro Exaltations."

Miss Kerby later carried her music search to the Kentucky mountain folk. This task was more difficult, but finally the shy people of these mountains gave freely of their store of song and legend.

Irving Mills, vice-president of Mills Music, is now in New York City arranging both for the publication of selected Kerby songs, including the "Whole World" one, as well as concluding negotiations for their recording by major record companies.

Socialiting...

By WINNI ORR

DEAR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, FLORIDA, U.S.A.—It might be wise to taken in your shingle since California has declared dividends on the weather situation. It simply couldn't be more ideal.

AFTER CONSULTING WITH HIS HONOR THE WEATHER MAN and finding that Sunday, March eleventh was going to be perfect for one of their perfect parties, Theresa and Gilbert Lindsey proceeded to lay their plans. Noted for her beautiful table arrangements and wonderful food, Theresa decided to entertain three of her out of town guests and uphold her reputation. This she did.

The table was a dream in modern arrangement. Carrying out the Easter motive in the salad trays that were interspersed with miniture edible Calla Lilies, the shimmering Forest green SATIN cloth, with the fresh red carnations that cascaded to the floor at the corners, the bountifully laden table featured five picturesque molds that melted in the mouth when sampled; succulent turkey; frozen punch in the tall mounted bowl htat had a taste of nectar; for the slightly stronger minded, a congenial bartender (the host) to cater to those wants; and the very last word in beautifully dressed women and debonaire men to chat with and enjoy the whole scene.

The honored guests were Edith (Dit) Stevens, from Detroit, Mich.; Dorothy Boyd, Sacramento, Calif.; Dutrill Wadley, Chicago. Out to meet the lovely ladies: Polly Anna Dougherty; Charity White; Charity White; the Horace Clarks (and did Betty look scrimptiously tailored); Alamita Spencer, also a Chicagoan and a positively lovely one; Elsie Boone; Cornie and Louise Anderson (and you should have seen her in the most wonderfully styled black Moire Taffeta frock accented with beautiful figured hose, which were worn, we might add), the Curtis Millers; Mrs. Bessie Garcia, looking very good; Mr. and Mrs. Nobel Crouch (really had fun out on the front porch exchanging reminences that neither of us really cared to remember so far back-when); Ralph Porter; Isidore Brown; Herbert Anderson; the "kids," Joyce and Herbie, recently wed in one of the most beautiful ceremonies held in these parts; Julia Richardson; Juanita Bell; Libby Clark; Eddie Payton with Betty Layer; Cortez Garcia; and just about that many more that we didn't get to record. Need we say the Lindseys haeled an "AT HOME" as it should be?

WE CAN'T HELP BUT FEEL A LITTLE PUT OUT THAT SO MUCH OF OUR RAMBLING chatter was left on the cutting room floor last week, due to something or other that we haven't been able to figure out, not even our whole name made the grade, so this week we are going to mention early in the line up that we want our readers to record these dates and keep them in mind:

ALPHA PSI ALPHA AT THE FLORENTINE GARDENS EASTER SUNDAY NIGHT FOR THE ACHIEVEMENT AWARDS. The frat has the unique idea of presenting (and this we assumed will be the title of the awards) "ALPHAS" to the most co-operative artists in the past year. This will, in all probability become an annual affair. The members of the press will choose the winners by ballot. Promises to be exciting to say the least, so far we have no idea who will be on the ballots. Course there will be dancin gand much parading at the Gardens THAT night.

MARIAN ANDERSON WILL aopear in concert at the Philharmonic Auditorium March eighteenth. A thrill and a treat to look forward to.

VELVA LORETTE HENDERSON has extended a gracious invitation to the women of Los Angeles, and her former patrons particularly to come see her exclusive Parisian models the same afternoon between the hours of four and six, at the

Negroes Gain More Roles In Radio And TV

The vigorous campaign currently being waged by Negro nawspapers and civic groups to have Negro atcors fully integrated into radio and tlevision drama is making some appreciable headway, in that Negroes in "man on the street" roles have been spotted with increasing frequency in the top radio and TV dramatic productions of recent weeks.

Indicative of the progress being made in this regard was a recent National Broadcasting Company television mystery in which three Negroes were cast as policemen. The program, "Lights Out," is a weekly NBC network mystery presentation and a greater portion of last week's story, in which the Negroes appeared, was allied in a police station.

These moves are in keeping with the network's drive to cement friendly relations with the Negro National Community. Members of the Negro Press and influential groups were acquainted with these policies in a series of regional round table discussion meetings under the sponsorship of the Radio Corporation of America, of which NBC is a unit.

Some Facts About 'Green Pastures'

NEW YORK CITY (CNS)—The man who sank $70,000 into "Green Pastures" because he loved the all-Negro cast play and couldn't stand to see it fold after the sudden death of its producer, Dwight Winman, is now just awaiting the March 16 critic reviews, which he knows will be all raves for the 20th anniversary of the play on Broadway (revival, that is).

That man is Harry Fromkes, who claims he backed the failing "Pastures" because "I think it is a timeless play and that it will be in the theatre long after I'm gone. My money—and it's my own money—had to go in overnight; there was on time to dream about it. When Dwight Wiman died, action was needed to keep the play from folding and I just didn't want that to happen."

"We're skimping on nothing, sparing nothing. New scenery and new props. The creak will be out of the treadmill by the time we get to New York. The production cost more than $150,000. There's a company of about 85, including the extras. We again have the Hall Johnson Choir, and a few of the original people are with us. We have the same scene designer, Robert Edmond Jones, and the same director in Marc Connelly. Well, I just think it's all great. A play with a spiritual quality, needed more today than when it was first done, and one that should appeal to an entire new generation of playgoers. A simple Biblical story, you know, and one for young people as well as the grown-ups.

"I read the play all over again two years ago on the beach at New London—I have a summer place there—and when I put it down I said, 'This play has to be done.' I never got much of anywhere with Marc Connelly, but Dwight Wiman died—and here I am. . . . The audience response in Boston and Philadelphia has been great.

JOSEPHINE BAKER PAID TRIBUTE BY DINAH WASHINGTON AND EARL BOSTIC

A huge cake, flowers, champagne and the gracious cordial welcome that only Josephine Baker would be expected to give marked the party tendered Josephine Baker at the B'way Strand Theatre in N. Y. by singer Dinah Washington and bandleader Earl Bostic last Tuesday evening was attended by Jean Bouillian (Mlle. Baker's husband); Walter Buchanan (Dinah's husband); Bill Chase, national representative Schenley Distributors; Ted Yates, nationally syndicated columnist, press and public relations expert; Bob Hall, Ruby Bender and Harry Mayer, prominent B'way booking agent. It was on the eve of the departure of Dinah and Earl who are on a coast to coast tour. Miss Baker was indeed thrilled and embraced both top ranking artists who paid tribute to their hostess.

Herb Lance Hits Musical Jackpot

Bouncing right back after a three-week layoff, singer Herb Lance, who sometimes is billed as 'the velvet baritone, hit the musical jackpot.

The trade mag, CASH BOX, tabbed Lance in this manner: 'A couple of good ballads get a slow going over from Herb Lance; his "Loneliest House on the Street" (flipped with "A Shoulder to Cry On") with the Dick Vance Orchestra—Columbia label—puts his easy to take voice to work and turns out two sides that should be getting a lot of play in the machines. Ope (for operators) should bet aboard."

Lance, by the way, is the current hit attraction at the State Theatre in Cincinnati, Ohio. The playdate is actually a whistle stop of a tour through the middle west.

VAMP INVADES CARTOONS

Dr. Bunche To Present Oscar

Before he accepted the invitation of the Academy Award Committee to present the "Oscar" for the winning picture, on March 29, Ralph Bunche, noted UN trusteeship director, had learned that the contests are conducted with the absolute fairness, and impartiality that he himself holds so dear. He learned that it was this policy that had made it possible for Hattie McDaniel, first, then Jimmy Baskette to become Academy Award winners, and that there would be others, as their vehicles and talents carry them beyond all competitors.

To better assure the public of this, and strengthen their confidence in this world famous, highly important contest, Eugene Murphy, Awards Committee official, wrote Henry Levette, ANP representative, and longtime accredited Hollywood correspondent, last week to say: "I wish to emphasize that no one knows the names of any Academy Award winners prior to the actual moment when the envelopes are opened during the ceremony." I am sure that you will want to publish this information in order to prevent among your many, many readers, any false impressions as to advance knowledge of Awards winners, prior to the actual "Oscar" night.

The tremendous local popularity of these platters, "Ashes of Roses," "Bewitched," "September Song," and "I Still Love You," proved a major factor in drawing a record-breaking turnout during their Casino Theater engagement.

The "Deeps" are due back in New York this week for a series of guest appearances on leading radio and television shows.

Drop White, Smith From All-America 5

NEW YORK — Sherman White, ell on his way to being named e player of the year, has been opped from Look's 1951 All-merica Team the magazine an-ounced this week. Both White d Leroy Smith of Long Island niversity among the confessed ility in the recent gambling sclosures had been rated high- by the 430 top sportswriters d sports casters who selected e team.

At the same time it was an-ounced that Bill Garrett, ace of diana's fine squad, had won a ot on Look's second team. Gar-tt, the key offensive man in diana's fast-breaking attack, s been touted this year as one the speediest men in the Big n. Although six feet two and a lf inches tall, he is short by day's goon standards. He was a fensive player and rebounder. Look's All-America quintet in-cludes Gale McArthur of Okla-homa A. & M., high-scoring Bill Mikvy of Temple, Sam Ranzino from North Carolina State ,tower-ing Bill Spivey of Kentucky, and Brigham Young's Mel Hutchins.

The magazine emphasizes its pride in the All-America players, and its belief that the majority of college boys are honest. "Never-theless," warns Look sports edi-tor, Tim Cohane, "something must be done about the gambling and bribery garbage, and it must be done by the colleges them-selves." It is asserted that the colleges must take greater pains to recruit boys of superior moral timber and then "ride herd" on them afterwards.

In spite of the scandals to which basketball has been sub-jected this year, Look concludes, the coach of this All-America team would have only one worry. He'd wonder when he was ever going to get another like it.

Whiz Kids Down Taft

Whiz Kids of Medical Pharmacy won at Taft last Saturday by a score of 74-60.

Saturday Coach Griffin and the Medical Pharmacy quintet journeyed to Taft to meet the Taft All-Stars. The game was called by spectators as one of the best played there this year and the team itself was called by the officials one of the most sportsman-like to appear there.

The townsmen have asked that they be included on the schedule for next year, already.

The game started with the Whiz Kids scoring on the first play; then the fast Taft team came back with two quick bas-kets. This pattern followed throughout the game, with the lead changing from one to the other. The half ended with Med-ical Pharmacy in the lead with the score 29-28. The second half was a repetition of the first half with the Hill twins suddenly go-ing on the rampage and play-ing their best game of the year. The final score was 74-60, Medi-cal Pharmacy. Stellar work was turned in by the entire ten-man squad with Rufus Johnson, Hill twins, A. Sutton, C. Reed, Vernon Melton and J. Gipson leading the scoring and S. Peters and H. Garrison and D. Shaw covering the back board and setting up the scoring.

During the last week Rufus Johnson received a Helms award as being selected first string guard, and Douglas Shaw re-ceived an award as third string guard, of the recently completed Triple A League. The Medical Pharmacy also received a trophy for the most sportsman-like team in the Santa Maria Tour-ney.

This week the Whiz Kids will play in the Invitational Tourna-ment at Lynwood their first game beginning at 8:15 Wednes-day.

Coach Griffin states that team and members wish to thank the Taft Athletic Department for the wonderful reception given them while there.

FRANKFORT — The Kentuck State Thorobreads easily defeat-ed Wilberforce University with a score of 81-33 last week. First string men played the first half of the game which found the score 34-17; second string men piled up the rest of the score.

Long Beach Relays

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Coach Ducky Drake's UCLA tracksters, who sparkled in the Long Beach Relays last week, have a bye this Saturday (Mar. 17) but will return to action the following week (Mar. 24) in the Santa Barbara Relays .

A trio of Bruin sprinters and broad jumper George Brown put on quite a show in the Long Beach Relays in winning four events. Bobby Work, veteran sprinter, won the 100-yard dash with teammate Rod Richard finishing second. A stiff head-on wind accounted for the com-paratively slow 10.1 second clock-ing. Sophomore Richard surprised Chuck Peters, ex-Indiana great, for the runner-up spot.

Work and Richard teamed with Bob Watanabe and Brown to capture both the 440-yard and 880-yard relay events in the times of 42.7 and 1.29.1, respec-tively.

Making his first start as a Bruin, Brown impressed with a winning leap of 23 ft. 11¼ in. in the broad jump. Brown also showed plenty of speed in his relay stints.

UCLA's Spring Practice Gets Under Way

A turnout of 75 football players, including 25 lettermen, is expected to greet Coach Henry (Red) Sanders this Monday (Mar. 19) at 3:30 p.m. when UCLA's 1951 spring practice gets under way on Spaulding Field.

Sanders has 30 busy days planned for the Bruins, topped off by the annual big spring in-tersquad game on May 5, the last day of practice. Other actual game scrimmages will be held during the drills.

There will be two breaks in Bruin spring practice. Mid-semes-ter exams (April 2-5) cause the first interruption and the spring vacation (April 23-28) will bring gridiron activities to a temporary halt.

UCLA has 26 veterans return-ing from last year's eleven which won six out of nine starts to wind up a strong third in the final Pacific Coast Conference standings. Ted Narleski, brilliant tailback, is the only letterman excused from spring drills. Ready Teddy is currently playing short-stop for the Bruins.

Heading the returning mono-gram winners is 220-lb. Donn Moomaw, who won All-American recognition as a sophomore line-backer last season and figures to be even bigger and tougher this year. Other standout vets include Ernie Stockert, giant pass-catching end; and such fine backfield performers as Bob Moore, Joe Marvin, Joe Sabol and Luther Keyes.

Expect 150 Trackmen At East Relays Friday

More than 150 trackmen from eight Metropolitan conference colleges will compete in the second annual East Los Angeles Junior College Relays Friday, March 16.

The first event of the stellar trackfest will get under way at 1:30 p.m.

The eight schools to compete are Harbor J. C., Bakersfield, East L. A., Santa Monica, El Ca-mino, Valley, San Diego, and Long Beach.

All the records in these relays were established last year and the broad jump, pole vault, mile, and 440 relay marks are expect-ed to go by the boards.

Bakersfield and East L. A. are cofavorites to cop team honors. The Bakersfield squad boasts an outstanding sprinter in Ron Packard and a 53 second quar-ter miler in Henry Buechler.

Pacing the co-favorite ELAJC cinder squad are Bob "Sticko" Smith, Gilbert McFadden, Don Pitts, Sandy Howard, Merle Stew-art, Larry Lumpkin, and Larry Brewer.

On tab for the afternoon will be six relay events, 440, 880, mile, sprint medley, distance medley, and shuttle hurdles; plus a special 120 high hurdle race and five field events.

Bakersfield's Renegades enter the meet fresh from a lopsided victory over Ventura and Taft, while East L. A. showed real strength at the Long Beach Re-lays by taking first in the one-mile relay and scoring narrow misses in the 440 and 880-yard relays.

NCC Wins Championship

Coach John B. McLendon, head basketball coach and Director of Athletics at North Carolina Col-lege at Durham, carried his Eagles to their sixth Central In-ter-Collegiate Athletic Associa-tion basketball championship for the season recently concluded. Since the little man from the midwest took over as head man of basketball at the Durham, N. C. institution in 1940, N. C. C. teams have won the CIAA cham-pionship in 1941, 1943, 1947 and in 1949. They placed as runners-up in 1940, 1942, 1945, 1946 and in 1950. They finished fourth in 1948. The Eagles posted a 23-5 overall mark for the season just ended and averaged 72.7 points per game.

CROWD WATCHES CHICKS

An incubator hatching baby chicks in a department store window was a big attraction in New York City recently. Truck drivers, debutantes, and child-ren from penthouses and tene-ments all crowded around the window to see the chicks hatch out of the shells. Showing how little city folk know of the way industry has changed the farm, a waitress in a nearby restaur-ant told a customer she knew his eggs were fresh because they had been "laid by an in-cubator."

ELAJC NINE MEETS COMPTON

Ching Duhm's East Los Ange-les Junior College baseballers will tackle Compton J. C. in their debut in the eighth annual Azusa tournament, March 15.

The Huskies defeated the same Compton nine early in the sea-son, 16-8.

Long Beach city college and Pasadena city college have been established as the co-favorites to cop the tourney. The P. C. C. team is defending Southern Cali-foria champion.

The Huskies are fresh from a 4-2 victory over El Camino and are out to better their last sea-son's showing in this tournament.

Coach Duhm has several hard hitters in Delane Moore, Xavier Padilla, and Charles Johnson.

John Burd, who scattered seven hits and fanned 9 in the El Ca-mino fracas, will be the starting hurler against Compton. South-paw Henry Aguirre, who turned in five innings of shutout ball in his last outing, will take com-mand in the secod tilt.

The winner of the Compton-East L. A. game will meet the winner of the L.A.C.C.-Riverside clash immediately following the opening games Thursday after-noon.

Watson Jones Puts Claim On Title

Watson Jones today threatened to lay claim to the state light-heavyweight boxing title if champion Bob Murphy doesn't return soon from the east to de-fend it. Jones strengthened his pretensions to the throne last night by scoring a TKO in the second round over Irish Rodney Jones at Ocean Park area before 1,000 fans. The end came at 2:08 of the round as referee Charley Randolph rescued the helpless Rodney from further punishment.

Watson, weighing 172½ was in command during the first heat and in the second waded in to send his victim, scaling 180, rocking and reeling.

It was the fourth straight vic-tory for Watson in his current comeback, the third by a knock-out.

On The Turf

By GEORGE A. RAMSEY

NEW CALIENTE, in Old Mex-ico: Saginaw, the son of Soon Over that raced during the Santa Anita meeting and claimed by F. C. Marmet the last week, won the feature event at the border course last Sunday. A hot pace, set by Dina Bam and Cuffie for the first three quarters enabled him to catch the tiring leaders and Stall of the Bold Challenge of He Kuene, who finished sec-ond. Saginaw ran the mile and seventy yards in 1:42 3/5. The first mile in 1:37 2/5, the fastest mile since 1945. The track record is held by Sea Swallow, 1:36 3/5.

The winner paid as second choice, $7.60. Bust Out was the winner of "The Facilius" at one mile and six furlongs. Taking the lead after the first mile, the son of Pari-Mutuel scored by four lengths paying $8. Mon Songe who reminds one of Ma-licious, came from far back to be second. The daily-double pay-off again, brought joy to the lucky holder. Star Bonnet, a field horse in the fourth race, was the winner, paying $41.60, and Tim-ber Boss, victor of the fifth, paid $12.40, combined for a $461.60 daily-double.

The Quniela payoff was $27.80 when Trail Me and Quaint Maid finished in that order. One of the largest crowds of the season was on hand to enjoy the thrill-ing program of twelve races. Ap-prentice jockey Donald Bowcutt was the star of the day, scoring on three winners, Overhead ($22.40), Bust Out ($8), and Lady Abbey (6.80). Joe To Rest For 2 Months

DETROIT—Joe Louis, sick and run down, evidently from train-ing too hard, was ordered by his personal physician today to take two months vacation from his vigorous comeback campaign to regain the heavyweight titled.

"Joe left himself wide open for the influenza attack that has him in bed now," Dr. Robert C. Bennett said.

Bennett asserted that, contrary to popular belief, Louis would not have been in good condition for his proposed rematch with Champion Charles in April.

He said trimming his weight from 218 to 207 had sapped too much of his strength.

"It was probably a good thing for Joe that the bout was can-celed when Charles hurt his ear against Walcott, for he reached his peak to early," Dr. Bennett said. "Re member, he has been in training steadily for eight months.

Bible Group Graduates 26, Elder Schierman Is Guest

The graduation exercises of the Twentieth Century Bible School were held at the Berean Seventh Day Adventist Church, the school's headquarters, 1446 West 36th Place, with a graduating class of 26 participating.

In the presence of a large assembly of spectators and friends, the graduates were addressed by Elder D. R. Schierman, Regional Director, Bible Correspondence Courses. The presentation of diplomas was made by Elder Garland Millett, pastor of the Berean Church, and past director of the Twentieth Century Bible School.

Responding to the charge given the graduates by Elder Schierman, Mrs. Ludell Carter, one of the young graduates, gave a very impressive sumation of the benefits the class derived from the course, and emphasized the opportunity for better service, entrusted to each member, as each endeavor to uphold their Class Motto: "Thy Word is a Lamp."

Miss Lillie B. Tate, present director of the Twentieth Century Bible School, outlined the school plans for the future, and appealed to the audience for continued cooperation with the program.

This has ben the second graduation ceremony of the Twentieth Century Bible Course.

This course is a free service to the community, undertaken over a year ago, with the Pastor Elder Garland Millet as director. The course consists of thirty lessons, each of which may be studied at home, and at the student's leisure. These lessons may be sent by mail, or delivered personally.

The Berean Church has also made provisions for improving the welfare of the community in the form of First Aid and Civil Defense training courses.

In order to carry on all its activities successfully, the Berean Church has undertaken an expansion program of constructing an annex to the back of their building. This addition which is almost completed, will alleviate the great need for accomodating the rapidly growing Children's Department of the church. The Missionary Volunteer Society under the leadership of Brother W. Benton, and Sister Geraldine Roan has also been recently reorganized as the avenue through which these various activities will operate.

The director of the Twentieth Century Bible School is also the publicity director for the activities of the Berean Church.

Lessons of the Twentieth Century Bible course will be sent free by mail or personal delivery to anyone who mails the request to Miss Lillie B. Tate, director of Twentieth Century Bible School, 1446 West 36th Place. These lessons will be corrected free, and returned at the school's expense.

Out-Door Holy Week Services

The observance of the Lenten Season and especially Holy Week serves to remind us we should be more humble and contrite in our every day religion with Christ.

Concentration throughout Holy Week is centered around the death and suffering of our Lord. To this end we should renew our spiritual strength and courage to rebuild our weak and worn tissues of the soul.

Beginning Monday, March 19, through Good Friday, March 23, from 12 noon until 1 p.m. the combined churches of the Southeast Easter Sunrise Association cordially extends the invitation to every member of the family, business, professional or laymen to attend the Second Annual Outdoor Holy Week Services on the beautiful lawn setting of the People's Funeral Home, 4250 South Central Avenue.

We urge you to set aside this hour each day and attend these services as a source of help and inspiration to you in business, as well as other endeavors which confront you daily. Listed here are the sponsoring churches of the Southeast Easter Sunrise Association: Victory Baptist, Rev. A. A. Peters; St. John's M .E., Rev. J. J. Hicks; Neighborhood Community, Rev. E. Mansfield Collins, Sr.; Peoples' Independent Church of Christ, Rev. Clayton D. Russell.

A Prayer for Peace

Twenty-four Protestant clergymen and Rabbis, incinding the Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Utah, have joined in inviting religious leaders throughout the country to pray for peace in a special prayer provided by the religious committee of the American Peace Crusade. The prayer will be a central feature of the Prayer Meeting for Peace which will be part of the program of the Peace Pilgrimage to Washington this coming Thursday, March 15th, at which the American Peace Crusade expects more than 2500 delegates.

The prayer follows:

Our God, who art the Father of the human family and who lovest all thy children the world over, abide Thou in our hearts in this time of stress.

We are saddened and disturbed in conscience by the tumult of our days, the growing ill-will among nations, the awful destruction displayed in a war of limited scope and the horrifying prospect of the death a greater war would bring.

Save the nations, we pray Thee, from the stupidities and tragedies of further strike. Help us to abandon the preparations for war that will only result in war. Make us to see the evil of the holocaust in Korea where no clear objective is to be discerned and where men of many nations are being asked to sacrifice their lives to less and less purpose. Give us the wisdom to know that we must call a halt.

Deepen in our leaders an insight into the true needs of humanity around the globe. May they make resort to threats and show a readier willingness to confer about the differences that do exist.

We praise Thee, our God, because more and more people in our great land are being quickened in conscience and are uniting in action to secure peace. We are grateful for men and women going to Washington to voice to their leaders their fervent desires for peace.

Strengthen in us, we pray, a resolute will to join hearts and hands with all those who love peace in this nation and throughout the world. Lead us together toward that day when men shall beat their swords into plowshares and nations shall not lift up sword against nation any more.

Draw us by Thy Spirit into the Brotherhood of Man and the true Family of Nations. Amen.

"Unsurpassed Service Through The Years"

HUNDREDS HAVE SAID, as time has passed, that the ceremony we conducted was one of correct appointment, and that our personal assistance was with a spirit of sincere helpfulness.

SUCH PUBLIC CONFIDENCE is not won by words. Actions are the only reliable symptoms of sympathetic sincerity. And that is what you get in a CONNER-JOHNSON service, whether it is one of utmost simplicity, or the most elaborate.

Consult us about our recommended pre-payment plan of funeral expenses, with no obligation. It costs only a few cents a day.

WILLIE McGEE MUST NOT DIE!

Your Silence Will Pull the Death Switch!

☞ Your Voice Will Set Him FREE!

Seven innocent Martinsville Negroes now lie in their graves. Victims of the first mass execution in America.

The State of Virginia used the electric chair. "It was legal," the Governor said.

Yes, Legal Murder! – Legal Lynching!

And now Willie McGee is sentenced to die March 20th – in a Mississippi electric chair.

THE CHARGE . . . .the standard Ku Klux Klan frameup . . . rape.

HERE'S JUSTICE – SOUTHERN STYLE:

McGee was brought into his trial on a stretcher, beaten half conscious. A southern white judge and a picked white jury conducted the trial. A lynch mob howled inside and outside the courtroom. And in 2½ minutes the jury decided the verdict – guilty!

THE EVIDENCE: A middle aged white woman who could not even see the man who is supposed to have raped her!

Yet Willie McGee was sentenced to death!

Americans cannot be silent while men are executed, in mass, only because of the color of their skin.

Destroy the liberties of one section of America—and you thereby destroy the liberties of all Americans!

Break the newspaper and radio silence on the crimes against humanity. Tell your friends and neighbors.

NO MORE MARTINSVILLES! It Must Not Happen Again!

Wire—Write President Harry S. Truman. He is "vacationing" at the Little White House, Key West, Florida. Tell him he can't "rest" until McGEE IS FREED.

He knows he has the power—tell him he must STOP THE EXECUTION and FREE WILLIE McGEE.

A Fisk University Senior, Joseph L. Alexander was notified last week of his admission to the Freshman class of the University of Louisville School of Medicine. The 23 year old Fisk student from Anchorage, Kentucky will be the first Negro enrolled in the University's Medical School in its 114 year history.

Alexander is an honor student at Fisk and was this year listed in Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. He attended Fisk on a four year scholarship won in scholastic competition with students from all the Kentucky schools.

Alexander has been a student minister at Fisk for two years. He is a member of the Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, treasurer of the Student Council and a member of the Student Christian Association.

The Easter Hat Brigade

My search began two months before.
From shop to shop and store to store.
There must be that one special hat to be found.
To fit my elaborate Easter gown.

This hat must be different
From any hat ever seen or heard of.
The right color. Not too wide.
And placed at an angle on the right side.

Day by day every spare hour to be found,
Was spent in and out of stores, and window-shopping downtown.

There were hats of every size, color and shape;
But not that one special something, just one glance would take.

At last I found it! The only one of its kind!
How much? Ouch!"
But the hat I did take.
We can cut down on food, and cut out the steak.

Easter! What a beautiful day!
Thank you. Your hat is beautiful also.
Thank you, Mrs. Smith. Thank you, Mrs. Jones.

Oh, No! It can't be! After all the years,
I saw my Easter bonnet in the Easter Brigade!

Scout Encampment At L.A. Airport; Circus, April 27

Glamour, fun, and training will all be mixed together for 100 Air Explorers of the Los Angeles Area Boy Scout Council when they participate in a three-day encampment at the Los Angeles International Airport, March 20-22.

The Explorers will camp at the airport as guests of the Department of Airports. They will receive demonstrations and instructions in Civil Aeronautical Administration and U. S. Weather Bureau equipment and operation, and on the manufacture and maintenance of planes, including jet aircraft.

A hangar round-up party Wednesday, March 21, will provide a complete evening of fun, including games, dacing, and group singing has been scheduled for the young men and their guests—girls' organizations, parents, civic officials, and air-minded celebrities. Preceding the party, Western Air Lines will host the Explorers for dinner and they will also be guests of North American Aviation for dinner and a movie on Tuesday night.

One of the most exciting parts of Operation Airport is expected Thursday afternoon when flights will be provided for the visiting campers by Southwest Airways, Airesearch, and Western Air Lines.

Local Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers are now ringing doorbells to sell tickets for the 1951 Circus of the Los Angeles Area Boy Scout Council, to be held April 27-28 at 7:30 p.m., in the Hollywood Bowl.

Every Scout who sells $10.00 worth of tickets for the big show will receive the official 1951 Circus neckerchief slide—a pink elephant. In addition, many units are offering special prizes to their top salesmen.

General admission tickets for the Circus are 50 cents, while reserved seats are $1 and box seats will be available at $1.50. O. D. Leas, Council ticket sales chairman, confidentially predicted at ticket sales kick-off meetings held this week that the 19,000 seats of the Bowl will be filled for each Circus performance.

Designed to depict Scouting activities and ideals, the 12 spectacular acts of the all-Scout show will have such variety as Cub Scouts in historical tableaux, Indian dances, camping and other Scouring skills, patriotic pageantry, and an accent on fun. A high spot will be a demonstration by Explorers (Scouts over 14 years of age) of emergency service training—including survival skills—which they are now receiving.

Fashions in Wonderland at YW

The second big week of plans for the 18th annual Fashion Review got under way at the Woodlawn Branch YWCA, for Sunday morning, April 1, from 9 to 12 noon.

The theme this year, "Fashions in Wonderland," promises to be a gala affair, with fashion needs to comply with all hours of the day. Entertainers from the stage, screen, radio, and television fields are being secured by Miss Mae Muse, program chairman.

This affair, given annually, is one of the highlights of the spring season of the gorup. Proceeds will be used to assist in supplementing budget deficiency of the Branch, as well as conference funds for members of the club.

Easter Program At Poly

Adoramus Te is the title of the Easter program to be presented Friday in Goodsell Auditorium at John H. Francis Polytechnic High School.

The A Capella Choir will be under the direction of iMss Margaret Hindee and Mr. Frank Bates, while the orchestra will be under the direction of Mr. Stanley Green.

Soloists will be Katie Mae Hayes, Cynthia Nelson, Laura Perez, Gloria Baca, La Verne Fisher, Ronald Cockran, and John Earl.

There will be different soloists at each assembly because of the difficult decision in choosing the talent.

Narration of the program will be given by the public speaking classes.

Parents and friends of the students are invited to attend Poly's annual Easter program.

As the first convocation speaker at Tennessee State College, Nashville, in observance of the annual "Design for Living" Week Program which closed Wednesday, Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, president of Morehouse College, Atlanta, told an overflow crowd of students and faculty members that "man is not to be blamed for the quality of his mind, but for the use he makes of it; and that man's physical handicap is not the greatest handicap one can have but his mental handicap."

The speaker's subject was "Building An Adequate Philosophy of Life for Youth in an Age that Has Lost Its Way."

GASOLINE TAX NOT EXEMPTED

Robert A. Riddell, Collector of Internal Revenue, calls attention to the fact that the gasoline tax cannot be deducted as a non-business deduction on income tax returns filed by residents of California. The reason, states Mr. Riddell, is that any tax, if deductible at all, may be deducted only by the person against whom it is assessed; and in this state, the gasoline tax is assessed against the wholesaler and not against the consumer.

PROF. HERMAN

TO ASSIST YOU IN MAKING WISE DECISIONS

ARIES
March 21 - April 20

If you were born under this sign, the Sun was passing thru the idealistic sign of Aries, the first sign of the zodiacal circle. It is a positive and masculine sign and bestrows upon its subjects many strong characteristics.

The Aries person is a born leader and is happiest when he is in command or authority and this is as it should be for he possesses innately all the necessary qualifications for leadership, whether in business, economic, religious or social life. They never hesitate to pioneer into new and untried fields of endeavor where they can find scope for the expression of their original ideas.

It is necessary for persons born under this sign to have a partner in marriage with the same mental and spiritual level as they, for a marriage based upon a purely physical attraction would be unendurable to one of this idealistic nature.

For more information concerning your Astrological forecast, why not write to Prof. Herman, today, for your 1951 Horoscope.

A.C.M.—Dear Prof. Herman: I read your column weekly, would you please help me with this question. Is there anything wrong that I don't hear from him?

ANS.—A careful analysis of your question indicates the fact that he is unable to answer your letter just now. As soon as things are cleared up, you will no doubt hear from him. Just be patient a little longer.

J.J.B.—What is the matter with my wife?

ANS.—It seems that you have been having a little trouble in your home, hence you wife is moving away. Altho it seems that she will soon get over this episode just like she did before and return, still some agreement or understanding should be reached so that you both can prevent this occuring again. Try to talk matter over with someone that you both respect and trust, perhaps they can help you, or, if you wish, have your wife write to me, for a private reply, and I shall be glad to try and help you solve this problem once and for all.

WORRIED: Will my affairs change for the better?

ANS. — Careful management and planning seem to have been lacking last year, hence your business affairs have suffered. You seem to have started out a little better this year, and should soon note a decided change in conditions.

Grand Jury Investigates Board of Education

The Los Angeles Grand Jury has been called upon to dig deep into a City School mess, that has grown so rotten it smells to high Heaven.

This bad situation in the schools has flared up bursting now and then in a blaze, over a period of years only to be smothered until the next time.

Complaints of many types of discrimination against Negroes have from time to time been brought to the attention of the School Board, but always the result of such conferences was a whitewash or a run-around.

The California Eagle office, located as it is in the center of the so-called Black Belt, has been a sort of clearing house for reports of irregularities by parents and pupils for at least twenty years.

Many of these reports came from Jefferson, Jordan, the 28th Street School, 52nd and Main, Fremont and others.

Two years ago, or thereabouts, this writer answered what was described as a riot call from Fremont High.

With Mrs. Tommie Reeves, we hastened to the scene. Upon entering the vicinity of Fremont, we were met by a student mob which threatened to overturn our car. But we refused to be frightened. We got out instead and tried to reason with the mob. We asked some students what was the trouble.

The answer came from a hefty German-type blond girl, "We just don't want Negroes here at Fremont. Let them go to Jordan."

Despite this and other evidence brought to light, the blame for this Fremont school riot was placed on the Negro students encouraged by agitators.

A few months after the Fremont affair we visited an open meeting at Jordan High in the Watts District, and heard Mrs. Cora Johnson, a leader in that school district, and others describe what was an appalling lack of facilities and teaching personnel and student counseling to be found in a high school in the remotest rural district.

Some years ago a clever bit of gerrymandering boxed Jefferson High in the Negro district in such a way that to all intents and purposes it became a segregated school.

But No! No! said the school authorities. Nothing like a segregated school was intended. It just happened that way.

And the people in the district who believe that Democracy should have its roots in the home soil, were lulled into a state of quiescence from fear of being jacked up by the Tenney Committee as a subversive.

The next step in the many exciting reports of real un-American activities in the school system, coming to the attention of the people, was the 28th Street School episode, where it was alleged a principal sent a note to school authorities, stating that she did not want any more Negro or Jewish teachers assigned to her school.

Of course the principal denied this.

These are but a few of the complaints in The California Eagle files. None of which ever reached a Grand Jury investigation.

To date what has gone on in the Los Angeles educational system was just a little matter of sowing the wind. Now it seems

Nat Cole Says He Made Offer Of $50,000

Back in Los Angeles to fight the ouster from $85,000 Hancock Park home which was seized for payment of back income taxes amounting to $146,000, Nat "King" Cole stated this week that his lawyer had offered up to $50,000 to internal revenue collector W. S. Denmore. This offer had been refused time and time again as the department asked for "all or nothing at all."

In his statement to the press Cole brought out an interesting side to the story that has heretofore not been disclosed.

He related: "I have paid back income taxes of $60,000 in the past 12 months. This certainly showed an intent on my part to

Negro Labor Council Demands End of Jim Crow In Industry

"We want jobs NOW!"

This is the battle cry adopted by more than 250 delegates and observers at the Conference for Negro Rights held last week at the Elks auditorium in Los Angeles.

Under the auspices of the Los Angeles Negro Labor Council, the all-day conference discussed the problems of Negro men and women in finding jobs in industry, and being upgraded on the basis of ability and seniority.

Reports and recommendations of four panels into which the conference divided were discussed and adopted in the late afternoon.

Panels and their reports were:

The Jobs panel, chaired by James Allen, AFL Carpenters, set up a 19-man committee to make a complete survey of all companies that discriminate in hiring and to work with the union having jurisdiction to eliminate Jim Crow.

In unions not having fair employment committees, efforts will be made to set up such committees.

Fires will be built under non-functioning FEP committees already established.

George W. City Meets Untimely Death in Auto Accident Near Office

The untimely death of Mr. George William City, 68 year old real estate broker, came as a severe shock to the community and close friends. The elder Mr City of 816 East 40th place, died instantly in an automobile crash near his office at 740 East 41st street, Friday evening.

He had been a resident of this community for the past 42 years, very active in civic and religious affairs. Because his tireless efforts in these pursuits won him the affection and support of like organizations he became an outstanding leader.

A 33rd degree Mason, he was a staunch member of the B. F. Tolbert Order, past patron of the Eastern Star, and active worker in the First AME Church as well as other community groups.

Burial services were held Wednesday, 11 p.m., at the First AME Church, 8th and Towne avenue, by the Peoples Funeral Home. Interment was at Evergreen Cemetery. Mr. City is survived by his wife, Martha, and a host of relatives and friends.

AFL Retail Clerks Union Pledged Cooperation in Establishing Fair Employment By Florence Group

Cooperation with food market and other retail employers in establishing fair employment was pledged this week by the A. F. of L. Retail Clerks Union, Local 770 in a letter to the Florence Fair Employment Practices Committee.

Miss Lois McKinstry, assistant to Secretary Joseph DeSilva of Local 770 stated that the union had always encouraged fair employment practices and received the Certificate of Merit awarded by the Urban League during 1950 for its activities in creating "opportunities and additional privileges for all peoples regardless of race, creed, color or national origin."

Mrs. Mable Porter, Co-chairman of the Florence Fair Employment Practices Committee, in commenting on the announcement from the A. F. of L. The SIDEWALK

By C.A.B.

Some of the vital needs in our State are new and better homes for our citizens, food prices commensurate with our wage scale for the common man, and an educational system that will develop a people free from the narrow boundaries that separate people because of their racial, national, political, or religious affiliations or belief.

But most of all we need a better understanding of the spiritual ties that bind us as a nation and our natural human relations to all the world.

"Love ye one another," was the admonition given by Jesus on one occasion. This statement has a deep meaning. It was the advice of the greatest among the great teachers of any time or period. And Jesus did not mean it as a sermon text to be juggled to suit the convenience of philosophers or preachers to fit an occasion, or to stir the emotion of an audience for a moment. He offered it as a solution to any of the problems that separate or divide the human family.

"Love ye one another," does not mean, however, that we the members of the human family are the same in physical features, in our reaction to certain climatic conditions, nor that we all think alike.

Just as flowers from the soil come forth in different colors and fragrance, so the human family grows and thrives.

There is no friction nor rivalry among the flowers. There should be none among the races of men.

The same condition holds among the lower animals. Then why should there be so much strife and hatred among human beings?

This question was suggested when I called the Philharmonic last Friday, and inquired about press passes to the Marian Anderson, Sunday afternoon concert.

The lady with whom I spoke said she was Mrs. Behymer's assistant and that they only gave passes to the six metropolitan newspapers. But, I argued, that during Mr. Behymer's time, if on no other occasion, when a noted Negro artist came to the Philharmonic, the Negro newspapers got advertisement copy and press passes.

This brought forward the real answer to my question. "Well," said the voice, "the other Negro papers received ads to the Anderson concert. But we had instruc-

Light Sentence Expected for Man Who "Took Back His Own"

Winding up as close a call to a long series of consecutive sentences in San Quentin as any defendant ever had, Elef Mosely of 2237 E. 98th street, will appear on April 12 for sentence on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

But according to the spectators, only the well-founded defense, and brilliant plea, by Atty. Curtis C. Taylor saved him from armed robbery charges, which draws a mandatory sentence in the state penitentiary.

Mosely was arrested on Dec. 4, 1950, and charged by Newton police officers with having committed armed robbery of a large group of men in the home of Budy Goldsmith, 1129 E. 41st street.

He was reported to have fired the shot gun he had used, narrowly missing the head of the well known sportsman, A. B. Brown. He was then said to have scooped up the big pile of money in a dice game pot and walked out, still menacing the unresisttion not to give your paper any copy."

I wanted to know why.

To this question the answer was: "The other Negro newspapers say you are Communist, and I believe you are from what I read about your visit to Russia."

I retorted that I am an American, and "I believe I am more loyal to my government and my people than are those who sneak around behind my back to tell you I am a Communist. The difference," I said, "between me and them, and perhaps you, is that I believe in the strict promulgation of the Constitution of the United States, and you do not."

A visit to Russia did not lessen my loyalty to my country, nor did it open a vacuum of hate in my heart for other people and countries.

While in Russia I heard no clamoring for war against the American people by the Russians.

The little lady, as she described herself, wanted to know if I saw Stalin while in Russia.

I said, "No. But neither had I seen Truman, the president of my country."

Her advice was that I go to Washington and stand on any corner near the White House, and I could see President Truman.

I thanked her for such advice, but reminded her that discrimination against Negroes in Washington was so rank that perhaps, while waiting on a corner to see the President go by, I might become exhausted and faint for the want of food and drink, and would have no place to go to rest.

To this my little lady friend responded: "Your people should build your own places. The time element stands in the way for your full acceptance by other people as equals."

"But," I asked again, "what about the Constitution and the Bill of Rights? Do they not guarantee equality to all Americans?"

And that brings me around to the first part of this article again.

We need a better understanding of the spiritual ties that bind us together as nations. And as individuals. We need to obey, literally, the command of Jesus: "Love ye one another."

NAACP Urges House Vote Down Jim Crow Clause In UMT Bill

NEW YORK—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People asked members of all its branches to wire their representatives in Congress urging them to vote down the Winstead pro-segregation amendment to the draft and universal military training bill approved by the House Armed Services Committee.

In telegrams to NAACP state conference and branch officers, NAACP Secretary Walter White denounced the Jim Crow amendment and asked that branches in each area be alerted to the imminent debate on the bill, scheduled to come to the floor on April 3.

The amendment, sponsored by Representative Winstead of Mississippi and approved by a 21-12 vote with the support of northern Republicans and southern Democrats, would give each draftee the right, where the military situation permits, to serve in units with members of his own race only. Chairman Vinson, who hails from Georgia, led the opposition to the amendment within the committee, contending that it would not be workable.

Whiz Kids 3rd At Lynwood Tourney

The Medical Pharmacy quintet again gave a good account of themselves in the Lynwood Invitational Tournament among teams representing the best in this Southern District.

The Whiz Kids took third place in the meet and according to Coach Fred Griffin with a little luck could have been sure of at least second place. However, due to an error in seeding the teams the Medical Pharmacy were put in the same bracket with a team from the Southern District. The Mexican Vets composed of All-American Stars of Associated Dairies and the Young Russians. Three wasn't supposed to be a team of same district in like brackets; so the Whiz Kids after fighting their way through wo nights of tough competition they met the Mexican Vets in the semi-finals, losing 62-50 the pace of the previous games telling in the final few minutes.

However meeting the tough San Pedro Dolphins defeated only three times this year and two of those by the Whiz Kids, in the consolation game Saturday night, the Medical boys fought an uphill battle until the middle of the second half when the boys began to find the range and pulled into the lead to defeat the Dolphins 65-56.

The team play was a thing to marvel at with the spectators tense at all times. The leading scorer for the Team was Gene Williams of UCLA fame with 12 points; followed by Rufus Johnson, Algin Sutton, Vernon Melton, Chas. Reed, J. C. Gipson and Douglas Shaw. Harold Garrison was a tower of strength on defense and offensive play as well as scoring 8 points.

Coach Griffin and Jack Bratton, co-sponsors were exceptionally proud of their team as for the second time in three weeks in two tourneys they were chosen the most sportsmanlike team and received a beautiful trophy for this as well as a third place trophy. Each member was a recipient of a beautiful mounted golden basketball player.

As usual the play of the team was enjoyed by the spectators and they asked that The Medical Pharmacy keep a place open for their tourney next year.

The Jean Field Committee is sponsoring this benefit in support of the fight of Mrs. Jean Fields, young Compton mother whose two children were taken away from her and awarded to a father who had abandoned them ten years before.

The only issue in the case was Mrs. Field's social and political views. McGinnis, charges the dentist with malpractice.

The complaint alleges that Ray was patient of Dr. Hatcher in his office, 1101 East Vernon Avenue, from November 4, 1950 until November 21 of the same year. It relates that Ray came to the dentist office for an analysis of his dental needs, and that his condition was negligently diagnosed and that the resultant treatment caused him great illness and other physical complications.

Ray, who resides at 1132 East 51st street, said as a further error in diagnosing and neglect of treatment, he suffered partial paralysis and was made lame. He charges that he was obliged to seek the services of a physician and surgeon for the purpose of correcting the error and physical handicap caused by the dental neglect.

Atty. Ivan J. Johnson III, who has been given the papers served on the dentist to study, related to newsmen, that Dr. Hatcher has been ill for a considerable length of time. He said he has been in a hospital for about 32 days. The statement from Attorney Johnson, was to the effect, the charge of post extraction neglect, might have been due to the nature of the dentist's illness which made it almost impossible for him to take care of his patient.

"In addition to this, my attorney asked the Internal Revenue Department only this week to tell him what additional amount they would consider taking at the present time in order to satisfy the government.

"This they refused to do and seemed mainly interested in seizing my home in spite of the large payment made last year, and in spite of my willingness to contribute a further sum.

"The Internal Revenue Department representative likewise refused my attorney an extension of a few days so I could come home and make arrangements to accomodate my two minor children who are living on the premises.

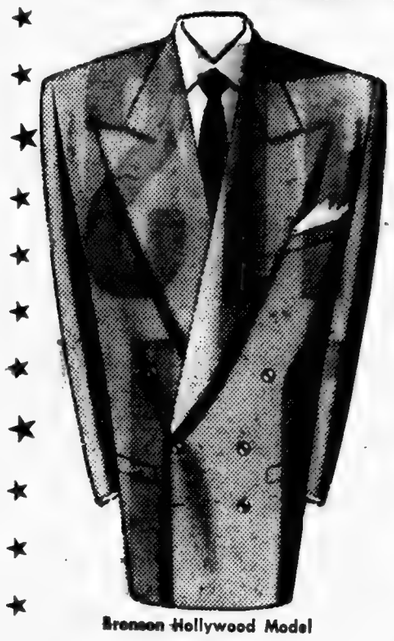
"When I moved into my home, there was an attempt to exert great pressure to keep me from moving into the Hancock Park neighborhood by some residents of the district."

Cole and his wife ask why they were not being granted the same privileges as many others who are delinquent in back taxes, one privilege being that one-third be paid and the balance in payments, but no satisfactory answer was given. They were told that on the 28th of this month they either pay $146,000 or evacuate the premises. The Coles feels that pressure is being placed upon them from sources they know not where, but revolving around the fact they are not wanted as residents in the Hancock Park neighborhood. They indicated they intend to fight the case.

Cole purchased the home only two years ago and caused a furor in that neighborhood because white members of the community did not wish to live near a Negro.

The house at 401 S. Muirfield Road was built by the late William Lacey, a former president of the Chamber of Commerce. Members of the Hancock Property Owners Association fought Cole's purchase of the property and the musician moved in only after a U. S. Supreme Court decision outlawed race restrictive covenants.

The property was seized under a 100-year-old law which requires that furnings worth $300, school books and $50 in food may not be seized. Cole was in Philadelphia when the property was seized last week as was his automobile.



Robert A. Riddell, a collector of revenue, said at the time the house was seized that seizure was not aimed at Cole, but was part of a nation-wide crackdown.

Under the law Cole has 30 days in which to redeem his property.

Negro Unionist in Race for Oakland City Council Post

The interests of the working people, the small businessmen and the Negro people of West Oakland and of the entire city need a fighting representative in the Oakland City Council. That is the opinion of A. T. Carter, who announces the opening of the campaign for the Rev. Warren L. Broussard, Negro trade unionist and civic leader, who is running for Third District (West Oakland) City Council seat.

Carter, a homeowner and active in Longshoremen's union local 10, was elected manager of the Broussard campaign committee, composed of church, civic, club and labor groups.

"We believe that Rev. Broussard, a church man, a working man, and a man with no political strings attached, can give the people of this community something they have never had—representation in our city government," said Carter. "And, if elected, Rev. Broussard will be the only Negro holding an elective office in Oakland.

"One of our most pressing needs is a Fair Employment Practices ordinance to protect the interests of our many citizens of minority groups.

"We need an end to police brutality, which has always hit our community the hardest.

"We need a housing program to care for the many people of the Third District who are forced to live in the most wretched conditions. These are just a few of the problems that have never been solved in our City Council."

Rev. Warren L. Broussard is a graduate of Southern University and during World War II he worked with a field examiner for the National Fair Employment Practices Commission.

He was a volunteer organizer for the Oil Workers Union in Texas; was chairman of the Harry Bridges Defense Committee in the East Bay; and is a working longshoreman, ILWU Local 10. He is a Mason 32 degree, and holds national, state and local offices in his church.

Broussard's platform includes:

1. A city public works program.
2. A Fair Employment Practices ordinance.
3. An end to police brutality, by education and bonding of policemen.
4. Improvement of city health facilities.
5. A housing construction program for 30,000 low rent units.
6. Improved Key System transporation and end to Key's discrimination in hiring.
7. Lowering of the excessive tax burden on small homeowners and small businessmen.
8. Keeping wages of city employes in line with standards won by organized labor for comparable jobs in private employment.

Among Rev. Broussard's sponsors are:

Money Awaits Oldsters Under Soc. Sec. Act

"Thousands of oldsters in the Los Angeles area are insured under the Social Security Act and have money waiting for them." That is the statement of James H. Smiley, manager of the Los Angeles Social Security Administration office.

Retired workers over 65, whose previous claims were disallowed because they had not worked long enough in jobs covered by the Social Security Act should get in touch with the nearest Social Security office. Payments being made at the present time for these persons are the result of a "new start" which was incorporated in the September 1, 1950, amendments to the Social Security Act.

All personsw ho have worked in jobs covered by Social Security may be eligible if they are 65 at the present time and have had at least one and one half years employment. A claim must be filed before March 31 of this year in order to avoid loss of payments.

Individuals 75 years of age and still working should also file their claims before March 31 because the new law permits payments even though they continue to work.

There is no residence requirement for Social Security payments, Smiley said. Benefits are payable to persons after age 65 according to work record, regardless of where in the United States the work was done.

USSR Decrees War Propaganda To Be Criminal

The USSR has decreed that persons guilty of disseminating propaganda for war shall be tried as criminals and punished. The decree states:

The Supreme Soviet of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, guided by the high principles of Soviet peace-loving policy which pursues the aims of strengthening the peace and of friendly relations between nations.—

Recognizes that the conscience and perception of the peoples who suffered the calamities of two world wars during the course of one generation, canot reconcile themselves to the impunity of war propaganda now being conducted by aggressive circles of some staes, and identifies itself with the appeal of the Second World Peace Congress, which expressed the will of all progressive mankind in regard to the prohibition and condemnation of criminal war propaganda.

The Supreme Soviet of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics resolves:

1. To regard that propaganda for war, regardless of the form in which it is carried out, undermines the cause of peace, creates the threat of a new war and because of this, constitutes the gravest crime against mankind.

2. Persons guilty of propaganda for war shall be indicted and tried as heinous criminals.

Sue For Divorce

If knife attacks, adultery, and frequent threats of death are sufficient grounds for divorce, Eugene Garvin, whose complaint was on file in Domestic Relations court last week, will be able to secure his. According to the record he has engaged Atty. James N. Reese to represent him asking complete freedom from his wife of five years, Minnie Bell Sarvin. The couple were married in Abilene, Texas, April 19, 1946, and separated here, March 12, 1951. With all the above mentioned acts specified separately, Garvin also charges extreme mental and physical cruelty, constant nagging, reviling, humiliating.

The husband feels that when freed, he has the right to their 1942 Buick sedan, household furniture, valued at more than $400, and other community property. He also wishes her restrained from any more such knife attacks, as on Dec. 15, when he was seriously injured and had to be hospitalized. He craves freedom from any harrassment, whatever. With all the above he adds that she had been guilty of adultery.

Scott Supports Roybal

Joseph Scott, attorney and prominent Catholic lay leader, last week announced his support of Councilman Edward Roybal for re-election. In a letter to Roybal he stated: "You can quote me as being in favor of your candidacy and count on my support in whatever way I can be of help."

Attorney Joseph Scott joined the Republican Committee to Re-Elect Councilman Roybal headed by Mearl Allen, prominent eastside Realtor.

Full Support Pledged by Ministers at NAACP Kickoff Membership Drive

A significant event, unprecedented in the annals of local NAACP history, last week marked the kick-off of the organization's mammoth 1951 Membership Drive.

Early in the week the ministers of the city pledged full support of the campaign. Setting the pace for members of the clergy, the Baptist Minister's Union adopted a three point program for immediate action. By unanimous vote the group agreed to start the drive in their respective churches on Sunday by calling special attention to the NAACP and its activities; appointing a special committee within the Church to in turn secure workers to solicit memberships from the congregation; and to permit a speaker from the Association to make an appeal before the parishiners at the earliest convenience. Chairing the meeting was the Rev. George W. Cofield, president of the Union.

To further exemplify their willingness to support the campaign, twenty-seven ministers took out 'on the spot' memberships. These included the Reverends A. P. Ramsey, G. E. Anderson, J. D. Crosby, Alonzo Moore, J. R. Hudson, R. M. Mitchell, E. Brown, Melvin Earl, Ernest Redd, S. J. Anderson, James M. Robins, J. W. Bailey, J. C. Sweeney, O. A. Meador, Howard Brownlee, Earl Boyd, G. W. Cofield, W. P. Sanders, J. F. Griffin, W. D. Carter, M. L. Scott, A. Wendell Ross, L. D. Revoal, Dr. James A. Peal, Dr. H. Claude Hudson, and Rev. Morris A. Trier.

The Rev. G. W. Reed, president of the Interdominational Alliance told Branch officials his organization would take similar action when it meets next Monday. The Church Committee of the entire campaign is being led by the above mentioned heads of the ministerial organizations.

Jack Berman At IPP Meet

The spacious home of Jack and Clara Fox, 3601 Woolwine Drive, was the setting for a program of fine music, entertainment, and food last Saturday evening. The affair was sponsored by the City Terrace Club, Independent Progressive Party, Morris Kominsky, chairman.

The evening's entertainment reached a hearty climax when Jack Berman, in a hard-hitting speech, pointed out the abuses practiced by the present Board of Education.

Berman did not just make a speech. He gave facts and figures, pointing out how the educational system in Los Angeles had moved backward rather than forward. How the management has reached a new low in expenditure per child, and how discrimination against Mexican-Americans and Negroes was rampant on the Eastside, and other of the so-called poorer sections of the city.

If given a fighting chance this Jack Berman will win a seat on the Board of Education, and the people who have been victimized by the present Board member dictators will get an opportunity to speak and to act in behalf of their rights.

Get the name JACK BERMAN on your mind. Talk about him to your neighbors, and start now voting for JACK BERMAN for the Board of Education.

"The horrible legal murders of the Martinsville Seven has burned a scar on Uncle Sam's proud face that will make humanity heartsick until the end of time," the letter to Truman read.

"America can no longer stand such . . . miscarriages of justice against its citizens because of the color of their skin."

General Chairmanship of 1951 Cerebral Palsy Assn. Accepted by Fanning

Flanked by youngsters representing the thousands who will be benefitted by the campaign, Postmaster Michael D. Fanning yesterday accepted the general chairmanship of the 1951 Campaign of the United Cerebral Palsy Association of Los Angeles County.

"Cerebral palsy is one of the oldest health foes of mankind," Mr. Fanning said. "Likewise, it is one of the least understood and one of the most expensive of all major physical ailments.

"Its ramifications are so extensive and its destructive potentialities so vast that a tremendous amount of research is necessary."

Both adequate facilities and qualified personnel for diagnosis, care, treatment and education of the cerebral palsied are lementably lacking, according to Mr. Fanning.

"Practically every phase of the problem requires exploration, expansion and expense,' he declared. "We hope to raise $100,000 to help finance needed expansion of facilities, research and personnel training."

Jackson Not Guilty

Alvin Jackson, well-known Angeleno and prominent in sports circles, was found not guilty last week in Superior Court of grand theft bunco charges preferred by Flora Turner, 5530½ Long Beach Avenue, housewife.

Mrs. Turner testified earlier at the preliminary hearing held on September 22, 1950, that immediately upon her emergence from the Security-First National Bank, Vernon and Avalon branch, that Jackson had approached her and told her that he was an automobile salesman; she further testified that a short time later Jackson was joined by another man whom she did not identify, but that Jackson had snatched her purse containing $400.00, and hurriedly walked away with it.

Jackson, when questioned at the time of trial, denied that he had ever taken any money belonging to Mrs. Turner, and furthermore, denied that he was in the vicinity of the Security-First National Bank on September 22. Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr., argued successfully to the Court that Mrs. Turner was mistaken in her identification of Jackson.

ELEVEN FAMILIES IN 1781 founded the pueblo of Los Angeles on the banks of the Porciuncula (Los Angeles) River. King Carlos III of Spain granted the town perpetual rights to all the river's waters, more than enough for the 11 first families.

650,000 FAMILIES are living in the city that WATER has built

CITY OWNERSHIP of an ample water supply, even as in 1781, has made possible today's great Los Angeles of 650,000 families. The Los Angeles River still supplies a portion of your city's water, but now giant tunnels and aqueducts span mountains and desert to bring you water from the High Sierras and Colorado River. Rates are low. Cost of living has gone up, but water rates have remained constant in Los Angeles since 1941.

1951 Easter Can Serve A Great Purpose

In our hearts, our homes, and in our nation, let's make the age-old cry, "He Is Risen" mean more than a song, a saying, and a new dress. To a world sorely pressed by material prolems, let's make Easter a day of new appraisals of spiritual values.

Too often in the hurry and worry of daily living we lean too heavily on the material and lose sight of the fact that spiritual forces can do far more to brighten our way of life than what we are worrying about.

The Prince of Peace whose Resurrection we are making ready to celebrate, enjoyed practically none of this world's goods. But He always had what He needed when He needed it, even to the extent of feeding the five thousand with but a few loaves and fishes.

Could it not be that this was less of what man calls a "miracle" than it was the utilization of the Divine Law of supply? Surely Christianity has missed a vital point in Christ's teaching, if it believes an all-wise God is indifferent, even momentarily, to the welfare of His children.

This year of our Lord, 1951, must mean more than celebration and decoration. It should mean the contemplation of the more important things in our lives.

Unless we on this Easter Day dedicate our lives to the cause of peace, we shall encounter a period of darkness or perhaps utter destruction. There will be no more Easter celebrations.

For the God of Peace will not always chide with men. Our prattle of peace, while at the same time preparing for war with the most fearful weapon yet invented by man, certainly proves we are hypocrites. Can we, in such an atmosphere, expect the God of Peace or the god of war to answer? God will answer the desire of our hearts, not the saying of our lips. If we want war —to pile up more profits, to prove we are the greatest nation in the world, as a police action—for whatever reason we have persuaded ourselves we should have war, that is the request that will be granted us.

This Easter, 1951, can be the most meaningful in our history. Let it be what the God of Peace would want it to be.

A Short Step Forward

The great state of Arizona has taken a step forward in destroying the curse of segregation in its school system. But it is only a very short step.

Hitherto segregation in the Arizona schools was enforced by law as rigid as any in the deep South. But several days ago a law was signed by Governor Howard Pyle, or Arizona, removing the mandatory clause in the law and granting to the people of Arizona the privilege of sending their children to a true American school—if they choose to have that kind!

It is a step in the right direction, however, small though it may be, and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, mindful of small favors, has sent a telegram congratulating the Phoenix, Arizona, branch of the NAACP, for its efforts in behalf of this bill and for its final passage.

Walter White, Executive Secretary, NAACP, sent the telegram to Dr. R. B. Phillips, president of the Phoenix branch, stressing the "unflinching perseverance in the face of overwhelming odds" which he said "has set an outstanding example to those inclined to feel discouraged in the continuing bitter struggle for full civil rights in America."

The new law was sponsored in the Arizona House of Representatives by Representatives Simms and Daniels. It provides permissible segregation in public school. Not enforced, as heretofore. Representatives Simms and Daniels sponsored it and are given the credit for pushing it through the Legislature.

Representatives of the Phoenix Branch NAACP who worked with NAACP Field Secretary Noah W. Griffin in securing the endorsement of educational, civic, church, and parents' groups for the measure, have been promised by a number of school districts that Negro and white teachers will be integrated as part of the program of ending school segregation.

Yes, it is a step forward. One that should have been taken long ago. One, indeed, for which there never should have been any necessity to take. But now that the break has been made in this dam (you can spell that any way you wish) of segregation, it is up to the people of Arizona to see to it that that breach widens until the dam is entirely destroyed, and the system of education in Arizona flows full and free to everyone within its boundaries.

Having visited Phoenix recently, and noted the whole-hearted and enthusiastic support for everything pertaining to freedom and real Americanism, and the militant fighting spirit of the people of Arizona, the editor of The California Eagle adds her congratulations to the Phoenix Branch of the NAACP for this victory, and feels certain that this is but a stepping stone to a bigger victory in the future.

Fight The McCarran Act

Thousands of leaflets exposing the McCarran Act as an attack against trade unionists in particular and every citizen are being distributed in Los Angeles by the Committee for the Protection of Foreign Born.

Headed "For Your Own Security," the leaflet briefly tells the story of the four foreign-born trade unionists and progressives being held without bail at Terminal Island.

"The people should realize that this dangerous precedent may be used as a wedge to intimidate and attack the naturalized as well as native-born citizens?" the leaflet asks.

"Do you know that the attack against the foreign-born and the deportation hysteria against Mexican-Americans and the Negro people are only the opening shots for a general attack against all militant trade unionists and progressive Americans?"

The leaflet points out that CIO, AFL and "thousands of educational and religious leaders" have declared the McCarran law "unconstitutional and un-American."

The public is urged to write to Washington demanding release of the Terminal Island Four and the repeal of the McCarran Act.

More than 1,000 Los Angeles trade unionists signed a message to the United Labor Policy Committee, meeting in Washington last week, that pledged all-out support to a labor-consumer program for:

- No wage freeze.
- Rollback of prices to pre-Korean levels.
- Change tax laws to take burden off low income groups, with stiff excess profits tax for the corporations.
- Enactment of fair employment practice laws to end discrimination in employment.

"We don't want the sop of more labor posts created in government agencies," the message read.

"We won't regard a freeze after a 12 per cent increase as a victory over a freeze after a 10 per cent increase."

The message, circulated for signatures by the United Labor Action Committee, was accompanied by a letter to AFL President William Green.

It warns that the workers are aroused over the inequity of government policy which has meant substantially lowered living standards for both skilled and unskilled workers of America.

"It has imposed the heaviest tax burdens on the economic group least able to carry the burden of increased taxes, legal sanctions and fines upon unions that took effective strike actions. . . .

"It has not ended the shameful national scandal of unfair employment discrimination against minority groups.

"In short, the wage earners for whom we speak feel that in the name of national security and patriotism, a hoax of grave proportions is being played for all it's worth on the common people.

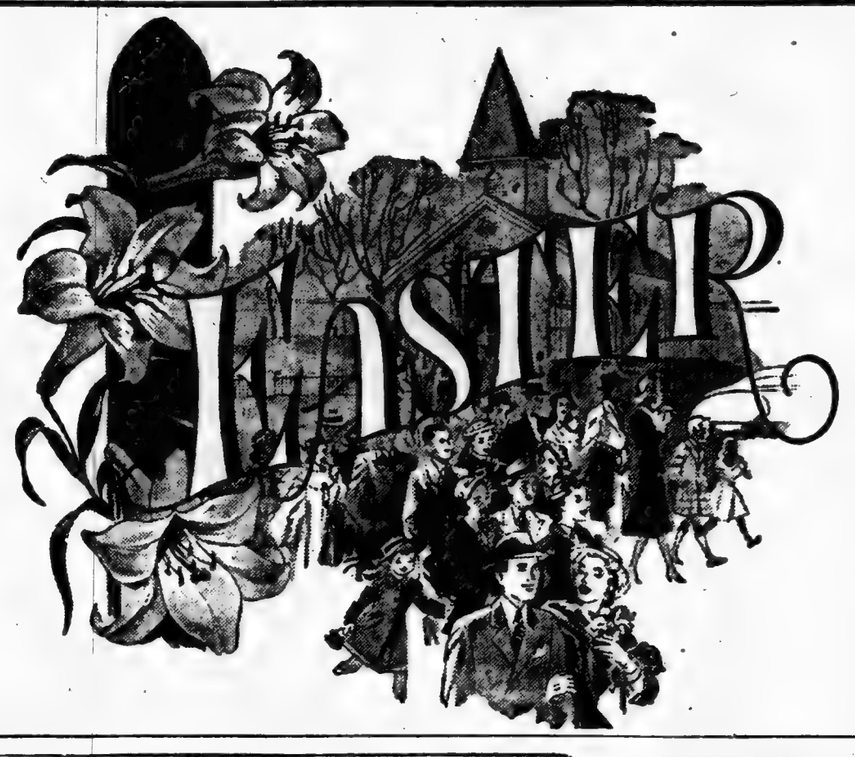
"Further it is apparent that the war mobilization program is but a guise for the real purpose of gouging the American public, smashing the trade unions and creating war hysteria. . . .

"Certain administrative advisers take the attitude that all they need to do to stifle labor's justified indignation is to name more committees and more labor posts.

"They believe this sop will appease the situation and their program can continue basically along the same lines.

"However, nothing could be farther from the truth.

"The American wage earner wants no wage freeze and no labor draft."



Corrected Statement?

The information used in the editorial "WORK FOR ALL," published in the February 22 issue of The California Eagle, in which we stated that it had come to our attention that discrimination was being practiced in the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, Local 97, is being contradicted by that local.

In a letter from the law offices of David Sokol, and signed by Mr. Sokol, it is stated: "The ILGWU has led the battle in this country for fair employment practices and to give all people of all races and creeds fair play in employment and elsewhere, and it is a matter of great pride with the ILGWU that it has led the fight, and if there was the slightest inkling that any of our locals or agents or representatives do otherwise, the ILGWU I can assure you, would take most prompt action to obliterate any such discrimination."

Mr. Sokol has asked that The California Eagle retract its statements regarding discrimination in the case of two men—Homer Saddler and Frank Wallace—unable to get work. And also the statement that "Negro members of the Union are given only the most menial jobs, jobs which pay little, and are difficult and distasteful to perform."

The California Eagle will be very glad to retract any statement which it has found to be untruthful. But the mere denial of those statements by Mr. Sokol does not make them untruthful. IF Mr. Sokol and his aides in his law office, through diligent research, proves that The California Eagle was mistaken, this newspaper will be more than happy to correct the statement, and to publish the truth.

ECONOMIC NOTES

Several weeks ago we considered the fact that practically all newspapers, radio programs, et cetera, are so dishonest that the person who wants to be truthfully informed about world affairs must get his information elsewhere than in the metropolitan press, the radio, the publicized books.

In our last three columns we have discussed the material to be found in three examples of reliable sources of information: Harry Haywood's book NEGRO LIBERATION, the monthly publication LATIN AMERICAN FACTS, and Avro Manhattan's THE VATICAN IN WORLD POLITICS.

In today's article (the last of the series) we present excerpts from the monthly research bulletin ECONOMIC NOTES—which has for many years been the outstanding source of reliable information on our nation's economy. It is publications of this type which we need to arm us with the facts essential to understand what is going on.

As you and I and our neighbors watch our shrinking weekly income buy less and less of food and clothing for our families, it is well to know that the Journal of Commerce is able to assure its wealthy readers that "The general wage-price freeze proved a good deal less of a threat to corporate profits than many had feared." While Dun's Review assures the same privileged few that 1951 will "be an exctptionally good year for business. Despite tax increases should remain very high."

That these financial counsellors know what they are talking about is proved by Truman's own Council of Economic Advisors who have reported that "the net profits of $22,400,000,000 last year were more than double the profits of the wartime year 1944 . . ." Never before even in a full-scale war have corporate profits been so high.

Moody's Stock Survey expects that profits before taxes could well be even higher (in 1951) than the fantastic record of 1950. But the Wall Street Journal warns that "A peace scare might knock a lot of profit out. . . ."

High Prices

With the cost of living at the highest point in history, the director of the phoney program of the Office of Price Stabilization admitted that prices will continue to rise, perhaps another 5% to 7% by midsummer—after which he hopes some stability will be achieved. As the conservative N. Y. Herald Tribune comments: "A price stabilizer who is . . . willing to accept a 5%-6% rise is a stabilizer who is likely to prove powerless to prevent a 10%-12% rise. . . ."

Effective enforcement of even the weak price stabilization program will be virtually impossible—considering that there are only 500 employees on the staff compared to 65,000 during World War II. And what makes it worse is that the Department of Justice rather than the price agency has the job of enforcing the new law. As one former OPA official reports "The Justice Dep't . . . is subject to political pressure."

Prices are continuously climbing upwards. The U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics' consumer price index was 81% higher in December 1950 than in August 1939. It was 4.8% higher than in June 1950—when the Korean intervention was launched. The Bureau says that the cost of food alone is 8% higher than in June 1950. The food dollar was worth only 47.7 c in November 1950.

Meanwhile unemployment is still serious in certain industrial areas. The same federal Bureau (whose figures always understate the truth) reports 2½ million jobless in January 1951. The United Electrical Workers Union, whose figures are more reliable, puts the unemployed figure at 3½ million.

But, the use of child labor is increasing. In April 1950 there were 663,000 boys and girls only 14 and 15 years old at work—more than twice the number reported working ten years before. Some 3 million boys and girls were at work at some time during 1949.

That then is the state of our economy: the poor getting poorer, the rich getting richer!

Judgment Against Coca-Cola

Federal Judge Peirson M. Hall last week issued an injunction in the case of The Coca-Cola Company versus Club Can-Can, 6206 Santa Monica Blvd., Los Angeles, against the owners and operators of the cafe, restraining them from substituting and passing off other beverages upon calls for "Coca-Cola."

Assemblyman Support Councilman Roybal

Campaign headquarters for City Councilman Edward Roybal announced that their candidate has received the active support and cooperation of all four Assemblymen who represent areas in the 9th councilmanic district at the State Legislature.

Letters of commendation and offers of active cooperation have been received from William Munnel, 51st District; William Rosenthal, 40th District; Edward Elliott, 44th District and Augustus F. Hawkins, 62nd District.

In a letter to Councilman Roybal, Assemblyman Hawkins said: "Your record in public office is one of which all of us are proud. At all times you have concerned yourself with the problems of our community; jobs, decent housing, civic rights, playgrounds, and civic improvements of every kind.

"I feel that your re-election to the City Council is a must and I am doing everything possible so that you may continue the fine, unselfish service which you have started."

Help India

NAACP branches throughout the country have been asked by the Association's board of directors to urge their members of Congress to support the proposal to send 2,000,000 tons of surplus wheat to India in order to avert mass starvation in that country. The board adopted a resolution to this effect at a meeting held March 12.

Stop Police Brutality

"Police brutality must stop!" is the major plank in the campaign of the Citizens' Committee to elect L. Clair Case Councilman from the 5th District. In keeping with Case's regard for minorities, new headquarters in the Adams-Jefferson-Western area have been opened at 3028 South Western Avenue.

Work of organizing the support of the several national groups in that area will be generated at this new headquarters.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

119 E. 36th Place
Los Angeles 11, Calif.

Dear Mrs. Bass:

It is practically impossible to read the daily papers without getting a gloomy picture of world affairs, especially after reading Westbrook Pegler's column.

How is he able to stretch "Fredom of the Press" to the breaking point?

He daily publishes things about the President or others of authority. The mystery is, how can he get away with it?

Since he constantly writes such things about some of the best men and say they are incapable. I have come to the conclusion that the present situation is one for women only, to handle.

Thus the following:

A woman for president in 1952. To solve all our problems. And end the war too.

The brains that rock the cradle, is the most efficient and practical it has been proved.

And the longer men are allowed to rule, continue to reveal their incompetence, and the discovery of many fools.

What a shock to many after being told from Heaven they they came at birth.

To find man-kind constantly engaged in war with his fellowman and creating a Hell on Earth.

Mrs. Velma P. Latimore

California Eagle,
Los Angeles, Calif.

First I would like to add my thankfulness to Mary Phillips' that your paper, unlike the overwhelming majority of American newspapers, considers peace and the workers for peace more newsworthy topics than their opposites, war and the architects of war.

Secondly I was more than glad and relieved that Negroes of Washington have called upon President Truman to force recognition of the constitution rights of Negro American citizens in that city and to demand an end to the disgraceful segregation and discrimination practised there.

Finally in connection with an editorial which appeared in The Eagle last month headed "As Others See Us" I think you may be interested to see these comments contained in a letter I have just received from a Scotch friend (needless to say, my friend is a good progressive—)

". . . so the great land of the free allowed the eight Negroes to be murdered in Virginia—with only a travesty of a trial and even said they had signed confessions. They surely think the reading public are very daft (Scots for crazy) They are—but not all of them—But the day will come when their chickens will come home to roost — and the sooner the better. If America would concern herself with the tyranny and gross miscarriages of justice in her own land, and put her own home straight before she sticks her nose into other folks' affairs we might have some hope of peace in the world today. Goodness knows America's own affairs could do with a bit of attention . . . " and how! is my answer.

Sincerely yours,
SYBIL STICHT.

Please read carefully a few lines from an 87 year citizen of your native State, Missouri. (52 years in Joplin, Mo.) I was born under the influence of Planet Venus, (the Goddess of Love). LABOR ON THE MARCH

By PENN

"Beware of the man who wears the old clothes from the big house!"

That was a warning often whispered by slaves in the old South when they planned the many short-lived revolts against the cruelties of slave owners, and when they were getting ready to take the underground railroad to freedom.

It was more than a warning to keep silent around the man who wore the cast-off clothing of his master—it was a warning not to let them take part in planning or organizing action.

Until the militant leaders of opposition to the slave system learned their lesson, it was easy to fall into the traps set by the slave-owners through their stooges.

Those who wore the master's clothes were quick to enter into any scheme of revolt. They were the most outspoken in relating the wrongs done the slaves. They were among the first to curse and damn the master. They encouraged even the weak-hearted to take part in a revolt or an escape.

Wherever seeds of revolt existed because of mistreatment, because of whippings, because of breaking up of families by selling a husband, wife or child—wherever there flickered a small spark of rebellion, the Judas fanned it into flame.

And then came betrayal. Then came the gun and the rope of the slave-owners to put an end to any protest against the system.

Today, in the labor movement, the warning must be heeded again.

Too many so-called labor leaders in Los Angeles today are wearing the cast-off clothes from the big house—from the administration and from big business.

And these old clothes are third-hand. The Greens and the Murrays have worn them until they were given new cast-offs by big business.

These "labor leaders" who have sold themselves into slavery to big business in return for the hand-me-down clothes, in return for "respectability" and the privilege of sitting in high places, are betraying the rank and file.

They are going farther than betrayal—they are firing the first shot for the bosses whenever workers organize to fight against injustice in hiring and on the job.

A recent example of "labor leaders" doing the work of the bosses is the attack by CIO and AFL brass hats on the Negro Labor Council and the conference on Negro rights that the council called last Sunday.

The conference, attended by more than 250 Negro and white trade unionists, seriously analyzed Jim Crow employment and job advancement practices in industry. The delegates came out with concrete programs to combat this discrimination and with manpower organized to do something with the program hammered out.

This action is exactly the reason the conference was called—and it was a desperately needed move in the area.

Many plants have a white-only policy that has never been broken; other companies hire a few Negroes, but only for menial or back-breaking work.

Although the brass-hats of CIO and AFL have given more lip-service to fighting Jim Crow in this last period than ever before, their accomplishments add up to a great big round zero.

This is true because these same brass-hats do nothing except talk and pass resolutions.

Their only action is taken when any group or individual tries to do something concrete about discrimination. Then they viciously attack these efforts, they call them "Communist" inspired and dominated, they try to get the Elks Hall to cancel the reservation for the auditorium.

They pass out some more old clothes to the few Negroes in the trade union movement who are willing to sell out their brothers and sisters. And these Uncle Toms echo the voices of their masters.

But—and this is the rock upon which the Negro worker's house is built—the people rally to a real fight for Negro rights. They did last Sunday. They will carry on that fight through the program built at the conference.

And, despite the efforts of those who wear old clothes from the big house to betray the workers, the men and women determined to win equal job rights for Negroes are going to win.

WE ARE MANY, THEY ARE FEW

By JIM ROGERS

(Based on the Jean Field case of Los Angeles and Oklahoma City)

PART THREE—CONTINUED FROM LAST WEEK

Some miles away,
Prober turned to the witness stand, and
Jean Field fought the Prober,
A woman
Strangely unimpressed with Prober's might.
No bang-up case for
Attacking lawyer or benign judge.
The letters, indeed, the letters
She sent to her son and daughter,
The unfit letters from a fit mother.
Contradiction here,
Better spread the case on
Those two simple letters
Telling of Korea and the American people.
No other issue here.

Jean Field fought back.
The gruelling questions,
To burn part of her life away,
Turned back on themselves sometimes,
The lawyer not the happiest man.
"Did you or did you not teach your son:
'The people have nothing in common
With those who direct the policies of
This nation'?"
"I can't answer that yes or no."
"Did you or did you not teach that!"
"I taught him a principle,
A principle that can be applied
To any nation."
"But you said, 'this nation,'
The letter says, 'this nation'!"

Jefferson dipped his pen and wrote:
"Every government degenerates when
Trusted to the rulers of the people
Alone.
The people themselves, therefore,
Are its only safe depositories."
The attacking lawyer tore
Jefferson's pen away.
"Mrs. Field, do you mean this nation,
Do you mean President Truman,
Do you mean
Do you mean,
Do you mean—
Jefferson scratched on,
This man was a fool and dangerous,
Better call Paine in on the case,
A drumhead was needed to thump on,
As well as a quill to scratch notes.
America, our America,
Must fight like of old.

The rumbling in the court went on.
As Sam Jones packed the kids back home.
He didn't hear the rumbling yet,
He was merely looking after kids.
They had had a glorious day,
A wonderful, sun-drenched California day.
Then he went his way,
Back to where he lived
Near his niece's place.
A subdued man,
Soft in tone to all his friends.
His niece and her family,
They loved him very much.
When you trace this man's life,
This worker's footprints,
There is nothing to say
Except—
You come away stronger
For meeting
Sweetness unashamed in a man.

Jay and Mary Field,
Sitting in Inquisitor's Court,
Missed Sam Jones that day.
They didn't know him, but
They missed him.
They clung to their mother's figure
On the stand beyond.
They heard the Inquisition
Carefully avoid—
Negroes
Look at the statute books,
No Jim Crow in this state!
Keep the issue down,,
Embarrassing
Observe the law now,
People might get wise, but
Jean Field dragged the issue in,
Defense ripped the curtain
Aside—

Aside—
From a man nobody in the court knew,
Sam Jones

Sam Jones heard the rumbling now,
In L.A. Court some miles away,
Denying him and
His people and
He smiled, unsmiling.
A young man, 35 years
He clenched his fists,
No brawler, Sam, but
He clenched his fists,
For the rumbling was growing now,
Some people trying to pretend
[illegible] wasn't there, and [illegible]ways wanting him to disappear.

"Jay Field is a boy who regards Negroes as equals."
Defense was talking
Then—
"Objection, Your Honor."
"Objection sustained."
"But, Your Honor, this is an important
Part of the case.
This boy and girl would suffer
Serious maladjustment in a home where
Negroes are denied."
"The objection is sustained," and
The judge sat motionless.

What happened
Happened when Sam and a friend,
Rode to Wilmington that night
Negroes not served in San Pedro feed-places.
Just a point.
So off to Wilmington after a game of cards.
They drove and gabbed
Until . . .
Sam spotted the police car following.
He put on the brake.
This had happened before.
The stopping, the questioning,
For no reason.
But Sam was still patient,
Shackles prepare a man . . .
To put on the brake, and Think, and Agonize.

Flames lit up the courtroom in Field vs. Field—
As the words crackled.
They had been touched off months before
In Oklahoma, and
Some of the words were not admitted
To California conscience,
To the Bar, but
They were there—
"On one occasion, while riding with me,
He spoke very forcibly against the Laws of Oklahoma in discriminating . . ."
He sworn to by Oklahoma grandfather
About the grandson he loved.

National Security . . . or Union-Busting Blacklist?

"National Security or Union Busting Blacklist?"

That's the question asked by a leaflet issued by Marine Cooks & Stewards in Los Angeles harbor.

Several instances are cited to show that the Coast Guard is using "screening" as a union-busting device, and the growth of use of screening is traced.

"On the Lurline, after having passed screening more than ten times, one of our members was screened off after taking a militant position in a union meeting against union busting.

"One of our members was screened off, 'cleared,' then screened off again after speaking out against the raiders and union busters on the Pres. Cleveland."

It is pointed out that ships transferred to foreign registry going to Korea are not screened.

"Reason: No union, low wages, poor conditions."

Progress of the development of the screening program to hit nearer home at organized labor is shown.

Screening was used in "First the Far East, South America, Alaska; then Hawai (the Lurline carrying pineaples and passengers), schooners (carying lumber coastwise), and finally the Cataina boats!"

Calling for all unions to support MCS with the old slogan, "An injury to one is an injury to all," the leaflet closes with:

"We say screening as it is now being practiced is not security, but union-busting and blacklisting!"

Reports on Peace March Next Week

Delegates of the Washington Pilgrimage for Peace will report to citizens of Los Angeles at a meeting set for Park View Manor, 2200 West 7th St., Wednesday, March 28 at 8 p.m.

Speakers to be heard include Rev. Carl Lawson Crain, North Long Beach Christian Church; Rev. Elijah James, St. Mark's Baptist Church, Long Beach; Dr. Carroll Richardson, Occidental College; Mrs. Vivian Myerson, Neighborhood Women for Peace, and Ralph Beals, a Los Angeles worker.

The meeting is under the sponsorship of the Los Angeles Chapter, American Peace Crusade.

As he applied torch around the boy
At the end of summer.
The attacking lawyer saw no torch.
Saw no summer.
A mother's fitness was on trial,
THAT was the issue.
So in the winter and
In civilized California.

The cops came up to Sam's car,
The questioning short this time,
Why expect words from
Demolition experts.
They got Sam from the car,
Sobriety test, of course,
For a man who didn't drink.
And they started
To Fix
Sam.
His friend lay in the car,
In stone, and watched
The cops.
Upholders of the People's Peace,
Who ride in the People's Car,
Stop a vibrant nerve
Of that People.

No fuss.
'Operation Killer'
The Crocodile would call it.
There were four cops by now,
They jumped Sam's face,
His head.
Get the exactness here . . .
Jumped his groin,
Jumped with full-meal energy,
Strength through absolute joy,
Beat and stamped out—
A living black man,
Animals destroying
The Kingdom of Sam Jones.

And when they were through,
The rumbling from the court
Some miles away
Had ceased in Sam's ear.
He didn't hear the last
"Objection, Your Honor," and
Its honorable sustaining by
An honorable man.
But Jean Field sitting in court,
Fighting to save her blood,
Her golden son and golden daughter,
Heard the words easily and
Grasped the arms of her chair.
Intake is almost impossible
When your home is swept by flames.
Unjust!
Unjust!

Oh, how unjust . . .
And no one knows.
She held on to the arms of the chair,
She knew more was coming.
Yet she was . . . prepared.
At this point she was prepared
To fight on and on.

She didn't know how . . .
She did . . . n't . . .
The children sat,
Looking very young,
Waiting for the cue to go home.
She didn't know

A Compton housewife
Heard the din and now and Looked up sharply.
A longshoreman
At a cargo winch in Pedro Harbor
Heard the noise
Above the escaping steam and Ran his cargo more slowly
To listen.
A young girl at UCLA,
Bored with her class on The Family,
Dug her pen into the desk
At the roar
And frowned.
People trained their ears and Held their children closely.
The concience of America.
Jefferson took a step forward.

The flames rose higher, the words
Devoured.
"Children always cry
When separated from their mother."
The Court intoned and clasped its hands,
As the the decision was handed down.
Jay was full,
A young boy hating and full,
Always to remember.
He was biting the seconds
Mary with buried head.
Then they were ripped right out from
The embrace of the New World and
Jean Field,
Who hurled
Through fighter's tears,
"This is not the end!"

The Crocodile drew back a little
In secret dismay,
Things were going badly
In a number of places.
And the hyenas crouched a little . . .
To consider
People gathering . . . gathering,
The many against the few.

Motor Citations

SACRAMENTO — Drivers were reminded today that their chances of being cited by the California Highway Patrol for a motor vehicle violation are approximately one to seven.

That average is based upon 1949 statistics which showed nearly 700,000 citations, including both arrests and warnings, for about 5,000,000 registered motor vehicles.

MARRIED — Dame Rumor had it last week that Ezzard Charles is reportedly married to a childhood blonde sweetheart. To date this rumor has not been confirmed by Charles.

HOWARD'S STORE ON CENTRAL AVE.

Among the young people entering the business world and making a bid for a permanent place at the top, are Mr. and Mrs. John Howard, at 4209½ South Central Avenue.

The Howards have a neat, though small, up-to-the-standard of first class meat market and grocery store at that address. They specialize in old style country pork sausage, their own make, which is famous for flavor.

When Mr. Howard is not busy at the store he is directing the John Howard Acapella Choir, a radio and television feature of KFI-TV Channel 9, heard Fridays between 2 and 3 p.m. of N.W. Iowa in the late sixties. There were no schools there. My education is from practical experience, close observation and inspiration. I trust you will understand my sincere motives I wish to convey to you.

That education is not intelligence.—School Education is the understanding and knowledge of the man made — City, County, State, National and international laws and customs. Intelligence is the understanding and knowledge of the immutable law of life.

Man made laws and customs, are complicated, negative, destructive, death. Nature's laws are Positive, Creative, Progressive, Constructive Life . . . And the obedience of natures law, is the only adequate way to acquire Peace Be Still.

Now dear President, please call to mind when the great sea was at war threatening destruction and death. No Hope—A man was seen walking on the water, unmolested by the sea waves and billows. Do you remember His words, Peace be still, and the warring seat at once was calmed and all was save from death.

Now dear president, you are this very moment possessed with the same adequate power over the Wall St. warring faction . . . that this man had over the waring Sea. Just convert yourself from serving the desires of the warring faction, to the serving the desires of 75 per cent of all peoples of the world that are desirous of PEACE.

From the very hour of your conversion, you will be the most honored and loved man in the world. A simile of Sol of tarsus conversion while on his way, to have innocent people punished and killed. On the other hand, as you are now doing, you will have the ill will of 90 per cent of the people of the world.

So I appeal to you dear President. Do grant the desires of the Peace Committee that are begging you for PEACE BE STILL.

HOMEBUILDING AT NEW HIGH

Homebuilders in the Los Angeles Metropolitan Area began the new year at a record-breaking pace by starting 8560 new permanent non-farm dwelling units, Max D. Kossoris, director of the Western Region of the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics, reported last week.

The high volume represented a jump of 2,200 units, or 42 percent, above December. Not only was the general downward trend of the last seven months reversed, but a new January high was recorded—a 35 percent increase over January of 1950.

Tobin Appoints Graham

Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin last week announced the appointment of Frank P. Graham as Defense Manpower Administrator. In this position, Graham will direct, supervise and coordinate all of the defense manpower activities of the Department of Labor. In the performance of these functions, he will report directly to Secretary Tobin. Graham is former President of the University of North Carolina. He served as a U. S. 150 Years of Service

The Democratic Party, on March 4, completed 150 years of service to the United States of America.

It was on March 4, 1801, that Thomas Jefferson, founder of the Party, was inaugurated for his first term as president.

Ministers' Alliance Urges Yes Vote On Prop A & B

The Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance, Officers and Members are worthy of an earned vote of confidence, proving their interest by their expression for an unanimous endorsement of the proposed much needed cultural center, namely a CIVIC AUDITORIUM and a MUSIC CENTER for Los Angeles.

Dr. Granville Reed, Founder and President of the Reed's School of Theology, is also the capable President of this sincere and progressive group of Ministers who represent 12 different Protestant faiths with an estimated 100,000 memberships.

May we quote Rev. Reed who stated, "My dear Brothers, this is our opportunity to stress the need of and the belief that the returns from this wonderful project will far exceed any expenses incurred".

Rev. G. L. Hayes, Pastor of the New Era C.M.E. Church, further emphasized Los Angeles starvation for a cultural fountain, declaring "A yes vote for Prop A and B is a must for every well thinking Minister, Church Official and congregation."

Rev. Jonathan L. Caston, well known civic leader, summed up the need by stating, "There's no way around it, we're just for Prop. A and B."

So earnest the statements, coupled with a spirit of educating congregational members to the need for a Civic Auditorium and Music Center, that a unanimous vote substantiated by a signed Resolution was delivered to Mrs. Faustina N. Johnson, well known civic, club and welfare worker and Capt. Nomer Garrott, retired L.A. City policeman and ardent church and civic worker, who appeared before these our respected and acknowledged community leaders. Mrs. Johnson and Capt. Garrott represented the Citizens Committee to VOTE "YES" ON PROPOSITIONS A and B.

Well do the ministers realize that the proposed cutlural projects will relieve the age old embarrassing situation of Los Angeles not being able to invite guest organizations or delegations to convene or appear here due to lack of large or decent facilities that will answer all convention needs.

They further realize and emphasize that unlike most issues of its kind A and B will not only enhance Los Angeles selling points of business, but would in a very short time clear its own indebtedness and become one of Los Angeles major sources of income, supplying funds needed for other community needs.

OUR CHILDREN NEED A CENTER OF CULTURE THEY WILL BE PROUD OF. LET US, YOU AND YOU, MR. AND MRS. VOTER, MAKE THEM HAPPY BY VOTING "YES" APRIL 3RD FOR PROPOSITIONS A AND B.

L. A. School System Investigated

to be whirlwind reaping time, with the people on the sidelines. According to an article in The Daily News: Los Angeles school children are getting only 63 cents worth of teaching, a new record low, out of each dollar spent in operating the local public schools. They used to get 71 cents worth.

But since the school year of 1947-48 the relative amount paid teachers has dropped annually until it is now 11 per cent below the traditional minimum. At the same time under the budget policies of the Board of Education and Supt. A. J. Stoddard, costs of administration have swollen to a record high of 32 per cent above the traditional proportion. Los Angeles school kids are getting lots of administration and not so much teaching, if the budget is taken as the measurement.

Published budget reports of the city school board show clearly how administrative costs are eating into the dollar intended for teachers and teaching.

Now that it has come to light that abuses other than racial discrimination, such as tainted food, the dismissal of teachers in bad taste with Board members, juggling of funds—all of which is now the porperty of the Grand Jury, maybe some much needed changes will be made in the Board of Education's personnal for the benefit of the people who are beginning to speak out.

Citizens are meeting, discussing conditions, and resolving to do something about it. Here is a case in point.

Indignant citizens, aroused over the reoccuring actions of the Los Angeles Board of Education considered detrimental to the physical and mental health of the children of Los Angeles, have formed the Taxpayers' Committee for Better Education, and are sponsoring a Citizens Town Hall Meeting to be held at the Hollywood High School Auditorium, Wednesday evening, March 28th, at 8:00 P.M., to present the facts to the Community.

Mrs. Joseph A. Siegel, temporary chairman of the Taxpayers' Committee, a non-partisan, non-political group, stated "that reports coming into the committee have indicated shocking abuses on the part of the Board of Education in relation to tainted food served in the school system cafeterias, flagrant racial discrimination of teachers and students, private financial gain, and inadequate safety measures in playground areas, which have already resulted in the death and permanent maiming of several students."

Mrs. Ione Swan, principal of the Wilshire Crest School, who has just been discharged after twenty-seven years of service for "daring" to openly criticize the Board of Education, will be the main speaker at this free admission meeting at the Hollywood High School." By C.A.B.

URBAN LEAGUE AND GUILD FETED AFTER AWARD CEREMONIES

The sixteen recipients of the Los Angeles Urban League Certificates of Award took their places in the spotlight before a crowd of 800 people Friday evening, March 16, 1951, at the John H. Francis Polytechnic High School Auditorium.

The dramatic words of Loretta Young, radio and screen star, who presented the awards, were: ... "In a nation conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal, the determination to protect that concept and that dedication is—must be—constant and unconquerable."

The occasion marked the close of the Urban League's nineteeth annual Vocational Opportunity Campaign and ended a full week's schedule of activities in churches, schools, and radio programs which covered every phase of the League's program.

The appearance of Miss Young, the famed Jester Hairston Choir, and television's newest vocal team, John Dugan and Charlene Hawkes, provided an atmosphere of Hollywood dramatics.

Bernard S. Jefferson, president of the Board of Directors, was master of ceremonies. He made the annual report for the League.

The laudatory statements revealing the characteristics which determined the award winners, narrated by Gale Shannon, concluded an inspiring ceremony.

The Los Angeles Rams Football Club was awarded the E. K. Jones Roving Trophy, the highest honor. Coach Joe Stydahar received the trophy for the Rams.

Other awardees were:

William Cooper, detailer draftsman; Rev. Vinton J. Waldron, Minister and Community leader; Ethel Alexander, toy designer; U. S. Spring and Bumper Company and UAW-CIO, Local 509, management-labor relations; Joe Adams, disc - jockey; Mattel Creations, toy manufacturers; Dr. Leroy Weekes, Obstetrician and Gynecologist; the Furniture Manufacturers Association of So. California; Loren Miller, Attorney; Bob Kelley, sports broadcaster; Vivian S. Strange, policewoman; Dr. Ellis Toney, Psychiatrist; Fannie Leonard, civic worker; Verna Hickman, Public Relations Director; and William H. Pine and William C. Thomas, motion picture producers.

the ruling of Judge Ben Harrison which denied the right of bail to David Hyun, Frank Carlson, Miriam Stevenson, and Harry Carlisle who have been held behind bars for nearly five months.

This decision condones the extreme interpretation of the McCarran Act by Attorney-General McGrath, according to Rose Chernin, executive secretary of the Los Angeles Branch, Protection of Foreign Born. It sets a dangerous precedent and threatens the fate of thousands of unionists and progressives.

The Terminal Island Four, imprisoned solely because of their political views, "may well become the pattern of persecution of the American people, unless the challenge is met immediately and squarely by an aroused people," says Miss Chernin.

NEGRO LABOR ON MARCH

the Negro community for cases of discrimination on the job and tabulate the information so that a concerted drive can be made on those companies who turn down applicants for work.

A drive for increased membership in the Negro Labor Council was also recommended and approved by the Conference.

The panel on Negroes in the Trade Union Movement, chaired by Sidney Moore, United Public Workers, made a strong recommendation that all of organized labor "clean their own houses first" and then move into the fight against discrimination everywhere.

Absence of Negroes in the top leadership of most CIO and AFL unions was condemned, and a campaign designed to change this situation through rank and file activity was outlined.

Need for FEP clauses in all union contracts, and their enforcement, was stressed.

Ferdia Harris reported for the panel on Negro Women, and brought in a program of action to correct the extreme discrimination against Negro women workers.

DPOWA local 95 representatives agreed to establish a job training program in office and professional work.

Plans for nursery schools to release mothers for jobs in industry were discussed.

An organizing drive in the field of domestic work, where so many women are driven and where conditions and pay are sub-standard, is planned.

It was suggested that the Negro Labor Council act as a dispatching office for women workers.

A drive to place Negro women on airlines and ships as stewards was outlined.

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph and the May Co. were named as concentration points to have women hired.

A greater activity by women in unions was recommended, and the establishment of an educational and social program to eliminate false barriers between white and Negro workers was urged.

The Upgrading panel, chaired by Art Gearing, set up a 15-man committee to survey shops and unions on upgrading practices for Negro workers, who are most often bypassed in advancement despite seniority and experience.

Union contracts will be checked by the committee to discover and try to remove "gimmicks" that allow promotion without regard for seniority.

Posting of jobs for bidding should be done sufficiently in advance of filling the job to allow every worker qualified to make a bid for the higher classification.

Stress was placed on full and first-class union citizenship for Negroes.

Chairman for the morning session of the full conference was Irene Armstrong, DPOWA local 95, who introduced Miss Frances Williams, community leader, and Joe Johnson, Marine Cooks and Stewards port agent, as featured speakers.

Miss Williams told of the Negro women's important role in the development of the nation and of their leadership in the many struggles to end slavery and to guarantee civil rights for all people.

She emphasized that the battle for Negro rights in Los Angeles can not be separated from the struggle in the southern states nor from the struggles in other countries for full rights.

"We have to stretch our hands across the waters to help the South Africans and minority groups wherever they may be fighting for human dignity," Miss Williams said.

She paid tribute to the many Negro women who have helped build the nation.

She told of Sojourner Truth, Shirley Graham (now wife of W. E. B. DuBois), Mary Church Terrell, Ada Jackson "and the other Miss Jackson in Virginia" and Helen Samuels. She spoke of outstanding women fighters in Los Angeles—Marie Bouden, Jackie Clack and Charlotta A. Bass, editor-publisher of the California Eagle.

Joe Johnson charged that reactionary forces had guarded written history as much as they had profits; that the contributions of the Negro to the nation found no space in history books studied in schools.

He hit the administration for the wage freeze and for anti-labor legislation.

"The cry used to be 'keep government out of business,'" Johnson said. "Now the cry should be 'keep business out of government.' How can we expect Charles Wilson of the Stabilization Board to speak or act for the benefit of wage-earners?"

He pointed out the difference between rank and file unions that work for the members and the unions controlled from the top.

"Look at the railroad workers," he said. "They used to receive the highest wages in the country. But the union heads didn't fight for the rank and file. Now they're among the low paid workers.

"But the Marine Cooks and Stewards, controlled by the members and working for the benefit of the members, have the highest wages of any workers in the field."

Johnson urged a continued and intensified fight for civil rights. "It's harder to live for an idea and fight for it than it is to die for it," he said.

The afternoon session, chaired by Joe Johnson, heard Cleophas Brown, AFL Laborers, charge that "Never before has there been so much lip service for an end of discrimination and so much betrayal of the idea by top leaders of labor."

He said that CIO and AFL brass were firing the first shot for the employers in the fight to destroy the job rights of Negroes.

"Had the CIO followed the traditions on which it was built," he said, "there would be no need for a Negro Labor Council."

He warned delegates against the "Uncle Toms" of the labor movement, who sell out their people for a high paying job and for the privilege of mingling with labor brass hats.

The Conference stood for a silent minute mouring for the Martinsville Seven, and drafted a message urging a full pardon for Willie McGee, who faces execution on a rape frame-up.

Temporary officers, to serve until the first formal meeting of the Los Angeles Negro Labor Council, were elected.

They are Joe Johnson, chairman; John Forrester, executive secretary, and Mabel Hawkins, treasurer.

Greetings and congratulations to the Conference were received from William H. Chester, northern California ILWU regional director; Sam Parks, Chicago Negro Labor Council; Revels Cayton, Harlem Trade Union Council; Carl Brant, United Labor Action Committee, and other groups and individuals.

NEWS FROM ACROSS THE WORLD

12 Fighters for Peace Acquitted

ST. BRIEUC, France—During several days, the trial of the 17 fighters for peace of St. Brieuc accused of having prevented the departure of a convoy of military material took place before the Court of Paris.

The 12 fighters for peace of St. Brieuc were preventively imprisoned during 7 months before being tried.

The people's action for their liberation took any kind of form throughout the country: work stoppages, resolutions, delegations. The movement was so strong that the military judges purely and simply acquitted the 12 patriots of St. Brieuc. A numerous crowd welcomed this new victory of the peace forces over the warmongers by singing the "Marseillaise."

Rail Traffic in Burma

SINGAPORE—Main line traffic between the chief cities of Burma—Rangoon, Prome and Mandalay—has been halted by the action of the Burmese liberation fighters according to reports in the Burmese paper Oway, and the operations of the fighters extend as far north as the capital of the state of Kachin, Myitkytina.

Widespread sabotage of the rail system, dynamiting of trains and the tearing up of tracks have been carried out by the people's forces.

"The main cities of the country," the magazine points out, "have been accessible to each other only by air."

CRC Hails Victory In Australia

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The recent action of the Supreme Court of Australia in declaring unconstitutional an act outlawing the minority Communist Party in country has been hailed by the Civil Rights Congress here as "a lesson to the American people that united struggles to defend constitutional rights can win victories."

The CRC statement, issued by William L. Patterson, national executive secretary, said: "The news that eleven major Australian labor unions joined to defeat a government attempt to outlaw the minority Communist Party should encourage the American people to continue writing the U. S. Supreme Court urging that the Smith Act be declared unconstitutional and that the conviction of the eleven Communist leaders be reversed.

"The government tries to intimidate the people's open demand for peace by trying to jail a world figure like Dr. W. E. B. DuBois and further attempts to terrorize the Negro people with legal lynchings like that of the Martinsville Seven and the innocent Willie McGee.

"Time is of the essence, today. While the court considers its decision on the Smith Act, every American, every organization, trade union, civic and fraternal group, must make its will to freedom known to the court.

"Write, wire to the Supreme Court today. The victory of the Australian people is a lesson to the American people that united struggles to defend constitutional rights can win victories."

'All Blood Is Red'

UNION CITY, N. J. — "Our armed forces have done more to improve race relations than any other organized group in the country."

So states James C. Evans, Negro civilian adviser to the Secretary of Defense in an article in the March issue of "The Sign," national Catholic magazine published here.

Written by John C. O'Brien, top-flight Washington correspondent, the article is entitled, "All Blood Is Red."

"The Navy," Mr. O'Brien asserts, "has moved in five years from a policy of complete exclusion of Negroes from general service to complete integration in the general service.

"So pleased were Negroes with the Navy's new policy that in 1950 the Dorie Miller Foundation of Chicago, organized in honor of a heroic Navy mess attendant, bestowed its award to the 'personnel of the United States Navy' for having made 'the outstanding contribution to improving race relations' in that year."

Arizona Adopts De-Segregation Law for State School System

The State of Arizona passed a bill that ended forcible segregation in the schools of the state, and it was signed by Governor Howard Pyle as soon as it reached his desk, the week of March 12.

Representatives Carl Sims, Sr. and H. B. Daniels, of Maricopa County, were the authors of the bill. They are the only two Negro members of the present House of Representatives, and they are the first Negroes ever to serve in that legislative body.

This is also their first term. They won their election on this plank in their platform. But the de-segregation bill had a rocky road to travel, and it seemed for a time that it would fail. It seemed destined to die in the Senate Rules Committee.

Finally pried loose, however, it was adopted without a dissenting voice, and Governor Pyle signed it a few hours later.

The new law does not grant all the reforms of its sponsors had hoped for. It simply grants to the various school districts in the State, the right to decide for themselves whether or not their schools shall be segregated schools. But virtually all educational leaders predict there will never again be any color line in the Arizona school system.

"It would be too costly to set up separate school facilities for any Negro children who might move into our district," is the way one member of a school board expressed it.

"Catholic schools have never drawn any color or racial line. We have had Negro children in our schools since time immemorial," said the Most Rev. Daniel J. Gercke, bishop of the Tucson Catholic diocese.

Morgan Maxwell, principal of the city's one Negro school, predicted "This will greatly enhance the feeling of 'belonging' in our Negro children, a feeling necessary to all citizens in a united country."

Watts Honors

The affair is being sponsored by the Tabernacle of Faith Church and its pastor, the Rev. F. Douglas Ferrell.

Founder's Day Held at Florida A. & M.

TALLAHASSEE — The sixty-third observance of Founder's Day was held at Florida A & M College Sunday, March 11. This annual celebration which began on Saturday and ended Sunday evening was better attended than any one in previous years.

The Alumni had a dinner meeting on Saturday, March 10, in the faculty dining hall. Mrs. Lucile Coleman, president of the Alumni Association, presided. President Gore in speaking to the group discussed plans for the future of the school.

Reverend Andrew Hargrett, speaking at the Founder's Day worship service from the subject, "The Meaning of the Altar in Human Living," reminded the audience of the relevance of the Jesus way of life for our times. He pointed to—"helping others and denying ourselves" as the remedy needed for our troubled world. He begged that all people walk the Jericho Road as the Good Samaritan and Jesus would walk, so that we might bring all manner of people to the Altar of God.

Mexicans Gypped Into 4-Year Contract By Triton Shipping Line

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. — Information on charges that Mexican Nationals signed what they thought to be a life insurance policy, but which turned out to be a contract to work for four years at $3.00 a day was asked of the Triton Shipping Line last week by MCS, President Hugh Bryson.

"Members of our Union aboard the President Polk while visiting the M.V John Lyras in the Orient were requested by members of that crew for assistance in alleviating the hardships they are undergoing," the letter stated.

The Mexican Nationals understood they would work four months and that they would sail to Yokohama and back to San Diego, California. Instead they found they had signed a four year contract and have already participated in the evacuation of Hunghnam.

"The men protest that they have been compelled to perform all kinds of work outside their departments. The waiters were required to wash dishes by bringing water from deck, boiling it in rusty buckets and using it to scrub the deck and sometimes to take a bath. There is no such thing as overtime for these men.

"The men protest that food is rationed, they are restricted to one egg a week, and nine pounds of meat a day, bones and all for three meals.

The ship flies the English flag.

Vicente Lombardo Toledano of the C.T.A.L. has been notified as well as the Seamen and Dockers Trade Union International (WFTU), and the National Union of Britain, with a request that they make protest of this injustice as well.

Out of Court Settlement

Rodney LaQue, 640 E. 119th Street, made an out of court settlement last week when his case was called for trial in the Municipal Court.

In his complaint filed by Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr., LaQue charged that while employed at the Sunset Plaza Apartments last October 10th, Arnold Kunody and Walter E. Smith, tenants of the apartment, jumped on him when he telephoned Kunody and told him he would not be able to take his automobile keps to the office any longer. Kunody allegedly came to the garage and struck LaQue while Smith assertedly hit him.

Smith also charged him with insulting his wife, LeQue said.

The complaint asked for $2500 damages.

LA Sentinel Sued

LOS ANGELES (NPB) — The Los Angeles Sentinel newspaper was the object of a law suit Tuesday, when Bernard Van Shiffer, a free lance advertising man, filed an action in Municipal Court to recover monies and advertising lay-outs assertedly being withheld from him by the paper's management.

Shiffer, in an action filed through the law office of H. F. Diekman, claims the newspaper is indebted to him in a sum in excess of $250.00. The advertising man asserts in his complaint, that he entered into a contract with the newspaper more than two months ago which described a program of advertising he would carry out in the interest of the Sentinel.

The complainant alleges he prepared advertising lay-outs and went out on space solicitation assignments for a period of approximately two months before he was dismissed without notice. The action is specific performance of the contract and a recovery of monies and expenses assertedly being withheld from Shiffer.

Michael Fanning To Be Honored at Testimonial Dinner

Civic and business leaders will honor Postmaster Michael D. Fanning at a testimonial dinner to be held at the Biltmore Bowl on March 26, heralding the progress made in the Los Angeles postal system during the past five years.

In addition, plans are now being made to construct a new $13.500.000 parcel post building adjacent to the Terminal Annex.

Other advancements made during this period have been the establishment of the helicopter mail service, the highway post office, and the replacement of the old post office motor trucks with a fleet of modern vehicles.

Socialiting...

By WINI ORR

TO ALL OF YOU WONDERFUL PEOPLE who have given us the encouragement to continue writing "SOCIALITING," to those of you who have been invaluable with constructive criticism — A JOYOUS, HAPPY EASTER.

NOT ONLY WILL YOUR EASTER BE HAPPY, but slightly on the rampage if you attempt to keep up with all the marvelous affairs planned for the day that officially heralds Spring, particularly in Milady's wardrobe.

FIRST AND NOT AT ALL LEAST, THE INDEPENDENT CHURCH OF CHRIST WILL PRESENT ITS ANNUAL FASHION REVUE AT THE PARK VIEW MANOR. Naturally we are on a soap box for this affair because we have been working rather hard to set up the show and really give you a first class affair. We are happy to say that is what you are going to get from the models. Unique in the fact that the clothes shown are ALL from personal wardrobes and the women have gone to great lengths to show the best, and you will see what the well dressed woman will need this spring and summer.

You will see Margaret Goode, lovely little lovely in patio wear; well dressed Margurite Fisher, linen and tailored wear; Ethel Taylor, Bessie Williams and Augustine Stewart will show At Home wear; the young misses will be represented by Eloise Parrish, U.C.L.A. student, Gertrude Maxwell and sister Mayme, Alberta McKinney, Doris Hearns, Merrill Reece, Evelyn Hearns, Harriet Wadley, Effie Elliot, Louella Lane, Mary Louise George, Irene Armstrong, Barbara Gray, Geraldine Jones will be the smart young matrons and what they wear; the male contingent will be held down by Jay Loft Lynn, Charles Corley, Elmore January, Velmas Hamilton; and then there will be the Juniors. In all the lineup is really fine.

WE HAVE WORKED IN THE PAST WITH JAY LOFT-LYNN and again it is our pleasure to have him assisting with the show. Thru Mr. Loft-Lynn's efforts we have the promise of Arthur Lee Simpkins, Edith Whiteman, Wonderful Smith, Wesley Gale, and the wonderful Charley Lawrence combo. So you see there will be entertainment too.

As you know, the benefit show is for the Boys' Home that is independently maintained by the Independent Church.

THEN ON TO THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF NEGRO WOMEN'S BONNET REVIEW. We are NOT commentating this affair as announced. The local milliners promise to give you a showing of their finest work. You will see the work of Mildred Blount, long noted for her originality; Velva Lorette Henderson (and WAIT 'til we tell you about HER hat show); Robbie Slocum who is showing also in the INDEPENDENT show; Betty Clark (really was on the road to a terrific career until Horace retired her); Beulah Johnson, who always manages to get the "Oh's and Ah's"; Mr. T. Phillips (looks like a male has eased into the show) and Rosa Cooper. Quite a lineup.

To simplify things maybe we had better pass on the directions to the Chateau Villon: the address is 4320 Cedarhurst Circle. Take Western Ave. to Vermont north to Los Feliz. Turn right. Drive to Commonwealth, past the Brown Derby and turn right on Commonwealth. Two short blocks will put you at Cedarhurst Drive. A left turn and taking the first street up hill to CHATEAU VILLON and the National Council of Negro Women to greet you. The hours: four to nine in the evening.

NOT TO CALL IT A DAY, ALPHA PHI ALPHA FRATERNITY will take over the Florentine Gardens and hold their first annual ALPHA GOLD AWARD party. The frat men have decided to give gold awards to the most cooperative artists who have been gracious with giving their time and talents to the various charities in the past year. A very commendable thing. Members of the press will choose the honorees by secret ballot. Come see and enjoy the evening that has been planned with dancing and relaxation.

Sigma Formal to Be Given During Regional Confab

The dance committee of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity is now making elaborate plans for its forthcoming annual Formal Dance. The dance is to be held at the Royal Palms Hotel on the evening of April 6. Among the many preparations being made for the dance is the selection of a Sigma Sweetheart. This presents a problem of great magnitude, because it is no easy task to select one young lady from among the many attractive aspirants for the honorary position. The dance is to be be held in conjunction with the Regional Conference of the Sigmas, and is only one of many activities planned to fete the visiting brothers of Western Region. Sammy Franklin and his orchestra will provide the music for the affair.

Beautiful Parisian creations by Velva Loretta wife of Rev. Henderson who studied millinery in Paris, were viewed by many of Los Angeles' best dressed ladies. The style parade was held in the home of Ralphe Porter on Harvard Blvd. Each creation, bearing a name such as "Inspiration," "White Smoke," "Flamingo" etc., were modeled by Mrs. Mary Frances Peterson. In her own charming manner Mrs. Leontine King announced the arrival of each display, naming and describing the hat and the material of which they were made. Among the twenty-four hats shown, black and white contrast were quite prominent. Jewel trims all done by hand and imported straws and materials held the audience in fascination. Many of the guests, beautifully gowned, were wearing chapeaux from exclusive French rooms. Mrs. Betty Clark, who visited Paris last summer, was stunning in a large white lace hat trimmed in green, her own creation. Mrs. King was outstanding in a color scheme of red. Lovely Jane Criner was a picture in a small pillbox hat of white, set off with a tall black feather.

TO THE MORE SERIOUS SIDE OF THE LEDGER. It is regretable that Nat King Cole has had this run-in with the Internal Revenue Boys. But we are in Nat's corner one hundred percent. We didn't get to the press conference simply because we were not asked, but we firmly believe in the right thing. As we all know there is more to this thing than taxes and it's a shame that the Racial bug has lifted his horrid old head. Any time a man can't have a chance, then there is more to it than meets the eye. True, Nat shouldn't have let it get so far, no one should in that money bracket, but lots do. If he needs his people now, we think it more than a personal issue and we should rally.

VELVA LORETTE gave the women of Los Angeles something to think about with her presentation of her Parisian originals. Such bewitching names for the exquisite chapeaux as "Inspiration," "Easter Joy," "Follies Bergere," "Gay Paree," "Starlite," "Secret," "Black Magic," "Sophistication," "Charm," "Fleur d' Amore," "Parisian Romance," and so many more breathtaking hats. The workmanship was without a doubt the finest we have had the pleasure to see, and what woman does not love a lovely hat?

Climaxing a scintillating show was the stopper "Summertime," all white organdy. Mrs. Velva Lorette Henderson is to be complimented and Los Angeles is to feel proud that she belongs to us. Leontyne King commentated beautifully.

Three years ago she was classed as a flop when she appeared in the miserable production "Paris Sings Again" on the great White Way. After her performance at the Strand, magnificent Jo will be featured in the exclusive Ciro's in Los Angeles, the Las Vegas night clubs, and Chicago's Chez Paree before returning for another engagement in New York.—(ANP)

Christian Science

Belief in and worship of matter leads to sin, sickness, and death, whereas an understanding of God restores health and well-being according to the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Matter" in all Christian Science churches.

The Golden Text is from Psalms (81:9, 10): "There shall no strange god be in thee; neither shalt thou worship any strange god. I am the Lord thy God, which brought three out of the land of Egypt."

In a Bible passage from Matthew Jesus counselled his followers, "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven . . . For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also" (6:19-21).

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy says, "The time approaches when mortal mind will forsake its corporeal, structural and material basis, when immortal Mind and its formations will be apprehended in Science, and material beliefs will not interefer with spiritual facts" (p. 402).

On The Turf

By GEORGE A. RAMSEY

NEW CALIENTE IN OLD MEXICO—The old saying is that here are no substitutes for experience, and certain things improve with age, that seems to hold good for old War Allies, the 7 year old son of imported Ali-Mai-Amphibian scored his fifth straight victory in the featured Oravavera handicap by a short nose. One of the largest crowds in many months was thrilled by the exciting finish of War Allies and Dina Bam with the later table mate three lengths back. It was Dina Bam that set all the early pace with War Allies laying in second position. Despite the strong wind that was blowing War Allies on the outside and Dina on the rail races head and head from the sixteenth pole to the wire. War Allies head was straight and the Bam head down which gave the former the victory after three pictures were taken. The winner paid $12.40 and the time for the six furlongs was 1:11 flat.

In the secondary Red Stripe captured the six furlong Saratoga purse in easy fashion, setting all her own pace the daughter of Red Jewel-Oval Over was going away from Ken Bojens at the finish to score by two lengths paying $18.20. The daily-double payoff was $118.60 when Gotagal, second choice in the fourth race was the winner and Coleen Abbey scored in the fifth. The quniela holders of Red Stripe and Ken Bojens who finished in that order received $32.60.

The management was well pleased with the turnout for Saturday which was the first Saturday that racing has been held in Caliente since 1945. And for the two days the attendance was 12,380 and the mutuels handle for the same was $284,211. Again this Saturday General Manager Walter C. Marty has arranged another card of eight races and the feature attraction will be "The Yuma" at one mile and one-sixteenth. The secondary will be "The Phoenix" at the same distance.

For Sunday when twelve races will be staged the feature will be "The Bonnie Sea" at two miles. This race is expected to be a thriller for the long distance horses. "The Easter Parade" handicap will support the main event. The distance will be one mile. All in all racing secretary, James O. Cunningham, had carded one of the best programs in many months for the border course and another large record breaking crowd is expected.

Luther Keyes Out For Bruin Spring Drills

Luther Keyes, versatile backfieldman is out with 75 candidates for the 1951 UCLA football team for spring practice. Practice began Monday at Spaulding field.

A total of 26 lettermen—25 from last years team and one from 1949—will take part in the practice.

Fundamentals will take up much of the practice time. Topping the list of veterans is Don Moomav, while other backfield men with Keyes will be Joe Marvin, Bob Moore, Julie Weisstein and Johnny Florence.

Dean Kirby is also returning to the squad from 1949, but loss this season are Fullback Hal Braly and John Sende. The Bruins finished third last year and second in 1949 in the PCC standings.

Trotters Ready For Hoop Series

Chicago—The Harlem Globetrotters, basketball's most spectacular and successful team, are groomed and ready for the greatest cage test of them all—the second annual coast-to-coast series against the 1951 College All-Americans, April 1 to 19.

No team in professional basketball history has ever dared to risk its prestige or record in such a complete and extensive series against such a spectacular team of college heroes. But the Globetrotters, winners of 130 of 131 games so far this season, are going to try it for the second straight year.

Although extended in every game, the famous Negro quintet managed to win 11 of the 18 games in last year's initial series. They hope to better that record this year, even though the All-Stars are much stronger than the 1950 squad.

The 18-game trans-continental will start on April 1 in New York's Madison Square Garden and end on April 19 in Boston, Mass.

Last season the series drew a total of 181,364 cash customers, played to 13 S. R. O. crowds, and set local basketball attendance records in six cities.

This year it is expected to surpass that mark. The highlight of the brilliant tour will be on April 9, when the two crack quintets clash in the famous Rose Bowl at Pasadena, California. Provisions are being made to accommodate no less than 30,000 fans. If that attendance mark is reached, the game will be played before the greatest crowd in basketball history.

The Globetrotters will go into series with their star-studded lineup intact, Goose Tatum, Marques Haynes, Bill Brown, Capt. Babe Pressley, Ermer Robinson, Pop Gates, Clarence Wilson and Josh Grider.

Hairston, Boyd In Chi Sox Drills

PALM SPRINGS—Bob Boyd and Sam Hairston, first Negroes to tryout with the Chicago White Sox, are receiving the usual attention given rookies in a big league club training camp.

Playing Thursday in an intrasquad game here, catcher Hairston drove in his side's winning run as two clubs were locked 1-1. His single to left field scored a player.

Boyd is helping Manager Paul to develop pitchers in fielding by practicing the first baseman to pitcher put out play. Last year Sox pitchers were weak in this defense. Boyd and Eddie Robinson, last year's regular first sacker, are participating in these drills.

Jackie Makes Training Debut

VERO BEACH, Fla. — Jackie Robinson, second baseman, appeared with the Brooklyn Dodgers in an intro-squad game for the first time last week.

Pitching two innings for the regulars was Dan Bankhead, who did not allow a run. Campanella did a bit of slugging in the game, pounding out a lone double.

Campanella has played in all the intrasquad games this season.

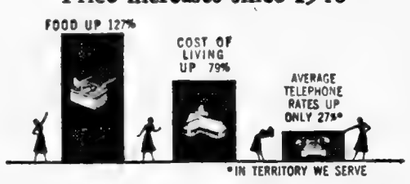
Re-routing Long Distance circuits—one of the many interesting, vital jobs for women in the telephone business.

THE GIRLS BEHIND EACH TELEPHONE "HELLO"

Theirs are important jobs—and they do them well



1. Here's one business where the spotlight's really on women. Because of the nature of telephone work, nearly two out of every three telephone people are women—a high percentage. And they must be capable, well-trained women to handle your calls efficiently and serve you well in our offices. We train them, at our expense of course. And they earn good money in this important work.

2. Practically every sort of job—from accounting to teaching—can be found in our business. In addition to good pay, the girls have the security of the company-paid Benefit Plan and enjoy holidays and vacations with pay. All know they have a good chance to advance as their ability grows. Perhaps the best evidence of the importance of women to us is that hundreds have management jobs.

3. It would be hard to imagine work for women today more important than a job in our nation's telephone service. For now, more than ever, our country needs swift, reliable communications to help speed the job of defense. And it's reassuring to know that in these days of high prices on most everything, you still get a bargain when you buy telephone service. Here in the West, on the average, telephone rates are up less than half as much as the cost of living.

Price increases since 1940

Your telephone is one of today's best bargains

"THE MAN ON THE CROSS"

By Bobby Roodbury

In the tomb of death he lay,
Our sins and the world's He did pay:
Rejoice oh yet sinners,
rejoice today,
For Christ hath shown us
the way.
Hallelujah!
My heart aches for the pain
my God must have known,
Yet, on the cross, the sins of the world he has borne.
"He for our defense was slain, for Christ hath brought us life again."
Let us all rejoice.
Sing aloud with cheerful voice.
Hallelujah! Christ the Lord hath risen today

Lincoln Host to Conference

Forty-seven delegates from 14 Middle Atlantic Colleges met at Lincoln University on March 9, 10, and 11 to discuss the important subject, "The Christian Association and the College Student." The purpose of the conference was to explore the role which the Christian college student should assume in campus and community life, in the church, and in world affairs. Discussions sought proposals for positive action as well as deepened understanding of these problems.

PEN PALS CORNER

By BARBARA ANDERZA

First and foremost is this little problem of Miss Jackie Garmon. For practically two weeks, the printer insisted that Kelly be spelled Nellie. Therefore the statement read, "Jackie Garmon is in love with Nellie." My, my, what a terrifying statment. Of course I do know that my readers, who are of such a keen intelligence looked over that.

Last Friday noon, Miss Sylvia Ozen was a narrator for a pagentry given over at Conaty. Why I didn't have any idea that she had it in her, to speak that is. She was just wonderful.

That Edward Jernigan is still head over heels in love with Clemmie Jones.

Miss Walton is still shining up her engagement ring. You'd think that after Nat was created the mold for men was destroyed. Seriously, she's really in love with the guy.

James Harris says that Ella Mae Pristine is and always will be his sweet-patoti.

Why you'd think that she'd get tired of talkin about him. Her every word is Cecil Cordova. Yep, that's right, Goldie Toomes. By the way Cecil she all but got on her knees to me to tell ya that she's still in love with you. So here goes, Cecil, Goldie loves you.

Rose Marie Hartsfield, what on earth are you doin? Clarence is practically in tears. Everytime he call you're out with T.J. I'll grant that T.J. is a swell guy, but what about Clarence???

David Bonner you "has" definitely been put out of the picture. It's all your own fault too. I spose you know who is taking your place.

Loraine Mouton is trying her best to drop physiology and Latin. My heavens if she keeps this up she'll be practically out of school.

Louie Carmichael, her name is Shirley, huh.

Miss Leah Jane Center has just welcomed a little blessing to the family. Her little brother's name is Michael Richard. Cute huh???

Mr. Richard Hudson (Romeo of Watts) has just received his papers. He'll soon belong to Uncle Sam.

Donald McAllister was seen over at Conaty last Monday. Donny boy what are your interests over there????, A.S., pee chance????

From Martha Brooks there has been flowin gallons upon gallons of tears. Her sweetie, Jessie Anbury is in the Army.

Ole Frank Kent really did a swell pob over at the youth forum, so they say. I'll bet he did too.

Luke Easter Terror To American League

Luke Easter has not had a chance to show his wares in the American League yet, but the way he frightened the Pacific Coast League Boys should be an indication of what he might do.

It is to be remembered that Easter was quite a terror in Negro baseball, too.

It is reported that Indian batters in practice duck behind the net after letting go the pitch.

UCLA Hopes To Win At Santa Barbara

UCLA's tracksters are conceded a solid chance to repeat as team champions in the 12th annual Santa Barbara Relays this Saturday (March 24). Coach Ducky Drake's Bruins captured the team title in 1949 and didn't have the opportunity to defend the Channel City cinder classic last year because it was cancelled due to rain.

A four-way battle for top team honors looms Saturday between UCLA, Occidental, Los Angeles Athletic Club and the host school, Santa Barbara.

Coach Drake has entered a full team, paced by a classy sprint relay team, anchored by "Bullet Bob" Work, and George Brown, outstanding broad jumper. The Bruin foursome of Work, Brown, Rodney Richard and Bob Watanabe won both the 440-yard and 880-yard relay events at the recent Long Beach Relays in the times of 42.7 seconds and1 minute, 29.1 seconds, respectively.

This UCLA quartet of dashmen are capable of breaking the existing Santa Barbara sprint relay marks set by Bruin teams in 1949 of 41.9 for the quarter-mile and 1:27.2 for the half-mile.

This will be UCLA's second track start of the year. Recent warm weather has speeded up the conditioning of the Bruin tracksters and they should produce better times and distances than they did at Long Beach.

50 Drivers Compete In Pomona Sunday

POMONA — The $64 question (only it's really worth at least $5000) will be answered for nearly 50 of the country's finest drivers here this Sunday afternoon, March 25, at the L. A. County Fairgrounds as qualifying runs are scheduled for the 100-mile AAA National Championship midget auto race slated the following Sunday.

The big question is "who'll start in the 100-miler?" and beginning at 2:30 p.m., each driver who has filed entry will send his expensive little speedster whirling around the half-mile dirt track. Each is alloted three circuits in which to clock his fastest time, but he must select what he believes to be his best lap at the time he crosses the wire—and without the aid of a stop watch or speedometer!

Thus, it takes real racing "know-how" for a driver to win a berth in the lineup for the 100-miler, and only the 24 fastest qualifiers will advance to the April 1st event. This method has proven most effective for singling out the drivers and cars in the best current condition for high-caliber competition.

Best time clocked last year for one lap was 25.75 seconds by Billy Vukovich, the colorful "Mad Russian" from Fresno who later placed third behind Johnnie Parsons of Van Nuys and Manny Ayulo of Burbank.

Turmon SIAC Tourney High-Scorer

Pacing a Clark College quintet which won third-place in the 1951 SIAC Tournament at Tuskegee, March 8-10, Roman Turmon, freshman flash who only a few weeks ago shattered "Sweetwater" Clifton's old SIAC record by racking up 42 points in one game, led all scorers for the conference tournament by dropping in 97 points. The Thomaston, Georgia athlete was named to the center post for the All-SIAC second team. Trailing Turmon in high-point honors were Theodore Benson of Morris Brown's championship Purple Wolverines with 79 points, and Charles Bostic of Florida's runner-up Rattlers with 68 points.

Clark defeated Alabama A & M, Lane, and Xaxier, and lost in the semi-finals to Florida. The stellar play and Lowe and Burress—the former scoring 59 points for the tourney—was a potent factor in clinching for Clark the third-place trophy.

Don Robinson Drops Disputed NY Bout

Don Robinson, light-heavy Golden Gloves winner, here and an alternate representative for the Chicago team in New York this week dropped a disputed bout to New Yorker Al Ryleff on Monday night. The Chicago coaches thought they had the bout in the bag for a tie, as did the fans, but the judges saw it differently and Robinson lost.

The Chicagoans had to be content with a tie as the lone Loc Angeles winner was in the featherweight class. Previously Robinson had suffered an injured hand and an ear injury. It was feared before the bout that he would not be permitted to box.

Vacation, Trailer Show Slated For Next Month

Chief Needahbeh,[1] picturesque outdoor authority from Old Town, Me., today became the first performer signed for the 6th annual Los Angeles Sportsmen's, Vacation and Trailer Show slated April 12-22 at the Pan-Pacific Auditorium.

The Chief, whose name means "Great Friend" in his tribal Penobscot tongue, accepted his sixth successive contract to appear as master of ceremonies for the twice-daily stage-and-tank show that annually highlights the outdoor classic.

Needahbeh is celebrating his Silver Anniversary in show business and Southland sportsmen are planning a gigantic festival for the popular performer at the Pan-Pacific arena.

An expert fly-caster, the Chief is well-versed in canoe-handling, archery, hunting and other forms of outdoor living. He operates a resort in Maine during the off season. He is a noted lecturer, having delivered talks on Indian lore for many Eastern colleges and scientific societies for the past 20 years.

The Sportsmen's Show has moved to the Pan-Pacific inasmuch as its former site at Gilmore Stadium is being razed to make way for a television center.

Society Woman Wins Divorce

Rose Lee Clark, 2324-3rd Ave. comely mother and society matron, won a divorce in Superior Court last week after testifying to her husband's cruelty.

Mrs. Clark, represented by Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr., told the Court that her husband had struck her and cursed at her. An out of Court property settlement agreement provided that the couple sell their home at 854 East 94th street and the proceeds be divided equally.

Mrs. Clark also received the household furniture, custody of their minor child, and support for the minor child, Alonzo, Jr.

Harlem Bowling Center Loses Charter

LOS ANGELES, (NPB)—Official bowling was lost to the Eastside Central Avenue area last week when members of the Los Angeles Senate of the National Bowling Association moved the remainder of their tournament play from the Harlem Sport Center to the Figueroa Bowl at 1337 South Figueroa street. The move followed an asserted breach of contract on the part of the Central Avenue parlor with the local senate.

As a result of the move, the eastside parlor will immediately lose the patronage of nearly a hundred competitive players who are members of the NBA. According to spokesmen for the bowling senate, the bowlers were unceremoniously let out of the building by the owner on a Sunday when the league's were scheduled to play despite the contract they had with him to complete 30 weeks of play.

The owner Sam Kalof, accomplished the ouster, by merely closing up the place and setting out the player's expensive playing gear, including their shoes, bags and balls. None was lost, however. The same spokesman said the NBA members had practically supported the place over the past five or six years. A court suit may follow the charged breach of contract.

It was a stroke of good luck that brought an excellent offer from the owner of the beautiful and well appointed Figueroa Bowl, that has provided the means amid excellent surroundings for the NBA league bowlers to continue their tournament play without interruption. Bill Giaimo, owner of the Bowl immediately guaranteed Floyd Lawrence, president of the Los Angeles Senate that he was reserving 10 lanes for three nights a week in order for the league to complete its present tournament.

The Los Angeles Bowling Senate of the National Bowling Association, is composed of four leagues. One is a Womens League, one is a Mixed League another is a Mens Classic League and the other is a Mens Low Handicap League. Many of the players have announced intention of attending the National Bowling Tournament of the NBA at Baltimore; Maryland, April 21 through 23rd.

As a result of the city championship tournament held here February 4 - 5th, the following champions are expected to see action in the Baltimore tournament. Katherine Porter, women's singles champion; Cleo Chung and Tommie Brown, women's doubles champions; Frank Garrott, men's singles champion and Louis Russ, part of the men's doubles champion and senate secretary, Herman Jones, Alvin Griffith and others.

The official men's team consisting of Alving Griffin, Floyd Lawrence, Edward McFall, Herman Jones, Frank Barrett, will be under the sponsorship of Garrett's Enterprises of Los Angeles and the women's team under the sponsorship of Shelton's Bail Bonds of Los Angeles will consist of Katherine Porter, Melba Foppe, Mary Barnett, Frances Hill and Bette Ware.

PROF. HERMAN The Astrologer

TO ASSIST YOU IN MAKING WISE DECISIONS

PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE

Memory is one of the most precious gifts which God, has bestowed upon us. Its loss or failure impairs duty, and cripples service. It is therefore, wise to take stock of ourselves, ever so often, to avoid former failures and their repetition.

Perhaps yours has been an up and down road, where mountains of difficulty have been climbed, rivers of trial have been crossed and forded. Oftimes the experiencs have left their mark. But as we realize that the past should be put aside, and we should turn our faces to the future, which brings new hope and happiness.

Let us then, at this season, when we don our new Easter attire, let us also rejuvenate our minds and souls and hearts, with HOPE, FAITH and THANKFULNESS.

C.C. I am a constant reader of your column and find it very helpful, will you please help me with my problem? Will my friend come back to this city?

ANS. According to your Lucky Stars and Guilding Planet, you may find the happiness and security you desire with this friend. His return will no doubt be soon. Don't lost courage.

A.M. Will I get married?

ANS. It seems that you are wondering if L.T., will marry you as planned. According to your Zodiacal sign, you are destined to marry within the next 3 months, so your wish may come true sooner than you had anticipated.

O.B.A. What should I do?

ANS. Concentrating upon your question, I find that quite a bit o ftime has elapsed since you have seen your friend, and that you have been living in different cities. In order to strengthen your friendship, you both must have more confidence in each other. Elston Howard, Barnes Move Up In System

MODESTO — Two men who may be future New York Yankees are members of the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific league. They are Elston Howard, outfielder, and Frank Barnes, pitcher, both former members of the Kansas City Monarchs.

Also in training on a trial basis are Alonzo Perry and Bob Thurman.

Last year Perry played first base for the Birmingham Black Barons after having an unsuccessful year as pitcher in the PCL. Before then, he had been a good hurler in the NAL.

Thurman originally started in the Yankee system with the old Newark Bears two years ago. He came up from the Monarchs. At the end of the 1950 season he was sold to the Seals.

Reports disclose that Attorney Reese, entered a divorce plea for Mrs. Laura May Heath, against her husband, Harold W. Heath, claiming that after six years, seven months, and 21 days, of habitual drunkeness, and general cruelty, he had deserted her, and has not returned within a year. She asks such relief as the court will award. They married in Inglewood, November 2, 1937, separated July 15, 1944.

School Board Head Admits Prejudice "Might" Slip Into Hiring Practices

There is certainly no discrimination on the telephone switchboard of the Board of Education, Board Superintendent A. J. Stoddard asserted Tuesday night in an answer to the question as to why there were no middle-aged women or members of minority groups on the switchboard. He was speaking to members of the community press at a dinner meeting whch lasted for three hours.

Assisted in answer to the question by two ther members of the board, the three pointed out that examinations are given by number and no where on the blanks are the facts of race or religion brought out. The Superintendent admitted, however, that oral interviews are required. When asked by a California Eagle reporter if it were not possible, then, for prejudice to creep in, the Superintendent said, "yes," but the Board could not know what was in the heart of each member of the selection committee.

Mr. Stoddard related that whenever possible a Negro is placed on the selection committee if a Negro is to be considered for such a job. The Board member stated that in the case of the telephone board this would not be possible since no Negroes are on the switchboard at the present time and neither does he recall one being there.

Again and again the superintendent reiterated the statement that the Board was not prejudiced; that there was at least one Negro vice-principal of a school

Supreme Court Refuses To Review McGee Case

Willie McGee's appeal to the United States Supreme Court to review his case has been turned down. McGee was scheduled to die in Laurel, Miss., on March 20, because of a "rape" charge against him by a white woman, Mrs. Troy Hawkins, who could not recognize him as her assailant.

Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black granted a stay of execution until last Monday, March 26, however, when the case was brought before the U. S. Court. But the attorney general from Mississippi pleaded that there was no new testimony to be given in the case. This in spite of the fact that Mrs. McGee told for the first time how the white woman had hounded her husband for months, and that when he refused to yield to her demands, she preferred the charge of "rape" against him.

Author Of Arizona Anti-Bias Bill Visits Los Angeles

Representative Carl Sims, Sr., of Phoenix, Arizona, visited this section of California this week, and dropped into the EAGLE office to chat with the editor.

Representative Sims — who in California would be titled Assemblyman Sims—is co-author of the bill which granted to the school districts of Arizona the permission to do away with discrimination. Heretofore it was mandatory, according to law, to have "separate but equal" schools for whites, Negroes and Mexican-Americans.

"It isn't all we had hoped for," explained Mr. Sims. "But it's all we could get at present. Discrimination now at least is optional. Before this is was mandatory."

Mr. Sims stated he didn't get all the help he had expected. Notably from the Negro leaders and people. They seemed to be afraid to speak up, he said. But he and his colleague, H. B. Daniels, "played ball" with other representatives in the Arizona Legislature, and by every device known in political circles, finally managed to get the bill through.

And when the bill was finally placed on the desk of Governor

American Citizen Families Visit Washington For Foreign Born

C., on March 27 and 28 to petition the President, the Attorney General, the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization and other government officials to end the deportation drive.

The American citizen families came from all parts of the country—California, Oregon, Washington, Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Michigan, Ohio, Massachusetts, New Jersey and New York—to seek appointments with government officials to discuss with them the sorrow and hardship which threatens them through the loss of one of their members through deportation.

The families arrived in Washington on Tuesday, March 27. On Wednesday morning, March

Air Man Accused of Double Murder

If Air Force Sgt. L. J. Walker is guilty of the heinous crime that he is accused of, the Negroes of Los Angeles and California, should pay the penalty. But in California he will not be given any mock trial, as in Mississippi or Virginia. In California there will be due process of law, without the hysteria and fear of lynch mobs.

Sgt. Walker is accused of murdering Richard Cook, 18, and his wife, Doris, also 18. The body of Richard Cook was first found on the highway by Cajaloo canyon, in Riverside county. Beside him on a blanket was their little son, Philip Jeffrey, 8 months old, happily playing, unaware of the tragedy that had befallen him.

Mrs. Cook's body was found Wednesday, 11 miles east of the spot where her husband had been found. There was evidence

According to Webb, who said police orderd him from his car and insulted him numerous times, he was going home about 5 a.m. Mr. Webb reported that he was approaching Hooper and Manchester when he noticed a red light flaring in his rear view mirror and he pulled to the curb to stop since he realized that was a police signal.

He related that the police officer called him "nigger" at numerous times, insulted his wife and asked him had he ever been "arrested in Africa?"

Webb said further that he was

The SIDEWALK

By C.A.B.

Stop and think. I mean think for yourself. Do not be influenced by twisted and confused news stories and radio comments by Peglers, Fulton Lewises, and many others in their class.

The United States is rich in resources. Unhampered by exciting hate propaganda, ours is a friendly people.

I believe, and I know many other people who believe as I do, that if the time and money used by our government to search for individuals who, though they are devoted to their government, are advanced a little beyond the body politic in their hopes and aspirations for a newer and better world for themselves and their posterity, were used for the promotion of world peace, our swords would be turned into plowshares tomorrow, and our atom bombs would be used for the benefit of mankind. Not for its destruction.

I went to church last Sunday morning—Easter Sunday. It was the Ward AME Church, of which the Rev. Frederick D. Jordan is minister, that I visited.

The minister used as a sermon text, "The Resurrection—A Reality." I will not attempt a discussion of either the outline or the exposition of this text, except to say that it was, at least to me, a portrayal of the life of Christ whose earthly mission was to teach the doctrine of brotherly love, but who while on this mission to the men of His day and time, encountered many obstacles in His effort to have the people understand that the Kingdom was at hand. The harvest was theirs. The people's, not a few people, but all.

So different was Rev. Jordan's picture of the life of Christ, free from any suggestion of hate or promulgation

KRKD To Give Election Tally

Los Angeles City's Municipal Election on Tuesday, April 3rd, will be broadcast continuously by radio KRKD from 7 to 11 p.m., it was announced by General Manager Ned Connor.

The SIDEWALK

of the war hysteria that goes on today in many of the churches as well as in the outer world, that I could not be restrained from reviewing the history of Jesus, with its trials and tribulations, as I learned it at my mother's knee.

And now I know the real meaning of the Crucifixion and the Resurrection of Christ.

What Jesus taught in that period of Bible history, 1951 years ago, some good men would teach today. But even unto this day, such men are silenced, persecuted, for teaching the truth as they understand it.

I know whereof I speak. Because I—not as a prophet or a self-advertised saint—but as an American citizen, have had the doors of some churches in the community where I have lived most of my adult life, closed in my face. Not because I was a heretic, but because I spoke for freedom, and equality, and peace.

Voices can be silenced, but thoughts go on forever.

Saboteurs of peace in Jesus' time spoke against Him, ridiculed His teaching, objected to His social contacts.

Jesus did not kow-tow to aristocracy, nor the power-making politicians, nor even to the high schurchmen of His time. Daily He plodded along the highway without a place to lay His head at night. He mixed and mingled with the sick, the blind, and the poor. He was a friend and companion of the Common Man. If He lived today, no doubt He would be called a Communist.

Last Sunday was Easter. We celebrated the Resurrection of the Man we scorned, persecuted, nad crucified.

While we sing now in loud voices, in the churches, on the mountains, and in the valleys, "HE IS RISEN," today we go on slaughtering Koreans on the battle field of Korea, persecuting those in our midst of foreign birth, lynching Negroes for crimes for which others are tried in courts to determine their guilt or innocence, even demanding a pattern for political thinking which, if not followed, lands the "Better World" advocates behind prison bars.

We say we are going to create a better world by placing heavy taxes on the people to raise money to ferret out the gamblers and the Communists and make wars.

Loyalty is what we need and must have. So says our government.

How to obtain it?

Make everyone sign a loyalty test.

Such methods produce hate.

Truly Easter is already in the background of our thinking.

But HE IS RISEN! And He goes before us in our lives every day. Teaching what? That there must be a new resurrection that will crucify hate and resurrect peace in our nation. And in all the nations of the world. HE IS RISEN!"

Easing his conscience a bit, Mr. Stoddard stated that in any case discrimination is a hard thing to prove and ... at just because there were no Negroes or other members of minority groups in various school board jobs that was no indication of discrimination. [illegible] going to go further into the statement. Mr. Stoddard said that strange factors might explain the fact that Negroes not being found on certain jobs. He denied that this was higher than market price for that grade of potatoes and said that the potatoes were selling for $3.25 a sack at that time.

Mr. Stoddard, speaking for the Board denied that members of the group had ever received free turkeys from any source and denied that the meat in the school cafeterias was below grade and full of maggots. He related that he recalled when the principal sent meat back to the butchers that the meat was checked by the butchers and there was nothing wrong with the meat.

When asked if he thought the charges against the board were political in nature, Mr. Stoddard said he believed that more than politics was behind the charges. He replored such attacks on public servants, and said he only wanted to get down to business again.

When questioned as to why the Board did not use newspaper advertising to refute the various charges made about business transactions, Mr. Stoddard replied that he and the Board had many offers from business firms to refute the statements, but that members voted such a move down because it might only prejudice the public into thinking that the Board was in "cahoots" with the businessmen, should the board permit them to pay out money for such advertising.

of a struggle. A slug from a .45-caliber pistol was also found, the same kind that had been used to kill her husband.

The double murder followed a gay Easter weekend at the home of the husband's parents at Nuevo. According to Walker's story he was out for a ride near the reservoir of Lake Mathews, when he lost control of his car in rounding a curve. His car collided with the one driven by the Cooks, and both cars stopped.

Walker said he didn't have a driver's license, and when he saw Cook get out of his car and come towards him he "got scared and dove off." He said he could see Cook—six foot three—standing in the road through his rear view window as he drove away.

Walker was first held on a concealed weapon charge when he stopped to have his car repaired in Riverside, and a .45-caliber revolver was found on him. Then as the story of the murder came over the wires, he was arrested on suspicion of murder. He was placed in a police show-up line before several recent victims of rape or attempted rape. Two women identified him as having accosted them.

Hillyer vs. Moore In 15th District

Robert (Bob) Hillyer, candidate for the City Council in the 15th District, is attempting to retire the incumbent, 80-year-old George H. Moore.

Hillyer moved to Wilmington in 1929, and was employed for 12 years at the Union Oil refinery as an enginer. He belonged to the Oil Workers Union.

In 1942 Hillyer enlisted as chief machinist mate in the Coast Guard, and served 22 months in the South Pacific. He is past commander of his Legion Post, past commander of the AMVETS, past president of the Wilmington and San Pedro Democratic Clubs, founding president of the Harbor Area Business Men, and a member of the County Democratic Committee.

Pastor Relieved Of Guardianship

The Rev. Frank H. Prentice, pastor of the Mt. Zion Baptist Church, has been removed from his guardianship of the estate of James Alexander by order of Superior Court Judge O. K. Morton, of Riverside, Calif.

Petition to have the Rev. Prentice removed came from Alvera Johnson, cousin of Alexander, who charged that the guardian had taken advantage of his ward's incompetency.

The case of Mrs. Johnson was presented to the court by Attorney S. Darden.

of Newark attorneys representing the two men whose defense is being handled by the NAACP, reevaled that they have secured by virtue of pre-trial investigations and subpoenae a number of important documents and other information denied to the defense in the first trial.

Among these are police docket reports on the arrest and detention of all prisoners prior to the apprehension of the six defendants; police teletype reports describing the original suspects and the car they allegedly used (descriptions which the defense claims are not applicable to the defendants); the radio log of the Trenton police department showing similar descriptions; and other police reports and records from which considerable information was obtained.

Also available for the defense for the first time is a digest of statements made by Mrs. Elizabeth Horner, widow of the murdered man, at the investigation of the case. Defense attorneys hold that these statements are at variance with Mrs. Horner's testimony at the first trial and that new evidence as to the nature of her injuries after the alleged crime also contradicts testimony at the first trial. Evidence seriously questioning the murder weapon has also been discovered.

Another significant development for the defense is the securing of information as to the cleavage within the Trenton police department prior to the first trial. Charges of bungling, mishandling and tampering with abili evidence have been unearthed, together with admissions of mutilation of such evidence.

In the reltrial, defense attorneys have been successful in obtaining the court's agreement to inspect the police station where the defendants' "confessions" were made and also to inspect the vicinity of the alleged crime. The court also agreed to segregate prospective jurors so that they would not hear testimony exchanged in preliminary examinations, and to keep witnesses from hearing the testimony of other witnesses before testifying themselves. Defense requests that the court follow these procedures in the original trial were all denied.

With the selection of the fourteenth juror on the afternoon of March 14 after questioning 280 veniremen, the stage was set for the presentation of opening statements by the defense attorneys on Saturday, March 17. The first witness was called on Monday, March 19.

28 the families visited their Representatives and Senators. At 1 p.m., a delegation of war veteran relatives presented an open letter to the President at the White House, signed by about 125 prominent Americans; at 2:30 p.m. a delegation called on the Attorney General and another delegation called on the Acting Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization; at 3:30 a press conference was held at Inspiration House; and at 4:30 p.m. a concluding session was held which was addressed by Mr. France, Prof. Smith, and Carol King, general counsel of the American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born.

More than 175 non-citizens in 21 states have already been arrested in deportation proceedings. The Justice Department has announced that more than 3400 non-citizens face arrest and deportation under the deportation provisions of the McCarran Law. These non citizens have lived in this country from 25 to 50 years, many of them brought here as young children or infants. They have American citizen wives, children, brother, sisters and other relatives, from whom they would be forever exiled. These American citizen relatives would suffer untold hardship through the loss of a member of their family, will seek to discuss with government officials the injustice being worked upon their families, the threat to the security of their homes, and to call for an end to this inhuman treatment of non citizens in the United tSates.

The national pilgrimage is sponsored by the American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born, which is defending the 175 non-citizens who face deportation because of their political opinions or affiliations. The committee regards these deportations as an attempt to deprive non-citizens in the United States of their freedom of speech and freedom of belief, undermining thereby the liberties of all Americans, native as well as foreign born.

Mrs. Lilian Carlson, wife of Frank Carlson; and Mrs. Mary Hyun, wife of David Hyun, were the delegates from Los Angeles who were part of the delegation of families who traveled to Washington. They are the wives of two of the Terminal Island Four.

Miriam Stevenson and Harry Carlisle are the other two members of the quartette—held without bail at Terminal Island for more than five months. Their health is in danger. Harry Carlisle especially has contracted a serious cough. The lack of medical attention was discussed by the two when they visited Atty. Gen. McGrath.

Free Woman On Hit-Run Car Charges

Alice Hayes, accused by police of failing to stop and give name and other identification to persons with whom she had been involved in an automobile collision last November 2, was freed of the charges when she appeared in Superior Court here Tuesday by a jury.

The prosecution had based its case upon testimony of one of two witnesses also involved in the accident, John W. Gibson, one of the passengers in the car Miss Hayes was accused of hitting, then speeding away. His testimony was overcome by the substantiating testimony of Mrs. O'Rheba Henry, who testified that it was the highly threatening manner of the state's witness that caused Miss Hayes to leave the scene after she offered to call the police.

Atty. Theodore M. Schaffer, representing the Walter L. Gordon law firm, who pleaded Miss Hayes' case, was successful in convincing the court and jury that his client had done everything possible to give assistance at the scene of the accident, 102nd and Central avenue, and his client was acquitted of the charges. The case was heard before Superior Judge Walter C. Allen.

spersed the periods of intermission, telling of some of the achievements of the organization in human relations, economics, and political advancement.

Conspicuous on the rostrum was a huge three-decker white birthday cake upon which were three lighted candles. At one point in the program the three national representatives of the Independent Progressive Party were summoned to the stage, and the candles were extinguished by Reuben Borough, Mrs. Ruez and Mrs. C. A. Bass.

Jack Berman, local head of IPP and popular candidate for the Board of Education in the April 3 election was in evidence at the celebration last Friday. He was all over the place in what, to this writer, appeared to be a new suit.

Jack Berman, intelligent, genial, with a broad, sympathetic understanding of the needs, desires, and yearnings of the little plain people, will fill a much needed place on the Board of Education.

He will not only represent the IPP, if elected, but all people of all political views and aspirations who are interested in education without limitations based on race prejudice or discrimination for any reason whatever.

So the Progressive Party stepped across its third milestone. Its growth has been phenominal and its future is bright. It is in step with the progress of a whole people. "United we stand. Divided we fall." Old, perhaps mackneyed. But oh, so true. It is the rugged but planned path traveled by the Independent Progressive Party.

Propositions A & B Endorsed By Prominent Civic Groups

Public response to the proposed Civic Auditorium and Music Center projects, up for voters decision on Tuesday, April 3, has been most gratifying. These propositions will be A and B on your ballot.

Outstanding comments received this week included a very good one from Mrs. Ann O'Farrell, president of the National Council of Negro Women, and we quote, "We must build facilities for indoor sports and meeting places for city, county, state, federal and international events covering labor, religion, veterans, women, trade, education, professional, pageants, operas, graduations, and all other conventions and exhibitions. It is a shame we are so far behind other leading cities."

Our own City Councilman Roybal, verified the fact that his opinion was based on experiences which proved groups receive benefits, each having the same privileges. This statement assures "fair play to all and partiality to none."

Keeping the same line of thought, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, endorsed the propositions at their Monday night executive board meeting, chaired by Atty. Loren Miller, in the absence of the president, Dr. E. I. Robinson. The board felt A and B necessary betterments for the cultural and democratic growth of L. A., a growth that would be able to pay out its own debt in a short time.

Rev. J. J. Hicks, minister of St. John's Methodist Church, and president of the S. E. Ministers Interdenominational Alliance believes every minister, officer and congregation should VOTE YES on A and B to prove his desire for cultural activities in Los Angeles.

Mr. Ford White, commander of Ben Bowie Post American Legion, adds his reason for a YES vote on A and B, stating that, "These two propositions are most meritorious, in fact greater than any ever placed on the ballot, and are certainly a challenge to every voters pride."

Mr. and Mrs. Voter we must prove our pride by going to the polls and voting yes for A and B. Do not fail to vote Tuesday, April 3.

The Civil Rights Congress which has been fighting desperately to save his life is now asking U. S. About eighteen months ago Bishop Lawson made his first trip to Ethiopia and had audience with the Emperor. At this first meeting a medal was conferred upon him, and a promise of land was granted him in Ethiopia for the purpose of establishing a Church of Our Lord Jesus Christ there.

So profound was the impression made by Bishop Lawson upon the people of Ethiopia, that they cemented this new relationship still more by sending two students for enrollment at the R. C. Lawson Institute, by virtue of a scholarship from the Institute. One student, Miss Almez Tedla, is the daughter of the Ministry of War, Col. Tedla, and the other, Befaquadu Tadessa, was an honor student of the American Institute in Ethiopia.

In January of this year, Bishop Lawson returned to Ethiopia to consummate plans for the establishing of his church in Ethiopia. All plans have been satisfactorily completed, and it is expected that within less than a year, a church that had its beginning in a small house in East 131st Street, New York, will be flourishing in Ethiopia.

In addition to this, however, an unexpected honor, an unprecedented distinction has come, not only to Bishop Lawson as Senior Bishop of the Church of Our Lord Jesus Christ, but to him as a representative generally of Negroes of America and to him specifically as President of the R. C. Lawson Institute—the endowment by His Imperial Highness of this Arm Chair at the R. C. Lawson.

Unions Extend Interests Beyond Economic Problems

(From ILGWU, Los Angeles)

The labor organization today has developed far beyond the original purposes for which it was established. Though protion of the workers in the industry over which it holds jurisdiction insofar as wages, hours, working conditions, and job security are concerned is still paramount, today's union extends its interests far beyond these fields of immediate economic betterment for its membership. The Labor Movement has become an integrated part of our complex society, and is concerned with every aspect of social betterment.

The Trade Unions have developed to this point over a spread of many years. Not all of them grew in social concept at the same time. From their very inceptions, a handful of them were strongly imbued with this consciousness for the welfare of all the people

One of these unions is the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union. In the public mind, the I.L.G.W.U. is synonomous with social progress, with enlightened political action, with pioneering in the many fields of human endeavor that lead to a more satisfying and more desirable life. This is why the occasion of the recent dedication of its new Health Center brought forth extensive stories in the metropolitan press, even in those newspapers normally hostile to organized labor. That is why both the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors and the Los Angeles City Council unanimously adopted resolution commending the garment workers' union for its forward looking accomplishments.

The motivations which led to this drive to a better world for the oppressed are easy to uncover. No workers could more truly have been called the despised of the earth than the garment workers in the early part of this century. They were immigrant workers escaping from Czarist despotism and the grinding poverty in their native Russia, fleeing from lives of hopelessness among the starving peasants of Italy. They went to work in the rapidly growing garment industry which needed large additions of manpower, an industry notorious for its exploiting ways. Only unknowing immigrants who had to find any kind of work would take employment in the garment industry. It was an industry of wage slavery with something added. The "something" was filth and disease. The memories of the industry in those days evoke a single phrase — "sweat shop." These immigrants fleeing to a better life from the poverty and oppression of their home lands became enmeshed in the sweat shop system.

It is no wonder, then, that in their Union, they turned eyes to goals far beyond those of immediate economic improvement. From the very beginning they longed for a better life of security, social respect and justice.

An important part of this drive to a better world is in the struggle against discrimination. The International Ladies' Garment Workers Union is composed almost entirely of people who are themselves subject to persecution. There are the original garment workers — Jews and Italians. Then, workers of other races and nationalities came into the garment industry, which always welcomed minority people — Negroes, Mexicans, Puerto Ricans, Japanese, Chinese, Syrians. The roll of nationalities in the Union duplicates the index of any Atlas. And always, the Union has integrated and unified all of the members, whatever their origin. The doctrine of equal rights, equal treatment, equal job opportunity, and equal pay is as old as the Union itself. The spirit of brotherhood and sisterhood that permeates the entire Union is a monument to the principles to which the organization is dedicated.

But the I.L.G.W.U. is not content only with establishing policies against discrimination and bigotry within its own ranks; the Union has been devoted, too, to the large task of fighting intolerance throughout the nation. To do this, it cooperates with many organizations active in the campaign to end discrimination and to replace intolerance with justice and equality. The list of organizations with which the I.L.G.W.U. works closely is a long one. Among them are the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Jewish Labor Committee, the American Civil Liberties Union, the Urban League, the Workers' Defense League, the Community Service Organization. In New York City, the Union has been for years a mainstay of the Harlem Labor Committee. Frank Crosswaith, one of the outstanding labor leaders in the community, came to the Harlem Labor Committee from the staff of the I.L.G.W.U.

In specific issues, this Union has always been in the forefront of the fight. Whether it is to enact fair employment practices legislation on a state or municipal level, bring about federal civil rights legislation, end Jim Crow in military service or to defend individuals deprived of their rights because of their race, religion, or nationality, the garment workers take part in the effort. And it is done not by lip service but by contribution of money, activity of the members, use of the press, and the weight of its not inconsiderable prestige. Whether through President David Dubinsky on the national level, or the local officers, Pacific Coast Director Hyman D. Langer, and Managers Isidor Stenzor, John Ulene, and Fannie Borax, the fight to establish full brotherhood of man is an unremitting one.

There have bee ntimes when it was costly in terms of immediate advance. During the Southern organizing drive a few years ago, the Union was ready to write off the thousands of dollars it had poured into the effort and revoke charters wholesale because it would not compromise on its opposition to Jim Crow. The fact that understanding was reached without such drastic action is tribute to the truth that patience and understanding, alongside of idealism and determination, will see through the fight to a successful conclusion.

The fight against intolerance is a difficult one. It won't be won in a single skirmish. It can't be won by an overnight coup. But in that fight, there will always be a potent ally, the American Labor Movement. It will never turn its back on the struggle for social equality and justice. The American Federation of Labor in this city has established a Los Angeles Central Labor Council Committee to Combat Intolerance. This committee is engaged in widespread educational activity to bring to the membership the realization of the heavy costs of bigotry and discrimination. As part of this committee, the I.L.G.W.U. is making another contribution to the fight.

The reputation of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union in this struggle has been a matter of public record throughout its fifty-one years' history. Tribute after tribue has been penned in acknowledgement of its accomplishments. Two years ago, Bonar Dyer, then chairman of the Industrial Relations Committee of the Los Angeles Urban League, wrote, "The Los Angeles Urban League takes this opportunity to extend special congratulations to your organization for its fair employment policy. The International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union has had a democratic employment policy since its inception.

"To your organization goes special commendation—for your outstanding achievements through inter-racial cooperation."

The International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union together with its sister organizations in the American Labor Movement takes seriously its historic role in the never ending struggle to achieve full human rights.

Police to Combat Traffic Death Rise

"Death is claiming a 30% higher toll in 1951 traffic!"

This was the grim warning issued today by Bernard R. Caldwell, Deputy-Chief, commanding the police Traffic Bureau.

"By the end of March, Los Angeles city traffic deaths will stand at nearly 75 compared with 50 for the same period last year. Pedestrian deaths are about one-fourth higher than last year while the auto vs. auto toll stands at nearly double last year's figure."

Caldwell went on to explain the steps the police department is taking to reduce this menace.

"Our system of accident investigation and analysis provides us with exact information on causes of traffic accident. We know which violations result in the taking of human life. Excess speed, drunk driving, violations of pedestrian rights, and violations by pedestrians themselves are the primary factors in this epidemic of death and injury.

Love Wins In $3000 Suit

Meadero Love, 12128 Central Avenue, named defendant in an automobile accident case, was the victor in a $3000 suit for damages last last week before Municipal Judge C. Newell Cairns.

According to Court records, Clifton Pamilton, 1057 East 50th collided with Love's automobile at 60th and Central Avenue, on September 21, 1950, while he was riding south on a motorcycle. Pamilton alleged in his complaint that Love operated his automobile in a negligent, reckless, unlawful and careless manner. Love filed an answer through Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr., claiming that it was Pamilton's negligence that caused the accident. Judge Cairns agreed with this contention.

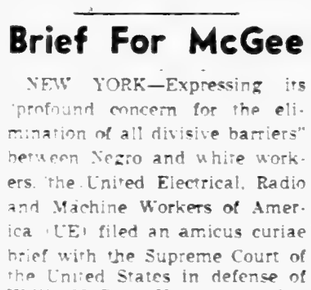
RC Abandons Blood Designation; NUL Donates

Ten National Urban League staff members, in New York City, last week donated blood for the first time to the Red Cross as American citizens.

"Though League staff members have donated blood many times in the past," said Lester B. Granger, the League's executive director, "this is the first time that they have been able to donate in this official fashion, because of reservations regarding methods of collecting and handling blood which were established during World War III and which were administered by the American Red Cross. We are extremely happy that Red Cross leaders have come to agree that racial designations have no place in the community-wide humanitarian task to which the American Red Cross has been traditionally committed."



The League was one of the organizations which had bitterly opposed Red Cross policy of segregating blood according to the race of the donor.

Income Tax Filing For Newcomers to State Warned

Newcomers to California are warned that they may be required to file State Income tax returns, Mr. Thomas H. Kuchel, chairman of the Franchise Tax Board advises that individuals who are in California for other than temporary or transitory purposes are considered to be residents of this state and are required to file returns if their net incomes for the year 1950 equal or exceed $2,000 if single and $3,500 if married.

Individuals who are uncertain of their residential status for California income tax purposes are required to write to The Franchise Tax Board, Sacramento, California, or call at any of the several branch offices maintained by the Franchise Tax Board throughout the state.

Reapportionment Bad

Glenn M. Anderson, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee denounced the Reapportionment Bill now before the California State Legislature as "the worst possible plan of Republican gerrymandering" and called on Civic and Community groups throughout the State to join in vigorous opposition to the pending legislation.

Communities in Los Angeles County, particularly, Anderson stated, will suffer gross misrepresentation for years to come if the present bill is allowed to become law.

Job Opportunities For Women Slow, State Reports

SACRAMENTO, March — California women are returning to the labor force and are seeking job counseling to determine where they can best fit into the defense production effort. This was reported today by James G. Bryant, director of the state department of employment.

"Women who have not been active in the labor force are now making themselves available for employment in industries having both a direct and an indirect relationship with defense production," Bryant said. "Because many of them do not know where their experience and skills are most usable, they are using the counseling opportunities offered by the local state employment service offices.

"Although nearly 45 percent more women have been placed in nonagricultural employment this year than last, job opportunities for women have not increased as rapidly as the women are returning to the labor force. Many women, however, are filing their applications now in anticipation of asteady increase in demand for women workers as the defense program develops.

"The department of employment has recently intensified its effort to determine the state's potential labor supply so that we will be better able to meet the manpower needs which we anticipate will become acute by midsummer.

Carey McWilliams Will Speak on Domestic Politics

Carey McWilliams, noted author and lecturer, will open the Unitarian Public Forum Friday, April 6, 8 p.m. at 2936 West Eighth Street, where he will speak on "Domestic Politics in an Age of Power." He reappears at the Forum where he spoke last year to a capacity crowd by public demand.

Mr. McWilliams, who came to Southern California from Colorado in 1922 and practiced law here until 1938, says about his coming subject, "I will try to relate the concentration of economic power to the findings of the Buchanan Committee on Lobbying, the recent collapse of a responsible two-party system and representative government. . . . What I try to show, finally, is that in the crisis of these recurrent "ages of power" social, economic, and political issues all tend to become clear-cut moral issues."

One of America's most prolific writers, Mr. McWilliams, is a staunch defender of progress and decency in public affairs. Admission is free and parking is available at Bullocks-Wilshire.

Beats Theft Rap

Last Thursday, March 22, James Wagner, 27, walked from the courtroom of Judge Switzer a free man. He was cleared of charges of theft of tires by a jury. Despite the verdict of the jury, Judge Switzer expressed his disagreement with it.

Atty. Earl C. Broady, who appeared as counsel for the former Kansan, confronted with an almost airtight case by the prosecution against his client, aimed his defense at breaking down the testimony of the two arresting officers. He requested, and gained permission of the court to have only one of the officers in court at a time.

The officers testified that while they were on a police stakeout at a Figueroa street used car lot last January 17, they observed a man whom they believed to have been the defendant, take two tires from beneath a rack on a truck.

When they reached out for the suspect, the officers said the man escaped by running and jumping over fences. The officers, then said they staked out at an automobile parked nearby. Shortly afterwards they arrested Wagner when he came for the car as the suspect.

Atty. Broady put his client on the stand where Wagner denied the officer's claims. He explained he had parked his car several blocks from the scene of a dice game he was attending because he was fearful of a raid. The lawyer got involved in a brief tilt with the prosecutor over the question of a police officer's honesty.

Mr. Broady took advantage of the clash to argue before the jury "that police officers were honest and truthful," and observed that they were merely inaccurate, and subject to all of the frailities of mankind. One of the jury was the mother of a member of the Los Angeles police department.

Despite the fact the officers positively identified Wagner as the man they observed stealing tires last January, the jury after deliberating three hours returned a verdict of not guilty.

Only President Truman Should Act Now

It is what may easily be called a tragedy drama. The stars in the play are a white woman and a Negro man.

From sources that appear to be authentic, the white woman in this real life story, became infatuated with the Negro man. A very quiet romance started and went on for years. Finally the community got the wind of what was going on between the couple.

The man knew what would be his fate if and when their romance reached the state of general gossip. So he approached his white sweetheart, and pleaded with her to release him from further obligations. She refused. A woman scorned.

Without any compunction of conscience of the damage she would inflict on her after-dark lover and his lawful Negro wife and children, she screamed, "Rape."

The Southern mob spirit was aroused, and it cried, "Lynch the Negro."

The story of the rape of Mrs. Troy Hawkins by Willie McGee is the most fantastic tale ever told. As the story goes Mrs. Hawkins was sleeping in an adjoining room to the one where her husband and her two children slept, and there was in addition a child in the bed with her, when McGee entered in the dark and performed the act of rape. She did not cry out, she said, because she did not want to awaken her husband.

What are husbands for, if not to protect their homes and families in times of danger? A story like this would not find credence among the natives in the jungles of Africa.

But Willie McGee must pay the death penalty for a crime perpetrated rather by the State of Mississippi and the Federal government against him and the millions of Negro citizens of the United States.

The Supreme Court of the United States, meeting last Monday, reviewed a petition for an appeal in behalf of Willie McGee, in order to hear new evidence to prove that he was convicted on perjured testimony, and that only Negroes are given the death sentence in Mississippi for so-called rape.

But the appeal was turned down. The highest court in the land and the court of last resort, refused to listen to Willie McGee's plea for life.

Turning from the McGee case we note, with a great deal of indignation, that in less than 20 minutes a white man was acquitted by a Virginia Circuit jury for the rape of a young Negro mother.

Negroes are legally lynched in Mississippi and Virginia because the entire law enforcement apparatus in these states is controlled by white supremacists. They deny that any white man can be guilty of rape when the woman is a Negro.

In the case of Willie McGee, now, President Truman or the Governor of Mississippi are the only ones who can take a hand. They, by virtue of their high office, can grant executive clemency. If they want to.

But in the over-all case of the crime of denying one segment of the American population, equal protection laid down by the Constitution, we charge that crime against the government.

It is expedient that while the government demands that we declare our loyalty to it, we, the 16 million Negroes subject to the lynch mob, should ask that our government pledge its protection and defense of us, the Negro people, against mob violence and the other indignities meted out to us in Mississippi, Virginia, and everywhere the Stars and Stripes float.

Population Figures

This editorial from The Amsterdam News, Saturday, March 24, shows the increase in the Negro population in the United States.

Unfortunately the increase in housing units and government jobs for Negroes have not kept pace with the population increase. Nor has the united strength of the Negro voting power reached such a point as to make itself felt in the field of politics, to the end that Negroes are put in office by their own political strength, augmented by white liberals who refuse to use dark glasses when voting.

The editorial follows:

According to preliminary census information released recently by the United States Department of Commerce, the Negro population increased in 1950 to a high of 14,894,000 above the 1940 mark of 12,865,518, amounting to a gain of 15.8 percent. These figures definitely indicate the Negro is becoming a more potent figure in this country.

This report also reveals that 9,120,000 Negroes have been placed in the urban community dwellers' classification while approximately 5,744,000 continue to live in rural districts where 3,197,000 are reported to be living on farms. An unfortunate note, however, is apparent in the field of housing between whites and non-whites (including Negroes, Japanese, Indians, Chinese, Puerto Ricans and other non-white races.)

Despite the fact that there has been an increase of 10 per cent since 1940 in the number of housing units being occupied by non-whites, a 23 per cent hike was attained for whites. This shows a 13 per cent difference in dwelling unit erections while only 7 per cent separates the non-whites in increased population.

These figures seem to point to the Negro being "a victim" when it comes to erecting new housing units."

In the employment field, figures show that the non-white population has moved both forward and backward during the past year. In spite of the fact that non-white incomes scurried to an average of $1,200 for males, the white average skyrocketed to $2,500. The identical two-one ratio also prevailed in the female category with the non-white worker earning an average of $500 per year as compared to $1,100 for white women.

The old saying: "Last to be hired; first to be fired; do twice as much work for half-as-much pay" is slowly fading, thanks to the FEPC movement. But these figures tend to bring out the point that it still exists.

On the other hand, the increase in the Negro population illustrates our opportunity to soar to greater heights. If we take advantage of our vote and support candidates who stand for equal rights, there is no telling how great our gains will be next year. At any rate, we have come a long way in the last 88 years.

"I Can Help!"

RAPHAEL KONIGSBERG

THE CESSPOOL

The moral fiber of our time is well, and tragically, illustrated by the contrast between the furor created over the bribery of several basketball players in Eastern colleges . . . and the profound silence on the part of the leaders of our society in the face of the grave violations of our moral codes and the treasonous betrayals of our political codes by the very leaders of our land.

What is particularly revolting about the sanctimonious outcries aroused by the bribery of athletes is that those who claim to be so outraged are the very ones who have taught these young men that "that's the way to get ahead." For it's "dog eat dog" and "I'll get mine first; to hell with the other guy." Education by example has always been more effective than education by preaching.

Why should these athletes have felt that they were doing anything wrong when every day, all around them, their elders steal, and betray and lie—and gain riches, honor and power thereby?

Consider the Kefauver Committee's investigations of the unholy marriage between the rulers of our political world and the criminal world. A William O'Dwyer, mayor of a great city, accepts "gifts" from a Frank Costello—and instead of being driven from the company of decent men is rewarded by being made ambassador to Mexico by the president of the United States.

While this same president assures the nation that all his aides are honorable men . . . as the investigation of the RFC proves that many of them are crooks. Congressmen like Andrew May and Parnell Thomas are jailed for stealing from the government—but that doesn't keep our leaders from permitting a Thomas to set himself up as arbiter of what is good Americanism, and what is culture.

But then, educators charged with the solemn obligation of moulding the mind and character of American youth eagerly accept regimentation of the curriculum—in exchange for military funds; and rationalize it all in the name of "patriotism." Professors, who should be inspiring our youth with a militant determination to fight for democratic principles, gladly embrace the yoke of "loyalty oaths"—to save their jobs and comforts, temporarily.

Traitor! Traitor!

Betrayal is in the air. Judges, with impunity, violate our constitutional rights—and editors honor them for it. Stool pigeons are the new national heroes, and hypocrisy has been raised to the level of national policy.

The president violates his oath of office by dragging us into war—and the nation's spiritual leaders applaud. But when the federal government betrays its trust in failing to defend Negro citizens from the Southern lynchers, the same leaders are dumb as the dead.

The famed American standard of living is deliberately lowered, the cost of living highest in history—but the captains of industry demand that workers be paid still less and taxed still more, while their profits are the highest in history . . . fed as they are on war orders. And the stock market shudders whenever the chances for peace brighten.

Millions of human beings gave their lives in the last war to defeat the anti-democratic forces of the earth. The people earned, and that great victory promised, peace and security and more democracy. But the leaders offer only more war, more fascism, less security, less democracy. Was there ever a betrayal as awful as this?

But silent, silent as the graves into which they would lead this great nation, are the civic, industrial and moral leaders of America—who, naturally enough, righteously condemn basketball players for following their elders example and accepting bribes.

They are men without principles, without morals, without hope—these leaders of our land. It is the students in our colleges, the youth of America, who have far higher principles than their elders—and therein lies the hope of our nation.

Dear friends at the Eagle:

Please make a correction! In your March 1st issue, I have been credited with a lovely poem, "Youth of Spain," which I did NOT write.

I believe it was written by a young man named Ike Sonbonmatsu, who had some similar poems in the Eagle's Nest in the January 4th issue. I tried to reach him with a letter which was returned to me. I wanted to congratulate him on his poetry.

If this poem is not his, please endeavor to find the right party and give him credit for it, as I do not want to seem to claim someone else's work. I want only to congratulate the true author.

Your paper continues to encourage and stimulate the peace workers and other creators, which is so important today when all the big dailies are behind the advocates of war and destruction.

Sincerely yours,
Mary Phillips

(We do know the author of the poem, "Youth of Spain," which was credited to Miss Phillips, and we appreciate the correction. We trust, that as a reader of the EAGLE, he will see this letter. Editor).

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE GREATER LOS ANGELES PLANS, INC.

Gentlemen:

Your effort to develop a Music Center in Los Angeles is a long overdue progressive step that should have the wholehearted support of every citizen of this community. Those who have lived in other metropolitan areas are shocked by the existing accommodations.

The need for modern facilities was recently brought vividly to my attention when I undertook to present a young singer in a recital. After being denied the use of two privately controlled halls which would have been appropriate for the affair I was forced to select an auditorium more than twice the size required or abandon the project. This experience drove home the fact that Los Angeles needs and must have centrally located auditoriums which operate under only one set of rules and which have no policy of discrimination because of race, national origin, or any such thing.

The results of such well-known competitions as the Atwater Kent Foundation Auditions, the Bureau of Music sponsored Artists of the Future, and the UCLA Young Artists have given overwhelming proof that Los Angeles is a leader in producing outstanding musicians. It is not enough to produce them; they must be heard.

At present the cost of presenting a young and unknown artist is almost prohibitive. Few have the money themselves, and people for the most part are reticent to invest in their future. Aside from the cost it is rather discouraging to perform before a half filled house because no smaller hall acceptable to the concert going public is available.

Our churches have always opened their doors freely. They are to be commended. But the time has now come for Angelenos to provide facilities for cultural expansion commensurate with the physical development of this great city. Not only are auditoriums needed for opera, ballet, and the larger productions, but also smaller halls for recitals and events of a more intimate nature. Certainly a Yes vote on Proposition A and B Tuesday, April 3, will be very heartening to our promising artists of tomorrow.

Very sincerely yours,
R. Edwin Stone

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By PENN

All the pasteboards have been dealt in the big card game that top brass of the labor movement has been playing with Big Business and the government—is there a difference?—since World War II.

Although labor's brass held strong cards—those of united labor action, of strike and boycott, of independent political action—when they changed the workers' struggle against the bosses into a poker game, today their hands are weak.

CIO's Murray and AFL's Green traded cards under the table with Big Business and government. They swapped their trumps for political patronage, "respectability," places on governmental agencies, and praise.

They tied in their organizations with the Democratic party. They pledged their memberships to the Truman policy of American domination of the world. They purged their ranks of every voice raised in protest of the card-trading.

They received loud and fulsome praise from Big Money for knocking out so-called "Communists" from the mainstream of the labor movement.

Actually what they received praise for was creating a weak and divided labor movement.

Labor brass has failed miserably in the jobs that the rank and file of labor expected them to do.

They have failed to keep wages up with the cost of living.

They have failed to protect working conditions.

They have failed in political action.

Through their concentration on raiding already organized workers, and their failure to organize the unorganized, they have failed to build organized labor.

Their greatest failure has been the lack of any effort towards a world peace—on the contrary, they are among the most rabid war-mongers.

No single force in the country is better situated to lead a constructive struggle for peace than the workers. No group stands to lose more by war—in loss of living standards, in sons and fathers killed, in destruction of traditional American liberties.

No group has more to gain through peace.

Despite the signposts plainly marking the road they were taking, these labor "leaders" crawled on and on and on—until finally they have reached the point where they appear to realize that their thirty pieces of silver are made of lead.

They protest the way the government and or Big Business is figuring the wage-price robbery.

They cry because they are practically frozen out of the war mobilization apparatus.

They are, too late, alarmed about government strike-breaking in the rail strike.

They weep, not because nothing has been gained for their members, but because their "prestige" has been hurt by Big Money spokesmen.

They come so near to biting the hand that has been patting them on the head that they—or at least a few of them—charge that Big Business has taken over the government.

There is one ace left in the hole for the working men and women of America. That ace is the strength of the forces in organized labor that the brass does not control and that the Murrays and the Greens have tried in vain to destroy.

There are the unions that were purged because they wouldn't go along with the brass in selling out the workers.

These are the unions that are still fighting for and winning wages and conditions for their members; these are the unions whose voices are heard calling for peace and freedom for the American people and all the peoples of the world.

And in an under-handed way, the AFL and CIO sell-out artists are using that last ace to bolster their own bargaining for continued "prestige."

They warn Big Business and or government that unless their "prestige" is restored, these rank and file unions may gain in strength.

They point out that all the progressive unions still remain in the field, strong and opposed to Truman "democracy" and war.

They view with alarm the threat of a national strike by Packinghouse Workers against the wage freeze.

They call attention to growing revolts within their own unions, particularly in the United Auto Workers, where Murray's white-haired boy Reuther is having trouble keeping control.

And, because of the growing strength of independent unions, there may be a deal made to restore the "prestige" of labor brass.

We predict that Truman and his Big Business bosses will relent; that they will create additional posts for labor brass in governmental agencies.

Our crystal ball also indicates that labor brass will accept these sops to their dignity; they wil accept the new posts. They will pose smiling with Big Business again, and they will issue statements calling for cooperation and unity to "win the war."

We also predict that after labor brass accepts the new governmental posts that Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston will reverse his refusal to approve the raise for packinghouse workers.

This will be hailed as a great triumph for labor brass, in both the commercial press and the labor press.

But despite the Green and the Murrays, the independent forces of workers, the rank and file unions, will continue to grow stronger. Despite the underhanded use by labor brass of this ace in the hole, the ace will remain in the possession of those unions and honest union leaders who have refused to bow down and worship Truman and his Big Business bosses.

Poem to Free Asian Peoples

Brothers and sisters of Asia
Your colored brothers from America
Greet and cheer your vast revolution.
Give warmth of blood and bond to your liberation.
And millions more,
Aye, a hundred million colored Americans:
The Negro sharecropper in the South;
and the Negro factory worker first to be layed off;
the Puerto Rican plantation worker bloody from revolt;
the Chilean miner stripped of his Neruda;
The Japanese farmer robbed of his soil and the Mexican worker called alien to his sweat soaked land;
the Mayan coffee picker Jim-crowed in Guatemala and the oppressed and exploited Indian of Arizona and Columbia;
The hundred million colored Americans angry from hunger.
Aye, colored America greets your rebirth,
Shed tears of joy to your bugles of triumph,
Glow with strength of hope for freedom,
Glow and feel certain, calm and defiant.

Salute to the glorious Chinese
To Viet-Names and the brave Koreans,
To Mao Tse Tung and Ho Chi Minh and Kim Ill Sung.
Salute to the Asian peoples and to their triumph over forces of slavery, evil and greed.

And as we greet your liberation
We give word of solemn pledge,
To fight for peace,
To bring an end to unwantoned destruction, murder and rape wrought upon your peoples.
To give you peace
So you may furrow your newly liberated soil
Yet warm and fertile with the blood of valiant youth;
So you can turn the tools of your industries, the wealth borne of your toiling backs.

And to this, we further pledge,
And written in the pen of blood,
To join you soon in freedom.
Then, Asian brothers, you can salute us—colored Americans from the north, the south and central parts,
And our white comrades of the working class,
And our leaders, Neruda, Robeson, Foster and Cardenas—
And in our victory
And then the world shall hear and see a rejoicing that only free hearts such as ours can bring.

Veterans—Survivors

Of great importance to veterans, their families or survivors is a new amendment to the social security law which grants wage credits of $160.00 for each month of World War II military service. Since these credits may be given whether or not the veteran died in service or after discharge, survivors in many cases where payments were not possible under the old law, will now be eligible for monthly benefits.

Civic Clubs Select School Candidate

On Sunday, March 18, 1951, the representatvies of Carver Manor, Carver Annex and Jefferson Tracts met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Xenophon, 12913 McKinley Ave. This group of civic minded individuals elected Mr. Louis D. King, 12829 Stanford Ave. to run for the office of Trustee of the Enterprise School District in May 1951. There are three members on the board and each year one member comes out of office and a new one fills his place. This is a non-paying, non-political and honorary position. After a careful investigation of likeable candidates, the body unanimously choose Mr. King to run for the position.

Mr. King, a graduate of Xavier University, Fine Arts, a candidate for M. S. Degree in Education at the University of Southern California, Veteran of World War II, a family man, Christian gentleman and a hard working civic leader accepted the opportunity to run with great enthusiasm.

The people of South Los Angeles feel confident that Mr. King will be successful, as successful as he has been in leading them in other civic endeavors.

Election Officers

Augustus F. Hawkins, member of the California Assembly from the 62nd District, will vote for Bill No. 2889, he said, which will provide for the publication of the list of election officers and the polling places in local newspapers before each election.

It will help stimulate interest in the elections, it is hoped.

Defend Patterson

A defense committee for William L. Patterson has been organized to act in the case brought against him for contempt of Congress by a Committee of the House of Representatives, when he refused to hand over to the committee the names and contributors of his organization—The Civil Rights Congress.

The court is scheduled to act on April 4. The Defense Committee is urging everyone interested to write and CONTRIBUTE at once. Address Defense Committee for William L. Patterson, 23 West 26th St., New York 10, N. Y.

Candidates Speak

Seven candidates for the Board of Education in the April 3rd primary election contests spoke last Wednesday evening at the Florence-Fremont Town Meeting at Fremont High School.

Chief center of interest was office number seven with three candidates present including incumbent board member Olin Darby. Jack Berman and H. L. Horton both seeking to unseat Olin Darby made sharp attacks on the conduct of the present Board of Education in its entirety.

After brief opening speeches by the candidates the audience was invited to direct questions at the candidates. Among the questions which received the most discussion were those having to do with atomic bomb drills in the schools and the charges of discrimination in

"La Prensa"

The widespread concern of the major press association over suppression of "La Prensa" by the Peron faction in Argentina, recalls the fact that freedom of the press issues are often liable to be belittled or overlooked, especially where colonial editors or the press of concession ruled countries are involved.

In March 1947, C. Frederick Taylor, managing editor of the "African Nationalist," Liberia's largest newspaper, who managed President Tubman's campaign from a dungeon in which he was cast by former President Barclay during the heated political campaign was arrested and put on $10,000 bail in a never tried case of "criminal libel."

The African Nationalist had printed a subscriber's letter criticizing the president's prolonged absence from Liberia in the face of recessive economic conditions.

Major news services in the United States ignored the free press issue, and the pattern of putting the Nationalist out of business by a special bill passed by the Liberian Legislature, divesting Editor Taylor of citizenship and ordering him interned was carried out in good Liberian democratic style.

Today Editor Taylor has mysteriously been liquidated, the great American press, which kept strangely silent over the sad fate of the Liberian editor, finds in La Prensa a belated wrong that need resistance.

The ghost of Editor Taylor and his liquidated African Nationalist now rises apparently to plague those who in their smugness ignored the warning of Haile Selassee of Ethiopia, when he warned the League of Nations that it would rue the day of its eye winking at Italy's plan of aggression. The fate of the African Nationalist and that of La Prensa should be a solemn warning to those who close their eyes conveniently to principles which bleed a little and then suddenly spend their life blood in a dramatic but non-the-less unfortunate way.

NEWS FROM ACROSS THE WORLD

Larry Parks And Un-American Comm., ASP Meet, April 6

A documented case history of Larry Parks and the meaning of his recent testimony before the House Committee on Un-American Activities will be presented at a public mass meeting called by the Southern California Chapter of the Arts, Sciences and Professions Council for Friday evening, April 6, at the Embassy Auditorium in Los Angeles.

An analysis of the Motion Picture Alliance and its motivations will also be presented at the meeting.

Gale Sondergaard and Howard de Silva, motion picture stars who on March 21 refused to answer questions of the Wood committee, will report on their experience in Washington and on the techniques and objectives of the committee.

A statement of the Arts, Sciences and Professions Council said: "In this time of the Delirium Trumans an obvious attempt is being made to use war hysteria as a means of stamping out all dissenting opinion and to press the American mind into a mould of thoroughly un-American conformity. The present Hollywood hearings of the Wood-Rankin committee is an effort to intimidate the motion picture industry into taking a leading role in this conspiracy against peace and true Americanism. In Hollywood the so-called Motion Picture Alliance and its sponsorship of a call for immediate preventive war operates virtually as an agency of this committee. This challenge to the film industry and the American people will be fully exposed at the April 6 meeting."

Also needed is a Coordinator of Rehabilitation Therapies at $481-$584, open only to residents of California.

King vs. King

"Extreme cruelty" charges were leveled at Leslie King, retired army officer, in a suit for separate maintenance filed last week but they failed to convince Superior Court Commissioner Bernard Hiss that Mr. King should be required to remove from the family home at 2115 South Harvard boulevard. The hearing was held last Wednesday.

In her complaint which signalized the break-up of a three year old marriage that attracted wide attention in social circles, Mrs. King depicted her husband as a "person of substantial worth and income" and asked that he be required to pay her one thousand dollars as attorney fees.

In counter affidavits, filed through Attorney Loren Miller, Mr. King charged that his wife had far more income and property than he and that he lacked funds with which to pay her either the attorney fees or the alimony which she demanded. Her request for attorney fees was denied.

Mrs. King is widely known both here and in the northern part of the state. Her first marriage was terminated by the death of her former husband, Walter Loving, army officer who spent most of his career in the Phillipine Islands.

The Harvard boulevard home of which Mrs. King sought exclusive occupancy was owned by Mr. King prior to the marriage and other properties allegedly owned by him are also property purchased before the present marriage. Mr. King said that he has directed his attorney to file a cross complaint for divorce alleging extreme cruelty on his wife's part.

Solnit Named Chairman Of Jewish Appeal

A total of $1,012,500 has been raised in pace-setting gifts prior to the April first opening of Los Angeles' 1951 United Jewish Welfare Fund campaign, chairman Ben Solnit announced yesterday.

Goal for the city-wide drive is $8,815,000, to be allocated to approximately fifty health and welfare agencies in Los Angeles and overseas.

Solnit, named chairman by Los Angeles Jewish Community Council which conducts the annual campaign, said the 1951 goal is $1,815,000 above the $7,000,000 raised last year.

Primary reason for the greater sum, he explained, is a "series of deadlines" facing Jews overseas.

Iraq, he said, has already begun to refuse permission for emigration to Israel; a similar situation prevails in Libya, and in most of the countries of Eastern Europe where the Jewish populations are frantically, trying to escape hostile governments.

"Either we get these people out now—while we can—or face the possibility of never rescuing them at all," Solnit declared.

500 SC Officers Recalled

LOS ANGELES—Five hundred of the 1,841 company grade national guard and reserve officers to be recalled to extended active duty for the Sixth Army area under the Department of Defense's recent recall program will be drawn from Southern California.

The 500 southland officers will be the Southern California Military Sub-district's percentage toward meeting the 12,650 quota established for the nation.

NEW YORK—The Hearing Examiner of the Immigration and Naturalization Service in the case of Betty Gannett, educational director of the Communist Party, recommended her deportation from the United States on the basis of the deportation provisions of the McCarran Law, it was announced this week by the American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born.

Carol Kink is serving as counsel for Miss Gannett.

Miss Gannett, 43, a native of Poland, was brought to the United States by her family when she was seven years old. She is married to an American citizen, a veteran of World War II.

Art Exhibit By Museum

The Los Angeles County Museum announced a combined exhibition of work by Artists of Los Angeles and vicinity and a section devoted to painting from other sections of the United States. The exhibition will be presented in June under the title "Contemporary Painting in the United States."

James B. Byrnes, Curator of Contemporary and Modern Art, will travel to the east selecting between 75 and 100 paintings by the country's outstanding artists in the various art centers along the way.

Released on Bail

Paul Yuditch was released on $5,000 bail.

Mr. Yuditch, labor editor of the Jewish Morning Freiheit, was arrested on February 20 and held on Ellis Island without bail in deportation proceedings. Carol King, general counsel of the American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born, immediately applied for a writ of habeas corpus in the Federal District Court. Justice Department accepted bail and Mr. Yuditch was released from Ellis Island.

Mr. Yuditch, 63, was born in Russia and has lived in the United States for 42 years. He is the father of two American-born sons, one of whom served as a lieutenant in the armed forces during World War II.

US Troops in Japan

WASHINGTON—The arrival of American troops in Japan after the conclusion of a separate "peace treatry" will not be regarded by the Japanese government as intervention in Japan's internal affairs. This is revealed by the State Department's confidential reports on the results of the recent trip to Tokyo by President Truman's special envoy, John Foster Dulles, Telepress learns from a high official here.

On the basis of an American-Japanese agreement, American troops are to remain in Japan for an unlimited period and the United States government has the right to increase their number to 250,000. This formal right can be exercised — under the Dulles-Yoshida agreement—even before the conclusion of the peace treatry whose American draft contains the necessary provisions.

hiring both teachers and non-certificated personnel by the school system.

Jack Berman, one of Darby's opponents, charged that when the issue of discrimination had been brought before the board that they had white washed these charges and cited as an example the case of the principal of the 28th Street School of a few years ago who had been charged with making strongly anti-Semitic, anti-Negro remarks concerning Jewish and Negro members of the teaching staffs.

The "Florence-Fremont Town Meeting" is held once a month and is sponsored as a community service by the Florence Avenue Club of the Independent Progressive Party. The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, April 18th, at Fremont High. The topic tentatively announced is, "Is Peace Possible and If So, How Do We Attain It?"

Clair Case For Council

L. Clair Case, prominent business man and active in city affairs, is being backed by civic, church, labor, taxpayers, veterans, and business groups, as their candidate for the Los Angeles City Council for the 5th District.

He has pledged definitely, among many other good things, to "End Discrimination with FEPC." Only one vote was needed the last time a city ordinance for FEPC was brought before the City Council, his friends point out. Clair Case may supply that one vote!

PE Wages Up

A wage increase of 12½ cents per hour for 2500 non-operating Pacific Electric employes, effective February 1, 1951, was announced this week by the company and representatives of eight unions. The annual payroll increase for Pacific Electric will amount to $700,000.

The eight unions represent clerks, singnalmen, agents, maintenance of way, shopcrafts, dispatchers, electric maintenance and sub-station operators.

Defeat Jim Crow

The recent segregation rider attached to the Draft-UMT Bill, calling for recial segregation in the armed services, approved by a vote of 21-12 of the House Armed Services Committee, has caused great concern among officers and members of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters.

The Brotherhood is actively engaged in attempting to defeat this rider before final passage of the bill by Congress. Telegram was sent to: Hon. Harry S. Truman, President of the United States; Congressman Adam Powell; Congressman Jacob Javits; Congressman Celler; Congressman Klein; Congressman Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. and others.

Nothing But Cokes

Federal Judge Harry C. Westover this week issued an injunction against the owner and operators of Larry Potter's Supper Club, located at 11345 Ventura Blvd., Los Angeles, in the case of The Coca-Cola Company versus Larry Potter's Supper Club, restraining them from substituting and passing off other beverages upon calls for "Coca-Cola."

The defendant was charged in the complaint with substituting another beverage in response to calls for "Coca-Cola." The court perpetually enjoined the defendant when responding to calls or orders for Coca-Cola from serving any products other than the plaintiff's. The court costs were paid by the defendant.

Taxes!

SACRAMENTO—Collections of alcoholic beverage excise taxes in February 1951, based upon January sales by wholesalers and manufacturers, amounted to $1,948,385, an increase of $856,000, or 78 percent, over a year ago.

Gross revenues derived from January distributions of fuel taxable under the Motor Vehicle Fuel License Tax Law amounted to $12,982,418, according to Mr. Bonelli.

Some 24,700,000 gallons of butane and propane were sold free of tax in January 1951 for non-highway usage, an increase of 28 percent over December 1950 and almost 20 percent more than a year ago.

Another 314,000,000 gallons of motor vehicle fuel were sold tax-free in January for export or to the U. S. Government for use in ships or aircraft.

Jeffersn Dinner

Demos all over the country are saving their pennies and planning to attend the Jefferson-Jackson dinners to be held locally and in Washington, D. C.

The dinner in Los Angeles will be held Monday, April 23. Senator Paul H. Douglas, of Illinois, will be the speaker.

KENDRIX COMMENTS

IF YOU FLY—YOU KNOW

RICHMOND, Va.—If you fly, you already know that flying in the South has its ups and downs for the Negro traveller. First you know that you are just another American. Then you know that you aren't.

Believe it or not, here in the beautiful Richmond airport, I feel, I suppose, as any other American who might be waiting here for flight into the wide blue yonder. Knoxville is the only other southern city that I would compare with Richmond in its treatment of Negro air passengers.

When I arrived here this morning from Atlanta, I ate breakfast in the terminal restaurant. As best I recall, and I've been in a lot of southern airports, I could have done that no where else save in Knoxville.

In this pattern, Oklahoma City, Kansas City, St. Louis and Washington, D. C., are outside of the South. Negroes are served without question in the airport restaurants of these cities. Almost anywhere you may obtain a cup of coffee and that about ends it.

Some months ago, I was going from Little Rock to Montgomery. At Little Rock, I had a very light breakfast. When I arrived in Memphis, it was well past lunch time, and I felt it. Appearing in the dining room, I was offered service on the balcony waiting area.

Since I gave up balconies as a movie-struck boy back in Atlanta, I could not accept such for a meal, as hungry as I was that day in Memphis. So I assembled and stood over a milkshake with some other Americans.

The next stop enroute to Montgomery was Birmingham. There I had a wait before the final hop to the Alabama capital. By the time I arrived in Birmingham, I knew that if I didn't eat soon I wouldn't be able to step aboard the Montgomery plane two and a half hours later.

Feeling that the airline that picked up my last passage coupon had some responsibility for my welfare, I drew myself up to that airline's ticket agent and announced my fate. "Surely, we will serve you," said the lady. "I'll call Joe." Joe, I thought, was somewhere punching bags.

But this was another "Joe" and at that moment, along he came. The bags—those he was rushing over to be checked for the next flight out. And, he was back in a flash to get me a menu. Where would I eat! In the baggage room! Again, I couldn't make it.

I must admit, in my physical state, I somewhat wished for Boss Crump's Memphis. There I would have a waiter, rather than an aircap. They declared that I would have had the same type of table that the white folks were using, here it would have been airfreight.

After breakfast this morning in Richmond, the regular airport limousine carried me into the city. If I had wanted to go to one of the uptown hotels, I would have been dropped there just as other passengers are carried to the John Marshall.

In too many southern cities, Negroes are not permitted to use the regularly furnished airport transporation. And I do not know of another city in the South where hotels are serviced, with ones for Negroes being included. Here, they will take you to Slaughter's and return for you.

But if you are in Houston, New Orleans, Miami, Jacksonville, Savannah or Memphis, for instance, you are going to have "special" service, airport to the city. Further, if you aren't alert, this "special" service will cost you time and money.

After flying for quite a time, I've learned to save both. If I am considered "special" at the next airport, this one must inform it that I am enroute—"a special guy"—and that I want my "special" service waiting. Then, I no longer pay extra for being considered "special."

If Mister Charlie rides to Jacksonville for one buck—me too. So when I go to Jackson some airline pays the extra dollar that the cab costs. In Houston I pick up $1.85, and in Shreveport, the airline paid, even, the extra fifteen cents that I was supposed to pay for being "special."

THE LATE Mrs. Willie B. Bruce (right), Los Angeles' first colored head nurse, was the next of kin to Frank Rogers Jr., of Knoxville, according to a decision handed down last Monday, March 12, by Judge J. E. Moroney in Department 5, who appointed Rogers as administrator. Mrs. Bruce passed away January 15 after a brief illness, leaving an estate valued at $50,000, but no will. Rogers was represented by Atty. Curtis C. Taylor. Standing with Mrs. Bruce in the picture is Miss Ethel Le Fleur, a close friend.

The Negro National Anthem

(Let every Negro, every lover of liberty, learn to sing this)

Lift every voice and sing till earth and heaven ring,
Ring with the harmonies of liberty.
Let our rejoicing rise, high as the listening skies;
Let it resound loud as the rolling sea.

Sing a song full of the faith that the dark past has taught us.
Sing a song full of the hope that the present has brought us.
Facing the rising run of our new day begun,
Let us march on till victory is won.

Stony the road we trod, bitter the chastening rod,
Felt in the days when hope unborn had died.
Yet with a steady beat, have not our weary feet
Come to the place for which our fathers sighed.

We have come over a way that with tears has been watered;
We have come, treading our path through the blood of the slaughtered;
Out from the gloomy past, till now we stand at last
Where the white gleam of our bright star is cast.

God of our weary years, God of our silent tears,
Thou who has brought us thus far on the way;
Thou who hast, by thy might, led us into the light;
Keep us forever in the path, we pray.

Lest our feet stray from the places, our God, where we met thee.
Lest our hearts, drunk with wine of the world, we forget thee.
Shadowed beneath Your hand, may we forever stand
True to our God, true to our native land.

may know, the very first thing Paine ever wrote for publication was his Anti-Slavery essay, which was published in Philadelphia on the 8th of March, 1774, a few months after his arrival in America, and just 35 days later, the first American Anti-Slavery Society was formed in Philadelphia.

It is our purpose to have a Thomas Paine Museum and Library in Thetford, for which we are asking for the loan of relics, portraits, books, and letters relating to Paine.

If any of your readers who are not coming to Britain this year would tell those of their friends who are visiting the Festival of Britain that Thetford is less than 3½ hours by rail from London, we would be very grateful.

All who suffer in these "times that try men's souls," should welcome the opportunity to pay their respects to the memory of the man of Thetford, whose political and religious philosophies were summed up in his noble and pacifying words, "The world is my country, and to do good is my religion."

Yours faithfully,

Editor:

At the end of your pen points rests the future of not only one innocent man, but the future of our country.

The frame up of Willie McGee in Mississippi serves no other purpose but to perpetuate the horrible crime of discrimination in America . . . the America which has set itself up to police the world for democracy!

You gentlemen, will either sit by dumb, deaf, and blind and allow perverted individuals representing "white supremacy" to legally murder Willie McGee (as President Truman did in the case of the seven innocent Martinsville men), or, you will exert a few seconds of energy to push a pen and prevent a murder, and thereby fulfill a small fraction of the responsibility that our nation has vested in you to uphold our democratic way of life.

Do not think for one moment that we citizens watching from invisible corners of the U.S.A. will think it's ignorance that is to blame—the responsibility will be laid on your doorsteps where it belongs.

Should both of you sit idly by and bask in the sunshine of jimcrow Florida or jimcrow Mississippi, while our men die in a far off land and while innocent men die here at home, you will then by your silence admit publicly that we have nothing to fight for—no justice, no democracy.

I urge you to act at once to save innocent Willie McGee.

Yours for a true democracy,

Transit Fares Increase Warned

"Transit fares will be further increased if any one of several bills currently before the State Legislature is enacted into law," Paul V. Parker, Secretary-Manager of the Citizens' Transit and Traffic Committee, warned this week.

"Transit fares are set by the State Public Utilities Commission after careful consideration of all operating expenses of transit companies," Parker said. "Under this established procedure, taxes levied against transit companies will be passed along to that class of citizens least able to bear further taxation, the riders of mass transit vehicles."

Parker suggested to newspaper publishers and other civic minded persons that they express to their representatives in the State Legislature opposition to these bills, principal among which are Senate Bills 133, 135, 349, 350, 354; Assembly Bills 915 and 2452, and Senate Constitutional Amendment 22.

The refusal of the Bluefield, West Va., local radio station to carry an announcement urging citizens to boycott a segregated adopting of the film, "The Jackie Robinson Story," has being investigated this week by the FCC.

An Escapade of a Midnight Dream

There in a garden 'neath the light of the moon,
There where the lillies and roses did bloom
My eyes beheld where moon-beams did fall
A vision of beauty which trifled them all.
A vision whom in its presence did seem
An escapade of a midnight dream.
So fair was the night, still fairer was she
That angels came down from heaven to see.
So shamed were the stars by the light of her eyes
They veiled themselves in the moonlight skies.
All on earth was rapture thrilled
And all around the night was still.
Mortal tongue could not define
Behold! what esctasy was mine.
She stood in beauty upon a carpet of green
While music played a paradise scene,
And in accord to the heavenly sound
She danced to a waltz in three quarter time.
And around and around to its rhymic beat
She danced around roses that stood at her feet
And all of the roses acquiescently
Bowed to her rule professingly.
She was a study, a symphony in grace
Gowned in velvet and elegant lace.
Then as I looked in her eyes I fondly did see
I looked in amaze she beckoned to me
Emotionless, I could only but stare
So elated I was she knew I was there.
But it was just for a moment, no more to decide
For there in a moment, I was by at her side
And gently taking her hand in mine
I joined in the waltz in three quarter time.
Lightly she moved like a ballerina
Divinely endowed like the Magdalena
She was from heaven, an angel was she
God in His heaven had sent her to me
And I to the spell of love was bound
So blessed in its depth profound.
Holding her closer, and closer until
My heart was aglow with rapture was fill.
I looked on her lips, so stately were formed
There in an instance, a passion was borned,
So sweet was my bliss, I could not resist,
Softly, her lips, I passionately kissed.
Then no sooner was my joy supreme
All so suddenly it seemed
All at once I beheld
A mist upon the garden fell!
Closing and closing its way around me
The garden transformed to a misty sea!
The mist, the mist, it grew all around
Till nothing there was the eyes to find.
These lips, these eyes that delighted me
All had now forsakened me
No where in that mist profound
The face of her I could not find,
Gone for ever no more to see—
God had taken her from me.
Left with a tear a sorrow grew
Sadly, her name, I never knew.
Then suddenly as it all began
Though guided by a hystic hand,
As swiftly as the fleeting fawn
The mist gave away to the rising dawn.
I awoke from my dream engulfed by the night
To see sunbeams dancing in celestial light.
I looked and I gazed
Into the sunlit haze
But upon Earth's great beauty, I could not see Another, nay! more fairer than she.

April Designated Cancer Control Month by Truman

NEW YORK—The President has proclaimed April as Cancer Control Month and the American Cancer Society, through its divisions throughout the United States, is ready to conduct the most effective educational and fund-raising campaign against cancer in its history. It was announced at the Society's national headquarters this week. A national goal of $14,565,000 is being sought by the American Cancer Society to carry on its year-round program of research, education and service.

In response to President Truman's appeal to "all interested agencies and individuals to unite during April, 1951, in public dedication to a program for the control of cancer," a spokesman for the Cancer Society, declared that the Cancer Crusade would swing into action on April 1.

OPA Ceiling Prices Asked of Business

An estimated 8,000 Southland business men who sell clothing, furniture, yardage goods and floor coverings to the public are preparing for the first big mass filing of ceiling prices with the Office of Price Stabilization.

Deadline for the mass filing was set ahead this week to give the business fraterniay more time to prepare their records. On or before April 30th, each merchant—most of whom operate variety stores, clothing, furniture or department stores—will send the federal price agency a list showing each item covered by the order, together with (1) its original cost; (2) resale price; and (3) the difference, or "mark-up" added by the merchant.

In response to hundreds of inquiries, the Los Angeles Office of Price Stabilization today released answers to the most commonly asked questions regarding the new order. Known as "Ceiling Price Regulation 7," it permits the retailer of these goods to use a fixed margin of "mark-up" which he will add to the wholesale cost of the goods he is selling.

No Discrimination at Saylor's Mkt., Says Manager Greenburger

"Of course we employ Negroes in this store," declared "Wally" Greenburger, manager of Saylor's Market, corner Florence and Hooper. "We have'nt any feeling at all about that matter, and whenever there's any vacancy we'll hire a Negro, if he's capable, the same as we would a white person."

As a matter of fact the Market is employing several Negroes now as "box boys"—packing and unpacking bores, etc. There is also an application on file for a checker. This from a Negro.

"But there is no vacancy at present for a checker," said Mr. Greenburger. "When there is one we'll surely consider this application. In fact," Mr. Greenburger confided, "it was the Saylor's Market that had induced the Retail Grocery Clerk's Union to begin training its members to be checkers, etc. And as soon as there is a vacancy along that line, and if there is a Negro available and capable, he or she will stand as good a chance as any white person."

But some of the Negroes who have waited a long time for a "vacancy" to occur, wonder how much longer they will have to stand in line for the hand-out which seems to have to be forced from the Saylor Mkt. management.

Critical Principles For Readers Pointed Out at Lecture

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY—On Tuesday evening, March 27 at 8:15 p.m. Rev. Harold F. Ryan, S.J., presented the 6th in the literature portion of the Loyola Lectures when he discusses "A Thumbnail Formula for Literary Criticism."

Fr. Ryan, who is Chairman of the Graduate division at Loyola University said of current book criticisms: "Book reviews either avoid the problem of judging a book or involve their judgments in terms that are too technical for the layman." There must be some middle course that will provide sound critical prineiples for the general reader, Fr. Ryan states.

Los Angeles to Host 126 Confabs, Commerce Reports

Convention business during 1951 will bring at least $10,300,000 to Los Angeles storekeepers, hotel owners, restaurateurs and others serving visitors, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce reported today.

At the end of February, 126 conclaves had been scheduled for the year, with 27 having already been held. This was four more than had been held or booked at the same time a year ago, the Chamber's convention and visitors bureau, which books meetings for Los Angeles, disclosed.

More than 80,000 delegates are scheduled to attend conclaves in Los Angeles this year, according to Terrelle C. Drinkwater, bureau chairman.

Additional conventions are expected to be booked by the bureau during the coming months, Drinkwater said. Thirteen were signed during February.

So. Calif. Society For Mental Hygiene Offices Moved

The Southern California Society for Mental Hygiene today announced moving of its offices to a new location at 3067 West Seventh St., Los Angeles.

The new offices will enable some expansion of services to the Southern California community under present budget limitations, advised Chauncey Alexander, Society Director. Education Stressed For Negro Youth Seeking Opportunity

There was only one Negro dentist in the United States in 1950 for every 8,800 Negro population, as against one white dentist for every 1,752 of the nation's white population, Thomas Roy Jones, President, Daystrom, Incorporated, told a career conference of Negroes March 21. Citing other illustrations of the opportunities that exist for Negroes to plan careers in business and the professions, Mr. Jones pointed out that there were only 150 Negro engineers graduated from our colleges last year, as against 52,500 white graduate engineers.

The conference was co-sponsored by the National Urban League and the Tennessee Agricultural and Industrial State College.

Stressing the advantages of an education, Mr. Jones emphasized that there were penty of opportunities for the Negro youth of the country if they were willing to devote the time and energy to be prepared. "Success may be 50 per cent luck," he said, "but the other 50 per cent is being ready for luck when it comes."

Civil Defense

Citizens of virtually all the cities of California, employees in factories and stores, as well as school children, are being alerted for civil defense. Block wardens have been appointed, and instruction in basic fire fighting is under way. Red Cross nursing classes are in full swing for home nursing instruction. Even chefs are being enlisted for camp cooks in case evascuees from large metropolitan areas must be cared for.

UCLA 1st Track Meet Of Season

In UCLA's first home track meet of the season, the Bruins host Santa Barbara College's Gauchos and Cal Poly's Mustangs of San Luis Obispo in a triangular spikefest on the Westwood cinderpath this Saturday, with the field events starting at 2 p.m. and the track events at 2:30 p.m.

Santa Barbara has two of the nation's top collegiate tracksters in Delfs Pickarts, who has tossed the javelin 227 feet; and Willie Dancer, who has high jumped 6 feet, 6½ inches. Otey Scruggs, well-known decathlon performer, is another stellar Gaucho. He'll compete Saturday in the 440, shot put and discus.

Cal Poly also has a standout javelin thrower in Kelly Hylton, ex-Santa Ana JC star who won the national jaycee title in his pet event last year. In sophomore Paul Johnson, former Jefferson High star, the Mustangs have the finest hurdler in their history.

In sprinter Bob Work and broad jumper George Brown, who are undefeated so far this spring, the Bruins have two of the foremost collegiate ovalmen on the Coast and perhaps in the nation. Saturday's meet will show whether Coach Drake has sufficient team strength to give PCC foes like Stanford, SC and California a run for their money in coming dual meet competition.

The Bruins are pointing for their first PCC dual meet a week from Saturday, April 7, when they host Stanford's Indians. Leading the Bruins into action Saturday will be Hugh Mitchell of Los Angeles, two-year half-mile star who was elected 1951 team captain last week. Mitchell is the brother of Hal Mitchell, rugged two-year tackle veteran on UCLA's football team.

Bowling Notes

By Lewis Russ

The Harlem Sports Center Bowling Alley is no longer the place to bowl for the Los Angeles Bowling Senate and its members. After many indifferences about inferior equipment and unsanitary conditions it had to happen and it happened when owner Sam Kalof or some one with authority ordered the man Friday to close the joint.

At the time there were four organized leagues competing four nights a week and had but a few weeks to go to complete a 30-week schedule. Mr Kalof and company probably had intentions of raising prices or something and went about it in a most uncivil manner. They probably thought too of putting people in their places and that they meaning the bowlers, would be like fish out of water and like the boy calling for Richard please open the door Mr. Kalof. They must have forgotten that we are rising slowly but steadily that barriers have ben broken and restrictions lifted even in the American Bowling Congress and that our business is as much in demand as any one else's business.

The local Senate lost no time and after several offers obtained the Figueroa Bowl for three nights a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, to finish their winter leagues. Mr. Giamo, owner of these beautiful lanes at 1337 S. Figueroa, has been very accommodating and made it ever so convenient for the players. Mr. Elyod Lawrence, President of the Senate, expressed satisfaction stating every one is happy over the move.

Monday night the four top teams of the Atomic Mixed Foursome League meet. This should decide the championship.

In the Sunset League Roberson Motel have blasted enough wood and have nothing to fret about.

In the Angel City League, Shelton Bail Bonds, tipping a lot of lumber are the Queen champions of this league.

The Spoilers of Rickeners League have mowed down all opposition and have nothing to stew over.

Floyd Lawrence tore up the maple the first night of league play in the new house, shooting a 247 game and a 620 series.

And so play goes on as these finger gripping nail tossers chuck ahead for strikes or spares in bowling along.

On The Turf

By GEORGE A. RAMSEY

NEW CALIENTE O'd Mexico—The champion marathoner at the Caliente course is Bust Out, the four-year-old son of Pari-Mutuel's Brazen Lady, again defeated the Canadian champion Mon Songe. This was the second time that Bust Out has handed the British Express who was thought to be a second Malicious a bad beating. The last time these two met Bust Out won by three lengths, the distance for that race was 1 mile and ¾.

GEO. A. RAMSEY

The Bonnie Sea featured attraction last Sunday was two miles, and at the mile and ¾ both horses made their move at the same time, with Bust Out pulling away to score by five lengths under the heavy impost of 120 pounds. The time was fast short of the track record, set by Bonnie Sea, whom the race was named for. Bonnie Sea ran the distance in 1940 in 3.24 1-5. While Bust Out's time was 3.29 2-5. As the favorite he paid 04.40. One of the largest daily double payoffs in many months was shared by lucky ticket holders of Jim Glendale winner of the fourth race and second choice in the betting, and Orovadad, longshot winner of the fifth race. The payoff was $944.60. Orovade paid across the board $56.80, $33.20, $17.40. There were thre noss on the wir in a thrilling finish. The Quniela backers of Handy Way, another longshot that was the victor of the tenth race, and Relayer, who finished second, received $106.20. Handy Way paid $29.20, $16.40, $8.00 across the board.

Five favorites out of the twelve race program were able to visit the charmed circle, while the longshot players had a field day. In the co-feature called the "Easter Parade," at six furlongs, High Hurry from the stable of R. C. Ellsworth upset the odds on favorites Mr. Bam and War Bam, who was the Mrs. H. P. Bamer entry. High Hurry just did last to gain a neck victory over the fast closing Smart Cookie who was a neck in front of Mr. Bam. The winner paid $14.2 and ran the distance in 1.10 4-5 the fastest time for the distance this year. High Hurry was the six year old in the race and was supposed to bear older horses, not being a filly, although she is one of the best bred on the grounds. By the Great Wrack, away Flying Choice. Again this Saturday and Sunday Manager Horse Walter C. Marty has arranged another five programs of 20 races, 8 on Saturday and 12 on Sunday. Post time Saturday 2 p.m. Sundays, 1 p.m.

REFLECTIONS:

Another Day seemingly that each event was a must and no one regreted attended all was last Sunday EASTER. GEE . . . What a Day!

If you missed the Park View Manor Boys Home Benefit Fashion Show then you did miss The Event of the Day as it was perfection personified in every way. It was ably directed by a product of the Dorothy Preble Modeling School, likewise embelished with Dorothy Dickerson instructions and experience in the largest stores on the coast with coordinating their shows with experienced models and where the motto 'Trifles lead and make for Perfection but perfection is no trifle' is put into action in the form of dollars and cents. I speak of the choice of your perusal and approval Wini Orr who held the Directorial Reins to the show which moved under her guidance smoothly as any professional show anywhere —Velmas Hamilton seemed to amuse to the tune of the Charlie Lawrence combo which furnished music for the models. Willie Smith enjoyed his last affair before joing THE DUKE by soloing the highlights in Tailoring perfection of the Martin-Adre Model (ye scribe); the girls were pleased with Emile Chelette—his suave and terrific appearance. All were pleased with Grace Fagan (her husband did not like last weeks gross error of her nomenclature being Grace Atkins Fisher who exclusively modeled Hats for Velvette)—along with Mary Francis Peterson Sharing female honors of the day goes to Margret Fisher and Barbara Gray and Margret Goode.

Celebrities appeared from the forthcoming picture 'The Well' Maidie Norman beautifully attired and Ernie Anderson, smooth as only sophisticatedly he can; Marrietta Canty in Easter Finery greeted the crowd as did Don Blackmon. Edythe Whiteman charmed with her Zither and her voice of sincerety and faith; while Arthur Lee Simpkins was most conspicuous by his absence due to illness.

After a brief look in at the Chateau Villion where Ye EAGLE SOCIALITING SCRIBE again commentated, efficiently and minutely in detail as only she can which makes her a MUST for shows destined for pleasure and preciseness of detail—then hied to the Over-Crowded Florentine Gardens where again called upon to comment on the Hair-Styles. The Alpha Phi Alpha affair which Gertrude Gipson handled to the best of her ability such a mammoth undertaking so heavy a programme, was superbly done and she is to be lauded, but the Men of the fraternity should be mindful of selling more tickets than the place can accomodate . . . it makes for non-patronage to other affairs which will be sponsored. Needless to add that practically everyone was there that could get in and each had a most enjoyable time as the talent was of the best, the Fashions smart, only one spectacularly mentionable one and the dancers from the Isle were enthusiastically received.

RECOLLECTIONS:

Wini wants all to know her profound gratitude and hearty appreciation for her many cards and lovely flowers and beautiful gifts on her Birthday, March 21st. First Day of Spring—she never did tell what the count was—I wonder why (smiles)?

Althea Page Polk in town for last fling before efficiently carrying out her duties at the Army Post in Alaska—needless to add such a personality will be missed. We deeply sympathize with Mrs. Joe (Emma) Adams in her paternal bereavement.

REBUTTAL:

It was indeed a pleasure to pinch hit for such an ambitious and talented scribe as ye EAGLE Socialiting Editor this week who after such a strenous Easter preparation for the many shows and appearances has hied away to the Bay Area away from the fabulous crowd of you lovely readers, kind folk and gentle people to rest in the scenic beauty of Carmel.

Leaving you with these thoughts for provocative thinking while enroute to your various walks of life . . . 'If you can't help don't hinder and when thinking of talking of others be it friend or foe . . . ask yourself these questions, is it necessary? Is it kind? Is it true? You'll find the answers are no and life will be much better and brighter where ever you go.

Thank you as I trust the perusal was as pleasant as the penning.

Jean Kennedy Hostess to Cavalrettes, Inc.

It was a touch of Easter, so says Mattye S. Miller, reporter, when the Cavalrettes met at the palatial South Arlington Street home of Jean Kennedy on Thursday night, March 22. Jackie Moore, president presided over an epitomized business session covering matters of planning committees on their coming Coffee Extravaganza; committee collaborating in the staging of the coming Delta Jabberwock; committee on arts and crafts and briefing many items and tentative plans for the year.

Society Faces and Places

By JUNIETA EDWARDS

Easter Sunday found a wide variety of interesting affairs to attend, and without a doubt one of the most entertaining was the Beta Psi Lambda Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fratrnity's benefit for scholarship funds, which was held at the Florentine Gardens on Hollywood Blvd. A fashion show with Dorothy Farrier and Wini Orr as commentators served to present as models Yvonne Cole and several other beautifully gowned ladies. An original phase of the show was the introduction of Andre Vaughn, local Real Estate broker, modeling a light grey suit.

Not to be outdone, an outstanding floor show followed with both Joe Adams and Leonard Reed as mc's, climaxed by the presentation of an award to Mrs. Arthur Lee Simpkins for her husband (who was ill and unable to attend) as the most cooperative artist of the years in donating his time and service to charitable functions. A definite standout in the floor show was the charming Dorothy Dandridge, who received a special award as one of America's outstanding singers, dancers and actresses. Seen at various times throughout the vening were: Carl and Liz King, Shirley Rakestraw LaBeach, Joe and Betsy Green, Norman Houston, Jr., Joe Louis, John and Gwen Simmons, Wrena Clarke, Enoch Spann with Gloria Middleton, Joe Oliver, Don Barksdale, Lillian Williams and Del Green, Dr. Delo Overstreet Gray and Dr. and Mrs. George Seeley.

Another Easter Sunday highlight was the tea presented by the Kappa Mothers at the Wilfandel Club house. A fashion show featuring models from 3 years old to collegiate age was under the supervision of Fannie Williams and directed by Mae Meyers. The girls modeling were especially lovely and we noted Cecilia Rene showing a black taffeta cocktain dinner dress. Her accessories were soft gold gloves, with flowers accenting the hip line. Black veiling over the face gave an added exotic appearance to Miss Rene, who is an art design major at City College. Striking Jean Blanchett wore a lovely evening dress in metallic forest green. Among the other young ladies modeling were Joan, Suzie and Frances Moore and Chris Lawson.

Red Cross Goal Doubled To Meet World Crisis

East Side Red Cross solicitors have been asked to stay in the field until their quota is met, Mrs. Vanilla Strickland, campaign chairman, said yesterday.

This request follows the announcement last week that the fund drive in the Los Angeles area is lagging behind all other metropolitan campaigns in the nation.

"Our local quota of $20,300 represents the minimum amount needed to support Red Cross services in 1951," the chairman said. "Our slogan in these closing weeks of the campaign is "On the Double!" This expresses the need to work fast in order to meet the quota and also the need for the public to give double."

Task of the Red Cross in 1951 is far greater than was expected when the campaign goal was set nationally at $85,000,000 last November. Since then the world crisis has deepened, and plans for defense have been repeatedly revised upward, said the local chairman.

"Each increase in the size of the Armed Forces is directly reflected in increasing Red Cross expenses. I cannot emphasize too strongly that our goal is the minimum amount needed."

The college players are making "Laura" their first production of 1951.

Actor to Take Over Westview Hospital Drive

Ultimate success in the drive to raise $650,000 for the St. Augustine-Westview Hospital Fund was indicated yesterday by Postmaster Michael D. Fanning when he announced that George Murphy, noted screen star would take his place as chairman of the board conducting the drive.

"I feel that George Murphy has every requisite to carry this drive on to a successful conclusion," Fanning said. "When we took over last summer we acquired about $150,000 in property and cash from the original Westview hospital group. Since that time some $250,000 has been pledged or paid into the fund, leaving us still about $300,000 short of our goal.

"Because of his standing in the community and strong interest in seeing that an inter-racial hospital is developed, I know that Mr. Murphy will bring this campaign to a successful conclusion in 1951."

GERTRUDE GIPSON

Can't think of any other way of teeing off the column than to express our sincere thanks to the members of the graduate chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity for the wonderful tribute paid "yours truly" in their programs distributed out at the Florentine Gardens on Easter Sunday afternoon. . . . Surely without the help of the many artists who appeared and the majority of the members of the committee, it would have been impossible to have had such a wonderful success. . . . Arthur Lee Simpkins, who has been confined to bed for at least a month, was unable to attend and accept the award for being selected as the most cooperative artist of the year. . . . Dorothy Dandridge looking prettier than "a speckled pup under a little red wogn" and receiving a beautiful bouquet of flowers as the runner-up.

The sudden death of Sid Catlet . . . often referred to as one of the nation's top drummers, came as quite a shock to the entertainment world and the many friends of Sid. . . . His death occurred at the Civic Opera House in Chicago where he was appearing. . . . Just as the other things occur in life, so must death have its sting. . . . Our deepest sympathy to Emma Adams, wife of D. J. Joe Adams, whose father passed this week. . . . Rena Ann Marlow Hughes is busy completing plans for the big show Sunday morning at the YWCA when the Business and Professional Women will have full sway. . . . Lena Torrance the constant company of Joe Louis . . . incidentally, Lena recently did a part in the forthcoming flicker, "Skid Row."

Mildred Blount, designer and creator of beautiful hats, busy at work these days out at her workshop in the Biltmore on Beverly. . . . Mala Powers, beautiful actress, will wear one of Mildred's originals and grace the cover of a nationally known magazine. . . . Don Barksdale will be one of the key players for the Alphas with the series beginning this Saturday night at Loyola. . . . New York all aflutter with the wonderful performance of William Marshall, handsome 27-year-old, 6-footer, who portrays the role of "De Lawd" in Marc Connelly's "Green Pastures." . . . Marshall, who was discovered during his first year when he was a pirate in "Peter-Pan," and an understudy to Boris Karloff, co-star in that fantasy, removed all fears opening night at New York's Broadway Theatre with his terrific performance and appearance.

NOTES, NEWS AND NONSENSE:

Angelle and Maria have declared that Monday night will be Joe Louis night over at the Elbow Bend, with the entire public invited to attend. . . . Joe leaves for the East again and on with his other engagements. . . . Course we hardly need to say anything about the wonderful food over at at the Elbow Bend with Angelle and Maria preparing. . . . Angel City fans anxiously awaiting the opening of Jo Baker at Ciro's . . . as for me! I'm all excited over that $150,000 wardrobe. . . . Lovely Lena (Horne), in the city and just sorta relaxing for awhile. . . . The Four Jills, terrific all-girl combo, doing a swelluva job out at the Florentine Gardens Sunday with their swing-mad rhythms.

SUDDEN THAWT: Why is it whenever you say your foot hurts, it's perfectly alright but when you say your feet hurt . . . it sounds so baaaaad." . . . Illinois Jacquet, that mighty, mighty man on the tenor sax, has been brought back to the city by popular demand and will appear at the ORO Ballroom, 79th and Central, this Friday night . . . that's tomorrow night. . . . Incidentally, the Oro Ballroom has been recently taken over by one of our own Masonic Lodges . . . and speaking of Ballrooms, we have really news for you about the ZENDA Ballroom at 7th and Figueroa and it isn't good either. . . . Ooodles of thanks to lovely Mae Myers of Swelldom's for doing a terrific job of M.Ceeing a portion of the Fashion Show out at the Gardens and Winifred Orr (whom we have never seen looking lovelier) doing the latter part. . . . J. C. Heard and his Trio appearing out at the "Captains Table." . . . And believe me when I tellya that's the playhouse of the Stars.

Roy Loggins . . . about the city's youngest and wealthiest D. J., when he isn't counting his money, his time is divided between handling his father's catering business and his weekly Disc Jockey show. . . . From all reports the annual Easter Egg Hunt with Mrs. Emily Portwig handling the affair at Val Verde was the usual success with our Reve having to miss because of our busy schedule. . . . The Flame still holding down things with all of the stay-up-laters flocking to the place. . . . Ishmal Evans raving over his terrific chicken dinners and why shouldn't they be terrific (the fella has about six poultry stores). . . . Ross Burdick with the Gene Howard office about the only publicist I know that I can really get along with . . . why-'cause the fella's no phony but genuine. . . . Harry Wiggins tells us "that a man who saves for a rainy day gets a lot of bad weather reports from his relatives." . . . Charlie Barnet (and not Stan Kenton, as we had last week) currently appearing at the Oasis with the Barnet aggregation still musically clicking. . . . However, don't be a bit surprised if Stan Kenton and his progressive jazz won't soon follow into the Oasis. . . . Joe and Bill booking them all, barring none. . . . Thats' one sure way finding just what you want. In closing, "by the time a man affords to lose a golf ball, he can't hit it that far" (right, Leonard?).

Dottie Dandridge Hollywd's New Glamour Queen

CHICAGO, Ill. — Hollywood's new glamour queen may very will be a charming, shapely Cleveland-born night club singer and dancer named Dorothy Dandridge, according to EBONY, Negro picture magazine.

Lovely Dorothy Dandridge will be seen this month in two movies, "Tarzan's Peril" and "The Harlem Globe-Trotters," and her acting in these two promoted veteran producer Sol Lesser to exclaim, "She is terrific. A beautiful girl, she just might steal the whole show from everybody else in the cast."

Miss Dandridge, now 28, made her first appearance before movie cameras when she was 14 in small bits. She sang with Jimmie Lunceford's band and has seen a great deal of the show world while traveling with her mother, veteran actress Ruby Dandridge, who is currently Oriole in the popular Beaulah radio show.

Vote For Your Favorite Hymn

Many of the city's civic, cultural and charitable clubs are being contacted to help spearhead the selection of the "Top Ten Hymns" which are enjoyed by all. Many deviations have been made in our church music, but the pillar is still the hymns of the church that gives us courage and faith to press on amidst the worldly strife.

The ballot boxes will be picked up April 8th and the judges will select the "Top Ten Hymns." Mrs. Mabel Massengil, who was recently reappointed to the Bureau of Music, will be chairman of the judges, who will be named in next week's paper.

The "Favorite Hymns Sing" will be at Good Shepherd Baptist Church, 510 W. 63rd street, Sunday, April 15th at 3:45 p.m., the Rev. Grant Morris, pastor. Many outstanding artists will appear on this program.

Church, West 25th Street at Magnolia, has called a council of all persons interested in the teaching program of the church for this Friday evening at 7 o'clock. M. E. Church, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 26 and 27.

Dr. Frederick D. Jordan, pastor of the church, is insisting that the Church School reach out into the community to bring religious instruction and character building activities to all the children not being surrently served. A and M Acquires Book Collection

TALLAHASSEE—One of the most prized holdings of the Florida A and M College library is its Negro collection. In an effort to secure for the library books which will broaden the acquaintance of students and the entire college clientele with the world's best literature on the Negro race, books "by and about" the Negro are included in this collection.

The library has recently acquired through a $1,000 purchase a carefully selected, comprehensive compliation of approximately 300 books "by and about" the Negro. This total collection carries an approximate evaluation of $2,000.

This collection of books including standard works, old "standbys," bibliographies and even novels combine to make the Negro Collection a most valuable, informative and reference source in our college library.

The college was graced with an exhibition of 15 paintings by Mr. Chester Everett and three of his pen and ink drawings on March 18 with 400 persons in attendance. Most visitors were as impressive with the subject matter as well as with the painter's interpretation and handling of said subject matter.

Christians Unrealistic, Says FSA Asst.

TALLAHASSEE—Anna Arnold Hedgeman, assistant to the administrator of the Federal Security Administration told a Florida A and M College audience last week that suddenly the world is coming whole and geography is where and how men are living. No longer is it just pages in a book.

This FSA staff member stated that this is no world in which we need people who sleep in the daytime. Said she, "The doors of the world are wide open for people who are ready, but getting ready is a tough assignment in this age in which glamour is overplayed."

In concluding her speech to more than two thousand students and faculty members Mrs. Hedgeman stated that she understood how the world is hungry for freedom because she shared that hunger. She suggested that this freedom will not come as long as more than 600,000,000 Christians are unrealistic about a prayer which petitions "Thy Kingdom come on earth." For her ours is a job of human relations on earth and not a "pie in the sky" affair.

HELPFULNESS

Don't you know it's the part of a Brother of Man to find what the grief is and help when you can?—James W. Foley.

They helped every one his neighbor; and every one said to his brother, Be of good courage. —Isaiah.

No matter how handicapped we are, we can always give something, if it is only a bright smile, or a kind word, or a helpful act.—Helen Keller.

If we know something good, let's tell it. Some day we may get the habit of telling only the things that are helpful rather than those that are hurtful.—J. Whitcomb Brougher.

Western Regional Churches

The regular Third Sunday Fellowship of Community and Independent Churches of the Western Regional is growing spiritually, morally and numerically. Rev. B. Albert Beauchamp, strongly supported by his wife, Mrs. Viola M. Beauchamp, the Senior and Junior choir, added another day of victory to their efforts on Sunday, March 18, at 511 S. Central Ave. Converting the building from a pool hall into a temple of worship, Rev. Beauchamp has sent out his lower lights across the waves, and his congregation is steadily growing. Drop in for a Sunday morning service or at the Sunday School hour. A warm welcome awaits you at all times.

The next meeting of the Women's Christian Fellowship will be held at the home of the president, Rev. Geraldine O'Conner, 1144 E. 20th St., Wednesday, April 11, 2 p.m. sharp. Please report all gleaners at this meeting. The Capernaum Community Church, Rev. Ono B. Russell, pastor, will hold a fashion revue-hair style and children in school togs of all ages. Men and ladies, girls and boys will be a pleasing sight on Sunday, April 1, at the Masonic Hall, 7918 S. Central Ave. A donation of 50c at the door.

Christian Science Topic

The all pervading, changeless nature of God is shown in the Sunday Bible Lesson on "Reality" in all Christian Science churches.

The Golden Text is from James (1:17): "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning."

Bible citations include these verses from the Psalms: "O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches." "How excellent is thy lovingkindness, O God! therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings. They shall be abundantly satisfied with the fatness of thy house; and thou shalt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures. For with thee is the fountain of life: in thy light shall we see light" (104:24, 36:7-9).

"All reality is in God and His creation, harmonious and eternal," declares Mary Baker Eddy in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." Again she says, "Everything in God's universe expresses Him." (pgs. 472, 331).

Easter At Bowen

A beautiful Easter day was heralded at Bowen Memorial Methodist Church beginning at 5:30 a.m. by congregational singing and followed with the Senior Choir presnting the "Seven Last Words of Christ" by Dubois.

The choir was ably assisted by the following artists from Bowen and Wesley Churches: Soloists: soprano, Jean Keele; contralto, Bernice Johnson; tenor, Charles Williams, Touissant Jennings and James Grey; baritone, Oscar Plant; director, Nell Dobson Plant; pianist, Erma Tressville; organist, Ray Spignt; and narrator, Rev. L. E. Jordan. You are cordially invited to attend all services at our friendly church. John C. Bain, minister, East 36th and Trinity.

Final Rites for Rhuben A. Thomas

Funeral services for Rhuben Allen Thomas, 951 East 52nd Place, were held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, March 24, from Angelus Funeral Home.

Mr. Thomas was a native of Mount Pleasant, Texas, where he lived for many years and served well his community. He also served in the armed forces during World War I, until he was honorably discharged.

In his late twenties he came to Los Angeles where he met and married the former Lauretta Cook, member of a pioneer family of this city. They spent many colorful and happy years together, until his departure. He was an active member of the First A. M. E. Zion Church of this city, and a faithful employe of the Broadway Dept. Store.

At the age of 57 years, on March 19, after five months of severe illness, Rruben Thomas departed this life.

He is survived by his wife, Lauretta; one daughter, Mrs. Lorine Doss; six grandchildren; one great grandchild of Mt. Pleasant, Texas; one sister, Mrs. Ophelia Harris, Mt. Pleasant-Texas; three brothers, Jeff Thomas, Mt. Pleasant, Texas; and Wheeler Thomas and Sam Thomas, both of this city; and a host of other relatives and friends.

The Rev. S. H. Marion officiated at the services. Interment was made at Evergreen cemetery.

Gospel Singer, Price Chapel

Mrs. Emily Bran, well known gospel singer of the Church of God in Christ, will sing at Price Chapel A. M. E. Church, Vernon and Crocker Sts., April 1, at 8 p.m. The program is being sponsored by the Rev. Anita L. Edmonds, evangelist of this church. Rev. Edmonds has just returned home from an evangelistic tour of the East and Middle West.

Everyone is invited. Come early for a seat.

Baha'i World Faith

"Baha'u'llah: He comes to the Nations" is the subject on which Mr. John B. Keith will deliver his lecture at the public meeting of the Baha'i World Faith, to be held at Los Angeles headquarters, 331 So. New Hampshire Ave. Sunday afternoon April 1, at 3:30 p.m.

Mr. Keith says "Baha'u'llah assures us this is the Promised Day, the millenium, the day of God anticipated by people through all ages, the day promised in all the holy books."

Holy Communion For Neighborhood, Sunday

Holy Communion this Sunday and each first Sunday morning at Neighborhood Community Church, 47th Place and San Pedro Streets. Those who truly and earnestly desire to learn of the Savior, who wish to cooperate in the study and practice of His religion are invited to participate. Special music by the choir. The sermon will be brought by the pastor, Rev. H. Mansfield Collins.

Easter Sunday at neighborhood was colorful—the sanctuary was filled to capacity by worshipers who came to hear again the story of Jesus and the Resurrection. The choir was presented by the Rev. Gamaliel Mansfield Collins, Minister of Music, with appropriate music for the occasion, with Miss Juanita L. Blake at the organ; Miss Sarah E. Collins at the piano and an orchestra consisting of the violin, played by Walter Hansberry; 5 saxophonists, Carolton Waids, Donald Lucas, Wallace Boveland, Roy Clark and Paul Howard.

Mrs. Ethel Johnson of Monrovia, Calif. is resting for a few days at her cottage in Val Verde.

Swimming Program At 28th St. "Y"

Swimming at 28th Street Branch YMCA dates its annual calendar from the "Learn to Swim Campaign" conducted each year during spring vacation as a free service to public school youngsters.

Last Saturday afternoon ended this year's series of free lessons in the "Y" pool and was the occasion of a demonstration to parents of what the boys had learned about swimming and water safety during the week. Many of the youngsters who won the degree of "minnow" Saturday will keep coming to the pool and become prefficient swimmers.

This activity in the pool at the YMCA also marks the beginning of the spring revival of the aquatic program at the "Y." Already a mixed group from Carver Junior High School are coming in on Thursday afternoons under the leadership of Mrs. Corrine Ashby. Similar groups are forming in other schools. Altho the adult program has lost its popular supervisor, "Chuck" now Captain Charles E. Jones, U.S.A., his work is being carried on by other competent leadership.

TU Students Visit Ky. State

A group of forty-one students of Temple University, Philadelphia, visited the campus of Kentucky State College for one week March 18-23. The party, composed of young men and women of the department of Secondary Education of the University under the direction of Dr. Joseph S. Buttedweek, made its first visit south in many years. The young folk wanted to observe and study education practices in Kentucky as they affect both racial groups.

This is the time of the year that Hollywood sprains its collective arm in an orgy of self-adulation as a cover-up for the consistently poor product it turns out.

In keeping with the fashion I am herewith presenting my list of awards, based on current, recent and past performances by movie folk before the infamous Un-American Committee.

To each I award a Red Badge of Courage:

Best dialogue: Dore Schary.

(His double-talk was superb: offering to defend any man's politics, then voting for the blacklist of the Hollywood 10; accepting awards for "Crossfire," and not lifting a finger to prevent the jailing of Adrian Scott and Edward Dmytrick, its writer and director.)

Best fiction-writing: Emmett Lavery.

(After explaining to the Intellectual Inquisition—Un-American Committee—that the secrecy of trade union membership and political affiliation was not sacred, he had a sufficiently clear conscious to make a saint out of the anti-Semitic black-marketeer, Mindszenty, in "Guilty of Treason.")

Best make-up: Jose Ferrer.

(He allowed his nose—the longest in the industry—to be thoroughly rubbed in IT by the committee.)

Best stunt man: Eric Johnson.

(He stood up to the committee on his knees.)

Best animal act: Eric Johnson.

(He wane in like a lion and came out like a lamb.)

Best athletic performance: Eric Johnson.

(Shadow-boxing.)

Best instrumentation: Hazel Scott.

(Pianissimo.)

Best character parts: Edward G. Robinson and John Garfield (tie).

(Any toughness on the part of either of them is limited to their make-believe activities on the silver screen.)

Best imitation: Larry Parks.

(He went his imitation of Al Jolson one better . . . he got down on both knees.)

P.S.: My personal thanks and admiration to the Hollywood 10, Gale Sondergaard and Howard da Silva for their true artistry and courageous citizenship.

The Oscar award for the best supporting role will undoubtedly go to the producer with the most relatives on the payroll.

PEN PALS CORNER

By BARBARA ANDERZA

Guest Columnist: Leodious Morney.

Hello! all you nice people, what's happening? I suppose we've all regained our normalness after the grand Easter vacation. The persons spotlighting the news this week is none other than Leodious Morney (I'm unattched too). . . . And speaking of un-attached young ladies, I hear that Audrey Springs takes all the men from St. Odilia's CYO to walk her home. I presume she making up her mind. Oh! You lucky boys. . . . Notice to all available boys and to those who will be soon. I have two lovely little ladies who would like to know about you. They are the Belles of Los Angeles, they're C.G.H. students, they are attractive, and they are Mammie Pitts and Greta Green.

Allow me to remind you of the talked about Barn Dance which will be held at St. Odilia's Hall. We wil leven be honored with the presence of Aunt Fannie (Mouton), a nationally known figure (and what a figure) of society. . . . I hope to see you there! Attention . . . Reynolds loves Barbara!!! Notice to Cathedral Yads, who has won the bet between Elmer Matt and Harry Stanberry? . . . Our track star, Julian Smith seems to be doing a good job on the field (both of them) . . . $64 question: What's happening Rose Hartis-field, and Clearance Calloway??

. . . Stop, Look and Read. Nadine Augustine works!! Camile Billops is making her debute to society soon . . . Wonder why former eastside boys are in danger of death when they speak. Namely Floyd Smith . . . Some individuals caught looking smooth on Easter were: Elmer Matt in beau--ti--ful gray suit, Greta Green in her forever veiled hat and sweet blue suit, Mammie Pitts struggling with her cool white heels, Nadine Augustine in her navy blue duster, Charles Macon in his Navy outfit and I must not forget Conty's Aristocrats, dressed to kill and snotty as ever . . . Coranne Mobley in her cute mustard colored dress . . . and all the other lovies I didn't mention.

Epitaph of the Week

When you make a fool out of a man
There is always some one to make a
Man out of your fool!!

You're going to be surprised when you hear this, didn't know it did ya, Lorraine Mouton and Eugent Crowford coupled up and went to the Elk's Easter Sunday. Of course you know who should have been there with Lorraine instead of Eugene. Because I'm so pure of heart and possess so very much modesty I hestitate to mention the name but I'll mention it anyway, Elmer Matt.

St. Odelia's CYO agng went to the beach Monday. The only reason Donald went was because another of his relatives died. By the way Don who wrote the note A. S. or L. M.??

Barbara Anderza really must be in love and head over heels that is and wit Reynolds because she, having been dared to jump off the dock by him, she did so without hestitation. Keep daring her that way and you will wind up being a bachelor.

Leodious Morney (that's me) claims that she is now unattached. She ain't fooling no one but herself. Ha!! She knows that Georgie Boy Hamlet is still plucking at her heart strings . . . Sporting her fine brofn frame in those daring brief shorts, was Miss Opal Wright.

Miss Greta Green was really riding on the clouds. I 'spose you know why, 'natch, Leroy Williams, her heart, went to the beach with her Monday . . . Harold Burbank is definately and positively in love with Miss P. . . . of Santa Monica.

Betty Aubury is flittering around Conaty as stary eyed as ever. Her love, Frank Pitts ain't come home yet. (Note King's English).

Caught a glimpse of Herbert LeMelle resting that handsome little head of his on Leah Jane's lap at Long Beach Monday. Ain't saying what was going on. So because of the circumstances I've decided to call them The Lover Couple of the week.

LOVER MAN

This weeks lover man should have been last weeks, is Albert Jernigan. Think that's his name. He's about five feet eight inches tall, has daring, bold personality. Nevertheless pleasant. Is a light brown, has those dreamy brown eyes and his ambitions are: GIRLS!! GIRLS!! GIRLS!!

Fisk Athletes Cited At Banquet

Eleven seniors were among the forty-five Fisk University athletes to receive awards at the annual athletic banquet held at the school last week.

Dr. H. H. Walker, President of the National Medical Association delivered the main address. Dr. Walker said, "Success in life comes from serving humanity for the sake of serving. More gain is finally realized from the gift of service than from it's sale. For this reason it is important that a life's work be a work of love.

The success of the Fisk athletic squads this year was due in part to their love for Fisk . . . and in part, of course, to a willingness to follow the leadership of an excellent coaching staff."

Jeff Coach Honored In Magazine Story

One of Jefferson's most popular coaches, Brice U. Taylor, is featured prominently in the April issue of Negro Digest in the Do You Remember? section of the magazine. The Digest pays tribute to the first All American footballer from USC, and the only Negro to crack the USC sports circle. Brice played 'way back in 24 and 25 and was a terror to behold. The big guy did what no other Trojan has been able to do since—play 10 sixty minute ball games in one season.

Taylor was a flash in the Coliseum in track in '24. He was a member of the 440 relay team that established the 42 sec. flat world record that year.

The Digest pointed out the educational record of Taylor which includes some stints as athletic director and college prexy. Taylor is now teaching corrective physical education at Jefferson and has already produced several city champions in posture. One of Taylor's biggest extra-curricular activities is as sponsor of the very popular sports night program each Friday night at Jefferson.

Bill Garrett Joins Trotters

CHICAGO—Bill Garrett, dazzling all-Big Ten center from the University of Indiana, has been named to the brilliant College All-American squad that will battle the famous Harlem Globetrotters in the second annual World Series of Basketball.

The series gets under way next Sunday night in Madison Square Garden and will be concluded in Boston on April 19. The two teams will have journeyed all the way across the country, paying 18 games in 19 night, before the series ends.

The selection of Garrett assures the college quintet of a center who can do everything skillfully. He is a good shooter, fine guard and excellent teamman.

Garrett is the first Negro cager to ever make all-Big Ten selection and is the highest scorer in Indiana history. His veteran coach, Branch McCracken, calls him "the cleverest man ever to play the pivot position in all college basketball."

Garrett stands 6 feet 2½ inches. He scored 792 points in 66 games for Indiana, a point total never before reached by a Hoosier. His record of 462 points in Big Ten competition is likewise an all-time Indiana mark.

He will be the lone Negro player on the All-American squad. Coach Abe Saperstein of the Globetrotters says he will also be one of the players his team must stop if it expects to win the World Series. He added: "Garrett has been scouted since the middle of the college season by my representatives and they tell me he is the best pivot-man they have seen since Charley Cooper played with the Duquesne Dukes. I'd be foolish if I'd say we don't fear him."

Both the All-Americans and Globetrotters are primed this week for the spectacular series. Besides Garrett, the collegians will have Ray Ragelis, Northwestern star and top scorer in the Big Ten; Jim Slaughter of South Carolina; Abe Becker, captain of New York University; and Zeke Sinicola, great Niagara University guard. Five others from ranking colleges were added to the All-American squad Sunday.

Clair Bee of Long Island University and Ray Meyer, famous coach of De Paul University, Chicago, will coach the All-Americans. A year ago the same two mentors directed the collegians on the initial cross-country tour against the Trotters.

The Globetrotters won the series, 11 games to 7. The 18 games attracted a total of 181,364 customers. Played to 13 S.R.O. crowds and set local basketball attendance records in six cities.

ELAJC Athletics

Carmen Sferrazza in the rings, Leonard Burke the free-X man and Joe Burke the rope-climber hope to lead the East Los Angeles Junior College Huskies to an upset victory in the National Junior gymnastics meet to be held in the L.A.C.C. gym Friday, March 30, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Los Angeles City College, host team and defending titlists, will enter the meet strongly favored to repeat last year's performance. Last year's meet was held in the Huskie gym and found the hosts taking second place.

Undefeated in Metropolitan conference play, the ELAJC tennis squad will take on the highly touted Long Beach Vikings on Friday, on the Montebello city park courts at 2 p.m.

Leading the Huskie pack will be Hal Roach and Dek Dekkert at first and second singles and first doubles.

George Goodall, Joe Stein, Don Tallman, John Garletti, and Bob Langworthy are the Huskies' other singles entrants.

Stein and Tallman will play second doubles and Ken Cornell and Danny Hall round out the net squad at the third doubles post.

The ELAJC tracksters will take part in a double dual trackfest with the powerful Long Beach City College and Harbor Junior College cindermen on the Long Beach oval March 30.

The Huskies, fresh from impressive showings in the recent Santa Barbara relays and their own East L. A. relays, are slightly favored to beat both teams.

This will be the Huskies' first dual meet of the season.

Coach Ching Duhm's victory-hungry nine will play host to the Long Beach City College Vikings on the South Gate Park diamond Friday, March 30, in a Metropolitan conference game.

Rocco Sarni, voted the outstanding East L. A. player in the recent Azusa tournament for his stellar performance against Riverside, is expected to be one of the top Huskie batters. Letterman John Burd or Lefty Hank Aguirre will be on the mound.

In Friday's contest the East L. A. horsehiders will be going after their second league win in four starts.

ELAJC's twice-beaten-in-conference-play golf team will take on its third Metropolitan conference assignment against El Camino Thursday, March 29, on the Inglewood municipal golf course.

Leading the Huskies into battle will be John Pasek and George Goodall, winners in their last outing against the Long Beach Vikings. Hal Roach, Andy Andikan, Dek Dekkert, and Dick Barela are improving rapidly and will give the Huskies strength in the lower positions.

East L. A. dropped its first two outings, 33-3 against Santa Monica, and 24-12 against Long Beach.

Emory University Votes To Admit Negro Students

ATLANTA, Ga.—Students at Emory University's Chandler School of Theology voted recently, 234 to 12, favoring the admission of Negro students to the theological school. There were only seven "undecided" votes.

A poll taken by the school's student council listed votes from 254 of the 311 students enrolled. The student council said, in a joint statement following the vote:

"We think we are morally obligated to make the opportunity for equal education in religion available here. We are tired of giving first-class propaganda to Communism by continuing our failure to practice what we preach."

The idea for the poll came from the university's refusal last summer to admit a well qualified Negro applicant to the school of theology.

A council member observed that, "Of the four largest theology schools in The Methodist Church, Emory is the only one which does not admit Negroes." The other three are, Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Illinois; Boston University, and Southern Methodist University (Perkins School of Theology) at Dallas, Texas.

Lauds Negro College Fund

Thousands of young Americans are getting a better chance at a brighter future, thanks to the United Negro College Fund, whose activities in support of higher educational facilities for Negroes in the South are praised in Seventeen Magazine's April issue.

"These institutions operate against tremendous odds," notes author Marge Simmons. "Except for a few special projects, most of them receive no State or Federal support. . . . One out of eight white persons in the United States has some college education as compared to one out of thirty-three Negroes.

The feature concludes with a plea to Seventeen's two and a half million readers to aid this worthy organization.

Fight for Rights In South Africa

CAPE TOWN—The demonstration of the non-European population to protect against the Malan government's bill to deprive the Coloured of their present limited electoral rights was the greatest ever seen in Cape Town's history.

Over 25,000 people of all races passed through the streets of South Africa's capital. With perfect discipline, the mileslong procession passed through lanes of armed police while the bill was being debated in parliament. Under this bill, Coloured voters who, as distinct from African people have had limited voting rights for the past 100 years, will be on separate electoral lists and only allowed to elect four representatives who will have to be whites.

The demonstrators reject all these provisions, and are demanding full voting rights for all citizens of South Africa.

The campaign against the bill has brought together for the first time all non-European sections of the population.

A resolution passed at the demonstration pledged continued struggle for full democratic rights.

In the Pan-American Olympic Games held at Buenos Aires, Argentina this year she tied for first place in the high jump. In the International Meet held in Santiago, Chile March 17 and 18, she again tied for first place in the high jump.

Twenty-year-old Nell Jackson who was reared near the Tuskegee Institute campus, has developed into one of the world's best girl sprinters at 200 meters. In the Pan-American Olympic Games in Buenos Aires, Argentina, she was second to Jean Patton in the 200-meter run in a very close finish.

Dr. J. D. Gordon, Noted Pioneer, Died Tuesday

As was his wont over a long term of years, Dr. John D. Gordon each Sunday morning donned his long black coat, ministerial hat, and wended his way along East 41st street to Central Avenue and then to the Tabernacle Baptist Church at 12th and Hemlock, which he founded.

But Dr. J. D. Gordon's citizenship and labors as a California pioneer started long before this.

More than fifty years ago the Gordons, consisting of a large family migrated from Georgia to California and became the early settlers of Riverside, a city they helped to build. The Gordon brothers held many positions in civic, church, and fraternal or-

Henry Tarvor, Eastside RR Man, Awarded $10,000 from ATSRR

The name of Dr. Peter Lindstrom, famous brain specialist of Beverly Hills and former husband of Ingrid Bergman, screen star, figured heavily in an east side accident case when Henry Tarver, 1334½ East 43rd Place, was granted a $10,000 settlement for injuries while employed by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad.

Tarvor, 60-year-old laborer, was employed as water carrier for extra gang 101 of the Santa Fe. He had worked for 7 years, carrying water for the track layers. On August 9, 1950, while working on the road bed between Ludo and Summit, near San Bernardino, Tarvor was hit by a west bound express while getting water out of a barrel near the services of Dr. Peter Lindstrom. Pursuant with this action, Tarvor was sent to the Cedars of tracks. He suffered a skull fracture. He was operated on at the

Whitney, who was the first Negro to gain the rank of detective sergeant in the Los Angeles County Sheriff's office, died Friday night, March 30, following an illness of two months and a recent confinement in the Good Samaritan Hospital of 10 days. The young detective underwent a kidney operation two months ago and was thought

NAACP Pledges Fair Trial for L. J. Walker, Charged with Murder

A "fair and complete" trial for Sgt. Lawrence J. Walker, 20-year-old Negro soldier charged with the murder of Richard and Doris Cook on March 26, was pledged by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People at its Los Angeles offices yesterday.

"Walker is innocent of the charge," NAACP Regional Director Franklin H. Williams told reporters, "and now that NAACP has undertaken to provide legal assistance for him, his defense will be carried through to its conclusion."

Attorneys Everette M. Porter and Loren Miller of Los Angeles NAACP will be associated in the defense with Attorneys Crispus Wright and Leo Branton, who are retained by Walker's mother, Mrs. Lillian Anque of Newark, N. J.

Mrs. Onque told reporters that she was going to stay at her son's side until the trial is over.

Witness to Police Killing Is Charged With Murder

Nathaniel Ray, resident of San Pedro held in jail here since January when police arrested him and his riding companion during an argument over a traffic citation, has been charged with murder since his compaion Sam Jones died of a beating resulting with the altercation with the two police officers.

Atty. Earl C. Broady, who has been retained to defend Ray against the strange charges alleged by the police, denied emphatically that his client had anything to do with circumstances which led to the death of his companion Sam Jones.

The dead man, a coroner's jury found, came to his death from beatings. The officers admitted they had difficulty in subdueing the dead man when he resisted their efforts to place him in their police car. Ray was taken along to jail by the officers who claimed he was an accomplice in aiding Jones to resist them.

A previous trial for the accused man, resulted in a mis-trial. The jury was top heavy for an acquittal. The new trial is set for April 27 in Division One.

AN APPEAL

Because of its militant struggle to secure equal rights for the Negro people and other minorities, The California Eagle has become a victim for attack by many local business concerns, newspapers, even newspapers owned and operated by Negroes, some ministers and professional folk.

The attacks are vividly portrayed in this analogy:

Once upon a time, there lived a shepherd named Sam, who owned the finest flock of sheep in all the land. It wasn't a big flock, but every sheep was a perfect specimen, with thick, soft fleece.

Sam carefully guarded his beautiful flock against every danger—the freezing winters, drought, floods, disease and the wolves that preyed upon and destroyed other flocks.

Came a day when several of his nephews came to Sam single and in groups and warned him of the increasing danger, they said, of the wolves.

They had heard, they told him, that the wolves were getting bigger and hungrier and that soon they would attack his flock.

His nephews' mounting hysteria began to worry Sam. He became more careful about locking up his flock at night: he counted every sheep several times a day.

One evening, just at dark, his nephews came screaming that the wolves were coming.

Sam herded his sheep into his one-room cabin and locked the door. The night was dark, but Sam thought he saw the shadows of wolves circling.

He shot at them, first from the north window and then the south. He fired to the east, ran across the room and fired out the west window.

Every hurried trip across the room, he stumbled over a sheep. In his frenzy, he opened the door and pushed it outside.

Sam went on fighting off the wolves—which he could not actually see, but which his nephews had convinced him were there. Back and forth across the room he ran,

Reynolds Held For Murder

Joseph Reynolds is being held in the University jail as a suspect for the murder of William Fuller, an employee of Jack's Pool Hall at Jefferson Blvd. and San Pedro Street.

The affair is supposed to have started with an argument between Reynolds and Fuller, when Fuller was left in charge of the hall. The telephone rang, and Reynolds attempted to answer it.

"What's the idea?" Fuller is said to have demanded.

Whereupon Reynolds, according to his story, hit Fuller with

Churches Urged to Join Fight for Willie McGee

Churches and civic organizations are urged by the Civil Rights Congress to combine their forces with organized labor in the fight to save Willie McGee's life.

McGee, since the Supreme Court refused to review his case, faces execution within 30 days for the alleged rape of a white woman. The history of the case and additional evidence brought out since the trials are conclusive proof that McGee was not guilty of the rape charge.

Mrs. Rosalie McGee, wife of the condemned man, placed the case before members of the Pan-American Conference in Washington this week.

Mrs. Robeson Defends Husband's Position

I have read the article, THE STRANGE CASE OF PAUL ROBESON, by Walter White in the February issue of EBONY and feel that I must answer it. I am fed up with these attacks on Paul. I think it's disgraceful that more of his fellow-citizens do not come to his defense.

Where are the millions of Americans who insisted that Paul Robeson was the Number One Negro, a leading American citizen? They boasted that Robeson was a bright and shining example and proof of what the Negro could achieve in our bright and shining democracy. Where are they now, and why do they not come to Robeson's defense? Were they so wrong about Robeson all these years, or were they so wrong about our bright and shining democracy?

I for one think they were wrong about our democracy, which works out not to be so democratic after all,—certainly not for millions of Negroes, Jews, Foreign-Born, and Women. I think they were right all along about Robeson, and Robeson hasn't changed. He has proceeded steadily, logically, along his brilliant way.

It is significant and revealing to note that the majority of the people who make these violent and virulent attacks on Robeson are in the group of professional Leaders, white and Negro,—especially those who make their careers and livelihood from "leading" the Negro People. It is even more significant, revealing and heartening to find that in spite of these storms of criticism regularly levelled at Robeson now-a-days, the average independent citizen,—Negro and white,—steadfastly supports him (at the risk of life and limb at Peekskill).

I've known Robeson for 32 years, and I may say I know him fairly well. I first knew him in Harlem when our crowd were students, or fresh out of college: Walter White and Gladys, Louis Wright and Corinne, the Granger boys, Philip Randolph and Chandler Owen, Fritz Pollard, Jimmy McClendon, Harry Bragg, Ellis Rivers, Lucien Brown and Spider, Bill Patterson and Minnie and her sister Sadie, Jimmie Powel, Earl Brown, May Chinn, Franklin Frazier, Hubert Delany, Miles Paige. We were all young and gay and broke together; we had our education, our ambitions, our plans, our dreams, our opportunities. So I may say I knew them all "when".

But it is possible, and probable, that I know Robeson better than some of these old friends who keep on "explaining" him; they have only seen him occasionally through the years and read about him in the press. I have been right there on the scene: they were busy with their own careers, many of them distinguished and successful; I was busy with Paul's career, also distinguished and successful; I was there day in, day out, through disappointment and success, under all kinds of different circumstances all over the world. So I think I know quite a lot about Robeson, and what makes him tick. Of course I can be wrong, but this is what I think:

First of all, for the record, let me clear up a few mis-leading impressions presented by Walter White in the article.

Paul Robeson is definitely not strange. Extraordinary, yes; big, yes: he is 6 feet 3 inches tall, weighs 250 pounds, has big shoulders, big hands, big smile, big voice, big mind, big personality, big courage; and his achievements,—athletic, scholastic, artistic and personal are also big and world-known. He's really quite a guy, but I've never found him strange.

He's very determined, always had a mind of his own, and always went stubborn when anyone, including me, told him what to do; you could ask him, maybe persuade him, but you couldn't tell him. When they told him he couldn't make the Rutgers football team, he made it, and the basketball, baseball and track teams. When they told him he couldn't do big concerts with a program of just folk music, he did them; of course he had expert, consistent, loyal help in this, in the person of Lawrence Brown. So perhaps it would be more accurate to say they did them. When they told him he couldn't play in a mixed cast in the New York theatre in ALL GOD'S CHILLUN GOT WINGS, he did it; he had expert and loyal help in this, too, in the Provincetown Players. When they told him he couldn't refuse to sing and play to segregated audiences in concert and theatre, he did it; and since then several other top-flight Negro artists have followed his example.

Robeson meets each challenge as it comes along, and lets the criticisms fall where they may. Sometimes he does things the hard way, and sometimes he makes mistakes; the important thing is that he doesn't side-step the challenge, but goes right in, swinging.

I believe Robeson has a general, over-all, long-range plan for his life: he wants to learn as much as possible about People, what is happening to them and why,—artistically, socially, economically tripping over his sheep, and each time throwing another outside so he would have more room to fight.

Finally, after falling headlong over a lone lamb standing frightened in the middle of the room, he opened the door and kicked his last sheep out.

Then he went back to his fighting—not realizing he had nothing left to fight for.

The nephews, meanwhile, had caught each sheep as it was thrown out; and when the last one was captured, they took them away, leaving Sam to fight the shadows of wolves.

Only the nephews, only those who profit from the hysteria, refuse to see the parallel between this fable and the United States today.

The things we cherish most, the rights and privileges that the founders and builders of this nation fought for and died for, are in danger—the nephews tell us.

We must defend them, the nephews shout in the newspapers and over the radio, against the shadows of the wolves.

And in our hysterical defense, we are throwing out the very things we are supposed to be defending.

And in our hysterical defense, like Sam, we are throwing away the very things we should defend.

Freedom of speech and association, the right of individuals to think for themselves, "equality and justice for all" are being kicked out the door.

As in every war fought for the greater glory and the greater profits of the nephews—(the big business interests) that dictate our foreign and domestic policies—working men and women are duped into throwing away the "democracy" for which they are told they are fighting.

Still, there are many people in the nation who believe that the things that make a country worth fighting for are worth keeping alive. Among this number is The California Eagle. These are the people who urge a peaceful settlement of the present Korean disaster, these are the people who protest increased taxes, skyrocketing prices, unlimited profits for big business and the wage freeze. They object to witch hunts, anti-labor laws, Jim Crow and loss of civil liberties.

Yes, I said this was an appeal. And I mean an appeal more to reason than to fair play.

The California Eagle has been on the fighting front for more than 70 years, 40 of which were under the present management. It has not only tried to build a better foundation for the Negro people, but for all the people in this district, in economic, social, and business fields. It has always encouraged bigger and better business in the community.

Even though I expect to step out of the management in the near future, I feel the Eagle, because of its contribution to these worthwhile things in this community, deserves the support of the people.

Some weeks ago a man by the name of Henry J. Kirksey said through the Eagle that he would assume management. This was a false alarm.

Now, however, on the eve of the 71st anniversary of its founding, it is really undertaking a new fight. It is not ashamed of its achievements, its efforts to build a better community, a better race, a better government, a better nation, a better world.

It hopes you will renew your faith in what has become an institution in this section of the country, in the struggle for Negro rights, for the rights of all people. I hope the public that is the people will continue to be the friends of The California Eagle—those who are still its friends—and those who have forsaken the ship for fear of criticism and wild hysteria, will return to fight again for those things that make for security, for freedom.

ministers, Mrs. McGee said:

"My husband was sentenced to death though no white man in Mississippi is ever sentenced to death for the crime of rape. This penalty is reserved for Negroes. . . . the courts are in the hands of white men who have condemned Negroes to an inferior position in American life . . .

"Please raise the question of my husband's life in your meetings. In your country there are millions of colored people. Were they to come here to my country they too could be the victim of Jim Crow justice as is my husband."

The Civil Rights Congress, which has led the fight for McGee's freedom for the last five years has appealed to all Americans to write President Truman urging him to help save McGee's life.

Released from the hospital, Tarvor retained the law firm of Thomas L. Berkeley and associates of Berkeley, California. In the process of preparation for the case, the law firm secured the Lebanon Hospital where an electro-envephalogram was taken to determine the extent of the brain injury.

At the company's request, Thomas L. Berkley, head of the firm came to Los Angeles to confer with F. H. Hitchcock, general claims agent for the southern division of Santa Fe, and A. M. Casgrove, head of the northern division at which time the settlement was affected.

Tarvor, while not employed at the present, has been released by the doctors and is certified for light work.

In expressing their gratitude for the quick settlement of the case, Mr. Tarvor told reporters that he and his wife were heavily in debt. Not only has Tarvor been unable to work for the past seven months but during that time Mrs. Tarvor also had to undergo a major operation.

The Tarvors, who came to California from Houston, Texas, are members of the Progressive Baptist Church.

Minister Victor in Paternity Suit

Rev. Edgar S. Johnson, pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist Church, was again victor last week in a paternity suit brought by Leroy A. Hill, Jr., a minor, when the State Supreme Court refused a petition to review the matter further.

Last January the District Court of Appeal handed down a decision clearing the well known minister of being the father of the child in an action filed through the child's mother, Mrs. Ruth V. Hill.

Rev. Johnson stoutly denied the charges and asserted, through his attorney, Walter L. Gordon, Jr., that he had never had any relations with Mrs. Hill.

Along with two entire floors full of hobbies, it will be exhibited at the third annual California Hobby Show March 30 through April 8 at Shrine Convention Hall.

Columbia Steel—First Target of FEP Fight

First attack to eliminate Jim Crow hiring in Los Angeles was launched last week by the Jobs Committee of the L. A. Negro Labor Council—and the target is Columbia Steel Co. in Torrance.

A three-pronged drive to secure jobs for Negroes at the giant steel plant was outlined, approved and action started.

1. The committee drafted a letter to the company, asking for details of its employment policies in regard to hiring Negroes.

2. Announcement of the opening of the fair employment campaign was sent to the CIO Steelworkers local having jurisdiction. Cooperation of the local in the campaign was asked.

3. A leaflet is being prepared for distribution to Columbia Steel workers. It will explain the purposes of the fair employment campaign, and will ask for unity and support in the fight for up-grading of Mexican-American workers and the hiring of Negro workers.

In addition to this direct attack, letters will be sent to all unions asking that they send unemployed members to apply at Columbia Steel for jobs.

The committee asks that reports of job interviews be sent it by any applicants who are turned down.

Preliminary work on campaigns at other plants having discriminatory hiring policies also got under way with letters to the managements concerned asking for descriptions of their hiring policies.

Thees letters went to Northrup Aviation, Lockheed Aviation, Nash Auto, Fisher Body and to Studebaker.

Similar letters are being written to Goodyear and Firestone Rubber and other plants near the Negro communities that do not hire Negro men and women.

Church and social group bulletins will be used to ask workers to report experiences in discrimination when applying for work. These reports will be tabulated and used as a base for future work of the Jobs Committee.

Officers of the committee, elected at this meeting, are Chairman Otto Broady and Secretary James Miles.

But the next morning the owner of the pool hall, Jack Ray, found the body of William Fuller in the basement. He immediately notified the police, and Reynolds was arrested on suspicion of murder.

A coronor's jury which met yesterday morning (Wednesday) recommended that Reynolds be held to answer the charges of murder preferred against him.

2. A Workshop for Peace, tentatively scheduled for late in May.

3. The Great American Peace Congress, to be held in Chicago, June 23.

Every worker interested in peace is invited.

entered the case at the request of Stanley Beverly, president of the Riverside Branch.

"The NAACP has agreed to assist in this case because the defendant is not in a position to finance his defense and because of the nation-wide implications involved in the charge," a formal statement issued by NAACP read.

"They are determined that Sgt. Walker's case will be tried in an atmosphere wrich will enable all of the facts to be presented to the court and jury.

"The Association is concerned with seeing that all of the defendant's rights are protected fully at every stage of the legal proceedings."

NAACP will not associate with the Civil Rights Congress, if it enters the case. Williams said, but added that the association "would not reject assistance from the American Civil Liberties Union."

Williams also stressed the importance of a fair and speedy trial of the charges because there are many other Negro soldiers around Riverside and there will be many more coming there."

Sgt. Walker's record during his four years in the army is spotless, his mother said, and was awarded the oGod Conduct Medal.

He completed his second year in high school, where he was active in basketball and baseball, before he enlisted in the army. He had been a Boy Scout and an assistant scout master. He belongs to the Presbyterian Church.

Even though the bullet found near Doris Cook's body is identified with the gun found in Walker's car, Williams said, the defense will be continued by the NAACP.

Preliminary hearing on the charges will be April 13. In the meanwhile, Sgt. Walker is being held in Riverside jail.

Mrs. Onque is staying with Mrs. Marion Scott, mother of one of Walker's friends, at 2843 13th St., Riverside.

well on the road to recovery when a turn for the worse occurred two weeks ago.

Whitney, who came to California in 1938, assumed the duties of a detective sergeant in February 1949. Previously he had been a senior deputy in the department. Several outstanding honors had come his way while a member of the sheriff's office. Detective Whitney along with R. Earl Boyd became a member of the first Negro team assigned to a radio controlled car and operated out of the Firestone Station. He had served as desk sergeant and his services with the department were so highly recommended that he was selected as a member of a group assigned to take a special 12-week course in criminology at USC. He ranked as one of the honor men of his class.

Intrested in ahletics, Whitney was a backfield man at Lincoln University (Mo.) where he also participated in basketball. Further school included some work at Butler University in his home town of Indianapolis and classes from the Extension Division of the University of Indiana. Before coming to California Whitney worked as a newspaper man in Indianapolis. A job as field representative at Golden State Mutual Life Insurance company was the first that Whitney held after arriving in the state. He was employed there from 1938 until February 1941.

The detective was active in civic circles having served as president of the Willowbrook Chapter of the Boys Club of America; he was a member of the Avalon Christian Church, the Men's Bible class at Avalon; the NAACP, and a member of the Speakers' Bureau of the sheriff's department. An amateur actor, Whitney appeared as lawyer in the nationally publicized play "Trial by Fire."

Whitney was one of the six children of Alonzo and Mattie Whitney of Indianapolis. A brother, Robert Earl, is the only surviving member of that family. Other survivors of the detective include the wife, Marian, a Golden State Mutual employe, and an aunt, Miss Ora Porter, of Bowling Green, Ky., who arrived Tuesday morning for the last rites.

Wm. Patterson, Noted Negro Leader, Goes On Trial for Contempt, Defending His Right to Freedom of Speech

William L. Patterson, national executive secretary of the Civil Rights Congress and the first Negro in U. S. history to be cited for contempt of Congress, went on trial on that charge yesterday in the District Court in Washington.

In an exclusive story to the California Eagle, Patterson describes the situation in which he finds himself as he faces an unfriendly judge, Justice Alexander Holtzoff, in an atmosphere of national hysteria.

Patterson's special to the California Eagle follows:

My trial for contempt of Congress will have begun before this letter reaches you. I am facing Justice Alexander Holtzoff in the District Court in Washington, D. C., beginning April 4.

For a period of many years, Holtzoff, while one of the assistants on the staff of the Attorney General of the United States, has consistently, persistently and systematically attacked the International Labor Defense and all other militant and progressive organizations with which I was associated.

During that period, Holtzoff worked directly with J. Edgar Hoover, of the FBI, and reflected in most of his remarks about the progressive militants, the same hatred and contempt which characterizes the attitude of the FBI.

This, it seems to me, makes it impossible for me to view this coming trial as something in which due process of law will prevail. But even were a justice other than Holtzoff presiding, I would see that for me there would be no fair trial.

I have consistently argued that terrorism and segregation is a policy of government—and I will document this in the process of the trial. I have consistently argued that terror, legal and extra-legal, is the weapon with which city, state and federal governments enforce this policy against the Negro people.

It will therefore be inconsistent with this position and utterly inconceivable to me that I am to be granted my human or constitutional rights in this court.

There is, of course, a third point. It is for me to tell the government why attempt to fill the jury box with men and women who, if they do not return the verdict desired by it, will be subject to the penalties of the President's Loyalty Order—that whip by which recalcitrants and militants are kept in line or victimized by this government of ours.

There is, however, another point which I should like to bring to your attention.

We have before us the record as presented by the stenographers who sat at the hearing where Henderson Lovelace Latham referred to me as a "[illegible]-[illegible]-back s.o.b." This has been expunged from the record—as have many other of the sharp passages which took place between committee members and myself. Of course the press of the world took notice of that event and it was printed [illegible] News-[illegible] was the [illegible] Worker [illegible] Tribune [illegible]

Before [illegible] I am calling to your attention before the trial begins is that the record is a phony one doctored by one branch of government in order that another branch may better carry through the conspiracy to remove a militant Negro from the scene of struggle.

It is my feeling that some of these facts should be brought before the American people at [illegible] possible moment, and I am hoping that they will [illegible] press and its edi-[illegible] sent out by [illegible] press and radio stations [illegible] see that they receive [illegible] wish dispatch.

[illegible] that I say that I shall [illegible] violation of the second section of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States before the American people in such a way as to make of it a weapon for the Negro people and democracy-loving Americans in the fight to make the Constitution a shield for those who respect human dignity and are ready to grant constitutional liberties to all impartially.

WILLIAM L. PATTERSON,
National Executive Secretary,
Civil Rights Congress.

Chance for GI's Freedom Seen

After an air of apprehension has hovered ever since for a week, ever since Air Force Sgt. Lawrence Walker was arrested on suspicion of having murdered an 18-year old married couple, Richard and Doris Cook, there arose a faint ray of hope at press time that he might not be the murderer.

This was that the Federal Bureau of Investigation has been studying certain articles of clothing belong to the 20-year old Air Force Sergeant, the bullets extracted from the victims, failure of their tests to postively identify Walker as the slayer may focus attention on a new suspect. One who has been suggested freely by some of the many colored citizens who have had the murder mystery as their principal topic conversation has been the young white man, who first reported the tragedy, after reportedly having found one of the victims.

The body of Cook was found on a lonely road, near the family car, and the couple's 7-month old baby playing in the roadside nearby. Walker was arrested in his barracks at March Field within a few hours afterwards, upon the description of a motorist who identified him as having been seen near the Walker's car just a half hour before he reported finding the body of the young husband.

The mystery of the missing wife was cleared 24 hours later when her body was found near the Negro-owned mountain resort of Val Verde. She had been shot to death also apparently by the killer of her husband who had apparently kidnapped her, or shot her before tossing her out of the car. A trail showed she had crawled some 200 yards into an abandoned rock quarry before she succumbed.

Faced with broken bumper bolts that matched those on his car, Walker admitted having had a side-swipe accident with the Cook car but claimed that he had merely driven on, and denied the slaying. After several days questioning without shaking Walker's alibi that he had touched at the Air Base, he was indicted by the Riverside County Grand Jury on two counts of murder.

In hurried action over last week-end, Dr. E. I. Robinson, president of the NAACP local branch, dispatched Atty., Everett M. Porter, chief of the organization's legal staff to Riverside.

Another last-minute development was that according to reports coming from the inquest, and the sheriff's investigation, is that the copper jacketed bullets known to have killed the Cook couple do not fit Walker's 45 calibre gun, which was found after the slaying.

Meanwhile fair-minded citizens, while hoping that the young army man did not commit the undeniable terrible crime, are asking only an impartial investigation, and handling of the case. They hope for the sake of the stigma such things cast, that he is innocent, but if guilty, declare that he should be punished according to the law. His fiancee, and other girl friends are remaining staunchly firm in believing his denials, and his mother flew here from her home in New Jersey.

'IS IT A CRIME— TO TALK AND THINK?'

"Is it a crime—to talk and think?"

That will be the headline of a full-page advertisement to be published in the Washington (D. C.) Post in the near future. Signers of the advertisement, which contrasts the constitution of the U. S. with the Smith Act and urges its repeal, number scores from California.

Educators, professional people and business men have joined with attorneys, doctors, clergy and labor leaders to sign the advertisement.

"To speak your mind out, to talk as you please, to think what you wish has been the hard-fought tradition of our people and our nation since 1776," the advertisement reads in part.

"Whenever the right to belief or opinion is forbidden to any person or any group—by government edict or even by law—danger threatens not only the rights of you and all the people, but it erases democratic self-government itself.

"The Smith Act of 1941 is such a danger. It makes it a crime for you to think and speak your mind out . . ."

Language of the advertisement points out that while it is not to be construed as a defense of any particular political doctrine, the sponsors are aware of the danger of persecution and conviction of men for their thoughts.

The Smith Act, the ad points out, destroys the rights of free speech, free press and the right to peacefully assemble which are guaranteed in the First Amendment.

It quotes Abraham Lincoln—"This country with its institutions belongs to the people who inhabit it. Whenever they shall grow weary of the existing government, they can exercise their constitutional right of amending it, or their revolutionary right to dismember or overthrow it . . ."

If Lincoln were to say that today, the advertisement says, he could be prosecuted and convicted.

"We urge you and your neighbors to raise your voices to the end that the Smith Act be repealed and the Bill of Rights maintained," the message ends.

Aircraft Corp Will Not Lease Fair Grounds

Los Angeles County Fair will be held as scheduled this fall in its big exposition park in Pomona.

This statement by President-Manager C. B. (Jack) Afflerbaugh follows a previous report that representatives of a division of the Howard Hughes Aircraft Corporation were negotiating for a lease of the grounds and buildings to provide additional plant facilities. President Afflerbaugh said that all negotiations between the fair and the company had been dropped and that preparations for the annual event are now entering the intensive phase.

The 1951 fair will open Friday, September 14, and continue through Sunday, September 30. Last fall more than a million people passed through the turnstiles.

Initiatives

SACRAMENTO—As the State Legislature reconvened, Assemblyman Edward E. [illegible] 44th District, [illegible] Los Angeles, called upon its [illegible] without debate two initiative measures now pending before that body.

The first of these proposed new laws is the Old Age Assistance Initiative which would establish an improved state administered old age pension program for California. The second would abolish the cross filing law under which a candidate can file for a party nomination in a primary election without indicating his party affiliations.

United Negro College Fund Drive Begins

United Negro College Fund Officials announced that their 1951 Campaign got under way April 3, with a nation-wide "Kick-Off Day" in a drive to raise a million and a half dollars for the current year.

In its eighth annual appeal the fund continues to have the active support of such distinguished Americans as Winthrop D. Rockefeller, who is Chairman of the National Council; Thomas I. Parkinson, National Campaign Chairman and Winthrop W. Aldrich, National Treasurer.

From the Fund quota thirty-two Negro Colleges and Universities will receive ten percent of their operating expenses for the coming year. One campaign official estimated that the 26,000 students of the sharing colleges will influence a quarter of a million others they later serve as doctors, lawyers, teachers, social workers and other public services.

Drafting-Blueprint Reading for Adults

A Drafting and Blueprint Reading Class will open at the Roosevelt Evening School for Adults next Monday evening, March 26, according to Mr. R. R. Peterson, principal. This class will meet each Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. It is in response to the many requests that have been made recently at the school.

State Institution

SACRAMENTO—A new set of teachers' salary standards, providing incentives for taking advanced work in education, has been announced by the State Personnel Board of California. They apply to civil service teachers in State hospitals and correctional institutions.

The Board's action establishes starting pay, which is for a teacher without a bachelor's degree and with only emergency or special credentials, is $268 and the scale then ranges up to a high of $415.

The essential feature of the new system is that when any teacher completes six units of college-level courses approved by his department, he or she automatically advances into the next higher salary range.

The advance in salary on completion of six units of outside educational work compares with the requirement of twelve units in the California teaching system, in general. It was explained at a recent Personnel Board meeting that teachers in state civil service are on a year-round basis and, hence, find it more difficult to take additional academic work than public school teachers do. Teachers in such State positions, however, may take an educational leave of absence with pay once every three years.

The first opening to which the new scale applies is that of Youth Authority Teacher, a position for which applications must be filed by April 14, and for which the examination will be held May 5. The starting salary for this positon is $295 or $310 a month, depending on educational and vocational qualifications.

There is also an examination schedule June 2 for an Elementary Teacher at the California Vocational Institution for Men at Lancaster. This examination will be held in Southern California only.

NAACP Lawyer Takes Issue With Solon On 'Race' Reference

NEW YORK—A complaint by Guy R. Brewer, legislative chairman of the Jamaica branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, that an attorney for the Senate Crime Investigating Committee had said that a certain gambler under discussion "must be colored because his address was in a colored neighborhood" was acknowledged this week and read into the committee's record by Chairman Estes Kefavuer.

Mr. Brewer was also assured in a letter from Sen. Alexander Wiley, another member of the committee, that "I do not feel that there is any place in a Congressional session, or for that matter anywhere else, for references to race, creed or color."

IPP REPORTS Relief Bias

The Downtown Club of the Independent Progressive Party is calling attention to a case on relief which, it says, shows discrimination against members of a minority group.

The case is that of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Urquidez, Mexican descent, 1617 East 5th St. with seven children ranging in age from 13 months to 10 years. There was no food in the house, when late Friday night an eviction notice was served on them by the housing project, Pico Gardens.

Mr. Urquidez, who is 45, has been refused relief on the grounds that he is unwilling to work. He claims he is sick, and that he has a bad case of asthma. His last check was dated February 10, 1951. He received the notice then that he would receive no more. Mrs. Urquidez has been advised by the relief worker, to leave her husband, and told that then she would be taken back on relief. She refuses to do this. She knows he is ill, she says, and that he deserves help. The neighbors also declare he is ill.

The case has been called to the attention of Superior John Anson Ford and to Councilman Ed Roybal with the hope they may take some action to help the family.

Burns-Tenny Bills Defeat Uurged By Woman's Chairman

"A dinner dance will be held at the Hollywood Athletic Club, Sunday evening, April 8, 1951," announced Mrs. Gordon Rosenblum, Ways and Means chairman of the Womens Committee to defeat the Burns-Tenney Bills.

Mrs. Rosenblum continued, "This will be the largest affair the womens committee has planned to date. There have been many smaller affairs in the past few weeks and many future affairs such as cocktail parties, teas, art exhibits, etc. are being planned.

"The committee is growing by leaps and bounds but there is still much work to be accomplished. Letters from the women are being sent daily to the legislators to urge them to defeat Senate Bills 1665 and 1666. We feel certain that with more and more people joining in with us these un-American measures can be defeated.

"Reservations for the dinner dance are going very rapidly so that we are assured of a tremendous success."

Plan $5,000,000 Residential Community in SE Los Angeles

Plans for construction of a $5,000,000 residential community in Southeast Los Angeles weer revealed this week following the purchase of the 80-acre Central Avenue Airport by Biltmore Homes, Inc., one of the Southland's foremost community developers.

The airport will be converted into a community of 458 homes available to veterans of every race, creed or color.

The over-all announcement was made by Mark Taper, president of Biltmore Homes. The firm purchased the property from Everett G. "Slim" Kidwell, Frances L. Kidwell, Fred W. Cleland and Maule Walton Cleland. Earl Snyder was the realty broker on the transaction.

The Civil Aeronautics Board, meanwhile, has instructed the airport's officials to keep its runway open to planes until April 1. Immediately thereafter, it will be closed and construction on the new development will begin.

The property is bounded on the north by 133rd St., on the south by 138th St. and on the west by Central Ave. It is one of the last areas close to downtown Los Angeles that is available for residential deevlopment.

One of the largest single developments of its kind in the history of the West, the new community will have as its director of sales M. C. Davenport, widely known in Southeast Los Angeles as the sales director of Avalon Gardens and Compton Square in 1949 and 1950. The new homes will adjoin Compton Square. Davenport has established headquarters at 135th St. and Avalon Blvd.

Conversion of the airport into a community of homes is expected to remove one of the area's last remaining disadvantages as a residential sector.

The 458 homes will be built in 18 different elevations based on six different floor plans. Eighty per cent will have three bedrooms, each with 1100 square feet of floor area plus porches and garages. Twenty per cent will have two bedrooms, each 900 square feet in area plus porches and garages.

Two-bedroom homes will be priced from $9275, while three-bedroom homes will be priced from $10,425. Monthly payments for veterans will range from $50.61 for two-bedroom homes, including taxes, insurance, principal and interest. For three-bedroom homes, payments for veterans will start at $57.80, including taxes, insurance, principal and interest. Veterans will be eligible to buy with small down payments. Loans will carry 4 percent interest.

The homes will be of conventional construction, with two-car garages, hardwood floors raised two feet off the ground, and all the up-to-the-minute features associated with Biltmore Homes construction.

Quakers Warn That Race Key in World's Contest

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (Atlas)—At a joint session of their 270th annual meetings the Quaker bodies warned this week that the racial issue had become a pivotal one in the world-wide contest between democracy and communism, and urged that the United States, as an antidote for communism, seek to correct the impression of "white superiority and of imperialism."

The two yearly meetings of Philadelphia Friends recommended that this country divert some of its military defense funds to the Point Four program for economic aid to create good will, specially among the colored peoples of the world.

From Tenant to Owner

HELENA, Ark. — Charles Jackson, a former tenant, now owns a $50,000 a year cotton and dairy farm near here, which consists of 1,062 acres, and he also heads a Negro owned gin cooperative. The Jacksons moved near to Helena so that their children would have better schools to attend, and bought 240 acres that were wooded and swamp.

Little by little they cut off the timber and built drainage ditches, and began raising cotton. The county agriculture agent showed them how to increase their cotton and corn yields, and how to raise good forage and hay crops.

While only Negroes own membership in the co-operative cotton gin project, it gins cotton for both white and colored farmers in the area. Mr. Jackson is president of the co-op. 35 farmers own stock in it.

Wanted by Los Angeles Police

Young men between the ages of 21 and 31 can now apply for the position of policeman by going to the Civil Service Office, Room 5, Los Angeles City Hall, before the final date for filing, which is April 11.

The Los Angeles Police Department is again in the midst of a recruiting campaign to fill existing vacancies due to retirement sand military leaves. It is anticipated that manpower shortages will seriously affect maximum efficiency of the police department if unsettled world conditions cause further increase of the nation's armed services.

The position of policeman is open to all men between the ages of 21 and 31 who are high school graduates, and have the necessary qualifications. For more detailed information inquire at any police station or call Civil Service at MIchigan 5211.

THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE

Why Not Do Something About This?

A recent report shows that in the widely separated cities racial and national restrictions in housing are as prevalent now as they were before the 1948 Supreme Court decision, which held that restrictive covenants were unenforceable.

The findings of the survey are given in a new pamphlet "In These Ten Cities," prepared by Alexander L. Crosby for the New York State Committee on Discrimination in Housing, and the Public Affairs Committee, 22 E. 38th street, New York City. The 30-cent pamphlet, which is 32 pages long, is illustrated with photographs by Marion Palfi.

"Segregation is too often identified with the south," the foreword says. "Many northern cities enforce segregation more rigorously than the south does. The nation's largest ghettos, for example, are not in New Orleans or Atlanta, but in Chicago and New York."

In New York City, where the housing authority is credited with good interracial policy, the pamphlet reports progress. In contrast Chicago and Detroit are characterized as "powder kegs," where city administrations are keeping most Negroes and other minorities in the segregated areas, rather than opening up vacant land sites in outlying white areas. As a result, the pamphlet says, racial tensions are growing as housing congestion becomes greater.

In Chicago, "Negro housing is concentrated far more rigidly than in southern cities. In the past decade the Negro population has soared past 400,000, an increase of close to 45 per cent as against 6 per cent for whites. The new arrivals have been wedged into the old slums."

In Detroit, where the race question has been an acknowledged political issue since the race riots of several years ago, the Negro population, which has grown tremendously since the influx into defense industries during World War II, is concentrated in about eight districts. And though the need of Detroit Negroes is more acute, they have been allotted a smaller proportion of dwellings than in many southern cities.

In contrast to Chicago and Detroit, several cities were cited for their efforts to improve housing and to end segregation. Outstanding among these were Denver and Los Angeles.

In Denver a new city administration has consciously sought to improve the lot of the city's Mexican, Negro, Jewish and Japanese minorities. Some 4,000 low-rent, non-segregated dwellings are planned for relatively vacant sites where minorities have not previously lived. The city recreation department has established a policy of non-segregation without the riots that have occurred in other cities. The General Hospital, once notorious for discrimination, is reported as becoming a model of fair treatment.

Los Angeles is cited for the outstanding record of the city housing authority, which has quietly made all of its projects interracial without provoking any protests. Leases for low-rent housing specify that tenants who disturb the peace with intolerant activity will be evicted. In addition, there is less restriction in private housing.

Among other cities covered in the survey, Springfield, Ill., the home of Abraham Lincoln, did not fare so well. It was noted that the principal hotel does not rent rooms to Negroes, few restaurants will serve them, recreational facilities are restricted, and Negroes are barred from teaching positions.

In Phoenix, Ariz., where milder weather permits much of the Mexican minority to dwell in substandard housing that ranges from brick, adobe and frame construction to packing houses, a policy of strict segregation is maintained in public housing. That the walls of prejudice are crumbling somewhat, is indicated, however, in the building, within the past few years, of an interracial hospital where about 40 per cent of the student nurses are Negroes.

Other cities covered in the survey are Charlottesville, Va.; Sledge, Miss.; and Waterbury, Conn.

Throughout the pamphlet the fact is stressed that "urban redevelopment (the clearing and rebuilding of blighted areas) cannot be handled intelligently unless the principle of democratic housing is accepted. Central slums cannot be torn down until decent housing is provided elsewhere for their inhabitants, who are usually minority groups. In nearly every city the only vacant land suitable for relocating these families is outside the segregated districts. The first step in redevelopment is to recognize the right of minorities to live anywhere they choose."

The Washington Machine

Politically the Negro voter has come to the crossroads. If he does not do something definite—and soon—to clarify his position, and express his determination to stand by his guns for the rights guaranteed him in the Constitution, he will soon sink into oblivion.

A case in point where we need to fight, and fight hard, is that of the appointmentof Millard F. Caldwell, Jr., former governor of Florida, for the post of Federal Civil Defense Administrator.

The NAACP has taken up the cudgels in opposition to that appointment, and in testifying before a subcommittee of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington Bureau of the NAACP, made it very clear why former Governor Caldwell, of Florida, is not acceptable to the Negroes of America.

Mr. Mitchell pointed out these facts: that Caldwell is one of the "top officers" among "those who are leading a tremendous fight against human rights in the United States"; that he consistently refuses to address Negroes with common courtesy titles; that following the Supreme Court's decision outlawing the "white primary," he called upon white southerners to resist this decision; that as governor of Florida he failed to take effective steps against lynchers and to protect Negro citizens against unlawful arrest and abuse by police; and that on the basis of his record he could be expected to set up Jim Crow bomb shelters, if any such shelters were ever erected.

"Each time a man like Governor Caldwell is elevated to a position of national power in our country, we tell the world that we put out stamp of approval on those who do not intend to uphold the guarantees of freedom and equality in our Constitution," said Mr. Mitchell.

We, the people of America, and the Negro people especially, have put our stamp of approval by our quiet consent to many more indignities heaped upon us, through the law and the courts.

The McCarran Act, passed by Congress over the President's veto, is one of the most viicous laws ever adopted in this country. The bill slams the door of America in the face of the ordinary immigrant. It slams it particularly hard in the faces of those whose color is darker than the claimants to "white" superiority. There are quotas of only 100 or 110 per year from the countries inhabited by people of brown and yellow skins. Fifty per cent of the entire quota, however, is allotted to persons of white skin, who are educated, of birth, etc.

This bill would prevent the alien's coming in the first place, because of political views and associations, but also because of race and nationality. It would require the sacrifice of freedom of belief and conduct in order to secure citizenship.

We have defeated the fascists who sought to conquer the world by force. Congress must not adopt their methods in dealing with the American people.

But we, the American people, are the only ones who can prevent this catastrophe. And yet we are asleep at the switch! We do not seem to care what laws are adopted, who is elected to office, what machine rules in Washington, in Sacramento, or anywhere else.

If this country is to remain free, we American Negroes must see to it that only those officials are in office who believe in freedom and liberty for all.

ATTENTION UNCLE SAM!

RAPHAEL KONIGSBERG

A LEADER IN EDUCATION

The president of Yale University, A. Whitney Griswold, warns the people of America, in a recent article, that forcing the nation's youth into the armed forces instead of colleges may be playing into the hands of the Communists. Says this national leader in education:

"If the long-run objective of Communism is to destroy our free society at its source, the farther we go in stripping our colleges of students, dismissing their teachers and 'accelerating' their curricula, the nearer the Communists will have gotten to achieving their objective."

He then points out—in the very same article, apparently without noticing the contradiction—that while the United States is neglecting higher education, the Soviet Union is making use of education as a strategic asset, citing evidence that medical, scientific and technological institutes in the USSR are full and their enrollment increasing.

Presumably, the president is one of our country's biggest colleges is an educator—although that is no longer a safe assumption when generals and industrialists are pawned off as educators and/or university presidents. At least we may assume that he believes in education, that he believes education is essential to the maintenance of a sane and democratic society—though that's giving any college president all the benefit of the doubt these days. (See what a fine pass we've come to . . .!)

If, then, our assumption is correct, would it not be reasonable to think that he should want the youth of America educated for their own sakes and for the enrichment of their country?

But here we have the president of a leading university urging, in effect, that our youth should be educated, rather than militarized (turned into an army of killers) primarily for the sake of thwarting those clever Reds! If he isn't careful he's going to have the parents of our land thanking the Communists for insuring their children's education—and then will he be in trouble with our un-American committees!

It is difficult to restrain one's self at such perversion of intelligence and morality, such a betrayal of all that education and democracy stand for—particularly when the guilty person is one who should be giving constructive leadership in these troublous times. But hen, is a college president so different from generals, politicans, financiers and clerics?

Ambitious politicos urge that slums should be cleared out—not because Americans should have decent homes to live in, but because "Communism breeds there . . ."

Doctors and editors urge that we improve the health of America's young men—not because Americans should be healthy, but because too many of our youth (raised on the vaunted "standard of living" which is fast disappearing) have been found unfit for the military forces being formed "to contain world Communism."

Civic leaders and ministers implore that lynchings be stopped—not because they are a crime against humanity, not because all Americans should live in dignity and security, but because "Communists make propaganda of the persecution of our minorities . . .

We have reached the stage in this country where no influential person—or one who has a job to protect—dares to suggest any humane, decent or constructive measure without hysterically trying to prove that he is not a Red and that his proposal will "help stop those—Communists."

So the president of Yale seems to oppose forcing our youth into the armed forces—not because the purpose of such service is a key factor in the building of a fascist America, which would destroy all education (even as he knows it) . . . but because, according to him, it is the Communists, not the financial giants and the generals, whose "long-run objective . . . is to destroy our free society at its source . . ."

The "logical" extension of this insane thinking—no, not "thinking" but inhuman, irrational conduct—will be to say that Americans should not do anything people in the Soviet Union do.

If Communists read books, we should destroy all books! If Communists have children, we should not have any! If they eat, we should stop eating!

Is this not the "logical" outcome of a national policy which dictates that the resources and manpower of this great nation of ours are not to be utilized in building a better, richer life for all Americans . . . but are to be consumed in the futile task of "containing world Communism"—even if we have to destroy ourselves in the process, by God!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mrs. Bass:

In the issue of THE EAGLE of March 29, in the lead paragraph of the story of Sgt. Walker on Page 1, there is what seems to be a typographical error which leaves a very bad impression and deserves a correction in the next issue. I quote: "If Air Force Sgt. L. J. Walker is guilty of the heinous crime that he is accused of, the Negroes of Los Angeles and California, should pay the penalty."

TOM CREED

(Correction: An entire line was omitted. It should read. If Air Force Sgt. L. J. Walker is guilty of the heinous crime that he is accused of, the Negroes of Los Angeles and California will be the first ones to say that he should pay the penalty. Now if you go on with the rest of the story you will find it makes sense. Thank you for writing. And for your interest in the The CALIFORNIA EAGLE).

Mrs. Charlotta Bass,
Editor and Publisher
The California Eagle
Dear Mrs. Bass:

You will be pleased to know that the Annual Urban League Awards Program held March 16, 1951, was successful. We are sure that much of this success can be attributed to the valuable space allotted to to the promotion of the event by the California Eagle.

On behalf of the Urban League and myself, please accept our sincere appreciation.

Very truly yours,
Henry Johnson, Jr.
Industrial Field Secretary

Rawlins, Wyoming
Dear Mrs. Bass:

This is to thank you for the Eagle, which I have been receiving through a misadventure, but a good one, for over a year.

Another fellow subscribed for it, but was released before its expiration, and arranged for me to receive it.

I have enjoyed the Eagle immensely, every article in every issue. But yours, "The Sidewalk," has been most inspiring, and very seldom, if ever, have I failed to say "Amen" several times on each reading.

There is, in my humble opinion, a dire need of you and more of your kind, to carry on this great fight, to combat the great forces of evil which engulf us, the minority.

Thanks again to you for your vigorous stand, and your Eagle.

Yours sincerely,
Choice Jackson

Dear Mr. President:

I realize it is a great blessing, to live in a nation, where I, as a very average citizen may sit down and tell you my thoughts on a very vital issue. I also earnestly pray that my wishes are being multiplied a thousand fold in many other messages to you and that from this great surge of protest a great new era of justice will begin.

I shall not go into the war situation, nor prices, nor any subject so profound and complicated. I am concerned with a human life. I did not say "merely" a human life, because every life is invaluable to those who know and cherish another human beings existence.

This concerns the life of Willie McGee. You are having a conference today with a western delegate concerning this man's future and I just shed tears of joy to learn of his stay of execution. Now tell me why am I—an average mother and house wife—not a Negro—nor a member of any group which is so vociferously for all out equality and true freedom for the Negro—I repeat—just an average person. . . . and

By PENN

Mrs. Charlotta Bass
California Eagle

As a pretty consistent reader of the California Eagle for the past few years, I want to say it is doing a great job in the struggle for Negro rights. The paper and the material therein have been a source of strength to those of us who are actively engaged in this struggle.

It is with a feeling of deep concern therefore, that I want to criticize the "Labor on the March" column by "Penn" in the issue of March 15.

In this column, Penn speaks of several incidents which took place at the last CIO Council meeting in L. A. One of the things which he relates is the nomination of a Negro worker, Brother E. J. Franklin, Regional Chairman of the Fair Practices Committee for the UAW-CIO in California.

Penn correctly deals with the incident which took place, wherein a white worker—an International Representative of Phillip Murray's union, the United Steelworkers of America, in nominating Brother Franklin for vice-president, referred to him as "Boy" several times.

It is the conclusions which Penn comes to that I want to take issue with and which I think are incorrect and dangerous. He says the following in referring to Brother Franklin's age. "Even taking the 30 years old guess, Franklin isn't a boy for our money. Franklin is a man and we would be happy if he would prove he is one and decline the nomination for Council vice-president."

I am in complete disagreement with this conclusion. What does it do? It places the full responsibility on Brother Franklin's shoulders. Since when does he have to prove anything?

One of the things which those of us are fighting for Negro rights are attempting to do, is to get Negro workers elected to top leadership in the union. By suggesting Brother Franklin decline the nomination, we would be accomplishing the job the white supremacists secretly desire to accomplish.

A white supremacist, like the white Steelworker representative who nominated Brother Franklin, only made that nomination because he realizes that Negro workers are sick and tired of promises and words and want some action. They are demanding representation in leadership and the white supremacist was forced by the pressure of sentiment of the Negro workers to make the nomination.

Here also, if he were attempting, as Penn says, to prove that CIO is a democratic organization, I don't think he fooled anyone, least of all Brother Franklin. The United Steelworkers of America, a union with a lily-white top leadership, has a miserable record of fighting for Negro rights. If the brother really wants to prove anything, he should start a fight in his own union.

The use of derogatory term "Boy" in the nominating speech only went to prove the deep-rooted and rotten core of white supremacy which fills the so-called leaders of CIO. If Brother Franklin would not accept the nomination, it would be exactly what the white supremacists in the council would like to see happen.

In my opinion, Brother Franklin should accept and must be supported in his candidacy for vice-president of the council.

The California Eagle, because of its traditional background of militant struggle for Negro rights, should take steps to correct the impression left on white and Negro workers by this column. Brother Franklin deserves an apology and must be given every encouragement to accept the nomination and every effort must be made to guarantee his election.

Sincerely and fraternally,
TOM CREED, member of UAW-CIO
Local 230 (Chrysler)

* * * *

The criticism in the above letter is right and justified.

Many other friends have protested against the conclusion reached in the March 15 column—that a Negro should refuse nomination to office because anti-Negro language was used in the nomination speech—that the burden of repudiating the deregatory remarks in that speech be placed on Franklin's shoulders.

Everyone interested in Negro rights is fighting for equality for Negroes on the job and in the leadership of unions.

And, as Brother Creed said, the reason behind Brother Franklin's nomination is the increasing demand by Negro unionists for positions of leadership.

CIO brass was made aware, through the formation of the Los Angeles Negro Labor Council and its campaign to end Jim Crow in industry and in the unions, that minority groups are getting tired of promises and sweet talk. They want action.

We heartily endorse Brother Franklin's candidacy for vice-president of the council and urge every trade unionist to support him for the office. We further urge that full support be given every effort by him, or by any any brother, to wipe out every trace of discrimination in the Council.

His election to office, however, will not prove that CIO brass has abandoned its policy of much talk and little action on fair employment practices and other Jim Crow conditions faced by Negro workers.

It should be considered as a step in the right direction. It should be taken as proof that increased efforts to break down Jim Crow policies can win more representation in union leadership—that a continued fight can eliminate discrimination in hiring and upgrading in industry.

Any attempt of Council brass to use Brother Franklin's election as proof of an end of discrimination, as proof that they have abandoned their policy of white supremacy, must be rejected.

So long as Council brass refuses to move in cases like that of the Martinsville Seven, so long as they pass the buck on cases like that of Lt. Gilbert, so long as they whitewash the police in cases like the killing of Sam Jones—that long must trade unionists fight in the Council for Negro rights.

Continuation of a militant program for representation in union leadership, for fair employment practices and for equal rights for all can force the return to the policies that built CIO.

Along with my personal apology to Brother Franklin for the attitude taken in the March 15 column, I wholeheartedly urge support for him and for every member of the Council who works for real democracy and honest unionism.

Some Good Came Out Of Tennessee

California, with its witch hunt in Hollywood and loyalty test demands on citizens who have already proved in devious ways their loyalty and devotion to their government, can take an example from Tennessee. And go and do likewise.

The Tennessee state legislature has just adjourned. One of the outstanding features of its deliberations was its overwhelming rejection of two so-called "anti-subversive" bills following widespread public protest against their enactment. The vote to reject was 20-9 and 23-6, respectively. A third such bill was never introduced.

When these bills were introduced into the legislature on February 22, 1951, they had the signed endorsements of the majority of the members of both houses. However, following further study of the bills at the urging of individuals and groups from their constituencies, they came to realize the repressive nature of these billsand hastened to withdraw their signatures and their support.

Let Justice and Equality Under the Law Be Our Code

It has always been the policy of this newspaper in dealing with crime and criminals, to pursue one and one only code of ethics. That code has been and is: never to allow race, color, nor even nationality to influence our thinking on such as this, Sergeant Walker, case.

The fact that Walker is a Negro, and The California Eagle is a so-called Negro newspaper, will have no bearing on the merits or demerits of our discussion editorially.

Lawrence Walker, 20-year-old Negro sergeant in the Air Corps at Riverside, Calif., is charged with the murder of Richard and Doris Cook (white).

According to newspaper reports on Monday of this week, while riding along in the vicinity of Lake Mathews, Sergeant Walker sideswiped the Cook car—and according to his statement, fearing an altercation with Cook, went on his way.

A few hours later, the Cooks, some distance apart, were found slain.

The fact that Sergeant Walker proved to be the only connecting link between the life and death of the Cooks, he was easily suspected of being the perpetrator of the crime.

Such being the case the metropolitan newspapers of Los Angeles started the same sort of campaign to create mass hysteria as that which was responsible for the Martinsville, Va., mass murder of seven suspects, the prosecution of the Trenton Six, and of Willie McGee.

Those who read and analyze the news with open minds not contaminated by race prejudice, see in this case a desire on the part of certain officials to pin the Cook murder on Walker mainly because he is a Negro.

At this time when we are fighting a war in Korea, we say it is to make secure our liberties, preserve our democracy, as well as protect the rights of South Korea against the invasion of the North Koreans and perhaps some of the other Western nations. It seems it would be well for us to consider our defense measures from within, rather than waste all of our ammunition shooting at such enemies as the Koreans and Russians who, as a matter of fact, have only invaded our imagination.

There are a lot of people who feel that our government is missing the boat in its effort to track down criminals and subversives, while some of our law officers draw a line between white and Negro offenders, more definite than the 38th parallel that divides North and South Korea.

For instance, this Walker case. The Riverside authorities seem bent on tightening the rope around Sergeant Walker's neck on circumstantial evidence. The California Eagle feels that it would not be a bad idea to investigate that certain individual who discovered Mrs. Cook's body.

In any case we feel that in this and all criminal charges, even rape, the question of race or color should not be the measuring rod.

If Negroes and other minorities are expected to fight to preserve freedom in Western Europe and South Korea, they certainly should not only expect, but insist, on the protection of their freedom in Mississippi, Virginia, New Jersey, and California.

POTPOURRI

Bills in Legislature

I. The Attack on Teacher Tenure and Academic Freedom

SCA 1, Tenney, and ACA 9, Levering: All public employees are required to swear that they are not, have not been for five years, and will not become a member of any organization "that advocates . . . overthrow of the government.

. . . by force or violence or other unlawful means." Included under the provisions are employes of the University of California and all paid in whole or part out of State funds. These amendments integrate the Levering oath into the basic law of the State Constitution.

SB 319, Tenney: This bill prohibits teaching of communism "with the intent to indoctrinate any pupil with, or inculcate a preference in the mind of any pupil for communism." Facts concerning communism may be taught, but not "for the purpose of undermining . . . patriotism . . . in the minds of the pupils." When such intent is determined by "the appropriate school disciplinary body," dismissal proceedings may be instituted.

SB 473, Tenney: This bill requires the removal of any public school employee "for the utterance of any treasonable or seditious word or words, or the doing of any treasonable or seditious act or acts."

AB 2616, Chapel: Agents of the Department of Justice will have free access to classrooms to check the utterances of teachers and will scrutinize the activities of principals and superintendents. In effect, public education will be regulated by the police authorities.

AB 2954, Chapel: "No person shall . . . distribute current campaign literature espousing any proposition or candidate for public office to pupils . . ., or cause children to write essays . . . on current candidates or propositions." This is clearly an attempt to prevent knowledge and discussion by pupils of current issues.

II. The Attack on Civil Liberties

SB 98, Tenney: This bill is very similar to the national Mc-

NEWS FROM ACROSS THE WORLD

Rice From China

NEW DELHI—The first and second shipments of Chinese rice, totalling 13,100 tons, arrived in Calcutta recently. The third shipment is expected to reach Madres shortly, New China News Agency reports.

China is shipping rice to India at a moment when the Indian people are facing an acute food shortage. It is in fulfillment of the Sino-Indian barter agreement which provides that China sends 50,000 tons of rice to India in exchange for 16,500 bales of gunny bags.

The rice from China has drawn people's attention to another thing, continues the weekly. Within the matter of a year, famine and starvation - stricken China has changed so much that she not only has no need for foreign food grain, but is now in a position to export it to a foreign country. China has solved her food problem primarily because of the agrarian reform, which has liberated the peasants from feudal exploitation and led them on to the path of prosperity, the weekly concluded.

Boys to Come Home

BERLIN—All American army personnel in Western Germany with four years continuous service will be sent back to the United States for training and then to Korea. This transfer, however, will not reduce the number of occupation units in Western Germany. In the next three months the strength of the occupying troops is to be increased to 13 divisions.

Give India Grain!

A long distance phone call from Calcutta, India, from Mrs. Eulalie Hogan of Hollywood, reports mounting dismay in India over Congressional delay in authorizing the 2,000,000-ton food-grain gift for famine sufferers, it was announced this week by Mrs. G. J. Watumull, Los Angeles, chairman of the United Emergency Committee on Famine Relief for India.

Optimism following reports on progress of the legislation as a result of bi-partisan endorsement by President Truman, Herbert Hoover and Congressional leaders has given way to grave concern, Mrs. Hogan said.

While Congress marks time Mrs. Watumull was able to report encouraging progress on her Committee's efforts to enlist American citizen support for the Committee's drive for immediate "people-to-people" relief.

"India's and America's future are definitely linked together for the good of the whole world," Mrs. Hogan stressed in her call from Calcutta. "India's harvests have failed, but there must be no failure in the harvest of good will that will follow America's response to this vital need," she said.

"It is important to world peace and our own peace of mind that American abundance be used to aid India's great distress. It is imperative at this moment that the generous heartbeats of the American people be heard above the voices of a few men lacking in wisdom, understanding and statesmanship.

Moscow Building

MOSCOW—The tremendous importance which the people of the Soviet Union place on the construction of good living quarters is reflected in the recent decision of the Moscow City Soviet to allocate 162 million roubles (40.5 million dollars) to increase this year's production of building materials.

In the eight million square feet of new housing space to be provided in the Soviet capital this year, the main type of buildings will be blocks of flats from eight to 14 stories high.

The increasing tempo in the construction of living quarters in Moscow is indicated by the following figures of the new housing space provided here in the past 10 years in millions of square feet:

1940, 4.4; 1947, 1.4, 1948, 2.9; 1949 4.8; 1950, 5.5.

It is planned to reach 11.5 million square in the near future.

French Peace Council

PARIS—Representatives of the peace partisans in 79 departments of France took part at the plenary meeting of the French National Peace Council in Aubervilliers near St. Denis on Sunday.

The main speaker, chairman of the National Peace Council Yves Farge, announced that 17 million French citizens have signed the Stockholm Appeal and more than 6 million citizens have already signed the protest against the remilitarisation of Western Germany. This success, said Yves Farge, demonstrates the strength of the peace movement.

The meeting adopted a resolution containing a concrete programme for further activities for the defence of peace and showing full confidence in the victory of peace. The meeting also sent greetings to the Spanish people and expressed its admiration for their gallant struggle against the fascist Franco regime.

Wheat in American Ships

Hugh Bryson, president of the National Union of Marine Cooks and Stewards, wrote to members of Congress from California saying that all cargoes to India, Yugoslavia, and other countries from American shores should be carried in American ships manned by American seamen.

"We also feel that with the great deposits of grains in the Pacific Northwest these shipments to India should be transported on ships sailing from the West Coast," Bryson added, and urged all California legislators to take action that will mean more jobs and better working conditions for American workers.

Rights Denied

John Gates, editor of The Daily Worker and The Worker, has written a letter to the Passport Division, State Department, Washington, D. C., protesting the arbitrary manner in which a representative of the Daily Worker and Worker—Joseph North—had been denied a passport to go abroad, and particularly to China, for the purpose of writing news for the Worker.

"To deprive this publication of its journalistic and constitutional rights is a flagrant invasion of the guarantee of the freedom of the press," wrote Mr. Gates. "It contradicts all the declarations made by the U. S. government at the United Nations regarding freedom of the press."

Cotton Growing In China

PEKING—The action of the People's Government of China in enlarging the cotton acreage and in establishing a favorable exchange rate between cotton and grain has brought prosperity and greatly-increased purchasing power to the peasants of Shantung Province.

A correspondent of New China News Agency who visited Wuchiao County in the province reported that the houses are now freshly plastered and glass windows have taken the place of paper which was all that the peasants could afford in the past. They now have more to eat, and the young women were all wearing bright-colored new dresses.

Where cotton stalks were the only fuel before, now everyone had a warm coal fire. Everyone looked warmly clad.

No Troops to Korea

MEXICO CITY—The Mexican government has no intention of sending troops to Korea, Foreign Minister Manuelo Telle has declared in a television broadcast following wide popular protest actions against any such measure.

Mexican President Miguel Aleman was asked reecntly by President Harry Truman in a personal letter to contribute troops, but he gave an evasive answer.

In the same broadcast a high Finance Ministry official announced that Mexico will support the idea of non-interference, in whatever part of the world, at the coming Washington conference of Foreign Ministers of the Western hemisphere.

Aid To W. Germany

BERLIN—The United States is determined to withhold further financial aid for Western Germany within the framework of the Marshall Plan until Western Germany devotes its industry completely to war production, official sources reported from Washington.

The conditions to be fulfilled by Western Germany are complete control over West German industry, raw materials, imports and exports, limiting the output of civilian goods to the strictest necessities and devoting most of the German industry to war production.

If the West Germans object to these "suggestions" they will have to pay for the last Marshall Plan shipments amounting to 23,500,000 dollars, "with whatever dollars they have," United States officials said.

US Refuses Sulphur

LONDON—The refusal of United States bosses to export to Britain at once 10,000 more tons of sulphur monthly means the dislocation of Britain's rayon, rubber and steel industries.

Britain's quarterly necessary minimum of sulphur amounts to 125,000 tons, but the United States has cut this to 81,000 tons so that several Midland factories are already on short time.

The President of the Board of Trade, Harold Wilson, will probably fly to Washington over Easter to beg for more, but Washington reports say the chances are "very slim."

British in Malaya

SINGAPORE—The official announcement last week that 11,530 resistance fighters are under detention in Malaya gives only a very partial picture of the actual number of detainees.

At the end of January the commander of the British forces in Malaya, Lieutenant- General H. Briggs, stated that there were 90,000 Malayan people in the "resettlement" camps. These camps are virtual concentration camps where the peasants and artisans from districts where the liberation forces have been active are compelled to work and live under armed guard and behind barbed wire. The camps are a key part of the so-called Briggs plan for depopulating settlements bordering on the jungle which have been a source of supplies to the liberation forces.

The British have tried to present the "resettlement" as "voluntary." The truth is that the local inhabitants are given two weeks to move to the camps "voluntarily" and are then moved by force.

British Labour member of parliament, Tom Driberg, who recently visited some of the camps, described them as "Makronises of Malaya," and a "disgrace to the Labour Government, the Federation Government and the Commonwealth."

STALIN SAYS "YES"!

NEW YORK (CNS)—Joe Stalin was asked to allow the Harlem Globetrotters basketball team into Russia on tour. The Russian Embassy delighted them with Stalin's answer—"yes."

LETTERS to the EDITOR

yet so vitally concerned with the fate of the greatly wronged man.

I have written cards, letters, and wires concerning his fate and am happy to say there are thousands who have joined me. We see only a man, very much a victim of his environment and pulled down by economic conditions to a degree where his very life is now being used as a toy by a vindictive and scorned woman who had no business bothering him in the first place. You have only to read the story told by Willie McGee's wife to know who the true criminal is. We are not going to discuss the morals of the people concerned. Society does not condone such actions and yet as broad minded people we are aware that such situations do go on all the time.

What we are here to discuss is the inequality of the justice being meted out to this man and all he has is his color is "wrong". The same God created us all and who is the white judge to give a death sentence to one of "His" children? Much greater truly vicious—premeditated crimes are committed with a lesser sentence imposed.

Tell me what woman could be raped without wasing her child in the same bed and her husband in the next room (obviously the rapist was invited and if invited was ashamed to admit the case) or there—let alone [illegible] death for scorning her.

I [illegible] absolutely innocent [illegible] other than being a victim of unequal, southern [illegible] justice. You have lost so much face in so many things that have happened during your presidency. Now you can redeem yourself in the eyes of many especially the Negro voters, if you do not permit this man, Willie McGee to die. There are all too many lives being lost on the battle field every hour without taking an innocent one here — and a War veteran. Please give Willie McGee a complete pardon and you will be the most blessed of beings.

Earnestly and respectfully,
Nettie Strauss.

The following letter was sent to Congressman Emanuel Celler as follow up on a meeting with him by a delegation from Local 10 United Public Workers of America. When he was asked to have the President intercede to save the life of Willie McGee, he said in effect that in a democracy innocent men sometimes had to die and that the President could do nothing.

Dear Sir:

We were disturbed about your lack of information with regard to the necessary action that would save the life of Willie McGee who is sentenced to die on March 20th on a framed up rape charge. Surely as Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, the following information should be known to you.

Our Constitution states that the federal government has responsibility for guaranteeing a republican form of government in the States. The 14th amendment makes it a federal offense for states to deny the Negro his civil rights. The federal Civil Rights Statute is an implementation of this provision of the 14th Amendment.

We all know of the "justice" that is given to Negroes by all-white juries in Mississippi and all southern states. You said there was nothing the President could do. We feel that there is and must be immediate action taken. The President, through the Attorney General, could invoke the Civil Rights Statute, and obtain a writ of habeas corpus for Willie McGee. You, the President and all Americans who believe in our Constitution could, in addition to the above, issue public statements condemning the legal lynching of innocent men like Willie McGee. We must not have any more innocent victims of southern lynching like the Martinsville Seven.

The life of Mr. McGee and other innocent Negro victims of injustice must be saved! Please advise what action you will take. Writing to Governor Battle of Mississippi is not sufficient action in saving the life of a victime of southern "justice."

Very truly yours,
THEODORE SHIPP,
President.

To the Editor:

A great university established in Africa for the express purpose of extending educational advantages to all of the tribes on that continent should be the work of African Americans for the next 50 years.

It is apparent that the colonial powers are not concerned about the enlightenment of the native peoples but are only interested in enriching themselves through Africa's vast natural resources.

Plans are being made for the creation of a great institution of learning in Liberia to be known as the University of Africa. It will be modeled after the University of California, one of America's Class A schools.

A modern educational center will be built around the university to provide conveniences for professionals and students. American Negro genius and determination will accomplish this work.

Upon completion of agreements with the Liberian government a University of Africa Fund will be set up. $100 million must be raised. The university endowment alone will be $25 million. Those interested can receive further information by addressing E. L. Dinkins, Box 851, Victorville, California.

THE NOT SO STRANGE CACE OF PAUL ROBESON

and politically,—all over the world. He is always busy learning the music and languages of different Peoples, studying their ways-of-life, so that he may understand them better. One heartening result of this work is that many people in many countries,—including Russia and China,—know and love Paul Robeson, for the human normal reason that he has taken the trouble to learn their difficult languages, their music, something about their very different ways-of-life, and to be friendly with them. That's the stuff that diplomats are made of,—or should be.

In all the years Robeson was learning the music and languages of Peoples, everybody seemed to think he was brilliant and wonderful; it wasn't until he went on to learn about them socially, economically and politically, that he ran into trouble.

I think that Robeson has always had this general long-range objective. It wasn't always as clear as it is now, but it was always building,—from way back. In this connection it is interesting to note the subject he chose for his Commencement address at Rutgers in 1919, when he had won nearly every scholastic, athletic and personal honor the College had to offer; the subject was Inter-Racial Relations. But Robeson has always been very clear and determined, since childhood, about not allowing anyone to push him around, no matter what. He also hated to see anyone else, especially the Negro People, pushed around.

Now it happens that in our beloved United States, some Un-Americans insist upon pushing Negroes around. Robeson has always vigorously resented, resisted and opposed this, long before he knew anything about the Soviet Union and Communism. There is nothing strange in his feelings in this matter; millions of Negroes feel exactly as he does about it; the difference is that Robeson is a very big guy, with a very big voice which is heard around the world.

But let's get back to the article: It is very wrong to say, as White says, that Robeson voluntarily gave up his fabulous annual income. The fact of the matter is, that Robeson is being deliberately prevented from earning this income; the theatre, concert and film industries are deliberately trying to divorce him from his public, by fair means and foul, mostly foul; and by cancelling his passport, the State Department and the Administration are deliberately preventing him from pursuing his career abroad.

I cannot agree with White that ". . . In a way his (Paul's) outlook on life has always been slightly out of balance. . .." From close personal contact with him from the beginning of his career as a singer and actor up to now, I know that it has never been true that Paul ". . . felt more personal resentment against slights and discrimination, than he showed about the treatment accorded Negroes generally . . ." And if he really was ". . . more concerned with finding some oasis in the world where he personally and his family would be free from race prejudice, rather than consider fighting the malady itself", than certainly he would not have returned with his family to live in these United States.

We lived in England for 12 years and lived very well indeed. It was in England that Robeson achieved fabulous success,—artistically, financially and socially; yet at the height of his career there, he began fighting what Walter White ought to agree is the "malady itself",—Colonialism and Fascim,—particularly as was exemplified in Africa and Asia, Germany and Spain.

We not only "considered" living in England, we did live there for many years; but again to put the record straight, we never did live "in a magnificent home in the exclusive Mayfair section of London"; we lived in many different sections of London,—in Chelsea, Regents Park, St. Johns Wood, Hampstead, and Highgate,—but strangely enough, never in Mayfair. And again, strangely enough, it was not "certain personal and romantic experiences which disabused his (Paul's) mind of the comfortable conception that the people of Britain were less prejudiced than the white people of the United States". No. It was Paul's growing awareness of the Colonial activities of Britain, particularly in Asia and Africa. We met, talked with, and came to know many Indians including Nehru and Gandhi, and many Africans in London, and the Colonial Question was always under discussion.

Robeson's first trip to the Soviet Union did not "formulate the subsequent pattern of his life". That trip was a regular, normal stop in the regular sequence of his extraordinary career. His trip to England, then living in England, made him aware of Colonialism; his trips to Europe, especially to Germany and Spain, made him aware of ever-growing Fascism; his trips to the Soviet Union made him aware of ever-growing Socialism and Communism. Robeson has spent 25 years of his life making trips, all of which together, have increased his knowledge and understanding of the Peoples of the world, what is happening to them, and why.

It is much too glib and easy to say that the Soviet Union makes capital of the Negro Question in the United States. Never mind what the Russians are saying about our Negro Question; what is our Government doing about it?:

During the last war the Administration appointed several qualified Negroes to top assistant positions in various Government Departments in Washington; one of them, Judge William Hastie, resigned because his advice and suggestions were not carried out. The Administration sent Walter White and Lester Granger on official tours of inspection of army and navy stations all over the world, to investigate and report on the many complaints of mistreatment of Negroes; whatever the contents of their reports, it is a fact, that Negroes are still segregated and discriminated against in our armed forces. Since the war President Truman issued a Directive, abolishing segregation in the armed forces, and this Directive has not been carried out. President Truman was elected to office largely on the promise of Civil Rights, and this promise has not been fulfilled. The Administration has appointed two Negroes, Ralph Bunch and Edith Sampson, to the United Nations Organization, and a Negro Ambassador to the Negro Republic of Liberia; these appointments have not improved the condition of the Negro People here, nor Colored People anywhere. Rather than grant the Negro People and other Minorities their democratic rights, the Administration prefers to spend $89 millions on VOICE OF AMERICA, a radio program to combat Russian propaganda, and to tell the world how marvellously democratic we are here in the United States.

These are some of the things our Government has done to help solve the Negro Question. And what are the results? The vast majority of the 15 million Negroes know, from day-to-day experience, that they still remain second-class citizens in our democracy, at the very time when the Administration is shouting at the top of its official "Voice" that we are fighting to give democracy to people in Korea and other distant places.

Robeson really did say that ". . . in Russia he could walk the streets for the first time in his life, and not have to think himself as colored. . . ." White says he ignored "the fact that his experience might have been similar in Brazil and some other countries". What other countries? The New China, and the Eastern Democracies, definitely; but not in Africa, not in any other country where Un-American Americans have taken over and set the pattern. I haven't been to Brazil, but I hear tell that some well-known Negroes have recently had some disillusioning experiences down there in Rio.

It's quite true that we placed our son, Pauli, in school in the Soviet Union; he was there for two years, enjoyed it very much, and benefitted enormously from the new type of education, the different attitudes, the different values, and the welcoming warmth of the people. He was also in school for more than two years in England, was in Europe (Switzerland and Austria) for more than two years, was in school here in the United States for more than eight years. Yet the people who oppose Robeson only find the two years in the Soviet Union important and significant.

Why is this? If Paul Robeson had lived in the United States for 38 years, in England for 12 years, why do the 2 years in the Soviet Union assume such importance and significance? Surely he has lived in "The Free World" long enough to be well aware of it's benefits, if any, for him,—for Paul Robeson, American-Negro? In the "Free World" he, along with all other discernible Negroes, are always regarded and treated as Negroes first, and Human Beings second. The revolutionary experience which happened to him, and to Pauli and me in the Soviet Union was that we were regarded and treated as Human Beings, period. The fact that we were Negro was of incidental and additional interest.

Let us face it: The Soviet Union has built a new and powerful society upon, among other things, a socialist economy and upon the complete integration of all its peoples of different races, religions and colors. To the arrogant white people in "The Free World", who have built a society upon the profit motive and upon segregation and discrimination against other races colors and creeds, this new society is a moral threat and challenge to be feared, shunned, ignored, libeled, beaten out of existence if possible political, economic and military means. Therefore, anyone who interested in, or sympathetic with the Soviet People, is regarded dangerous and must be cut down; anyone who speaks well of Soviet Union is labelled a traitor to "The Free World", whether speaks truth or not.

It is a very serious misrepresentation of Robeson to say "... he has been so generous to pro-Russian movements, and do so little toward helping movements to correct the flaws in American democracy". In recognition of Robeson's years of work to correct the flaws in our democracy, Walter White's own organization, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (N.A.A.C.P.) awarded him the coveted Spingarn Medal for 19 Robeson is immensely proud of the citation which reads: "Paul Robeson, actor, singer, for his distinguished achievements in the theatre and on the concert stage, as well as his active concern the rights of the common man of every race, color, religion or nationality."

During the last few years when the National Leadership of the N.A.A.C.P. has been very actively supporting the Administration in spite of its continued failure to enact a program for Civil Rights Robeson has worked with local leaders and branches of the organization when he felt they were really working to correct the flaws in our democracy.

I can understand why Walter White thinks the N.A.A.C.P. is the important movement to correct the flaws in American democracy and I agree that it has done splendid work in many fields, especially in the legal field. However, many Negroes will agree with me that there are also many other important fields and movements. Robeson has been, and is, particularly interested in the fields of Labor, Politics, and Foreign Affairs, and has been more than generous with money, time and talent in supporting movements in these fields which he believes can help fulfill the promise of our democracy. Specifically, he works with and contributes to the Progressive Party, which welcomes and integrates Negroes on all levels, and nominates and supports them for public office; those Labor Unions which he knows to be friendly, progressive and constructive in their relations with Negroes; and the Council on African Affairs, which helps to inform the American public about Colonialism.

I certainly do not agree that there is anything strange about the case of Paul Robeson. Unless you consider it strange that he, a Negro-American, lifted up his voice and said a big NO! around the world to the people and Governments who are pushing him, his People, Colonial Peoples, and other Minorities around. There is something very strange about the case of the Negro Leaders, who are so frantically opposing him for this. Considering the behavior of some of these "Leaders", maybe there is something strange about Robeson, at that. Whoever thought a Negro would have the nerve to sue the State Department? Whoever thought a Negro would have the nerve to publicly—very publicly—denounce the foreign and domestic policies of the Administration, when he believes them to be Un-American, dangerous and wrong?

Some Negroes in public life have come forward to state that Paul Robeson does not speak for the Negro People. Well then, who does speak for them? Do Walter White, Lester Granger, Phil Randolph, Jackie Robinson, Josh White, Hazel Scott, and Sugar Ray Robinson,—Negroes who have publicly opposed Robeson,—speak for the Negro People? If so, let's see what it is they say:

Do they say that Negroes are satisfied with their present situation in the U.S.A.? That Negroes like taxation without proper representations? That they like being lynched, attacked, abused and even killed by brutal police? That they like being segregated and discriminated against in housing, jobs, schools, hospitals, transportation, recreation, and in the armed forces?

No, you bet they don't. Negro leaders had better not say these things; they would make themselves ridiculous, because Negroes in Birmingham, Myrtle Beach, Greensboro, Greenwood, Detroit, Chicago, Los Angeles, New York and other places keep right on courageously insisting, at the risk of life and limb, home and job, that they don't like these facts of the American way-of-life.

What then do these Negro "Leaders" say? They say that Negroes don't like Russia, Stalin and Communism. So far as I know the Negro People have never said they don't like Russia; most of them, along with most other Americans, don't know very much about Communism. It is not the Negro People, but those "Leaders" who, following the Administration Party Line, don't like Russia. Of course it is practically impossible for these "Leaders" to say without making themselves ridiculous, that Russia, Stalin and Communism are responsible for the Negro Question—for the abuse, segregation and discrimination which Negroes suffer here in the United States; so the "Leaders" go out of their way to insist that American democracy, with all it's Faults, is the best there is, and therefore we must all fight and if need be die for it; since most of the faults and few of the benefits of this democracy directly apply to Negroes, these "Leaders" find themselves in the very strong position of insisting that Negroes fight and die for the faults of our democracy. Paul Robeson is far too clear-sighted, experienced, intelligent and courageous to be maneuvered, or forced into such a position; on the contrary, he is fighting the faults of our democracy; he is fighting for full citizenship for every American, guaranteed under our Constitution and Bill of Rights. That's what all the fuss is about.

It is embarrassing and very sad to see some of our people rushing into print, onto public platforms, into court-rooms, and before the Un-American Activities Committee to denounce their fellow citizens, in order to reassure themselves, their employers, the public, and their friends of their loyalty to the Administration.

The vast majority of the American People have always been loyal to our country, ever since it's initiation. The wise and far seeing Founding Fathers, with our Constitution and Bill of Rights set up a system of government which invites loyalty; our regular elections give our citizens the opportunity to change the current Administration, when they do not like what it does in our name.

Opposition to the Administration is in no sense disloyalty to the system of government nor to our country; on the contrary, it can be, and usually is, opposition, to an Administration which does not carry out our laws as set down in the Constitution, and is therefore itself disloyal.

Many Americans seem to know what they are against, and that is, of course, very important to know what Negro Leaders are against; but it is also important to know what they are for. After all, there is a war on, and Negroes are being drafted, and segregated, to fight; many of them are very naturally questioning exactly what it is they are being forced to fight and maybe die for. Most of the professional Negro Leaders haven't given the Negro People very much to sustain them.

Leaders come in many different varieties: some are self-appointed, some are appointed by others, and some just emerge. The appointed leaders are usualy highly paid, and usualy have to keep their leadership by force,—naked force with guns, soldiers and police, or concealed force with political economic and social pressure; the leader who emerges usually achieves and keeps his leadership by keeping in step with the people he leads, by expressing what is on the minds and in the hearts of the people. This is, in the final analysis, the most powerful kind of leader; you can abuse, even kill him, but he emerges an even greater leader.

I believe Paul Robeson is that kind of leader, and that is why it is taking such an unprecedented mobilization of strength to try to put him down. The State Department, the Administration, the concert theatre and film industries, the press and radio, and some of the Negro "Leaders" have combined to try to immobilize him, to divorce him from the Negro People, and from his fabulous career.

But Paul Robeson is awful big, and there he stands, like a giant oak, like a mountain,—solid. Solid. I do not believe they can uproot him, nor blast him down.

Attorney Wright Says He Was 'Misquoted'

Attorney Crispus Wright stated that he was misquoted by the Mirror Times and Herald this week as to his statement in the press this week.

Wright said that he has protested the statement and gave this as his true statement:

It is not only a case of the people of the State of California against Walker, but a case where bigots all over the United States could use the case to reflect on the Negro people in general in a degrading manner."

MISS THERESA BAGNERISE has been chosen to reign as "Sweetheart" at the Annual Formal Dance of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, which is to be held on the evening of April 6, 1951 at the Royal Palms Hotel. The Dance Committee determined her to be the best qualified for the honorary position on the basis of her beauty and her signal accomplishments. This appointment brings honor to Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, as well as to herself. The selection of Miss Bagnerise points out cogently to the fraters of Sigma that gold is where one finds it, the analogy being that the gold in the person of Theresa was found among the Zeta Sorors.

Society Faces and Places

By JUNIETA EDWARDS

At the break of the Lenten Season and still in the week of Easter, the March Club, entertained many guests at their annual dance. The Elks ballroom was a scene of Spring flowers and white ribbons, accompanied by sweet music, when the club presented twelve lovely young girls as debutants of the year. The girls promenaded the stage in Model Fashion, gracefully displaying their gowns in single file. As they descended the stage, they were met at the foot of the steps by their proud fathers. Mrs. Edith Kemp, a club member was chairman of the Debutant Committee, and she presented the girls in a most charming and graceful manner. Mr. Stanley Staultz, also a member announced each girl as she entered the stage. The debutants and their fathers, danced to the melody of "Tennessee Waltz" in a circle until the last girl left the stage. A very beautiful picture indeed. The debutants were: Mary Evelyn Lindell, Marie Finn, Marlene Edwards, Mary Ann Baumann, Francine Fortier, Alice Day, Patricia Anderson, Shelly Montgomery, Joan Southeren, Marian Clark, Mary Lee Williams, Darlene Howard. White gowns of lace and frills were worn by each girl and they were a picture of spring and youthful loveliness in full bloom. Mrs. Daisy Williams, club president, charming as usual, wore a soft gown of pink; and with other members of the club mingled among their guests in an amiable manner. At various times during the evening we glimpsed: Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Wallace; Dr. and Mrs. Albert Baumann, Hattie McDaniels, Jewel Lockett, Mr. and Mrs. William Robeson, of San Diego; Dr. Morrison, visiting from Detroit, Michigan and many others.

Director Flops As Singer

Hollywood—Tony Martin started singing "There's No Tomorrow" for a scene in RKO Radio's "Two Tickets to Broadway" that involves a lot of tricky action. Busby Berkeley, director of the musical numbers stopped him. "Do it like this," he said, and started singing in a voice that sounded like a bullfrog with a sore throat, while he tossed clothing into a suitcase. Then, in answer to a wave of laughter, Berkeley amended his instructions. "Do the action like this," he told Tony, "but sing like Martin."

Red Cross Lags

The East Side has attained only 110 per cent of its $20,300 quota in the 1951 Red Cross campaign, Mrs. Vanilla Strickland, fund chairman, announced this week.

This figure includes all funds reported to local headquarters, 2601 S. Figueroa street, as of last Friday.

Influenza, striking in the early weeks of the campaign, is blamed in a large part for the poor showing that has been made locally after five weeks of the drive. The Los Angeles area as a whole lags far behind all other major cities in percentage of goal attained, the local chairman said.

ASP Meet In Embassy

A public meeting under the auspices of the Arts, Sciences and Professions to acquaint the community of the danger of the Nazi-like purification of Hollywood, will be held in the Embassy auditorium, Grand avenue near Ninth, tomorrow (Friday, April 6) at 8 p.m.

"We dare not forget," says the ASP, "that the first industry 'purified' in Germany was films . . . because it was under un-German, Bolshevist, and Jewish influences. The 'purified' industry was then turned over, lock, stock and barrel, to the Nazis. Screening in the film industry of anyone who refuses to inform, war-monger and betray is common gossip—but only in order to set up a pattern for all American industry."

Pep Can't Handle Saddler Or His Mate; Seeks Divorce

TAMPA, Fla. (CNS)—Poor Willie Pep hasn't been the same since he lost the featherweight crown to Sandy Saddler last September 8th. Some people say he lost the title because his mind was on his newly acquired bride, Dolores von Frenckell, now 22. And Willie is almost sure it's Dolores who's hurting his career by staying out all hours, causing him grievous nights — and by buying expensive furs and other things.

"I must train for several weeks before a fight, yet my wife insisted on staying out until 2 or 3 a.m. If I was not with her, she would come home nagging and quarreling, keeping me from training properly."

Willie is trying to get a divorce in the state of Florida by charging cruelty on these grounds. His wife, meanwhile, flew to Tampa to contest the divorce with her attorney, Joseph Marchetti of New York.

Meanwhile, Sandy Saddler, who is scheduled to meet Pep this summer in a return match for the title, can safely say "I told you so." For the very trouble Pep says he's having with his wife is the same reason Sandy says he won't get married until he retires. "A girl just doesn't understand the fight business" says Sandy.

Invitational Softball Tourney Scheduled To Open April 16th

April 16 is the opening date for the invitational softball tournament to be sponsored by the Municipal Softball Association. This tournament will include two divisions of play, a Major and a Minor and is held for the purpose of giving the Sports Office a basis for classifying teams as to relative strength for league play which will start around May 1.

A trophy will be awarded the teams finishing this tournament in first and second place in each division, with individual awards going to the first team players of the major championship division.

Any organized softball team may enter this tournament. Those desiring to do so, contact Mr. Tom Murphy, Sports Office, 223 City Hall, Los Angeles 12, California. Phone Michigan 211, extension 641. Deadline for entry is Monday, April 9, 1951.

Charles, Maxim Offered $150,000

SAN FRANCISCO—Mintz and Tannas, manager for the heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles, have received a guarantee offer of a split of $150,000 or 60% of the gate, for a 15-round title bout May 4 between their fighter and Joey Maxim, light heavyweight champ at Cow Palace.

Charles at his home in Ohio is aaiting his doctor's orders concerning that damaged ear from his last fight with Walcott.

While IBC kept mum on a $150,000 guarantee for a San Francisco title fight between Maxim and Charles, lightweight champ Joe Maxim agreed to fight Chicago's clever Bob Satterfield at the Chicago Stadium June 27th. This is Maxim's first defense since he won the title from England's Freddie Mills in London Jan. 24, 1950.

About the offer to meet Charles, Joe Triner, chairman of the Illinois Commission said "If Maxim fights and beats Charles before he meets Satterfield, he will have to vacate the lightweight title under the NBA rules." Which is certainly obvious. Meanwhile, the Commission approved contracts for Maxim to get 45% of the net gate and 45% of any possible radio-television fees against Satterfield, who gets 15% of the gate and 15% of the radio-video gate. Whether the fight will be televised has not yet been announced.

Gavilan Talks of Beating Ray

"After Hairston, I beat Bratton, Graham then Robinson" boasts Kid Gavilan, Number 1 welterweight contender, who says he'll stop at nothing until he's wearing that welterweight crown Ray Suger Robinson recently won in Chicago. Though beaten twice by the Sugar, the Kid is ranked second among the welters and won't give up hope of future success. Gavilan scales 150 and is labeled as "light middleweight."

Meeting Gene Hairston this week is the first step to the welterweight crown, figures Gavilan. Next is Johnny Bratton May 18th in New York. Then comes Billy Graham. And last, and hardest, is Sugar Ray. But the kid thinks he can tackle this task and emerge the victor.

HANGS UP GLOVES—John L. Davis, lightweight and welterweight champion of the State of California, hung up his gloves for good this week because of a detached retina. He is reported as the No. 1 contender for Ike Williams' lightweight crown. Davis had been scheduled to battle Patty DeMarco in New York on April 27 and a bout had been arranged with Aragon in May for the NBA version of the lightweight crown because Williams had refused to meet Davis as the No. 1 challenger. Aragon and Davis drew $39,000 in their last meeting at the Olympic with Davis winning a hard fought decision. Matchmaker Babe McCoy of the Olympic states that Mario Trigo will probably get the Davis match.

On The Turf

By GEORGE A. RAMSEY

NEW CALIENTE, in Old Mexico—Bust out, the marathon champion came back in a mile race to score over some of the best handicap horses at the border course in the featured event.

GEO. A. RAMSEY

It was just two weeks ago the son of pari-mutuel defeated the best marathon horses on the grounds at two miles. It was a rare training feat of former jockey R. Warren to prep a horse in one week to go the shorter route, overlooked in the beeting he paid the good price of $12.60 and ran the distance in 1:37 1-5, only 3-5 of a second off the track record set by Sea Swallow in 1945. The latter carried 127 lbs. when he set the record of 1:36 3-5. In the secondary event Ready Standard came right back off his good race two weeks ago and scored a hollow victory over Aratal and Sunday Painter paying $11.40. The daily-double continues to pay off lush figures for the lucky holders. Dinadayr, the favorite in the fourth and the first half of the double nosed out the fast closing Olalina while Georgia Moon, a longshot, was the victor of the fifth making the double pay $262.60. The Quniela rewarded $34.20.

When Ready Standard and Aratal finished in that order, the largest crowd of the year was on hand to witness one of the best programs in many weeks. The mutuel handle for the twelve races not counting the daily-double and Quniela Poll which is separate, was $219,115. Somoracle, the son of Sir Oracle and the favorite in the eleventh snapped his right foreleg while making his move and had to be destroyed. It was a sad blow for the popular trainer Bill Merrick, Somoracle was a sound horse and had never taking a lame stepit was lucky that he didn't fall but sifted back through the field where Jockey Gail Parker pumped off after the rest of the horses had passed. Popular lead off man, Billy Layton was all smiles after Quaint Maid won the ninth race. Billy is one of the best liked laymen at the course and has many friends that come down fro mLos Angeles and way points every Saturday and Sunday to greet and play in the book this handsome, jovial and congenial person runs. The features for this Saturday and Sundays are on Saturday the main event will be "The Capistrano" at one mile. Sundays features are the "Suncap" six furlongs. Co-feature "The Challenge" also at the same distance. Popular managing director Walter C. Marty is expected back this Sunday after four weeks down with old man flu. His many friends will be glad to greet and welcome him on his return.

ELAJC MEETS PASADENA TRACKSTERS ON FRIDAY

Coach Ray Smith's East Los Angeles Junior College track squad will host Pasadena city college Friday, April 6, in a meet that looks closer than last year's when the P.C.C. Bulldogs edged the Green and White, 30-25.

It could take the one-mile relay, final event of the day, to decide the meet. The Huskies' Larry Lumpkin will have to be in top form to hit the tape before Pasadena's Carlos Holguin in the hurdles.

Ivan Summers of P.C.C. is expected to press Don (9.6) Pitts, and Gil McFadden in the sprints, and Bulldog Dick Adams seems a cinch in the broad jump.

East Los Angeles Junior College's gym team, fresh from an impressive showing in the recent National J.C. gym meet, will shoot for honors in the forthcoming Pasadena Invitational on Friday, April 13.

In last Friday's National J.C. meet the Huskies garnered three first place individual honors and nabbed third place team laurels.

The first place winners for East L.A. were Footballer Leonard Burke in tumbling, Bob Toliver in free-exercise, and Carmen Sferrazza in the rings.

Los Angeles City College won the National title with 74 points. Pasadena was second with 72. East L.A. had 46 and fourth place Valley J.C. finished with 4 points.

OMEGA ED TUCKER UPSETS KAPPA WIN

By Phillis Scott

The 19th Annual Interfraternity Basketball Series opened at Loyola Gymnasium with a capacity crowd last Saturday night, March 31st. Drifting in fashionwise and fashion-less manner, spectators were in for many surprises during the evening.

Ernie Bond and Bobby Pounds lead the Sigmas to a narrow-edged victory over the Alpha five, who will definitely show this season with their new recruits and stellar veterans as Joe Oliver, Kenneth and Hugo Hill.

No small threat among Alpha players were Pleas Griffin and Ike Jones, who played beautiful basketball, and Fred Parrott. Though he didn't have much chance to show in the opening game. Sigma Doug Shaw will give any opponent a lot of trouble.

However, it was the second game which sent the cheering crowds to their feet as they watched Ed Tucker, the star player of the evening, pour ball after ball into the Omega basket. Tucker and Charles Reed of the Purple and Gold are two of the clearest thinking players on the court, along with Vernon Melton.

It is the opinion of basketball critics that Omega Psi Phi fraternity has another winning team this year. These "Gentlemen of Basketball" had a solid seven hundred cheering section behind them. They finished up the Omega-Kappa game with a 57 point win over a Kappa 47.

Veterans Gene Williams and Dave Williams of the Kappas are out for a Kappa Kup of victory this year. In the glamour corner Kappa cheerleaders added a new feature to the Oomph department when, in the second half of the double-liner, leg art to rival Hollywood was displayed. Bringing in favorable comments were the two piece ensembles of good taste worn by Alpha cheerleaders.

Andrew Wallace and this writer will be out Saturday night peeking at you when the Omegas will meet the Sigmas and the Alpha-Kappa classic will provide a lot of entertainment.

All American Squad

Two of the greatest floor men and playmakers of college basketball—Norman Pilgrim of Oklahoma A. and M. Bato Govedarica of De Paul—were added to the All-American squad which opened an 18-game, coast-to-coast series against the Harlem Globetrotters in Madison Square Garden Sunday afternoon (April 1) and includes a game at the Rose Bowl, Pasadena on April 9th.

Govedarica, captain of De Paul's Blue Demons the past season and for three years the leading scorer on his team, is a chunky, 5-11, 215-pounder, whose amazing versatility figured heavily in De Paul's campaigns through one of the most difficult schedules in the country.

Pilgrim, a hard-driving, 5-11 forward, was Oklahoma A and M.'s clutch performer in the drive to the Missouri Valley Conference title this year. Coming down the stretch, it was Pilgrim's 13 points that led the Aggies to a 49-48 triumph over Bradley at Peoria, his 21 led the way for a vital triumph over Wichita, and his 19 markers set the pace for the big 50-29 triumph at St. Louis that clinched the crown.

Addition of these two, plus Sam Ranzino, the unanimous All-American from North Carolina State who was selected for the full series, brings to 11 the roster of collegiate senior stars named for the series. Another half-dozen are still to be named for action during the tour.

Three Colleges To Play At Garden in '52

NEW YORK—Three New York City colleges which will play basketball at Madison Square Garden next season moved to guard against the gambling fixes that have jinxed the hoop leagues.

The colleges to play next year are St. John's university, New York university and Manhattan college. The three colleges pledged that:

1. A team member must report any fix approach, or be barred from competition.

2. No student may represent any organization other than his school in basketball.

There have been reports that students have received offers of bribe but did not report them.

McKinley District Scout Members Get Ready for Circus

Local Cub Scout Packs, Boy Scout Troops and Explorer Units began ringing doorbells here to sell tickets for the 1951 Scout Circus to be held April 27 and 28 in the Hollywood Bowl, following a kick-off dinner Thursday night in Belmont High school. Unit representatives from McKinley district, which includes this community and six other districts of the Los Angeles Area Boy Scout Council, were at the dinner.

O. D. Leas, Circus ticket sales chairman, presided over the program which included a talk by Boy Scout Gregory Karayan about the benefits the Scout Troop or other unit receives from selling Circus tickets. Young Karayan spoke of the money which units can earn on the bonus and commission plan and also of the experience in salesmanship its members gain. Units receive 10 per cent commission on all Circus tickets sold and 10 percent bonus on early returns.

Trotters Bag First Hoop Games In N. Y.

NEW YORK — The amazing Harlem Globetrotters scored first blood in their second annual transcontinental world series of basketball with the College All-Americans by whipping the great crop of 1951 Varsity aces 65 to 58 before a crowd of 17,114 at Madison Square Garden Sunday afternoon, April 1.

The Trotters amazed New Yorkers with the finest exhibition of playing wizardry and comedy relief.

Reece (Goose) Tatum, the incomparable, scored 10 full goals and 10 free throws for 30 points to pace both teams and crack the world series one-game point total of 27 set by Nat Clifton of last years Globetrotters.

Commission Head Recommend Title Vacated

More confusion was added to the lightweight picture this week. In Milwaukee the secretary of the Wisconsin boxing commission recommended this week that Ike Williams' lightweight title be vacated. Frad Saddy, also of Milwaukee and chairman of the NBA championship rating committee said he made the recommendation to NBA prexy Hindman after a poll showed most of his members favored taking the title . . . In the meanwhile the International Boxing club is expected to announce a championship bout for champion Williams against James Carter.

With this announcement the commission cancelled its suspension of Williams. He is scheduled to meet Fritzie Pruden in Chicago in two weeks.

Sportscript

They're Blowing the Breeze

That old hack about whether or not Joe Louis can beat Ezzard Charles is going the rounds again. . . . I for one think like Joe. . . . He may not beat the now champion of the world for whom he vacated a title, but it's two to one there'll be plenty of paying customers in there trying to see if Joe can make a comeback or not and that is just what Joe Louis wants them to do. . . . Its probably a good thing that Joe did lose to Charles because if he had won, just who would he be fighting now. . . . Just who is it for Charles to be fighting now for that matter. . . . Joe would still be a broke champion of the world. . . . At least now he has the customers speculating about his prospects and he is able to make the news columns pro and con. He got his weight down to 208, pretty trim for what they call an old man come May when Joe Louis Barrow will be 37 years old. . . . If they don't come back at least there'll be a fight when Joe steps into the ring against the wily Charles.

Inter-Fraternity Crowd

The interfraternity meetings got underway last week end at Loyola University. . . . The gym was too small and the crowd stood around the sidelines. . . . More than just a sporting event. . . . The ladies came out in finery. . . . Wouldn't you know that people like to be crowded together. . . . If there had been a larger gym to suit the crowd, many persons would have been skeptical of the success of the venture because of the empty seats. As it was everybody was happy.

Surprise of the boxing world this week was the retirement from the ring of John L. Davis, state lightweight and welter champion who has suffered a serious eye injury. Davis is No. 1 challenger for Ike Williams' world lightweight crown. Davis is said to be suffering from a detached retina. Davis is allegedly retiring at the advice of his manager and his doctor. He has a little record shop in Richmond, California, and is said to be fairly well fixed. . . . But Davis has three children and sending his sister through college. . . . This announcement was quite a blow to the fighter who was scheduled to fight Patty DeMarco in New York, April 27 and a tentative bout with Art Aragon.

The added military and civilian workers, are causing a drain on Holly- wood's entertainers. Creme Dell, lovely blonde scintilating dancer of considerable note, is bound to enliven things up Alaska way. Her contract calls for a six weeks engagement. Buddy Johnson Art Prysock Score A Hit

NEW YORK—Maestro Buddy Johnson and his great singing star, balladier Arthur Prysock, who are currently as hot as the proverbial two dollar pistol with a flock of Decca record hits, ap- pear to have hit the jackpot again with their revival of an old favorite of more than a dec- ade ago, "What Will I Tell My Heart?"

The youthful Prysock, 24-year- old idol of the swoon set, is be- ing hailed in music trade circles as the lad who is most likely to cop top singing honors for 1951. The nation's disc jockeys and his own fan following among the bobby-sox brigade already have catapulted him into the big- name vocal brackets.

Thanks to its revival by Pry- sock and the Johnson crew on their latest Decca waxing, "What Will I Tell My Heart" appears headed for a new popularity run on the "Hit Parade" this year.

Deeps To Tour England For Third Time

Kirkeby revealed that the "Deeps" are already set for 22 weeks of British bookings, which will include two weeks at the famed London Palladium and a 13-week tour of the Empire The- ater circuit. The group is rated one of the top American enter- tainment attractions at the Brit- ish box offices.

Sarah Vaughn Opens At Apollo Theatre

NEW YORK—Sarah Vaughan, the gone gal with the "Magic Voice," will return to the scene of the break that started her on the meteoric singing career when she takes to the stage of Har- lem's 125th Street Apollo Thea- ter for a week's engagement, opening Friday, April 6.

It was just six years ago that the divine Sarah trekked across the Hudson River from her home town of Newark, N. J., to com- pete in the Apollo's famed ama- teur contest. The rest of that tale is now musical history, for Sarah copped top honors among the Apollo amateur contenders that night and was promptly signed for her first professional singing job as vocalist with Earl Hines' band.

In her Apollo Theater en- gagement, Sarah will be paid her top salary of $4500 in addition to a percentage deal that may net her as high as $10,000 for the week, a far cry from her stature the first time she sang on the Apollo stage six years ago.

Henry Armstrong In Local Church

The former champion lightweight prize fighter, Henry Armstrong, has turned from the boxing ring to the Gospel pulpit.

The internationally known champion, now the Rev. Armstrong, will conduct special revival meetings in the Brethren Chapel, 6821 Hooper Avenue, beginning on Sunday, April 8th, speaking at the 11 o'clock service and also at the 7:30 hour. At the peak of his fighting career, Henry Armstrong held three world titles, namely the featherweight, the lightweight, and also the welterweight. By that time he was so well known that his manager booked him in many foreign cities, including Mexico City, Havanna, Cuba; London, and Paris.

But he quit the ring, and in 1948 he began preaching and giving his personal testimony of what Jesus Christ means to him. Since then he has been busy appearing in many of the major cities of our nation speaking to as many as 6000 persons at one time, telling them that Christ can deliver from sin, and that according to 1 Cor. 15:52 that same Christ will return to this earth, for His Own to to judge the world.

HENRY ARMSTRONG

Rev. J. Lincoln Oliver, pastor of the Brethren Chapel of 69th and Hooper Avenue considers it a real privilege to present Evangelist Henry Armstrong to the community in a week of Gospel services, and cordially invites the friends of the neighborhood to attend these meetings nightly at 7:30.

Mrs. Downing points ou that the renewal of vigor in the human world is accomplished by the unfailing appearance "of a succession of Great Souls especially appointed and empowered for the task. These Great Souls, who are men and yet more than men, are the key figures of history. It is they who inspire the onward movement of mankind and determine the manifold phases of human progress and enlightenment." They are the revealers of religion and the founders of civilization.

Gems of Thought

THE HOLLY BIBLE

It is impossible to mentally or socially enslave a Bible-reading people. The principles of the Bible are the groundwork of human freedom.—Horace Greeley

Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life; and they are they which testify of me. —St. John.

The Bible is the learned man's masterpiece, the ignorant man's dictionary, the wise man's directory. —Mary Baker Eddy

The Bible is the great book of yesterday, a greater book today, and with even more promise tomorrow, when man shall live in peace and brotherhood together if they will but accept its prophetic teachings.

—Senator James J. Davis

We might just as well try to take the brain out of men as to hope to eralicate the influence of the Bible from our business life. —Roger Babson

Christian Science Text

The Christly method of casting out that which is foreign to God's nature is considered in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Unreality" in all Christian Science churches.

This declaration from Matthew (7-19) is the Golden Text: "Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire."

The Scriptural selections include Paul's counsel to the Ephesians: "Be ye therefore followers of God, as dear children; . . . And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them. . . . Wherefore he saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light" (5:1, 11, 14).

Correlative citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Lulled by stupefying illusions, the world is asleep in the cradle of infancy, dreaming away the hours. Material sense does not unfold the facts of existence; but spiritual sense lifts human consciousness into eternal Truth" (p. 95).

"Seven Last Words" at 7th Day Adventist Ch.

The distinguished oratorio of the "Seven Last Words" of Christ generally presented at Eastertide, is being given at the Berean Seventh Day Adventist Church, 1446 West 36th Place.

Instead of presenting the complete oratorio at one time, each of the "Seven Words" is being sung on successive Sabbaths (Saturdays), by the choir of the church, during the 11 a.m. devotional service.

Mr. Harvey Huggins, former professor of music at Los Angeles Academy, directs the choir.

We demand the conclusion of a PACT OF PEACE among the five great powers, the United States of America, Soviet Union, Chinese People's Republic, Great Britain and France.

"We shall regard refusal by the Government of any great power ot meet for the purpose of concluding a Pact of Peace as evidence of aggressive design on the part of the given Government.

"We call upon all peace-locing nations to support this demand for the conclusion of a Pact of Peace, which should be open to all countries.

"We append our names to this Appeal and we call upon all men and women of goodwill, all organizations seeking to strengthen peace, to sign it."

Responding to the Appeal of the World Council, we members of the Secretariat of the W.F.D.Y. and national representatives present, sign in favor of the conclusion of a Peace Pact.

We call upon all youth of good will, upon all organizations with young people in their ranks, irrespective of different opinions on the causes of the present threat of a new world war, to sign and to collect signatures for this Appeal.

Youth of all countries, let us unite with all honest people to safeguard peace, for the signing of a PACT OF PEACE!

PEN PALS CORNER

By BARBARA ANDERZA

How'd you like last week's column? Leodiores Mourney wrote it you know. . . . There is someone , and I mean someone really special, with whom I should like to make connection. His dream of a little name is Tip Bailer. . . . Last Saturday nite St. Odelia gave a real fine barn dance. Gee!!! Just about everyone was there. To name a few: Loraine Mouton, Elmer Matt, Andrey Springs, Louie Carmichail, Donald McAllister, Eugene and Dorthy Crawford, Herbert LeMille, Leah Center, Opal Wright, Bernard Bruce(that handsome little devil), and Leroy Williams who trudged in lookin miserable, forlorn, chewed up. Oh, just plain beat because that gal of his heart, Greta Greene simply untied the knot. . . . Donald MacAllister wishes to relate the good news . . . the great news . . . and here it is. I quote, "I am now a free as well as a handsome man and quite eligible for Canaty's coming prom." (unquote). Ain't that something? huh.

Lover Man

Dimples!!! gallore, about 5 ft 10½, olive complexion, age about 17 years, student of Cathedral, dark brown hair and eyes. One teaspoon of humor plue a tablespoon of dazzling personality mixed real well.

Julian Smith

(You can bet your boots that he's the talk of the town.)

Jody Clark practically got down on bendede knee to beg me to tell all of you that her new found love is Leroy Jones. (Now ain't that sweet). . . . Ole Dorothy Johnson has just about everyone in a tissil. Everyone means boys only you know. . . . That ole Ronnie Clark didn't even tell me that he was elected vice-prexy of the student body. . . . I think that Charles Gray has kinda got a itch for L. M. That gives you two guesses.

Here's a poem that Jody Clark asked me to dedicate to Selvin Norman.

Are you angry with me darling?
Are you sorry that we met?
Have you learned to love another?
Has she taught you to forget?

I think that God above
Created you for me to love
He chose you from all the rest
Knowing that I love you best
Other arms may hold you
Other lips may press to thine
But no other heart can love you
Like this broken heart of mine.

I had a heart that was true
But now it's gone—gone to you
Take care of it darling as I have done
For you have two and I have none.

Sorry, Ican't find out just who the author is. I wonder what handsome ole Ellie Guiles is doin? . . . Guess who came in from Heaven just the other day? Yep that's right, Miss Lydia Anne Moore. She's a couple of days old now.

Harold Burbank—Phyllis Grey, "If."

Billie Jeffery—Howard Bright, "I Love You, Yes, I Do."

Melvin Lewis—Nellie Lewis, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Lorraine Murphy—Cecear Stafford, "Way Up High."

Jean Hampton—Ben Hoskins, "Tonight of All Nites."

You know everybody's talkin' about Phyllis Quenny and Herman Warren. They say there is a marriage in their future. Lou Ann Patterson and Willie Lee Jackson are real coo coo about one another.

Welp, I guess that is all. See ya later.

Barbara, CE. 29822.

P. S. Harold Burbank is a life guard but can't swim, just stands on shore and rescues the girls as the life guard brings them up out of the water.

The latest news of all the whole year is that Vivian Robinson and Shirley Alexander put Donald McAllister and Lanie Carmichael down. So all the little girls can now take their phone numbers out of mothballs.

Certain people are very much puzzled about who the latest flame of Shirley Alexander is. The only clue that she's giving is that he lives on East 51st street.

Walter Floyd was seen at the basketball game with big Valeria Johnson. What's the matter, Walter? You're slipping.

Ralph Crawford has gone and joined the navy. Good luck, Ralph.

Camp Fire Girls

Each year the Los Angeles Area Council of Camp Fire Girls features a fund raising project through its annual candy sade. Camp Fire Girls is a community Chest agency. The Chest drive did not reach its goal and the 1951 budget of Camp Fire Girls and other youth agencies will be reduced. To meet the pressing need of serving more girls in our community and maintain the high standard of our program at the same time, the funds from this drive will be used to supplement our budget and extend the program by providing additional staff.

The product, a 1 lb. box of wholesome, crystal clear candy is well worth the sales price of 80 cents. The boxes are especially designed by the Bishop Candy Company for the sale, and they tell the whole story of Camp Fire in pictures.

Camp Fire is extending its program in the Watts District with the establishment of more groups for girls. A training program for prospective leaders was begun in March at Hope Youth Center and it is through the work and interest of these women that the girls in the Watts District will have the opportunity to enjoy such a program and thus participate in the Candy Sale.

Eight cents for each package sold belongs to the individual girl to be used in the group. Each group will decide its own project.

The Candy sale begins Monday, April 9, 1951, so, when a little Camp Fire girl comes to your door and asks you to buy a box of candy, remember, you as a citizen and parent of this community can help your girls by supporting this project.

Inspector General At Atlanta University

ATLANTA, Georgia—"If Europe does not get united, it does not have a chance to survive," Dr. Robert Lacour-Gayet, Inspector General of Finances of France, told the students and faculties of the Atlanta University System. The speaker also asserted that the time has come for France and Germany to get together.

In a convocation address on "France in the Past Half Century," Dr. Lacour-Gayet made the observation that the French people have a greater sense of reality in 1951 than they had in 1901.

Dr. Lacour-Gayet, who has been connected with the office of "l'Inspection Genorale des Finances" in Franco since 1921, believes that the great problem today in France is essentially social.

AME Zion Bishop Medford Reports on Africa

Bishop H. T. Medford, presiding prelate of the 12th Episcopal District, A.M.E. Zion Church, comprising four African Conferences, arrived in Washington, Saturday morning, March 24th, after spending almost two months reviewing the work of the denomination in Africa.

He flew from LaGuardia Field, New York, February 1st and arrived at Roberts Field, Monrovia, Liberia, February 3rd. While in Monrovia, he held the Liberia J. W. Brown Memorial Church where the conference was held.

The most striking thing done in Liberia was the purchase of one hundred acres of land thirteen miles from Brewerville for a future school site. It is believed that this site will be the outstanding achievement of the Church in this area due to the fact that the railroad which will serve this area comes through this strip of land the national highway will skirt it, making it possible for students and teachers to reach it conveniently.

The reports showed that the membership of the church is well in excess of 25,000. The power the church has been able to wield on the country is best told in the economic and political life. Listed among the members of the church are quite a few business men, representing all of the businesses found there. The political imprint is attested to by the fact that the natives, spurred by the independence of the A.M.E. Zion Church, have foungt for independence in the Gold Coast Area.

Wwame Nkrumah, a graduate of Lincoln University and the University of Pennsylvania, was elected president of the Gold Coast West Africa Congress. Bishop Medford talked with this leader during his previous trip. Nkrumah carried on his relentless fight to have self government to such an extent he was thrown in jail. His followers continued to work and it was while he was in jail that he was elected while still in prison.

THE THIRD SIDE

By Harris M. Ring

A picture in one of the papers shows beauty Dolores Dietrich in a costume made entirely of clippings of newspaper nameplates. She is designated as "Miss Newspaper of California" in behalf of the California Newspaper Publishers' Association.

Another picture in another paper shows bathing beauty Barbara Payton in an abbreviated costume of newspaper clippings. She is drawing attention to—besides her charms—the Los Angeles Advertising Club Ad-Traction Costume Ball.

A very lucky fellow these days, no doubt, is the press censor, snooping about with blue pencil and scissors in hand.

All of which brings us to:

Because of the nature of her attire
It's not strange that it caught fire,

Booker Washington's Birthday Celebrated

BOOKER WASHINGTON BIRTHPLACE, Va.—S. J. Phillips, president of the Booker T. Washington Birthplace Memorial, announced that the 94th birthday of the great educator was observed as a part of the sixth annual celebration at his birthplace in Franklin County, Virginia.

It consisted of a two-day event. On the afternoon of Sunday, April 1, there was a consolidated inspirational meeting with various groups participating. On Thursday, April 5, which is the accepted birthday of Booker T. Washington, schools and various organizations are being invited to participate as they have done in previous years.

Phillips said that the central theme for this year's celebration will be: "Americanism and Self-reliance." This theme is based on the newly established program, S E C P, which stands for skilled employment for colored people. The purpose of the S E C P program is to assist with national defense.

Election Returns

Don Allen, 7th Councilmanic District; Kenneth Hahn, 8th District; and Edward Roybal, 9th District, were three of the twelve members of the City Council who were re-elected in the election last Tuesday. Vernon Kilpatrick, in the 10th District, received 5301 votes; and Charles Navarro, 5077. These were the highest candidates in a total of five. The successful candidate will be selected in the May election. G. Vernon Bnennett, incumbent, was defeated.

In the election for the Board of Education, Gertrude Rounsavelle faces a run-off with Arthur F. Gardner; and Lawrence L. Larrabee will face aPul Burke. The other candidates were re-elected last Tuesday.

The three bond issues, for a music center, a sports center, and slum clearance, were defeated. A complete analysis of the election returns will be given in next week's issue of the EAGLE. The voting was very light, only about 40 per cent of those qualified to vote took the trouble to walk a few blocks and register their choice for a candidate.

High Awards at AU

Merton D. Simpson, Hale A. Woodruff, William E. Artis and Charles White all now residing in the state of New York were named winners of high awards at Atlanta University's Tenth Annual Exhibition of Paintings, Sculpture and Prints by Negro Artists which opened to the public April 1 in the Exhibition Gallery on the Atlanta University campus.

Simpson who lives in Brooklyn won the choice John Hope Landscape Award of $250 for his "Landscape Symphony," an abstract; Woodruff, a greenwich villager now teaching at New York University, won the $150 Atlanta University Award in Oils (any subject) for "The Yellow Bird"; Artis of Syracuse was adjudged winner of the First Atlanta University Sculpture Award of $250 for his crouching figure carved in stone which he calls "The Quiet One"; and White who resides in New York City captured the top award of $25 in the graphic arts for his lithograph, "John Brown."

Largest cash award of $300 for the best figure painting in the show was won by Walter A. Simon of Petersburg, Virginia, for his work, "String Dance." Simon, like Woodruff, has formerly taught at Atlanta University but is now on the faculty of Virginia State College.

In the water colors, Donald H. Roberts of Washington, D. C., won the first Atlanta University Award of $125 for his painting, "Peace, It's Wonderful"; and Gladys Williams Renwick of Lincoln University (Pennsylvania) won the second award of $75 for her painting titled "Kirks Mill."

Other winners were Charles W. Stallings in Baltimore, Maryland, who won a Sculpture prize of $100 for his wood carving called "Tragic Figure"; Charles W. Enoch, Jr., of Cincinnati, who won an award of $15 in the graphic arts for a lithograph, "The Combo"; and John Wilson of Roxbury, Massachusetts, who received an award of $10 in the graphic arts for a lithograph which he called "Trabajador."

Judges serving for the 1951 show were Miss Mary E. Hutchinson, Mr. Ben E. Shute, and Mr. Lewis P. Skidmore of Atlanta.

FAITH

Faith holds on and prevails. Its strength is in its power to wait. Faith stakes everything on the ultimate. It does not make our hectic days . . . it works to solve our problems and give us courage.

When you are doing the thing that is right, you are to go straight ahead, putting all the strength you have into whatever it might be, and believing in yourself that your faith will carry you through.

Remember, unbelief judges everything immediately . . . Faith, stakes everything on the ultimate.

R. W. Dear Prof. Herman: I read your column each week and find it very interesting, please advise me regarding my problem. Will I ever be successful in life?

Ans. Probing into the matter I find that your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planet indicate many changes in your life and that you may find the happiness and success in your endeavors very soon. You must not get discouraged, have a little more confidence in your own ability to succeed.

M. B. H. Will he ever marry me?

Ans. Concentrating upon your question I find that you have been going with a man you are quite fond of for quite sometime. You want to get married and be a wife to him, but he doesn't seem to see it that way. However, I feel that as soon as he gets on a better financial footing, he will ask you to marry him.

Mrs. C. W. What should I do about my problem?

Ans. After giving your question careful thought and consideration I find that you are confused as to just what steps to take regarding the situation that is now confronting you. But, I feel that such tnihgs have a way of working themselves out. Therefore, I suggest your waiting at least another 2 weeks before making any definite decision.

M. M. J. What will be the outcome?

Ans. It seems to me that since you are only 18 years of age and have a young son 2 months old to support, you should plan to attend some night school, and take up some course of study that would help you. As to the child's father, if he continues to not show any interest, then it might be wise to consider finding a new friend, one that you know will respect you, and be considerate of your welfare.

"GRACE"

Have you ever stopped to think about the Grace and Promises of God. His grace is all sufficient for all things that may come into our life. When all other helpers fail, He will not fail . . . but pour into our lives all the grace we require.

What opportunities we may seize day by day to abound in loving service for others. There is no need for stagnation in our lives, for there are lonely hearts to cherish all about us.

This loving grace is a promise we may daily claim. The blessings offered us are ours for the asking. May we learn to be thankful for these and all other goodnesses that enter our midst each hour of the day.

C. T.—Dear Prof. Herman: It has been quite sometime since I called upon you for advice, not because I didn't need it . . . but, I realize what a busy man you are and know that you have many more questions to place in your column, than you have space to accommodate. However, if you can, will you PLEASE help me with this question. Will they ever come back here to live?

ANS. I am of the opinion that their intentions are to return to Chicago, in the very near future. Write in for a private reply so that I can take more space to answer and help you with your problems.

L. D.—Will I ever be able to find the type of young women I desire?

ANS. After giving your question careful thought and consideration I find that you have been having some trouble in finding a suitable mate. Apparently, your qualifications are a little stiff, and it will take a little longer to find someone that truly meets with your expectations. But you are wise to wait, rather than marry someone that you don't love, for you would not find happiness with them.

M. R.—Will we ever own a home?

ANS. Concentrating upon your question I find that while you ask me about buying a home . . . you also want to know if your husband is faithful and sincere in his feelings for you. I would like to help you, but space does not permit it at this time. If you will write to me in care of this paper, sending your ful name, address and birthdate, I shall be glad to advise you. 3 questions are answered for 25c, 6 for 50c etc.

Report From Sacramento

By Augustus F. Hawkins

Re-apportionment and loyalty oaths still occupy the Legislative spotlight as the Legislature grinds into its fourth week without having made any final decisions on major bills. As tempers flared and debate waxed hot, seasoned observers in Sacramento predicted that this would easily be the most controversial and toughest session in the State's history.

Both the 62nd Assembly District (Los Angeles), represented by Augustus Hawkins; and the 17th (Oakland-Berkeley), represented by Byron Rumford, were enlarged as a result of the rapid growth in population, but remain liberal in make-up and composed largely of minority people. In addition, the new 55th District located in Watts and the southeast section will greatly increase the political influence in this area. Downtown Los Angeles, including "Little Tokyo," has been joined with liberal Boyle Heights to constitute the new 40th, thereby becoming the most politically alert and cosmopolitan district in the State.

The West Adams District (63rd) continues to contain a large section of Negroes, over 50,000, but is extended westward along Exposition and Adams Boulevards, which is also the direction of minority expansion.

The greatest proposed changes occur in the 14th Congressional District which, after including all of the 62nd, will stretch down to Venice and then through Culver City to the liberal Beverly-Fairfax section. Hereafter, it will be known as the 26th District.

Nat'l Lawyers Guild Fights for McGee

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The National Lawyers' Guild, one of the leading lawyers' organizations in the country, has asked Gov. Fielding Wright of Jackson, Miss., for an appointment for a committee of nationally-known lawyers to discuss the case of Willie McGee, Mississippi Negro worker facing death for alleged rape.

Thomas I Emerson, president of the Guild and professor of law at Yale University, wrote Gov. Wright that the lawyers' committee "seeks an opportunity to state why they believe executive clemency should be granted."

Emerson said, "Since death sentence has never been applied in Mississippi to a white defendant convicted of rape, the conclusion seems inescapable that intentional and purposeful discrimination has been practiced."

The Civil Rights Congress, which has led the long five-year fight to save McGee from death, has reported many additional protests in the campaign to save McGee.

Willie McGee's Sister-in-Law Tells Story of Deep South to Eagle Editor

Mrs. Juanita McGee, wife of Jasper McGee, and the sister-in-law of Willie McGee, condemned to die in Mississippi on a trumped-up rape charge, visited the EAGLE office this week in company with two other young women and told the EAGLE editor a blood curdling story of her experiences in that state in the Deep South, and of life in general in this section of America.

She told how police entered her home and demanded that she surrender her body to them while her husband was away in the U.S. Army. When she resisted they threatened: "We got your brother and if you ain't damn careful we'll get you."

She described how Negroes are hounded by policemen and by white men—even little children. How she was constantly followed and annoyed by this policeman whom she had turned down. He would sign for a ticket on [illegible] the street, threaten her, and use the vilest kind of language.

"I told him," she said, "that I never had anything to do with a white man. That I never wanted a white man."

"Oh," he'd sneer, "so I guess

Canal Zone Bias Cited in Crisis

NEW YORK— On the Isthmus of Panama the U. S. Government sponsored system of discrimination and segregation not only threatens the safety of the vitally important Panama Canal but it has international repercussions," writes George W. Westerman, Panama City journalist, in his article, "Canal Zone Discrimination," in the April issue of The Crisis, official organ of National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Calif. Districts in Reapportionment Bill, "Crazy Quilt," Says Leader

"The boundaries for Congressional and Assembly districts in California, as provided by the bill now being debated at Sacramento, are drawn as haphazardly as pieces in a crazy quilt," Glenn M. Anderson, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, charged this week.

The Reapportionment Bill referred to by Anderson recently passed the State Assembly and is now before the State Senate. A re-drawing of Assembly and Congressional District lines is necessitated by the huge population increase in California during the past ten years and which now entitles this state to have seven additional Congressmen.

"Scores of communities throughout the State are becoming slowly but painfully aware," Anderson declared, "that their community interests have been drawn and quartered to secure personal political advantage for a few selfish legislators. Typical of a dozen such instances here in Los Angeles County, one community of 50,000 population has been split into three Assembly Districts and two Congressional Districts."

Many civic groups in such communities, including Cham-

Farmers Free On Rubber Check Charge

Despite testimony of police handwriting experts that a check allegedly used to effect a sale of farm implements was written by one of the two defendants before him, facing charges of grand theft, Superior Judge Edwin L. Jefferson, hearing the case without a jury last Monday, discharged the men, William Lattimore, Antelope Valley chicken rancher and O. W. Fisher, a farmer in the Gardena farming district.

Atty. Earl G. Broady, appearing for the two farmer defendants, successfully withstood the charges of police, who charged

Move on to Print Election Notices In Communities

The publication of the lists of election officers in local and community newspapers rather than in a single downtown "legal" paper as is now the practice, was favored today by the Board of Supervisors.

The Board, on motion of Supervisor Leonard Roach, went on record for Assembly Bill 2889 by Vincent Thomas of San Pedro, which provides for localized publication of election notices. The bill passed the Assembly yesterday and is now in the State Senate.

Wealthy Couple's Matrimonial Ship On Rocks

The contested divorce trial of Orbie A. Harris, 54 year old waiter, and his wife Evelyn, 52, is scheduled to be aired in Superior Court Monday. Mrs. Harris filed a complaint for separate maintenance last September 6th and her husband countered with a cross-complaint for divorce.

Represented by Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr., the husband is expected to stoutly deny his wife's charges of cruelty at the trial.

The wife alleged in her complaint that the couple owned a home at 2021 West 35th Place, a mortgage on real property in the amount of $1500, a 1950 Studebaker valued at $1,000 and cash and insurance in the sum of approximately $10,000. In addition to that, he earns $900 a month at the Tail of the Cock, where he is employed as a waiter, the complaint stated.

The trial is expected to last several days.

Membership Drive Starts For Negro Labor Council

Formal applications for membership in the Los Angeles Negro Council are being sent out this week to the hundreds who originally filled out the temporary blanks used because there hadn't been time for the printer to get the forms finished.

Bearing the famous words of Frederick Douglass, "Without struggle there is no progress," the applications carry the program of the council:

To organized trade unions, in the city and county of Los Angeles; to obtain and protect the economic, political and social rights of the Negro wage earners, and to promote full participation by Negro workers in the trade union movement.

To organize the Negro community in support of labor.

To struggle for jobs for Negro workers.

To break through Jim Crow industry and force employment of Negro workers.

To promote the rights of Negro

A full anti-discrimination program has been introduced into Legislature now meeting in Sacramento. Korean Peace Seen

Seasoned politicians see in the removal of General Douglas MacArthur from his position of commander-in-chief of the United Nations forces in Korea, a hope for peace in the Korean situation.

Truman's Ouster of MacArthur May Be New Policy Move

Early yesterday morning (Wednesday, April 12) President Truman sent General MacArthur notice that he would be replaced as supreme commander, Allied Powers (in Japan); commander-in-chief, United Nations command (Korea); commander-in-chief, Far East; and commanding general, U.S. Army, Far East.

Gen. MacArthur was deprived of these four jobs in one with "deep regret", President Truman said, because the general "is unable to give his wholehearted support to the policies of the U.S. government and the United Nations."

President Truman and the administration has been trying to confine the present conflict in Korea. MacArthur wanted to take it to Manchuria and even China. President Truman has been trying to prevent World War III. MacArthur maintains that if a third war is inevitable, it should start in Asia. Spurred by the diligent efforts of Atty. Rayfield Lundy, a group is functioning to arrange a mass meeting to discuss the effects of the recent California Legislative body in reapportioning the state's legislative and congressional districts here in Los Angeles county.

NAACP Branches Rally to Fight Jim Crow in Draft Bill

NEW YORK—In an effort to defeat the pro-segregation amendment to the draft-UMT bill, Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called upon 175 NAACP branches in key cities and states to send representatives to Washington, to lobby against the proposal introduced by Representative Arthur Winstead, Mississippi Democrat.

The NAACP is not only opposing the Winstead amendment but is also campaigning to secure passage of an anti-mob violence amendment to protect Negro soldiers in the South.

SIX YEARS AGO

Six years ago today, April 12, 1945, President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, died at Warm Springs, Georgia.

The heart of the common people of all the world bowed in grief as the news came over the wires and through the air.

They had lost their best friend!

In the last speech that he was to have made, he spoke of peace. World peace, the theme closest to his heart.

How far have we strayed in these six years!

The SIDEWALK

By C.A.B.

A few days ago when the Third District Court of Appeals found the University of California loyalty oath unconstitutional, and ordered it to rehire Edward C. Tolman, Arthur H. Brayfield, Hubert S. Coffey, Leonard A. Doyle, Ledwig Edelstein, Edwin S. Fussell, Margaret T. Hodgen, Ernest H. Kantorowiez, Harold W. Lewis, Hans Lewy, Jacob Loewenberg, Charles S. Muscantine, John M. O'Garman, Stefan Peters, Brewster Rogerson, Edward Hetzel, Schafer, Paupline Sperry, and Gian Carlo Wick, a ray of hope was expressed by many that the American people, at least some of them, were beginning to understand that their loyalty to the government cannot be judged by loyalty oaths they are forced to sign.

The Court held that the special University of California loyalty oath was in violation of Section 3, Article XX, of the California Constitution which provides an oath for all public officers. The section reads: "No other oath, declaration, or test shall be required."

In the opinion of the Court this pledge provided by the Constitution is the "highest loyalty that can be demonstrated," and the imposition of "any more inclusive test would be the forerunner of tyranny and opposition."

But despite the Court's ruling, the State Senate in Sacramento was asked this week to urge the University of California Board of Regents to appeal Friday's Appellate Court ruling. These senators want to take the case to the State Supreme Court, and a resolution stating that the findings of the Court of Appeals "cast grave doubts as to the application of the State loyalty oath to other personse," expresses the opinion that the highest court in the State should decide the question.

The people who are united in the struggle to bring peace to a war-torn world saw in this decision of the Appelate Court a move in the direction of peace.

But such performances as this by our State Senate make the people feel that their representatives in the State Legislature and in the Congress are less inclined to serve their needs than they are to promote confusion and hate campaigns that disrupt the morale of the country.

The administration at Sacramento, as well as in Washington, apparently feel that the best service they can render the people is through loyalty tests, Un-American Activities investigations in the Hollywood Movie Colony, deportation of the foreign born, and police brutality directed mainly at Mexican-Americans and the Negro people.

All Americans are feeling the brunt of such persecutions.

There is nothing in the national or local situation which justifies terror tactics such as used against the 18 University of California faculty members. Neither is there any justification in the treatment of Willie McGee, the Trenton Six, the wholesale seizure of passports from Mrs. Threse Robinson, of Washington, D. C., who is national head of the Civil Liberties, Order of Elks of the World, and the editor and publisher of this newspaper.

In the eyes of Washington, the crime committed by these women is that they speak for peace and contend that Human Rights and the Dignity of Equality of Citizenship are the heritage of all Americans.

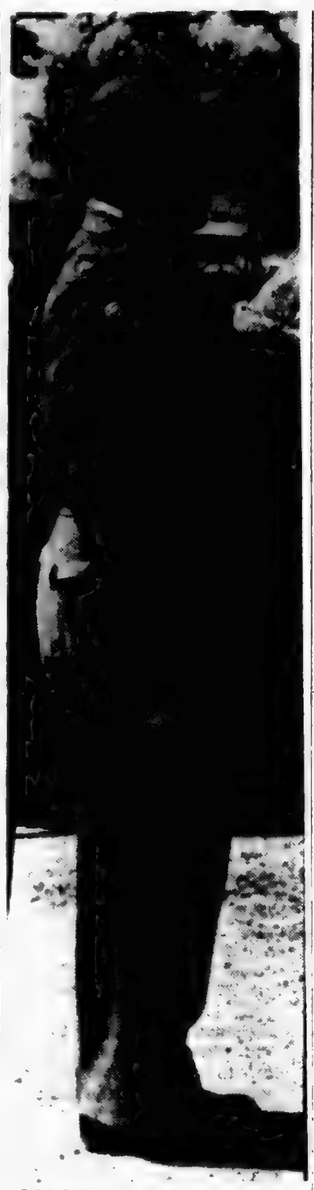
you want some of those damn n-----, don't you?"



The men in her family, who would protect their women under such circumstances in an ordinary American family, were powerless. They did not dare say anything. Or do anything. Why? It would have meant death to them. Resisting an officer, you know.

The Negro men in the Deep South are not better protected, however, if a white woman decides she wants a Negro "lover." As is the case with Willie McGee. Refuse a white woman's invitation, and the almost certain result will be the cry of "rape."

And if once that dreaded word is uttered in the South, it means a lynching. Burned to death. All the horrible things one has ever read about or heard about the South.

That is the case of Willie McGee. Accused by a white woman of rape, he was sentenced to death by a jury of white men and women. He has declared his innocence again and again. His wife, Mrs. Rosalee McGee, has told how this white woman, Mrs. Troy Hawkins, pursued him How he tried to get away from her. How she finally, stung by his refusals, accused him of rape. And now he is being railroaded to death in the gas chamber in Mississippi, a victim of legal lynching

All the world has been aroused by this injustice And all the world is writing, wiring, calling President Truman to extend executive clemency to Willie McGee to save his life. Mrs. Juanita McGee, the sister-in-law; Mrs. Rosalee McGee the wife, and all the friends and lovers of justice ask each and everyone to write President Truman to save the life of Willie McGee bers of Commerce, City Councils, and others, have been bombarding the Legislature with demands for a more equitable plan. Anderson said, but the majority leadership at Sacramento has obstinately refused to consider any suggestion or amendment.

"Under the circumstances," Anderson said, "an investigation by the Celler Committee of the U. S. Congress seems urgently called for. The Celler Bill would require that new districts be 'compact' and that population in each district should not be more than 15% above or below the average for the state. Ten of the twelve Congressional Districts in Los Angeles County alone are now to be divided in direct violation of this '15% deviation' provision."

Individuals as well as civic groups are urged to protest to their representatives at Sacramento. Anderson concluded. "Otherwise," he said, "the 'California Crazy Quilt' may replace the old and ugly word 'Gerrymander' as a term to describe districts whose boundaries are drawn solely for partisan political advantage."

To Plan Defense Of International Workers Order

A conference for the defense of the International Workers Order will be held Wednesday, April 18, 8 p.m. in the California Room of the Alexandria Room.

The International Workers Order, a nationwide fraternal insurance organization, with 160,000 members in 15 nationality groups, is threatened with liquidation by the Dewey-appointed Insurance Commissioner of New York State, under whose laws the Order is incorporated.

At stake are the policies of 160,000 workers, who have insurance at one-third the commercial rates; policies of older people who have paid premiums for a lifetime; of Negroes and workers in hazardous industries who are discriminated against and pay higher rates in commercial companies.

At stake also is the principle of free association. The New York State Administration, speaking for reactionary forces throughout the land, is attempting to crush an organization which has been in the forefront of the fight for the trade unions, for social security, for civil liberties, for the rights of the Negro people and all minorities, and for understanding between nations.

The local conference is called in the name of Rockwell Kent, national president of the I.W.O.

Speakers include Robert W. Kenny, Hugh MacBeth, Sr., representatives of the I.W.O. and other community leaders.

Individuals and organizations are urged to attend this conference.

"Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune has not only witnessed progress, she has helped make it. Today, at seventy-five, this woman—born in a cabin on a South Carlina plantation to parents not long out of slavery—is loved and followed. . . . She will find a place in history because of what she, as a Negro, has done for America's 13,000,000 Negroes."

The two hours of grilling of the effictiveness of handwriting as positive identifying proof of guilt by Atty. Broady furnished the highlight of the trial. Neither of the defendants was put on the stand by Atty. Broady. The court ordered the charges dismissed and discharged.

that discrimination is occasional and exceptional, and that legislation is not the solution. This contention is often supported by illogically citing "unlimited" opportunities afforded outstanding Negroes such as Dr. Ralph Bunche and Judge William Hastie.

Since we started this fight in 1945, many unions have seen fit to have discriminatory practices removed in compliance with the sound public policy expressed in the FEPC proposal. Numerous companies have instituted counter campaigns by removing what they felt might be damaging evidence of discrimination, even the Legislature felt inclined to allow several laws to be passed as "atonement" for the defeat of strong FEPC bills.

Yet the battle is far from being won. On our side we need constantly to document new and additional facts to back up our legislative drives. We need to disclose any and all violations of our civil rights or rights to work and live. We need all the information obtainable on cases of discrimination, together with names, dates and places, wherever possible. Such material helps me to better present remedial legislation or to obtain a correction of the problem by other means.

Jean Field Meet

The sensational case of Jean Field, whose two children were taken from her because she taught them that all men are equal and that we should have peace in the world, was brought into full focus Tuesday evening at a meeting held in the Hamilton M.E. Church, of which the Rev. Turpeau is pastor.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Jean Field Committee whose headquarters are located at 1149 North Hoover St., Los Angeles 27, NOrmandy 1-4395.

The story of the young mother was brought out fully. Her husband left her ten years ago with their two small children. Last year for the first time their grandparents in Oklahoma asked the children to visit them. While they were in Oklahoma, they wrote letters to their mother, expressing concern at some of the things they saw in Oklahoma—discrimination as regards to Negroes, the constant talk of war, etc.

The letters she wrote in answer to their queries were held against her when she tried to re-claim her children. Her husband and his parents now say she is not a fit mother for those young children. And the court has sustained them!

It is this fight which the Jean Field Committee is now sponsoring—the fight to regain her own, Jay, thirteen; and Mary Kay, ten.

More of this fight and of the meeting Tuesday will appear in next week's issue of the EAGLE.

Wife Loses Plea In Assault Case

Accusations against her estranged husband made by Mrs. Long proved fruitless when Eddie D. Long appeared in Superior Court here last Thursday to answer charges of felonious assault. Judge Otto Emme dismissed the charges after hearing testimony of the witnesses.

Mrs. Long testified she had been subjected to a severe beating at the hands of her spouse intheir home on East 56th street last January. She said that on the occasion of the beating, her husband had made false accusations against her. When she denied them, she stated, he became angered and struck her repeatedly.

Atty. Earl C. Broady, who represented the defendant, Eddie Long, wrung from Mrs. Long while she was being cross examined, the fact that a divorce was pending between her and her husband, and the admission that for the past six months she had lived at home with her spouse.

The plaintiff, Mrs. Long, further admitted, that on the day on which the alleged attack occurred she had returned to their home. Long, who was called to the stand by Atty. Broady, testified that he and his wife engaged in an argument. He said his wife ran into the kitchen, seizing a butcher knife and attempted to cut him.

Long further testified, that if Mrs. Long received any injuries, it must have occured when he wrested the knife from her grasp. Mrs. Long, in her complaint to police last January, complained that she suffered a broken nose and injuries to both her eyes.

Atty. Broady was successful in convincing the court that Mrs. Long did not suffer a broken nose, and pointed out to the evident satisfaction of Judge Emme, that the charges were a frameup on the part of the wife, to bolster her efforts to get property valued at $15,000 pending the divorce action.

new 26th district. From appearances, the reapportionment seems to have doomed chances of elected a Negro to that congress seat.

However, Atty. Lundy pointed out, chances for the election or control of the newly created 23rd congress seat in the South Los Angeles-Watts area appear to have been greatly enhanced. In that same area, it appears a certainty a Negro might be elected to the newly apportioned 55th Assembly district. The 62nd Assembly district seat, currently held by Assemblyman August H. Hawkins seems secure. The mass meet is tentatively set for May 27.

Frameup of Negro Youths on Rape Charges Reversed

With the news that the U. S Supreme Court had recently reversed the frame-up conviction of three innocent Negro youths known as the "Groveland (Fla.) Three," on alleged rape charges the Civil Rights Congress, thru its national executive secretary William L. Patterson, made this statement:

"The reversal of the Groveland Three frame-up by the Supreme Court is a direct result of a growing unity on the part of millions of Negro and white Americans against the racist system of legal lynchings.

"That unity, which developed to a high point during the recent battle to save the lives of the Martinsville (Va.) Martyrs, must reach such proportions in the next few weeks as will enable the American people to save the life of another innocent frame-up victim, Willie McGee."

Patterson was referring to the Mississippi Negro veteran and father of four children, Willie McGee, whose latest execution date has been set for May 8, 1951; in the face of mounting protests from across the nation and the world.

eign policy. He acted without authority, and made offers to the Chinese and Asians that the U.S. government could not fulfill.

Consequently, as in the case of and ordinary GI who persistently disobeyed the order of his superiors, President Truman was finally forced to fire him.

MacArthur's removal aroused the world like the explosion of an atom bomb. England was delighted. So, generally, was all Europe. It seems like a step in the direction of peace. General Ridgeway who conducted the UN army in Korea, has replaced MacArthur. Ridgeway seems more inclined to talk things over instead of killing, which was the MacArthur policy. So all these who have hoped and prayed for peace so long, have welcomed the news of MacArthur's replacement with a profound feeling of thankfulness.

Communist Party Declares McCarran Act Unconstitutional

Reaffirming its charge that the McCarran Act is unconstitutional and an attack on the liberties of the whole American people, the Communist Party today filed its formal answer to the Attorney General's petition asking the Subversive Activities Control Board to order it to register.

The aPrty at the same time announced that it would participate in the scheduled SACB hearings "under sharpest protest." The farcial character of such a hearing," it said, "is apparent on its face. For the McCarran Act is a law with a built-in verdict. The Act itself is predicated upon, and contains explicitly, exactly the slanderous characterization of the Communist Party as a 'conspiracy' and 'foreign agent' that the Board is now supposed solemnly to pass upon.

Nor is this all. Contempt for the law and the Constitution is inextricably bound up with every step taken by the Government under the McCarran Act. For the Board itself is holding office illegally, never having been confirmed by the Senate.

"Thus, the so called 'hearing' is in reality an unconstitutional trial of a political party, with a pre fabricated' verdict, before a Board that has no legal existence.

Answering the question why the Party participates at all in a proceeding so lawless and farcical, it declared that it certainly did not do so "in the futile hope of affecting the ready-made findings of the Board. It will participate in the hearings in order to demonstrate to the American people the fascist character of the McCarran Act; to rally the American people to defend their Bill of Rights; to expose the Act and the hearings as part of the drive of the atomaniacs toward a new world war; and to defend the honor of the Communist Party and its record of service to the American people."

Asserting that "The Attorney General's petition misrepresents and completely distorts the Communist Party's peace policy," the answer filed with the Board denies and refutes all the charges that it is dominated or controlled by a foreign power.

It points ou that the so-called findings of fact set forth in the Act and adopted by the Attorney General are "gross falsehoods" and paraphrase the words of Hitler who declared that: "We look on Bolshevism as a world peril which there must be no liberal on . . . Communism is the most frightful barbarism of all times."

The answer insists that any proposal for the settlement of international differences must be judged solely by the extent to which it serves the interests of the American people which coincide with those of all peoples who aspire to lasting peace.

The purpose of the Communist Party in advocating its peace policy cannot be established by determining who initiated, supported or opposed them. The only pertinent test is does the policy advocated by the Communist Party conform to the true interests of the American people by promoting the cause of peace?

Challenging the Attorney General's charge of "conspiracy," the answer traces the origins and 32-year record of the Party. It asserts that the Communist Party "does not conform to the structure and practices of the Democratic and Republican parties because the aims and aspirations of the working class do not conform to the aims and aspirations of the imperialist exploiters. . . . Unlike the Republican and Democratic parties, the Communist Party is free from corruption. It has never had a Teapot Dome, deep-freeze, or mink coat scandal — a Pendergast machine, or a Frank Costello in its ranks."

Recalling the nationwide movement which opposed the McCarran Act the time of its passage, the answer reaffirms the Party's faith that this movement will continue to grow and that "the Act will be repudiated, as the Alien and Sedition Acts and the Fugitive Slave Act were nullified by the popular will."

It unqualifiedly denies the Attorney General's slanders, and asserts that the Communist Party and Americans of all political affiliations have the right and the duty to organize in defense of peace and the Bills of Rights."

The Communist Party will be represented in the scheduled hearings by two attorneys—former Rep. Vito Marcantonio and John J. Abt.

'The Negro and American Culture' NAACP Lecture

"The Negro and American Culture," will be the subject for the coming lecture by the eminent Negro author-lecturer, Mr. C. L. R. James, whose appearance at Calvary Baptist Church, Broadway at 20th street, Friday, April 13, 1951, at 8 p. m., will be sponsored by the Santa Monica Bay Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

In presenting the lecture by Mr. James, the Santa Monica N. A. A. C. P., will be launching the first of a series of events that will bring outstanding personages to the general public of Santa Monica, according to Mr. Hilliard L. Lawson, president of the local branch.

Mr. James has spent a number of years in England as a lecturer and broadcaster for the British Broadcasting Corporation. While in England, the Hogarth Press published Mr. James' study, "The Case For West Indian Self-Government," undoubtedly one of the finest works on this subject.

Mr. James has been praised for his work in Negro history by the late Carter G. Woodson, editor of the Journal of Negro History, and the eminent George S. Schuyler has also applauded Mr. James' efforts as a writer and lecturer.

To welcome Mr. James to Santa Monica, last Wednesday evening, Mr. Lawson, president of the local branch entertained thirty of Santa Monica's leading citizens with a formal dinner party at the Calvary Baptist Church's social hall.

Among those present were Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Carter, Dr. and Mrs. J. Wilkens, Dr. Mary E. Nroment-Bottler and Mr. Bottler, Mrs. Beatrice Lynch, Rev. and Mrs. L. R. Thornhill, Dr. and Mrs. George E. CAA Congratulates Sen. Fullbright

"Colonial peoples, especially Africans and peoples of African descent, will applaud your timely call to the United States Senate and to the President of the United States to bring about the moral cleansing of the American Government," a telegram from the Council on African Affairs to Sen. William Fulbright reads.

"These peoples have long suffered from the moral corruption which perpetuates the enslavement of darker peoples in subject lands throughout the world and in the United States itself.

"The ending of the suppression and murder of these subject peoples and of America's own Negro citizens, as in the instances of the vicious indictment of Dr. W. E. B. DuBois and the legal lynching of Willie McGee, must be our government's first moral responsibility, if America is to stand erect with national self-respect and if clean government, freedom and peace are to be achieved both by America and her morally unclean allies."

Civil Defense Bid Rejected by White

NEW YORK—An invitation to participate in "an important" civil defense conference" in Washington, May 7-8, has been declined by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People "unless and until" Millard F. Caldwell, federal civil defense administrator, repudiates his advocacy of racial discrimination and segregation.

Walter White, NAACP executive secretary, recently made public his reply to Mr. Caldwell's telegram of April 3 asking that five leaders of the Association participate in the Washington conference. In a wire, dated April 3, to the civil defense administrator, Mr. White said that "it will be impossible to accept that invitation unless and until you repudiate your testimony before Senate Armed Services committee of January 15 in which you reiterated your opposition to the U. S. Supreme Court decision outlawing disfranchisement through medium of white Democratic primaries and admitted your urging South to resist that decision as well as your refusal to follow common courtesy in addressing American citizens irrespective of race."

Marshall Honored At Luncheon Meet

NEW YORK—Upon invitation of Judge Samuel I. Rosenman, more than 100 leading members of the bar and business attended a luncheon at the Delmonico Hotel here recently in honor of Thurgood Marshall, NAACP special counsel, who reported on the findings of his investigations of courts martial of Negro servicemen in Japan and Korea.

The difficulties in Korea, Mr. Marshall said, stem directly from the Army's segregation policy. He told of the unequal penalties meted out to Negro GIs in comparison with those given to white soldiers. In the Air Force and in other mixed units, he said, there were no instances of the unfair courts martial which he found in the Army.

"As long as we have racial segregation in the Army we will have the type of injustice of which these courts martial are typical," Mr. Marshall concluded. Also addressing the luncheon meeting were Judge Rosenman, Judge William H. Hastie and Walter White, NAACP executive secretary.

Police Brutality at 12th and Central

Marshall Gray, who works in Hollywood, but who lives in the 12th Street and Central Avenue neighborhood, reports that police brutality is on the upsurge in that section of the city.

A case in point is one he witnessed himself recently. Two policemen came into a cafe where Al Cruz, a Mexican-American and three other citizens of Mexican descent, were quietly eating, and began roughing them up and frisking them.

Al Cruz is a cripple with an artificial leg. When he didn't move fast enough, the policemen threatened to take his leg off, so "you can get around better."

Not finding anything upon which they could fasten any crime, they finally departed, threatening to come around again "any time we feel like it."

Marion To Speak On "Inside Kremlin," Apr. 23

George Marion, author of "Bases and Empire," and "All Quiet in the Kremlin," will make his first appearance on the West Coast on April 23, 1951.

He will speak under the auspices of the American Russian Institute at the Park Manor, 607 S. Western Ave., at 8 p.m., on "Inside the Kremlin."

Marion spent 6 months in the Soviet Union, from February, 1950, on, in an effort to see if the Russians were up to anything that forced the United States to build bomb shelters and military bases all over the world. He found that they were minding their own business, building homes, schools, converting arid regions into fertile areas, etc. He did not find any propaganda for war, but plenty for peace. The result of that stay in the Soviet Union was Marion's recent book "All Quiet in the Kremlin." Marion is, therefore, well qualified to talk on "Inside the Kremlin."

The Negro Fights On The Labor Front

Some years ago when there was a new birth in the labor movement, the great CIO was born. Who can forget that memorable occasion when, with its colors waving to the breeze and bands playing a merry tune, big Slim Connelly's voice was heard: "Here Comes the Great CIO!"

And great was the promise of a better day for Negroes in the ranks of labor.

Labor conferences were held in San Francisco, Denver, Chicago, New York, and many other cities.

For the first time in labor history, Negro and white workers sat around conference tables and discussed their differences.

Mixed delegations from Florida, Georgia and Texas fought heroically in a solid front for the elimination of racial discrimination in labor. The outlook was indeed encouraging for a better understanding between black and white workers in the textile factories in the South, in the cotton mills of the North, on the farms, and in the building trades.

The poor white workers who had been taught by the bosses to hate Negro workers because of racial and color difference in order to keep both groups on a low economic level, not realizing that hunger pains were colorless and that their children were attacked by like diseases caused by poor, unsanitary living conditions, began to realize now that their common enemy was the rich who continued to grow richer while they, the poor whites and poor Negroes, continued to grow poorer.

Because the bosses observed what was happening and adopted a new approach to the "divide and rule" method of keeping white and Negro workers separated.

The CIO that had offered the greatest resistance to racial discrimination, was first attacked from within. White supremacists, cuddled by the bosses, dubbed every labor leader who advocated a policy of job and pay equality for all workers, "Communists," and brought about a purge in the CIO that ended in the elimination of many of the militant fighters for justice, equality, and the eventual peace that is craved by the world today.

But the fight for freedom and equality in the ranks of labor, and everywhere, will not end until victory is complete.

A bright new appeal for a new future is expressed in this statement from the ILWU Honolulu convention held last week:

A major social, economic and political factor in the United States today is the vast unheaval that is taking place among the 15,000,000 Negro people.

The ILWU recognizes this movement by the Negro people to win political, economic, and social equality as a militant force aimed at the same enemies we face ourselves.

Our experience has taught us that our own efforts to fight for our own rights and economic security will never be crowned with success unless we receive the aid of the Negro people and in turn support them vigorously in their day-to-day struggles.

Some of the recent struggles of our Mainland locals prove this.

The Negro brothers and sisters in these locals constituted a solid core of fighters for ILWU policy.

It is a fact that the ILWU and other such progressive unions have meant much more than just a trade union to these members; the union has become the organization through which they are fighting and winning first-class citizenship in America.

The Negro people are fighting to liberate themselves from all the viciousness of jim-crow in America. Because they are fighting hard, and because they are marking up new victories, the retaliation from the employers, government agencies, and the politicians has become sharper than ever.

More discrimination, more frame-ups, more violence and terror, and more persecution and prosecution of the Negro men and women who have stepped out in front to give leadership to this movement are the answer of those who see the Negro people advancing. For the demands of the Negro people when realized will end the plush jobs and easy living of those few in our country who grow fat on the economic pay-offs from jim-crow.

These 15,000,000 Americans are men and women almost all of whom live by their own toil and sweat. Every day they are subjected to economic exploitation of the worst sort.

They are the last to be hired and the first to be fired. They suffer from low wages and rotten housing. Their children are denied the most elementary necessities of a decent life.

As the war economy becomes a heavier burden to all the American people, it weighs down upon the Negro people in a way that few white workers can appreciate.

The Negro people are on the move. They are in action and they are determined to achieve equality and full status as Americans in every walk of life—industry, government and education.

We must recognize that this great upheaval really lies behind the attacks upon Negro leaders and scholars such as Paul Robeson, Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, William Patterson and Charles Howard, rather than any alleged subversive activities by such outstanding members of their race.

It is to our interest—to our most selfish interest—to ally the ILWU with the Negro people. In such an alliance we have everything to gain in terms of our future economic security. To hesitate in developing such an alliance is to weaken our union and our fighting strength for the struggles that lie directly ahead.

We can gain such an ally, however, only by demonstrating both within our own ranks and outside the most complete support for the full recognition and freedom of the Negro people.

We are proud of our record in this respect. But we realize that much more must be done within our own union and in the communities in which we live to meet the demands of this struggle for the full freedom of the Negro people.

Segregation a Handicap

"It is a definite handicap to the colored student to confine his associations in law school to people of his own class."

So decided the Fourth United States Circuit Court of Appeals in the case brought before it of four Negro applicants for admission to the University of North Carolina.

The state of North Carolina thought it had the law solidly in its favor, when it refused admission to these four students, on the grounds that North Carolina had a university for Negroes fully equipped and as fully prepared to give a graduate course in law as that offered by the university.

This separate Negro law school was established in 1939 at Durham. There are only 28 students studying law at the present time, but the roster of Durham School shows that there are 1300 Negro students. It has a library of 30,000 volumes. It is served by two white professors, besides those of the Negro faculty. Its graduates have been passing the state bar examinations in about the same proportion as those of the University of North Carolina Law School.

The defendant — the state of North Carolina against which the four students had brought suit for its refusal to admit them to the Law School of the University — thought it had a water-tight case. There was no need for Negroes to be admitted to the university. They had a school of their own—separate but equal in every way.

But Judge Morris Soper, who heard the case, maintained that the courts "must give first place to the rights of the individual citizen, and when and where he seeks only equality of treatment before the law, his suit must prevail."

Then Judge Soper gave the opinion which may become famous: Segregation per se is a handicap.

That is the crux of the fight to eliminate segregation. It in itself is a handicap, and must be abolished in the United States of America.

Thank God

It has come to the attention of The California Eagle that a group of young women, one of them the sister-in-law of Willie McGee, visited the Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance last Monday morning, and was received with open arms.

The young women went to the Alliance to prevail on the clergy to take some action in the Willie McGee case. They stated they were working with the Civil Rights Congress, and were willing to work with the NAACP and all organizations interested in getting justice for McGee.

The response given the group by the ministers, they stated, was both hearty and reassuring. The persecutors of Willie McGee will soon learn that religious workers in the Los Angeles area are discovering that prayers without some fight will not gain freedom and security for the sixteen million Blacks in the United States.

The ministers pledged to send telegrams to President Truman and Governor Wright of Mississippi. They seemed to realize that the case of Willie McGee is a plain case of white brutality against a Negro victim of white supremacy in Mississippi.

The ministers declared that they were tired listening to those of their enemies who scream "Communist" at everyone who dares to fight for Negro rights and against segregation and discrimination.

Yes, we rejoice to hear the voices of the church heads in our community crying out in the open for fair trials for Negroes accused of committing crimes of any nature.

What is happening to Willie McGee in Mississippi can happen to Sgt. Walker in California.

And as the chains of slavery tighten about the necks of the Negro people in Mississippi, they also tighten about the necks of the people in California and everywhere in the nation.

The Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance, of this city, has set the pace for other leaders and organizations in its Monday's action. It is hoped that its voice and its action will be a new beginning in the Negroes' fight for complete freedom and a full share of the democracy we boast to the world that we have.

Thank God for the Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance.

MEXICAN-AMERICAN RELATIONS

One of the local metropolitan dailies recently held a contest for the best short essay on "Why Continued Good Relations Between the U.S.A. and Mexico Are Essential to the Success of the United Nations."

Since this is a matter that must be of vital concern to us all, I herewith submit an essay on the subject—one that can be guaranteed not to win any such contest these days:

The position of world power which history has thrust upon our nation, and which our government has assumed, demands that we set an example, in the family of nations, of the highest and best in international relations. If the U.S.A. cannot develop such relations with Mexico, our next-door neighbor, other nations will seriously question our capacity for friendship with them, and our effectiveness in the United Nations will be further compromised.

The state of our affairs with Mexico is a test of our claims to a belief in, and the practice of, democracy. Especially is this true of our declarations about the equality of all men. For the people of Mexico do not have white skins—and neither do most of the world's people. This majority of humanity will judge us (as they have in the past) by the way we treat their colored brothers, and ours, in Mexico.

The foreign policy of the United States is based on the assertion that our government is motivated solely by the desire to assist other nations in achieving the democratic way of life we say we prize. The nature of our relations with Mexico—particularly the way in which the masses of her people benefit from those relations—will help determine how receptive the United Nations will be to our ideas and our program.

Our success with Mexico would strengthen our relations with all the other Central and South American countries, nations so important to our welfare and the welfare of the world. It would enhance the position of Mexico. A strong and democratic Mexico is essential to the western hemisphere and to the United Nations.

The best of relations between the U.S.A. and Mexico would improve the economic conditions of both countries, and would enable both peoples to feel greater security. Further, in view of our past relations with Mexico, the building of mutually beneficial relations with her would prove that a great nation like ours does learn from past mistakes. This would be invaluable to us and to the United Nations because many nations are seriously disturbed not only by our past erfors—as in South America—but our current ones in China, Korea, and elsewhere.

Of unmost importance is the certainty that greater friendship and better relations between Mexico and the U.S.A. would aid materially in democratizing the internal conditions in both countries. A government which is not a good friend to its own people cannot be a good neighbor to others.

Specifically, improved relations between the U.S.A. and Mexico would profoundly influence the treatment accorded the millions of our citizens of Mexican descent. This in turn would very favorably affect our treatment of our Negro citizens and other minorities.

A United States and a Mexico whose own life and institutions are more democratic are assuredly essential to the succes of the United Nations.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

April 7, 1951

To the Editor:

Press and radio seemed to break out in chortles of glee at the death sentence meted out to Mr. and Mrs. Julius Rosenberg, found guilty of being spies. As a Jewish mother I am sure that that attitude is not shared by most thoughtful Americans. I must believe that my own sense of shock is echoed in other hearts.

Are these two parents, accused under the most shameful circumstances, tried in an atmosphere of hysteria, sentenced by a judge who seemed, to me, to be himself psychologically unsound in his hysterical denunciation, to die in the electric chair?

Can we sit back and let these two die when concurrently the murderers of Malmedy, Krupp, Ilsa Koch and dozens of other Nazi criminals found guilty of wanton torture and the killing of thousands of people by an international tribunal, are set free by American authorities?

Can these phenomena plus the witch hunts, the attacks on all who act for peace, the legal lynchings of the Martinsville Seven, the intensification of Jim Crow and Anti-Semitism, the drive to militarism and war, be the expression of the desires of the American people? It cannot be so.

Let the people speak.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Howard L Reiner

Dear Editor:

Who denies when President Truman states that Mr. Rayburn, now warning of the danger of war, is truthful? But who forgets the fake "Russia is mobilizing for war" scare in the spring of 1948? The subsequent draft law and the $3¼ billion air force increase? The Hoover Commission report the same year that intelligence had erred? Intelligence had mis-evaluated, for the Russians had merely shifted their troops for spring maneuvers and training. But this time the stakes are higher; the military want $140 billion appropriations in 2 years, where in 1948 the amount was only $11 billion, and in 1938 only $1 billion.

A. Bofman,
U.S. Comm Against Militarization.

To the Los Angeles Eagle.
Los Angeles, Calif.

Dear Mrs. Bass:

In driving or walking, going up hill is a tedious climb, and the higher the hill, the slower the climb.

Sometimes one may lose his footing and may be forced backward a bit, but those determined always reach the top.

Since your climb is a steady up hill one there are many, many rough spots, and you must get very, very tired especially when so many you are fighting to help, spend so much time fighting you, and others appear to be so much dead weight.

You could easily take the same attitude as the Editor of the Sentinel and others which is as follows:

"Did you say a few Negroes were executed in the South and not guilty of the crime accused

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By PENN

Los Angeles trade unionists last weekend were given a comprehensive report on trade unions and their activities in Poland, and questions on particular phases of Polish life were answered.

Occasion was a lunch under the auspices of the United Labor Action Committee; and the speaker was Anthony Szymanowsky, director of the Polish Information and Research Service.

"Poland is not yet a paradise for workers," he said, "but it's a lot further from the other place than it was before the war."

Of particular interest to Negro workers, both men and women, in this country is the fact that in Poland discrimination of any kind is prohibited by law. No minority group can be discriminated against in jobs, or in where they live, eat, or seek entertainment. And there are teeth in those laws that enforce them, when necessary.

Real wages in Poland have risen about 130 per cent since 1947, Szymanowsky said, and standards of living are continuing to increase.

He contrasted the wage freeze of the U. S. while prices continue to zoom upward with the wage-price ratio in Poland, where wages are going up and prices are coming down, although the process is a slow one.

Rent for workers averages about 4 per cent of their income, as compared to 25 and 30 per cent of income here.

Food and clothing take the greatest part of the Polish worker's income. With the necessary concentration on rebuilding a nation destroyed by Nazi Germany, little effort has been made towards mass production of clothing.

Choice foods, such as eggs and Polish ham, are exported to England, in exchange for materials needed to rebuild the country.

Approximately four million of the 25 million inhabitants are members of trade unions, with the largest being that of building trades workers. Rail workers and miners follow in numbers of members.

Union dues average about 2 per cent of wages earned, but there is no checkoff system, nor compulsory membership in unions. Unions have a large voice in hiring and firing, but cannot discriminate against a worker because of lack of union membership.

Workers join the unions and remain members, Szymanowsky said, because of the obvious advantages of membership.

Vacations with pay, and including costs of transportation to vacation spots, range up to 30 days a year after 10 years work in the industry. This work does not have to be for the same plant. Last year, 3,723,000 workers took paid vacations.

Union members can borrow up to 80 per cent of the cost of building their own home, to be repaid within 20 years, and with no interest charges.

Safety conditions and hygiene conditions are controlled by the unions.

Labor laws, instead of being made by anti-labor congressmen and senators who do the bidding of those who pay for their election, are prepared by the Central Council of Unions, and worked for in legislative bodies by representatives elected by the workers.

All social insurance and complete health services, including medicine, are paid for by the employers, whether it be the state in the case of nationalized industries, or private employers in privately owned factories.

The standard work week is 46 hours, but in industries where fumes or other conditions are injurious to health, the work week is shortened to as little as 24 hours.

The longer work week is necessary, Szymanowski said, because of the great amount of work necessary to change the nation from one of an agricultural economy to one of an industrial economy.

Before the war, while skilled workmen were comparatively well-off, the vast majority of Poles were peasants without land, whose conditions were worse than those of slaves.

A few examples brought home the poverty of these peasants. Matches were always split in two, so that two fires might be started from one match.

Potatoes boiled in salted water was the basic diet. Salt was so expensive and hard to come by, that water used to boil potatoes was not thrown out. Several families would use the same water to cook potatoes in, to have the salt.

While nearly all wholesale industry in Poland is nationalized, about 50 per cent of retailing is privately owned.

Costs of the government are borne by the nationalized industries, with about 30 per cent coming from taxes. Workers, except for those making exceptionally high pay (writers, artists, professional workers), pay no income tax. Heavy excess profits taxes are, however, levied on private business.

One of the big problems, Szymanowsky said, is absenteeism; and strict laws have been passed by the unions and the government in an effort to wipe it out.

Most absenteeism is caused by workers leaving their jobs to go out to their plots of land during nice weather and working on their gardens.

Absenteeism, its cause and cure, is the subject of many jokes in Poland. One told by Szymanowsky concerned a worker who had been late to his job several times and who had been warned about it.

He awoke at 10 minutes past eight one morning—and he was supposed to be to work at 8. He thought rapidly for a good reason he could give for being late, and finally lit upon having a tooth pulled.

He rushed to his dentist, got him out of bed and said, "Pull a tooth—any tooth—hurry and give me a slip saying you pulled my tooth this morning."

"What tooth should I pull?" asked the dentist.

"Any one you like—just hurry and pull one," the worker said, "I haven't even got time for novaccaine."

The dentist pulled out a molar, "so as not to spoil his smile," and wrote out the certificate asked for by the worker.

"How much do I owe you?"

"Forty zlotys!" shouted the worker in indignation. "The last time you pulled a tooth for me, you gave me novocaine and everything and you only charged me 25 zlotys! "

"That's right," said the dentist, "but when you come to a man's home and wake him up early to pull a tooth on Sunday morning, you should except to pay extra."

Shall We Remain Silent While MacArthur Makes Wa

Why not let the Chinese people, the Koreans, the Manchurians—in fact, the people of all Asia—make the decision for themselves as to the form of government they want to live by?

It seems a little short of ridiculous for a big, powerful nation such as ours to allow this man, MacArthur, dictate our war policy.

Since this editorial was written, MacArthur has been fired by President Truman, who is to be congratulated for this action.

If only the little plain people among us understood their role in this war, they would speak out with such emphasis as to make both the President and the Administration know that what we desire is peace at home. We would let them know first that we realize what the wrangling in Washington is about.

MacArthur says the Western World cannot afford to stand by and see Asia lost to Communism by default or inaction.

But can we, the American people, afford to sit by and see our democracy lost to the Dixiecrats who insist, and are able by the refusal of the government to take a hand, on keeping this nation part slave and part free?

Yes, we say part slave and part free, because there are 16 million Americans whose lives and limbs are threatened by the lynch mob, right here in the United States.

Under Chiang Kai-Shek's and Madam Chiang's administration, most of the 450 million citizens of China were half-starved slaves. Because they fought their way out of such bondage, they are now considered by the Chiang Kai-Sheks and the MacArthurs as Communists, and are threatened with a return to their chains.

And as far as General MacArthur and the power-seeking Republican-Democratic debating team in the Congress is concerned, the only way to save the Far East from aggression and possibly occupation by the feared Communists, will be by letting MacArthur have a free hand to the extent of furnishing men and materials to the decadent Nationalist Army—the Chiang Kai-Shek Army—in China.

"Start in Formosa, the present stronghold of Chiang," is the cry of those who hate peace and clamor for war to make more profits.

But these war makers have reckoned without the people.

The people — the mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters, sweethearts, the ministers of the churches—whose kin and loved ones are even now being slaughtered on the battlefields of Korea, will not always remain silent. They are beginning to see things as they are. And they will speak, when they are truly aroused.

They are beginning to rub their eyes. To awaken. To hear the real Voice of America—the Voice that protests the persecution of the foreign born, the legal lynching of the Negroes of the South, the sacrifice of thousands of our boys on the altar of private profit. The Voice that demands Peace.

POTPOURRI

Phony Demo Club

An announcement was made this spring that the "East Hollywood Democratic Club" was being organized in the Virgil-Fountain - Commonwealth area. But at a number of meetings in the neighborhood this so-called "Democratic Club" promoted Norris Poulson for Congress, one of the most reactionary, anti-Negro, anti-civil rights Republicans in Congress.

The people in the neighborhood were confused by this intentional deception, writes a citizen of that community. A typical precinct, No. 1342, strongly Democratic, voted 2 to 1 for James Roosevelt against Earl Warren, but because of the maneuvers of the Republicans in setting up a Democratic Club and boosting Poulson for Congress, Poulson polled 114 votes against 31 for the combined vote of all his opponents.

"This kind of trickery," writes the citizen of the Virgil-Fountain area, "so common in Chicago and Kansas City, must be recognized for what it is—a foul attack on the people of East Hollywood. Ringleaders, doing what they could to aid Republican reaction, were Edward Phillips and his friend, Mr. Walker."

Police Not Color Blind

Police brutality is not color blind, according to Mrs. Maxine Forcher, of Ventura, a white woman, who claims she was not given a square deal by the police department of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Forcher says she walked across the street at 7th and Olive, Los Angeles, from the curb to a safety zone, when she was hailed by the policeman at the corner were walking against a traffic light, and was given a traffic ticket.

She asked for a jury trial, and was given one on April 4.

"But that jury was 'fixed'", declares Mrs. Forchner. "They fined me five dollars and gave me one day in jail."

A CALL TO THE NEGRO PEOPLE

Begging Should End Now Says Eslanda Robeson

I believe the time has come for us, the Negro People, to stop thinking of ourselves in terms of inferiority — asking, pleading, begging for a crust or two of the bread of citizenship. The time has come for us to demand the whole loaf, which is our lawful right under the Constitution. We have earned it, we have paid for it with labor, taxes, and blood on the battlefields; it is time now to go and collect it. We cannot do less as self-respecting men and women, worthy of the respect of others; we cannot do less as loyal Americans, worthy of full citizenship; no honest government and no loyal American should want us as fellow-citizens, if we do less.

We cannot do less in this new and radically changing world. There've been some revolutionary changes made in these last few years. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas said recently: ". . . there are rumblings in every village from the Mediterranean to the Pacific; a force is gathering for a mighty effort. The revolutions which are brewing, are not communistic in origin, nor will they end even if Soviet Russia is crushed through war. The revolutionaries are hungry men who have been exploited time out of mind. This is the century of their awakening and mobilization. . . ."

Well then, with these rumblings, this awakening and mobilization everywhere, shall we, the Negro People, be quiet and continue the long sleep, or shall we wake up, mobilize, and join this march toward Freedom? Or shall we listen to the Un-American voices—including the voices of some of our Negro Leaders—who tell us to be patient, we are making progress, gradually does it, and if we are good boys and girls and help The Nice Man, he will give us our rights all in good time?

It is true that patience is a virtue, but it is not patience, nor virtue, to sleep when the world is marching,—it is laziness and cowardice. If we sleep now, we can be left so far behind that we'll never catch up. If we do not wake up, mobilize, and join the march toward Freedom now, it will surely pass us by, and we may be left to sleep indefinitely.

If we Negroes are to join the march toward Freedom in this new and revolutionary world, we will have to discard your old outworn thinking and strategy (which has not, after all these years, succeeded in getting Freedom for us anyway). We must revolutionize our thinking and strategy in order to survive and operate in this changing world. We can no longer depend on a Leader here, an Organization there, some Friends and some Good-Will. They all mean well, but they haven't got us very far. We must try depending on ourselves, upon us, the 16 million Negro People, acting together for what we all want—our full rights as citizens in our country. We cannot do less and call ourselves People.

Two World Wars have been fought in the name of Democracy and Freedom; the majority of the Colored Peoples of Asia have fought their way up, and out from under white Colonial domination; the rest of Asia, Africa and the West Indies are fighting now to also come up and out from under; "there are rumblings in every village from the Mediterranean to the Pacific", — yet here we are, the Negro People of the United States, still thinking and talking and behaving as though the Colored Peoples of the world, including ourselves, were still in slavery, still servants of the "Free Nations".

This will never do. What must the Colored Peoples of Asia, Africa and the West Indies think of us? As citizens of the "leading democratic country in the world", we Negroes should be leaders in this fight for Freedom of Colored Peoples everywhere; but here we are, quiet, trailing far behind, and not even full citizens yet.

This will never do. What must people think of us? We know what the white Colonials think of us; they think we are servants and slaves and inferior. That's bad, but not matter what they think and say, no matter how they treat us it is not true unless we make it so by our own thinking and behavior.

But what is much more important, what must we think of ourselves? Are we really essentially servants,—Uncle Toms and Jemimas, — to be despised but used, and then kicked and discarded? Or are we men and women, Human Beings?

If we are Human Beings, then we must prove it by behaving like Human Beings,—by defending our Human Rights, here and now, not 50 or 100 years from now. If we do not, we might just as well retire as a People, and descend to the status of animals (which Un-Americans have long tried to say we are). But then I doubt if even the animals would have us, because they certainly defend their animal rights.

Me, I know I'm not an animal, and I'm not going to sit quiet and let anybody put me in the animal kingdom. They'll have to put me in jail, or kill me, before I'll permit it. I mean that. I see no point in existing at all, if I'm forced to exist as an animal.

And listen, all you Fellow-Negroes: if they put me in jail or kill me for defending my Human Rights, and you 16 million sit quiet and do nothing to defend me,—then they can surely chop you down also, if you don't.

Yes Sir or No Sir to The Man; they can chop you down one by one, two by two, six by Trenton Six, seven by Martinsville Seven.

But if you all—16 million of you—defend me in the fight for my rights, you defend yourselves, you defend us all together, and we'll most surely get our rights. Yes indeedy. It would be impossible to put 16 million in jail, or kill them. There isn't much The Man can do with 16 million acting together as One Man. Sixteen million is a good solid number which everybody would have to respect, and which nobody and nothing could stop.

I believe the time has come for us, the Negro People, to stop acting as though the Colored Peoples of the world, including ourselves, are still in slavery to the white Colonials of the "Free Nations". Colonialism is just about finished, and all the bombs, soldiers and dollars cannot revive it again,—they can only postpone the final bell.

There've been some changes made in our world, and all these changes directly concern us; therefore we shall have to change our strategy if we are to survive and march forward to our rightful place among our fellow-men.

In this new world situation, we Negro People just cannot allow our Negro Leaders, in our name, to go to the Great White Father in the White House and ask: Please Sir, may we have this bit and that bit of our rights as citizens?

Nobody, but nobody in this day and age believes in the Great White Father myth any more; the so-called primitive Peoples in the remote areas of Asia and Africa know better; they must be amazed at us.

We, the 16 million Negro People, just cannot afford to settle for a 30-minute chat with the President, and for Tea at the Shoreham Hotel with the Nice White Ladies.

Mind you, I like tea, and during my years in England I learned to enjoy and appreciate tea as a pleasant and gracious social custom. But a tea to honor someone is something more than a pleasant social custom, and when the National Council of Negro Women honors Mrs. Alben Barkley, Mrs. Dean Acheson, Mrs. Tom Clark, Mrs. Howard McGrath,—we Negro People naturally want to know why. What, exactly, have the wives of the Vice-President, Secretary of State, Supreme Court Justice, Attorney-General done for the Negro People, what specific interest have they,—or more importantly, their husbands, — manifested in the welfare of 16 million Negroes, that Negro Women should honor them with tea at the Shoreham?

Mrs. Mary McCleod Bethune said of the tea: "This is what the Council has been striving toward through the years . . . this is an example of what the Council stands for,—world brotherhood and inter-racial good-will. . . ."

Well, I for one don't think that's good enough. As a Negro I want my example of inter-racial good-will and world brotherhood to be first enacted in the legislative halls of Congress and in the United Nations, then I'll be proud to celebrate it's achievement, and honor those who helped achieve it with tea at the Shoreham. After the fact, not before.

I have been thinking a lot about that thirty-minute visit "The Twelve Top Negro Leaders of the Nation" paid to the Great White Father in the White House. The more I think of it, the less I think of it, and the more it worries me. And it should worry 16 million Negroes, because those leaders said they spoke for all of us. The leaders declared that 16 million Negroes are solidly behind the country in this emergency.

I'm one of the 16 million, and I'm not solidly behind it. I'll bet Lt. Gilbert and his family, and the families' neighbors and friends of other Negro soldiers drafted, segregated and mistreated in the army are not solidly behind it;

I'll bet the families, neighbors and friends of Rosa Ingram, Amy Mallard, John Derrick, Willie McGee, the Trenton Six, the Martinsville Seven, are not solidly behind it; I'll bet the 10,000 Negro inhabitants of Martinsville, Virginia who attended the funeral of the Seven, and the 4,00 who attended the Moourning Meeting for them at Rockland Palace in Harlem, are not solidly behind it;

I'll bet the families, neighbors and friends of our 18 year-olds and others who are now eligible for the draft are not solidly behind it;

I'll bet the millions of Negroes who want to march toward Freedom and live in Peace, who do not want to spend the next 10, 15 or 20 years of their lives, labor and money in war and plans for war are not solidly behind it.

No, they are not. Therefore I protest. I vigorously protest this statement of The Twelve Negro Leaders. I say it is not true. I say that 16 million Negroes are not solidly behind the country in this emergency. And I would warn the President and his Administration that it ain't necessarily so, because The Twelve white-House-men say it's so.

It's a matter of cold and bitter fact that the majority of the 16 million Negroes have been deliberately prevented from being solidly behind the country. We have been carefully kept out, pushed back,—so far back, that we are not only not solidly behind, we are so far behind in the rear, as to be almost out of sight.

Our country shows us every day in every way, that We Negroes don't belong, that we are not wanted except to work, to pay, to fight and die, when there is an emergency. Only on two occasions are 16 million of us sure that we are included: when the Tax Collector knocks, and when the Draft Board calls; then we know we are included, temporarily.

It is because we Negro People have been counted out of the American Family, and pushed back, that The Twelve leaders tried for months to see the President, and finally met with him, to suggest ways and means to hastily bring us forward from the remote rear, so that "the fullest possible use of our services can be made."

I object. I protest. I bitterly protest and will vigorously resist the fullest possible use being made of me and my People,—so long as our country ignores, abuses and kills at whim. I say No.

I say first things first. First I must be a full citizen, before full use of me as a citizen can be made. First I must be a citizen, before I can be a useful and loyal citizen.

It is possible to be a useful and loyal servant or animal, but it is not possible to be a useful or loyal citizen, until first you are a citizen. There is just no way to get around that.

The moment my country convinces me that I'm a citizen, that you are a citizen, that we 16 million Negroes are full citizens,—then I will rush forth proudly and offer my services, together with respectful suggestions as to ways and means of using them constructively. I believe that millions of my fellow-Negro citizens will do likewise.

Until then, so long as my country insists upon counting us out of the Family, it cannot at the same time count us in,—no matter what The Twelve White-House-men say.

The Twelve Negro Leaders took a program of Six Points to the Great White Father,—&six suggestions as to how we, the 16 million Negroes can be made the fullest possible use of. Those Six Points did not include the Civil Rights Program, which is the heart of the matter. I believe if we had been asked, not told, the points to be discussed, we would all have agreed upon the following:

1. Civil Rights: The President was elected on a platform of Civil Rights, so it's a normal point to begin with.

2. Police Brutality: The police in many places are becoming more and more violent and irresponsible in their attacks on the Negro People (John Derrick, Peekskill, etc.)

3. Physical and Legal Lynching: The law-enforcement machinery—local, state and federal — is becoming more and more negligent in providing the protection of the law to the Negro People, and more and more vicious in convicting them before their guilt, if any, is proved (Martinsville Seven, Trenton Six, etc.)

4. The persecution by our Government of our most respected and militant Leaders, who fight for Civil Rights, against Police Brutality, Physical and Legal Lynching, and who champion the Negro People (Dr. Dubois, William Patterson, Paul Robeson, etc.)

5. Peace: There are no points which do not refer back to Peace, because Peace means life, and life is surely basic; War means death, and death is surely final. Peace means survival, and the chance to use our brains, labor and money for construction and progress for ourselves and our fellowmen. War means death for soldiers on the battlefield, and for civilians in the towns and the remote countryside, and the destruction of homes, farms and factories. The total casualties of World War I in dead, wounded, prisoners and missing was 37½ million; the total casualties, military and civilian, of World War II, were estimated by the Vatican to be 56½ million.

So, for my money, The Twelve Top Leaders are just no-where with their Six Points. They don't lead me, and they haven't listed my Points. If they don't lead you, now is the time to get up on your feet, lift up your voice, and say so.

Because now is the time the President, the State Department, the Administration, the Military, the Congress are sensitive to the voice of the Negro. So for heavens sake let the mighty chorus of our 16 million voices be heard. Such a chorus could send some wonderful music on sound waves right around the world to billions of anxious ears.

It was not by chance that the State Department approved certain Negro leaders: Raymond Pace Alexander, George Schuyler, Max Yergan, Edith Sampson, Walter White, Sugar Ray Robinson, etc., going abroad to tell the world what progress we 16 million Negroes are making in the United States,—while it prevents Paul Robeson from going.

It was not by chance that the United States and the United Nations sent out urgent calls to the Philippines, Puerto Rico and Siam for Colored troops to fight in Korea, and the press suddenly began to praise the courage of our Negro fighting men; it was to try and refute the widespread charge that the Korean War is a war of White against Colored Peoples:

It was not by chance that the Congress appropriated $89 million for the Radio Program VOICE OF AMERICA; it was to tell a doubting world how "democratic" we are;

No, it was not at all by chance. It was because in this new and revolutionary world, everyone everywhere has suddenly become aware of the fact that two-thirds of the population of the earth is Colored, and it is now necessary to pay attention to the voices of the Colored Peoples. That's why they're sensitive to the voice of the Negro.

Therefore I, as a Negro, am going to raise my voice. I'm not going to be quiet and let The Twelve speak for me. I'm not going to settle for a half-hour with the President, nor tea at the Shoreham. I'm going to settle for nothing less than Peace and Civil Rights, in that order, and then I'm going to take it from there.

I have the warm and comfortable feeling that I'm not all by myself, standing on this solid ground of Civil Rights and Peace. I feel—although I don't yet hear —the vast majority of you 16 million Negroes standing right here beside me, and I feel millions of our white fellow-Americans standing right here beside us.

I'm not going to be lured off this solid ground by The Twelve White-House-men, nor by the Un-American Activities Committee, nor by the F.B.I. There is too much confusion, quicksand and danger all around, so I'm going to stay right here on my solid ground, and dig in to work and fight for my survival as a Human Being. And I dare anybody to say me nay.

When I'm challenged as to my duties and obligations to my country, I shall challenge right back that these duties and obligations go hand-in-hand with my rights and privileges; they are the two sides of the medal of citizenship, and cannot be separated.

And what is more, I'm going to challenge everyone everywhere who describes my country, and the Western Colonial Countries, as "The Free Nations of the Free World". The "Free World" is not free for me as a Negro, nor for my People, nor for Colored Peoples:

The 60 million Africans, Malayans, and West Indians under British Colonial Rule, know that Britain is not a Free Nation for them;

The 50 million Africans, Indo-Chinese, and West Indians under French Colonial Rule know that France is not a Free Nation for them;

The 14 million Africans in Congo and Ruanda Urundi under Belgian Colonial Rule, know that Belgium is not a Free Nation for them;

The more than 10 million Africans in South and South-West Africa under the terrible Malan Government know that the Union of South Africa is not a Free Nation for them;

The 9 million Africans under Portuguese Rule, and the nearly 1 million Africans under Spanish Colonial Rule, know that Portugal and Spain are not Free Nations for them;

The 16 million Negroes, the 18 million Filipinos, the 2 million Puerto Ricans, the half-million Hawaiians, Alaskans, people of the Canal Zone and the Virgin Islands,—nearly 35 million Colored People under United States Rule, know that the U.S. is not a Free Nation for them.

Now when nearly 200 million Colored People know, from bitter and prolonged experience, that these Western Colonial Nations are not Free Nations, it is time for all Negroes—including The Twelve—to stop talking about them as "The Free Nations of the Free World".

But while I insist, along with these 200 million Colored Peoples, that the Western World is not The Free World, I also insist that it is high time for us all to wake up, mobilize, work and fight to make it The Free World—free for all of us, the 16 million Negroes, and for everyone everywhere.

An Open letter to Mrs. Paul Robeson

Dear Mrs. Robeson:

Not having read the article to which you refer, "The Strange Case of Paul Robeson" by Walter White, I can't comment on that gentleman's criticism of your husband, but I would like to let you know the reason why I and the same reason probably goes for a fairly high proportion of the millions who hold him in affectionate regard and high esteem) have not come to his defense. One defends the weak — it had never occurred to me that Paul Robeson needed any defense—I think that the principles Paul Robeson, Howard Fast, Dr. Dubois, Jane Addams in her day and all those others in this and other countries have worked and suffered to defend are themselves the defence. I for one would not presume to "defend" Paul Robeson any more than I would "defend" the innocence of Christ against his accusers. I feel there is an analogy there, by the way, maybe Walter White could try his hand on "the Strange Case of Jesus Christ" — from your letter and my knowledge of the character and works of Paul Robeson, the two cases have much in common.

We are all in this thing together, Mrs. Robeson, some of us realize that fact and some of us are oblivious of our interdependence one on the other for our very survival in a world where scientific and technical progress has so outstripped morality (in the western world at least, by all accounts the other side of "the iron curtain" science and technology are enriching life instead of destroying it). Paul Robeson is one of few who understands the issues, and understanding how can he do less than write and speak to help others gain that understanding. There are others who have gone to prison rather than fail their people, and others again have given their lives in a gesture of protest, foremost of these who comes to my mind is Francis Otto Matthiessen, so Paul is not alone in the course that he is following.

Still, in spite of the fact that I have written this open letter to make clear why I and probably millions who feel as I do (am I being unduly optimistic, I wonder, perhaps I should be safe and say thousands) have not rushed to defend Paul Robeson against his detractors, I am glad of your statement of his position, as I am sure it will encourage and strengthen many to see so clearly the calibre of a man who is on our side.

Very sincerely yours,
Sybil Sticht

To The California Eagle:
(PRISON IS SAFER THAN THE BATTLEFIELD).

I hear over the radio that a Quaker that served in prison for refusing to serve in a previous war, has now refused to serve in the Korean war, is again in prison. I highly commend him for standing true to his convictions. And I wish every draftee would do likewise. For the prison is safer, and more HONORABLE, than serving in the murdering of innocent children and destroying NATURE'S products, than they are forced to do upon the battlefields of the CRUEL and UNJUST WALL OF ST. WARS. And

If all draftees would refuse to serve in the war, WAR would cease. It could not carry on. And as above stated, prison is a safer, and more honorable place to serve, than serving on the battle fields. And

If the peace loving people would bind themselves together, pledged to go to the rescue of all draftees that refused to serve in the war, as stated in my previous article, (WHY SO MANY VOLUNTEERS) there would be no war, neither any draftees sent to prison.

With the many thousands of draftees, and the millions of us peace lovers standing together, what can the WAR MONGERS DO? They would be in the same position the draftees are now in (CHOOSE) Either to stop war, or fight it alone.

Now don't say it can't be done. It can be done, and must be done. It's the only sysaem to save ourselves from total destruction. If

An unlawful mob of a few hundred determined people can rescue from prison a man and hang him, why can't we millions rescue draftees from prison, or prevent them from being sent to prison? It's

Only a matter of proper and sensible organizing. We all should realize that we, the people are the U. S. GOVERNMENT. And that 90% of the people of the U. S., YEA of the world, are opposed to war. Thus realizing, I can't understand WHY we let the 10% WALL ST. WAR FACTION drive us into another war for their gain and our destruction. So I again appeal to you leaders in the peace move to organize a safe and sane system and save us from total destruction. I am at your service.

Hopefully,

WHERE IS JUSTICE TO BE FOUND?

Only the gulled fool, the tools of war pursues, to kill the innocent millions, to enrich the wicked few. How can you hope for peace on earth, good will toward all men, so long as we have wars? To me, our murderous system is the most cruel system ever devised by man. Especially, our capital punishment system. True, it's wrong for me to take a man's life. — But isn't it equally wrong for a set of men to take my life?— To punish crime with crime only multiplies crime. — O, awake to realize there is something seriously wrong with our civilized customs. And strive to remedy the wrongs, instead of multiplying them.

Comradely,

IS IT A CRIME....

to talk and think?

The Bill of Rights says "NO"! The Smith Act says "YES"!

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

To speak your mind out, to talk as you please, to think what you wish has been the hard-fought tradition of our people and our nation since 1776.

These rights are the bedrock of all our freedoms, conceived in liberty and so dedicated by people like you and your neighbors.

Whenever the right to belief or opinion is forbidden to any person or any group by government edict or even by law — danger threatens not only the rights of you and all the people, but it erases democratic self-government itself.

The Smith Act of 1941 is such a danger. It makes it a crime for you to think and speak your mind out. The menace of Section 10 of the Smith Act is that it flagrantly opposes free speech and free press and free assembly.

While the views presented here are not to be construed as a defense of certain creeds, or political doctrines, we are aware of the danger of the present-day persecution and conviction of men for their thoughts whether they be Catholics, Republicans, Democrats or the officials of the Communist Party.

We feel if the citizens have to decide between Section 10 of the Smith Act or the Bill of Rights, you and people like you will vote for the Bill of Rights.

The FIRST AMENDMENT SAYS: "Congress shall make no law respecting the establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof, or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press or the right of the people to assemble, and to petition the government for the redress of grievances."

In direct contradiction to this "fixed star in our constitutional constellation," Section 10 of the Smith Act actually tells us the First Amendment is illegal and that it is a crime for any person or group of persons to print what is on their minds or what is in their hearts.

Inasmuch as the Smith Act seeks to control and punish for speech, press and assembly—and such control and punishment is clearly contrary to the Bill of Rights—the Smith Act is patently unconstitutional and must be repealed.

Should our law-makers wish to punish anyone for criminal ACTIONS, it has such power already vested in it. But to prosecute, punish and convict any person, or group of persons, for their thinking is as odious as the decrees of our late enemy Nazi Germany.

If the Smith Act can punish one person for his belief—then the Bill of Rights is destroyed.

President Abraham Lincoln said: "This country with its institutions belongs to the people who inhabit it. Whenever they shall grow weary of the existing government, they can exercise their constitutional right of amending it, or their revolutionary right to dismember or overthrow it . . . ." If Lincoln were alive, and he said that today, then under Section 10 of the Smith Act he could be prosecuted and convicted.

YOU MUST DECIDE! THE SMITH ACT OR THE BILL OF RIGHTS!

WE THE UNDERSIGNED agree with Voltaire's thought—"While I disapprove of what you say, I will defend to the death, your right to say it."

Therefore we Californians take this means to inform and remind our fellow Americans of the danger of Section 10 of the Smith Act, and urge you to raise your voices to the end that the Smith Act be repealed and the Bill of Rights be maintained.

Dorothy Speights in Philharmonic Debut

On last Sunday afternoon Dorothy Speights under the auspices of Charles Abrams sang in Los Angeles' once exclusive Philharmonic Auditorium to an enthusiastic if meager audience.

Miss Speights, a comparatively recent arrival to Los Angeles musical circles, possesses an instrument which if handled carefully may pass inspection of most critics, however her range is so surprisingly small that it is hard to tell whether she is a lyric or dramatic soprano. Even though the program which follows is well chosen, this writer felt that it was too exacting a program for this singer.

In the first group was an arietta and an aria both by Handel, and the well-known aria "Divintes du Styx" by Gluck. The lieder group included such composers as Schubert & Brahms. The singer's German is passialle as is the rest of her languages. In the French group Miss Speights scored her greatest victories as an artist. "Le Nil" by Leroux and "J'ai Pleure en Reve" by Hue were the most outstanding.

It might be said here that the artist demonstrated an amazing amount of poise, stage presence and personality. If Miss Speights is a success in Europe on her tour in the near future, it will be by these latter things rather than by sheer voice alone.

As her aria the artist chose from Gounod's "Queen of Sheba," "Plue grand dans son obscurite." We regret that here too Miss Speights was not at home with this massive and dramatic aria, however she was courageous to undertake such an aria. Of the English group, Tschaikowsky's "He Truly Loved Me So," "A Dream" by Preobrajensky, and "How Do I Love Thee," (a poem by Browning and music by Edouard Lippe local vocal coach) showed a new Dorothy Speights in that the tones were not marred by faulty voice placement and lack of control.

The spirituals were well done and included "I Want Jesus To Walk With Me," and "City Called Heaven." Adequate accompaniment was afforded by Henrietta Levman, who could have shared more of the honors of the recital.

Plans Made for Armed Forces Day

Military services in Southern California are coordinating plans for the observance of Armed Forces Day, May 19, under the direction of Rear Admiral Wilder D. Baker, Commandant, 14th Naval District, State Armed Forces Day Project Officer for Southern California.

Supporting Admiral Baker in Southern California are the following sister services' liaison officers: Major General William T. Clement, USMC; Major General Emmett O'Donnell, USAF; and Colonel Sidney F. Dunn, USA.

Mexican Miners

MEXICO CITY—The 4000 striking coal miners who marched some 900 miles to Mexico City to ask justice of President Miguel Aleman have been kicked in the teeth by the government they had been told to trust. The commission appointed by the President issued a decision rejecting all the strikers demands, offering re-employment only to 1000 strikers under worse conditions than before and giving the rest vague promises of preference when openings develop, or the opportunity to become peasants if they so desire.

HAZEL SCOTT, celebrated pianist, who will give a recital at Philharmonic auditorium, Sunday, May 6, at 2:30 p.m. under the auspices of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority. Miss Scott is now on a concert tour of the United States, and is packing them in everywhere.

LA Man Hero In "The Cop"

Earl J. Morris, Chicago newspaperman, has drawn on his experiences as Michigan state trooper-investigator and Los Angeles deputy sheriff in "The Cop," a novel about a Negro policeman, just published by the Exposition Press of New York ($2.50).

"The Cop" is the story of Charles Hawkins of Los Angeles, one of a trio of buddies who set out on a patrol in No-Man's Land during the first world war. Hawkins fights his way back alone. Ben Bowie struggles back later, carrying Joe Bradley, seriously wounded. When the war ends, Bowie is dead, Bradley has vanished, and Hawkins returns to Los Angeles alone.

"The Cop" follows Hawkins' career, first as a postal clerk, then as a policeman, combatting prejudice as well as crime, and achieving the happiness of finding Joe Bradley, and of seeing Charles Hawkins, Jr., an officer in the army his father served in before him.

The book mirrors much of Mr. Morris' own experiences and philosophy. A Los Angeles deputy sheriff since 1944, he is now assigned as bailiff in the Superior Court. He lives at 218 West 27th Street, Los Angeles.

Ben Bowie is a real life character, the first Negro from Los Angeles to die in World War 1.

Hazel Scott To Philharmonic On May 6

Hazel Scott, the celebrated pianist, who is now on a record-breaking concert tour of the United States, will give a recital at Philharmonic Auditorium on Sunday, May 6, at 2:30 p.m., under the auspices of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

Miss Scott, who is the wife of Congressman Adam Clayton Powell of New York City, returned to her native Trinidad last autumn on her first concert tour of the Caribbean. She had left there as a child of four with her mother who was also a musician. Taught by her mother, she made her first public appearance at the age of 12 in a girl's band. After four years at the Juilliard School of Music she became known on radio programs and later achieved stardom at Cafe Society, leading New York night club.

Then Miss Scott went to Hollywood where she made such films as Warner's Rhapsody in Blue," "The Heat's On," "Something to Shout About," "I Doo'd It," and "The Brodway Melody."

On her first tours as a piano recitalist, Miss Scott won complete approval for her unusual programs which combine the classics with her own inventive compositions, such works as "A Taleof Four Cities," and "Caribbean Fete."

In herown particular field, Hazel Scott reigns supreme. There is no pianist anywhere who can present an exquisitely turned "Valse" by Liszt and then swing into "Fats" Walker's swift-tempoed "Ain't Misbehavin'." It is a new type piano concert and it is packing them in everywhere.

KENNETH SPENCER SINGS

Last Sunday evening in People's Independent Church, Kenneth Spencer sang a program which ran the gauntlet of his musical equipment. Mr. Spencer is without question a thrilling singer, completely and unequivocally equipped in the most difficult situations. He opened his varied program with the aria "O Isis and Osiris" from Mozart's opera "The Magic Flute." Purcell's "I Attempt from Love's Sickness to Fly" was the second offering while the exacting "Hear Me Ye Winds and Waves" from Handel's opera "Scipio" concluded the first group.

The art songs of the romantic period characterized by Schubert, Hahn and Flegier were representative of the second group. Of particular significance here was the delicate yet expressive rendition of Flegier's "The Horn." In this selection, the auditors are given the opportunity to recognize the exquisite quality of Spencer's voice. The finesse which he produced the pianissimo passages was almost unbelievable.

The first half of the program was concluded with a dramatic exposition of James Weldon Johnson's "The Creation" to the organ accompaniment created by Fannie Evedyn Benjamin whose piano accompaniments were masterful.

In the English group, Mousorgsky's "The Song of the Flea" gave us an insight into Spencer's dramatic capabilities. Gustave Holst's "The Heart Worships" ethereal, impressionistic, was again exemplary of the artist's vocal abilities.

In the spirituals By and By, Fix Me, and Roll Jordan Roll we recognized an impressive resonance, a feeling for dignity, a basso gifted in arts of interpretation yet tempered with an innate feeling for judgment and good taste. It was one of the finest recitals heard by this reviewer in recent months.

The former Jollettes, now called "We Moderns," held their installation at the Parkview Manor, Sunday, April 8 in a distinctly different manner.

With veteran clubwoman Laura Slayton directing the proceedings, the beautifully dressed girls were seated around a flower garlanded table.

The girls were tastefully gowned in cocktail wear of gold brocade identical tops, with varied styles in the black taffeta skirts.

The club history was delivered by Hazel Saunders. Addie Beauford presented the out-going president with a token from the Club.

50th Anniversary Marked by American Woodmen Lodge

The Golden Anniversary of The American Woodmen, giant of fraternal insurance associations, will be concluded with a public mass meeting and thanksgiving service, Sunday, 3 p. m., at Paradise Baptist Church, 50th and Compton Avenue, in which the community's business, fraternal, social and religious organizations will cooperate. The celebration of fifty years of service by the American Woodmen began Wednesday night, April 4, when the four local camps and their auxiliaries met at Harmony Baptist Church, in celebration of the founding of the Association in Denver, Colorado, April 4, 1901.

The community celebration of the Woodmen's Fiftieth birthday at Paradise Baptist Church will be preceded by a gala parade in which the Pacific States Brigade Staff (Elks), their Majorettes Group, Shrine Patrol, Number 5, Golden West (Elk) Bank, Pacific Coast Auxiliary Staff (Elks), Boy Scout Troops, and many other Woodmen and other organizations will participate.

Two minute speakers representing the NAACP, Uurban League, YMCA, YWCA Golden State Mutual Life, and the local mortuaries will bring greetings and Rev. A. J. Iverson will deliver the anniversary sermonette. The public is invited to attend this meeting.

At the Wednesday night meeting of celebration The History of the American Woodsmen was told by Leon W. Steward, who was the Golden Anniversary speaker, from its inception in 1901, by four white men for the benefit of Negro general welfare, and who, after a year, found it necessary to turn it over entirely to Negro management and operation.

At the close of business in 1950 its records revealed, he said, that the association had 56,200 members in 23 states and the District of Columbia and its assets had grown to $6,186,840.45 under Negro leadership and control. Ben H. Graham, past Supreme Clerk of the Woodmen, described his work in bringing the Association to California some 30 years ago.

Camp Numbers 1, 2, 8, and 10, under the leadership of their commanders — L. N. Ross, Rosa H. Hill, Anna D. Gardner and Ophelia Smith, took part in the celebration and the social which followed.

Mrs. O. M. Rhodes, supervising clerk in charge of the local office, presided.

The first game started with Kappas upsetting the Alphas with a five point lead. The hard hustling Alpha basketball standouts, Ike Jones, Hugo and Kenneth Hill, aided their team in an encouraging lead for a short while.

Kappa neophytes, Nichols and Powell, provided the spark of new life to drive the Kappas on to their first win of the Series. Veteran Kappa basketball players, Gene Williams and Dave Williams, played their usual fine game.

"DEAD-EYE" TUCKER

Driving the crowd to an excited frenzy, Ed Tucker, newest outstanding name to Intrafraternity Basketball, was "death" on the court for his Sigma opponents. With his uncanny accuracy for hitting the hoop, he chalked up 31 points leaving the audience with nothing but the faint echo of strings. ....

Star veteran players — Vernon Riggins, Charles Reed and Vernon Melton — provided the spark for the all-around Omega teamwork, which the "Gentlemen of the Court" displayed against the Sigmas.

In the stiff competition which the Sigmas met Bobby Pounds played an exceptionally good game along with Doug Shaw and Ernie Bond. These men stacked up point after point for Sigma cagers.

This week promises to be an upset because it is rumored that Barksdale, Minor, and Chapman will play for the twice defeated Alphas against the Omegas in the first game. The Kappas and Sigmas will battle it out for second place honors.

One of the newcomers to the Trotter team is Josh Grider, one-time Kansas City schoolboy and A & I (Tennessee, that is) ace hardwoods boys. Grider may double in baseball, too, though that is not his forte.

On The Turf

By GEORGE A. RAMSEY

New Caliente in old Mexico: a banner crowd of over 7,500 lovers of the sport of kings watched 9-year-old War Allies score his sixth straight victory. Although it took a great ride by Jockey G. Parker to bring the game son, of imported Alibh Ai to a very close nose victory over the fast closing Saginaw, the latter might have won in another two or three jumps more, but he suffered interference along with Smart Count when Sir Shamrock knocked the

GEO. A. RAMSEY

Count to his knees at the start.

War Allies, one time stake horse, has found the fountain of youth at Caliente. In winning his sixth straight race his time for the six furlongs was 1:10 2-5, the fastest time of the year for this distance. He rewarded his backers $7.80.

The afternoon was rather chilly but Jockey William Steed made it hot when he rode four of his first six mounts to victory. Starting with Charmill Rose in the first which paid $59.20, Barnello in the second paying $13.20, Star Bonnet in the fifth paid $15.40, and Sheriff Jim in the sixth paying $23.80.

Three horses from the stable of Mrs. H. P. Bonner were claimed during the afternoon; first was Bonner Reigh, second was Trail Me and third was War Bam Jr. The daily-double combination of Drum Call, winner of the fourth race, and Star Bonnet, victor of the fifth, paid $188.80, and a consolation double from Drum Call to Class Abbey paid $12.80. The reason was that Class Abbey was scratched at post time by the stewards. The fans that had a double from Drum Call to Class Abbey received the winning price on Drum Call. The Qiniela paid $103.60 when Georgia Moon and Handy Way finished in that order.

Managing Director Walter C. Marty announced that after the first month of the revival of Saturday racing and the success it has been that the minimum purse will be $700.00, and the feature on Saturday $1000. Business Manager John (Little Giant) Alessio is busy again with more improvements at the Caliente course; he is adding more than 300 tables on the club house lawn. When interviewed by this writer the Little Giant said, "I want to see Caliente one of the most beautiful tracks in the country, with all the facilities and conveniences for the public."

The transformation that Caliente has gone through since the re-opening is nearly unbelievable. The feature event for this Saturday will be the Long Beach handicap, and Sunday's main attraction the Michigan secondary, the Lansing, at one mile.

Plan Proposed to Streamline Government of California

SACRAMENTO—A plan has been presented to the State Legislature which would greatly simplify local government in California and re-constitute the State Senate along more democratic lines.

The proposal is in the form of a proposed amendment to the State Constitution by Assemblyman Edward E. Elliott. The plan would divide California into seven regions "along physiographic and socio-economic lines for the purpose of simplyifying government and forming districts for the election of legislative representatives." State Senators would be elected from these regions.

Counties within the regions could consolidate in order to reduce administrative costs, and areas could combine administrative agencies at various levels of government to avoid duplication, save in governmental costs, and make it easier for the people to understand and avail themselves of the public services supplied by units of government.

In the proposed constitutional amendment, which it is suggested be placed on the ballot at the next general election for a decision by the people, the seven regions would be constituted as follows: Alta Region, Northern California; Golden Gate Region, San Francisco and Bay area; Sacramento Valley Region, Sacramento Valley Counties; San Joaquin Valley Region, San Joaquin Valley and adjacent counties; Costa Linda Region, central coastal counties; Greater Los Angeles Region, Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, and San Bernardino Counties; Greater San Diego Region, San Diego and Imperial Counties.

The proposed amendment to the State Constitution would give the Greater Los Angeles and the Golden Gate Regions ten members of the State Senate each. The other five regions would each have four State Senators. Today Los Angeles County has only one Senator out of forty, though it has nearly forty percent of the State's population.

April Bicycle Safety Month

"A child's life is more precious than gold!"

Nothing tears at the heart strings of responsible drivers more than the sight of a child's body broken and maimed by an accident. Excessive speed, especially in residential districts, around schools and near public parks is a leading factor in child traffic death. Right-of-way and cross-walk violations also are important factors in causing death and injury to child pedestrians and cyclists.

A child's safety begins at home! Youthful bicycle riders must be made to understand that they must obey traffic regulations. Young pedestrians must also be taught the rules of the road.

Parents should, before letting their children ride bicycles upon public streets, be certain that they know the rules and understand the need for obeying bicycle regulations.

Safety Education Begins at Home!

Trotters Take Stars, 55-38, Before World Record Crowd

JOE LOUIS and wrestling impresario Jules Strongbow take the measure of Irving "King of Style" Berman at impromptu ceremony which market beginning of $50,000 building expansion program at the House of Style in downtown Los Angeles.

The world reknowned Globe Trotters took everything but the seats in the Rose Bowl Monday night as they hung out the College All-Stars wash 55 to 38, and set a world's record in attendance as more than 31,000 saw the fracas.

The night belonged to Reece (Goose) Tatum who rung up 24 points all by himself. The Goose sank them from every angle and had the crowd cheering time after time.

A number of All Stars came in for their share of the honors but they seemed to have a harder time than the Trotters remaining on their feet on the wet slippery floor. Bill Garret, Indiana University ace, who was chosen on Look's runner up team for the year 1951, looked good on the floor, but was held down in scoring.

A huge fireworks shows preceded the ball game and half-time found bands performing. The performance of the evening, however, was left up to the Trotters. It seemed they looped them at will and showed their disdain for the All Stars by clowning on the side. Only at one time during the game did the stars lead by two points, but this was snatched from them at the end of the first half and they trailed ever afterwards. The Trotters could do more tricks with the basketball and still drop them in than the Stars could at the free throw line.

Shumate Divorce Decree

Instead of being stripped of all "even his instruments" as headlines in local papers had predicted in March 8th issues, Dr. Lincoln W. Shumate, famous X-ray therapy physician, saw a very satisfactory settlement of his crossfile, against the divorce complaint by his beautiful wife, Anita, last Monday. Entirely devoid of sensationalism, and with only one witness, Miss Nora Newman, presented by her counsel, Willard W. Woods, Shumate's attorney, Jas. N. Resse, seemed, say spectators, well pleased with the court's decision. Rendered by Judge Thurmond Clarke, in Dept. "7," was an interlocutory decree of divorce for Mrs. Shumate, but no community property listed.

A modest cash amount was specified in the decision, but all other matters had been amicably settled out of court. The couple, widely known in professional and social circles, had been married one year, three months and twenty-seven days, when she entered suit, following their separation, February 19, 1951. They had married twice in one year, the first time in Mexico, Oct. 25, 1949, but repeated the ceremony here Oct. 25, 1950. No offspring resulted from the union.

Had the shapely, stylishly attired young woman been accorded her first demands she would have come into sole possession of money on deposit in the Arlington and Jefferson Security National Bank, United States bonds and life insurance policies in the Broadway Federal Savings and Loan Association, their home and its luxurious furnishings, and to top all, his expensively equipped offices, and the latest model equipment and instruments necessary to his profession. This was the noted practioneer's third matrimonial venture.

Trial for Pandering

Helen Walker, 2233 Wellington Road, is scheduled to go on trial May 2nd before Superior Judge Edward L. Jefferson, on charges of pandering.

Superior Judge Thomas J. Cunningham set the trial date this week after Mrs. Walker appeared at her arraignment with Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr., and pleaded not guilty to two counts.

Police claim that Mrs. Walker procured a 15 year old girl to become an inmate of a bawdy house.

Also arrested at the same time and charged with felony offense was J. C. Sweeney, record shop owner, alleged to be the girl's lover.

Celebs Open House of Style Expansion Style

Joe Louis and Jules Strongbow, former heavyweight boxing and wrestling champions, respectively, and movie starlet Dorothy Abbott were guests of honor at a brief ceremony marking a $50,000 building expansion program at Berman's House of Style in downtown Los Angeles.

A crowd of several hundred, attracted by the presence of the celebs, blocked traffic as Miss Abbott, supported by Strongbow and the Brown Bomber daintily hammered the first nail into the new construction.

King of Style Irving Berman was present to meet and greet the honorees and his public, who helped make his production a huge success.

When alterations are completed some four weeks hence, the House of Style will consist of two floors, and enlarged facilities in the basement.

The entire store will be lavishly redecorated, and a brand new stock of merchandise will be on the racks.

While construction work is underway, The House of Style is featuring a store-wide sale.

Martial Law in Iran

BEIRUT, Iran—Martial law has been proclaimed throughout the British-operated oil fields of Southern Iran to throttle the rapidly spreading wave of strikes of the Iranian workers against a 30 percent wage cut. The strike began during the weekend when the oil company cut the special allowance of 30 per cent, paid to compensate the workers for the difficult living conditions. The workers picketed and distributed leaflets asking the Majlis (parliament) to urge the Iranian government immediately to defend the workers from the abuses of the British exploiters and oppressors. The leaflet further calls on all Iranians backing oil nationaliszation to support the demands of the strikers against the British oil company.

In Abadan, where the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company has the world's largest refinery, most of the workers walked out. At Bandarmashur, the company port where the tankers are filled, the strike was general. —Telepress.

NBC Stars Do Their Bit For Charity

PHILADELPHIA — The Billy Williams quartet, one of the country's newest and most popular vocal groups, highlighted the recent 1951 Lions Charity Show at Philadelphia's Convention Hall. The quartet appeared with other celebrities of show business in a star-studded program.

Williams and his group have gained fame in the past year as regular cast members of NBC television's "Show of Shows." They are featured with comic Sid Caesar on the network's Saturday night sparkler and bring to televiewers a unique treatment of favorite old and new ballads.

Williams, who is first tenor and arranger for the group, was born in Waco, Texas, in 1915.

He was with the Charioteers for some years, breaking away last year to form his own quartet. The group has enjoyed a spectacular rise to success since its formation.

Other members of the group are: Claude Riddick, baritone; Johnny Bell, second tenor; and Eugene Dixon, bass.

Because the stars had been on a tour triumphant for the past five months the ceremonies did not take place until last week. In the above photo (reading L to r.) THE DIVINE LAWS FOR THE NEW AGE is the subject on which Mr. David Bond will deliver his lecture at the public meeting of the Baha'i World Faith to be held at Los Angeles Headquarters, 331 South New Hampshire Avenue, on Sunday afternoon, April 15th, at 3:30 o'clock.

Mr. Bond says that Bah'u'llah fills this need. It is his specific mission. He is the Focal Point of this day, from which emanates the new spirit and the new plan for further unfoldment of history. He speaks to the whole human race; his revelation is not specifically for any people or country, but for the whole world. Jean Wheeler Recital Success

Zion Temple Community Church listed last alphabetically in our Western Regional, soared to the top Sunday, April 1st, 1951, when the Evangelistic Singers (with Miss Marion Lewis, director, and Mrs. India Jay, accompanist of the group), presented Rev. Jean Wheeler in a vocal recital.

Pleasing in every way was this little diamond in the rough, and her appearance SHRDLU and her appreciative audience (which was richly sprinkled with the ministers of this area), partially withheld their real selves in giving ovations, for fear of desecrating God's house.

Helms Hostess House rightfully bestowed the title "That Sweet Singer" upon Rev. Wheeler on Feb. 15th, to which is added "An Unlisted Artist." Gracefully poised, clear enunciation, dramatic gestures, the numbers were rendered in English, Spanish and Latin.

Rev. H. Mansfield Collins, Areal Director, paid a glowing tribute to this future star. Miss Mary Louise Moore, the pianist of McCoy Memorial Baptist Church, received honors for her marked ability. Rev. Geraldine O'Conner, Pastor of Zion Temple Community Church, closed the afternoon with compliments and thanks to both artists and all others present.

GBS Honored

The Sunday Evening Club of the First Unitarian Church, 2936 West Eighth Street, Los Angeles, will present the Hollywood Readers Theater in a special program honoring George Bernard Shaw next Sunday, April 15, 8 p.m.

The evening's entertainment is open to the public and there is no admission charge.

Breakfast, Picture At Westminster

The Men's Council of Westminister Presbyterian Church, Jefferson Blvd. and Third Avenue, held its monthly 8:00 O'Clock Breakfast Sunday, April 8, 1951. Seventy-nine men enjoyed the fellowship and progressive program of the council. Principal speaker was Dr. Claude Hudson, with an enlightening talk on the activities and support of the N. A. A. C. P., tying in with the Christian work of the community.

The future Christian programs, work and activities of the Council are being met with great enthusiasm and interest by the increasing number of men that are coming to find this meeting held on the second Sunday of each month, a highlight of inspiration and good fellowship.

Elder Robert Thompson, athletic director of the Men's Council, had as his invited guests, six city high school boys, all champion record holders of the Los Angeles City high schools track meet.

Men! young and old, come out! Join us next month, May 13, 8:00 o'clock. Bring a friend and meet a friend! It's worth your while!

"JUNGLE BREAD"

A dramatic full-color motion picture photographed in the deep jungle of South America, entitled "Jungle Bread", will be the highlight of the meeting of the Presbyterian Men's Council, to be held April 12 at 7:30 p. m. in Fellowship Hall, at Westminister.

"Jungle Bread" is the most unusual picture of the year, photographed where few white men have ever been . . . in the darkest regions of Dutch Guiana.

It shows the everyday life of some of the most unusual primitive people in the world, the Djuka tribe. One of the high points of the film shows the natives making bread from Cassava, a bitter root which before processing is so poisonous that a tiny portion of the root's juice taken internally, would cause instant death.

NAACP Reports

Forging ahead at rapid pace is the 1951 Membership Drive of the Los Angeles Branch, National Association for the Advancement of Colored people.

The sum of $2500 representing 1250 memberships secured by live-wire volunteer workers of the four key divisions marks the first financial tally of the Association's vitally important annual project, which got officially underway two weeks ago.

Most recent organization to join forces in a concerted attempt to make this year's campaign the biggest and most successful of any ever undertaken here is the Fair Practices Committee, C.I.O. Full support of this group was pledged.

Hourly gaining momentum and an important medium in the driye are the house to house meetings to which fifty to seventy-five persons are invited and given the full particulars of the Association's achievements, aims and ambitions on both a local and national scale.

Hosting such meets last weekend were Mrs. Eleanor Brown, Order of Eastern Star, Prince Hall Affiliate and Mrs. Frankie Trigg, Eastern Star, Scottish Rite Affiliate and Criterion Social Club.

Enthusiastic over results thus far, James H. Anderson, Co-ordinator of the drive told this publication the response from all segments of the community in this year's campaign is indeed gratifying, there's little doubt that we will meet and surpass our goal of $25,000 or $50,000 in the six weeks to follow.

Brotherhood In Action

Brotherhood in Action, newly formed inter-racial group to combat all forms of racial discrimination, will hold its first social event on Saturday, April 14, 8 p.m., at the Humanists Hall, 2307 South Union. Highlighting the evening's entertainment will be a dramatized version of the Passover Haggadah service and the "Last Supper," written and directed by Rabbi Franklin Cohen. Serving as narrator will be Rev. J. J. Hicks, pastor of St. John's Methodist Church, and music will be provided by the Tabernacle of Faith choir.

Games of all kinds including charades, dancing, refreshments and door prizes will make the evening an enjoyable social event. The hospitality committee includes: Rev. Byron G. Hamlin, Mrs. Mac Green, C. D. Hawkins and Mrs. Leo Kessler. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Spring Musicale At Bowen Memorial

A large audience atendted the second annual Spring Musicale of the Youth Choir of Bowen Memorial Methodist Church Sunday evening at that church.

The guest choirs this year were from Scott Methodist Church, of Pasadena, and Hamilton Methodist Church of this city. The three choirs and their soloists rendered a very commendable program, judging from the hearty applause of the audience and praise it received from Rev. John Bain, pastor of the host church.

The soloists were Susie Moore, pianist; Joyce Hannah and Billie Williams and Doris Woolridge, vocalists. The Dean Brothers Trio of Pasadena, also rendered several vocal selections. Willie Barnes, president of the Bowen Youth Choir, presided, and also took the lead in making the social which followed, interesting and enjoyable to the young folks in attendance. Mrs. Amenda Nelson is the director of the Bowen Youth Choir.

Gems of Thought

INTERVALS

The following poem is dedicated to the organists in our churches who are often the unsung heroes and heroins of our music departments.

THE ORGANIST

I wonder how the organist
Can do so many things,
He's getting ready long before
The choir stands up and sings;
He's pressing buttons, pushing stops,
He's pulling here and there,
And testing all the working parts
While listening to the prayer.

The organist knows every one
And how they ought to go;
He makes them rumble like a storm,
Or plays them sweet and low;
At times you think them very near;
At times they're soaring high,
Like angel voices singing far
Off, somewhere in the sky.

I always like to take a seat
Where I can see him go;
He's better than a sermon, and
He does me good I know;
I like the life and movement and
I like to hear him play;
He is the most exciting thing
In town on Sabbath day.

Rev. Owens In Greek

Rev. John H. Owens, 1473 W. 37th St., a member of the Southwest Community Committee and Chairman of the Los Angeles Anti-Discrimination Committee, has recently had some of his writings translated in the Greek language.

Some of his work appeared in the "Marches De France," a journal of international literature published at Hofstade les Alost, Belgium ,and one of his poems: "California Desert" was translated in the French. The journal circulates among the literary elite of continental Europe and so impressed were some of the Greek literary scholars by Rev. Owens' work that Mme. Boumipapa of 88 Charilaos Tricoupi, Athens, Greece translated the poem "California Desert" into the Greek.

Anya Fisher's drawings and paintings will be on display on April 16 to May 11, at Anthes Gallery, 767 North La Cienega Blvd.

There will be a reception Sunday, April 15, from 7 to 10 p.m.

Christian Science Says Health Real

The question "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the topic to be considered in the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches Sunday.

The Golden Text from Psalms declares, "He that is our God is the God of salvation; and unto God the Lord belong the issues from death" (68:20).

In Matthew's Gospel it is reported that Jairus came to Jesus, saying, "My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live. And Jeeus arose, and followed him . . . And when (He) came into the ruler's house . . . He went in, and took her by the hand, and the maid arose" (9:18, 19, 23, 25).

Mary Baker Eddy declares in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "Sickness , sin and death are not the fruits of life. They are inharmonies which Truth destroys" (p. 243).

Mrs. Williams Returns

Coming home to Los Angeles is one of California's outstanding Baptist Workers. After serving for six months in the African Missionary field, Mrs. Lu Voilie Williams — wife of the late Rev. S. A. Williams — returns to her many friends. They pastored the Saint Paul Baptist Church for 16 years, and served in the various positions of the Western Baptist State Convention for 25 years, she, therefore, is a well known and loved worker. Mrs. Williams is a possessor of a M.C.E. degree from the Reed College of Religion, where she taught for a couple of years. Coupled with her profound personality, she is well qualified for her great mission.

Mrs. Williams left California last October 14, for Africa. She embarked at the port Dakar, after which she went to Monrovia, Liberia. Stationed at the well known "Suehn Mission", she worked 35 miles out in the jungle — learning and experiencing the African Way of Life.

Giving first hand information of these exciting and wonderful experiences, Sunday, April 15, 3 p. m. at Kingdom Baptist Church — 2808 Temple Street, she will speak on "Echoes From Africa." Enjoy with us the message concerning the African Way of life, their needs and problems.

"LEST WE FORGET"
By Bobby Reedburg

In distant Korea our boys are fighting for a thing called democracy,
They are dying for Americans, they are fighting for you and me;
We are the benefactors, we must strive to do our part.
They must not be unknown soldiers. We must keep them in our heart

In rain, sleet, snow or hail, they are always gallant ,they'll never fail.
Our forefathers founded this nation and kept this in view—
We'll always be a democratic people.
Hail, the red, white and blue.

"ALLEGRO OF LOVE"

Rhapsodies of heaven flutter in my heart.
Moments of ecstacy and then we must part;
Only a minute to love you, caress you tight.
Then I must leave you and embrace the night.

"THE OTHER ROOM"
By Bobby Reedburg

(Inspired by the novel of the same title written by Worth Tuttle Hedden.)

What definite plans of life have I?
I sit and think, but time goes by.
My thoughts are of humanity and all its gloom;
Of racial bias, strife, torture and "the other room."

Our room is ragged and there is a shortage of space.
"The Other Room" is locked, so you must stay in your place.
The doors are shut, but within they are free.
Yet, I scheme and plot to duplicate tehir key.

9 Aces Bridge Club

The Nine Aces Bridge Club was royally entertained when it met recently with Mrs. Arline Waldon Hendricks in her palatial Portland Avenue home.

A delicious chicken breakfast was enjoyed by all, followed by six changes of bridge with prizes awarded to Mesdames Minnie Leah Payne, Lena Wilson and Charlie Spears.

The club had the distinction of having charming Dr. Katherine Hutchins of Chicago as guest. She was house guest of the lovely hostess, who presented Dr. Hutchins with a select gift.

After a brief business meeting, with President Lena Wilson presiding, meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. Elouise Lavelle.

WATER MUSIC

(Rhymes in Muse—hic!—Appreciation No. 6)
Note the amountof moisture
Needed to blow a bassoon.
And then be ever so thankful
That it's shape is like a spittoon.

The kid who use dto say, "Look, maw, no hands!" while riding his bike is the same one who now refuses to give hand signals while driving his hot rod.

Simile: As useless as the 19th hole to a teetotaling golfer.

Overheard at Pershing Square: "He's so absent-minded he'd lose his head if it weren't screwed up."

The Veterans of Foreign Wars have resolved to boycott all Larry Parks films because he carried a membership card in the Communist Party and made a million dollars while they were overseas.

The VFW seems to forget that were it not for the heroism of a lot of card-carrying communists at Stalingrad many of them would have remained overseas for eternity instead of returning home to pass super-patriotic resolutions.

And while they're boycotting everyone who made a million while they were overseas, they might also boycott General Motors, General Electric, General Foods, General Petroleum, General Mills and the other exponents of private enterprise.

Sudden thought: We need crooners like we need a howl in the head.

One look at Jose Ferrer's nose and Judy Holliday's —er—bodice and you see that they're eligible for front organizations.

Overheard at a party: "She's such a stuffed shirt she uses mental falsies."

Beer, egg and lemon juice have each been advanced as a good hair shampoo. As a mixed drink, they'd probably put hair on anyone's chest.

On the other hand, we could change the name of MacArthur Park back to Westlake Park.

Jefferson Homecoming Date Set for April 27; Seek Queen

The highlight of the Washington Jefferson meet will be the annual Homecoming which is being sponsored by the Thomas Jefferson Alumni Association. The date set aside for this very special day is April 27. The meet will begin around 2:30 or 3 o'clock and there will be a special section roped off for alumni only. All Jefferson alumni and friends and invited to come back and visit our Alma Mater. On this day you can refresh your memories of the good old school days.

On the evening of April 27, in the girls' gymnasium, there will be a dance following the meet. Things will get under way around 8 o'clock and couples will enjoy dancing to the music of the Jefferson Swing Band, along with Floyd Dixon, Jimmy McCracklin, and many, many other name bands and talents in the theatrical world. There will be such popular disc-jockeys as Roy Loggins, Ray Robinson, Hunter Hancock, Robin King Bruin and many others. There is fun in store for everyone.

To climax a day of real fun, will be the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, who will be chosen from the senior aye class. Her attendants will be selected from various other classes. This beautiful young lady will reign over the entire evening. Tickets for the dance are $1 per couple, and may be secured from Jefferson High School in the office of Mr. J. C. Cosgrove.

So don't forget the date, it's April 27 for a day of real fun at the Jefferson Homecoming Day.

PEN PALS CORNER
By BARBARA ANDERZA

Found out that Joe Galloway is the man of her heart. Shirley Alexander's heart, that is. Did ya know that E. J. Challette is back in town? Isn't he a handsome little thing? . . . Janet Draper is really going to town on those beautiful socks that she made for Charlie Wiggins. Must be true love. Huh?? . . . Jo Jackson, what's the matter? Child, ain't you got a boy friend? You've got the looks. Why, all you've gotta do is speak up. . . . Last Sunday Contay gave her annual "Open House" program. Gee!! It was terrific. Those I caught a glimpse of were: Greta Greene, Mammie Pitts, Loraine Mouton, Leroy Williams, Elmer Matt, Margie Johnson, Camille Billops, Joan Southern, Mary Anne Vandage, and Reynold Burbank. . . . Did you see little Miss Gail Davis in that lovely little coat at church, Sunday? She really looked sharp, huh??

SWEET COUPLES

Anita Layne—Earl Broody; Marland Brunner—Mullen Gains; Charles Gray—Leadious Maurney; Shirley Alexander—Joe Galloyway.

The Audrey Springs had a little get-together over at her home Sunday evening. Present were George Hamlet, Donald McAllister, Loraine Mouton, Elmer Matt, Reynold Burbank, Harold Burbank, Irving Washington, and yours truly.

A Tea Am Acomin'. Carver's PTA is gonna give a tea Sunday over at Westley Chapel Youth Center from 3 to 7 p.m. That address is 52nd and Maine. There's to be a silver offering. But best of all, they're featuring Toni Harper and many, many other celebrities.

A certain party called Sue is really dizzy over D.M. Ain't that something? Seems as though things are really poppin' between Lottie Vribleau and Bruce Bernard.

Sorry, kids, that I haven't much this week. But I certainly intend to entertain you with plenty of gossip next week. . . . Oh, yes, before closing, Ole Frank Kent is s'posed to be guest columnist next week.

So long for now, Barbara, Conservatory of Gossip, CE. 2-9922.

P. S. Dear Grandmother Walton, Did you honestly believe that your little granddaughter, Mary Alice, was seriously thinking about tyin' the knot??? Fear not. She's only foolin'. But when she does get serious, rest assured, you'll be the first to know.

A. Academy PTA Fashion Show

he hundreds who attended L. A. Academy PTA-sponsor- Fashion Show last Sunday ernoon (April 8) at the Acad- Auditorium, 846 E. El Segu- Blvd., proved that what ple wear is still of tip top rest to a lot of people.

nd what a setting for a frock ade: a sunny afternoon, light an melodies by Mrs. Vonnie thews, a stage profusely de- ated by basketfuls of flowers, e, small, front, back, center, on the sides. Mrs. Madie all, hospitality chairman, as- ed by Mrs. Graham, had ed for a centerpiece a huge , resembling a brilliant red inverted horse shoe, trimmed with white frills—a background for beauty that was itself beautiful.

Through the horseshoe door strolled models ranging from tiny tots to mature matrons, exhibiting what school children, teen-ages, college debs and fellows, and even parents are wearing. Spiced with remarks by the President Ruby Troy, Mrs. W. C. Webb, and Miss Carrie Davis, and with a couple of sparkling lecturettes on grooming and attire, as informative as they were informal, by Miss Vera Jones, the program included solos by Russell Wilkins, Stanley Huddleston, and Mrs. Curry, and a Pasadena trio by Corrinne Houston, Mrs. Barkus, and Beverly Rhue. The models showed everything from jeans to jackets, bathing suits to chic suits, dresses, hats and stoles, et cetera ad infinitum.

After honoring former PTA presidents Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Alford, Mrs. Masters, Mrs. Onley, Mrs. Bradford-Rock, and Mrs. Rodriguez, Mrs. Ruby Troy told of the two biggest features of the 1950-51 schools year: a May 5 Africa and Europe illustrated travelogue, and the annual all-day festival May 13, concerning both of which a feature announcement will be made.

School Pupils To Visit Bank

Members of the Hooper Avenue School sixth grade class of Miss Myrtle Johnston are scheduled to make a tour of the 57th and Central Branch of the California Bank on Monday, April 23, as part of a social studies lesson.

Accompanying the children in addition to their teacher, will be Richard S. Moore, Assistant Supervisor of Thrift, Conservation, and School Savings Program of the Los Angeles City Schools.

In addition to the above class, children from other grades who are planning to open a new school savings account will also make the trip.

During the course of the tour, which will be handled by Manager H. H. Herkenhoff and his staff, the youngsters will be allowed to enter the vault and see the safe deposit boxes, and will be taken behind the counters to see how the bank business is carried on.

After returning to school the children will have a discussion about their trip in preparation for a written essay about what they have learned at the bank. The children also plan to make oral reports, posters, and write letters of appreciation to the Manager of the bank.

School savings plans have a far-reaching and beneficial effect, Principal Clarence Axtell said, urging parents to cooperate with teachers in encouraging children to set aside their coins for the purpose of opening bank accounts.

Knowing that habits of thrift are acquired at an early age both bankers and educators are working together to teach children this vital concept, according to Burton M. Oliver, Supervisor of the Thrift, Conservation, and School Savings Program of the Los Angeles City Schools.

Farm Employers Must Report SS Taxes Apr. 30

R. A. Riddell, Collector of Internal Revenue, reminded farm and household employers this week that they must report wages and pay Federal social security taxes on those farm and household employees who were brought into the old age and survivors insurance system on January 1, 1951. Whether or not a farm or household worker's wages are subject to the taxes depends on the number of days worked for the employer and the amount of cash earnings, said Mr. Riddell. The Federal social security tax and information return for the period of January - February - March, 1951, is due on or before April 30, together with payment of the taxes.

The Collector's explanation of liability for this new phase of social security tax is as follows:

A farm employer should make a return on Form 941, reporting the cash wages paid to each employee who meets all three of the following tests:

(a) He was employed by the employer (whether or not doing farm work) continuously throughout the quarterly period of October - November - December, 1950; and

(b) He was employed by such employer in agricultural labor on a full-time basis for at least 60 days in the quarterly period and hm1;NUN of January - February - March, 1951; and

(c) His cash earnings for such agricultural labor are $50 or more.

This three-part test also applies to household employees in a private home on a farm which is operated for profit.

A different test, known as the $50—24-day test, should be used in determining whether or not the taxes apply to cash wages paid by an employer for household work in a private home which is not on a farm operating for profit. The employer should make a return reporting the cash wages for household work performed after 1950, paid to each employee.

(a) who received from such employer, during the quarterly period of January - February-March, 1951, $50 or more in cash wages for household work; and

(b) who performed household work for such employer on 24 or more different days in the quarter of October-November-December, 1950. If the employer also pays wages to business employees whom he reports on Form 941, he may include the household employees on the same form. Otherwise, the employer should report the household employees on a return Form 942.

Every farm employer or household employer who is required to file a return on or before April 30, 1951, but who does not have a blank return form to use for this purpose, should promptly request a form from the nearest office of the Collector of Internal Revenue.

ILWU To Demand 15c An Hour, Pension Program In Contract

HONOLULU, T. H.—West Coast longshoremen of the International Longshoremen's & Warehousemen's Union voted in caucus Sunday to open their coast agreement, which expires June 15, and to demand 15 cent-per-hour increases, plus a pension program to which the employers and the longshoremen would each contribute 10c per hour.

Members of the committee for the union are ILWU President Harry Bridges, Howard Bodine of Portland, Ore., and L. B. Thomas of San Pedro, Calif.

In addition to administering the oCast agreement also administers jointly with the employers to the welfare fund, upon which a complete report and accounting was given to the caucus.

Two additional demands which will be made as result of adoption of the committee's report are for an additional income of 5 cents per hour for the welfare fund, and retention of the hiring hall. The recommendation was to "advise the employers in no uncertain terms that this Union will fight to maintain the hiring hall as we know it in such a manner that they will consider any strike of yesteryear as merely a skirmish."

"To best effectuaate a program from which we could hope to win these demands," said the report adopted, "we should aim toward securing joint action and joint negotiations with all other maritime unions on the West Coast, and particularly we should coordinate the corresponding activities between our Hawaiian, Canadian, Alaskan, and West Coast longshoremen."

In addition to adopting the Coast Labor Relations Committee report and recommendations, the caucus unanimously approved a motion brought in by instructed relegates of San Francisco local 10, which called for support of all necessary steps up to and including coastwise strike action to achieve the demands; "if such coastwise action becomes necessary after peaceful means, including settlement by arbitration (excepting arbitration of hiring hall, 6-hour day, 30-hour week and load agreement) have been tried and exhausted."

William L. Lawrence of San Pedro is chairing the caucus and Howard Bodine is secretary.

To serve as negotiators for the June 15 contract opening the caucus named the title officers of the ILWU, the members of the Coast Labor Relations Committee and two from each of the four coast areas, these being Frank M. Andrews, Local 42, Olympia, and John Malletta, Local 19, Seattle, Washington, for the Puget Sound; Charles Ross, Local 8, Portland, and Harold Laharty, Local 12, Coos Bay, for the Columbia River; Henry Schmidt, Local 10, San Francisco, and John Sundell, Local 14, Eureka, for Northern California, and Ernest L. Adams, Local 13, San Pedro, and Thad Black, Local 29, San Diego, for Southern California.

IPP Campaigns For FEPC at May Co.

A campaign to win fair employment practices at the downtown department stores got off to a flying start last Saturday afternoon when more than 60 volunteers from the Independent Progressive Party distributed over 25,000 pieces of literature in front of the three May Company stores.

According to Horace Alexander, IPP vice-chairman, in charge of the week-end distribution, the special leaflet demanding an end to discrimination in the hiring of sales and office personnel, was directed toward the May Company stores as the immediate objective.

The leaflet asked the shoppers to phone and write Tom May, president of the Southland's largest department stores, urging him to hire and upgrade applicants without regard to race, color, creed or national origin.

Alexander reported that scores of shoppers receiving the anti-discrimination leaflet urged the volunteers to "keep up the good work," while indications pointed to the fact that the May Company had designated special personnel to answer the flood of phone calls beginning to be made in response to the leaflet.

Alexander also reported that on previous occasions, May Company management had refused to discuss the question of fair employment practices, and that from now on the entire case would be taken to the community.

One of the most unusual dramas entered in the fourth annual festival sponsored by the Catholic Youth Organization here last week, was "Wonderful Boy from Peru," a series of musical sketches based on the life of Blessed Martin de Porres. The musical sketches were presented by children from 8 to 11 years old at the Santa Rita CYO Center.

Blessed Martin de Porres, the subject, was a saintly Negro lay brother who lived in Peru in the 16th century. It is hoped he will some day be declared a saint by the Catholic Church.

Workers' Delegation Asks Mayor Bowron to Intervene In Willie McGee Frameup

A delegation of workers from construction jobs, offices and various shops of this city got together to see Mayor Fletcher Bowron on behalf of Willie McGee's case, April 17, at the City Hall.

They spoke to the mayor's public relations man, Mr. David Apther, who stated that the mayor was not in the office, and that the delegation would first need to address a letter to Mayor Bowron before he would meet with them.

The delegation came to ask the mayor to use his influence in requesting President Truman to demand a review of the Willie McGee case, and that he call upon Attorney General McGrath to intercede in McGee's case to see that justice is done.

Willie McGee is scheduled to be executed May 8 in Jackson, Mississippi on a charge of rape. He has been saved five times from the electric chair, through demands from thousands of interested citizens in all of the 48 states and abroad.

Mayor Bowron's secretary, Mr. Apther, stated that from his personal knowledge of the South he believes that most likely McGee is being framed.

The delegation has sent a letter to the mayor requesting an appointment with him.

On the delegation were: Sam Klempner and Charles Gladstone of the ILGWU; Daniel Little, Isaac Laidley and John Manning of the Laborers' Union, AFL; Connie Garcia of Local 576, Furniture Workers (Ind.).

Herbert Simmons To Speak Sunday

Herbert Simmons, attorney, will discuss so-called "Loyalty Oath" legislation as it affects minority professional workers, at a meeting of the Tom Paine Club at the Unitarian Church 2936 West 8th Street, near Vermont, on Sunday, April 22, at 7:45 p.m.

The general theme will be: "Loyalty Oaths and Public Service" and will center around the Burns-Tenney bills. Other speakers will be: Dorothy Bricker, representing the American Association of Social Workers; Dr. W. Z. Gordon, and Carroll Rankin, architect.

Would Stop Mate's Driving

Mrs. Ora Stanford, 1128 East 50th Street, had a complaint for divorce on file in Superior Court this week in which she sought to have her husband, Nacholo Stanford, a porter, restrained from driving the family automobile.

In her complaint, filed by Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr., she alleged that her husband's operator's license had been suspended until 1952 and his continual driving would subject her to liability.

According to court records, the couple married in Oklahoma City, February 8, 1930, and separated March 30, 1951. There are no children and their community property consists of the family residence, an automobile, and furniture.

Refuses to Part With Clock

The most valuable old "grandfather clock" in Hollywood is owned by Paul Brown, one of the few colored jewelers and watchmakers here. He has refused large sums for the tall relic which still runs after more than 100 years of exciting and important history. A number of studios and even the descendants of the New England family that originally owned it wish to buy it but Paul just continues to wind its ancient weight movements every fourteen days, and takes pride in allowing the many who have heard of it, to gaze at, and admire it.

Smith Family Guests of American Television Co.

Rev. James E. Smith of Carbondale, Illinois, who says he is 102 years old, was a visitor in Los Angeles this week.

He was accompanied by his 37-year-old wife, Anna Lee, and the youngest of their seven children, Dallis Eugene, an eight-pound bouncing five-week-old boy with a wealth of heavy black curls covering his head.

The couple arrived in Los Angeles five days ago as guests of the American Television Co., which brought the Smiths to Los Angeles to present them with a $400 television set.

Rev. Smith, who has joined and perhaps surpassed Oliva Dionne among the prodigious papas of our time, offers no simple formula for the vitality which made him a father on the eve of his 102nd birthday. Except, as he says, "behaving myself, doing to others as I want them to do to me, and keeping myself in the Lord's hands."

When asked what did he consider the secret of his remarkable fitness and energy, the 102-year-old visitor remarked, "I always eat plenty. I have the best foods, and I have never worked hard."

When asked something about his early background, the veteran father said that he first saw the light of day on Jamestown Island, near Williamsburg, Virginia. His father was a freed slave who migrated from Virginia to Illinois in or about 1870, where he entered the undertaking business.

"In 1875 I succeeded my father," said the Rev. Smith, "and

Bass Protests Persecution Of IWO in New York Case

An amicus curiae (friend of the court) brief was filed yesterday in behalf of the International Workers' Order, presently threatened with liquidation in the New York State Supreme Court, by Charlotta A. Bass, publisher-editor of the California Eagle.

"We are deeply concerned with the basic issues in this case," Mrs. Bass says in her brief, "involving as they do the assertion of power by a state official to liquidate a large and solvent fraternal insurance organization only because he does not approve of the political views or associations of its officers.

"We know of the dangerous and alarming growth during this period of efforts, by public officials and others, to stifle the political and constitutional liberties of the people.

"We believe that such efforts are an increasing menace to the democratic structure of American life."

The brief points out that the New York Superintendent of Insurance makes no claim that the IWO is in financial difficulty.

NAACP Head Praises Eagle for Stand on Labor

A meeting for the NAACP membership drive was held in Holman's Presbyterion church at Jefferson and Cimmaron last Thursday, April 12.

Mr. Frank Williams, Regional West Coast Director, spoke briefly on the urgent need for the drive, and stressed the importance of supporting a newspaper like The California Eagle because of its fearless stand on labor and its support of the NAACP. He also mentioned the Sentinel's destructive movement as regards the Negro people.

Mr. James Anderson, affiliated with the AFL, spoke of plans to assist the membership drive. The quota for the west side is $6000.

Mrs. Violet M. Brown is in charge of the west division in the drive. Mr. Lorenzo and Mrs. Brown were in charge of the meeting.

Coroner's Jury Rules Common Law Wife Must Be Tried for Shooting

Rosa Williams, who admitted she shot her husband on the night of April 12, during an examination of a family gun, the wound from which he subsequently died, denied any intentions of taking his life Tuesday when she appeared before a coroner's jury probing into the slaying. The jury held her responsible for the slaying, and recommended that she be held for trial.

Miss Williams admitted that she was not lawfully married to the man she slew, Leroy Franklin, 38, in the rear bungalow-type house they occupied at 4103½ Trinity street, stating she had lived with him for more than five years as man and wife. She denied statements made by several friends of her husband that she had made open threats on his life.

Police officers who arrived at the scene of the shooting a short time after it occurred, testified from the witness stand that the woman had admitted shooting Franklin.

They, however, corroborated her statements made to them, that the shooting was an accident. The deceased was mortally wounded as he sat on the side of his bed viewing a television show, allegedly by the woman as she examined their mutual gun.

Atty. Rayfield Lundy, who took the defendant's case on a very short notice, strove masterfully to convince the coroner's jury that the shooting was accidental, but it was certain ad-

Fair Hiring At May Co. Is Demanded

The May Co. department store management was urged this week to meet with "a small, representative committee of Los Angeles citizens" to discuss the matter of its discriminatory hiring policy that excludes the employment of Negro, Mexican American, Nisei and other minorities in sales or office capacities.

In a letter addressed to Tom May, president of Southland's largest department store, the Fair Employment Practices committee of the Independent Progressive party pointed out that

American People's Congress For Peace, Chicago, June 29

More than 230 prominent Americans, among them four Protestant bishops and 78 other clergymen, are among the sponsors of an American People's Congress and Exposition for Peace called by the American Peace Crusade for June 29, 30, and July 1 at the Chicago Coliseum, Chicago, Ill. Five thousand delegates, representing millions of Americans of all religious, social and political creeds, are expected to attend the Congress, for which the preliminary call was issued this week.

"Our country and all humanity stand at a fateful crossroad. We can either save the peace, or be driven down the last mile to war," the call proclaims. "There is still time to save our country from war . . . to save America we need peace, for peace is America's best defense.

"Every father and mother is appalled at the loss of life in Korea," the call continues. "The whole country stands aghast at the danger of war with Asia . . . Negotiations and settlements among the Big Five . . . an end to the tragic hour in Korea . . . Withdrawal of all non-Korean troops . . . these are the real alternatives" to the present drift to war.

Among the prominent Americans sponsoring the American Peace Crusade, and the People's Congress and Exposiiton for Peace, are the Rt. Rev. Benjamin D. Dagwell, Protestant Episcopal Bisnop of Portland, Oregon; the

IPP Urges Truman To Save McGee

The fight to save the life of Willie McGee, a young Negro veteran condemned to die on May 8th, will also receive the all-out support of the Independent Progressive party.

McGee was convicted by an all-white jury in the State of Mississippi for a crime which he did not commit. The "evidence" in the case was so flimsy and contradictory that the scheduled execution has been postponed for nearly six years by various judicial authorities.

The Progressive Party conference pledged to conduct an intensive campaign directed toward President Truman calling for the granting of executive clemency to the innocent Mississippi Negro "so that justice can once again reign throughout our country."

At the same time, the IPP designed May 5-6 as its own "Save Willie McGee" week-end when leaflets and petitions will be distributed in the various communities.

The SIDEWALK

By C.A.B.

I am convinced that but a very few of us plain citizens have ever read the United States Constitution and the Bill of Rights, and for the inside working of the United Nations we know nothing except what biased though-controlled newspaper writers and paid political flunkies see fit to hand out.

My concern in such matters and how little I know about them was aroused a few weeks ago when what is uniquely described in the United States only, "A Negro newspaper," attacked the people's effort to put on the statute books an FEP measure.

Following this a few weeks later the same newspaper bitterly attacked the little Negro actress, Lena Horne, accusing her of left-wing leanings. And last week's issue of this same paper, which proudly describes itself as the West's biggest weekly, came out with a front page withering blast at the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the only fighting Negro-controlled organization battling Jimcro and racial discrimination in the United States.

This remark, however, is not a stamp of approval of all that goes on in the Association, nor the conduct of all of its officers.

The newspaper article to which I refer said, among other things, speaking of the local branch of the NAACP in particular, that it "blundered into the Walker case with such high-sounding statements as 'We intend to stay in this case no matter what evidence is uncovered,' and to jump into the Walker case is only another one of a long series of events which have been too characteristic of the organization lately. Publicity and the love of the almighty dollar are the reasons we think behind the association's move. What, we ask, is the group trying to do? Is it attempting to make the case of the sergeant a modern-day version of the Scottsboro affair? Or maybe a West Coast version of the Martinsville Seven?

"We are asking that the NAACP step out of the Walker case. Step out and let Mrs. Onque's two attorneys present their side of the case and let the District Attorney of Riverside county present his. Then let a jury of 12 'good and true' citizens decide and bring back a verdict of guilty or innocent."

(Mrs. Onque is the mother of Sgt. Walker. She has publicly expressed her appreciation for what the NAACP is doing.)

I contend that if the Constitution and the Bill of Rights were enforced, there would be no necessity for an FEPC, a Civil Liberties Union or a Civil Rights Congress. No, not even a National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

During the time of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, the year 1945, I believe, a conference, a great meeting of minds, took place in San Francisco. It gave birth to the United Nations.

Many people in this and other countries of the world saw in this move a sort of healing balm for the many ills such as discrimination against Negroes, lynchings, racial bias, and national hatreds, predominant in our country.

Before I attempt to say much, if anything, about the United Nations, I must try to get something of an understanding of its function.

Of late, especially since the launching of the Korean war, the United Nations is unilaterally accepted as an arm of the American State Department. Its composition is 60 countries, whose organizations are in the United States, and to all intents and purposes dominated by this country's politics. At least this is the opinion of the casual observer.

Within the big body known as the UN are smaller bodies: the Security Council with 11 members; the Trustee Council, 12 members; the Economic and Social Council, 18 members; with advisory commissions of 15 to 18 members each. The five permanent members of the Security Council sit on all of these bodies.

The majority of these key UN bodies consists of the economically developed Marshall Plan nations—Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and other satellites such as Ecuador, the Philippines, and Turkey.

What I learned from the people of France last summer was, that these countries accepting Marshall Plan aid, or having it forced upon them, are also forced to take orders from the source of the Marshall Plan—the United States. Hence their voting power in the UN is limited to the dictation of the United States' Department of State.

"A good example of American control is to be seen in the struggle over the UN secretary-generalship. The U. S. A. successfully maneuvered until Trygv Lie became the candidate of the United States only. He was not the candidate of the British, French, Chinese, nor Russians. Very few countries wanted him. The UN charter said that the secretary general had to be recommended by the Security Council. That meant that there had to be unanimity among the United States, the Soviet Union, France, and China to keep Trygve Lie in the job."

This is where Korea really entered the picture. It appears that the United States was determined to have the handyman, Trygve Lie, appointed. Hence every illegal manipulation was carried out over the protest of the other nation members of the General Assembly, and Trygve Lie, was placed in office. Any opposing candidate was dubbed pro-Communist, and what up to that time had been a cold war had turned hot.

MRS. ROOSEVELT'S ROLE IN THE UN

Many citizens in the United States and in other countries discovered in Lie's mouthings as presiding officer over the United Nations, a note of insincerity, but they thought and hoped that with individual representatives in the Security Council such as Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, the frontiers of human rights would be extended.

But this good lady has disappointed the persecuted minorities in her native land and other parts of the world, who believed that as helpmate of the great Franklin Roosevelt she became heir to his robe and integrity at his passing.

"In December, 1948, the General Assembly of the United Nations adopted a 'Universal Declaration of Human Rights' which was to be a beacon light to the world —a guide to wider freedoms and a better life."

This declaration was the manifestation of the Assembly's faith in its ability to righten some of the wrongs and misunderstandings among nations, peoples, and individuals.

The first point in the declaration was to deal with discrimination. The American view on discrimination, however, was "The less said about it the better" attitude.

This Human Rights Commission on a broader scale stressed the point that all people should have equality before the law and equal protection against discrimination of any kind. It is reliably stated that Mrs. Roosevelt wanted "arbitrary" inserted in front of the word "discrimination." In this she was opposed by the French, the Russians, and others, who held that discrimination was bad, and that they should say so with no weasel words. They voted down Mrs. Roosevelt's suggestion.

On another measure, a proposal by the Soviet bloc in the UN to make it a crime to advocate national, religious, or racial hostility, Mrs. Roosevelt used her leadership popularity to defeat this measure.

Other matters of great importance especially to the half-slave citizens in the United States, it was Mrs. Roosevelt's wish to include the words "of his own choice" in a clause providing that everyone had the right to join a trade union. And again while her position is not clearly stated—the once First Lady was obdurate on the matter of Civil Rights, still in the unfinished business file in the United Nations.

And now back where I started.

I believe that if the people who make up our government and all the other governments, and that certain newspaper that objects to an FEPC measure, points the finger of subversiveness at Lena Horne who, like her grandmother, has always been in the forefront fighting for Negro rights, blasts the National Association for taking up the Sgt. Walker case, were thoroughly acquainted with their role in the world conflict that must decide whether we shall have peace or war—they would realize that they, the accusers, rather than the accused, are on the side of the enemies of our government and world peace.

"Negroes and whites, the native and the foreign born, are subject to the same rates and share the benefits and privileges without discrimination."

In conclusion, the brief states: "We believe that the success of this persecution will go far towards destroying democracy, and will shame its name even more than the infamous Lusk Laws did.

"We ask the Court not to sanction such a tragic step, and respectfully urge the Court to vacate the order to show cause, to dissolve the temporary injunction and to dismiss the petition."

All such exposes show that crime and evil flourish best in communities where crime and politics are one and the same, the former Los Angeles cop avows, and in his book bluntly accuses Los Angeles authorities of being "in cahoots" with organized crime. As in "Washington Confidential," Stoker "names names."

In his explosive book, Stoker, a former vice-squad officer and police sergeant, presents not only the marchers in crime—from tantalizing beauties to stew bums—but the "mysterious" leaders as well. Office holders, "do-gooders," uniformed cops and plainclothesmen are exposed by the disillusioned, embittered ex-cop whose book recalls the great muckraking periods and other books such as Lincoln Steffens' "The Shame of the Cities" in 1904.

Perhaps the most disillusioning fact hammered home by Stoker is the cynical immorality that pervades city departments —from top-level ranks through to the newest employees.

Jean Field Case Equals Sacrifice of Martyrs

The Compton Branch of the National Jean Field Committee will hold its first social event, a dinner and party, in honor of Mrs. Field at the Southside Women's Club, 10022 California Avenue, South Gate, on Saturday, April 21, at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Field will make a personal appearance at the dinner and party. She is the woman whose children were taken from her by a court edict because she expressed her views regarding racial equality and concerning the Korean war in a letter to those children.

The program will feature music and dancing, and one hour of comedy, sleight-of-hand and magic by George Sands, popular magician of TV fame. The smorgasbord dinner will be prepared by an outstanding Swedish chef.

The funds raised at this affair will be used solely in the fight to return Mrs. Field's children to her custody, and to destroy the precedent set by this legal action. Everyone is cordially invited.

In addition to being a mortician, from which he retired at the ripe age of 75, Rev. Smith was ordained to preach in Boston in 1886 in the Ebenezer Baptist Church.

He has traveled many places and preached in many churches in all parts of the country.

Despite the youthful sparkle in his eyes and his seeming mental alertness, Rev. Smith moves around on a walking cane, although with great ease. He complained that the government had reduced his pension from $60 to $38 monthly.

How does the family exist on this, he was asked.

"Mrs. Smith draws $150 monthly in Federal and State Dependents allowance," he responded.

Rev. Smith is the oldest registered mortician in the state of Illinois, and perhaps one of the oldest preachers still active in the United States. He says he is greatly hampered in his movements due to the fact that the government has taken his automobile.

Just before leaving Los Angeles on Flight No. 16 from the North American airport last Monday evening, Rev. Smith was asked how he liked California.

"I was a little disappointed in your hospitality," he answered. "I expected to be asked to appear in one of your churches. I really did visit one, but my presence was completely ignored."

While in Los Angeles Rev. and Mrs. Smith and their infant son, Dallis Eugene, were guests of the Watkins Hotel.

missions by Miss Williams herself which resulted in her being held for her common-law mate's death.

The defendant admitted under deputy district attorney's questioning that she had told friends in a playful manner that she ought to have her spouse killed

Another factor during the coroner's examination which resulted in Miss Williams being held was the fact that her testimony did not jibe with the findings of the autopsy surgeons.

According to her testimony the bullet from a 38-caliber revolver would have had to enter Franklin's body at a horizontal level. Laboratory findings indicated that the bullet entered the dead man's body near the collar bone and ranged downward almost to the hip line.

Atty. Lundy, despite these glaring inconsistencies in the testimony of his client, told newsmen he was confident that he would disprove the state's contention that she murdered her common-law spouse. Miss Williams is a nurse's aid at the Los Angeles County General Hospital.

The dead man's wife and his own brother came here from Houma, La., for the trial and funeral.

Walker Could Not Have Committed Murder, Rally In Second Baptist Church Told

Lawrence Walker, 20-year-old Negro Air Force sergeant, accused of the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Cook, a young white couple, "could not by any stretch of the imagination have committed that crime, and then went to Riverside and other places where he was seen, in the short length of time the authorities admit elapsed between the two events."

So declared the Rev. G. W. Cofield, president of the Baptist Ministers Union and chairman of the Walker Defense Fund, at a rally held for the defense of Sgt. Walker in the Second Baptist Church last Sunday afternoon.

Rev. Cofield explained how he and other members of the committee for the defense of Sgt. Walker "went over every foot of the ground," especially the stone quarry where the body of Mrs. Cook was found, eleven miles from that of her husband.

He also told how they visited Sgt. Walker in prison, although it took a lot of persuasion to get the permission from the sheriff of Riverside County.

"We held a prayer service in his cell," said Rev. Cofield. "We read from the Bible. And a look of faith and confidence came into that lad's face that would convince anyone he was innocent. A lad with that look on his face could not commit such a crime."

C. L. Dellum, vice president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and president of the Alameda Branch of the NAACP, the principal speaker for the afternoon, said it was necessary to see to it that Walker had a fair trial, not only to save Negro America but all America—until America recognizes every individual for his individual worth.

When I learned that Sgt. Walker was accused not only of the crime of double murder but of every other crime committed in the community," he said, "I began to get suspicious."

The procedure for the trial of Sgt. Walker is following along the same line as that of Negroes in other sections of the country, he said. The Trenton Six, Willie McGee, the Martinsville Seven, etc.

But the fact that the U. S. Supreme Court has intervened in the Groveland, Florida, case has given us courage to fight on, and hope that justice will be done in this case, too," he said.

Mrs. Lillian Onque, mother of Sgt. Lawrence, told in a few words her gratitude and appreciation for all that is being done for her boy. Well poised and graceful, a wave of sympathy went through the audience as she spoke in a low, well-modulated voice.

Many were wishing she would talk longer. But as someone suggested, "She maybe cannot."

Dr. H. Claude Hudson, well-known dentist in Los Angeles, made the plea for funds. "We are defending ourselves in this fight," he said. "What has happened to Sgt. Walker can happen to anyone here any time."

Dr. Hudson stressed an appeal to reason and common sense, "not emotionalism, such as is now sweeping the country in the the case of two men prominent in American life." He remarked that although he had no brief for President Truman, and disagreed with him in many instances, nevertheless, "I'm glad he fired him" (Gen. MacArthur)

Real emotionalism was shown then. The audience applauded wildly. Many stood. There wasn't one person there who didn't show approval of President Truman's action.

Nita Blackwell gave a report of the progress made in the NAACP drive for new members. The goal is 25,000.

Dr. E. I Robinson, president of the Los Angeles Branch of the NAACP, spoke a few words of greeting. Rev. Cofield presided at the meeting. More than $500 was contributed for the Walker Defense Fund.

UAWU Asks Funds

The United Agricultural Workers Union, Portersville, Calif., O. T. Tarr president, has issued a call for funds in their effort to provide a new and better way to help the American agricultural worker.

These conditions actually exist among the worker now, they have learned.

The agricultural worker is considered a social and political outcast. They not only lack protection of social legislation, public assistance, vocational guidance, institutional aid, social services, they are also ignored and discriminated against, and due to low wages many are forced to live in crowded, unsanitary labor camps, which leads to starved bodies and children staying home from school because of insufficient clothing.

Hugh Gordon Bookshop Will Sponsor Meet

Carlton Moss, writer and lecturer, will present the film, "The Missing Pages of History", at the House of Prayer for all People, 1029 East Vernon Avenue, on Sunday, April 22, at 5 p.m. The meeting is being sponsored by the Hugh Gordon Bookshop, 4310 South Central Avenue.

The Hugh Gordon Bookshop, is planned as a memorial to Hugh Havilon Gordon, Los Angeles Negro student of sociology, Negro history and economics. Mr. Gordon was born in La Grange, came to California in 1903. He was first a small farmer in Riverside, then he moved to Los Angeles where he did odd jobs until finally getting a job as janitor in the Los Angeles County Health Department for which he retired after about twenty years' service. He was in great demand for over 30 years as lectureer on the Negro question and economics. He was the originator of the Pyramid Co-operative Grocery and Meat Market. Mr. Gordon, who never enjoyed a formal education, was nevertheless a great believer in study and reading of good books on national and international affairs. He felt that to be well informed was of the greatest importance and necessary to understanding of what is happening in the world today.

He felt keenly that the establishment of a bookshop in the heart of the Negro community was urgently needed, and he pledged me to the task of carrying out his wishes two years before his passing—in October, 1946. What small possessions he would leave he wanted to give to his people for the benefit of the whole community. His was an idea for just not an ordinary bookshop but a special kind—he wanted it to be of "service to the Negro people." Therefore, it must have a program, because he was a firm believer in organization. He wanted the shop to be of special service to the organizations in the community, the churches, civic and social clubs, etc. There was in his mind a though and consideration for every need of his people, and always the children were of great concern to him; he always wanted to instill in their young minds the desire for the best in literature, and above all make available to them books and information about their forefathers. He felt this was of very great importance and necessary to combat prevalent ideas which give them feelings of inferiority.

Mr. Gordon wanted the youth to know of the contributions of Negro women and men to the building of our great country—the United States of of America ... such persons as Henry Blair, a Maryland Negro, who invented machines for harvesting corn, and James Forten of Philadelphia, who invented an improved device for handling sails, while the sugar refining industry was revolutionized by the evaporating pan conceived by Norbert Rilleu, a Louisiana Negro; of such excellent physicians as James McCune Smith, Martin Delaney, Peter Ray, etc.; theologians like Lemuel Haynes; poets like Phyllis Wheatley, George Moses-horton, and Frances Harper; actors like Ira Aldridge; artists like Patrick Reason and Robert S. Duncanson, who greatly contributed to our national culture. And let us not forget the great Frederick Douglass, who rose from slavery to chief consultant to old Abraham Lincoln during the crisis of the Civil War, and that remarkable woman, Deborah Gannett (the Molly Pitcher of our people), who served for seventeen months as a regular soldier in the Fourth Massachusetts Regiment of the Continental Army and was granted a reward with the declaration that "The said Deborah exhibited an extraordinary instinct of female heroism."

School Pupils To Visit Watts Bank

Members of the Ninety-Second Street School sixth grade class of Mr. Francis R. Atkins are scheduled to make a tour of the Watts Branch of the Farmers and Merchants Bank on Wednesday, April 25, as part of a social studies lesson.

Accompanying the children in addition to their teacher will be Mr. Carroll L. Lang, Assistant Supervisor of Thrift, Conservation, and School Savings Program of the Los Angeles City Schools.

In addition to the above class, children from other grades who are planning to open a new school savings account will also make the trip.

During the course of the tour, which will be handled by Mr. Charles Griffiths and his staff, the youngsters will be allowed to enter the vault and see the safe deposit boxes, and will be taken behind the counters to see how the bank business is carried on.

After returning to school the children will have a discussion about their trip in preparation for a written essay about what they have learned at the bank. The children also plan to make oral reports, posters, and write letters of appreciation to the Manager of the bank.

School savings plans have a far-reaching and beneficial effect, Principal Gladys G. Hansen said, urging parents to cooperate with teachers in encouraging children to set aside their coins for the purpose of opening bank accounts.

Knowing that habits of thrift acquired at an early age both bankers and educators are working together to teach children this vital concept, according to Burton M. Oliver, Supervisor of the Thrift Conservation, and School Savings Program of the Los Angeles City Schools.

Christian Science Theme

The benefits of acquiring a spiritual understanding of eternal life will be stressed in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Probation after Death" in all Christian Science churches.

This citation from Proverbs (21:16, 21) is the Golden Text: "Thn man that wandereth out of the way of understanding shall remain in the congregation of the dead. . . . He that followeth after righteousness and mercy findeth life, righteousness, and honour."

In a Scriptural passage Peter declares, "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abnudant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you" I (Pet. 1:3, 4).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include, "Our Master fully and finally demonstrated divine Science in his victory over death and the grave. Jesus' deed was for the enlightenment of men and for the salvation of the whole world from sin, sickness, and death" (p. 45).

EDITORIALS AND COMMENTS

The Policy Of The California Eagle

The purpose of an editorial policy is to make available to the readers of the newspaper ungarnished facts on state, national, and world affairs with particular emphasis on the economic, social and political welfare of its clientele.

The California Eagle for more than 40 years has been on the battle front, fighting for the Negroes' right to full citizenship in this country and in the world. It has not played favorite to any political party, big or little business, at the expense of the people it serves.

Over the years The California Eagle's advice to the Negro people in California, especially pioneers, has been to get prepared educationally. Secondly, to pool their strength in the business world in order that they may be figures among the producers as well as being good consumers; and thirdly, to exercise their voting power to the fullest strength.

Educationally, California Negroes are not too backward, which shows in their homemaking. In business they are still in their ABC's, which reminds one of the advice of John J. Neimore, founder of the Eagle, who back in the early 20's looked out on Central Avenue and predicted that it would be one of Los Angeles' big business centers.

To the Negro people, he advised, "Let down your buckets here."

Forty years have passed since then, and the Negroes are yet getting water from the other fellow's well.

In 1910 the Negro population of Los Angeles was estimated to be about 25,000. Today the Los Angeles county estimate of the Negro population is approximately 250,000.

Without any doubt, Negroes are more divided and are weaker politically than they were in that early period when B. K. Edmunds published the "Liberator" and John J. Neimore the "Eagle."

There are many interesting chapters of deception and intrigue responsible for this backward trend in the political life of Los Angeles Negroes that could be mentioned but such would not serve any good purpose, especially since in most cases the Negroes themselves were the perpetrators.

A few years ago, aided and abetted by Negro political bosses in the 14th Congressional District, the shrewd politicians — so-called downtown bosses — cut the district in such a way as to scatter the Negro voting strength and so made it impossible for the Negro vote to be effective in electing a Negro to the City Council or to Congress.

Another and more damaging obstacle in the way of the Negroes' political progress is the new "Red" scare.

There are labor unions who believe that the only way we can have democracy is by full complete integration of Negro citizens in labor, industry, and politics.

In order to destroy any hope of unity between white and black forces who recognize that in such unity peace will result, the deserters of the peace have coined the word "Communist," which is hurled at everyone who speaks for peace and unity even among Negroes.

In the opinion of The California Eagle, Negroes in Los Angeles have reached the zero hour in their political life. Now they either do or die.

Honor To Whom Honor Is Due

Dr. Benjamin Mays, president of Morehouse College in Atlanta, Ga., was named in a column by Alfred Mynders in The Chattanooga Times, recently as one of two Southerners who exemplified true American ism.

The occasion was that of the House Un-American Activities Committee listing another Southerner, Rev. Bernie H. Hampton, as being subversive because he had signed the Stockholm Peace Petition.

In taking up the cudgels in his defense, Mr. Mynders also mentioned the name of Dr. Mays. He wrote:

"If this writer were to try to name two Southerners who exemplify true Americanism and unimpeachable loyalty to their native country, he might name Bishop B. Kern of the Methodist Church, who lives in Nashville, and Dr. Benjamin Mays, president of Morehouse College in Atlanta. The latter is a recognized leader of Negro thought, a native of South Carolina who has spent his whole life in the South trying to create good relations between the races and trying to uplift his fellowman. . . .

"Both of these Southern leaders (together with Rev. Hampton and many others) who are now smeared with the House Un-American Activities Communist tar have received honors and degrees from numerous universities. . . .

"Apparently it is dangerous any longer to advocate peace. Anyone can be branded as a peace-monger. . . . The House Un-American Activities Committee broadcasts as suspects all who advocate peace in any effort in which Communists may happen to share.

"If the Committee had cared to investigate before broadcasting the names of Bernie Hampton, Bishop Kern, and Dr. Mays, it could have convinced itself, if it wanted to be convinced, that they were above any Communist suspicion. But it wanted to print names."

America And Germany

By CLARA M. VINCENT

It was about four years ago that the editor of The Chattanooga Times devoted one of his columns to an excellent review of a book called "22 Cells in Nuernberg," by Dr. Douglas Kelley. Dr. Kelley was one of those who had ample opportunity to compare German with American behavior patterns, having served as psychiatrist with our American Army in Berlin.

So shocked was the doctor to find great similarity that he was forced to write, "There are no effective bars in America against the establishment of a Nazi-like Police State." The fact that millions of Americans are fighting for Peace, and signing the Peace petitions is an indication that such a challenge did not go unheeded; for certainly the American people have a sense of honesty and fair play when informed on issues.

It is perfectly natural that those who favor a Police State with all of its repressive thought-control measures, should smear those who see the danger and are willing to give their time and talents, yes, even their reputations and their very lives, if need be, in the effort to prevent the establishment of such a State.

Had the Son of Man and the other prophets been willing to wear the yoke of a Police State they would not have been legally lynched, sawn asunder, thrown in wells, nor banished. Our struggle for Peace and Justice is just as old as the Bible itself; and any statement to the effect that we American peacemakers got our inspiration in Moscow is a wicked lie.

If it is a crime, or subversive, to expose spiritual wickedness in high places, and to preach the Gospel of Good News to the poor, then guilty we are. If it is a crime, or subversive, to proclaim the Gospel of Love and Peace to all nations and kindreds and tongues, then guilty we are. If it is un-American to believe that they who take the sword shall perish with it, and if it is disloyal to believe that they who are Blessed are the Peacemakers, then again guilty we are.

But this great consolation have we, "The stone which the builders rejected shall become the head of the corner."

It took conventional and orthodox minds several decades before they were willing to bestow some of the great honor upon Frank Lloyd Wright which he had earned as an architect of genius. No small part of Mr. Wright's genius lies in his spiritual wisdom. He is also a Peacemaker, and this is what he has to say "On an Architecture for Democracy 1951.":

"Here we are! Too young a nation to wither away by degeneracy; much too vigorous to die a violent death, utterly. So I believe. Never yet have we attained the high plane from which nations degenerate, through the virus of earlier ancient cultures coming here in the minds of immigrants to live not with but on us, might be a contagion (we like to call it "the old" or "old style," for instance) to mark us for decay.

"The salvation of our future as a civilization depends upon realizing now that if modern science is carried far enough —and deep enough—we will see that fine art and philosophy contain the sure significance of all that science can really know of life. We will see as valid prophecy what Jesus, Lao Tze, and Buddha taught. Everything humane that science alone may never discover. We will find philosophy as new frontier of all frontiers.

"You will see here the life-long struggle in the now prevailing fight for faith: faith in ourselves, faith in democracy. Faith which lies inevitably at the center of our life as a nation in which true individuality may thrive. Faith in beauty as the natural efflorescence of the great living tree we call humanity. Why call our nation a democracy and not dare to live it? A great architecture can rise only out of a faith in life as good to live for itself with no other reward if necessary. Our integrity as human beings is what we must work for on the new frontier."

'I Want to Offer to Help You'

RAPHAEL KONIGSBERG

THE CHOICE BEFORE US

While on duty with the Seventh U. S. Army in Germany in 1945, I made the acquaintance of a remarkable man, Edward Kupfer. He had been a prisoner in the Dachau concentration camp and had been freed by our troops.

Edward Kupfer was remarkable in that he had succeeded in achieving an amazing self-imposed mission—that of writing a history of Dachau under the very eyes of the Nazis who guarded him. Everyone can tell you that this was an impossible task. Yet Kupfer did it. The U. S. Army Intelligence verified that he did it. (How it was done is another story . . .)

The fact of Kupfer's achievement was relayed to the Seventh Army Headquarters in Heidelberg. As orientation officer for that army, responsible for supervising the political education program for our troops, I decided to see Kupfer—believing that he could teach me much which would be valuable in that program.

A man who had survived the hell of fascism and returned to the world of the living could teach us lessons (I believed) which would be helpful should we Americans be faced with problems in defending democracy similar to those the German anti-fascists faced during Hitler's rise to power.

From other survivors of Hitlerism I had learned that one of the major factors which contributed to the Nazis' success was the failure of the German anti-fascist forces to achieve unity in the struggle against them. Had these forces united, the Nazis would not have conquered—despite the immense help they received from th financiers and politicians in other lands, including the U.S.A.

In discussion with Kupfer, I concentrated on another phase of the problem which interested me deeply. Having observed that there were all types of human beings among those rescued by the Allies from the concentration camps, I asked Kupfer:

"What was it that determined who had the best chance of surviving after being thrown into the camps?"

"Why, those who knew why they were there!"

Choose Your Side

"What I mean is this," added Kupfer, "the men and women in pre-Hitler Germany who were active in fighting the Nazis, whether through trade union work, or a political movement, or in a progressive writers' club, as I was—they had the best chance of surviving.

"They knew that the fascists cannot tolerate dissent or opposition. They knew that the fascists knew that if the people were allowed to think and speak and act freely, the people themselves would not allow fascism to win. So the fascists, the traitors to their country, had to silence the active fighters for civil liberties, the fighters for decent living standards. The fighters knew therefore why they were thrown into the concentration camps.

"Having landed in the camps because of their belief in democracy, they had faith left to live by. They had faith that the democratic forces of the world would inevitably triumph and save them. This faith kept them alive.

"But those who did not do their share in the fight to stop the Nazis from conquering Germany, those who compromised with the Nazis and sold out to them—when the Nazis double-crossed them (as fascists always do) and threw them into the concentration camps, they had nothing left to live for, and so they died."

As I expressed my gratitude to him, Kupfer concluded:

"So you see, if you want to take a message back to your countrymen—as you say—tell them they must fight while they still have the chance to fight, and especially while they have the chance to choose the side on which they fight.

"For fight they must and will. No one can be neutral in such a war. The fascists will force you into fighting for them, into becoming one of them, or they will kill you. They have no use for neutrals.

"So, since fight you must, and perhaps die, far better that you give your energies and your life, if need be, for democracy than for fascism. It's the only chance to save yourself anyway. Far better to fight while you can, than wish later on—in the concentration camp—that you had. For that's the sort of self-accusation, mental torture, that will kill you.

"You see now how right we were, we who refused to compromise with the fascists, when we said that the forces of world democracy must inevitably triumph!"

President Truman Speaks Out

It matters not what the amount of wrangling carried on by some of the metropolitan press and the glib-mouthed commentators, President Truman is standing pat on his decision to strip General MacArthur of his authority as commander-in-chief of the United Nations' Army, and to call him home.

MacArthur has served his country with tremendous distinction. His achievements, both as a military leader and as occupation chief of Japan, have been outstanding.

But as one commentator opined, he grew too big for his breeches.

A general, or even a civilian, who gives orders must be able to take orders.

To the average thinker the attitude of the big Republican brass in this MacArthur case is repulsive and a stench in the nose of decent people.

Never before in the history of our country has the authority of the President as commander-in-chief been questioned.

Had his disobedience been only a question of some trivial affair, it might have been overlooked. But by doing what he did Gen. MacArthur made possible a third world war, a catastrophe President Truman has declared again and again he is doing all in his power to prevent.

President Truman has spoken out now. We have criticized him many times for things we believed he should not have done. Now that he has had the courage to raise his voice for peace, even if but in a small measure, let us support him in this MacArthur decision, with the hope that this shall be his stand on other issues affecting world peace.

A Brave Negro Leader Joins Fight for McGee

The town must be nameless. It is a Southern town, and naming persons and places in a story like this would mean swift, vindictive reprisals by the white masters of the town against one of the most courageous and forthright, one of the most dignified and mature human beings that any of us have met—a Negro leader in the Deep South.

He had invited us, a group of women visiting Mississippi to fight for justice for Willie McGee, to meet with him. We had been told that unwritten law says no white woman may walk, unescorted by a white man, through the Negro district. The bus driver had, the day before, caught my arm as I started to get off the bus, protesting "but this is the colored quarter, lady!" So while we walked this day with outward nonchalance, we were worried, we did not want this interview to be frustrated by such a stupid, outrageous, trivial thing. But we were not stopped and we came to his home where he was waiting for us—waiting with skepticism, some surprise at the fact of our actually showing up there, and an honest welcome in spite of the fact that we were strangers and might bring trouble down on his head.

There were six of us! Professor Flola Shepard of Blackmountain College, North Carolina—Shirley Deutsch, a nurse and a member of the United Public Workers, New York—Loretta Waxman, wife of an auto worker and a mother, from St. Louis, Missouri—Carmen Davis, wife of a maritime worker, a mother of two children, from Memphis, Tennessee—Edith Van Horn, steward and official delegate from Dodge Local 3, CIO, Detroit, and Iris Noble, representing CRC and the Southern California Council of Arts, Sciences and Professions, Los Angeles.

He did not wait for our credentials. He stated his opinion, that Willie McGee was innocent, that the red-baiting of white women coming to Mississippi was a device to take peoples' minds from the issue of the life of Willie McGee, the frame-up, but he did not flip the matter of red-baiting aside easily. Already, because of his past militant stand for the rights of Negroes, there were people in his own community who crossed on the other side of the street rather than meet him. He had been called by the FBI an hour before our meeting, to warn him against us.

He faced us squarely. What were we doing in the South?

We told him. We were white women coming to visit white Southern women, white ministers, civic leaders, the ordinary white people with whom we could talk, who must be secretly or openly ashamed of the perpetuation of the myth of the sacredness of white womanhood which has been mainstay in the brutally used against the Negro people. We were not there, in all humility, to explain to the Negro people their own oppression—we were seeing him as an exception and because he could advise us. People all over the country—over the world—were determined that Willie McGee must not die, and the brave people of the South must be shown they do not stand alone.

He smiled and said: "The message is more important than the messengers." He was no longer concerned with the red-baiting. He was full of plans, now for organizing committees in his own community, for himself to spearhead a drive that would not rest until McGee was saved. This was the first time, he said, that he had been approached by anyone outside—there was a great warmth and heartiness, now, as he stood before us, thinking out loud of all the things he, himself could do to push letters and petitions and prayers for Willie McGee.

And we were heatened. We had come, the day before, from a white minister who was defensive and evasive, from a YWCA worker who had smiled her sweet, rigid smile and patted her carefully marcelled hair as she told us of course McGee was guilty, of course white men were executed for rape in Mississippi, and she was glad we were visiting Mississippi because "we would change our minds." Our interviews with white people had ranged from sympathetic to openly hostile, but all of them—except a group of college students in Memphis, and the officer of Firestone local who agreed to take up the matter in his union—all were cautious.

Now we had met a man who was fearless.

We went with him to visit others. But as we walked out of his home to the street, he told us with bitter irony—"I will lead you, but you must walk some ways behind me. A Negro cannot walk with white women on a Southern street."

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By PENN

The ghost of CIO-that-was walked at the recent ninth biennial convention of the International Longshoremen's & Warehousemen's Union in Hawaii.

Work accomplished by the 390 delegates, of every faith, color and race, was a tragic and poignant reminder of the principles that built the CIO in the late 1930s, but which now have been abandoned by the Murrays, the Reuthers and the Careys.

Unlike the last CIO convention, which devoted itself to raiding plans, bolstering up political hacks, red-baiting and mud-slinging, the ILWU delegates concerned themselves with the problems of all working people.

Realizing that these problems are their problems, the delegates did not confine themselves to narrow "trade union" discussions, but worked out a program on all fronts where the rights of people to live in security and unafraid are threatened.

With only nine dissenting votes, the convention passed a strong resolution demanding an end to the Korean conflict and that the United Nations bring about world peace now.

An awareness of the interdependence of all workers in the world was shown in the peace resolution, in which delegates declared they were for "the peaceful co-existence of all nations . . . despite differing social systems and governmental forms, and for the development of trade in peace-time goods between all nations."

Another resolution recognized the movement of 15 million Negroes in the United States to win political, economic and social equality as a "militant force aimed at the same enemies we face ourselves."

It continued: "Our experience has taught us that our own efforts to fight for our own rights and economic security will never be crowned with success unless we receive the aid of the Negro people and in turn support them vigorously in their day-to-day struggles."

Proof of the support of ILWU for struggles of minority groups is nowhere better shown than in the Islands, where union organization advanced wages from a minimum of 16 cents an hour for sugar field workers in 1944 to the present 86 cents an hour minimum.

The convention hit hard for civil liberties in a resolution that declared, "There is a sinister increase in actively inspired anti-Semitism and anti-Negro and anti-Mexican activity in our nation.

"The legal lynching of the Martinsville Seven, the prolonged trials of the Trenton Six, the attempt to murder 'legally' Willie McGee . . . are but the most atrocious crimes against the Negro people, who are now faced with an increased wave of police brutality, beatings and riots.

"In every attack on civil rights throughout our nation, we see the menace to our own union and the rights of all our members as individuals."

The convention asked statehood for Alaska and Hawaii.

And, while the delegates showed their genuine interest in the welfare of all, they also worked hard on problems facing ILWU and organized labor generally.

They called for a 72-hour work holiday in protest of the Taft-Hartley Law and in demand for its repeal.

The phony wage stabilization program was described as one to guarantee continued high profits, and to put the load of a budget 50 per cent for war on the workers.

"It will make the rich richer and the poor poorer."

Security screening, as it is used now to take jobs away from active unionists, was condemned.

International labor unity around a program to meet the needs of working people was proposed.

Sell-out becomes inevitable when labor becomes committed to either major party, another resolution declared, in proposing independent political action for organized labor.

What a contrast between CIO, controlled and dominated by labor "statesmen," and the militant rank and file of ILWU!

It's the diference between a few power and prestige-hungry self-seekers and the determination of the working men and women of this country to win a fair share of the goods they produce.

There can be no doubt as to the outcome.

Against Deportation

More than 125 prominent Americans called for an end to the Justice Department's deportation drive in an Open Letter to President Truman, which was delivered in person this week by a delegation of five war veterans who called at the White House.

The letter terms the threatened deportation of 3,400 non-citizens under the McCarran Law as "shocking" in view of its effect on American homes, and as a violation of "American traditions."

IPP Pledges Support Citizens' Lobby,

All-out support of the "Citizen's Conference and Lobby" scheduled for April 29-30 in the State Capitol was pledged by the Southern California Region Independent Progressive Party in a conference held last Sunday at the Alexandria Hotel in Los Angeles.

With more than 70 delegates in attendance, the Third Party adopted a program calling upon the "citizens of California to be well aware of the imminent danger that faces us by the introduction of numerous repressive and anti-people's legislation in both houses of the Legislature."

Reuben W. Borough, state chairman of the IPP, declared that "the general welfare of the common people is threatened by this vicious bill which, in turn, has hampered the campaign around such constructive bills as the Fair Employment Practices Act; McMillan 'Peace' resolution; old-age pension; re-apportionment, and others."

The conference pin-pointed four bills around which to "lobby" in Sacramento; namely, the Rumford FEPC (AB-2251); McMillan resolution calling for cessation of hostilities in Korea; fight against the Waters "gerrymandering" bill; and the defeat of various "loyalty" oath bills.

At the same time, the IPP delegates pledged to send a minimum of 100 "lobbyists" to Sacramento on April 29-30 from Southern California to "buttonhole" various legislators on this highly important legislation.

Greek Youth for McGee

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia —The Central Council of EPOW, national youth organization in Greece, announced here the following cable to President Truman:

"The youth of Greece have learned with deep indignation and anger that the United States courts have taken the decision to send an innocent Negro, Willie McGee, to the electric chair.

"The Central Council of EPOW represents the will of all the democratic youth of Greece in protesting vigorously against this inhuman act and urgently insisting the immediate freedom of Willie McGee."

The statement continued, "We demand that President Truman not permit the execution of McGee, which violates all principles of justice and decency. Any contrary action will be considered deliberate defiance of the will of world-wide opinion."

Governor's Message

In Gov. Earl Warren's special message to the Legislature, he emphasized the work done for defense during the past six months, and estimated that the State of California would need to spend about $140,000,000 or $150,000,000 more on the job.

Among the accomplishments listed was the distribution of some 3,000,000 copies of the pamphlet, "Survival under Atomic Attack," and instructional material upon what to do in case of an atomic attack.

But he said nothing about "Peace." That, as someone remarked, was and still is "verboten" in America.

Organized for Re-Election

Latest reports are that Mrs. Gertrude Rounsavelle, long time member of the City Board of Education, has organized her campaign for re-election.

The citizens of Los Angeles at least a large portion of them, have decided to so some real housecleaning in the Board of Education at the coming election. Mrs. Rounsavelle, therefore we understand, is slated for some tough opposition.

Report Fires Promptly

Our most serious fires develop as a result of failure to notify the Fire Department in time for effective fire-fighting measures. Onlookers frequently assume firemen have been called when they have not. Arson Bureau reports show that recently a downtown fire was viewed by a passerby 1½ hours before the alarm was sounded. As a result of the delay this building site will soon become a parking lot. If you should see a fire, dial 116 immediately. Do not assume someone else has already done so.

Fashion Convention

NEW YORK — Delegates attending the second annual convention of the National Association of Fashion and Accessory Designers, held here last week, wound up their activities with a brilliant and unprecedented fashion show at the swank Waldorf Astoria Hotel on Park Avenue. Nearly 100 delegates from 9 states and the District of Columbia participated.

The Association elected Mrs. Freddye S. Henderson of Atlanta to a second term, and the following officers: Nele Cuyjet of New York, first vice president; B. Clare Overton, Philadelphia, second vice president; Juanita Chapman, Detroit, third vice president; Lana Woods, Chicago, fourth vice president; Lois Alexander, Washington, recording secretary; Thelma Anderson, Atlanta, corresponding secretary; Modestine Thornton, Washington, treasurer; Emily Myles, Newark, parliamentarian; and Frances Greenwald, Washington, historian.

Renee Starks of Newark, a former vice president who has been in Europe for the past year, was designated as Paris representative for the Association. Mrs. Jeanetta Brown was voted a life membership in NAFAD and given the status of consultant.

Workshop for Blind

The blind workers of the Industrial Workshop for the Blind stopped work for 15 minutes last Tuesday to join blind workers in 53 workshops throughout the country to listen to a recording of a speech made by Maj. Gen. Herman Feldman, quartermaster general of the United States Army, praising their current efforts in production of critical products toward the defense effort, according to George A. Brown, manager of the California Blind Industries.

Recordings of the speech were made by National Industries for the Blind, an organization that provides work for the blind, and standardizes and markets blind-made products on a non-profit basis.

"You have become such an important part of the industrial organization of our country that I don't see how your services can be spared," stated General Feldman. "I am convinced that your sphere of activity must be progressively expanded, as to the number of different articles manufacturer, the quantities produced and as to the number of States participating in these workshop programs.

"Crusaders Of Lives" War Against Cancer

"Crusaders of Lives" appropriately describes the volunteers who labor unselfishly year-round, without remuneration, in the war against cancer.

Like the crusaders of old who fought for an ideal, these modern warriors have taken up arms against America's most dread disease, cancer.

The fact that Los Angeles County is rapidly becoming one of the greatest and most active centers on cancer control in the United States is due in a great measure to the work of the volunteer, according to the Los Angeles County Branch of the American Cancer Society.

"The Los Angeles County Branch operates with a limited staff and a small budget, and the volunteer has made it possible for the greater part of the funds of the Society to be used for important research work, a more extensive program of education, and greater service to the cancer patients and their families. The work of the volunteers has made it possible for many more thousands of lives to be saved from the threat of cancer," the Los Angeles County Branch advises.

Youth Against War

PRAGUE — The conference of Polish, Czechoslovak and German youth meeting in Liberec, North Bohemia, discussed the measures to be taken against the remilitarization of West Germany and the imperialists war preparations.

The West German delegate indicated the spirit of the conference when he said: "There are no frontiers, either territorial or ideological when our homes must be saved from the horrors of war, when it is a question of winning peace."

In the main report, the chairman of the Free German Youth FDJ, Erich Honnecker, revealed that West German labor exchanges do not provide the young people with work so as to force them to join mercenary units, thus acting in fact as unofficial recruiting centers.

No Grain for India

BOMBAY, India—The continued American delay in meeting India's request for food grains to alleviate the serious food crisis in the country has prevented the government from keeping its promise of January 19th to restore the 25 percent cut in the ration at the end of March. This means the Indian people will continue on the starvation ration of nine ounces of food grain per day. Even this ration is not always available.

While the Americans delay the decision in order to browbeat the Indian government into a more "cooperative attitude" to American aggression in the Far East and to American demands for Indian strategic raw materials used in the production of atomic bombs and jet engines, China is already shipping rice to India and the Soviet Union has offered to exchange 50,000 tons of food grain for raw jute.—Telepress.

The story of how cooperative effort gave the people of the rural area around Bat Cove, N. C., a 12-bed hospital to improve health conditions and prevent unnecessary suffering was told recently.

The hospital was planned by young Dr. George Bond, who had camped in the region as a boy, and saw the need for better medical facilities. After a series of crises, the people finally attended a meeting called by the young physician and worked out a solution of their health problems.

Probably a "series of crises" will be needed to get us what the Medical Association chooses to call "Socialized Medicine."

MENTAL HYGIENE

Twenty-two bills have been introduced at the 1951 session of the Legislature as the program of the Department of Mental Hygiene. They include grants for a county hospital subsidy, county care of senile patients, alcoholism research, admission to state hospitals, deportation of mental patients, epileptics, hospital doctors from out of state, etc.

S. AFRICAN POLICE TORTURE NEGRO TO DEATH

CAPE TOWN — A 16-year-old boy, Leziwe Gwala, died after being forced to drink 64 pints of water during an interrogation by South African police. This brutal example of how South African police torture Negro prisoners was revealed in court at Hanover, Natal.

A doctor witness said that the boy had all symptoms of drowning. Gwala's father said that his son, before his death, told him that he had falsely confessed to concealing money under a stone because the police were "killing" him. For once, the policeman who tortured the boy to death has been brought trial. The fact that he has however been released on bail indicates that the authorities do not consider his crime as serious.

NCC Appeals To U. S. Court

RICHMOND, Va.—An appeal from a lower court decision that the separate law school at the North Carolina College for Negroes is equal to that of the University of North Carolina is scheduled for agrument here before the United States Court of Appeals on March 15.

Attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People filed their brief on February 19 asking for reversal of the lower court decision and admission of Negroes to the university law school.

At the initial trial before Federal District Judge Johnson J. Hayes in Durham, N. C., last August, NAACP attorneys Conrad O. Pearson of Durham, and Thurgood Marshall and Robert L. Carter of the national office legal department submitted evidence demonstrating the superior advantages of the university law school in comparison with the Negro school. The older and larger university school, they pointed out, offered more courses, had a larger and better equipped library, a faculty of greater number and prestige, and other facilities and advantages not enjoyed by the Negro school.

Despite this evidence and the testimony of expert witnesses, Judge Hayes ruled that the Negro institution is substantially equal to the university law school. The suit was filed on behalf of Harold T. Epps, Robert Glass and other Negro students who had applied for admission to the law school of the University of North Carolina.

Research Committee

HOUSTON, Texas—A Research Stimulation Committee has been formed at Texas State University for the purpose of cooperating with those of the staff "who are earnest about doing some research or creative work." Dr. R. O'Hara Lanier activated the Committee January 17, 1951. The committee consists of Dr. Henry Allen Bullock, Chairman, Dr. Eugene S. Richards, Mr. A. E. Burke, Dr. Joseph A. Pierce, Dr. L. L. Woods, Mr. H. C. Grant and Mr. J. W. White.

The committee gave a broad interpretation of research to include: research of a technical and scientific nature; literary expressions like novels, dance patterns; creative art forms expressed through paintings, designings, sculpturing, musical scores, and and dance patterns, inventions expressed through mechanical designs, clothes, styles, recipes, drug formulas, and all other creative expressions inherent in the talents of the personnel of the University.

Trial Of Trenton Six Begins Again

TRENTON — The trial of the Trenton Six moved into a decisive stage this week as Superior Court Judge Ralph J. Smalley ruled out the "confessions" of John McKenzie and James Thorpe as well as the formal confession of Ralph Cooper. The confessions of Collis English and McKinley Forrest were admitted. All five confessions were admitted in the first trial and served as the basis on which the six were sentenced toH heFRAG3R, were convicted and sentenced to death.

For three weeks, during which the jury has been excluded from the court room, Judge Smalley has heard testimony of prosecution and defense witnesses on the validity of the confessions and the circumstances under which they were obtained. The defense has contended that these confessions were obtained under psychological and physical duress and, accordingly, are inadmissable.

Two of the six victims—Horace Wilson and John McKenzie—are being defended by counsel retained by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and headed by Raymond Pace Alexander of Philadelphia, in association with J. Mercer Burrell of Newark and Clifford R. Moore of Trenton. Other counsel are defending Collis English, Ralph Cooper, McKinley Forrest and James Thorpe.

The six are accused of slaying an aged storekeeper, William Horner, on the morning of January 27, 1948. Their conviction by the lower court in August, 1948, was reversed by the Supreme Court of New Jersey which in 1949 ordered a new trial.

Oppose Renazification

Calling for intensified activities in opposition to the renozification of western Germany, the Westside Committee today announced plans for a city-wide conference to be held at Stanley Hall, 1057 North Stanley Avenue, March 20th, at 8 p.m.

Jack Flier, chairman of the Westside Committee, called upon civic, union, fraternal, and culmunity leaders to join in this work conference.

Mrs. Walkins Wins Award For Letter

Mrs. Roberta Walkins, 251 East 47th Street, was awarded one of the 324 generous awards given by the Christmas Club, a corporation, for her leter on "How Financial Institutions Help My Community and Me." Mrs. Walkins has her Christmas Club Account at the Broadway Federal Savings and Loan Association of Los Angeles, 4329 South Broadway.

A total of $10,000.00 is awarded annually by the Herbert F. Rawl Memorial Competition in honor of the founder of the Christmas Club Savings Plan.

The contents of Mrs. Walkins' letter is as follows:

"How Financial Institutions Help My Community and Me."

We are people in the middle income bracket and are buying our home. In these times of high rents we are grateful for a home. However, with living costs as they now are, we still have many financial problems.

Last year we found it necessary to do some repair work on the house and make an addition on the back. At about the same time our 13 year old automobile needed more work. After putting in a new motor, the car still needed lots of work and we were very little better off. But how could we afford to do both?

So, we consulted our Savings and Loan Corporation and they gave us the much needed assistance and arranged for us to do the work on the house and with the account we had on hand we were able to have a new car.

Our payments are reasonable and did not put us in a financial strain. We think we are very lucky. We are pleased with the cooperation we have received and feel that our property is an asset to the neighborhood. People in our financial standing or in higher or even lower wage brackets can be and are helped every day by their banks and other financial Institutions. It makes for more dependable citizens. A good credit with a good bank is worth having.

Groveland Trio Fight Continues

NEW YORK — The fight to free the three young men convicted in the Groveland, Fla., "rape" case will be pushed vigorously, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People announced this week following a unanimous Supreme Courtdeci sion on April 9, reversing the convictions of two of the defendants who had been sentenced to death. No appeal was made on behalf of the third prisoner, who had received a life sentence.

Justices Score Press Role

In addition to the unanimous decision reversing the lower court verdict, Justice Robert H. Jackson handed down an opinion excoriating the press of central Florida for biased and inflammatory handling of the "passion-arousing events" in connection with the case. Justice Felix Frankfurter concurred in this opinion, which cited the publication of the story that the defendants had "confessed." This story was never denied nor was any "confession" produced in court durifg the trial.

The publication of such stories so influenced the jury, the opinion stated," that the conclusion is inescapable that these defendants were prejudged as guilty and the trial was but a legal gesture to register a verdict already dictated by the press and public opinion which it generated."

Continuing, Justice Jackson said: "these convictions, accompanied by such events, do not meet any civilized conception of due process of law."

Health Of Negroes Undermined

The health of this nation's Negro population is being seriously undermined because of the inability of Negro private and state colleges to supply an adequate number of students who are qualified for the study of medicine, according to a statment made by Dr. C. W. Buggs.

News From Europe and Other Countries

At his press conference on Wednesday, Acheson alleged that Yugoslavia was being threatened with "attack" and "assault" by her neighbors and declared that any such event "would dangerously strain the fabric of world peace."

Acheson's remarks, following obviously planted questions from the pressmen, follow after weeks of feverish diplomatic and propaganda activity with regard to Yugoslavia which culminated with the visit to Belgrade this week of George Perkins, head of the State Department's West European section.

Throughout this year, American propaganda has been trying to picture Yugoslavia as a probable "victim of aggression" and praising at the same time the cheapness of Tito's army which could be bought lock, stock and barre for a paltry 38 millions dollars.

W. GERMAN WORKERS AGAINST REARMAMENT

BERLIN—Ninety-five percent of the more than 6,000 workers and technicians of the Bosch Works in Stuttgart-Feuerbach voted unconditionally against German rearmament. This is the largest group in West Germany to have been polled on the question of remilitarisation.

Two hundred delegates representing all the important factories in Nurnberg voted against remilitarization and asked for a plebiscite on this question.

The All-German Council of the Union of Victims of Nazism have demanded a plebiscite on remilitrization and on the conclusion of the peace treaty during 1951.

Workers in Hamburg organized a funeral procession with a coffin bearing the sign "Here Lies Eisenhower With Atlantic Army." At the meeting of the Bosch employees in Bamberg the president of the work council declared "if we get call-up notices we shall not go."

FURTHER CUTS IN W. GERMAN COAL EXPORTS

BERLIN — Permission for a further cut in West German coal exports was demanded from the international Ruhr authority yesterday. The level of the first quarter exports was cut from 6.8 million tons to 6.2 million tons. Now the demand by the German industry is to cut exports in the second quarter to 4.9 million tons. This will hit the coal importing countries like Italy particularly hard.

W. EUROPEAN COAL SHORTAGE THREATENS SWEDEN

STOCKHOLM — West European coal shortage, brought on by the heavy demands for armament industries, is now hampering Swedish Finanstidningen warns the Atlantic Pact partners "it is necessary to make it clear to the West that Sweden cannot possibly obstain from increasing her iron ore supplies of Polish coal. Iron ore is certainly a war important necessity of the first degree but this goes irrefutably for coal too."

POLISH PEASANTS REALIZE ADVANTAGES OF COLLECTIVE

WARSAW—Peasants in the district of Zabkowise have realized the advantages of collective work in the clearing of land. The village of Budzow is a characteristic case. A group of 25 small and medium peasants joined together in the spring of 1950 in clearing and sowing 35 hectares of waste land. They were granted special credits for the buying of seeds and fertilizer. Thanks to the use of machinery and of working such as employed in production cooperatives, the peasants of Budzow obtained a yield of three to five quintals per hectare above that obtained from their own which they cultivate individually.

The proceeds of the sale of the harvest amounted to 22,850 zlotys and was equitably distributed in proportion to the work done.

Research work in connection with introducing the cultivation of rice in Lower Silesia has been crowned with success. Cultivation will be started during the spring sowing on selected experimental fields on state agricultural properties and also on the land of the Wroclaw University.

GDR PREPARES FOR SPRING

BERLIN — Preparations for spring work in all machine and tractor stations in Meklenburg in the German Democratic Republic are in full swing. Employees of the Schwerin stations have already put into order 90 per cent of the tractors.

Smooth work on the fields will be ensured by correct division of working power according to plans which are being worked out by individual districts.

HOME COMFORTS, ACTIVITIES AT GINSBERG HOT SULPHUR SPRINGS RESORT

Often we seek too far for things close by, and lose what nature provides for us.

At this season of the year, especially, small wage earners start speculating on a near-by summer resort where they may spend their vacation.

Stop speculating. What you want is at your back door. It's the Ginsberg Hot Sulphur Springs resort, just outside of Riverside, an hour and forty minutes easy driving from Los Angeles.

No, it isn't luxurious, but it is the last word in comfort with a homelike atmosphere. Nathan Ginsberg, the proprietor, affectionately known as "Tony," makes everyone welcome at the Ginsberg Hot Sulphur Springs resort. And that means all races, creeds, and colors.

Aside from being a health resort where you shed arthritic pains and muscular aches, Ginsberg's is a cultural center. Mr. Ginsberg, himself, is a man of many talents. First, he is a businessman, but not the greedy type; then a painter, designer, and a sculptor of no mean ability.

A visit to Ginsberg's resort will reveal that after spending the day bathing, playing games, basking in the sun, watching the sheep graze on the mountain sides, on Saturdays you will be invited to spend the evening, free of charge, at the Center where movies are shown and where there is dancing, led by the maestro Mr. Ginsberg who despite his half century boast, is the most agile figure on the scene.

In all these activities Mr. Ginsberg is ably assisted by Mrs. Ginsberg.

We have been advised that this Saturday evening, April 21, the famous sculptor, Charles Schlein, will exhibit his art at the Ginsberg resort, and the general public is invited.

Cafe service, with the best food served, is another feature at Ginsberg's.

U. S. Court Refuses Bar College To Negroes

WASHINGTON — The United States Supreme Court this week refused to grant leave to the City of Paducah, Kentucky, to file a petitionfor writ of mandamus setting aside a lower cour decision which ruled that Negro students were entitled to admission to Paducah Junior College on the same terms and conditions as other students.

The suit dates back to November, 1949, when the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People filed a complain seeking the admission of Fred A. Wilson, Jr., and Henry L. Powell, and other qualified Negro applicants to the college. Judgment in favor of the plaintiffs was handed down on October 30, 1950, by Federal District Judge Roy M. Shelburne.

The judgment in the case was merely a declaration of the plaintiffs rights, and no injunction was issued ordering admission of the Negro applicants. If the college authorities continue to refuse admission to Negroes, the NAACP will seek an injunction.

Attorneys handling the case for the NAACP were Joseph Freeland of Paducah and Assistant Special Counsel Robert L. Carter of the national office in New York.

Segregation Amendment Defeated

WASHINGTON, April 18.—By a vote of 138 to 123 the House of Representatives today eliminated the segregation amendment to the draft bill, thus clearing the way for an acceleration of the integration of Negro and white troops in the United States armed forces.

Previously the segragation provision of the Barden bill, introduced as a substitute to the administration-sponsored draft bill, had been eliminated by a vote of 178 to 126. Subsequently the Barden bill was defeated.

The elimination of the segregation amendment, introduced by Representative Arthur Winstead (D., Miss.) represents a victory for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which called in representatives from twelve key states to lobby against the bill. The vote to eliminate the Winstead amendment followed an eloquent and effective plea by Representative William L. Dawson (D., Ill.) who was supported by Representative A. Clayton Powell (D., N.Y.).

The NAACP sponsored amendment to protect servicemen against assault by local police officers and civilians was defeated by a vote of 63 to 46. The vote was taken when most of the supporters of the amendment were absent from the floor. The administration opposed enactment of this amendment.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hill have adopted a baby boy.

C. L. R. James, Author, Lectures In Stanley Hall, Sunday

The League of Allied Arts will present Mr. C. L. R. James, author, playwright and lecturer on April 22nd 1951, at 3 p.m. at Stanley Hall, 1057 N. Stanley Drive.

Mr. James will speak on "The Negro—Touchstone of American Civilization." He will deal with the social characteristics of American civilization as reflected in the Negro people and conversely with the impact of Negro life upon the development of American civilization as a whole. Although his subject is primarily the American Negro and American culture, the speaker will place his whole theme within the framework of international relations in the present world crisis and Negroes in Africa and the West Indies.

Mr. James was born and educated in Trinidad, British West Indies, where he lectured for years at the Government Training College for Teachers in English and History. Going to England in 1932 he became a special sports correspondent for leading British newspapers: The Manchester Guardian, The Daily Telegraph, The Glasgow Herald; lectured in England, Scotland and Ireland on numerous platforms, including the British Broadcasting Corporation.

He has published several books: history, fiction and drama. Mr. James' play on Toussaint L'Ouverture was produced in London in 1936. His most important book is "The Black Jacobins," a study of the slave revolt in San Domingo which founded the state of Haiti. The book has been published in England, the United States and in Paris in a French translation. Everywhere it has been hailed as a definitive study of this important event in the development of the American continent.

Mr. James is now on one of his annual tours lecturing on the Negro question, and on Hermann Melville, the American novelist, on whom he is preparing a book.

The show of work by local artists will be coupled with an exhibit of national scope.

For further information call Mrs. Grace Porter, secretary to the Art Division of the Museum, at RI$chmond 2194.

Mme. Pandit at Bethune-Cookman

Madame Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit thrilled an expectant audience at Bethune-Cookman College on Tuesday when students and visitors packed the chapel to hear her in her first appearance at Daytona Beach, Florida.

After scripture and prayer by the chapain, Rev. Wynn, the choir of the college rendered "One World" and "Steal Away." Dr. Moore, president of Bethune-Cookman College, gave a spicy well-timed welcome to Madame Pandit and to the visitors gathered to hear her message.

Madame Pandit feels that there is a great kinship between the peoples of India and the peoples of America. Not only is there a spiritual kinship, she says, but there is an area where both nations can enjoy an exchange that will be mutually beneficial. Ending on a high note Madame Pandit stated that the greatest menace to the world today is not the fear of the atom bomb but the fear that the people of goodwill in the world will not get together soon enough to furnish the dynamic spiritual force that is now needed to save the world from destruction.

Dean Charlotte Ford Clark read the Citation given to Madame Pandit for her outstanding contribution in International Relations which was presented by Dr. Bethune. The group then retired to Faith Hall for a luncheon planned by the Advisory Board of Bethune-Cookman College. Mrs. Bethune presided at the luncheon and called many of the distinguished visitors to bring words of greetings.

KEYNOTES

CLASSIC PARALLELS

Just as the serious musicians, scholars, critics, artists and teachers have always built up and maintained a veil of mystery around music as a whole, so the disciples and high priests of swing have encouraged a similar attitude, leading to the utterance of an incredible amount of nonsense, both spoken and written. Yet on the whole, the lovers of swing have a better time with music than the fanatics of symphony and opera. What they do not realize is that they could have a equally good time with music that is of a higher quality. Their reactions to rhythm, melody, harmony, and tone color could be stimulated just as effectively by compositions of some permanent value, for the ingredients are essentially same. The technique of a Heifetz could astonish them as much as that of a Benny Goodman. The scholarly variations of a Brahms on a theme perhaps more significant than "Sweet Sue" could eventually produce as much surprise and pleasure as the supposedly extempore but actually routine decorations of a conventional tune by Count Basie or Lionel Hampton.

If you are going to get fun out of music, the first necessity is to dismiss all thoughts of duty or selfconsciousness and be completely honest. That is the great advantage enjoyed by the jitterbugs at the moment. They may not be able to keep time, but at least they move their feet sincerely. Popular music in general has enjoyed a consistently truthful response that the so-called "classics" could rarely claim. That is why popular composers make a living, which the serious ones almost never do.

Did it ever occur to you that anyone at all should be able to play some musical instrument at least for his or her own pleasure, to sing agreeable, also primarily for personal satisfaction, and to read and write notes as easily as one reads and writes one's own language?

Parents would not dream of sending their children to school without a fairly large working vocabulary and the ability to understand their own language at least in its simpler forms. School-teachers are practally never asked to educate a completely inarticulate, totally illiterate child. Yet this is what music teachers are constantly asked to do. . . . They are given pupils who have never become acquainted with the most obvious fundamentals of even rhythm and melody, and are expected to teach these little morons how to read, write and express vocally and instrumentally a language that is a complete mystery to them.

SOCIALITING

with Wini Orr

THE TWELVE LINKS held their annual election of officers at the beautiful home of Elise Boone on West Thirtieth Street Sunday afternoon, April 15.

Newly elected president of the strictly social group is popular Theresa Lindsey, who succeeds Billie Miller.

Purely a hen party, hostess Elise put things out where the girls could help themselves, and an afternoon of gaiety was enjoyed by the members and their guests, what with the delicious lobster bouffet and the wide selection of recordings, mixed in with the chit chat of some thirty women.

Members of the Links are: Theresa Lindsey, Bea Draper, Polly Anna Dougherty, Charity White, Emma Morris, Corinne Judkins, Hattie Saunders, Billie Myer, Elise Boone and Robbie Pa[illegible].

The beautifully dressed guests so royally entertained were: June Washington, Fay Owens, Goldie Marshall, Dora Swann, Libby Taylor, Frances Burks, Katie Latham, Ernestine Tinsley, Ruby Porterfield, Bessie Reed, Verda Robinson, Dorothy Boone, Lillian Butler, Juanita Henderson and Libby Clark.

PRIOR TO THE LINKS PARTY we attended the mass meeting at Second Baptist Church given by the NAACP for the double purpose of launching the annual membership drive and to arouse the people with the intent to support the organization in the Walker case. After a report on the NAACP for securing the fact it was indeed a fine thing for the mother of a dead child to be assisted with acknowledgement from the organization has given generously in his defense. Showing of an emotional outburst from Mrs. L. Ian Onque[illegible] gratitude for needed help. The audience responded to the eloquence of [illegible] executive of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters with his headquarters in Oakland were generous to the [illegible] toward helping defray the [illegible] legal expense involved.

Mr. [illegible] reminded the audience that the NAACP is an organization that has done much to help America realize its Fair Americans during the forty-two years of its existence. He reminded us that out of the thirty-two cases taken before the Supreme Courts of these United States the NAACP legal counsel has lost only two. We were told that it is shameful to have to be begged to take a membership in a militant organization as the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People when we should be eager to help.

SPORTS

Jeff High Sports Round-up

Jefferson high school athletes continued to top the list in at least two or more sports in the city this week. They are leading in track and in baseball. Two Jefferson men hold top track in the city so far this season in the 100 yard dash. They are Floyd Dennis and Gerald Taylor. Other Jefferson sports news this week:

TRACK: The Jefferson thinclads continued to steamroller their way to another Southern League Championship by waxing Manual Arts 81⅓ to 22⅔. Top news of the meet was that Fleetfoot Floyd Dennis was back in form getting his injured leg in running condition. Up and coming Gerald Taylor slipped by Floyd in the 100 yard dash in a nifty 9.8 secs. to tie the city top for the season. All the Jefferson steady winners romped home first. But the big news was that Jordan High, which Jeff had stomped on earlier this season, was taking the play away from the Democrats with some sparkling times. The local scribes look for another Jeff vs Jordan battle in the city meet, like the thriller, diller in '49 when Jordan nipped Jeff by one point. Mark down the night of May 18th in your calendar, the tops in city prep track at the Coliseum relays!!

BASEBAL: The Demos are still in first place despite a slugging from Manual Arts last week, 11-5. Thelton Henderson slapped the apple three for four, and may be a potent candidate for all-league honors at the second sack. The Jeffocrats face Garfield over at the Bulldog diamond. The latter nipped Washington to bring the league into a four-way tie for first. Then tenth grade team has had some tough luck with two losses in league play due mostly to illness and injuries to key players. The team will be at top strength for its tilt at Dorsey this week.

TENNIS: The netmen have taken it on the chin in league play for the first time in several seasons. A surprisingly strong team from Fremont defeated Jeff 6-1. Demo fans hope that Jeff can come back from this one.

SWIMMING: Coach Bert Watson's beginning swim team gave Washington High a big scare last week at the Huntington Park pool as the Democrats continue to improve in a sport which has been getting more attention from the athletes each year at Jeff. Basketball star Billie Levi has taken to the waves very well and may score for Jeff in a big way this season.

UCLA Nine To Play Wildcats

UCLA's baseballers oppose the University of Arizona's Wildcats this Friday and Saturday (March 23-24) and Loyola's Lions the following Tuesday (March 27), all on the Joe E. Brown diamond at Westwood, in the practice season finales before the Bruins entertain Santa Clara in the California Intercollegiate Baseball Association openers next week.

The Bruins have yet to drop a game to collegiate competition this spring and will be favored to knock off both the Wildcats and Lions. Ray O'Connor, who went the full nine innings in beating Santa Barbara College, 14-5, last week, will start against Arizona in Friday's game.

Eat Well, Live Well

NEW YORK, N.Y.—Food cranks and finicky eaters have a high neurotic tendency, results of standardized personality tests reveal.

People who enjoy their food and eat wisely possess two of the surest signs of health and happiness, according to Dr. James F. Bender, director of the National Institute for Human Relations.

Food crankiness, on the other hand, is a symptom of emotionalism, says Dr. Bender in the April Journal of Living. The food crank may reject many foods because he wants to attract attention. Often he expects pity for his plight.

In general, food cranks are hard to live with. When they eat in restaurants, they are usually stingy tippers, according to waiters, who can spot a crank at a glance. They're a nuisance to their families and cut themselves off from many pleasant social events because hostesses don't like to entertain them.

The Journal of Living article gives the following suggestions for finicky eaters: 1) Learn to eat everything in moderation, starting with very small portions. (2) Eat in pleasant company. (3) Don't take food too seriously. (4) Don't eat under tension. (5) Practice autosuggestion and actually talk yourself into liking foods you have no reason to dislike.

Still undefeated, UCLA's dangerous tracksters go north this week to take on California's Bears in a Pacific Coast Conference dual meet at Berkeley this Saturday (April 21).

Coach Ducky Drake's Bruins figure to get even for the 101-30 licking they took from the Bear cindermen last year. In fact, UCLA will be after its first track victory over California since 1948. The Bears hold a huge 15-4 won-loss bulge over the Bruins in the all-time track series which began in 11928.

UCLA kept its cinder record spotless last week when the Bruins edged a star-studded Los Angeles Athletic Club last week in a quinquanglar meet on the Westwood oval.

27th annual UCLA Alumni-Varsity tennis match is slated this Saturday (April 21) on the Westwood courts, with many former Bruin net greats, including 1933 NCAA singles champion Jack Tidball, scheduled to return. Some 14 singles and seven doubles matches will begin at 12:30 p.m.

Tuesday, April 24 — Tennis, UCLA varsity and freshman players compete in Ojai Valley Championships at Ojai, Calif., which runs for three days.

Friday, April 27 — Baseball, Stanford at UCLA, 2:30 p.m.

Golf, UCLA players compete in Southern California Intercollegiate Championships at Santa Barbara Valley Club at Santa Barbara, Calif.

Saturday, April 28 — Baseball, Stanford at UCLA, 2:00 p.m.

UCLA's crew will be out for revenge this Friday (April 20) when the Bruin oarsmen host Stanford's Indians in a pair of races over the Olympic Games distance of 2000 meters at Ballona Creek in Playa del Rey. The junior varsity race is slated for 5 p.m., followed immediately afterward by the varsity clash. Admission is free.

In the Newport Harbor Intercollegiate Crew Regatta last week, UCLA finished third behind the winning California boat and second-place Stanford. The Bruins, however, did sweep across the finish line nine lengths in front of the SC Trojans. The Indian Jayvees outstroked the Bruins by six lengths in the preliminary race at Newport.

Coach Art Reichle's solid UCLA baseball club, which is comfortably resting one-half game behind the pacesetting SC Trojans in the CIBA race, will enjoy a well-earned rest this week. In fact, the Bruins haven't a game scheduled until the April 27-28 weekend when they host Stanford at Westwood in the league contests.

The Los Angeles Rams' new football film, "1950 Touchdown Parade," featuring the thrill-packed highlights of the past professional football season, is now ready for distribution, the local club announced this week.

The 16-millimeter sound film, with commentary by Harry Wismer, is available to business, professional and social groups in the Southern California area free of charge. Four Ram players—all of them standouts last fall—are available as speakers if desired. These are End Tom Fears, Fullback Dick Hoerner, Center Don Paul, and End Jack Zilly.

Interested groups may obtain the films by calling WEbster 3-8291 for a reservation, or by writing or visiting the Rams office at 7813 Beverly Blvd., Los Angeles.

TSU Summer School

SC, Michigan, Illinois Clash On Track Saturday

It's the best in the West vs. the best in the Midwest when championship SC, Illinois and Michigan track and field teams gather for a gigantic triangular meet Saturday, April 21, in the Coliseum.

It's also the best hurdler in the Big Ten vs. the best in the Pacific Coast conference when Troy's national collegiate champs engage the Illini and the Wolverines, who finished one-two in the Big Ten indoor finals this winter.

Michigan's Don Hoover, double winner in the Big Ten high and low hurdles, will encounter two outstanding competitors in SC's up-and-coming Co-Capt. Art Barnard and sophomore Jack Davis.

Hoover, strong in both events, may be able to split the Trojan hurdling team in both the highs and the lows but he will be hard-pressed to beat either Barnard or Davis in their specilties.

Barnard already has posted a best time of 14.1s. in the 120-yard race that is tops in the nation at this point in the season.

Davis may be invulnerable in the 220-yard lows with an impressive 23.1s. clocking to his credit.

Illinois also gets into the hurdling picture with a five-man crew that may develop a strong challenger for first place honors in the SC-Illinois-Michigan triangular.

Three crack sophomores spearhead the Illini high hurdling department. They are Jerry Kats, Joel McNulty and Wayne Veith, all state champs or thereabouts in prep days.

Probably the greatest hurdling team in the history of intercollegiate athletics, however, Barnard and Davis even figure strongly over Hoover of the Wolverines, who has a 23s.-flat outdoor low hurdles race to his credit. His best 120-yard race was 14.4s. last season.

Other Michigan hurdlers may pick up third and fourth place points. They are Jim Mitchell, who also has 14.4s. and 23s. times to his credit, and Walter Atchison, 14.7s. and 24.5s.

Troy's Pacific Coast conference high jump champion, Jack Barnes, doubles up in the high Hurdles and will be a threat behind Barnard and Davis.

Chicago Set For Baseball

Meridian, Miss.—Manager Winfield Welch is due here this week and will direct the Chicago American Giants when they start their long spring training series against the Birmingham Black Barons, which starts Saturday at Anniston, Alabama.

The two clubs tangle in a doubleheader in Birmingham the following day.

Welch, who is secretary of the Harlem Globetrotters basketball team, has been traveling with the famous cagers on their cross-country tour with the College All-Stars.

Meantime, Parnell Woods, veteran infielder, has been sending the Giants through their training paces. A total of 33 players have been training here for the past ten days. Woods is confident he will turn over a strong, well-conditioned club to Welch when he arrives.

Three young players have been particularly outstanding in inter-squad games. One of the best looking youngsters in camp is Carl Coleman, a 22 year old first baseman from Cleveland. He is 6 feet 3 inches tall, hits from the left side of the plate and throws right. His long-ball hitting has impressed everyone in camp.

The two other rookies who threaten to break into the regular lineup are Don Johnson, a 19 year old second baseman from Cincinnati, and Robert Hinesman, 21 year old pitcher from Brooklyn.

After Sunday's games in Birmingham, the Giants and Barons play five successive games. The schedule: Monday — Montgomery, Alabama; Tuesday — Columbus, Mississippi; Wednesday —El Dorado, Arkansas; Thursday — Tyler, Texas; Friday — Fort Worth, Texas.

Wilkins' Father Dies

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Funeral services were held last week for the Rev. W. D. Wilkins, pastor of St. Matthews A. M. E. Church of this city. Rev. Wilkins, who was 73, was the father of Roy Wilkins, national administrator of the NAACP, and had pastored A. M. E. churches in Missouri and Kansas for more than 30 years.

Triangular Track, Field Meet Set for Coliseum, Saturday

Big Ten-PCC rivalry in the track and field department breaks out in the Coliseum this Saturday where championship teams from Illinois and Michigan encounter SC, home of the world's greatest track teams.

The Illini and Wolverines, always brutally effective in the Rose Bowl football game, are confronted with a typical SC track powerhouse in this Saturday's gigantic triangular meet.

Troy's NCAA champs, coached by former all-round athlete Jesse Mortensen, are undefeated in 39 straight team engagements and haven't lost an international meet since 1928. The Illini scored that one, 64-62, in spite of the fact that sophomore Mortensen won the javelin.

Holders of 12 conference championships, Western or Pacific Coast, will appear in the extravaganza, swiftly becoming a traditional affair. Thus far, Illinois, Michigan State, Ohio State and Yale have tested the fabulous Trojans in Los Angeles without much success. However, this year the Illini and Michigan definitestring of victories.

The award is made annually by the California Tuberculosis and Health Association in honor of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ford Higby.

Sports News Of the Week

California was samped last week by SC's track squad 102½ to 28½ in the Coliseum. The mile relay was one of the three events that California won. High marks were turned in by the Trojans in the shot put when Parry O'Brien tossed the disc 53 ft. 5½ inches to set a meet record. Frank Flores mark in the broad-jump was 23 ft. 9¾.

Colorful Cirilo McSween, Illinois' Big Ten indoor champion in the 440-yard-dash, is known as the "Panama Limited." McSween has been encouraged to attend the Illini institution by Herb McKenley, world record holder in the quarter mile.

Don Laz, great Illinois pole vaulter, is the only collegian who has ever cleared 15 ft. Laz accomplished the feat at the tender age of 20 years while Bob Richards, also of Illinois, and Cornelius Warmerdam had to wait until they were 24 to enter the charmed circle. The three athletes mentioned above are the only ones who have ever vaulted 15 feet.

Don McEwen, Michigan's National collegiate champion in the two mile, is a native of Ottawa, Canada. In last June's NCAA finals, he set a new record of 9m. 01.7s. for the eight-lap event, a record formerly held by Notre Dame's great Gregory Rice. McEwen expects to run under nine minutes flat this season.

Tom Johnson, Michigan shotputter, is the same gent who clobbered California's line in the last Rose Bowl. Johnson, playing tackle, made key blocks in plays on which Wolverine Don Dufeck raced to touchdowns and a 13-6 Michigan victory.

Don Canham, Michigan track and field coach, still holds the Mjchigan varsity high jump record at 6 ft. 7¼ in. Young Canham, only 33, leaped the height in 1940 to tie the old mark held by Wesley Allen.

Newcombe Aims For 30 Games

Don Newcombe, the Dodgers' ace Negro pitcher, is aiming for a magical 30-game season, according to the issue of Quick Magazine released Thursday, April 12.

Not since the fabulous Dizzy Dean and his golden Gas House days has a major league hurler won 30 games in a single year.

Newcombe has all the equipment, according to Quick. He has speed, control and endurance. Only 24 years old, he's just approaching his prime.

This issue features a picture of Newcombe on the cover, and a fine picture story of the Negro hurler on pages 61-62.

Raging Sigmas Upset Confident Kappas In Last Quarter Of Game

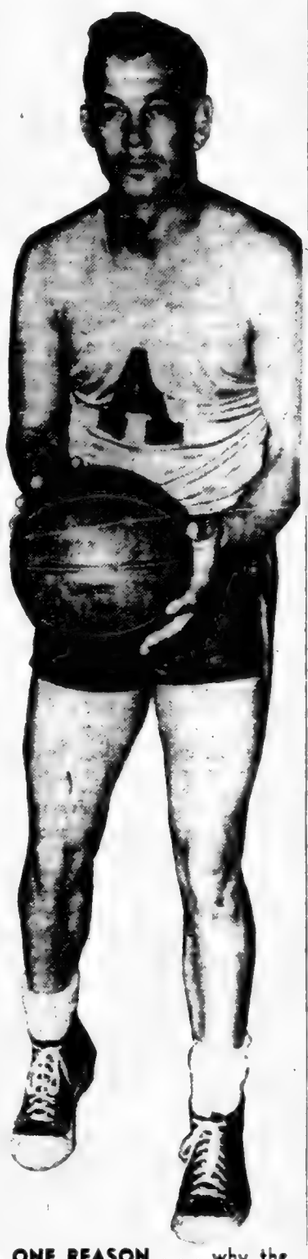
By TED DANIELS

Blazing in hoop fury and urged on by roaring, unquelled rooters, Sigma basketeers, in the last canto, brought all their latent powers to fore and made a dynamic rally which remained unchecked until the final gong, as they downed weary Kappa bucket men 66-54 during latest inter-frat basketball play on the Loyola court.

In the first game of the double-feature, Omega hoopsters proved that they had "depth" in all their ranks minus such highly touted court-men as Ed "Dead-Eye" Tucker, or Vernon Riggins. Playing head-up ball clear into the second stanza, the Alpha quintet fought off what many thought to be "the inevitable," like a brave warrier in defeat, but as good men go, and like the brave warrior, they went.

Forward Vernon Melton pitched in enough buckets for 13 digits for the Omega five, while Captain Chuck Reed accounted for 11 markers on the opposite side of the Alphas' scoreboard. It was the Hill men, both Hugo and Kenneth, who, despite their 21 chucks and inspirational play, failed to bump Omega hoop specialist out of first place rating nor change the final score, 47-39, in favor of the Omegas.

Kappa's Make Stand



Kappa string swishers, apparently confident of victory from the start, held comfortable small margins in every period up until the last stanza of the climatic fracas. Entering the last quarter with nearly a ten point lead when the score board read 32-41, the Kappa quintet ruled the court triumphantly while Sigma hoop-men searched for the "jackpot" that would pay off in bucket returns. Led by such stalwart regulars as Cornelius Barnes who made rallies for 15 digits, Kappa men struggled unceasingly until the last bell with Ernie Powell and Gene Williams carrying a "die-hard" attack sparked by workman Dave Williams.

Sigma Backers

Even though Doug Shaw's free tosser which would have tied things up in the last canto—failed to connect, it was only a matter of a few fiery seconds which saw Bobby Pounds' mid-court bagger start the car rollin—down hill.

"Blood-thirsty" Sigma rooters, sensing the kill, began their mighty turmoil — Sigma's eager five, noticing the score board record one point in their favor, went on their relentless scoring rampage—while Kappa frightful hoopsters, lest their opponents anger break in all it's fury, began a defensive game.

There was no stopping the Phi Beta Sigma quintet. First it was Bobby Pounds, laying 'em in from all angles; then came Ernie Bond who did nothing less than pull the impossible; there was the dangerous Doug Shaw who wouldn't be held; and towering in basketball majesty, we have Center Fred Bluett ruling the backboard. All told, this determined Sigma aggression wouldn't be denied—victory was theirs for the taking.

ONE REASON . . . why the Alphas will be able to keep their hand in the inter-fraternity hoop games now in progress at Loyola University gym is basketeer Joe Oliver. Oliver is an old "A" standby.

Softball Teams

Softball fans the time has come once more to go out and see your favorite team in action. The team to really watch this year is the team sponsored by the Kwick-Set Lock Company. Last year under a different sponsorship this team finished up second in the city play-offs. This year they aren't going to be satisfied with second. Its first or nothing.

The team consists of such fine talent as: Sammie Calvert, B Cook, William Condon, Charles Cowan, Norman Champion, Sherman Jones, Russell Knight, Norman Mearse, Alfred Cowan, Earl (Bubba) Robinson Charles Simms We have lost one of our best men to the Pittsburg Pirates farm club, a young fellow by the name of C. Prelow. Alfred Christman is the coach and Norman Champion is the manager

McEwen, 2-Miler Is Man to Watch

Michigan's fabled Don McEwen, the nation's best two miler, leads a brilliant cast in the distance races of the big SC-Michigan - Illinois triangular track meet set for Saturday, April 21, in the Coliseum.

The tireless, Canadian - born router, holder of the NCAA meet record at 9m. 1.7s., tests a crack field in the mile and two-mile races but McEwen is clearly the class of the triangular running events.

Only Troy's Jim (Chief) Newcomb, who ran the world's swiftest mile by an American last season, has the physical equipment to handle the mighty Michigan runner in the four-lapper.

Unfortunately, however, Newcomb's conditioning has been held back by illness. The Chief may not be prepared to catch McEwen in either distance race.

Gov. Wright Fights Negroes in Schools

JACKSON, Miss. — Governor Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi this week launched an all-out fight against plans of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to begin legal proceedings to force the entrance of qualified Negro students to graduate and professional schools in Alabama and Mississippi.

"The State of Mississippi must resist these efforts of the NAACP to the fullest extent of our resources," Governor Wright declared. "We shall insist upon segregation regardless of the cost or consequences."

GERTRUDE GIPSON

IEWS FROM A NEWSGAL'S SCRATCH PAD:

Can't think of any other way of starting than mentioning the Les Dames second annual Bal Masque to be presented at the Florentine Gardns on Sunday, May 20, from 6 to 12 p.m. The various clubs in the city have displayed their interest by already sending in for their entry blanks, and Les Dames have something cooking that will really set off this fabulous "Bal Masque," but then that's a surprise!

We are still trying to reach "Rochester," who just returned from the East where he entered his own car (that he actually put together) in the Sportsmen's show. We don't know what the outcome was, but we understand that the car was a honey. . . . Now here's a package I would really enjoy seeing now on a cross-country tour, Jimmy Witherspoon, Three Chocolateers, Salt and Pepper, Blue Midgets, Helen Humes and the Hal Singer Orchestra. . . . Bill Bailey, who had forsaken his life of dancing for the ministry, has returned to the stage and to Broadway and is featured with Wini Brown at the Strand.

In chatting with Nellie Becker Slaton, who incidentally is on the infanticipating list, we found out that her brother, the Dr. Leslie Becker, now at Tuskegee, is quite a reader of ours (and of course that we love). . . . Leroy Beavers, who talks, sleeps and eats (Golden State Ins.) one of the best salesmen G.S. has. . . . Lillie Montgomery, chairman of the Special Activities Group of the NAACP, planning a big blowout for the NAACP out at the Florentine Gardens on the 27th of next month.

You've heard of the "amazing man on the tenor sax" or "amazing man of the ivories" but betcha you haven't heard of the "amazing man on the molars." Well, let me clue you, he's a D.D.S. tagged Dr. Clarence Bradford over at the Avalon M.D. Building. We say amazing 'cause Dr. Brad managed to actually extract one of OUR molars without the least pain, and "believe me, we gave him a cherry fit." . . . Ivory Joe Hunter, who in spite of having domestic troubles right through here, has a reputation for making hits. Ivory Joe comes up with two more, "I Can't Get You Off My Mind" and "I Can't Resist You." . . . Cavalrettes Social Club, Inc., present their Coffee Extravaganza Sunday afternoon.

'OIN' THE TOWN WITH G.G.:

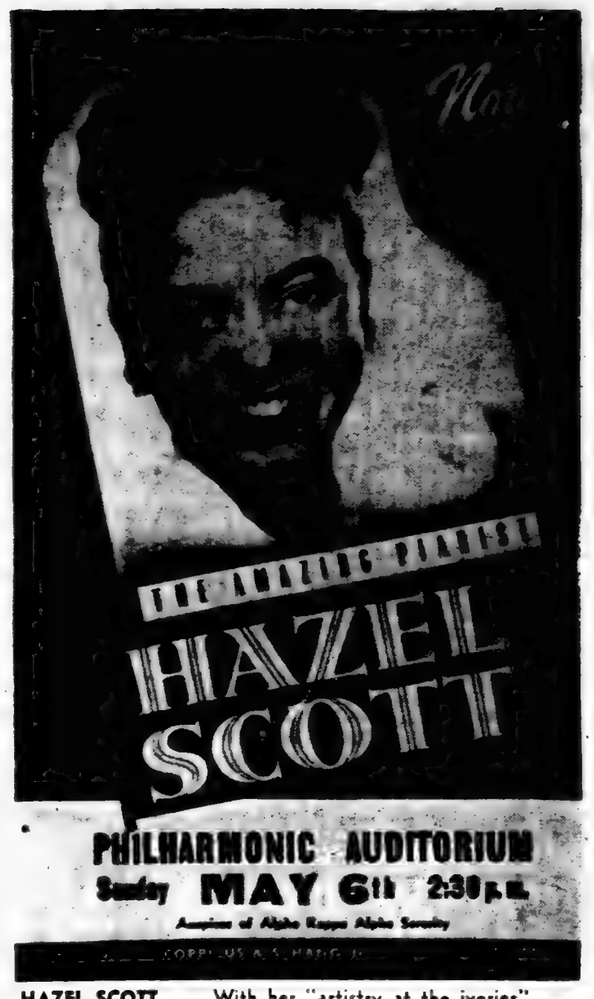
Count Basie reorganizes his band to 15 pieces. . . . Surprise news hearing that Dan Burley announced his marriage to pretty Gladys Holland of New Jersey (our home town). . . . That congestion in traffic the other noon hour was caused by Denver's curvacious Helen Johnson. . . . Estelle Edmondson, the lass who does some wonderful "tonsil tickling" and is appearing with the Marl Young Trio, is also working on her master's degree out at UCLA.

Ruth Brown to follow Erroll Garner into the Oasis. Erroll, incidentally, is entering his third week over at the Oasis. . . . Billy Eckstein underwent minor surgery last week and will soon be up and bock to his vocalin'. . . . Lena Horne all set for an engagement at the Coconut Grove, then back to the "apple" again. . . . Roy Loggins moves in on his D.J. show Sunday evening at 6 o'clock. Roy's show will be heard over KALI with his "Jazz at Sunset."

Because of a license problem many of the after-hour spots are threatening to close. . . . Aha! Loraine White says, "One reason such games as bridge are so popular is that they massage the ego; when you lose, you can blame it on bad cards; when you win, you are privately convinced it was skill." . . . Dolphins of Hollywood still holding forth with his radio show that "so easily makes a record" the best seller now is a disc tagged "I'd Rather Drink Muddy Water." . . . Arthur Adams holds forth as the platter spinner.

Lena Torrence, Juliette Ball and Lois Williams newest members added to the membership of Les Dames. . . . The Inter-Frat Series, though entertaining as usual, are proving to be a regular fashion show with the lovely ladies wearing nothing but the latest in sport fashions. . . . Don't know whether we mentioned it or not, but besides being one of the city's top dress designers, Rosa Glenn gives out with some wonderful vocalin'. Rosa busy now getting new things for lovely Lena Horne.

Charlotte Charity cruising 'round town in a beyootiful cream Cad. . . . Oaaawheee! those sappy singing commercials are slowly driving me maaaad!! . . . Count Carter tellin' us about his big revue in the making to be produced out at the Riverside Rancho. Understand that talented Jeni LeGon is in charge. . . . Pretty brown-skin Dettye Quincey is slaying them with her terrific dance numbers in Sacramento. . . . None of the gang is hep as to why Jimmy Smith is laying "silent" in his fly pad, none of the gang except a Candid Commentator.



Marie Washington (shapely daughter of Flora Washington) has decided to make Seattle her home. . . . Gee! Ralph Clark's brand of humor the other even'g at that westside house party was as out of place as "twin beds in a hotel room." . . . The Jeepsters, local band-around-town, are really making a name for themselves and get just about every top gig happening. . . . Bill Barnett, horn tooter with the band, should be public relationist for the band 'cause he's right in there pitching all the way. . . . See! how that guy Leonard Reed can disappear.

The Angel City's newest heat wave is a dark-haired beauty that answers to the name of Nona Day. She's beautiful! Tan! and Hey! Hey! . . . Petite Ida James coming back on the scene again with hit records. . . . Where in the world is Lillian Cumber, and Jerry, too? . . . After receiving such wonderful press raves on the opening of his unique Party Shop, tall, red-headed, handsome Bill Douglass had to answer the call of his dear Uncle (Sam, that is). . . . Arnett Cobbs "Smooth Sailing" is really smooth. . . . Illinois Jacquet to disband for awhile and rejoin the Norman Granz Tour readying for a trek to Europe. . . . Looks like that time again, which brings us to our closing thought, that "People will gamble on anything. Now they're beginning to save money, on the chance that it may be valuable again some day."

Tough Toting For Farley

Hollywood—There's a scene for the Wald-Krasna picture, "Behave Yourself!", wherein Farley Granger carries his movie bride, Shelley Winters, up an RKO Radio stairway. After doing the scene eight times before Director George Beck was satisfied, Farley sank wearily into a chair. "Look at him," scoffed Shirley. "Some romantic guy! Why you'd think he really was married!"

HAZEL SCOTT . . . With her "artistry at the ivories" . . . will be presented in concert Sunday, May 6th at 2:30 p.m. Miss Scott, who plays "boogie-woogie" like it should be played, will also play the classic compositions as well.

Waller Agency Books Best

Setting a new high for the agency, Ben Waller Enterprises, foremost race owned and operated booking office on the coast is handling the forthcoming western tours of Dinah Washington, Ruth Brown, Johnny Otis and Little Esther, and Clarence "Gatemouth" Brown.

These artists rank among the top favorites in the nation today.

They are set for night club and one nighter engagements from Canada to Mexico.

The Waller agency also books Roy Milton's Solid Senders, Percy Mayfield and his "Please Send Me Someone to Love" orchestra, Joe Liggins, Jimmy Witherspoon, Hollywood Revue, Lynn Hope, Lowell Fulsson, Herb Fisher, Pee Wee Crayton and Ray Charles.

Mayfield is enroute to the coast after an extended tour. Blues King Witherspoon is also headed for the Angel City. He's been doing big business in the midwest.

MGM Records Sigma Hamp

MGM Records has announced the signing of Lionel Hampton to a term recording pact. The vibist-band leader will record with both small combos and big band groups for the label. Contracts were signed this week, with General Manager Frank Walker and Artists & Repertoire Director Harry Meyerson acting for the diskery.

The Hamptor signing is another of several recent MGM bids for prominence in the big band field. Other bands signed by the label since the first of the year include those of Woody Herman, Tex Beneke, and Buddy DeFranco.

Mr. B Again Tops In Pops

The Great Mr. B., Billy Eckstine, was this week recovering from minor surgery at his home in Encino with one of the nation's finest get-well gifts to speed his convalescence.

Upon his return from Santa Monica Hospital, the winner of every previous major, musical poll was greeted by his personal manager, Milton Ebbins, who flew from New York with the great news that Billy has won the twelfth annual Billboard popularity poll. Billboard magazine, the show business "bible," each year conducts a poll of college campuses across the nation. This year Mr. B. won head and shoulders as the favorite male vocalist of college students from coast to coast. In second and third places were Perry Como and Bing Crosby.

Previous and consistent awards as the nation's favorite singer have been presented by Down Beat, Metronome, Esquire, Campus and other national publications. Eckstine has a trophy room in his rambling estate to display the more than 100 awards he has won.

That Garner Garnering 'Em At Club Oasis

Erroll Garner, going into his third and final week at the Club Oasis, 3801 S. Western, is garnering more than his fair share of raves over his brilliant piano style.

The man for whom the piano was invented is being presented five times nightly at the Oasis in concert-styled programs which include many of his recorded favorites—"Laura," "Lover," "How High the Moon" and "I Cover the Waterfront" among many.

Long a record favorite, with 32 defferent labels, Garner is now a Columbia recording artist. His most recent album, "Erroll Garner Genms," is being unveiled in Los Angeles simultaneously with the Club Oasis engagement. Recently he made his Town Hall concert debut in New York, winning acclaim of both fans and critics.

Accompanying Erroll Garner in person at the Oasis, and featured on his records, are bassist John Simmons, a native Angeleno formerly with Benny Goodman, and drummer Shadow Wilson, who was featured with the bands of Illinois Jacquet and Woody Herman.

Vido Musso Revives With 15 Piece Band

Vido Musso, whose potent tenor sax was featured with the great Stan Kenton orchestra of 1945-46, has returned to the musical scene with a 15-piece orchestra. Initial engagement of the new band will be the Rendezvous Ballroom in Balboa, beginning next Saturday, April 21, and then the following Wednesday through Saturday, April 25-28, inclusive.

Sarah Vaughn Master Musician

Sarah Vaughn, the little girl with the magic in her voice, entered the charmed circle of music when she traveled across the river from her Jersey home to win an amateur contest at Harlem's Apollo Theatre. Later, she appeared at the Apollo for a week with Earl Hines' band and then she worked with the now famous Billy Eckstine.

After Miss Vaughan's climb to stardom began gathering momentum, she was engaged for a stint at Cafe Society downtown. This was followed by attractive offers from smart supper clubs and big Broadway theatres.

In one of her manys uccessful concert tours, Sarah was costarred with Illinois Jacquet's band and she and Jacquet averaged grosses of more than $7,000 per nitefor 28 concert dates!

Soon her fans began to clamor for records. Now, while she is very much in demand for personal appearances, commanding in the enviable neighborhood of $5,000 a week, her recording royalities are in execess of $100,000 annually. A lot of wax must go around the turntable—at 2c a platter—to add up to that figure!

Mr. Harris taught agriculture and Mrs. Harris taught music.

A former county agricultural agent, Mr. Harris will teach modern farming methods in Kapit among the Iban people, where superstitions have hindered farming for generations and ruined much of the arable land.

Crowds Hear Sister Rosetta Thorpe Sing

By Pinkie Pride Walker

Disregarding the unfavorable weather, many music lovers and friends of this great artist, came to the Embassy Auditorium, April 3rd, to a program sponsored by Rev. W. J. Taylor, Pastor of the Grace Memorial Church of God in Christ. Prof. Earl Hines, Music Director.

Sister Rosetta Thorp has made a mark in her career no other star in history has made to my knowledge. She has shown honor to the greatest woman in her life, her mother.

Doing as Christ has said "Honor thy Father and Mother that thy days might be long upon the land, which the Lord thy God giveth thee; being blessed of God in her career, she reaches back and places mother to sing at her side.

Most young people today are pushing their mothers away, saying "you are too old now, your best days are gone, but not so with Rosetta. May God ever bless her. Carry her on and on through this sinful land in her most beautiful "Gospel Bus," holding to God's unchanging hand.

Women Of Georgia Church Meet In Spite Of Threats

The women of the First African Baptist Church of Savannah, Georgia, which is the oldest Negro church in North America, observed Women's Day on Sunday, February 11. The main feature of the day was an address delivered by the interrationally famous Southern writer, Miss Lillian Smith, author of "Strange Fruit," and "Killers of the Dream," both of which have been translated into several foreign languages. The fact of the day being Women's Day in this church, coinciding with Race Relations Sunday, made Miss Smith's appearance doubly significant.

On the day preceding Miss Smith's appearance, Dr. Ralph Mark Gilbert, pastor of the host church, received an anonymous phone call from a person who very ominously questioned him as to whether or not this interracial meeting would be held on a segregated basis. Dr. Gilbert's reply was to the effect that there would be no segregation, on the grounds that it would be inhospitable to invite people to attend these services and then tell them where to sit; and that moreover, it would be an insult to Miss Miss Smith, the principal speaker, who all along has taken a bold stand against segregation. The anonymous caller said, "In that case, I strongly advise that you not have the meeting," and immediately hung up the phone.

Dr. Gilbert lost no time in contacting the mayor of the city, the Hon. Olin P. Fulmer, and the commissioner of police, who promised him full protection. Be it said to the credit of the church and pastor did receive that protection.

Other ananymous phone calls were received by Mrs. Frank W. Spencer, wife of Capt. Frank W. Spencer, commander of the Port of Savannah, both of whom are liberals and quite outspoken in their attitudes against all forms of racial discrimination. She was advised by the unknown caller not to appear on the program to introduce Miss Smith. Be it said to their credit that they ignored this advice; both of them attended the meeting and Mrs. Spencer fulfilled her part on the program. The audience was sprinkled very nicely with an attendance of an estimated 150 white people. And the heavens did not fall!

For an hour before the morning services of the church opened, a car was parked across the street from the church, with a lone, suspicious-looking white man in it, who remained there until about 12:30 p.m., as though on inspection. Again at about 3:30 p.m., a carload of white "huskies" parked in the close vicinity of the church, and were seen by the pastor and church officers, engaged in animated conversation. The conjecture is that they spotted the police and the detectives, and all of a sudden they piled into their car and hurriedly drove away.

Information reached the pastor that some FBI men were in the audience and outside the church, on the alert for any disturbance. The county sheriff and some four of his deputies were on hand; all of this to forestall any untoward situation, which did not materialize. It is strongly suspected that these anonymous phone calls were made by a member of a very small local group of the Ku Klux Klan. It is especially significant that nothing of this nature occurred in this city prior to the organization of this small unit of the Ku Klux Klan here.

It is reported that hecklers were to be distributed throughout the audience to create disturbance during Miss Smith's address, but none of this materialized. In fact, an enthusiastic, perfectly dignified service was held, and Miss Smith remained over to address a public meeting for the Savannah Branch of the NAACP on Monday night.

At the morning service, a Women's Day message was brought by Mrs. Martha J. Brown, a member of the host church, from the subject, "Some Areas of Christian Service for Women." At the afternoon hour the interracial service was highlighted by Miss Lillian Smith's address, with music furnished by the large Radio Chorus of the host church, and the Men's Glee Club of Savannah State College.

At night, the pageant, written especially for this occasion by Mrs. Eloria S. Gilbert (wife of the pastor) entitled, "The Call to Christian Womanhood," was presented before a large and enthusiastic congregation. By this time, all efforts at intimidation on the part of the Klan (or their fellow-travelers) had all petered out. There was one white choir that was to appear, and they received anonymous telephone calls which chilled their nervous energy, and they remained away. They expressed, however, their deepest regrets, but wre afraid of unpleasant repercussions later.

Letter to Truman

The letter of appeal to President Truman in the name of Christian justice and democracy, to intervene in behalf of Willlie McGee, received a hearty response and endorsement from the ministers, Negro and white, in this city.

Jefferson High Open House On April 25

"What the PTA Does for All the Children of the Community" is the central objective of Jefferson High's energetic PTA in its big money-raising project of the school year. Plans are now being made to stage a baby contest complete with sponsors and prizes, a doll festival and a grand award program to take place on Sunday afternoon, May 20th at the Golden State Life Insurance Building at Western and Adams.

In succeeding articles the PTA hopes to point out to the interested parents and patrons in the community how the funds raised by the PTA are expended for the welfare of all the children of the school. The present program is designed to enlist the support of a greater number of parents in the total program of the PTA of all the various schools in the city, and on the state and national levels.

Th ticket sale for the baby contest will end on the 17th, with the awards to be presented on the 20th of May. At this date plans are being formulated to award dolls dressed in the costumes of many of the United Nations to the younger contestants, and suitable cash prizes for the older entrants. The dolls will be one view at the Golden State Auditorium.

Other events on the PTA calendar will be announced next week. Members of the committee are Mr. Clark Cosgrove, Mrs. Berry Haynes, Mrs. Ira Pulliam, Mrs. Hazel Moore, Mrs. Ruby Wiggins, Mrs. Towns, Mrs. Alice Lynch and Mr. Richard Bernard. Mrs. S. T. Johnson, Mrs. Glover can also be contacted for additional information about the PTA's current spring activity program. A special souvenir program will be presented at the award ceremonies, with all the PTA sponsors' names listed. PTA members will contact parents and patrons who are interested in becoming PTA sponsors.

THE THIRD SIDE

By Harris M. Ring

The last time Harry Truman lowered the boom it was on a music critic. This time it was on someone who wanted to call the tune.

What was the reaction to the ouster? The man-in-the-street stood on the corner avidly reading the paper—the paper open to the race track results (as usual).

One group, however, got excited. They're strangely unmoved by basic issues such as peace, high cost of living, civil rights and school board scandals—but vivisection and MacArthur, watch out! Going to the dogs, as it were.

At this writing, San Francisco and New York, among others, have promised Dugout Doug a ticker-tape welcome, which is in line with his forthcoming vice-presidency with Remington-Rand.

A shower of ticker tape will be a pleasant contrast to Mac's favorite shower: jellied gasoline fire bombs.

Mac has been offered several other jobs, too. He could always become a moderator on a TV political affairs forum and call it MacArthur's Round Table.

And NBC could give him a 30-year contract which will carry him through his 101st birthday, at least.

Oh, well, that makes two living ex-emperors of Japan.

I predict (just call me Drew) in 1952 a showdown between East and West: MacArthur versus Eisenhower for the presidency, that is.

The hat versus the jacket and a clothes race at that.

An all-brass election: brass bands, brass hats, brass knuckles.

Getting back to 1951. Mac and Harry: you pays your money and you takes your choice: the man on the white horse or the man in the white house.

Slogan: Bring the boys home with MacArthur!

FEES

Ode at the first of the month
I think that I sall never see
A payment lowly as a fee.
A fee whose whole amount is wrest
From cash so neatly folded in my vest.
A fee that's due this very day
And I'm afraid that it ain't hay.
A fee that did last summer seem
Oh so easy to redeem.
Upon whose payment I complain
Because my bankroll feels the strain.
Sums are paid by folks like me
But only Doc can make a fee.

In Paris a football referee tossed a coin in the air to start the game as the two team captains watched. The coin fell into the open mouth of one of the captains and was swallowed. An emergency operation was necessary to save his life. Incidentally, what is the penalty in football for kicking off before the game starts.

I'll just start off saying that one of the most wonderful girls you should meet if you haven't met her as yet is Miss Claire Silvester. . . . Ole Jody Clark ain't foolin' anybody. She wants Selvin back. . . . Saw Audrey Springs and D. M. Sunday nite, speedin in that 1951 Central Avenue No. 3 bus. . . . Carol Wright says that she's out for a man, any kind of a man. Ages from 8-20. He can be blind, crippled, bald, bowlegged, lame, etc. She'll love him just the same. . . . St. Odelia's chi-rho club went ice skatin last Friday. Oh'" but they had a scrumptous time. . . . Know somethin, I do believe that the community's favorite priest is Father Filey. He's really a straight Kat. Just about all the kids are crazy about him, in spite of his practical jokes. . . . Wonder who Beverly Guano's takin to the prom?????. . . . Her prospects are probably J. S. or C. Y. . . . Ole Opal Wright really must have worked on Julian Smith. She's sportin his beautiful blue saphire ring. Now, ain't that a blip?????. . . . Seemingly the most popular little gal at Conaty is Miss Joan Southern. She's really Miss Personality Plus. . . . I'm beginning to think that something's gonna pop between Phyllis Gray and Harold Burbank. . . . The perfect example of marriage happiness is Mr. and Mrs. A. Lindscomb. If you know them, I'm sure you'll agree.

Girls"", me included, let's try to wear clothes which are just a little more feminine. Lately the fad has been Levis, they're OK for picnics, or work but not for street wear.

Last Rites For Rev. James A. Bell, Friday

Rev. James A. Bell Sr., chaplain of the International Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and pioneer citizen of Los Angeles, died at the Temple Hospital here Tuesday morning, April 17, after a lingering period of ill health.

His funeral will be held at the Trinity Baptist Church, 3421 S. Cimarron St., Friday, April 20, at 1:00 p.m., with his pastor, Dr. Jonathan L. Gaston, officiating.

Rev. Bell was a member of the Los Angeles local of the International Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and the senior member of the executive board of the International. He served on the executive board of the Los Angeles Division and was a member of the Retired Porters Benefit Association. He entered the Pullman service in July 1907 and was retired in August 1938 after serving thirty-one years.

He will be best remembered for his association with the late and venerable Bill Holland in their fight against the Employee Representation Plan by which the Pullman company sougt toh obstruct the unionization of its porters.

Coming to Los Angeles in 1923, he was one of the pioneer Pullman porters who risked his job to support A. Phillip Randolph and his associates in the fight for the emancipation of Negro labor.

For twenty-eight years he was a member of the Second Baptist Church, helping to build the present edifice and to pay for it. Until December 1950, when he transferred his membership to the Trinity Baptist Church, he was a familiar figure in the pulpit of the Second Baptist Church.

He is the father of James Bell Jr. and Mrs. Edith Bell-Bailey, both of this city. He was married to Aurelia Oby-Bell after the passing of his first wife, Mrs. Ouida Bell, who preceded him in death after thirty-seven years of married life. They lived at 3664 S. 4th Avenue.

B'nai B'rith For FEPC

Legislation calling for a California Fair Employment Practices Commission was approved al Office of the Anti-Defamation by the Pacific Southwest Region-League of B'nai B'rith, Harry Graham Balter, chairman of the regional civil rights committee, said.

Assembly Bill 25, outlawing discrimination on account of race in the field of automobile insurance, and 1756, making illegal discrimination in admission to private, business, vocational and professional schools or colleges, were also approved by the League's Regional Executive Committee, with the recommendation that the words "color, creed or national origin" be added to the prohibition.

In addition, a vigorous resolution opposing the Winstead amendment to the Federal Armed Services Bill to permit segregation in the armed forces was also adopted.

No Discrimination In Spain, Says John Hale

MADRID—Special—There is a small colony of American Negroes living here in Madrid who have found that in Spain color is no barrier to acceptance in society and business.

"In Spain it is not a question of tolerance for the Negro but a complete lack of distinction between white and Negro. The color of your skin just doesn't make any difference to a Spaniard," John Barber Hale, a Negro music composer formerly of Atlanta, said.

Mr. Hale said he has been living in Spain since 1945. He is married to a pretty senorita and they have two children.

"From Washington south," he said, "Negroes, as you know, must eat in separate restaurants, travel in separate sections of trains and buses," he said speaking of the United States. "Here you can see I can enter any hotel or travel in any train without anyone objecting."

"Of course," Mr. Hale said, "I get lonesome for the United States and I expect to return home soon with my family. But I don't know yet whether we will live in the United States permanently. I don't want my children to suffer from the same sort of discrimination to which I have so often been subjected in the United States."

There are a number of other American Negroes who have found Spain a haven of non-discrimination and tolerance, Mr. Hale explained. He believed that about 25 were living in the provinces.

Red Cross—SOS

The American Red Cross, which has brought so much comfort and assistance to millions in time of disaster, is itself in distress, according to Mrs. Vanilla Strickland, East Side Red Cross fund chairman.

Commenting on the failure of the Los Angeles area residents to support the present Red Cross campaign, the chairman warned that the mercy organization "may be forced to refuse financial aid to GI hardship cases, and even turn its back on requests for life-saving whole blood and plasma."

Earlier this week, Los Angeles Campaign Chief Earle M. Jorgensen said that this year's Red Cross fund goal cannot afford "to be one dime short of its mark." As in other war years, he said, there is no "cushion" set up in these goals, and "every penny" has to be collected.

Jorgensen urged house-to-house canvassers in the field to "adequately cover assigned territories and give all residents of this area the opportunity to back the Red Cross fund campaign."

Jefferson PTA

"Know Your School" is the central theme around which Jefferson High School welcomes each and every parent and patron in the community to the annual Open House Night during forthcoming Public Schools Week. The Open House will be held on Wednesday night, April 25, from 7:00 to 9:30 P.M. and will be sponsored by the joint auspices of the Jefferson High Day School under the principalship of Arthur N. Farnham, and the Jefferson Evening High School under the principalship of Robert Presley.

Particular emphasis is being made on the program to get all in the community who have never visited Jefferson, despite their proximity to the school, to visit the plant and inspect the educational program which has been in operation for the youth of this community. To know your school is to see it, to talk to the administrators of the school, to understand the educational aims and objectives of the curriculum, and to talk with the teaching personnel who guide the academic careers of so many young boys and girls.

An opportunity to see and do all this will be provided on Open House Night. The Library will show the work of the English and Social Studies Departments, The cafeteria will host the work of the Art, Business, Science, Mathematics departments. The shops and the gymnasiums will be open to all for inspection of these branches of the total curriculum. Every teacher will be on hand to personally speak and listen to the parents who wish to inquire about their children or the school in general. The conference and inspection period will be from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

From 8:30 to 9:30 an enjoyable, continuous music and fashion, style show program will be in progress in the school auditorium. The Evening and Day schools are presenting talented students in these programs. For further details of Open House call ADams 19144.

PROF. HERMAN

TO ASSIST YOU IN [illegible] THROUGH THIS PERPLEXING

ARIES
March 21-April 20

If you were born under the sign of Aries, it is the first sign of the zodiacal circle. It is a positive and masculine sign and bestows upon its subjects many strong characteristics.

The personality of the Aries natives is as a rule very pleasing and the manner breezy, ardent and cheerful. They are highly enthusiastic and full of zeal where new plans are concerned but when forced to do routine work they soon lose interest and become irritable and difficult to deal with. They are generous and loyal to their friends. Are fond of company, music and dancing and are nearly always the center of attraction in their own sphere for they are just as ardent in their amusement as they are in the important affairs of life.

It is necessary to their happiness in marriage that their partner be on the same mental and spiritual level as they. For oftimes marriages are made in haste. . . . as they are impulsive, falling in love at sight. It would be wise to practice restraint and self-control.

DEAR PROF. HERMAN:

I feel you can help me with this problem . . . I've just about reached my wits end. My son has made me a nervous wreck and I believe I can find relief through your assistance if I can write you and explain the matter in full detail. Please tell me how I may contact you. M.M.

ANS. Concentrating upon your question, I am of the opinion I may be able to help you find peace of mind and contentment in your home again. If you will write to me in care of this paper, I shall be happy to assist you in any way I can. Questions are answered, 3 for 25c 6 for 50c. etc.

J.J. What does the future hold for me?

ANS. After giving you question careful thought I find that you are debating upon what college you should attend next fall. Your friends are planning to go to Howard, but you have previously considered Ohio State and Wilberforce. You must take into consideration just what these colleges have to offer and whether their curriculum coincides with your future plans, then make your decision. Otherwise you might be wasting your time and money.

WORRIED. Will his luck change soon?

ANS. My Psycho - Mentalist Crystal reveals the fact that your husband was laid off his job sometime ago and you are wondering if he will be called back soon. At this time, nothing definite seems to be forthcoming in that direction, therefore may I suggest that he file several applications for employment elsewhere.

☆ THE SIDEWALK ☆

BY C. A. B.

There comes a time in the life of every man and woman when—because of advancing years—one's activities must take a different turn.

After more than 40 years in which I have tried to serve my people and my country—as a good neighbor, as an editor, and as a fighter for Negro liberation—I feel that I must now take time out to regain my health, to learn more about what is going on in the world and what it means for my people, and to decide how I can be most useful in the years ahead.

For these reasons, and for the very practical one of the impossibility of personally financing the California Eagle any longer, I am compelled to sell the paper. It is the hardest thing I have ever had to do in my life.

In the best of times it is extremely difficult to maintain a progressive paper, or any publication which is dedicated rather to serving the people than to getting the owners rich quick. Even my friends and readers cannot know how difficult the task has been.

For several years the liberal and progressive forces in the community have generously assisted me in financing the publication of the Eagle. As every reader of course realizes, a people's paper is rarely a profit-making venture. But the demands these days on the liberal forces in the community are so great—what with need for large sums of money to fight for the lives of the Willie McGees, for FEP, for the victims of loyalty oaths, for those threatened with deportation—that there simply is not enough money to meet every need, no matter how worthy. Consequently, though my friends desperately want to help me continue publishing a

Abe I. Levy, Chief of the Litigation Section here, announced that seven of the actions resulted in monetary judgments, while three suits were settled before trial. Tenants were awarded refunds amounting to $11,[illegible] while the United States Treasury received $3,031.25.

Harry W. Aiken, 903 South Sixth Drive, Beverly Hills, and Sir James, Inc., were assessed damages of $3,641.65 by Judge William M. Byrne as result of charging and receiving 11 increases and overceiling rents at the Victor Mar apartments, 406 South Rampart Boulevard [illegible]

Although the rent control acts of 1947 and 1948 permitted leases for 15 percent boosts, the Court ruled that because a bonus was included in the transaction, the increases provided for in 11 cases were invalid and Judge Byrne ordered restitution of the cases together with the bonuses and other illegal charges. Richard G. Solof, OHE trial attorney, said 31 tenants will share in the award.

"The only real support that I have had during the five years my husband, Willie McGee, has been in prison came from the Civil Rights Congress. Yes, other organizations have raised money, I am told, but none of it got to me.

"The day before Christmas I had two pennies, and four children with the same desires and yearning for toys and the goodies that all children crave at Christmas time," declared 29-year old Rosalee McGee, in Los Angeles this week.

The attractive little brown lady tells her story in a matter-of-fact way. There is no semblance of emotion, or attempt at drama. Not even when she relates how on the last occasion she was privileged to visit her husband, the jailer asked her if she had ever seen an electric chair.

She answered, "No, sir."

Then he, the jailer, commanded one of the orderlies to take her downstairs and show her the chair. She was conducted to the basemen, placed in the chair, the hood put over her face, and after a brief spell removed. But not until she had been advised that, "If you keep on writing and going to New York, telling those people about us, this is what you will get. You know it is what your brother got."

"Were you frightened?" Mrs. McGee was asked.

"No!" she answered calmly. After he removed the cap from my face, I asked, 'Now, can I see my husband?'"

Her request was granted.

"Did you tell your husband about this experience?"

"Yes."

"Mrs. McGee, when did you first learn about your husband's relationship with the white woman in this case — Mrs. Hawkins — who accused him of 'rape'?"

"It was one evening when my husband and I were walking along a street. I had hold of his

Wife's Friend Sues Husband For $25,000

Theodore Gray, 632 East 42nd Street, was scheduled to appear in the courtroom of Superior Judge W. Turney Fox today (Thursday) to defend the $25,000 damage suit for assault and battery brought by Orville Phoenix, laborer.

According to the complaint, Phoenix alleges that on August 6, 1950, Gray violently and unlawfully assaulted the plaintiff and did wilfully and wrongfully shoot at the plaintiff and strike him about the head with a gun.

In his answer, filed by Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr., Gray alleged that at the time of the alleged assault Phoenix was carrying on a romance with

Monroe Perry Diggs, Killed in Brawl Over Racing Sheet

Monroe Perry Diggs, 31 years old of 1167½ East 46th Street, was allegedly stabbed to death on April 21, 1951 by Henry Nelson at 163½ West 41st Place.

The widow of the murdered victim is Catherine Diggs. Witnessing the slaying were Caldonia Woods, J. B. Brown, Clinton Robertson, Chester Howard, Roy Sonny Howard and Murray Johnson, who told the police that they saw the suspect plunge a five inch knife blade into the victim's chest during an argument over a racing scratch sheet.

Local Surgeon Attending Medical Meet

Dr. Wells Forde, local surgeon, planed to St. Louis over the week end to attend the 6th annual alumni convention now convening at the Homer Phillips Hospital in St. Louis.

Dr. Forde served five years as resident surgeon at Homer Phillips Hospital in St. Louis, and later came to Los Angeles and was appointed the first Negro surgeon on the staff of the Queen of Angeles Hospital.

The medical meeting, which is said to surpass all previous ones, will culminate this week.

Hazel Scott Plans Novel Program, May 6

Hazel Scott brings a new type piano concert to Los Angeles when she appears at the Philharmonic Auditorium Sunday May 6, 1951 at 2:30 p.m. under the auspices of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority. Her program is a fascinating combination of classics and syncopation.

Noted Visitor Expected

Members of the local Postal Alliance are making elaborate preparations for a visit from their chief, National President Ashley Carter, of Chicago, who is expected to pay Los Angeles a visit come May 11.

Mr. Carter is president of the Postal Alliance, an organization with 18 branches stretching over the nation with a membership of 150,000.

This separate branch of the Postal Alliance was organized to combat discrimination against Negroes in the Postal Service.

Appreciation

I would be remiss, as a worker myself, if I did not express my heartfelt thanks and appreciation to the compositors and makeup men—yes, and to the "printer's devils"—who have done the mechanical work on THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE for two score years.

And to George Parker and the rest of the "front office" of the Compton Printing Co. also goes my appreciation for their cooperation.

We have worked together as a team for many, many issues of the paper. We have had our disagreements—but we always got the paper out!

Thanks—goodbye—and God bless you all.

Mrs. McGee Tells Story Of Pursuit By White Woman

arm. A car drove up, and Mrs. Hawkins was in it. She jumped out and ran up to us, and tried to grab his arm. That night we sat on the steps in front of our house, and he told me the whole story. — I told him I was leaving him. — I did leave, but I came back. — I could not understand at first. My husband tried to make me understand the helplessness of his situation — I could only understand my own hurt."

The trouble was forced out in the open when Troy Hawkins, husband of Wilametta Hawkins, beat her almost to death. She shouted "rape" as per Southern custom. The mob formed, went a distance of thirty miles where Willie McGee was at work, beat him, tortured him, and placed him in prison.

And this marked the starting point of Willie McGee's incarceration, inhuman punishment, and death sentence by a Mississippi court upheld by the United States Supreme Court.

And time marches on for the life of Willie McGee, still behind bars in this Mississippi prison. And denied since last July 12th permission to see his wife, mother, or his children.

But Mrs. Bessie McGee, mother of Willie, and Rosalee, his wife, seem to think that justice can be found somewhere, and some day it will assert itself even in Mississippi, and Willie McGee will be set free.

So as they say with the strong support of the Civil Rights Congress, they take their case to the people of the United States. They tell the truth about the McGee affair. — Tell how a woman who happened to be white became enamoured, and refused to control her passion for the dark man. She pursued him on the job, on the streets, in the company of his wife.

Finally her scandalous pursuit of her dark lover reached the ears of the town folk in Laurel, Miss., where they lived. Willie escaped to California, but failing to get his wife to join him, returned to their home.

Rosalee, who visited Los Angeles this week, is the mother of four children, the oldest twelve years and the youngest nine. She was married to Willie McGee at the age of thirteen years.

"I understand now fully the meaning of white supremacy," says Mrs. McGee, "and above all what it means if a white woman in the South wants a Negro man for herself. She doesn't care if he has a wife and children. And if and when he does not do what she wants him to do, she cries out 'rape,' and the mob, the lynchers, act."

Mrs. McGee told too, how her life is in danger. She said a Negro tapped her on the shoulder one time, and told her he had been offered $500 to kill her. He refused.

That is the story of this woman of the South, and of her husband standing in fear of imminent death. The story of Willie McGee.

This McGee case invites the scrutiny of the pulpit and press.

The conscience of America should and must be awakened to its duty at home before it goes away out seven thousand miles across the Pacific to defend the freedom of the South Koreans against "Red" Chinese aggression.

● Black Dispatch

the testimony in this case know that Congressman Lanham had attacked Mr. Patterson and called him a liar before the civil rights official responded in kind and certainly someone should advise Congressman Lanham that no sort of gentleman, tho he come from the ends of the earth, would allow himself to stoop to such low, vile and vulgar billingsgate.

Everyone grows angry at times, but a well-bred man of fine feelings and refinement would have sufficient cultured reserve to hold him from gutter language on any and all occasions. If Congressman Lanham is regarded as a gentleman in Georgia, the low and vulgar standard of the masses is conceivable. If Lanham is well-born, the rest of the inhabitants of his state are hell gone.

But getting back to Secretary Patterson. He's on trial. He would not have been cited for contempt if he had bowed his head and have said "The time is not ripe to speak out in court." He did so, and because he did measure his spirit of manhood against the "southern gentleman" who could not take what he gave, he is today in the dock where Lanham should be.

William L. Patterson needs money to fight for his freedom and it is up to every Negro in this country to supply the funds with which to contend for justice and fair play. We have just mailed our check to the Patterson Defense Committee in the sum of $10. In a certain measure we have twice prior to this moment been placed in a similar position as Secretary Patterson and we know something of the assault that was made upon his manhood. We do not know that we would have followed the same path down which he trod in his defense, but who is to tell a man how to fight when the other fellow has hold of him?

These lines are written with the hope that as Black Dispatch readers learn of the plight of William L. Patterson at this moment they will sit down and write their check in as large amount as possible and send it immediately to the Patterson Defense Committee, 23 West 26th Street, New York 10, N. Y.

As you write your check contemplate upon this question: "What right has a Georgia "gentleman" to call a helpless Negro witness a liar that should not be granted to the black witness?" What America needs is more William L. Pattersons who will speak in turn ,and sometimes out of turn, when bullies step on their neck.

● Hazel Scott

Scott's contrasting styles is indicated in the widespread response to her third transcontinental tour of the United States and Canada, now under way, and in the record-breaking sale of her recordings. Miss Scott is playing before capacity audiences in every city in her tour. Old fans await her all along the line; a new public is also there, created by her records, her motion pictures and her own television show.

The first part of Miss Scott's program is devoted to her own composition, "Freedom Suite," and the classics of Chopin, Bach-Busoni, and Dvorak. The last half of the program will embrace Miss Scott's modern or popular music including the celebrated "Boogie Woogie."

One of the amazing features of the planism of Hazel Scott is her extraordinary use of her left hand. Audiences are completely fascinated with the drive and power of the left hand. Actually the left hand carries the basic rhythm in boogie-woogie according to its most celebrated female exponent. In classical music development of rhythm and harmony are divided more or less equally between both hands. In boogie-woogie the left hand not only carries the rhythm but is also delegated the role of carrying dynamic and chordal expression while the right hand accompanies the fast moving runs which are so much a part of this style.

Hundreds have been turned away from this lectrue and film in Chicago, Detroit, Indianapolis, and in other places in the East. The L. A. An offering will be taken.

Other California appointments for the Mackeys are as follows: May 6, San Diego; May 9, Riverside; May 12, Stockton; and May 13, Oakland.

Selective Service College Test

Young men who are contemplating taking the Selective Service College Qualification test—scores of which, or class standing standards, will be used by Local Boards in considering student deferments—may obtain application blanks from the Local Board most convenient; they do not have to return home to the Local Board which has jurisdiction over them.

National headquarters of Selective Service made the statement today in emphasizing that applications should be sent to Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey, as soon as possible, as the date of the first examinations (May 26) is only 5 weeks away and the clerical task of assigning applicants to examination centers and date which they will take the test is a tremendous one.

Jim Crow—Red Hot Book

Jim Crow: Co-Author, James S. Hadley, executive Director, Tampa Urban League, is just off the press.

This is the red-hottest book written south of the Mason and Dixon Line and it is predicted that this book already is banned in Atlanta, Birmingham, Mobile, Tallahassee, Orlando, Jacksonville and Greensboro.

Nevertheless, "Jim Crow" has been enthusiastically previewed by such groups as the Southern Patriot, the National Urban League, the NAACP and numerous interracial committees and civic organizations and by persons as Jackie Robinson, Hazel Scott, Buddy Young and others.

The authors are discussing a 300-year conflict with only one purpose in mind: that is to write for considerate and intelligent reflection upon the situation we live with every day and about which we are in a so-called dilemma.

Gruble, 1130 Alpine street, a rooming house operator at that address, for overcharging 16 tenants.

A mother-in-law was held responsible for overcharging a tenant and her son-in-law was cleared as the court ordered restitution of $932 to James Kenegos, 518 North Rosemont Avenue, who paid $100 per month for a dwelling when the legal ceiling was only $32.50.

It all happened when the son-in-law, Clinton Bacastow, was transferred to Clevland, Ohio, and was forced to move out of a home he was buying and his mother-in-law Mrs. Madeline W. Kagey, now of Chestertown, Md., agreed to move in and continue the payments. She later moved and rented the home to Bacastow and retained the rentals for her own use.

Officer Stewart in the group and a former foot officer on the beat of 12th and Central, after handcuffing Jesse Smith, kicked him on the shin bones. Local Firm Sends Representative To Washington

By Maurice G. Johnson

Recently, Mr. Emmer Martin Lancaster, Advisor to the Secretary of Commerce on Negro Affairs and official in charge of the 6th Annual Conference, arranged for an exhibit in which were displayed some of the services administered by Negro trade and business associations and commodities produced or distributed by business firms owned and operated by Negroes.

Photo Murals by Lorene Smythe Norton, Public Relations, Chicago, Illinois, with local office at 3840½ Crawford Street Los Angeles 11, were a part of this United States Department of Commerce 6th Annual Conference and Business Exhibit March 29, 30 and 31, 1951.

Designed to acquaint Negro businessmen, educators and business students with modern management practices and to inform them of the sources and types of governmental and non-governmental information which can be profitably utilized by small businessmen, the conference opened officially Thursday morning, March 29, 1951.

A cooperative training program in business education, sponsored jointly by industrial firms, trade associations and universities was discussed by officials of the Association of University Evening Colleges. Negro business students representing nine universities were included among the speakers at this session.

The afternoon session was devoted to a panel presentation by representatives of local and national trade associations, followed by a general discussion on the role of business organizations in the current defense program.

The role played by small business in the defense program as related to priorities, Government procurement subcontracts, price and wage controls and manpower problems were discussed by representatives of the Department of Commerce, Department of Labor, Munitions Board and the Office of Defense Mobilization.

Principal speaker Thursday evening, March 29 at the public meeting sponsored by the Conference was Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer. John F. Brierre Director, National Office of Tourism, Republic of Haiti, also delivered a principal address. Hon. Ras H. S. Imru Ambassador of Ethiopia; Hon. Gustave La Rogue Ambassador of Haiti, and the Hon. George B. Stevenson, First Secretary of the Liberian Embassy welcomed delegates to the Conference. Clarence H. Ostergen, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, greeted the delegates on behalf of the Department of Commerce.

Scores of displays of distinctive and unique business establishments owned and operated by Negroes were presented at the four and concluding session of the conference Saturday morning, March 31. Special awards for achievement in business management were presented by local and national Negro business organizations during this session.

The local office of Lorenze Smythe Norton and Associates proudly announces its Spring showing of "Community Life In Photo Mural," the only traveling business photo exhibit in existence during the 7th Annual Public Relations Recital planned by Miss Consuela Pappy. To be held at the Assistance League of Southern California Playhouse, 1367 No. St. Andrews Place June 17, the photo mural exhibit that went to Washington will be on display for a period of 30 days thereafter.

JAMES P. DAVIS, right, is shown receiving a Meritorious Service Award from Emery E. Jacobs, fieldman of the Production and Marketing Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This is the highest award bestowed by PMA of which Mr. Davis is a field representative with headquarters at Little Rock, Ark. He received it last week at the Oklahoma School of Religion for his outstanding service to Negro farmers. Mr. Davis also received an honorary degree of Doctor of Human Relations from the school.

Receive Prizes For Photography

CAMP ROBERTS, Calif.—Two officers of the 7th Armored Division here were awarded prizes in the recent Sixth Army Photography contest held at the Presidio of San Francisco. Named among the winners were first Lieutenant Richard W. Neal and Lieutenant Colonel Frederick Gaumnitz.

Lieutenant Neal with the plans and training section of the "Lucky Seventh" was awarded second prize in the color transparencies class for his entry titled "Industry." He received also a third prize for his entry "Jean" in the People and Customs classification.

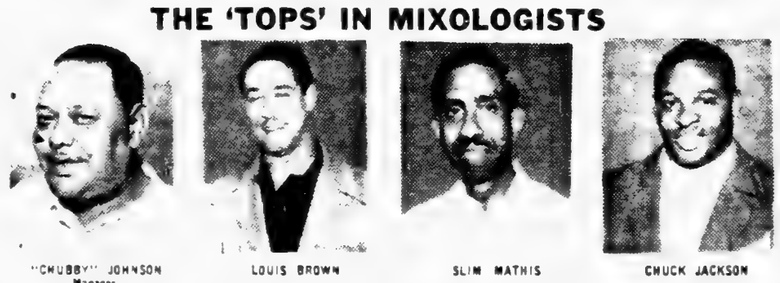
Colonel Gaumnitz, Intelligence officer for the division, received an honorable mention in the color transparencies division for his story titled "Yosemite's Christmas Card."

Winning entries in the contest will be on display in San Francisco during the month of May in connection with the San Francisco Photo Festival, and will later be sent to Washington, D.C. for judging in the 3rd Inter-Service Photography contest June 1.

Judges for the Sixth Army competition were: P. Douglas Anderson, instructor in photography, extension division, University of California; Sergeant First Class Kenneth M. Channey, chief of photographic laboratory, Gillette Pictorial Center, Presidio of San Francisco; Imogen Cunningham, commercial photographer, San Francisco; Wayne Miller of Life magazine; and Harry A. Sickles of the Photochrome Club of San Francisco.

Gasoline Prices

SAN FRANCISCO—Service station operators, garages and other retailers of gasoline are required under Ceiling Price Regulation 13 to file ceiling prices on gasoline with their District Office of Price Stabilization if they determine their ceiling prices by adding four cents to their supplier's price, or by adding to their cost the same margin used in the base period December 19, 1950 to January 25, 1951. The filing deadline is April 26.



This announcement was made by the Regional Office of Price Stabilization as a result of widespread impressions in some areas that gasoline ceiling prices should be filed with the National OPS headquarters in Washington, D. C.

No filings of any kind are to be made to the National OPS, regional officials explained. Records, receipts and the like required under OPR-13 are not to be sent to OPS offices but should be kept at the establishment's place of business and made available to OPS representatives when required, it was stated.

Supreme Court Favors Southern Police Officers

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The U.S. Supreme Court, in a key decision issued this week, ruled that the federal government cannot try Southern state officers who conspire to deprive Negro citizens of their rights to a fair trial as guaranteed by the 14th Amendment to the Constitution.

The government can only prosecute, the court ruled, those state officials who actually deprive citizens of their rights. The conspiracy charge carries a 10-year sentence, while actual deprivation rates no more than a year in jail.

The decision, which was condemned by Negro and progressive white organizations, was called "a federal government signal to every Southern and racist police force in the country to go as far as it likes with the campaign of terror and brutality against Negro citizens" by William L. Patterson, Negro leader of the Civil Rights Congress.

"The Negro does not have the protection of the Federal Constitution, nor of any state constitution or city ordinance", Patterson, CRC Executive Secretary, declared.

"We must call upon the churches of America to declare a holy crusade against the growing use of the courts against the interests of the Negro people. Negro America can no longer live under these conditions."

The Supreme Court's ruling came in a case involving five Florida special and regular policemen who wrung confessions from four Negroes over a period of three days.

The court noted that the police officers "beat, threatened, and unmercifully punished the Negroes; using a rubber hose, a pistol, a blunt instrument and other instruments."

Will of Mrs. Ida Aldridge Contested

LOS ANGELES, (NPB)—A bill of exceptions was filed here last week to the final account, report and petition in the distribution of the provisions of a will left by the late Mrs. Ida Aldridge naming her daughter, Mrs. Violet Mae Aldridge Thomas as executrix. Objections to the manner of distribution of the money and property were filed through the law office of Atty. H. Leonard Richardsen on behalf of another heir, Aubrey C. Aldridge, son of Mrs. Aldridge.

The will left most of the estate of the late William Cooper of Conroy, Texas and other valuable property here to the son and daughter of the late Mrs. Aldridge. The daughter was named executrix of the estate valued in the neighborhood of $45,000, including rents and royalties from oil lands.

Mrs. Aldridge Thomas accounted for $22,000 and sought credits for nearly $5,000 she listed as expenditures which were to be taken from the bulk of the estate. Aubrey Aldridge, principal of an elementary school in Phoenix, Ariz., objected to this phase in the equitable distribution of the estate. He contended in the exceptions drawn up by Atty. Richardson that the burden of taking care of the taxes and other expenses were inequitably borne by him.

Under the manner of which his sister sought to have the estate administrated, Aldridge contended as objector, that his share of the estate would amount to little more than one fourth of the estate. The revised proration of expenditures, would net him half of the estate, which Aldridge contended he was entitled to receive.

"Labor In A White Skin Cannot Be Free While Labor In A Black Skin Is Branded"

"Labor in a white skin cannot be free while labor in a black skin is branded."

This is the message that will soon be brought to Los Angeles by Pettis Perry, national secretary of the Negro Commission of the Communist Party of America.

Perry, a native of Alabama, came to California during the great depression and joined the Communist Party during the fight for the lives of the Scottsboro nine.

Since then, he has devoted his life to the struggle for Negro rights.

His first memory of oppression of his people was the flogging of a Negro worker on a road gang, which he witnessed when he was ten years old.

A year later, he saw the brutal murder of a Negro for his refusal to address a white teenager as "Mister."

When he was asked recently about Labor's recognition of the Negro people as a decisive ally during this period, Perry said:

"The labor movement does not understand yet that the Negro people is the most decisive ally of labor.

"If they understood this correctly there would be a more courageous fight on the part of labor against the present day policies of monopoly capitalism and their offensive against the American people."

When asked about NAACP Perry said:

"The NAACP merits all the support that the entire progressive movement can give it, and that includes members of the Communist Party. No one should confuse the present day role of Walter White with that of the program of the membership of NAACP."

Asked why the Negro people should support the defense of the Communists on trial, he said:

"The Negro people themselves realize that if the ereactionary forces succeed in outlawing the Communist Party, the Negro people would undoubtedly suffer the same fate as the Jewish people under Hitler. . . .

"The Communist Party is the most consistent champion for the rights of the Negro people. There is no organization in America that has a program of complete liberation for Negro people except the Communist party."

CONGRATULATIONS—

40 YEARS OF SERVICE

APPRECIATION AND GRATITUDE

The citizens of Metropolitan Los Angeles and the Far West owe a debt of gratitude and thanks to Mrs. Charlotta Bass, dean of the Pacific coast newspapers editors, for her able and sincere leadership that she has untiringly given during the forty years taht she has served as editor of the California Eagle.

As one studies the history of Southern California, it is evident that it has been during the past 25 years that the racial group represented by the Eagle has made its most significant economic, sociological, political, and other phases of materail progress. At the time Mrs. Bass took over the Eagle, the State of California, with the possible exception of San Francisco and Oakland with their small racial populations, was a typical "border state," influenced unduly by the vocal Caucasian settlers from the South. The result was that the daily press was insulting, hotels, eating places refused the group and even some department stores reluctantly waited upon non-Caucasians.

In the work of eradicating these vicious, undemocratic practices wherever they appeared, Mrs. Bass and her husband, the late J. B. Bass, were always in the forefront leading out to improve conditions for the Race and to make California a truly democratic place in which all Americans could live happily regardless of their race, color or creed.

Recent residents of the West who are enjoying the benefits of the present, should remember that it has been the persistent knocking and pushing at closed doors of opportunity on the part of these courageous individuals and others associated with them which have resulted in having these doors open today.

Those who have known Mrs. Bass through the years have always admired her for her sincerity of purpose, her devotion to right as she saw it, her espousal of the cause of the "little" man, her interest in and the encouragement of young people, her high regard and respect for the intrinsic worth of religion and its importance in the life of the community, and an idealism which she has never lost sight of and has ever held before herself and others to strive to attain.

As the new management of the Eagle takes up its responsibilities, it is hoped by many that Mrs. Bass will be kept as a regular columnist of this venerable newspaper so as to preserve many of its notable traditions. And who better than Mrs. Bass could serve as the connecting link to bind the glorious achievements of the past with the triumphs of the future?

OWEN A. TROY,
Minister and Western Denominational Representative of the Seventh-Day Adventists.

progressive California Eagle, they are prevented from doing so.

Unfortunately, too, a disturbing number of former liberals—many of them well-to-do—who, in the past, proclaimed themselves friends of the Negro people and fighters for peace, have apparently decided it is much more convenient these days not to evidence such sympathies. They are not to be heard from. They will, of course, find that the path which they have chosen will not bring them security.

For many years the reactionary forces in this community have tried to crush me and the California Eagle. They have even gone so far as to try to take my building away from me. They have tried all sorts of tricks to win control of the newspaper. Among them, I regret to say, are some of my own people whom I have personally helped over the years to become successes in business, in the professions, and in political office. They have joined forces with the enemy of their own people and the enemy of democracy. Their fate is not difficult to foretell.

They could have served their people and their country much better by helping to strengthen the California Eagle instead of trying to destroy it. For they know how indispensable is a newspaper that speaks for the people. They know how important it is, in order to win the fight for first-class citizenship, that the people must be helped to educate themselves, to understand their own power and their role in the fight for democracy. And they know how vital a people's newspaper is in the achievement of such a task. They know, too, of course, how much more difficult the task is without such a newspaper. Yet despite this, they willingly take the orders of their people's enemies to help retard the fight for Negro liberation.

They must know that the safety and the future of the Negro people, as of all minority groups, rest with democracy. Only to the degree that Americans can achieve a working democratic system will the Negro people be safe, and only to that degree will they be enabled to enjoy the dignity and rewards of full citizenship and manhood. Yet despite this, they have chosen to ensure (so they think) their own petty conveniences, their own driblets of recognition from their people's masters, rather than to join in the fight for their people's welfare.

Surely the long and bitter history of the Negro people in America should teach them that the road they have chosen is neither the road toward the advancement of full citizenship for their people nor the road towards ensuring a personally honorable life for themselves. What has been the fate of all the Uncle Toms in history? More recently, what was the fate of those Jewish leaders in Germany who sold out their people to the Nazis?

How do they feel now in the ranks of those who electrocuted the Martinsville Seven, of those who court-martialed the Negro soldiers, of those who would destroy the colored peoples' liberation movements all over the world, of those who persecute us daily and keep us and our children from living our lives in dignity and security? How, for example, does a Ralph Bunche feel who does not find it possible to speak up in defense of Paul Robeson and Dr. DuBois?

The attacks on the California Eagle and on me personally are, of course, but a reflection of what is going on throughout the nation. The would-be American fascists find it essential to do everything within their power to prevent the continued existence of a free press—of a press that prefers to uphold democratic principles rather than to join in subverting them, as practically the entire metropolitan press in the United States is doing today. The American fascists want and need thought control in order to enable them to fasten a police state upon the country. Therefore, they threaten the continued existence of all newspapers which tell the people the truth.

But, all through the years,—despite much disillusionment and despite the betrayals of those who should assist in the fight for Negro liberation—I have gotten my greatest inspiration and encouragement from my people, from the working people, who are the true heroes of today. It is from their dignity and the ceaseless courage with which they have met, and continue to meet, the daily problems of existence that I have drawn the strength to carry on my fight. Whether it was a fight for FEP, or against restrictive covenants, or the freedom of a Lieut. Gilbert, always in the front ranks have been the common people, the working people, my people.

In every phase of the struggle for democracy today, throughout the nation, it is my people who are providing much of the leadership. And that in a real sense is my reward for years of struggle. Whether it be in the Pogressive Party or in the trade unions or in the peace movements, Negoes are providing leadership. Even in the ranks of the non-Negro progressives where do you find men and women of the stature of Paul Robeson or Dr. DuBois, or Joe Johnson and Claudia Jones and Lena Horne?

These are new pioneers like those heroic leaders of that early period when the nation was divided on the question of slavery, there came forward a Sojourner Truth, Harriet Tubman, and Frederick Douglass, organized a people's movement and fought for their own and the freedom of the nation from the scourge of slavery.

Joined with these heroes in the fight for the realization of all the great promises of American democracy are the better Americans, the fighters in the ranks of the Progressive Party, the International Workers Order, the Civil Rights Congress, Marine Cooks and Stewards Union, th United Electical Workers Union, and the other people's movements in th nation. They are the inheritors of the tr dition of Valley Forge, of Tom Jefferso of Abe Lincoln, of Franklin Roosevelt. It they who are demonstrating daily th courage and genius which the bette Americans have always shown. And it they who are the guarantee that th fascists will not win.

The future is with them. And I am o their side. It has been a good life that have had, though a very hard one, but know the future will be even better. An as I think back I know it is the only kind c life worth living, for it is only in servin one's fellowman that one serves himse best. I would not have it any other way.

And so, after a rest, I will be back an take up my place again in the never ending fight. I won't "fade away." I hav many plans. And one of the most impor tant will be to assist with every ounce o my strength in the building of that unit of Negro and white Americans withou which our country cannot be safe an without which no one of us can be free.

I am very confident that within my life time yet I will see first-class citizenship achieved for all my people, true democracy for all Americans, and peace in al the world!

PROGRESSIVE PARTY RUSHES POWERFUL PEACE PROGRAM

Major resolutions urging [illegible] the signature of others on the ban in the community.

2. Progressive Party organizations should immediately contact all public officials to secure official resolutions addressed to the President for intervention.

3. Progressive Party members should contact local officials of all groups for similar wires.

We call upon the Kefauver Committee to investigate the events surrounding the arrest and trials of Willie McGee as an example of that lawlessness of law enforcement which increasingly characterizes the treatment of the Negro people despite Presidential Committees on Civil Rights and the oft-repeated promises of both Republican and Democratic Parties to right the most glaring evil of our body politic."

Peace and Political Action:

After a full discussion of a report by the National Secretary the role of the Progressive Party was characterized as playing a "twin role in the fight for peace." The national report urged that independent activity be carried out to build the Progressive Party as the leading political expression of the peace forces, and also to enlist the active cooperation and parallel action for peace on the part of wider and wider groups.

Vito Marcantonia in a major address to the meeting pointed out that in the ensuing debate over the dismissal of MacArthur, the Progressive Party would have to combat the tendencies to create further illusions in President Truman and the Democratic Party as advocates of peace. It was the unanimous feeling of the delegates that only the building of strong independent political action would give an adequate expression to the rising peace sentiment of the American people. Great emphasis was laid in this and other discussions throughout the meeting of the absolute necessity of the Progressive Party to maintain its organizational integrity and its independent role.

A two point program was urged by the Party. (1) Demands for immediate return of troops from Korea and the establishment of peace in Korea; opposition to rearming Germany; demands for a five power conference to settle all outstanding differences standing in the way of peace. (2) An immediate peace poll to be conducted by the Progressive Party in 100 Congressional districts to secure a broad mandate for peace from the American people.

Text of the Peace resolution follows:

The dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur proves once again that our nation should never have intervened in the affairs of Korea."

The American people forced the dismissal by their insistent demand for an end to the war and the return of our men to their homes. This unpopular and wicked war, in addition to claiming 60,000 American casualties and hundreds of thousands of Koreans, robs the poor and fattens the rich, and is depriving us of our civil liberties at home.

Just as the American people forced the removal of MacArthur, so they must force the return of our troops to their homes and the return of our government to the peace policies of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

This can best be accomplished by genuine peace with China and restoring her to the family of the United Nations.

Just as Korea has proved to be a graveyard of American lives, liberties and standards of living, so will the rearming of Germany be the instrument by which the peace of the world will be totally destroyed.

We urge the American people to insist that every effort be made by our government to [illegible] agreement [illegible] 5 great powers then [illegible] America, Britain, the [illegible] Union, France and the People's Republic of China — attended by the heads of states.

This is the minimum that will guarantee peace for many generations to come.

The dismissal of MacArthur signals the hour of decision. We either plunge deeper into war or we lift our country out of the present catastrophe which we of the Progressive Party warned against last June. We said then that we should never have gone to Korea. We say now: Let's get out of Korea and let America take the leadership in cementing world peace.

The Progressive Party has consistently urged the policies the whole American people now demand. The Progressive Party is the only party that gives political voice to the people's demand for peace. It must now be obvious to everybody that both Republican and Democrats have betrayed the people. We call on all Americans to rally everywhere with us in defense of America's future. We say again: The best defense of America is peace.

DEFENSE OF DR. W. E. B. DuBOIS

The National Committee unanimously agreed that the indictments against Dr. DuBoise and his associates resulted from a determined effort by the Administration to silence all the peace forces in America. The attack centering on Dr. DuBois, the revered and outstanding Negro scholar-writer, has aroused widespread opposition from every major Negro newspaper and organization throughout the country as well as by the peace forces and cultural leaders of all shades of political opinion. Full text of the resolution and action proposals follows:

"The National Committee of the Progressive Party denounces the indictment of the great Negro leader Dr. W. E. B DuBois and his associates of the Peace Information Center as an ignominious and unrestrained attack on the basic liberties of the American people, and particularly the Negro people, and their right to speak for peace and against colonial slavery.

The indictment is a confession of fear—fear of the people, fear of their rising demand for peace, fear of peace itself. The Administration confesses that it does not dare permit this group of fighters for peace led by this world-renowned Negro leader and scholar, distinguished throughout the world for his life-long fight against colonialism and for peace, to speak for peace.

The voice of Dr. DuBois will not be silenced. It is the voice of his [illegible] ring against [illegible], 2,000 [illegible] tortation in America and throughout the world. Peace will not be silenced by indictments—for the American people, Negro and white, increasingly demand an end to the war in Korea and a return to world peace.

We in the Progressive Party pledge ourselves to carry out an unremitting fight to defeat these indictments and their repressive and warlike aims. We demand that the President and the Attorney General quash the indictments.

We urge all Progressive Party organizations to write the President at once demanding an immediate withdrawal of the indictments.

MCCarran Act and Civil Liberties

A resolution was presented for action by the Progressive Party to secure support for Congressman Sabath's bill to repeal the McCarran Act and to initiate a program of letters and telegrams to the President and the Attorney General to stop the hearings under the McCarran Act against the Communist Party, as an effort to incite hysteria. Mr. Marcantonio spoke on the significance of the McCarran Act hearings, pointing out that this was the first time in American history that an attempt had been made to prosecute an entire political party, and that the fight is not a fight on the Communist Party alone, but involves the political and democratic traditions of all Americans.

Domestic Impact of the Arms Program:

The National Committee adopted a resolution condemning the cuts in living standards imposed by the heavy arms program. The resolution included a campaign against high prices, high taxes and the wage freeze. The importance of lining up the fight for peace with the press and major issues affecting the vast majority of the American people was emphasized.

[illegible] 1952 for the Progressive Party and for a peace [illegible] summed up [illegible] national sentiment when he told the meeting that the party must continue to fight for a progressive America because of a deep faith in our people.

Baldwin concluded with the following remarks:

"If our analysis is correct the opportunity for a peace candidacy in 1952 should be greater. The profound changes that have taken place in the public mind have not yet reached a point where specific plans can be made but our actions and activities during the crucial months ahead may well determine whether or not a coalition can be formed for peace. With this in mind as our major objectives we must also resolve that under no circumstances will we allow the 1952 election campaign to begin without the people having an alternative to the war policies of the bipartisan coalition."

Armstrong Coming To the Oasis Soon

HOLLYWOOD, (NPB)—The new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film "The Strip" starring Mickey Rooney, roaring a release date with [illegible] plenty of the Louis Armstrong flavor in it. The famous Satchmo will be heard [illegible] of his best numbers in the picture.

Armstrong gives out with his jive and trumpet with such numbers as "A Kiss to Build a Dream On," "Ol' Miss," "Shadrack," and "The Saints Come Marching In." The famed Armstrong closed a successful engagement at the Tiffany Club here and is currently at the Onyx Club in San Francisco. He will return here for a return engagement at the Oasis Club on May 11.

THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE

A Call To Defend William Patterson

William Patterson, whose fame as a leader is not limited to race, nationality, or locality, enjoys the distinction of being the first Negro to be indicted by a Federal grand jury.

Mr. Patterson is executive secretary of the Civil Rights Congress, where he has performed a yeoman task, always taking every available opportunity to establish a better relationship between Negro and white workers in fields of industry, religion, politics and sociology.

Because of this sort of application to service William Patterson has to a large extent been responsible for the successful building of an organization that reaches deep into the Southern lynch terror of Negroes, and discrimination against Negroes and other minorities, insisting that the victims of such crimes be given relief in the courts of the land.

The fight for the Trenton Six, Rosa Lee Ingram, the Martinsville Seven, and Willie McGee are cases that have attracted world-wide attention and caused people in other countries to criticize the utter neglect on the part of our government in furnishing legal protection for some of its citizens.

It was the service extended to these neglected citizens by the Civil Rights Congress that ruffled such race-haters in the Congress as Representative Lanham and the Un-American Activities Committee.

On August 4, 1950, in answer to questioning, Patterson denied that CRC was a lobbying group, under the terms of the lobbying act. It was, he said, an organization whose legislative activities consisted solely of expressions by people's delegations, individually financed letters, telegrams, etc., in favor of legislation like FEPC, anti-lynch laws, and in opposition to such legislation as the McCarran Law. The principle objectives of CRC are, however, the defense of constitutional liberties and the inalienable human rights of the people from the attacks of reactionaries in and out of government.

Patterson did not refuse to turn over any CRC records which might show activities at the nation's capitol. Rather, he refused to present financial records which had no connection with lobbying but which would reveal the names, for example, of Negroes in the South who had contributed small amounts of money to the defense of McGee and other victims of legal lynching. The lives of such people, should their names become public, would be in jeopardy. "I will not become a party to any lynchings," Patterson stated.

His forthright, principled stand enraged Rep. Lanham, who, according to reporters at the scene, grew red in the face with suppressed rage, especially when Patterson presented instance after instance in his indictment of the lynch system.

After failing to disturb Patterson with interjections, Lanham, the gentleman from Georgia, screamed: "Georgia never lynched a n——r!"

Patterson looked at him in the sudden quiet. "How many Negroes have you lynched?" he asked. Lanham yelped a wordless cry of rage. "Georgia," Patterson continued, "is a lyncher state."

"You're a god-damned liar!" Lanham shouted.

Now Patterson is on trial for contempt of Congress, and Ianham is still parading around in the Congress, we imagine in good old Georgia fashion, chawing tobacco and spitting hate at Negroes.

In the case of William Patterson, CRC executive secretary and national leader of the people for the peace movement, we call upon Negro leaders to come to his support and deal a blow at threatens destruction within our borders.

Bring Our Troops Home

At a recent meeting in Chicago, 65 delegates from 20 states, representing the National Committee of the Progressive Party, called for the bringing home of our troops from Korea.

About the only purpose Korea is serving at this time is a graveyard of American lives and liberties.

We opine that few of the soldiers in Korea know why they are there, and just exactly what they are fighting for.

There is so much emotional feeling and so much excitement over the calling home of Gen. MacArthur that the people can't think intelligently, nor do they understand what is happening. They hear on one side that MacArthur is a fine general. But they don't even ask, "So what?"

They hear also that President Truman brought the General home to avert a third world war, and again they fail to ask, "How?"

So we keep on sending human cargoes to Korea, and getting in return broken bodies and shattered mentalities.

"We must protect our borders," scream the Republicans. And to this the Democrats say, "Amen."

What the people should ask is: "Just where do our borders begin and where do they end?"

If the Korean nation, or any other nation, should come to the United States and attempt to establish a border line for their country within America, we would not hesitate to order them out, as we should.

The same can be said of so-called "Red" China. We, the American people, want no part in that "Red" stuff, we say. Well, we don't have to have it.

In the opinion of this newspaper, the time when our nation should act is only when the Koreans, Chinese, Formosans, or anyone else, attempt to invade our country.

We are a free nation and we propose to remain free.

Here again, what we demand for ourselves we should grant to others.

Gen. MacArthur's idea of reviving the dead regime of Chiang Kai-shek, head of the defunct Nationalist Government in China, was said to be the signal for an all-out third world war. President Truman's dismissal of the General was a wise move, and in this act he should receive the heartiest support of the people.

And the people should pressure President Truman to bring our troops out of Korea and end this needless war.

We join with the Chicago delegation in calling for the removal of troops from Korea.

Whose Fault Is It?

The delegates to the Peace Pilgrimage in Washington, D. C., sponsored by the American Peace Crusade, visited their Congressmen while in the city where the laws of the country are made, and later reported their reactions to the appeals of the crusaders for world peace.

Nearly everyone said he wanted peace, but that we didn't know how to get it. Some members of Congress called the pleaders for peace "Communists," and would have nothing to do with them. One Congressman denied there was any great outpouring of mail for peace.

"Most of the people are concerned with high prices, high taxes, and deferment," he said. "Not peace."

Congressman Thor Tollefson, of Washington, admitted that there was a wide gap between the government and the people who want peace. He holds the people responsible for this gap, and said if the people really wanted peace they should contact their representatives and demand they enact a permanent peace.

"The people are responsible!!!"

The Congressman is correct. For in this country, under our Constitution and our form of government, we, the people, can have anything at all that we want. IF we want it badly enough to work for it. AND VOTE FOR IT!

Whose fault is it that we have this horrible war? With the threat of even a more terrible war coming?

It is OUR fault. The fault of the American people. When we think more of peace than of taxes and who wins at a bridge game, then we may have peace. But not until then.

Absentee Pensioners

The Assembly bill to cut off aid for oldsters living continuously outside of California is a step in the right direction but it doesn't go far enough. This measure provides that after an absence of one year the county granting the assistance must investigate to determine the "intent of the recipient" as to residence.

Another bill in the Senate deals with the matter more effectively. It states that "continued absence of a recipient of public assistance from the State for a period of one year or longer shall be prima facie evidence of the intent of the recipient to have changed his residence to a place outside of the State." This puts the burden of proof on the person involved, rather than on the county.

At present approximately $200,000 a month in old-age assistance is being paid to 3,000 who are not now living in California and in some instances have not been here in years. Prior to World War II an absence of even 60 days from one's home county was sufficient to cancel pension payments. Following Pearl Harbor this rule was eased so that people who were fearful of their safety could leave California and still receive aid. Then in 1948 a limitation of one year's absence was imposed by the State Board of Social Welfare only to have this rule revoked by Pension Czar Myrtle Williams in 1949.

The present move is to get back to the 1948 standard. The Senate bill, rather than the Assembly measure, should be enacted. Even the one-year limit, however, might well be cut to six months. It's all right to be generous but the possibility of abuse should be cut to the minimum.

In some cases absence from the state which pays the pension may be justifiable, as in the case of sickness. But this privilege should not be abused. Pensioners residing outside the state are depriving other more deserving people of what is due them, by using the money of the taxpayers in what in most instances is or should be illegal.

RAPHAEL KONIGSBERG

TRUMAN & MacARTHUR vs. AMERICA

Many things have been said in the news and editorial columns of the daily press about the significance of Truman's dismissal of MacArthur—that it means appeasement of China, a victory for the USSR, that it's America's darkest hour, Mac's finest hour, et cetera.

The truth is more likely to be found in the financial pages of the papers. In the Daily News, for example, that section reported:

"Dismissal of Gen. MacArthur and the resultant sound and fury, strangely enough, has failed to be converted into determined downside stock market action . . . apparently the large body of investors do not believe the dismissal means a policy of appeasement, temporary peace and a disruption in the semi-war economy. . . . The nation is committed to a five-year armament program regardless. . . ."

Since the investors who control the financial world are the same unprincipled crew who control our government and its policies, all the "sound and fury" in the press and radio, which they create, certainly was not intended to fool themselves as to the real meaning of the Truman-MacArthur issue. Clearly, then, it was intended to deceive the American people.

The truth, of course, is that regardless of Mac's dismissal, the same policies which have brought our country to the brink of economic disaster and a third world war will be continued in Asia and elsewhere. Truman himself says so. Congress says so. And General Marshal is sending American officers to Formosa to help train murderer Chiang's troops.

The ouster of Mad Mac is due in large measure to the revulsion of the American people and most of the world at his satanic war-mongering. It is due, too, to the profound competition which exists between the British and U.S. "partners" in the unholy alliance to "save Western civilization"—which is really a battle for economic domination of strategic areas. The British fearing, no doubt, that if Washington follows Mac's demand for war on China they would eventually lose all their economic interests in Hong Kong, Malaya and such places, may have told Truman and his financial overseers that if Mac's program weren't repudiated they'd pull out of the alliance.

What a revelation of the low level of democratic faith in many places that MacArthur—the man who insists on involving us in a third world war, whose arrogance and incompetence brought death to thousands of Americans and Asians, who undermines our Constitution in attempting to exert military domination of the civilian authority—is honored as the greatest hero of the day! That so many of our fellow-citizens are deceived is more ominous yet.

The acclaim for this latter-day Bonapart, inspired by the leaders of all sections of the nation, is a measure of the alarming degree to which these people have already sold out, or are ready and willing to sell out, our democratic system. If MacArthur were younger he would be their ideal Fuehrer. Despite his age, he can serve them for a long time.

Mobilize the People

What bitter irony it must be to that little man in the big White House that he should be threatened with impeachment one of the few times he does a constructive thing with his presidential powers. He knows he's done many things he could be impeached for. Like betraying the promises for peace of our victory in World War II, rebuilding Naziism in Germany, initiating a police state in the U.S.A., unconstitutionally dragging us into the Korean war, repeatedly deceiving Americans with manufactured war-scares in order to cover up the sell-out of our country's riches to America's fascists.

For none of these anti-democratic acts has he been threatened with impeachment. But when he makes a move which does support our Constitution—asserting the supremacy of the civilian authority over the mility—the Congress and the press, all who proclaim "[illegible]icanism, seek to impeach him.

The[illegible]ers would have us believe there is a basic difference b[illegible] the position taken by Truman's supporters and MacArthur's . . . that the interests of America will be best served by one side or the other. The truth is that neither is much concerned about the welfare of our people or democracy. The only real difference which separates them is the same one which has always motivated gang warfare: How shall the spoils be divided?

Each faction wants the biggest share. Each wants to control our country with its human and material resources—and those of the world, if possible—solely for the sake of its own power and profits. Whichever side wins, the American people will lose.

This is not to say that the differences between them—of which Mac's dismissal is a symptom—cannot be taken advantage of to help our country and world peace. They can be, but only if we who want peace exploit them effectively. We must immediately mobilize all decent Americans (who are the majority, despite Mac's temporary hypnotism) to demand that Mac's removal be followed by the removal of our troops from Asia. Then let's follow that up with the removal from office of the president who sent them there, and the Congressmen who keep them there—which we could do at the next election!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Los Angeles Eagle
Dear Public:

One can see how easy people are led by the way so many speak without knowledge, or adopt the words of others.

I will advise the befuddled public, "those who can read," to go to any public library and get any book on "American Government and Politics," then proceed to read. Take special note on the following chapter: "The Power of Congress."

After reading that one chapter, those who are shouting "Impeach Truman," "Tar and feather Acheson," etc., will change their tune immediately.

With so may boks around, there just isn't any excuse for the general voting public being so addled-brained and stupid.

Congress, and this group is composed of both Republicans as

There are 531 members of well as Democrats. Only Congress has the power to declare war, yet President Truman and Dean Acheson were blamed for starting a war.

Congress also has the power and methods in forcing the President on issues that he is not in agreement with, for example:

"If you do not carry out our thus and so order, we will veto or block your thus and so bill."

Now what, I ask you, are all those 531 persons, plus some five or six hundred or more of crooked-side-kicks of their, doing in Washington, when only two men get the blame for everything and Acheson is only the Secretary of State? What a powerful secretary!

Many of the poor Southern States are so backward that it would be hard to find many who could pass a first grade test, let alone finding four as members of Congress. And some use every method short of murder to get the position.

Not only are the members of Congress important, but of equal importance is the wife or husband.

Of what use is a member of Congress who is married to a stupid, demanding, silly, selfish, social-climbing, dilly-dallying woman? I am willing to wager on many Congressmen having wives who fit that description.

It is no secret that many men and women in Washington holding prominent positions are ignorant, prejudicial persons with no morals or character, whatever.

In Washington, as in any other place in this world, "Money is Power," which explains prominent places held by so many Hill-Billy Southerners, gamblers, crooks, cutthroats and dope peddlers. Yes, in the world of politics, "Money Is King."

Instead of so much fuss being made about Communism, the capitalists and the Republicans need to be investigated.

The last Republican administration left such a huge stain on the floor, that years and years of scrubbing with lye water have not been able to erase it. Now that the floor has become thin from much scrubbing, yet the stain remains. The Republican party will stop at nothing to discredit the Democratic administration.

The Republicans benefitted by the start of the war and they also benefitted by the discharging of General MacArthur.

For example:

"You see what the Democrats are doing?" "This would not happen if the Republicans were in command."

I know the entire Hearst publication and everyone behind it, certainly hate all Democrats. And it was certainly strange that Westbrook Pegler, the ace columnist for the Hearst publications, Westbrook Pegler, the mud-slinging Republican, immediately began a month's vacation after General MacArthur was discharged, as if to say, "Now I can take it easy, President Truman's goose is cooked. Let the Democratic administration live that down. Start cleaning out the White House for the Republicans."

President Truman and Dean Acheson are not guilty of all the things they are accused of. And it is impossible for just the two of them to possess such great powers without Congress lifting a finger to stop them.

Dear Public, please read and find out for yourselves.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Velma P. Latimore.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By PENN

It is with considerable regret that I write this, my last "Labor on the March" for the California Eagle, and I hope that my readers will forgive me for becoming a little personal in this column.

Although I have been active in the trade union movement and in the fight for Negro rights for many years, it is difficult to remember another occasion filled with more sorrow than now.

I remember nothing finer in my active work than my association with Charlotta A. Bass, that grand person who has devoted her life and sacrificed her health in the battle for the true liberation of the Negro people, and for the rights of all people wherever and whenever oppressed and beaten down.

And though this may be the end of the California Eagle as I and thousands the world over have known it, this is not the end of my association with Charlotta A. Bass nor with the things for which she has fought so hard.

In "Labor on the March" I have tried to print the truth that working men and women seek for and fail to find in the commercial daily press and in the speeches of those in organized labor who ride upon the backs of the workers.

I have tried to tell things that should be told.

In line with that effort, in this last column I should like to speak of two immediate struggles in which working people are engaged.

One is the five months' old strike of Mexican miners, 4,000 of whom have stood firm in the fact of outrageous attack by their own government and by the American Smelting and Refining Co.

These strikers, after the Mexican government had tied up their union funds, closed their union hall and food cooperatives, made the "long march" of 175 miles on foot from Nueva Rosita to Mexico City to take their protest to the people. More than 40 of their wives, one of whom gave birth on the long trek, accompanied the workers on their march.

These Mexican miners and their families desperately need money and food.

AND YOU HAVE A CHANCE TO HELP THEM.

A barbecue and entertainment will be held this coming Saturday, April 28, at Rancho de Don Daniel, at Rosemead and San Gabriel, starting at 11 a.m.

All proceeds from this Cinco de Mayo fiesta, being held under the sponsorship of the Trade Union Committee for the Mexican Miners, will be sent to Mexico for the use of the striking miners.

The Rancho will be donated for the fiesta by Senor Daniel Baiza, and all the work of preparing the barbecue will be contributed.

Here is a chance to help the strikers and enjoy yourself while you are doing it.

Another of the current struggles is that of the Marine Cooks and Stewards and the other maritime unions against the phony "security screening" program that is being used to remove every militant trade unionist from the waterfront.

Workers are "screened" off their jobs, refused their right to make a living, without an opportunity to face their accusers, to answer the charges, or even to know what the charges are.

The "screening," theoretically designed to keep "poor security risks" from working on ships bound for war zones, has been extended to the ridiculous lengths of "screening" workers off the excursion steamers that go only to Catalina and back.

The Marine Cooks and Stewards are taking the lead locally in fighting the "screening"—

AND YOU HAVE A CHANCE TO HELP THEM.

A dance, to raise funds to fight the "screening," will be held Friday evening, April 27, at Park View Manor, 2200 W. Seventh St.

Besides dancing to the "Unity Band," there will be entertainment.

And with the hope that both of these affairs are supported by Los Angeles workers, and again with regrets that this is my last "Labor on the March," I say "So long, see you again and soon," for the fight for equal rights for all is not ended—it is just getting going good.

Mrs. Lu Voilie Williams' Story of Africa

This story is an accurate account of Mrs. Lu Voilie Williams' experience in Africa, some of the things she saw and heard and her impressions of the country.

Mrs. Williams, widow of the late Dr. S. A. Williams, pastor of St. Paul Baptist Church, became interested in missionary work at an early age. She was an ardent worker in the St. Paul Baptist Church during the life of Dr. Williams. After his death her church activities became city wide. She finally decided to work in a foreign field, and on October 14, 1950, sailed from the port of New Orleans in the company of eleven other American missionaries for Liberia, Africa.

They landed November 20, 1950. Following is Mrs. Williams own story. (The Editor)

AFRICA AS I SAW IT

A very strange-looking sight, indeed, catches one's eye upon arrival at the French African port of Dakar. The strange thing about the people is their manner of dress, or rather, I should say, their lack of dress. Many of the hundreds of men who come seeking employment as a stevedore to help free the ship of her vast cargo of tractors, cars, jeeps, crude oil, gasoline, cheese, and many other kinds of provisions, were wearing only a "G-string." At first glimpse it is shocking to see so many people nude or nearly nude. Many children up to about 12 years are wholly nude.

The people are friendly and easy to get acquainted with. Therefore it is only a short time before one begins to accept their customs as a matter of course. These poor creatures are working at the starvation wage of 70c a day to unload the ship's cargo.

It is even worse in Liberia. The Firestone Rubber Company employs some 30,000 natives, and they are paid the neat sum of 30c a day. They are happy for this opportunity to earn this little mite. What a strange economy! As a result sanitation is unknown among the uncivilized tribes. They live in the jungles, the densest of which no words can describe. Their huts are made of mud and sticks. Some use rock for the foundations, which is found in abundance.

The covering for the houses is made of thatch, a very skillfully woven palm leaf made into a shingle. They use many, many layers, making a water-proof roof. Another strange thing about native built houses they use neither nails nor hammer. Carefully twisted bark and vine are used instead. The houses have dirt floors.

They make the fire in the middle of the room on the ground. The smoke creeps slowly through the crevices of the thatch-roof. It looks as if the house were on fire. They weave a mat out of splints made from a native tree, place it on the ground near the fire, and there they sleep.

Their kitchen is the ground out in front of the door. They place logs together, build a fire upon them, and cook their food for the family. Their principal food is rice. Potatoes and casava greens are used extensively to make soup together with whatever meat that can be secured. Most times it is dried fish. If perchance they can kill a wild deer, bush cow, or bush goat, they have meat. There is no way to preserve the meat except to put it in brine or fry to dry it.

There is not a glass of fresh milk in Liberia. Powdered and canned milk are used. The native rarely, if ever eats bread. They have nothing with which to make it. No wheat, corn, rye or barley are grown.

Pineapples, bananas, grapefruit, oranges, plums, plantain, papayas, avocados, breadfruit and soursop are the fruits. Sweet potatoes, casava, eddoes, and rice are their basic food. All their meat comes from wild animals. Fresh vegetables are grown by the mission schools. Fishing is a local industry carried on extensively to help solve their acute food problem.

The native has a way of weaving what is commonly known as "country cloth." The chief uses this cloth for making many of the long flowing gowns with which he adorns himself. This cloth is woven some 72 to 90 inches in width.

COMMERCIALLY

Under the present administrator, President William V. S. Tubman, the country has made wonderful strides indeed. The $20,000,000 harbor opened in 1948, has placed Monrovia in the commercial family of ports as a great shipping center. Their two outstanding exports are rubber and palm oil. Palm kernels are also an export. Great caravans

NEWS FROM ACROSS THE WORLD

"Trenton Six" In Magazine

NEW YORK, N.Y. — The development of the "Case of the Trenton Six" from the morning William Horner was murdered in January, 1948 through the third trial that began in February is analyzed in the first of two articles by Claire Neikind in the May 1 issue of THE REPORTER Magazine.

The second article by Miss Neikind surveys the evidence gathered for and against the defendants and will appear in a succeeding issue of the magazine.

WHAT'S HAPPENING ON THE WAR FRONT?

It is recorded that one-fourth to one-third of all American ground forces to be stationed on the continent under the command of five-starred General Dwight Eisenhower, will be Negroes.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson has been asked to make room in the State Department for qualified Negroes.

He was reminded that his department employed fewer Negro men and women above custodial and clerical levels than any other department or agency of the Federal government.

A group of white women from all parts of the United States went to Mississippi to intercede for the life of Willie McGee.

This is the sort of stand Negroes must take to defeat discrimination.

Judge Hubert T. Delaney, Justice of the Domestic Relations Court, and a member of the Board of Direction of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, resigned from the New York Advisory Council of Civil Defense in protest against the appointment of the "white supremacy" advocate, Millard F. Caldwell, as Federal Civil Defense Administration.

For the first time in 30 years, Nashville, Tenn., is to have a colored councilman. The Fifth Ward will have as its representative either Atty. Z. Alexander or Atty. Coyness L. Ennix, both Negroes.

JACKSON, Miss. — Mississippi, the present prison home of Willie McGee, has a governor who advocates educational segregation of Negroes. He has pledged to defeat the NAACP legal battle to open the doors of educational institutions to qualified Negro students in the graduate schools in Alabama and Mississippi.

Hugh Gordon Bookshop Moves

The HUGH GORDON BOOKSHOP announces its removal to new and larger quarters at 4310 South Central avenue from East 42nd Place. The HUGH GORDON BOOKSHOP is the only bookshop in Los Angeles which specializes in books and literature emphasizing the contribution of the Negro to American life.

An Open House will be held at the new location — 4310 South Central avenue — on Saturday, April 21st, from 10:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m., and on Sunday, April 22nd from 12 noon to 2:00 p.m. Residents of the community are urged to drop by the HUGH GORDON BOOKSHOP and inspect the new quarters.

Following the opening, the HUGH GORDON BOOKSHOP will conduct a sale to start April 28th with many outstanding values, with discounts on some items up to 50%.

NCC Home Ec. Day

DURHAM, N. C. — Some 100 Negro high school girls from throughout North Carolina attended North Carolina College's annual observance of Home Economics Day here April 25.

Miss Diana S. Dent, chairman of the NCC Home Economics department, was in charge of planning for the observance.

One of the features of the day was the selection of a winner of the annual $75 scholarship prize. The winner was decided on the basis of competition through the National Competitive Home Economics Test. The girl with the highest average received the scholarship.

Twelve states sent forty-one representatives to Washington, D. C., April 16, in an all-out lobbying effort to defeat the Winstead segregation amendment to the draft UMT bill.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—St. Louis has elected Rev. Ben Oliver, pastor of "Our Lord Jesus Christ Church" as alderman, and re-elected Sidney Redmond, a rock-ribbed Republican. Both are Negroes.

HUNTSVILLE, Texas — Emma Oliver, 40, doesn't see why a Negro should be punished for killing another Negro. She is of the opinion, still prevalent in the South, that if a Negro kills another Negro the slayer should at worst get nothing more than a prison sentence.

But Mrs. Oliver did not think to add, "But if a Negro is even suspected of killing or raping a "white" person, he must be lynched—legally or otherwise."

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Representative Gavin (Republican, of Pennsylvania) is heading a committee to investigate Gen. MasArthur's ouster.

We suggest that a committee be appointed to investigate the Willie McGee case before it goes too far.

Texas Common-Law Marriage Gets Test

Whether or not California Domestic courts will recognize commonlaw marriages that have begun and were considered binding in the state of Texas, will be the background for a sensational divorce case to be heard in the near future. According to records seen on file last week, Patrick McKinney, a well known local citizen, has through his counsel Atty. Afue McDowell, crossfiled action against Mrs. Pinkie Williams McKinney, as the culmination of a "love union" without benefit of clergy, that has existed for twenty years.

With her admitting that they were considered as married in Dallas, Texas, ever since they first started living together, March 17, 1931, McKinney is opposing her plea for divorce that will allot her their community property, bank deposits and alimony. But he is charging extreme cruelty, adultery, assault with a deadly weapon, incompatability, general misconduct, and habitual drunkeness and objects to yielding to any of her demands. Instead he declares that after trying patiently, during the whole past year, to see some light through their domestic difficulties that he realize that life any longer with her would be impossible.

Included in their community property are an expensive television set, a radio and household furniture, etc. Although she claims to have paid the most on the television set and the radio. However McKinney has listed such a volume of misdemeanors, that McDowell will be able to show that he has the right to them. He declared that ever since they first met in Monroe, La. where she had previously been married to a man named Williams, he had accorded her the best of treatment. But not only had she been guilty of adultery here in 1948, but during the past year had been too constantly intoxicated to attend to household duties had stabbed him with a knife, had quarreled with him violently, attempted to scald him with hot water, and had remained out at nights until 2:00 and 3:00 o'clock a.m.

MOUNTAINS
By Nancy Jean Lyon

I saw the snow-capped mountains
Standing far, far away;
They were like huge giants
Kneeling down to pray.

I've seen them happy, seen them sad,
When sad, their tears in torrents flow,
Down, down their hard gray cheeks
To water the valleys below.

I saw their lakes of royal blue,
Their waters were crystal clear;
I saw the lovely sunrise hues
They seemed to be so near.

When sunset comes and skies grow dark
Again they kneel to pray;
In the pale moonlight, under twinkling stars,
They wait for another day.

Byron Rumford (D., Berkeley) which would make it unlawful for an employer to refuse to hire apprentices solely on the ground of race, creed, or color of the apprentice.

Housing Authority Hearings On SE-LA

The fifth in a series of public hearings held by the City Planning Commission on the sites selected by the Housing Authority of the City of Los Angeles for its new 10,000 unit Low Rent Public Housing Program was held last Tuesday morning in Room 150, City Hall.

Tuesday's hearing involved the Authority's application for conditional use to construct Imperial Compton, a 1110 unit development in Southeast Los Angeles. Previous hearings have been held on the Jordan Downs Reconstruction, Pacoima, West Los Angeles and Aliso Village Extension sites. Additional hearings are scheduled for later dates.

The Imperial Compton area involves 67.1 acres with an irregular boundary line between Central Avenue on the West, Compton Avenue on the East, 111th Street on the North and Imperial Highway on the South.

In presenting the Authority's reasons for selection of the site, Development Counsel Stanley Furman pointed out that the area is at present a "blighted" one. "It is a mixture of substandard housing, vacant land and standard housing," he said. "According to American Public Health Association standards," Furman stated, "rehabilitation of the area would be too costly and demolition is indicated since 72 per cent of the present dwelling units have one or more basic deficiencies and 45 per cent have two or more."

The Development will consist of two story row housing with one story end buildings, according to their statements. There will be an approximately 11,000 square foot recreational center with additional play space for small children to serve not only the children in the area but the general neighborhood as well. The Authority spokesmen said that construction will be of masonry on the first floor, frame and stucco on the second.

The importance of the site to the entire Southeast Los Angeles area of the City was also emphasized at the hearing. After all of the eligible on-site families are relocated into the new development, it was pointed out, there will be approximately 900 units which can be used to house residents of the area who are at present living in shacks, garages and other substandard housing.

Brotherhood In Action

As a result of the outstanding and successful Brotherhood in Action meeting held February 22nd at Sinai Temple, at which over 500 people participated with approximately 50% Negro and 50% Jewish representation, it was unanimously decided to carry on the important work of fighting racial discrimination by setting up a continuations committee for that purpose.

The Brotherhood in Action Continuations Committee which is open to both individuals and organizations, has a three-fold objective: 1. To fight discrimination on all levels; 2. Promote inter-cultural activities; 3. Promote fellowship and social get-togethers. Serving as chairman of the steering committee is Rev. Byron G. Hamlin. Others include Mrs. MacGreen, Mrs. Donnie Hawkins, Mrs. Charlotte Kessler, C. D. Hawkins and Gene Sereno.

Plans are under way for an unusual social afafir using the joint theme of Passover and Easter. For further information call GR. 9671 or JE. 1990.

Yorty Opposes Segregation

Congressman Sam Yorty, in his recent speech before Congress, supported the amendment of Representative Price which would delete the Winstead amendment designed to compel the creation of segregated units in our Armed Forces. Congressman Yorty said in part:

"Segregation at this time would be a backward step, and would wipe out the admirable progress that has been made toward integration of our Armed Forces. When it comes to the defense of our country, how can even the most prejudiced person contend that there should be a distinction based upon race. To me, such a distinction between Americans is contrary to the religious faith which we profess, and contrary to the law of inherent, fundamental human rights."

ENGINEERS NEEDED

An acute shortage of structural engineers is hampering the State Division of Architecture in its supervision of public school construction, as well as the State's building activities in general. James Gillem, Principal Architectural Designer in charge of the Los Angeles Office, is seeking qualified men to fill numerous vacancies in these fields.

OKLAHOMA CITY—A bill was introduced in the Oklahoma Legislature last week which would prohibit the use of the word "Negro" on public election ballots. The author of the bill was State Representative Wendell Barnes, of Tulsa County.

Under present law, the term "Negro" must be printed on the ballot next to the name of Negro candidates running for public office.

Negro leaders are seeking repeal of the law on grounds that it is undemocratic and that it helps to perpetuate race prejudice.

of trucks bring these products from the interior or hinterland daily to the port.

The U.S. dollar is the monetary unit of Liberia, and is freely negotiable at par value. Revenue receipts are approximately $3,735,353.91 annually. Exports were $13, 527,185.00. Imports were $9,104,870; with the United States supplying about 81% of the latter. Any money taken to or received while in Liberia costs 1½ per cent discount, which forms a great portion of their three and two-thirds million dollar intake.

Liberia has an area of 43,000 square miles. It is approximately the size of Mississippi. Its topography is very rocky and hilly. Any effort to sink a well, dig a cesspool, or whatever the case may be, one encounters great deposits of rock in layers near the surface and far down into the earth.

The sun's rays are so strong that they dry the earth's surface very rapidly, even though the rainfall is from 80 to 100 inches annually. Therefore the country is literally infested with lakes, rivers, and creeks. Mosquitoes are an ever present menace. The mission schools, however, are striving to screen against many kinds of insects, thereby decreasing the mortality rate.

But in the face of the tremendous effort being put forth from all sources, including the Liberian government, death and disease stalk the land. People who have no sanitation at all, and an inadequate diet of principally starches suffer from craw-craw, yaws, disentery, syphilis, gonorrhea, chills, sore mouth, jiggers, and countless sores over all parts of their bodies.

There is a government hospital and the Carrie V. Dyer Hospital in Monrovia. Also a hospital at Firestone to take care of their employees. Thousands of the natives far back in the hinterland have not learned to take advantage of these facilities available to them, even though miles away. A very recent loan of $5,000,000.00 from the United States has been secured by the Liberian Government to be used to build highways and to improve the country generally. This will serve to facilitate transportation greatly.

There are a reasonable number of physicians in Monrovia, no doubt enough to take care of a city with approximately a population of from 12 to 20 thousand, but it is in the interior or hinterland, among the heathen people, where they are so badly needed.

Liberia has no running water systems. Water is pumped from a well to the drums perched upon the roofs, and from there the water runs down into the kitchens and bathrooms. Others have outdoor toilets with only wells for water supply. It is strictly a primitive country, having only survived as an independent republic a little better than 100 years. They celebrated their first centennial in July, 1947.

THE DuBOIS DINNER IN NEW YORK FROM NATIONAL BAPTIST VOICE

I must be getting old and reckless or I am getting more courage for I would have certainly gone to that dinner if I had been invited. I am convinced beyond any doubt that the time is approaching when leadership in a great cause means suffering. This is a good thing because we are now fixing to get rid of a lot of phony leaders. I was particularly interested in the refusal of Dr. Mordecai Johnson to attend. Johnson has always been one of my heroes. In the absence of any written explanation, I take it for granted that he did not go because the red-baiters were after DuBois.

What has Dr. DuBois done? According to the Justice Department ,headed by the aCtholic Attorney General, he is accused of circulating a Peace Petition that originated with the Reds. In the name of high heaven, if the devil circulates Peaec petitions or love petitions, is that a crime? It is said that he was an agent of a Foreign Power and refused to register. On that basis then every preacher should be in jail because Christianity originated with foreigners.

But I did not intend to write a defense of Dr. DuBois. My thoughts are rather on the cowardice of the middle class Negroes. I have contended and I contend yet, that big Negroes who have to get their pay from white people cannot stand up when the chips are down. I have the highest regard for a Negro who understands this and conducts himself accordingly. But I have nothing but contempt for the ones who howl at the top of their voices when the sun is shining and then run for cover when the clouds darken. While things are going smooth these people demand that the Negroes bow down to them as leading Negroes. They want the chief place on every program. They demand that they be recognized as the only real champions of the Negro. Nothing earns their scorn more than a Negro preacher who gets his living out of the sweat of the masses. Yet when the time comes to suffer for a cause that will really help the people, they run for cover.

DuBois has spent all his life fighting for the "Talented Tenth," as he calls them. Boker Washington told him that he did not know what he was doing. And now the "Talented Tenth" has run out on him and unless the mass leaders come to his rescue he will take his place at the table with Alger Hiss.

There is not a white man of education in this country who does not know that DuBois is American through and through, if they know him. He represented his country during the first World War. He was attacked by Negroes because in the CRISIS he told us to close ranks and stick behind the country.

Now his pay is an attempt to brand him as a traitor because he refused to be a black McCarthy like a certain other renegade who writes for a widely read weekly. It is an attempt to intimidate Negro leaders who will not line up with the Warmongers, who are turning America into a Military State.

The sad thing about it is that this attempt will have its effect. Now every time we go to a meeting and some white man is present some dumb-head, who cannot spell the word "communists" will start off by saying: "I'se again the Reds." I am against all war-makers — red, white, yellow, black or blue. We should beat Russia at her own game. We should start a big Peace Crusade of our own.

Poor Dr. DuBois. I feel sorry for him! His talented tenth crows has let him down and I guess the poor preachers whom he has despised all these years will have to help him out.

welcoming home General Douglas MacArthur, and expressing "great faith" in him. The Democrats, while not objecting to welcoming home General MacArthur, did object most strenuously in showing any faith in him. They finally succeeded in eliminating that part of the resolution.

The Fair Employment Practices committee of the Independent Progressive Party met last Monday evening at the County office, 2206 South Vermont Ave., and discussed further steps to be taken in the campaign to force the May Co. to employ Negroes as clerks and in an administrative capacity. The next Club Council meeting will be held May 7.

Watch Election Bills

The general public was urged in a statement by Assemblyman Edward Elliott this week to take a greater interest in the election bills that have been introduced in the State Legislature at the present session.

Assemblyman Elliott mentioned as the worst of the detrimental elections bills introduced at this session of the Legislature—proposed constitutional amendment 3 by Senator Fred Weybret, proposed constitutional amendment 6 by Assemblyman Charles Conrad; and Assembly Bills 877 and 1923. The law maker stated that if these measures were to become law, the initiative, referendum and recall systems would be seriously restricted and greatly undermined.

Last week the Assembly passed and sent to the Senate Assembly Bill 1018. This would require each candidate for public office in a state primary election to list his party affiliation after his name. Thus, the deception in the present cross filing allowed in primary elections would be eliminated.

From the Office of Augustus F. Hawkins

The Legislature last week was the stage for many legislative dramas taking on the appearance of shows which could compete with Hollywood productions. Adding dramatics, as well as confusion, to the already beclouded political play was Assembly Joint Resolution 27. This was introduced by Republican Legislators to commend General Douglas MacArthur. The Democrats, while not opposed to welcoming the General home, objected to and succeeded in eliminating the clause expressing "great faith" in MacArthur. The amended Resolution was then passed.

Another serious play was unfolding over the threatened discontinuance of Child Care Centers by the State Senate. To stem this tide, a group of Assemblymen headed by Ernest Geddes, Augustus Hawkins, Edward Elliott, and others introduced A. B. 3410 to extend these centers for another year, and appropriate seven million dollars for their support. Confidence was expressed that the Bill would be passed.

All of the dramatics were not confined to the State Capitol. School people in Los Angeles and San Francisco were outraged at the action of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee in turning down a provision appropriating financial support for the transportation of physically handicapped school children. Together with Legislators from their cities they met and threatened to hold up A. B. 2061 (a Bill making certain liberal appropriations to rural school districts unless this Bill carried the aid - to - physically - handicapped transportation provision. With 40 "no" votes in the lower house, their threat looked good.

The feature attraction on the Senate side of the Capitol concerned reapportionment of the congressional and assembly districts. The Assembly plan of locating political boundaries was generally approved and all proposals to take a congressional district away from Los Angeles County, and add it to Northern California were voted down.

But, ironically enough, the biggest attraction, and one involving bitter legislative controversy, was a "fish Bill" (S. B. 868) to close Sacramento River to commercial fishing. The Capitol was literally besieged by sportsmen and commercial fishermen at the hearing, and it was generally conceded that this "show" drew the biggest crowd of the season, with 2,000 spectators.

And greater fireworks were promised by two announcements —the first concerns the Rumford-Hawkins Bill (A. B. 2251) to establish Fair Employment Practices in California. A hearing on this proposal is scheduled for May 9 before the Assembly's Governmental Efficency and Economy Committee. . . . The other news revealed that several powerful groups, meeting behind closed doors in Sacramento, had suggested a proposal for a 4 per cent sales tax, the extra one per cent to be turned over to cities and counties. Attending this closed meeting were representatives of the County Supervisors Association, League of California Cities, business interests and some school people.

The proposal to hike the sales tax another one per cent was branded by Assemblyman Hawkins "as a scheme promoted by spineless officials who oppose every social welfare measure of any consequence, and who have neglected the true interests of the small home owner and wage earner." He then called upon all responsible organized groups in the State to utilize their fullest efforts to defeat any further increase in the sales tax, and to demand that tax money not be used to support any organization that participated in such a scheme.

NEWARK, N. J.—Negroes organized to fight higher insurance rates to Negroes by most of the insurance companies in the nation. Los Angeles should certainly wake up and do something about this also.

world sent love to Paul as a Member of the Family — the World Family of People.

This Family feeling for Paul carried over to include the whole Robeson family in the greetings. The Paul Robesons now number nearly six, you know: Big Paul, Young Paul, his lovely wife, Marilyn, and the baby due next month; Larry Brown, whom we all consider a dear member of the family; and myself, Eslanda.

There was a warm and loving Family quality about the gifts, too—birthday presents which showed thought and affection; subscriptions to FREEDOM; a handsome and sturdy leather case, roomy enough to hold all the music Paul and Larry have to carry around with them; another beautiful brief case for Paul's inevitable papers, books and notes; more subscriptions to FREEDOM; fine fountain pens, elegant cuff links, an adorable silver baby cup and comb-and-brush set for the grandchild; more subscriptions to FREEDOM; the most beautiful birthday cake I ever saw, presented by the Bakers' Union. "If I'd known you were coming I'd have baked a cake." The bakers knew Paul was coming and they did bake a cake. We all want them to know that it tastes even better than its looks, and that we have shared it with our many friends — first showing it off, then slicing it off. And flowers, flowers everywhere, and still arriving, as are the cables, telegrams, letters, cards of greeting, and subscriptions to FREEDOM.

You have all made this Birthday a Birthday Week, a week the Robeson family will always remember and thank you for.

A Birthday can be a time for looking back, and looking forward, a time for evaluation. Perhaps on this Birthday it would interest you all to know what I consider the high point in Paul's long and brilliant career? There have been so many wonderful moments:

Arriving in cities in America Britain, Europe, the Soviet Union, Africa, the West Indies and being greeted by vast crowds of friendly people, parents holding small children above the crowd to see and wave to Paul, and Paul, deeply touched, smiling and waving back to them; Paul singing to enormous crowds in open arenas, crowds so rapt you could hear a pin drop; ovations after performances which took years of work and study to perfect; tributes and medals, citations and honorary degrees, honorary membership in unions, in recognition of his work and study and talents; Paul being warmly greeted all over the world on streets, in planes, in railroad stations, on trains by peopel unknown to him — "nobodies who are everybodies."

Yes, there have been many wonderful moments.

But for me the high point of Paul's career will always be Peekskill, that memorable and historic concert at Peekskill, when Un-American activities tried to prevent him from singing, and tried to prevent you all from listening to him. But you came anyway—more than 25,000 of you—men, women and children; you travelled by car, bus and train, at grave risk to your persons, to hear Paul sing, to support him and to protect him. At Peekskill you showed Paul once and for all that he is what he has always wanted to be—a Peoples' artist. That is why I will always think of Peekskill as the high point in his career, and why I will always be grateful to you American Americans for making it so.

The Robeson family thanks you all for this Birthday Week, for the many parties, meetings, celebrations, for the many beautiful, thoughtful and practical gifts, for the letters, cards, telegrams and cables of greeting, for the warmth and affection and most of all, for enveloping us into this new and wonderful Family which is growing everywhere—this World Family of People who are working and fighting for Peace and Freedom. We are very proud and grateful.

Sincerely,

Letter for Foreign Born to Pres. Truman

Dear Madam:

On May 17, a delegation of prominent American women will go to Washington, D. C., to demand that the deportation proceedings against 28 women and other McCarran Law victims be cancelled.

This delegation will present an Open Letter to the President of the United States in an effort to bring this problem to his attention.

More than 170 non-citizens of long residence in the United Stater are threatened with exile and separation from their families. Among them are 28 women. They are victims of the current deportation hysteria which is aimed at non-citizens who have participated in the building of trade unions, who have fought for equal rights for the Negro people, who have sought to stamp out anti-Semitism, and who have generally tried to help their fellow-Americans in the betterment of their living and working conditions.

An Open Letter will be presented by the women's delegation to Pres. Truman.

Your support is always valued and means much to us in our work. We are asking you to sign the letter.

Sincerely yours,
BELLE BAILYNSON,
National Secretary, National Woman's Appeal for the Rights of Foreign Born Americans.

OPEN LETTER TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

It is with grave concern that we, the undersigned, view the action of the Department of Justice in applying provisions of the McCarran Law to unjustly deport 170 law-abiding non-citizens from the United States.

Among these non-citizens threatened with exile and forcible separation from their American homes and families are 28 women, long-time residents of this country.

The majority of these women are married to American citizens. They are mothers and grandmothers of American-born children. They are mothers of veterans who served our country during World War II. One of them, Mrs. Miriam Stevenson, is the mother of a 19-year-old son recently inducted into the armed forces.

If we permit these scheduled deportations, many long established American homes will be destroyed and great suffering and hardship will be inflicted on members of the families of the victims, whose only loyalty is to the United States of America and to the cause of peace and civil rights.

It is disturbing to think what effect the persecution of these non-citizens will have on the civil rights of every resident of the United States, citizen and non-citizen alike, since these deportations are based on the unconstitutional proposition of denying non-citizens' freedom of speech and belief. Denial of these freedoms to the foreign born would strike at the freedom of all Americans.

In defense of the American home and American motherhood, we call upon you, Mr. President, to use your executive power to call a halt to these deportation proceedings. We respectfully appeal to you to order the Justice Department to end its deportation drive and to end this threat to our cherished Bill of Rights.

(Signed) Charlotta A. Bass.

(The editor urges all the readers of The California Eagle to sign the above letter and send it to President Truman.)

SPANISH OPERA BENEFIT PERFORMANCE

Under the stage direction of Fortunio Bonanova last Thursday night at the Wilshire Ebell Theater, a non profit opera group presented for the first time in this part of the west the Spanish opera "Marina."

With an almost plotless story of an ophran girl, "Marina" is a story with the usual triangle. Giavanni Zavatti well known local tenor sang the role of the favored sea captain as though he would never get the opportunity to sing again. Zavatti's voice is pleasing enough in its lower and middle registers, but as he proceeded to the higher tones, the voice ceased to have anything but an irratating quality caused by poor placement.

Alba Floria as the orphaned Marina has a good voice, and though not extremely large it possesses a nice quality. We felt however that Miss Floria would have been better fitted to a role such as Violetta, Gilda, or Nedda. The only singer of the evening who showed any acting ability was Rudolfo Hoyos the baritone and rogue of the opera.

It cannot he said that this was a bad production but it was definitely not a professional one, in that even the chorus, child-like sopranos, made the whole thing immature and amatuerish. The music in Emilio Arrieta's opera was enjoyable and held many simple melodies which were so detached by the principles that one thought this might be a concertized version of the opera.

The audience was a good one and could have been a better one had they been on time and settled in their seats without so much confusion. The reason for this might have been that the performance was one of a beneficial nature for the new Spanish Hospital.

ANDRE GREEN CHORISTERS SCORE IN CONCERT

Another successful concert of the Symphonic Choristers was given in the sanctuary of the Independent Church last Sunday evening.

The numbers on the program which appealed to this writer and to the public were: the well known "Rodger Young" that has crept into the hearts of many and stayed since World War II; "Donkey Seranade," and the well known "Toreador Song" from the opera "Carmen" by Bizet which closed the second group. Three arrangements by the conductor were in the next group and the well arranged program closed with such spirituals as "His Name So Sweet" and "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho."

This male group is fast becoming one of the southland's leading choral agregations, and boasts of fifteen members. The blend of the group was fair, and by the end of the concert had bordered on perfection. Unfortunately the diction was poor and in some instances was unintelligible. Mr. Green's conducting was good and seemed to impart his interpretation to the group in most of the repertoire. It is felt that a little more dignity in movements of both hands and feet would help the conductor in putting over his point to both the group and the audience. John Herod was the able accompanist.

SOCIALITING

with Wini Orr

IT HAS BEEN our great privilege to write for The California Eagle these past months, and to bring you a column on general social happenings. Thank you for being wonderful readers.

AS WITH all things, the end has come. The grand dame of journalism, Charlotta A. Bass is retiring after a memorable forty years in one of the toughest businesses there is. Hers has been an enviable record in fighting for the things she so strongly believed in. Nothing is more gratifying than to see a person fight for the things they believe in, and that, Charlotta Bass has done all through the years.

THERE HAVE been so many affairs each Sunday, until it is difficult to bring you accounts of them all. This past week end being no exception.

PERHAPS WE will start earlier in the week with the very impromptu get-to-gether the Gilbert Lindseys had for George Weaver, in town from Washington, D. C. Mr. Weaver, assistant to the Director of National Resources Planning Board, was scheduled hourly for press conferences; trips to Riverside, Bakersfield, and San Diego, and on to San Francisco and Seattle, before returning to Washington. All conferences were in connection with the survey he made of the minority groups in the mushrooming war industries. The Lindseys provided just a little breather the dynamic Weaver needed in his busy schedule.

THE WESLEYAN Service Guild chalked up another one of their successful fashion reviews at the Church Federation on West Adams, Sunday. The majestic old mansion, once the residence of the Haggertys, was the setting for a beautifully dressed crowd which was seated in the main salon and commanded a view of the double staircase down which the lovely models came.

It was our pleasure to commentate the show, and we are grateful for the wonderful cooperation received from the following beautiful models: Mary Glenn the lovely bride; Deloach Beaver; Abbie Bell; Marinetta McKenzie, Essie Brown; Gertrude Maxwell helped us line up the show and now we know why she is so indispensible to Mr. Bowdin; Ann Price (that girl has so much originality in her designs); Consuelia Jox; Augusta Saunders, Gwendolyn Bell; Jacqueline Dawkins; vivacious Gladys Dickerson, guest models Marguerite Fisher, Alberta McKinney, Margaret Goode, Ethel Taylor, and Grace Fegan (absolutely gorgeous models hats like Grace), and the hats were Robbie Slocumb's, then there was mother Ruth Dennis, Joan Moore, and Mamie Maxwell. The show was well stolen by the junior edition, and especially the not quite two-year-old Colman Twins and the miniature Sherise Judice.

WHILE WE were carrying on at our appointment, we understand the Allegria Girls were packing them in at the Club Oasis with their benefit Cabaret party for the Duarte Tuberculosis Hospital.

MARY McLEOD BETHUNE spoke to an attentive audience at the beautiful new St. Paul's Baptist Church. Always a treat to hear the wonderful woman, her main emphasis was on the necessity of unity in the race.

THE DOLL LEAGUE Charity Club was lavishly entertained by member Harriet Wadley Johnson at her South Belhaven home. Serving a complete turkey and ham bouffet dinner, with tasty hor's d'ouerves and cocktails throughout the evening, Harriet was voted a charming hostess.

LOOKING MIGHTY PRETTY, Marian Ford was out for the first time since the birth of Master Gary E. Ford.

NOTE IN the mail from Herme Crowder, reporter for "Ten Women," informing us that the name of the club has been altered to just the "Women."

BERNICE WRIGHT, chairman of publicity for Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, right on the job with her advances for the Hazel Scott concert which the sorority is sponsoring the sixth of May. High in her praise for the support of Zenobia Allen, who is president of the local chapter; Alice Long, chairman of the concert committee; Ida Wigley, secretary and ticket chairman Reatha Beck, Ursula Murrell, Lucile Robertson, Dora Taylor, Rudy Eagleson, Marilouise Mitchell, Sue Bowdan, Susie Hawkins, Lucille Bonnett, Armanda Nelson and Jessie McDaniel who are all in there pitching to make this the Social highlight of the spring season. Those of us who have never heard Miss Scott should not miss this opportunity, and those of us who have enjoyed her artistry in the past, are looking forward to the treat again.

THE CALENDAR of coming events: Sunday, May 29, that is will be a day of much activity starting with Iota Phi Lambda sorority's annual Fashion Review with your choice of tea or coffee at Gertrude Hick's home on South Wilton Starting at 11 and lasting until three in the afternoon.

THE ORIGINAL Cavalrettes Social Club whose president is Clothilde Woodson, has one of their engraved invitations on our desk to attend their Bridal Coffee and Fashions at the Masonic Temple on South Broadway the same afternoon. Their hours are from one 'til five.

NOT TO be overlooked and definitely not to be ignored is the invitation from the Southern California Medical, Dental, and Pharmaceutical Association. They will celebrate their twenty-fourth anniversary at the Wilfandel Clubhouse. This is, incidentally the Auxiliary.

PARADISE COURT No. 21, of the Heroines of Jerico, are playing hostesses at their third annual tea at the Friendship Home on East 28th, during the hours from three to seven in the afternoon.

ROSA PULLIAM, our "other" mother has bid us be sure and look in on the Rainbow Tea and musical being sponsored by the Retired Ushers Progressive Club of the First A.M.E. Zion Church. They will be holding forth in the six hundred block on East Santa Barbara Street.

BY THIS you can take your choice from our personal invitations, and be sure of having a pleasant afternoon in the event you are fondering what to do with the weather shaping up as it is.

WITH DEADLINE at hand we repeat that it has been fun, and a privilege to write for you and the experience well worth the effort.

Until we see you again in print this has been your SOCIALITING SCRIBE, WINI ORR.

All members were in attendance and enthusiasm ran high as we reviewed and talked much about the coming Coffee Extravaganza.

Two guests, Mrs. Sallye Hayes and Miss Freira Davenport, were introduced to the club, after which a chicken dinner was served with apple pie and coffee completed the evening. All expressed special thanks to the hostesses for a delightful evening.

Jeff Hi Sports; Homecoming Day

TRACK: — Two of the oldest track records at Jefferson High are in danger of being smashed this year with the appearance of two stellar athletes on the scene. Bryant Allen's sizzling 220 mark of 20.9 of over a decade ago is still on the books, but Jeff's Floyd Dennis is chopping his way down the clock this season. Thus far he has hit 21.2 without apparently trying his best. This mark equals Pell Mell Pattons stint at University High. Flyin' Floyd may make city history on May 18th with a 20.9 or 20.8 in the Coliseum.

The other athlete with the stamina that shows championship form is Jimmy Walker who is just a few seconds away from Jeff's school mark for the mile, 4:30.5, set by the incomparable Louis Beadle back in the 30's. Jimmy won a thriller last week by beating the top miler in the city, Leon Carrillo from Garfield in a nifty 4:36.8. Watch Jimmy on All City Night, May 18th. He's the kind of competitor who comes through when the chips are down.

Baseball. — The varsity and tenth grade teams exchanged positions last week as the former lost its second league contest to Garfield and the tenth graders knocked off the Garfield JV's. The varsity is still in contention for the league title, however, as every single team in the So. League has tasted defeat. The 10th grade season record stands at five wins and five losses. The varsity has an 8-win and 4 losses record.

Tennis.—Jeff waxed Roosevelt 7-0 last week to maintain its second place standing. As in baseball, Washington is the big gun and is next on the Jeff agenda.

Sportsman Hoffman Honored

LOS ANGELES—H. Leslie Hoffman, prominent Los Angeles sportsman and radio-television manufacturer, received the Helms Athletic Foundation award this week at Helms Hall during a reception which was given in his honor.

Helms Athletic Foundation cited the president of the Hoffman Radio Corporation for his "noteworthy contributions to sports," through sponsorship and pioneering of college football telecasts in 1950, wherein Hoffman had guaranteed the gates of 30 Pacific Coast Conference games in Seattle, Berkeley, Palo Alto and Los Angeles, in addition to micro-waving games up and down the west coast.

More than 200 athletic leaders, sportsmen and friends joined in honoring Hoffman.

Davenport Signs for American Giants

CHICAGO—Manager Winfield Welch of the Chicago American Giants announced this week that Outfielder Ducky Davenport, veteran ballhawk, has been signed and will be given tryout on a trial basis.

Davenport, who hit .320 with Maganalles in Venezuela the past winter, is in his fifteenth year in organized Negro baseball. Although he is in the twilight of an outstanding career, Welch believes he may be a valuable addition to the Giants if he performs in the Negro American League as well as he did in Venezuela the past season.

"If he hits anywhere near as well for us as he did for Maganalles," the Giant manager said, "I'll keep him on the team. You can't ignore a .320 hitter these days."

Meanwhile, the Giants continued their spring training chores this week and from all indications the Chicago club will be one of the strongest in the league this season.

The Giants play their first game on May 6 against the Philadelphia Stars in Louisville, Ky. They open their home season at Comiskey Park in Chicago on May 20.

Thirty-three players have been working out since training started two weeks ago and by the time the pennant chase starts, Welch expects to have a sound, hard-hitting team ready for action.

The best looking prospects right now are Don Johnson, second baseman; Charles Stewart, outfielder; Carl Coleman, first baseman; Robert Hinesman, left-hand pitcher and Johnny Williams, also a pitcher.

The Giants continue their exhibition series with the Birmingham Black Barons this week. The schedule: April 27, Marshall, Tex.; 28, Muskogee, Okla.; 29; Oklahoma City; 30, Wichita Falls, Tex.; May 1, Ft. Smith, Ark; 2, Greenwood, Miss.; 3, Huntsville, Ala.; and on May 4 they leave the Barons to play the Evansville Braves at Evansville, Ind.

Northern League Meet

Occidental College will play host to the Northern League Meet scheduled for Friday, May 4th.

John H. Francis, Polytechnic High School will be the managing school for the League.

Contenders will be Belmont, Huntington Park, Lincoln, Marshall, Poly, and Wilson.

Rams Sign Boyd for '51 Season

LOS ANGELES, April 26—The Los Angeles Rams today began assembling veterans from their 1950 National Conference championship team with the announcement that four stars have come to terms for the 1951 season.

The players are Ends Jack Zilly and Bob Boyd and Halfbacks Tommy Kalmanir and Woodley Lewis. The veterans are divided evenly between offense and defense, with Zilly and Lewis regulars on the defensive platoon and Kalmanir and Boyd members of the offensive team.

Lewis, one of the prize rookies in the National Football League last year, tied for second in pass interception in the loop with 12, and climaxed his first year by earning a berth on the National Conference All-Stars in the First Annual Pro Bowl. Lewis played for Los Angeles City College and the University of Oregon before joining the Rams.

Boyd, NCAA sprint champion with a mark of 9.5 in the 100-yard dash, started brilliantly in his opening season in pro football by catching four touchdowns in the first five passes he received. Boyd played for Compton Junior College and Loyola.

Zilly, an All-American at Notre Dame, has played with the Rams for the past four years and is regarded as one of the finest defensive wingmen in the league. A good offensive end, too, he is among the best all-around players in the game.

Kalmanir, a watch-charm speedster from Nevada, finished his second year with the Rams in 1950, specialized in punt and kickoff returns, running back 13 of each to place second behind league leader Vitamin Smith on the Ram squad.

Trout Season Opens

Crowley Lake, the huge Eastern High Sierra reservoir known nationally as the "home o fthe big trout," will again assume the limelight in the Southland sports scene when its 1951 angling season opens next Saturday (April 28).

According to the Los Angeles City Recreation and Park Department, which operates the 10-mile long man-made lake for fishing, more than 5,000 sportsmen and sportswomen are expected ot be on hand opening day to have their first 1951 try at boating Croyley's big Loch Leven. Rainbow, and Black Spotted Tahoe.

Youth Track And Field Meets, Sat.

Throughout Los Angeles County, public and private recreation agencies will hold preliminary track and field meets this Saturday ,April 28 launching a county-quest for honors.

Winners and runners-up of the events will represent their districts in the first annual Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum Boys' Track and Field Championship scheduled to be held in the big bowl on May 5th at 10 a.m.

According to the Coliseum Commission, sponsor of the track meet, only youngsters who have not competed on high school, junior college, or college track teams may participate in the county-wide meet.

More than 25 recreation agencies are scheduled to enter teams, with the meet to be run off in two classes, according to the ages of the young thinclads.

The junior division will be for youngsters 13 through 15, while the senior division will be for boys 16 and 17.

Track and field events include dashes, broad jumps, high jumps, and four-man relays, the Commission said.

Baby Ashley Arrives

Red 'N White Down Omegas In Blazing Fury; Barksdale, Minor Aid Lagging Alphas

Aroused to a rip-roaring-roof-raising-sorta mad-like frenzy—they yelled; they hollered; they screamed—til narry a vocal cord was left in proper tact! It wasn't a crew of hunt'ng hounds cashing fresh blood, it was Omega and Kappa rooters standing on needle points and sitting on razor edges as they nearly brought the roof down while pulling for their respective hoop groups.

From this terrific bombardment of clashing vocals emerged the rejoiced shout of "Yes we're satisfied." These were Kappa faithfuls voicing approval of a completely exhausted but victorious five representing the Kappa Alpha Psi basketeers who had just done with giving Omega hoopmen a 45-39 lashing before a full-packed house who refused to keep put during recent intra-frat basketball play on the Loyola High School court.

Alpha Hopes Brighter

Those who "kept their heads" remembered the first of the double-upper which featured a re-newed Alpha aggression sparked by such "debutants" as Don "Mr. Basketball" Borksdale and Dave Minor.

While one graced the court in towering height and displayed cage mastry in every department, the other also added basketball feats of particular note—plus showing a peculiar sense of sympathetic uderstanding for referees who must call decision at the risk of liberty or limb.

Even in defeat, the brilliancy of Sigma hoop swishers Bobby Pounds and Doug Shaw brought on a tremendous chorus background of "oooo and ashhs" from all sections. There was little wonder that a first period climaxed with a 17-20 score should end the mixer in a grand total of 67-80, leaning overwhelmingly in the favor of Don Barksdale and company of highly touted Alpha cagers.

Cues Are Confident

Only a few minutes prior to the Cue-Diamond fracas, Kappa bucket fans were drooling in solemn dismay over their slim chances of pulling a hoop upset over the high-striding, undefeated Omega quintet. Then — from the Red and White section, there arose a cry from the sturdy, staunch supporters to the brave sons bearing Kappa trade mark —"Win, lose or wrad, you're still our very own."

From across the hoop court—there were the rooters for the Purple and Gold smiling the smile of content bathed in the glory of victory. There was no doubt—victory, thus far, had not eluded them, and it wasn't about to change it's course tonight.

Omega's Led

There goes the whistle — the ball's in play! Strangely enough, despite the "razz-buzz" attitude of fan rivalries, both teams find themselves "cold on the floor." Cue cagers draw first blood—one—two—three buckets and still no Diamond reply . . . then it happened the Red and White men initated the beginning of a tilt destined to be a nip and tuck affair led by Omega ring-swishers clear into the closing minutes of that dramatic last quarter.

They See It Coming

Not since the previous Tuesday at San Francisco had a crowd of self-respecting, law-abiding citizens been transformed to an uncontrollable mob, gone hog-wild mad over events either happening, or about to happen. The score board had turned red — signifying only a few, furious seconds of play remaining to all others — but to Kappa fans it meant V-O night in Diamond colors.

Omega patriots saw their greatest doubts confirmed. Cue courtcourt men strided off in defeat to the thunderous applauds of loyal supporters—true to their name; true to the purple and gold.

L. A. Women's Golf Tournament

Top Southland feminine golfers will tour the Griffith Park 18-hole Wilson course tomorrow (Friday, April 27 for the leciding 36 holes of play in the 20th annual Los Angeles City Women's Golf Championship.

Sponsored by the City Recreation and Park Department, in cooperation with the Los Angeles Municipal Golf Association, the week-long classic, which began last Monday with qualifying rounds, saw a starting field of more than 120 club-wielders pointing for the 1951 crown.

Considered one of the tightest trophy races in many years, this year's tournament matched such top-flighters as Ann Pedroncelli, the 1950 Lakeside Invitational trophy winner; pretty Gloria Fecht, the surprise standout at Palm Springs; Mrs. Johnny Weismuller, Palm Springs champion; Judy Campbell, Mrs. Harry Winters, and others.

In the past, the Los Angeles tournament has been the spring board to national fame and honors in the professional field for many of the event's winners.

Softball Club Plans Banner Season With California Teams

Fielding a team for the first time, Paradise Cocktail Lounge softball club is working out regularly in preparation for a banner season of the national pastime.

Manager "Branch Rickey" Chubby Johnson of the cocktail nine has signed an all-star aggregation including some of the best known talent in the Southland. Several of the players were members of Grant's All-Stars, who copped so many titles hereabouts a few years back, that they were dubbed the Yankees of softball.

Included on the Paradise roster are Carl and Hillard Green, "Big Train" Wyatt, Cleve Macon, Dick Echols, Joe "Big Stick" Gibson, "Scow" Thomas, Ted Simpson, Tommy Miller, Ray Martin, and Willie "Take" Davis. Gibson and Thomas played with the famed Sioux City, Iowa Ghosts for a spell.

A busy season is in prospect for the Paradisers. Manager Johnson is already dickering with the Los Angeles Rams for a home and home series. He also plans to book games in neighboring towns of Long Beach, Santa Ana, Bakersifeld and Watts.

The scotch and soda nine will meet their match in the Rams who boast a terrific team with such luminaries as Tommy Fears, Jack Banta, Dick Hoerner, Bob Waterfield and Glenn Davis.

Resplendant in brand new uniforms and equipment, the Paradisers should cut a wide swath in local softball circles. The team is backed by genial Al Austin, lounge proprietor.

tions ever given a horse at the border course. When the former stake horse, now 9 years old and the son of imported Alibhal, made his move at the 3-8 pole, crowds let out a grand cheer.

When Tom Gwynne of the public address system announced "Here comes War Allies," as they headed into the home stretch it was War Allies by two lengths and at the finish he was five lengths in front and just coasting in the fast time of 1:10 3-5, paying the good price of $5.60. In winning seven straight races War Allies set a modern record at New Caliente Track. At the old track in Tijuana Harry D., owned by the late C. B. Irvin, won 11 straights.

Colin, owned by the late James R. Keene, won 15 straight races on the New York tracks and retired undefeated. This was the only horse in the last fifty years with such a record. G. F. Jenkins, who claimed War Allies for $1250 here last Jan. 14th must have found the fountain of youth for his ailing legs.

Vista Ring, the speedy colt by Wire Tapper-Black Ring, carried his speed over the mile and seventy yards to score a nose victory of the fast closing Snip in the secondary, billed as the National City Allowances. Snip, the favorite, was off to a bad start but made up a world of ground and would have won in another jump.

Vista Ring, a longshot, paid $26.80, 9.60, 6.40; Snip, $3.60, 3.20. The daily-double still continues to pay big figures. The lucky holders of Bonner Reign, winner of the fourth race, and Dark Wine, victor of the fifth, received $136.20 for two. The Quniela paid $40.60. The Favorite was first and Royal Glade was second.

The mutuels handle for the twelve races was $211,351. This Saturday the feature on the eight race program will be "The Portland" at six furlongs. On Sunday managing director, Walter C. Marty, has billed two big features to support the twelve race program. Main Event "The Dixie" one mile; secondary, "The Brandywine" six furlongs. An added so-feature will be "The Twin Oaks" at six furlongs. Rapid progress is being made on the new beautiful terrace at the club house.

"Imitation is the sincerest form of robbery."

TRUMPET KING LOUIS ARMSTRONG wishes cronner Jimmy Grissom every success on his forthcoming tour with Hollywood Revue, sparkling variety show. Armstrong and his all-star combo are presently appearing at the Tiffany club in downtown Los Angeles.

AT OASIS . . . Ruth Brown, that knowns what "singing the blues" means, is the headliner at the Oasis along with the swing-mad band of Willis Jackson.

Dinah Is There Anyone Finer?

Recent gift made to singer Dinah Washington of a $500 diamond ring by a Chicago fan club [illegible] set the entertainment world a buzzing. Currently on tour with the celebrated Earl Bostic Band, the "Queen of the Juke Boxes" thrilled audiences [illegible] was so excited that when an invitation to attend the annual formal Easter dance of the Windy City club of young and teen-age socialites accompanied the present Dinah wired, "My Heart Cries For You." An autographed copy of the hit tune also was dispatched.

There's one thing about the Washington personality that we all agree—in both her singing and [illegible]—there's anyone finer?

Ruth Brown To 'Solidly Send" Oasis Crowd

When lovely Ruth Brown, the "Teardrops From My Eyes" girl, opens at the Club Oasis this Friday, April 27, she will be proving a real triumph to talent, faith and a game spirit. For an almost fatal accident put the nation's newest singing star almost out of action for keeps.

The young ex-choir girl from Portsmouth, Virginia, wowed an audience at New York's Cafe Society after she had started, like Sarah Vaughn, Dinah Washington and Ell Fitzgerald before her, at the famed Apollo theatre. After an engagement at Washington's Crystal Caverns, along with her manager, ex-bandleader Blanche Calloway, Ruth suffered a tremendous accident.

She recorded "So Long," then followed with "Teardrops from my Eyes." Her "Am I Making the Same Mistake Again" and "Why Can't You Behave" are top record sellers. And wherever the glamourous 22-year-old beauty has appeared, audiences have been captivated with her charm.

Also on the bill at the Club Oasis will be Willis Jackson, "Wild man of the tenor sax" and his famous orchestra. Jackson was featured formerly with Cootie Williams great band.

OSCAR MACK LOLLIE . . . Will be one of the headliners on hand for the big Jefferson High Homecoming Friday evening, April 27th. Lollie is seen twice a week on the Bill Anson TV show.

SCORES ANOTHER HIT . . . Eddie Venson, much to the delight of the many mellow blues lovers steps up to take a bow with another juke box hit, "Time After Time," . . . recorded on King label.

Something Fine Vinson's "Time After Time"

The 'Cherry Red' songsational blues maestro Eddie Vinson has come up with a ballad that's right outa this world. Recorded exclusively for the King label "Time After Time" is definitely set for The Hit Parade.

Believe it or not, Vinson's a quiet chap when he's not in front of that mike. He insists that "Time" is one of his best. Your N. Y. Corresponden' queried "Any other tunes that rate a mention, Eddie?"

That's when I noticed that the blues stylist was purposely — for modesty's sake—evading the issue.

Eddie's charming wife was knitting a sweater for their daughter and the cute little Vinson offspring—Gail's her name—by now was comfortably seated on daddy's knee—and the ball game was on.

"While I appreciate your coming out today, Ted, it was hardly expected what with the two teams batting at the Polo Grounds. You could have just as well postponed the interview." I reminded him of invitation to brunch—one that he had insisted I shouldn't fail to accept when it was made a fortnight ago. "Well, then—" he concluded. "Rainy Day" backs "Time" and "Home Boy" with "People On My Party Line" are the other releases.

After that we agreed to leave it up to Messrs. Robinson, Newcombine, Bankhead, Irvin, Thompson, Wilson, Noble, et al.

Big Dance At Oro Ballroom Fri. and Sat.

Friday and Saturday night, Apr. 27th and 28th at the ORO Ballroom, 79th and Central avenue, will bring all of the Angel City dance lovers out for a gala evening of dancing and entertainment.

Headlining the double bill will be Little Willie Littlefield and his groovy little band along with the swing-mad rhythm of Jim Winn and his band but we're still coming to the best part of the story, can you imagine getting and enjoying all of this entertainment for 83 cents . . . well that's just it and not a penny more.

Both Littlefield and Winn need no introduction to many dance lovers and music lovers and this particular will serve as a fare well dance for Littlefield. Remember that's Friday and Saturday night April 27th and 28th, at the new ORO Ballroom 79th and Central avenue.

Noraman Granz Readying His 11th Jazz Tour

"Mr. Jazz," Norman Granz, has just returned to the States from his second three week tour of Europe since January 1951. Granz had originally skedded a European tour of his "Jazz at the Philharmonic" organization for this spring but has now postponed it until next year. Scandinavia, France and the rest of the Continent gave Granz America's top jazz impresario, a resounding welcome on his arrival, and proved once again that one of the most desired commodities in those countries is American jazz.

Meanwhile, the 11th consecutive "Jazz at the Philharmonic" tour of the United States will tee off at Carnegie Hall on September 14th.

WINI BROWN . . . Exciting, as well as entertaining, New York press praise critics with her sexy style of vocalin.

Wini Brown Rates Raves

Broadway columnists have had plenty of praise for buxom Wini Brown, the siren of song, who is currently sharing the spotlight with tap dancer Bill Bailey at the Earle Theatre in Philadelphia this week. One of the Main Stem memorizers had this to say about the Columbia Records star: "Wini Brown's always in there pitchin' and this week she's no exception. When she sang "This Is The Last Time" I made up my mind that it wouldn't be the last time that I'd drop in on this lovely chanteuse."

Now when Winhcell, Sullivan, Walker, O'Farrell, et al., go all out on an artist it's an indication that the performer rates the plaug. What with the baseball season in full swing it's rather nice to hear that Wini's in there pitchin' . . . yeahs, peahs!!

X-Ray For Cancer

The Los Angeles County Branch of the American Cancer Society disclosed today that a high percentage of early and localized cancers of the larnyx are being cured with X-rays, permitting the patient to retain his normal voice.

The radiation results were reported to the Society by Drs. Robert S. Stone, Bertram V. A. Low Beer and Lewis F. Morrison, of the University of California Departments of Radiology and Otorhinolaryngology.

The report was based upon a statistical study of 224 patients with laryngeal cancer seen between 1931 and 1950. Of these 219 were treated with 200,000- and 1,000,000-volt X-rays.

Christian Science Theme

The benefits of acquiring a spiritual understanding of eternal Life will be stressed in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Probation After Death" in all Christian Science churches.

This citation from Proverbs (21:16, 21) is the Golden Text: "The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding shall remain in the congregation of the dead. . . . He that followeth after righteousness and mercy findeth life, righteousness and honour."

In a Scriptural passage Peter declares, "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you" (I Pet. 1:3, 4).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include, "Our Master fully and finally demonstrated divine Science in his victory over death and the grave. Jesus' deed was for the enlightenment of men and for the salvatid of the whole from sin, sickness, and death" (p. 45).

Help others and you are helping yourself, help yourself and you will help others. Mary Baker Eddy

Harvest Ingathering Campaign

The Berean Seventh Day Adventist Church located in 1446 West 36th Place had its Field Day on Sunday, April 21, when it officially launched its Harvest Ingathering Campaign, an annual missionary activity in which the denomination engages itself at this time of the year.

This exhillerating enterprise occupies the attention of not only the adult members, but also that of the youth, and even the younger children of the various organizations of the church.

The distribution of pictorial literature showing the evangelistic, medical, health, publishing, radio, and relief accomplishments of the organization throughout the world forms one of the main features of this activity. This is designed to explain the enormous expense the denomination undertakes in its world-wide missionary effort, and the reason for this all-out drive in the soliciting of funds to carry on the work.

During 1946 to 1949 the Famine Relief Offering of the denomination amounted to $2,805,370, in addition to 1,750 tons of clothing shipped from church's warehouses to 41 countries and islands; and 2,500 tons of food to eight countries at the cost of $980,782.

The denomination has sent 50,000 care packages since World War II.

In the period of 1946 to 1949, 1,235 missionary workers were sent to mission fields abroad, including many of our people.

The fifty Adventist publishing houses, 45 of them overseas, issue literature in 195 languages. There are 161 medical institutions throughout the world, supplied by an annual graduation of 75 to 100 doctors, and 400 nurses, from the College of Medical Evangelist, an A grade Medical School, located at Loma Linda, California.

At the close of 1949 the Seventh-Day Adventist were operating 3,854 elementary and mission schools, with 5,904 teachers and 162,764 pupils; in addition to 317 schools above the elementary level with 32,277 students.

How to make good telephone service even better....

Your "information" operator is on the job to serve you . . . with numbers not listed in your directory. And smart telephone users call her only when they don't find the number they want in the telephone book. Why, they say, make two calls when one will do?

Why not keep a list of Long Distance numbers too?

Wonder how many long distance users have discovered that a list of the out-of-town numbers they call can be a mighty handy thing. Saves time, you know, if you place your call by number rather than just by name and address. So, next time you call, why not jot down the number of the person you're calling when your long distance operator reports it to you . . . and start your own long distance number list?

Lots of people spend lots of time designing your telephone set for both beauty and efficiency. Gadgets and attachments only clutter up its clean lines . . . and perhaps impair its efficiency.

Fiesta Set For Mexican Miners, Sat., April 28

A Cinco de Mayo fiesta to raise money and food for 4,000 striking Mexican miners will be held Saturday, April 28, beginning at 11 a.m., at Rancho de Don Daniel, at Rosemead and San Gabriel.

Under the sponsorship of the Trade Union Committee for the Mexican Miners, the all-day fiesta will feature Mexican pit barbecue, dancing and entertainment. The rancho and its facilities are being donated by Senor Daniel Baiza.

The Mexican miners struck coal-mining operations of the American Smelting and Refining Co. in Nueva Rosita five months ago.

After their union halls, food cooperatives and union funds were tied up by the government, the miners and more than 40 of their wives began the "long march" of 175 miles on foot to Mexico City to take their protests to the people.

Miners' union throughout the nation and from several other countries are collecting food and money to send to Mexico.

The local committee is headed by Samuel Puentes and Florence Lamar, both of Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers local 700. Although the sponsoring committee is not complete, Local 700 Executive Secretary and Business Agent Roger Boyd lead the list.

Mexican dancer Consuelo Puentes, who has appeared on television and theatre stages, will be featured in the entertainment.

Admission, which includes dinner, will be $1 including tax.

Dr. Holmes Speaks At Long Beach Sun.

With Dr. Ernest Holmes, noted author, lecturer, and spiritual leader as chief speaker, and Ella Pomeroy, of "Life Begins at 80" radio and television fame as guest, a special Sunday mass meeting to which the public is invited, will be held in the Long Beach municipal auditorium starting at 3:30 p.m., Sunday, April 29.

DR. ERNEST HOLMES

Dynamic 82-year-old Ella Pomeroy, who for 20 years was a leader in the Unity Church, will give a brief talk on "The Restless Eighties."

As an added attraction, the program will feature the Sunday broadcast of Dr. Ernest Holmes ABC network program, "This Thing Called Life" from the stage of the auditorium, with the audience participating singing the Meditation hymn, "Open My Eyes."

Gethsemane Baptist Church Airs Quarrels In Court

Rev. W. M. Warmsley, pastor of Gethsemane Missionary Baptist Church, 3612 S. San Pedro street, and the members and officers of his congregation last week took their quarrels to Department 34 Court, over which Judge Frank Swain presides.

Shocked spectators heard the members tell how Rev. Warmsley, ever since last January 17, has been harassing the congregation. Some thirty trustees and other officers of the church, represented by Atty. James N. Reese, attended the trial.

Rev. Warmsley had asked the court to issue a restraining order against the incorporated governing body of the religious organization, from banning him, as their pastor and leader. The order was flatly refused by the judge.

According to the evidence given by witnesses, after patiently submitting to the dictatorial attitude, and non-cooperative actions of their minister for some time, the church body, voted to dispense with his services. . . . But instead of seeking another flock and other "pastures," witnesses said he continued to come on Sundays, interrupt their speaker, attempt to address the congregation himself, and succeeded each time in breaking up the meeting.

When remonstrated with by peace-seeking members, he would become belligerent, berating and insulting them with vile language, and threatening to do them bodily harm. Besides this they said he made a practice of breaking locks off doors, smashing windows, and in various ways carrying on a campaign of annoyance and attempted intimidation. In answer to a court order forbiding him the premises, he crossfiled against them.

Heading the list of trustees, he filed against, were Mrs. Lujean Fulcher, John Richardson, Nellie B. Smith, Norine Standifer, and Henry Fulcher.

THE EAGLE'S NEST

TO ENCOURAGE YOUNG WRITERS

Dedicated to JOHN KINLOCH who gave his life fighting for democracy

WE BELIEVE THAT NOW MORE THAN EVER ALL YOUNG WRITERS MUST BE ENCOURAGED—AND HELP BUILD OUR PEOPLE'S CULTURE. TO ENCOURAGE THEM, WE WILL DEVOTE A FULL PAGE IN EACH ISSUE OF THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE FOR PUBLISHING THEIR WORKS.

COME YE WRITERS! SEND US YOUR ESSAYS, ARTICLES, POEMS, STORIES, SKETCHES—WHATEVER YOU FEEL YOU MUST SAY. KEEP THEM UNDER 1000 WORDS. SEND THEM TO THE EAGLE'S NEST, c/o CALIFORNIA EAGLE, 1055 EAST 41ST STREET, LOS ANGELES.

A Poem

I listen to the stories told by men who steer fishing schooners in the waters running North and South, East and West.
Quick-moving, balance-walking,
Nimble-mouth-talking men.

I listen to the stories told by men who come down from the mountains where eagles and brisk hawks make their home.
Panther-moving, granite-featured,
silence-loving men.

I listen to the stories told by men whose roots are mingling with the roots of fruit, grain or vegetable
they plant.
Sure-footed, long-thinking, curiosity-burning men.

I listen to the stories told by men who tend machines with care their own women have never known
Quick-laughing, swing-handed,
kidded and kidding men.

I listen to the stories told by women
bending over the stove,
sighing over a crib,
on their knees when scrubbing floors
or praying to the Lord;
or on the shady porch when resting, or at work which may be factory which may be restaurant which may be laundry which may be "clean white" office, which may be any place
where women work.

And when I meet no men or women who tell a story,
I open up the books.

And when there are no books
I listen to the sounds.
Slow-moving sounds
or quick-tempered ones.
They tell the kind of stories people tell.

And when I can't hear or see, or feel,
and lie under a shovel-gathered blanket,
the stories will not come to me.
But my closest neighbors still will be the people.

THE THIRD SIDE

VIEWPOINT

Here lie the bones of Ernest Bevin.
According to some, he went to heaven.

L'affaire Mac has split the nation in more ways than one. A Chattanooga editor suggested that the minute he set foot on U. S. soil we celebrate with unrestrained noise-making. Contrawise, an Atlanta editor suggested a minute of silence for his safe arrival. The middle-of-the-roader undoubtedly had to compromise by just muttering to himself.

At the behest of that sterling journalist, Fulton Lewis, Jr., a few of the women in our neighborhood gathered to celebrate the exact moment Doug's foot touched U. S. continental soil. Since they had no church bells or factory whistles handy (as suggested by Junior) they each went in and flushed the water closet.

According to the papers, when he landed, the MacAdo of Japan was presented with "ruffles and flourishes." In our family the boys don't go in for that sort of stuff much past the age of 3 or 4, but then with generals, they dress to kill.

In Hawaii, Mac said he was greatly moved by the reception he got. The press photogs were also greatly moved by the reception they got from the MP's—in fact, they were greatly pushed.

One deep writer noted the old American flavor in Mac's valedictory. His delivery was pure ham; the contents were sheer corn.

See where Bing Crosby and Gene Autry are recording the old-soldiers-never-die ballad so slushily revived by Doug. Slated next for revival is, no doubt, "The Horst Wessel."

That punch-line about old soldiers fading away reminds one—in more ways than one—of the army barracks crap game with all its fading.

It is understood that Harry Truman got into shape to throw out the first baseball of the season by first throwing out MacArthur.

Truman's removal of MacArthur was a sort of Caesarian operation.

Personally, I'm suffering from MacArthritis.

Boys' Week in L.A.

By BARBARA ANDERZA

Weep, not lads and lasses, even though this is our last time together. Oh ' ' ' I've got a poem for you.

When I was young and in my prime
I could kiss — — ? anytime
But now I'm old, my lips are cold and I can't kiss her—to save my soul.

Ain't that cute. . . . Ole Rainnie Mouton was pitchin a boogy the other nite. Ask her, she'll tell you all about it. . . . Did you know that the Delightettes have broken up???? * * Sad, huh ' ' ' . . . Say Terry Prioleau on the streetcar the other day. Guess what she was cartin' around. Why you'd never guess in a million years. I'll tell you, since you cant' guess. It was a skinped frog. She claims that she's gonna stuff him. . . . Gloria Evans told me to kindly inform Johnny boy, her sweetheart that her heart belongs to him. . . . Since Opal Wright has moved over to the Westside, she hardly speaks anymore. Who could blame her, the new home of hers is simply beautiful . . . Just thing, kiddywids, just a few more weeks in school, or shall we say in prison. . . . Have all ya'all been studyin hard in school??? Did think you did. . . . Know why the column doesn't sound too, too good this week. Well, it's because I'm in no mood to write. Oh, what the heck, you feel this way sometimes yourself don't you ? ? ? ? Leodious Mourney is really pitiful this week. Yep, she got that tooth pulled out. . . . I just can't go on, so I'll just stop. OH, yes, let's make this prom somethin' pleasant to remember. . . . .

Son long forever.

Thanks for standin me for this length of time. . . .

Yours and yours always,
—Barbara

God bless you ' ' '

Students In Alabama Fast To Protest Gov't Failure To Send Food To India

All day Tuesday the dining hall of Talladega College, Talladega, Ala., kept its doors closed as a determined group of 300 students fasted in sympathy with the millions of starving people of India. Classes and other school duties continued as usual.

Demonstrations protesting against the delay of our government to answer the Indian plea for two million tons of grain formed the program. At the lunch hour students drafted a document to be sent to students of India. Letters to congressmen were placed in a box set up for the purpose. The students paraded with placards through the main section of Talladega before attending afternoon classes.

During the dinner hour, a religious service and recorded Indian music took the place of food. After library hours that night a huge bonfire and an informal discussion of the Indian situation climaxed the day.

The following letter was sent by the students of Talladega to the students of India:

Students of India: Embarrassed as we are that so few in our land have developed the sharing of our abundant store of grain with your hungry millions, we the 300 students of Talladega College have on this day completed a 24-hour fast in sympathy with the plight of your people and in protest against the inaction of our government.

Your own beloved leader gave us all the message, "We have no right to anything that we really have until the many millions are clothed and fed. We, who ought to know better, must adjust our wants, and even undergo voluntary privation in order that they might be nursed, fed, and clothed." In response to this lesson we are sending the food we might have had this day to help to alleviate the misery of your hungry one.

Our gift is meager; our thoughts are boundless as we this day have contemplated our humble action. There was a time when poverty was due to nature; today it is the making of man. When the wealth of the world belongs to all of the people who inhabit it, when no country, race or class can hoard the means of its production, only then can any land be immune from the pestilence of starvation and the peoples of all nations truly unite in a common bond of brotherhood. We share with you a common struggle to prevent a few in each of our lands from indulging in plenty while many are in want. We have those to teach who would prevent a just sharing of the wealth of the world. Your own Bath Singh has suffered his ignoble end but you must yet deal with such as the Maharajah of Baroda.

We share with you the struggle to shed the burdens of indignation and privation that are borne by the darker peoples of Asia, Africa and the islands of the sea. As Negro students not yet possessed of the full license of self-realization, we are especially indignant over the proposition of those who would have you trade the exercise of your new won independence for the sustenance of life. We know that it is for us that you "the most truly bright and precious jewel in the crown of the King" and who were not intended to be cast away, continue to exercise your independent role among the nations.

Accept our gift and know that there are in America many of those who think these things.

The Students of Talladega College, Talladega, Ala., U.S.A.

Jeff Hi PTA Annual Tax

The annual tea of the Jefferson High PTA will cap a vigorous and intensive campaign to demonstrate what the PTA does.

It will be held in the Golden State Life Insurance Company building Sunday afternoon, May 20.

An examination of the school plant of Jefferson High School, its teaching personnel, its curriculum and above all, its cosmopolitan and cooperative student body which represents all three races, shows that Jefferson High has the possibilities to make a greater contribution to the school program in Los Angeles than perhaps any other school in the city. The PTA hopes to bring out this fact through its spring program of activities and personal parent soliciting this month.

Its publicity program is directed by Mrs. Lynch and Mrs. Towns. The Jefferson PTA works to raise funds for dental care, eye care, milk funds, scholarships for teacher training; works to eliminate traffic hazards which endanger school children; works to support legislation which it believes to be of benefit to all the children; works to help bring school and home closer together.

Officers Accused Of Mistreatment

Accusations of police brutality is expected to figure largely in the forthcoming formal trial of Calvin Richards, 1363 Imperial Highway, and George Benjamin Davis, of 1425 E. 99th Street. The two youths, both aged 19, were held to answer last Monday, in the Municipal Court of Judge Leonard Kauffman, at Compton. They were represented by Atty. Curtis C. Taylor, who incidentally, did not allow either of them to take the stand.

Richards who is in the armed forces, with an excellent record and stationed in a camp in the Ft. McArthur area, had been charged with possession of narcotics, and Davis with ownership of the car in which the drugs were allegedly found.

The defendants were arrested on March 25, by Sgt. Jones of the sheriff's narcotic squad, who stopped them on the highway, when he noticed that the front and rear license plates of their automobile were dissimilar. After questioning them and according to his report, receiving unsatisfactory answers, he declared that he searched the vehicle. In a spare tire in the rear, he said that he found a white powder, which upon analysis, proved to be heroin. In the same package re reported that there was a hypodermic needle, and an eye-dropper, assumed to be used by addicts, for administration of the drug.

Both suspects declared, though, that the admissions they had made, were not given freely, but were extorted from them by officers, allegedly using brutal punishment.

UN Festival

Mrs. Jean McNeal, chairman of the United Nations Festival, announces plans are now in the making for the annual United Nations Festival to be held at the branch on June 2. This festival is given as an annual project to supplement part of the financial budget for the branch. Although the YWCA is an agency of the Community Chest, it is still required to raise money to supplement the amount necessary for operation. Hence, yearly it becomes necessary to call upon outstanding community groups and individuals to help in this behalf.

The name "United Nations Festival" implies that all countries in this world organization or as many as possible are to be represented in this affair. Themes are carried out through booths, costumes, displaying, or selling of wares and through program demonstrations.

PROF. HERMAN The Astrologer

TO ASSIST YOU IN MAKING WISE DECISIONS

THE ESSENTIAL WEAPON

There is hardly a figure in history who did not acquire greatness by having the utmost faith in themselves and in their goal. Not for nothing has an individual's faith in themselves given them the power to accomplish time after time that which has seemed impossible to others.

Fear is nothing but lack of faith in yourself. Faith in yourself banishes fear. Faith in yourself means that you believe your life, your work, your contribution is important both to you and your fellow men.

If you do not believe that you can solve your problems, no matter how, then there is little chance you will be able to solve them. If you are afraid of the future, then it will probably look disconcerting to you. Faith is the weapon, upon which to lean, don't try to reckon with life without it.

E.P.D. Dear Prof. Herman: I am a weekly reader of your great column and find your answers to their various problems quite helpful to me as well. Kindly advise me as to what is in store for me.

ANS. Due to the limited amount of space in the column it is a little difficult for me to actually explain what the future reveals. May I suggest your writing for a private reply, in care of this paper . . . so that you might also receive your 1951 reading.

G.M. Will I ever see or hear from him again?

ANS. Concentrating upon your question I find that he left the city a little upset and angry, hence his not writing to you. There is a possibility that he will return to Chicago to visit and when he does he will get in touch with you.

Mrs. E. W. What should I do about my things?

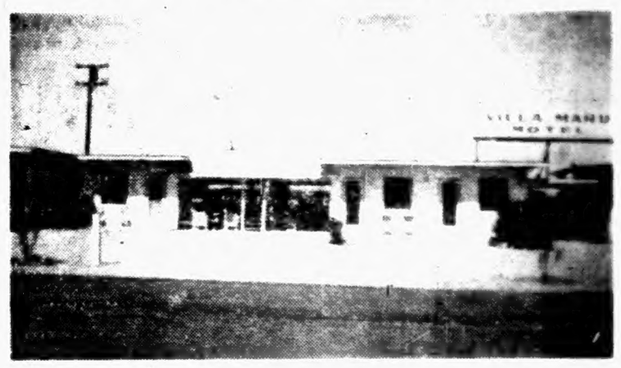
ANS. A careful analysis of your problem indicates the fact that a fountain pen, old-age assistance check, and some other things have been missing from your pocketbook. You are wondering if your family is responsible, since there has been some trouble in your home. If you haven't already done so, report the loss of the check. As to the pen, perhaps the children have misplaced it. May I recommend your moving to yourself, so that you can not only have peace of mind, but keep up with your belongings as well.

M.W.L. What do you suggest regarding my son?

ANS. It seems to me that you should consult a good doctor for he may need medical attention.

Mrs. Williams Speaks At Kingdom Baptist

The Missionary Society and the All States Rally are presenting Mrs. Lu Voilie Williams, recently returned from Monrovia and Liberia, West Africa, where she has been serving for the past six months, at the Kingdom Baptist Church, 2808 Temple Street, next Sunday, April 29, at 3 p.m.



Bubbling over with information and enthusiasm relative to the African customs and culture, Mrs. Williams will give the third of a series of lectures on the general theme of Africa. Her subject Sunday will be "Schools and Education."

Mrs. Arnett Brown, president of the Missionary Society of the Second Baptist Church, and Mrs. Marie Williams, missionary serving at the Los Angeles County General Hospital, will be guest speakers on the program.

The newly organized "City Wide Mission" will have charge of the program. Such outstanding musical talent as The Youngs will be heard in duets and Mrs. Cora Jean Higdon will sing several selections.

The City Wide Mission meets each Thursday from 1 to 3 p.m. at King's Chapel C.M.E. Church. Mrs. Pearl Smart, president, served for 8½ years as president of the mission movement of the St. Paul Baptist Church. Mrs. Thelma Pratt is secretary.
